

MEMORIAL STADIUM

Memorial Stadium is among the most historic venues in all of college football. In 2009, it will also become one of the most high-tech stadiums in the country as Nebraska's HuskerVision goes high-definition. Two new screens have been installed on the north towers of the venue, giving Memorial Stadium five replay boards and allowing nearly every fan a clear view of a HuskerVision screen.

All of the HuskerVision screens have been upgraded to a high-definition format, further enhancing one of college football's best in-game video presentations. The facades of the East and West balconies will also have ribbon boards which will add even further to the fan experience at one of the nation's best sporting venues.

One of the “Cathedrals of College Football” according to The Sporting News, Memorial Stadium is one of the most intimidating locations to play in all of sports.

With expanded capacity now reaching beyond 85,000, Nebraska has continued its NCAA-record streak of 297 consecutive sellouts that dates back to 1962.

During the sellout streak, NU has recorded a 258-39 record, including a 126-16 mark during the last 21 seasons.
