COMING UP

Nebraska has a midweek bye as its next game is not until Saturday, Feb. 14, when the Huskers head to Columbia, Mo., to take on Missouri. The Cornhuskers and Tigers will tip off at 12:30 p.m. and the game can be seen around the country in select markets on the Big 12 Network. NU then comes home for a Wednesday night game on Feb. 18 against Colorado.

HUSKERS RETURN HOME FOR MATCHUP WITH LONGHORNS ON ESPN

After holding on for consecutive league road victories in the past week, the Nebraska Cornhuskers return home to start the second half of Big 12 Conference play on Saturday, Feb. 7, when NU takes on No. 16/17 Texas at the Bob Devaney Sports Center. The Huskers and Longhorns will tip off at 1:05 p.m. in a game that will be televised nationally on ESPN with Ron Franklin (play by play) and Fran Fraschilla (color analyst) calling the action.

All of Nebraska's games can also be heard on the IMG Husker Sports Radio Network, consisting of 31 stations around the state and around the world for free on the Internet at Huskers.com, the official Web site of Nebraska Athletics. Veteran play-by-play man Kent Pavelka calls the action and former Husker Matt Davison adds color commentary.

Nebraska will be celebrating Jack Moore Day when it takes on Texas. Moore, who died 25 years ago next month in a plane crash, was one of the great players in Husker history and his legacy will be honored with a special halftime presentation to his mother and sisters.

The Cornhuskers will be trying to pick up their third straight league victory after winning at Texas Tech and at Colorado over the past week. That came on the heels of the Huskers dropping consecutive home games.

The wins pushed NU into a tie for fifth place in the Big 12 standings. At 4-4 in league play, the 2009 Huskers have recorded a .500 or better mark at the midway point of conference play for just the fourth time in the Big 12 era (1998, 4-4; 1999, 5-3; 2006, 5-3; 2008, 4-4).

■ Nebraska easily leads the Big 12 Conference in scoring defense at 58.6 points per game and has not allowed a team to score 80 points all season. The Huskers' scoring defense ranked 12th nationally entering the week before holding Colorado to just 53 points on Wednesday.

■ Saturday's matchup will be between two of the league's top defensive squads as Texas is tied for second in the league by allowing just 63.0 points per game. The Longhorns are third in field-goal percentage defense (39.4).

■ The Huskers have found a way to win over the last two games after their opponents cut a sizeable lead to one basket in the final three minutes of each contest. During NU's recent three-game losing streak, the Huskers led or were within one possession in the final five minutes of each contest but were unable to convert down the stretch. NU led by at least seven points in each of the three losses before finally putting together strong finishes in the past week.

SCOUTING THE LONGHORNS

The Cornhuskers are looking to snap a two-game home-court losing streak when they take on the Longhorns on Saturday. Nebraska has won two straight road games and is looking for its second three-game conference win streak in its last 15 Big 12 regular-season games.

While the Huskers are looking for the right recipe at home, Texas comes into the game looking to get back on the winning track in general. The Longhorns uncharacteristically dropped a pair of home games in the past week in league play and now stand at 15-6 on the year and 4-3 in Big 12 action, just one-half game ahead of Nebraska and Kansas State in the standings.

Texas has scored 72.3 points per game and is among the league leaders on defense, ranking second in the conference by allowing just 63.0 points per game this season. UT has also been dominant on the boards while boasting one of the Big 12 Conference's tallest lineups. Texas can put four players in the rotation who stand at least 6-10, helping UT to a conference-best 40.8 rebounds per game.

UT has hit just 43.4 percent from the field but has held opponents to just 39.4 percent shooting, including 33.2 percent from the 3-point line. UT has utilized its height not only to gain rebounds, but also to average 5.8 blocks per game to rank among the nation's leaders.

On the season, A.J. Abrams has led the way with 16.6 points per game to rank among the league leaders, while Damion James checks in as a close second on the squad at 15.2 points per game. In Big 12 play, the roles are reversed as James leads the team with 16.6 points per game while Abrams adds 13.6 per game.

In their last outing, the Longhorns fell at home to Missouri, 69-65. UT got 33 points off the bench as Dexter Pittman posted 25 points and seven rebounds. Abrams was the only other player in double figures as MU made life tough on the Texas point guards. UT finished with 15 turnovers as a team.

Pittman has averaged 9.1 points and 4.5 rebounds per game but is capable of producing a significant game considering NU's size. Conner Atchley, who leads the team with 33 blocked shots, is also the team's top free throw shooter, hitting 87.0 percent this year.

Texas is coached by Rick Barnes (Lenoir-Rhyne, 1977). Barnes is in his 11th year coaching the Longhorns and 22nd year as a head coach after also serving in stops at George Mason (one year), Providence (six years) and Clemson (four years).

Overall, Barnes had a career record of 464-232 while piling up an impressive 262-99 mark with the Longhorns. Barnes has reached one Final Four with UT and has had three top-10 NBA Draft selections (LaMarcus Aldridge, Kevin Durant and D.J. Augustin) over the past three years.

THE SERIES VS. THE LONGHORNS

Nebraska and Texas enter this weekend's matchup meeting for the just the 20th time in series history. UT has held a strong upper hand in the series, which started in 1964. The Longhorns currently own a 15-4 series lead.

■ The series with Texas is the third-shortest for the Huskers against current Big 12 Conference schools at 19 previous meetings.

■ It is also the second shortest series in terms of starting date. The only series the Huskers currently have with a league team that started after the Texas series is against Texas A&M (started in 1969).

■ Texas has dominated the recent matchups, holding a seven-game winning streak heading into the weekend.

■ Overall, UT has won 10 of the past 11 matchups with the Huskers' only win coming in an 80-67 victory over No. 22 Texas in 2001.

■ Texas holds a 5-3 series lead in games played in the Devaney Center, and a 5-4 mark in games played in Lincoln.

■ The last matchup in Lincoln involved a tightly contested game as the Longhorns won by a 62-61 margin behind eventual No. 2 NBA Draft pick Kevin Durant.

■ Last year, the Huskers went on the road and pushed No. 9 Texas to the brink in Austin, as UT held on for a 70-66 victory. Ryan Anderson posted 14 points with four 3-pointers while adding four assists and three steals in 39 minutes. Aleks Maric added 17 points and 10 boards, but could not help the Huskers overcome UT's D.J. Augustin, who had 22 points and five assists. A.J. Abrams and Damion James combined for 31 points, 14 rebounds and four steals for the Longhorns.

JACK MOORE DAY ON SATURDAY, FEB. 7

The University of Nebraska Athletic Department is proud to honor the play and memory of former Husker basketball standout Jack Moore. On Feb. 7 at the Huskers' game against Texas, the Athletic Department and men's basketball program will honor his legacy on what will officially be called Jack Moore Day.

One of the greatest playmakers in Husker history, a tribute to Moore's life will be celebrated at the game, nearly 25 years following his untimely death in a plane crash on March 3, 1984. The crash also took the life of pilot Gary Johnson.

Born Dec. 26, 1959, Moore lettered for Nebraska for four years from 1979 to 1982 following a standout career at Muncie (Ind.) Central High School. Moore won the 1982 Francis Pomeroy-Naismith Award as the nation's most outstanding senior under six feet when he was a consensus All-Big Eight performer.

He scored 1,204 points in his four-year career and his 382 career assists stand seventh on NU's all-time chart. Moore was a career 90.1-percent free throw shooter and still ranks sixth in NCAA Division I history today. He broke the Big Eight record for career marksmanship at the charity stripe, which had been held by his coach, Moe Iba.

Off the floor, Moore was the first Husker cager to earn first-team academic All-Big Eight honors for three straight seasons. Nebraska's yearly MVP Award is named in honor of Moore.

Members of the Moore family will be in attendance on Saturday, when a special halftime presentation will be made.

QUICK HITS

Quick team notes

■ With victories at Texas Tech and Colorado, Nebraska won consecutive road games in conference play for the first time since 2006-07, when the Huskers won at Missouri and came from 13 down to win at Texas Tech. Overall it is just the fifth time since the formation of the league that the Huskers won consecutive road league contests.

■ When Nebraska returns home this weekend it will be looking to snap a two-game home league losing streak. The last time Nebraska lost three straight league games at the Devaney Center was 2006-07 when the Huskers lost to Texas (by a point), to No. 6 Kansas and No. 6 Texas A&M.

■ The Huskers held four straight Big 12 Conference opponents to 51 or fewer points in games at the Devaney Center before Oklahoma State scored 76 in overtime on Jan. 24. Starting with Oklahoma last year, NU allowed 45 points, 49 points (Colorado), 51 points (Missouri) and 51 points (Kansas State) in consecutive home games.

■ Overall, the Huskers have held Big 12 opponents to 70 or fewer points in 14 of their last 17 games against league teams, including last year's league tournament. During that stretch, Nebraska has held seven of those opponents below 60 points.

■ NU enters the weekend with the Big 12 Conference's top scoring defense, allowing just 58.6 points per game. NU entered the week ranked 12th nationally in scoring defense and that mark got better as the Huskers allowed just 53 points on the road at Colorado on Wednesday.

■ Nebraska has forced three of its first eight conference opponents (Kansas State, 25; Kansas, 21; Texas Tech, 20) into 20 or more turnovers this season.

■ Despite committing a season-high 18 turnovers at Colorado, Nebraska is still second in the league and in the top five nationally in turnover margin at +6.2. NU entered the week ranked No. 2 nationally at +6.8.

■ The Huskers were also in the top 75 nationally entering the week in turnovers per game (12th), steals per game (14th), assist-to-turnover ratio (35th), 3-point field-goal percentage (43rd) and scoring margin (52nd).

■ The Huskers held each of their first 16 opponents under 67 points, becoming the first NU squad since 1981-82 to accomplish the feat. In 21 games, only two teams (No. 6/5 Oklahoma and Oklahoma State) have topped 70 points against the Huskers this year.

■ NU tied the school record (originally set at Iowa State in 2002) with only three turnovers against Maryland Eastern Shore. NU also had just six turnovers against Saint Louis, seven at No. 6/5 Oklahoma and eight vs. Kansas.

■ The Huskers are averaging 70.4 points per game at home while hitting 47.9 percent (344-of-718) from the field at the Devaney Center. On the road, NU has averaged 60.0 points on 41.3 percent (143-of-346) shooting.

■ Nebraska won its 50th game with coach Doc Sadler on the sideline last week in a victory over Texas Tech. The Huskers have a chance to give Sadler another milestone victory on Saturday, as the Huskers' next win will be Sadler's 100th as a Division I head coach.

■ The Huskers own a 4-8 record under Sadler against ranked teams. Nebraska has defeated at least one ranked team in each of the past eight seasons. Following the Texas game, no other teams on the schedule are currently in the national top 25, although Missouri and Kansas are closing in on the ranking.

Individual quick notes

■ Senior guard Ade Dagunduro has posted at least 20 points in a game three times in the past eight Big 12 Conference games. He had not scored 20 points in any of his first 46 career games at Nebraska.

■ Nebraska had a different leading scorer in five straight conference games before Dagunduro scored 24 against Kansas and 20 at Texas Tech to lead the Huskers.

■ Ade Dagunduro is averaging a team-best 13.9 points per game over the last 14 contests while hitting 61.9 percent from the field. He averaged 22.0 points per game in two contests last week before posting seven points at Colorado.

■ Earlier this season Dagunduro hit 26-of-32 (81.3 percent) over a four-game span (ending with Maryland Eastern Shore).

■ Dagunduro tied the school single-game record by hitting all nine field-goal attempts against UMBC, the second-best single-game mark in the league during the Big 12 era.

■ Dagunduro had three straight made field goals to end the IPFW contest, connected on nine consecutive against UMBC and then knocked in his first three shots against South Carolina State to set the school record for consecutive made field goals at 15. Dagunduro surpassed Mikki Moore for the mark, as Moore had 13 straight made shots over three games in the 1997 NIT.

■ Sophomore Cookie Miller posted a season high in points in four of the past seven games. He started the stretch by gaining 11 points at Iowa State and added 15 points against Kansas State. Miller came back to tie his career high with 19 points twice in the last four games, first against Oklahoma State and then on the road at Texas Tech.

■ Miller leads the team with 81 assists. He is looking to become the first Husker to lead NU in assists as a freshman and sophomore since Tyrone Lue in 1995-96 and 1996-97.

■ With 19 more assists, Miller will join Tyrone Lue as the only Huskers in program history to post at least 100 assists in each of their freshman and sophomore seasons.

■ Paul Velander has reached double figures just five times this season but is fourth on the team with 8.3 points per game. He ranked 12th nationally from 3-point range entering this week and has now hit 44.3 percent (51-of-115) to rank fourth in the Big 12.

■ Because of his fast release, Velander has not had the ball in his hands long. That has led to just seven turnovers over the first 20 games of the year before suffering four turnovers at Colorado on Wednesday. He is still averaging only one turnover every 46.6 minutes on the court.

■ Velander has hit at least three 3-pointers in 12-of-21 games this season. Dating to last year, he has hit at least three treys in 17 of his last 28 games. Before that, he had hit at least three 3-pointers in a game just six times in his first 51 career games.

■ Velander, who led the nation in 3-point percentage as recently as Jan. 23, has struggled in his last four games. He has hit just 3-of-19 attempts (15.8 percent) from long range in that span, including going 0-of-2 from beyond the arc at Texas Tech. It was the first game this season he did not have a 3-pointer and snapped a streak of 22 straight games with a trey dating to last year.

■ Sek Henry has been proficient with the basketball on the year, hitting 48.5 percent from the field, including a solid 40.0 percent from 3-point range.

■ Henry has scored in double figures 11 times in 21 games this season, after scoring in double figures just nine times in his first 64 games.

ROLLING ON THE ROAD

Nebraska has seen its share of road struggles in the past but the Huskers put that behind them on Saturday, Jan. 31, when Nebraska snapped a three-game losing streak with an 82-69 victory over Texas Tech in Lubbock. The win also snapped a four-game regular-season Big 12 road losing streak dating to last year.

Nebraska made it two straight league road wins when it defeated Colorado 55-53 on Wednesday. It was the fewest points Nebraska has allowed on the road since giving up 42 points in a 15-point victory at Kansas State in 2006.

The Huskers broke out quickly in both games this week before making key plays down the stretch to hold on for victory.

■ Nebraska hit 55.1 percent (27-of-49) from the field against Texas Tech, easily their best performance on the road this season. The Huskers followed up with a 47.4-percent effort at Colorado. NU had not hit better than 43 percent from the field in its first five games away from Lincoln this year.

■ The last time Nebraska won a league game when scoring 55 or fewer points was 1998 in a 53-43 victory over Oklahoma in the Devaney Center.

■ The last time Nebraska won a conference road game when scoring 55 or fewer points was Feb. 4, 1984, at Kansas State when the Huskers won 47-46.

■ When the Huskers allowed Colorado just 53 points on Wednesday, it was only the 12th time in the Big 12 era that Nebraska held its opponent to under 60 points in a road contest. The Huskers improved to 9-3 in those games.

Fewest Points Allowed by Nebraska in Conference Road Game (Big 12 era only)

No.	Opponent, Year	Points Allowed	Score
1.	Kansas State, 2006	42	W, 57-42
2.	Colorado, 1999	52	W, 57-52

	Kansas, 2005	59	L, 57-59
	Kansas, 1999	59	W, 64-59

■ The 55.1 percent shooting at TTU is NU's best in a league road game since hitting 59.0 percent from the field in a 65-59 win at No. 22 Texas A&M last season. That game was also Nebraska's last road victory in league regular-season play.

■ NU has now hit at least 50.0 percent from the field in three of its last seven Big 12 regular-season road games dating to last year.

■ The Huskers' 82 points at Texas Tech were their most in a Big 12 game since March 5, 2007, when NU scored 85 in a win over Oklahoma State at home. That was a span of 26 games before the Huskers topped the 80-point plateau (home, away or at Big 12 Championship).

■ The last time Nebraska scored at least 80 points on the road was an 87-83 overtime loss at No. 7 Oklahoma State on Feb. 21, 2004, a span of 37 Big 12 regular-season road games before topping the 80-point mark again.

■ The Huskers' last road victory when scoring at least 80 points came on Feb. 20, 2002, when Nebraska won 82-72 at Texas A&M.

LINE TIME

Nebraska has had its ups and downs at the free throw this season, but one of the better efforts came at just the right time in a road game at Texas Tech. The Huskers hit 76.7 percent (23-of-30) from the line, including 80.8 percent (21-of-26) in the second period to pull away for an 82-69 victory.

■ The Huskers had entered the game hitting 68.1 percent from the charity stripe.

■ The 76.7 percent was Nebraska's second-best effort this season when attempting at least 20 free throws in a game. The only time NU topped the mark was when it hit 87.1 percent (27-of-31) against Oklahoma State a week earlier.

■ Senior guard Ade Dagunduro did most of the hard work, hitting all 10 of his attempts from the line. He entered the game hitting 69.0 percent from the free throw line on the season.

■ Dagunduro became just the fifth Husker in the Big 12 era to hit all of his free throws when attempting at least 10 in a game, and the second under coach Doc Sadler. Overall, he's the 12th Husker since 1982 to accomplish the feat.

■ In Nebraska's next contest, the Huskers hit just 54.4 percent from the line, including only 5-of-11 in the final minute before holding on to win a two-point contest at Colorado.

STRONG DOWN THE STRETCH

Under the guidance of coach Doc Sadler the past two years, Nebraska has been a strong team in possibly the most important part of the season: the stretch run in February. When other teams are starting to wear down, Sadler's squads the past two seasons have gone strong, finding nearly as much success as any team in the league.

NOTE: Because of bye weeks, not all teams play the same amount of games in the month of February each season. Records through Wednesday, Feb. 4, 2009.

GETTING OFFENSIVE

Nebraska received some significant offense from unexpected places over the past five games.

■ Cookie Miller, the Huskers' assist leader (81) this season, has averaged 10.4 points per game in league action to rank second on the squad. He has hit 45.6 percent (26-of-57) from the field and 81.5 percent (22-of-27) from the line. He has averaged 33.9 minutes per game in league action.

■ Miller has set a season scoring high in four of the last seven games. Miller had 11 points at Iowa State and came back with 15 at home against Kansas State. He then posted a career-high tying 19 points against Oklahoma State at home and then again at Texas Tech.

■ Ryan Anderson led NU with 19 points and seven rebounds against Oklahoma and came back with 14 points and eight rebounds against Oklahoma State. His 19 points at Oklahoma were a season high and the 33 points over the two games equaled his total from his previous eight games combined.

■ Anderson added a team-high tying 12 points in a road win at Colorado. He has averaged 7.8 points and 5.5 rebounds per game in Big 12 play. His rebound average is 11th in league-only games.

■ Redshirt freshmen Brandon Richardson and Toney McCray have made some big shots for the Huskers early in their first run through the Big 12 Conference. Richardson, who missed the first four conference games with an injury, scored a career-high 11 points at Texas Tech and has hit 5-of-8 from 3-point range vs. Big 12 teams. McCray has come on strong the past two games, especially at Colorado where he went 3-of-3 from the field, including a pair of clutch shots with the shot clock expiring.

STEALING THE SPOTLIGHT

Nebraska has been among the national leaders all season for steals, entering this week ranked No. 14 in the country. The Huskers currently average 9.0 steals per game to rank second in the league. Overall seven Huskers have posted at least 17 steals this year, with five averaging at least 1.0 steal per game.

It's much of the same from a pair of familiar faces when it comes to steals. Junior guard Ryan Anderson and sophomore guard Cookie Miller have shown an impressive court awareness since joining the Huskers and have been among the teams' top defenders despite their size.

■ Anderson became just the 14th player in Nebraska history to record 100 steals in a career when he picked off one pass against Kansas on Jan. 28. At his current pace of 1.5 steals per game (11th in the Big 12 entering the week), Anderson could finish this season just within 10 steals of reaching the NU top 10.

■ After posting seven steals over the last two games, Miller ranks ninth in the league in steals at 1.6 per contest and has a chance to reach 100 before the end of his sophomore season. He needs one steal to move into the Nebraska all-time top 15.

■ Miller is trying to join Cookie Belcher and Erick Strickland as the only Huskers ever with at least 100 steals at the end of their sophomore seasons. Belcher had 162 in his first two years while Strickland had 107. Belcher owns the Nebraska freshman record for steals with 87 and holds the NU and Big 12 Conference record with 353 steals in his career.

SADLER REACHES MILESTONE

Coach Doc Sadler has been known to get everything possible out of his players and teams, as his work ethic has carried over to the court. In the past two seasons, Sadler's effort pushed the Huskers to 17 and 20 wins, respectively, with last year's first-round NIT victory giving the Huskers just the 12th 20-win season in the 112-year history of the program.

The Huskers' win over Texas Tech on the road marked Sadler's 50th victory at Nebraska. He currently owns a 51-34 record as the head coach in Lincoln, and was the fourth-fastest coach to reach 50 wins at NU in program history. Of the three who reached the mark faster at NU, two of those men coached in Lincoln before World War I.

TURNING TEAMS OVER

Nebraska will try to turn up the defensive pressure at times this season, especially while playing with a heavily guard-oriented lineup, including many sets with five guards on the floor at once.

That strong defensive push was evident in NU's opener as they forced 25 San Jose State turnovers. Spartans' point guard Justin Graham was frustrated into 10 turnovers while going 0-of-5 from the floor in 33 minutes of action.

■ The 25 turnovers Nebraska forced in the season opener against San Jose State were the second-highest total under Coach Doc Sadler. The most turnovers a Husker squad has forced in Sadler's tenure is 26 last season against North Carolina Central.

■ NU also forced a season-high tying 25 turnovers against Kansas State on Jan. 17.

■ The Huskers have now forced 378 turnovers through 21 games, while allowing teams to record just 226 assists on 417 baskets.

■ The Huskers have forced at least 20 turnovers in nine games this year. Last year, the Huskers forced 20 turnovers in a game six times all season.

NOTING THE COLORADO GAME

■ Nebraska improved to 14-7 on the season and evened its record at 4-4 in league play. NU is .500 midway through league play for just the fourth time in the Big 12 era, and first time under coach Doc Sadler.

■ The Cornhuskers held on at the end to win their second straight Big 12 road game, marking only the fifth time since the formation of the conference that NU has won consecutive league road contests.

■ Nebraska hit 47.4 percent from the floor, the second straight road game NU has connected on at least 47 percent of its field-goal attempts. The Huskers did not shoot above 43 percent in any of their first five road games.

■ Ryan Anderson and Steve Harley led the team in scoring with 12 points apiece. It was Anderson's fourth double-figure scoring effort of the year.

■ Harley tied his career high with six rebounds, helping the Huskers outrebound Colorado by a 30-22 margin, including holding a 7-2 advantage on the offensive glass. It was the first time Nebraska outrebounded a league team in eight games this season.

■ Sek Henry tied his season high with four assists against just one turnover. As a team, Nebraska committed a season-high 18 turnovers, including 10 in the first half. Nebraska had entered the game averaging just 11.5 turnovers per game.

■ The win was Nebraska's first in Boulder since 2005.

■ The victory was also Nebraska's first in 13 tries under Sadler when scoring less than 60 points on the road.

DIAZ JOINS HUSKERS; WILL REDSHIRT

After an entry process that took longer than anticipated, Nebraska finally got some good news regarding freshman center Brian Diaz. The 6-11, 235-pounder was admitted to the University of Nebraska and was enrolled in classes on Jan. 17.

He was originally cleared by the NCAA Clearinghouse in September 2008 before finally making it to Nebraska as a true freshman in January when he was immediately eligible to play. Diaz suited up against No. 6/5 Oklahoma and Oklahoma State, but did not play in either contest.

Diaz told coach Doc Sadler of his intention to redshirt this season prior to the Kansas game on Jan. 28. He will sit out this season and will have four years remaining.

Diaz, whose given name is Jorge Brian Diaz, added to a Nebraska lineup that was listed by kenpom.com as the shortest in the nation. Before Diaz joined the squad, the Huskers had just one eligible scholarship player who stood taller than 6-6 (Chris Balham, 6-8; 10.0 minutes per game).

Diaz also gives NU 12 scholarship players this season, as Nebraska entered the year with an open scholarship and lost one scholarship player at the semester.

The Huskers could have a dramatically different look next season. Not only will the Huskers have the 6-11 Diaz, but 6-11 Christopher Niemann is sitting out this year under an NCAA eligibility ruling and NU has signed 6-9 Brandon Ubel for next season as well.

HUSKERS ROLL UP WINS AT HOME

When coach Doc Sadler took over the program before the 2006-07 season, Nebraska made winning at home a priority especially in the non-conference season.

■ Following the win over Florida A&M to end the non-conference schedule, Nebraska is now 29-1 under Coach Doc Sadler at home against non-conference opponents.

■ Before falling to UMBC, Nebraska's last home loss to a non-conference team came on Dec. 3, 2005 against UAB in a 73-72 setback.

■ The Huskers are 42-2 in non-conference play at home since last suffering consecutive home non-league losses in 2004-05.

■ During the school-record tying 31-game home non-conference win streak, NU had one game decided by five or fewer points (two-point win over Creighton this year) and one other decided in overtime (win over Oregon at Qwest Center).

■ The 24 turnovers forced at Oregon State are the most by a Husker opponent away from Lincoln since Texas Tech had 26 turnovers against Nebraska in the first round of the 1999 Big 12 Championship.

■ Nebraska posted 16 steals in the defensive effort against San Jose State, the most by the Huskers under Sadler. The previous best under Sadler was 15 steals vs. North Texas in 2006.

■ The Huskers have had double-figure steals seven times this season and at least eight steals in 17 games this season.

■ Eight Huskers have recorded a steal this year, including five averaging at least 1.0 steal per game.

■ The most steals in a game by a single Husker this season is five on two occasions, most recently by sophomore guard Cookie Miller who tied his career high with five at Texas Tech. Junior guard Ryan Anderson also had five steals against Kansas State on Jan. 17. Four other players have recorded eight games with four steals each.

■ The defensive pressure has helped Nebraska to a 416-241 advantage in points off turnovers this season.

HANDLING WITH CARE

Nebraska coach Doc Sadler has preached that the Huskers need to be efficient within their offense and not give away easy points. That philosophy includes taking care of the ball, something the Huskers have succeeded in doing well early in the season.

■ NU has averaged just 11.8 turnovers per game this season and entered the week ranked 12th nationally in the category.

■ The Huskers are first in the Big 12 Conference and are the only team in the league averaging fewer than 12.0 turnovers per game.

■ The Huskers entered the week ranked No. 2 nationally in turnover margin before posting a season-high 18 turnovers at Colorado. Nebraska currently has a +6.2 margin to rank second in the Big 12 Conference entering the weekend.

■ The Huskers tied the school record by committing just three turnovers against Maryland Eastern Shore. NU equaled the team mark originally set in 2002 at Iowa State. Nebraska had just one turnover in the first half against Maryland Eastern Shore, and two miscues following the break.

Nebraska's Best Turnover Games of 2008-09

Opponent	NU Turnovers
Maryland Eastern Shore	3*
Saint Louis	6
Oklahoma	7
Kansas	8

* - tied school single-game record

■ Nebraska posted just six turnovers against Saint Louis, tying the previous low mark for miscues in Sadler's first three years. NU also had just six turnovers against Colorado in 2007.

■ Nebraska posted 11 turnovers at Texas Tech, marking the 10th time overall – and second straight road game – under coach Doc Sadler that NU had 11 or fewer turnovers in a game away from Lincoln. It was the third time this season (also at Oregon State, 11 TO).

■ Nebraska had only three turnovers in the first half against Alabama State. NU also had two turnovers in the second half against Saint Louis, three in the first half at No. 6/5 Oklahoma and three in the second period against Kansas, giving the Huskers six halves this season (including each half vs. UMES) with three or fewer turnovers.

BOMBS AWAY

Nebraska has been strong from outside the arc during coach Doc Sadler's tenure, including this year. The Huskers are among the national leaders, hitting 37.7 percent from long range. Last season, Nebraska hit 34.2 percent from beyond the arc.

■ Paul Velandar has been more effective than ever despite stepping back further to shoot. He is hitting 44.3 percent (51-of-115) from beyond the arc to currently rank fourth in the Big 12 Conference. He was 12th nationally entering the week.

■ Nebraska has hit better than 40 percent from the 3-point line as a team five times this season, including a season-high 56.0 percent against Alabama State.

■ The Huskers have hit 10 or more 3-pointers three times this season, including against Alabama State (14), Florida A&M (10) and Kansas State (10).

■ NU has posted at least eight 3-pointers in a game eight times.

■ Nebraska hit an impressive 14-of-25 (56.0 percent) from beyond the arc against the Alabama State. NU "only" connected on 51.7 percent (30-of-58) from the floor overall.

■ The 14 3-pointers were the most by the Huskers since hitting 15 against Miami on the road in the 2006-07 season. The school record is 18 3-pointers against No. 1 Kansas in 2002.

■ Six Huskers hit from outside the arc, including four players with three 3-pointers apiece. Sek Henry led the way with a perfect 3-for-3 night beyond the arc while Ryan Anderson (3-of-4), Steve Harley (3-of-5) and Paul Velandar (3-of-6) each had three treys apiece.

■ Nebraska had another game where all the shots were falling as the Huskers hit 10-of-18 (55.6 percent) against Kansas State on Jan. 17. Velandar hit 6-of-10 by himself, while Cookie Miller connected on all three of his attempts. NU hit 50.0 percent from the field in the game.

DEFENSE AMONG NCAA'S BEST

Nebraska is among the Big 12 and national leaders in several defensive stats in 2008-09.

■ Nebraska was 12th in the country in scoring defense entering the week and could easily move up after holding Colorado to just 53 points on Wednesday. NU currently leads the Big 12 in at 58.6 ppg while no other team in the league is holding opponents below 63 points per game as Texas and Iowa State rank second at 63.0 points per contest.

■ The Huskers did not allow any of their first 16 opponents to score more than 66 points in a game. It was the longest streak to open a season without allowing an opponent to reach 67 points since the 1981-82 NU squad did it through the first 18 games of the year.

■ Only one other time (2003-04) in the 3-point era before this season has Nebraska held every non-conference team below 67 points.

■ Nebraska held each of its first six opponents to fewer than 58 points. The last time NU held opponents to less than 60 points over the first six games of the year was the start of the 1943-44 season.

■ The last time Nebraska held six consecutive opponents to fewer than 60 points in any stretch was the seven contests between games 12 through 18 of the 1981-82 season. That was a streak of 820 games before it was matched starting this season.

■ Nebraska has forced at least 20 turnovers in a game nine times this season, including three times in Big 12 Conference play (Kansas State, 25; Kansas, 21; Texas Tech, 20).

■ Nebraska held TCU to just 10 field goals in NU's first road game of the season. The 10 field goals allowed were the second-lowest by a Husker squad under Sadler, trailing only the nine baskets allowed at home by North Carolina Central last season.

■ The 10 field goals by the Horned Frogs were the fewest by an opponent away from the Devaney Center since Centenary had 10 baskets to open the 2002-03 season at the Top of the World Classic in Fairbanks, Alaska.

■ The 50 points scored by TCU marked the fewest Nebraska has allowed on the road since NU held Kansas State to 42 points in the first league road game of the 2005-06 campaign.

■ Nebraska posted another strong defensive performance when it allowed just 53 points at Colorado.

KEEPING OPPONENTS IN LINE

While the 3-point line moved back one foot – from 19-9 to 20-9 – for the first time in men's college basketball this season, Nebraska's 3-point defense has improved dramatically with the change in the line.

■ Nebraska's 3-point defense this year has been solid as opponents have hit just 32.6 percent from beyond the arc. Last season, opponents hit 36.4 percent on the year.

■ Nebraska's 3-point percentage defense entered the week ranked 88th nationally. The Huskers are currently rank third in the Big 12 Conference in that category. NU has held eight teams under 25.0 percent shooting from beyond the arc this season.

■ Eleven of Nebraska's 21 opponents have been held to five or fewer 3-pointers in a game, including five with three or fewer.

ON THE GLASS

The Huskers will put a small lineup on the floor just about every night this season, giving coach Doc Sadler reason to be interested in Nebraska's rebounding, especially on the defensive end. All of NU's guards will need to be capable rebounders this season to keep the opposing team from getting easy baskets on second chances.

■ Through 21 games, Nebraska trails on the glass by over four rebounds per game (-4.6 rpg, 33.1 to 28.6).

■ Nebraska has trailed on the glass in 15 contests this season, including each of its first seven league contests before outrebounding Colorado. Overall, the Huskers have trailed on the boards in 12 of the past 15 games.

■ NU has trailed in each of its Big 12 contests, and has a -6.7 rebounding margin in league action. Nebraska's 36 rebounds against No. 6/5 Oklahoma were its third-highest total of the season. The Huskers' +8 advantage against Colorado was its best in Big 12 play.

■ The Huskers posted 11 offensive rebounds in each of the last three non-league games (33 total) after recording 27 offensive boards in the previous five games combined. NU has had at least 10 offensive rebounds in a game six

SCHEDULE NOTES

■ Nebraska faces a rugged schedule as it will play 13 of its 29 regular-season games against teams that reached the 2008 postseason. Eight of the 13 game against postseason teams will be played at the Devaney Center. Among the Huskers' opponents that reached last year's NCAA Tournament were: NCAA champion Kansas (twice), Elite Eight participant Texas, NCAA second-round qualifiers Kansas State (twice) and Texas A&M along with NCAA qualifiers Baylor, Oklahoma and UMBC. NU will also face Arizona State, Creighton, Alabama State and Oklahoma State, all of which played in the postseason NIT.

■ The Huskers will play 18 regular-season games at the Devaney Center for the second straight season. Last year, the Huskers went 15-3 in the building with the only losses coming to eventual national champion Kansas and NCAA qualifier Baylor, along with an overtime setback to Missouri.

■ Nebraska played its 500th game in the Bob Devaney Sports Center last season and will be gunning for its 400th win in building history in 2008-09. Through Jan. 28, the Huskers own a 396-124 record in their 33rd season at the Devaney Center, good for an impressive .762 winning percentage.

■ Nebraska will look to keep an outstanding home winning streak alive in 2008-09 as the Huskers' look for their 33rd straight winning season at the Bob Devaney Sports Center. The Huskers have never had a losing season in the Devaney Center since the building opened for the 1976-77 campaign.

■ The Huskers played three true road games during the non-conference slate, facing Arizona State in the Big 12/Pac-10 Hardwood Series along with Oregon State and TCU. It was the sixth time in the Big 12 era that the Huskers played at least three true road games in non-league action and the first time since 2004-05 when Nebraska played at UAB, Marquette and Tennessee.

■ The Huskers will be seen on television within the state at least 24 times during the season, including every road game for the second straight year. Every conference road game will be televised for the third consecutive season. The Huskers have averaged more than 13 televised contests (national, regional and local) each of the past seven years.

■ Nebraska will be seen nationally at least eight times this season on ESPN, ESPN2, ESPNU, FSN and CBS College Sports. More than 10 additional games will also be available around the country on satellite.

HUSKERS SIGN FOUR FOR 2009-10

Third-year coach Doc Sadler announced Friday, Nov. 14, that a strong lineup of four talented athletes, including three standing 6-8 or taller, have signed National Letters of Intent to join the Nebraska basketball squad for the 2009-10 season. Among the signees are: 6-10, 220-pound center Vander Joaquim from Luanda, Angola; 6-8, 210-pound forward Christian Standhardinger from Munich, Germany; 6-9, 220-pound forward Brandon Ubel from Overland Park, Kan.; and 6-2, 175-pound point/shooting guard Rayes Gallegos from Jordan, Utah.

"I'm excited about this class and what they can bring to Nebraska," Sadler said. "When we go on the road, something we look for in addition to talent is character, and that has been a continued priority this year. I feel good about the way they will represent Nebraska. On the court, I feel they will help us continue to improve and compete for a Big 12 championship."

■ Joaquim averaged 21.1 points and 16.8 rebounds per contest last year with 89 blocks. He was ranked at one point the No. 12 high school center in the country by Scout.com (71st nationally overall) and No. 15 center by Rivals.com (115th nationally overall). Joaquim was tabbed the No. 2 power forward on the West Coast by Scout.com before moving to West Virginia to attend Mountain State Academy in 2008-09.

■ Standhardinger was named the MVP of the NBBL in 2008 and in the final of the 2008 U19 German Championship, he scored 37 points and posted 12 rebounds. He also earned top scorer honors at the Europe's Best Junior Tournament in 2007 and was the MVP of the German Top 4 in 2007. Standhardinger also was a member of the German Junior National Team in 2007 and 2008. This season, Standhardinger has averaged 19.1 points, 8.0 rebounds, 1.3 steals and 1.1 assists per game for his club team as of late November.

■ Ubel is a skilled forward with a nice touch from outside who also possesses the ability to score off a number of post moves and mid-range jumpers. Last year as a junior, he helped Blue Valley West to the state tournament and his team won the Class 6A state title during his sophomore season. During the summer AAU circuit, Ubel averaged close to 20 points and eight rebounds per game for the Wedman Pumas. He owns a 4.1 grade-point average in high school and his sister, Kayla Ubel, is a sophomore on the NU track team.

■ Gallegos came on during the summer AAU circuit when he averaged about 25 points per game. Gallegos was rated the No. 53 shooting guard in the country by Scouts.com and was tabbed the No. 7 shooting guard on the West Coast. Gallegos was the team's third-leading scorer at 10.5 points per game as a junior, helping the team to the state tournament.

NOTE: Vander Joaquim left Mountain State Academy following Christmas. He enrolled at the College of Eastern Utah, a junior college, for the second semester this year. He is expected to redshirt this year and start playing during the 2009-10 season.

times, most recently against Kansas when 13 of the Huskers' 22 boards were on the offensive glass. NU also had 10 offensive boards against No. 6/5 Oklahoma on the road.

DAGUNDURO GETTING ON TRACK

After a sluggish start to the season, senior guard Ade Dagunduro has turned up the intensity on both ends of the court during league play.

One of the most athletic players in the Big 12 Conference, Dagunduro has recently brought his scoring average up to rank second on the squad with 11.6 points per game. He has scored in double figures in 10 of the past 14 games, including at least 18 points five times.

■ Dagunduro started the season averaging just 4.8 points per game in three contests against San Jose State, TCU and Arkansas-Pine Bluff.

■ After posting 11 combined points against Alabama State and Arizona State, Dagunduro has averaged a team-best 13.9 ppg on 61.9 percent shooting (73-of-118) over the past 14 games.

■ Dagunduro set a career high by scoring in double figures in five straight games (Oregon State, IPFW, UMBC, South Carolina State, Maryland Eastern Shore).

■ The senior posted a then-career high in the Big 12 opener, gaining a game-high 20 points on 6-of-11 shooting while helping Nebraska to its third league-opening win in 13 years. He also had five rebounds and three steals in 29 minutes.

■ Dagunduro had the best offensive game of his career against Kansas at home, posting a career-high 24 points on 10-of-16 shooting. He added five rebounds, two assists, two steals and a block in 29 minutes while helping the Huskers remain within one point in the final 30 seconds.

■ Dagunduro recorded his second straight 20-point performance while helping Nebraska to a road victory over Texas Tech. He hit 5-of-6 from the field and 10-of-10 at the line for 20 points, while adding a season-high tying six rebounds with three assists and three steals.

■ Possibly Dagunduro's biggest points of the non-conference season came in the final seconds of a comeback victory over Creighton. The Inglewood, Calif., native got free on the right block when his defender hedged to the middle of the lane as Steve Harley drove to the basket. Harley made a nice wrap-around pass to Dagunduro, whose uncontested layup with 2.7 seconds remaining was the game-winner.

■ Dagunduro's slow start this season was the exact opposite of last year, which has been a good thing for the Huskers in the long run. Dagunduro started 2007-08 on fire, averaging 11.8 points per game in non-conference play while hitting 54.8 percent from the field. In league action last year, he gained only 5.8 points per game while knocking down just 40.4 percent from the field.

RECORD PERFORMANCE

Senior guard Ade Dagunduro had a breakout game against UMBC as he posted 19 points in 27 minutes of action. He topped his previous career best of 17 points last year in an overtime road loss to Western Kentucky.

Dagunduro scored 15 of his 19 points against UMBC in the second half and added three rebounds, three assists, two blocks and two steals for an impressive all-around performance.

But the most impressive aspect of Dagunduro's line on the stat sheet was the field-goal column. He finished the game hitting 9-of-9 attempts from the field, helping Nebraska hit 48.9 percent from the floor.

■ Dagunduro tied the school single-game record by hitting all nine of his attempts from the field against UMBC.

■ Dagunduro became the fifth Husker in history to connect on nine consecutive shots from the floor in a single game. It was the fourth time the feat happened by a Husker against a non-conference opponent.

Consecutive Field Goals in Game (NU Record)

FG	Name (Opponent)	Date
9	Ade Dagunduro (UMBC)	12/23/08
9	Mikki Moore (at Nevada)	3/19/97
9	Venson Hamilton (Iowa State)	2/3/96
9	Dave Hoppen (Southern Illinois)	11/26/85
9	Chuck Jura (Iowa)	12/5/70

■ Dagunduro's mark was originally believed to be a single-game conference record, however, since then it has been established that Colorado center David Harrison had a 10-for-10 effort versus Baylor in 2004. It is believed that Dagunduro's mark ties for second place in the Big 12 record book.

■ Dagunduro extended his streak of consecutive made field-goal attempts to 15 over three straight games, setting a new Nebraska record. He had three made shots to end the game against IPFW, added nine against UMBC and then hit his first three against South Carolina State to surpass Mikki Moore, who held the previous NU record by hitting 13 straight shots in three games in 1997.

Consecutive FG in Multiple Games (NU Record)

FG	Name	Season, games
15	Ade Dagunduro	2008-09, three
13	Mikki Moore	1996-97, three

■ Dagunduro's streak of 15 straight made shots fell two shy of the old Big 12 record. His streak is second in the league this season behind Baylor's Quincy Acy, who set the new Big 12 record by making his first 20 attempts from the field to start his career.

MILLER READY TO LEND A HAND

Cookie Miller was the only true freshman to play for the Huskers last year when he posted near-record numbers for assists (109) and steals (58). This year, he is trying to take it a step higher as one of the top returning point guards in the Big 12 Conference.

Miller was sixth in the league in assists (3.6 apg) last year and the only freshman in the top 10 for assist-to-turnover ratio (1.7). He was fourth in the Big 12 for steals (1.93), and led the league in Big 12-only contests (2.0 spg).

■ This season, Miller leads NU with 81 assists (4.1 apg) and is second the team with 33 steals (1.6 apg). He is one of seven Huskers with at least 17 steals.

■ Miller has 41 turnovers to go with his 81 assists, ranking in the top six in the conference in assist-to-turnover ratio (2.0-to-1). After posting a season-high five miscues with one assist against Kansas State on Jan. 17, Miller rebounded to have his best game distributing the ball at Oklahoma. He had seven assists with just two turnovers against the No. 6/5 Sooners on the road.

■ Miller has had at least four assists in 13 contests this season, including five straight games to end non-conference play. Miller's season high is seven assists at No. 6/5 Oklahoma, and has had six assists four times.

■ Miller was efficient in leading the Huskers to a win in the Big 12 opener against Missouri. He had three assists against two turnovers in 36 minutes, but helped NU continually break the Tigers' press. His defense also helped NU force MU into 16 turnovers with only 10 assists after the Tigers came into the game ranked third nationally in assist-to-turnover ratio. Miller also drew three charges, all in the first half, against MU.

■ Miller also sparked a struggling Husker squad in the second half against IPFW. He came off the bench and posted six assists, including four in the second half, with four steals to lead the Huskers to a come-from-behind victory.

HOT HENRY

After a strong offseason, junior guard Sek Henry started out on a tear while helping the Huskers win six straight games to open a season for just the second time in the Big 12 era.

Henry has been more consistent on offense through the first 20 games of this season than at any point in his career. He is one of three players averaging at least 9.0 ppg, and has recorded 11 double-figure scoring games.

■ Henry posted 19 points against each Saint Louis and Florida A&M, one off his career high and the most points he has scored at home in the Devaney Center. He nearly matched the mark with 18 points vs. South Carolina State.

■ Henry added 13 points against Missouri to help Nebraska to a win in the Big 12 opener. It was the second-highest point total of his career against a Big 12 squad, trailing the 14 points he scored last season at Missouri.

■ Overall, he has scored at least 10 points four times in league play, including three of the last five contests.

■ He has posted double figure points 11 times in 21 games this season, after scoring in double figures just nine times in the first 64 games of his career. Henry posted double figures five times last year and four times as a freshman.

■ Henry has hit 66-of-136 shots (48.5 percent) from the field, including 22-of-55 (40.0 percent) from 3-point range. His career averages entering this season were 36.7 percent shooting and 26.4 percent from beyond the arc.

■ Henry has twice this season tied his career high with four steals in a game. He is currently fifth on the team with 22 steals through 21 contests.

■ Henry raised his free throw average significantly of late, hitting 26 of his last 35 (74.3 percent) attempts over the past 11 games. Henry hit an impressive 7-of-8 from the line against UMBC after entering the game hitting 45.0 percent in his first nine games, and followed with a 7-of-9 effort against SCSU.

ENERGY GUY

Following the season-opening contest against San Jose State, Coach Doc Sadler praised several players for their energy and hustle, especially the ones off the bench.

Leading the way that day was redshirt freshman Brandon Richardson, who posted six points, three rebounds, an assist and four steals in 16 minutes in his career debut.

Richardson's numbers did not tell the whole story as he made several dives to the floor and other hustle plays to ignite NU in the second half after SJSU cut the lead from 18 points to five. His steal off an inbounds and three-point play turned the game around, helping NU score 10 points in less than a minute to pull away for good.

VELANDER EARNS ACADEMIC HONORS

Nebraska senior guard Paul Velander was named to the 2008-09 CoSIDA/ESPN The Magazine Academic All-District 7 First Team in the University Division on Thursday, Feb. 5. Velander was the only Big 12 player to earn the honor.

A native of Blacksburg, Va., Velander is a biological sciences major and has been named to the Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll for six straight semesters and was a first-team academic All-Big 12 selection each of the past two seasons. He carries a 3.64 cumulative GPA and was named to the NABC Honors Court following his junior year.

Velander has reached double figures five times this season and is fourth on the team with 8.7 points per game. He ranked 12th nationally from 3-point range entering this week and has now hit 44.3 percent (51-of-115) to rank fourth in the Big 12. He has helped Nebraska to a 14-7 overall record including a 4-4 mark in Big 12 Conference play.

Velander's name will now be placed on the national ballot that will determine this year's CoSIDA Academic All-America squads. Nebraska leads all schools in the nation across all sports with 268 academic All-Americans. The Nebraska basketball program has had four players earn five academic All-America certificates.

In mid-December, Velander earned his first academic accolade of the year as he was among 30 candidates for the 2008-09 Lowe's Senior CLASS Award, presented annually to an NCAA Division I student-athlete in nine sports.

ANDERSON, VELANDER AMONG HUSKERS' MOST ACCURATE DUOS

Senior Paul Velander has become one of the most accurate long-range shooters in Nebraska history.

The only fifth-year player for the Huskers this season, Velander ranks sixth in NU history for 3-point field-goal percentage at 40.5 percent (119-of-294) while coming off the bench in 80-of-81 contests.

He leads the team with 51 3-pointers this season, including three or more 3s in each of 12 games this year. Despite ranking fourth in the Big 12 Conference in 3-point percentage this season (44.3), Velander has struggled lately, hitting just three of his last 19 attempts over the past four games. He snapped his streak of at least one trey in each game when he went 0-of-2 at Texas Tech.

With Anderson and Velander, four of the players in the NU top 10 have played under coach Doc Sadler.

MCCRAY NAMED ROOKIE OF THE WEEK

Nebraska redshirt freshman guard Toney McCray was named the Big 12 Rookie of the Week in a vote by league sportswriters on Monday, Nov. 17. McCray was honored alongside Oklahoma's Blake Griffin, who won the league's player-of-the-week award.

The 6-6, 205-pounder from Missouri City, Texas, was the Huskers' leading scorer and rebounder in both its exhibition win and the season-opening win over San Jose State. McCray, one of four Huskers who redshirted last year, quickly made his presence felt on the court as he posted a game-high 17 points against the Spartans. He also added a team-high nine rebounds, just missing out on becoming the first Husker since Aleks Maric to produce a double-double in his first career game. McCray added a steal and an assist in 23 minutes off the bench, helping the Huskers to a 43-16 advantage in bench scoring.

McCray is the second player in Coach Doc Sadler's three years to earn the league's rookie-of-the-week award. Last year, guard Ade Dagunduro won the award on Dec. 17 for his effort in helping the Huskers defeat nationally ranked Oregon. Overall, McCray is the eighth Husker to win the league award. Only two players, Joe McCray and Kimani Ffriend, have won the rookie-of-the-week award more than once for the Huskers as each earned it two times in their first season in Lincoln.

JONES OPTS FOR SURGERY

Coach Doc Sadler announced during his postgame press conference on Dec. 3, that Eshaunte 'Bear' Jones is done playing this year because of a foot injury.

"He's finished as far as playing for this year," Sadler said. "We wanted to try to get through the year because he's such a good offensive player and he has some size, but he's not going to be able to play anymore."

On the year, Jones played in four contests, averaging 1.8 points and 1.3 rebounds per game. He played 16 minutes in the season opener and then 12 minutes, 13 and 5 over the next three games before sitting out against Creighton and Alabama State. He had successful surgery on his foot on Dec. 18 and is expected to need a 3-4 month rehab.

CHAPMAN LEAVES NEBRASKA

Sophomore Alex Chapman transfer away from NU following the end of the fall semester. The forward from Canby, Ore., had not played in a game in his three semesters at Nebraska after suffering a knee injury that required surgery during the preseason each of the past two years.

Despite sitting out because of injury, Chapman was the Huskers' tallest eligible player this season. Freshman center Christopher Niemann, who stands 6-11, is ineligible to play this season because of an NCAA ruling.

Following another strong performance in Nebraska's game against IPFW, Sadler said:

"Brandon Richardson makes plays that don't show up on the box score. When we went to the 1-3-1 for the first time (that night), he made two huge hustle plays. He does things that might give you three or four more possessions that you wouldn't otherwise get in a game."

■ After sitting out the first four games of Big 12 Conference action with an injury, Richardson came back to hit 2-of-3, including both 3-point attempts, to score eight points in 15 minutes against Oklahoma State.

■ Richardson scored a career-high 11 points in a road victory at Texas Tech. He came off the bench to hit 4-of-5 shots, including 3-of-4 from long range, in 19 minutes.

■ He has now hit 12 of his last 21 shots overall, including 7-of-14 from long range. The recent aggressiveness with ball came as a direct result of the coaching staff telling Richardson to focused on attacking on the offensive end.

■ Against UAPB, he scored a season-high nine points and had two assists without a turnover in 23 minutes of action.

■ He posted 13 points over the last two games of non-conference play after scoring just 12 points in his previous eight games.

■ He has posted at least three steals in a game three times this year, and is tied for sixth on the team with 17 steals. He needs seven steals to move onto the Nebraska freshman top-10 list.

ENERGY GUY . . . TOO

Along with Richardson, senior Paul Velandar has also been praised by Sadler for his energy coming off the bench, including following the Saint Louis game. In his postgame press conference that night, Sadler said:

"We've got to get the rest of the team to make effort plays like Paul Velandar. There's not a player in the country who makes more effort plays than that guy."

■ Velandar has come off the bench to hit 51 3-pointers in 21 games, including 12 games with at least three treys apiece. He is fourth on the team in scoring at 8.4 points per game.

■ Velandar is currently fourth in the Big 12 Conference and was 12th nationally entering the week in 3-point percentage. He has hit 44.3 percent from behind the arc.

■ Velandar posted as career-high tying 20 points behind a career-best six 3-pointers against Kansas State on Jan. 17.

■ He has hit double figures five times this season, including three of the last four games of the non-conference slate.

■ He also made his first 2-point basket of the year against UMBC and now has hit just 2-of-9 from inside the arc.

■ Velandar leads the team with 20 charges taken, including three against each San Jose State and Saint Louis. If the statistic were kept nationally, it's possible that Velandar would lead the nation in charges taken.

■ Velandar's effort finally rubbed off on his teams against IPFW. NU had six charges taken, each by a different individual, including one by Velandar. As a team, NU has taken 40 charges in 21 games this year.

BALHAM MAKING MOST OF MINUTES

Junior forward Chris Balham has been limited by chronic knee problems throughout his career and while he has not been able to practice or get on the court in games as much as he and coach Doc Sadler would like, Balham has made the most of his court time lately.

■ Over the past 10 games, Balham has averaged 12.5 minutes per game, with a total of 125 minutes of action. He saw 46 minutes of action combined in his first seven games of the year, with a high of 10 minutes at TCU. He also missed three games this year because of chronic knee issues.

■ He played 18, 14, 17, 14, 10 and 12 minutes, respectively, between the Maryland Eastern Shore and Oklahoma games, the first time in his career he gained at least 10 minutes in more than three straight games. Overall, he has played at least 10 minutes in nine of the last 11 games.

■ Balham tied his career high with eight rebounds against Florida A&M. He added six boards on the road at Texas Tech for his most in conference play this year. Of his 37 rebounds in the past 11 games, 19 are offensive boards.

■ Balham scored a season-high seven points in consecutive games near the end of the non-conference slate this season. The only time Balham has scored more than seven points (his totals against SCSU and UMES) in a game was a career-high 10 points on 5-of-7 shooting in a road victory over No. 22 Texas A&M last season.

HARLEY IS LEADER OF THE PACK

Guard Steve Harley came on strong at the end of last season when he was named to the Big 12 All-Newcomer Team by the league's sportswriters for his play in league action.

Over the final 12 league games and the postseason, Harley assumed a lead role in the Husker offense, ranking second with 11.0 points per game while hitting 45 percent from the floor including nearly 43 percent from 3-point range. He shot better than 78 percent from the charity stripe in that stretch.

■ Harley is currently leading the team lead with 11.8 points per game despite averaging just 9.1 points – third on team – over the first eight Big 12 Conference games.

■ Despite struggling to score in NU's eight Big 12 games this year, Harley has still come up big for the Huskers in other ways. He has had 28 rebounds, 14 assists and 16 steals in the first eight league games.

■ Harley set a career high with 21 points on 9-of-15 shooting against IPFW. It was his second career 20-point performance and the Huskers' first 20-point game this year.

■ One of the most aggressive Huskers getting to the basket, Harley is second on the team with 73 trips to the free throw line. Harley, who has struggled in league play by hitting 10-of-20 from the free throw line, is averaging 3.5 rebounds and is third on the team with 46 assists and leads the squad with 34 steals.

■ Harley has tied his career high for rebounds three times this season, posting six against San Jose State in the season opener and again in the come-from-behind win over Creighton. He also added a team-high six boards in a road win over Colorado. He has had at least four rebounds in a game 10 times this season.

■ Harley had just one assist against Creighton, but it was the biggest one of the game. With the contest tied at 52-52, Nebraska had the ball with the shot clock off. Coach Doc Sadler drew up a play for Harley as the first scoring option. As he drove the lane to the basket, CU hedged to the middle and Harley made a nice wrap-around pass to Ade Dagunduro, who had an uncontested layup for the game-winning basket with 2.7 seconds remaining.

■ Harley is one of only two players (also Cookie Miller) averaging more than 26 minutes per game. Harley has played a team-high 31.4 minutes per contest this season, including a career-high 40 minutes against UMBC.

VELANDER REACHES TOP 10

Senior guard Paul Velander is the second Husker this season to place his name on the top-10 list, following junior guard Ryan Anderson.

■ Velander hit 1-of-2 from long range in the Big 12 opener against Missouri to match Ray Richardson's mark for 10th place. He now is eighth in Nebraska history with 119 treys. He moved past teammate Ryan Anderson as Velander posted six 3-pointers against Kansas State on Jan. 17.

■ Velander has hit at least three 3-pointers in 12 games this year, with a career-high six against Kansas State (6-of-10 overall).

■ Velander's 44.3 percent accuracy from beyond the arc is currently fourth in the Big 12 Conference.

■ He leads the team with 51 3-pointers in 21 games. He entered the week ranked 12th nationally in 3-point percentage despite struggling lately, hitting just 5-of-21 in his last five games since posting a career-high six 3-pointers against Kansas State.

HITTING FROM LONG RANGE

At 6-4, guard Ryan Anderson may be a little undersized to play in the front court, but he is one of the biggest players on the court when he steps outside the 3-point line. Anderson has made a living with the long ball, hitting 114 treys in his career to rank 10th in NU history.

■ Despite being one of the best 3-point shooters in the league the past two years, Anderson has struggled this season. He has hit 16-of-57 attempts (28.1 percent) after coming into the season hitting better than 39 percent in his career.

■ Anderson's best long-range game this year came with four 3-pointers at No. 6/5 Oklahoma, marking the 15th time in his career he has had at least three treys in a single game. He also had three treys earlier this season against Alabama State.

■ He went 3-of-3 from the field against Florida A&M but did not attempt a 3-pointer. It was the first time in 30 games that he did not attempt a 3-pointer in a game. He also did not attempt a trey at Texas Tech, just the sixth game in his career he did not shoot from long range.

■ Anderson is the only Husker ever to post at least 48 treys in each of his first two years at Nebraska.

■ Anderson ranks second on the NU freshman list with 48 3-pointers in 2006-07 and last year posted 50 treys to rank third on the Huskers' sophomore chart.

FOUR HONORED BY NEBRASKA BASKETBALL HALL OF FAME

On the weekend of Jan. 16-17, the Husker basketball program proudly inducted two new members into the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame when former coach Danny Nee and Husker standout Erick Strickland earned the prestigious honor. Nee and Strickland were joined in the celebration by Kent Pavelka, the Bud Cuca Special Merit Award winner, and Rex Ekwall, the Distinguished Hall of Fame Alumni Award winner.

Nee and Strickland joined elite company. Nee is the sixth head coach enshrined in the hall and first since 1996, while Strickland is only the second player inducted in the past five years.

Nee recorded more wins at Nebraska than any coach, accumulating 254 victories over 14 years. He led the Huskers to five NCAA Tournament and six NIT berths, as well as the 1994 Big Eight Tournament and the 1996 NIT titles. Nee led NU to a school-record 26 wins in 1991 and earned league coach-of-the-year accolades as the Huskers posted the school's highest-ever final ranking of No. 9 (AP) and 11 (UPI). He coached 10 of Nebraska's 25 1,000-point scorers and recruited and coached all three of NU's first-round selections in the NBA Draft (Rich King, 1991; Eric Piatkowski, 1994; Tyronn Lue, 1998), as well as 1999 Big 12 Player of the Year Venson Hamilton (second-round NBA pick).

Strickland was a key component of Husker squads that won 79 games between 1992-93 and 1995-96, with three seasons earning at least 20 wins. During his career, Strickland played in two NCAA Tournaments and two NITs, including helping Nebraska win five straight games in March to earn the 1996 NIT championship.

Strickland played in 127 games with 84 starts, while averaging 12.5 points per game for his career. A native of Bellevue, Neb., Strickland was the MVP of the 1996 NIT and earned Big Eight All-Defensive Team honors three times. A complete player, Strickland ranks third in Nebraska history in career games played, fourth in 3-pointers (179), third in 3-point attempts (512), fifth in assists (414) and second all-time at Nebraska in steals with 257.

Following his Husker career, Strickland earned a spot in the NBA as a free agent, playing more than 500 games over nine years in the league primarily with Dallas and Milwaukee.

Pavelka is the 19th person to earn the Special Merit Award and first since 2003. The award is given to someone who helps shape the Husker basketball program from a supporting role. Pavelka returned to the microphone as the Huskers' basketball voice in 2006-07, and now has more than 20 years under his belt calling Nebraska hoops.

Ekwall, a letterwinner for the Huskers from 1955 to 1957, still holds the Nebraska career record for rebounding average, as he pulled in 679 boards in 65 games for an average of 10.4 per game. More than 50 years after he last played, Ekwall is still 10th on the rebounds chart and 35th in scoring at Nebraska (880 points, 13.5 points per game).

HUSKERS ON THE RADIO

The IMG Husker Sports Radio Network is in its 13th year producing and marketing live broadcasts of University of Nebraska football, men's and women's basketball, volleyball, baseball and softball games.

The Husker Sports Network has created a large network of state and national affiliates. All regular-season men's basketball games and any postseason contests will be broadcast on a 31-station basketball network in 2007-08. KFAB (1110 AM) is the Omaha affiliate, KLIN (1400 AM) is the Lincoln affiliate and while KRVN (880 AM) in Lexington also serves as a primary state affiliate.

All the men's basketball games can be heard around the world for free on Huskers.com. A great number of Nebraska's games will also be heard live on SIRIUS Satellite again this season.

Veteran radio announcer Kent Pavelka leads the NU men's basketball broadcast in 2008-09, along with former Husker letterwinner Matt Davison. Former Husker Andy Markowski will also fill in as the color analyst for a limited number of contests. Lane Grindle serves as the host of Sports Nightly, a live daily call-in show. Grindle will also host the Doc Sadler Radio Show on Monday nights throughout the season beginning at 7 p.m.

■ Only Nebraska's all-time 3-point leader, Cary Cochran, made more shots from outside the arc by the end of his sophomore season, as Cochran had 101 through two years.

MCCRAY STARTS STRONG

Guard Toney McCray started the season out strong, scoring game highs with 17 points and nine rebounds in the season opener against San Jose State.

McCray hit 6-of-15 shots from the floor in his career debut against the Spartans and just missed becoming the first Husker freshman to record a double-double in his first career game since Aleks Maric accomplished the feat in 2004-05.

■ McCray ranks sixth on the team with 6.3 points per game. He is fifth on the team with 3.0 rebounds per game and leads the squad with 12 blocked shots.

■ McCray played inside most of the first 18 games of the season, but moved back onto the wing before the Kansas game, which was the first contest in this season that he did not play any minutes. He came back to hit 4-of-6 from the floor over the past two games, including a 3-of-3 effort at Colorado. He hit a pair of tough, contested shots with the shot clock under three seconds, keeping Nebraska out front in the narrow two-point victory.

■ McCray hit three 3-pointers against IPFW (3-of-5) after connecting on just 3-of-10 3-point attempts in his first eight games. Overall, he is 9-of-23 this season from long range.

■ McCray had nine points and five boards in the first road game of his career at TCU. He has shown he likes playing on the road as he added 13 points, seven rebounds and two steals at Oregon State.

■ In his first game in front of a big crowd, McCray settled in nicely, posting six points, five rebounds, three blocked shots and two steals in 23 minutes off the bench against Creighton.

■ In his first Big 12 Conference tilt, McCray posted five points with one rebound in five minutes. His 3-pointer late in the second half was a needed offensive spark as the Huskers held on for a victory over Missouri.

■ In Big 12 Conference play, McCray has hit 59.1 percent (13-of-22) from the floor while averaging 4.3 points per game.

COMEBACK KIDS

Nebraska not only picked up its second straight win in Lincoln over in-state foe Creighton on Nov. 29, but it also made for one of the more memorable comebacks by the Huskers since the formation of the Big 12 Conference.

Nebraska's come-from-behind victory was keyed by a strong second-half performance from Steve Harley and Cookie Miller. Harley finished with a game-high 18 points with three steals and had the key assist on Ade Dagunduro's game-winning basket with 2.7 seconds remaining. Miller posted six assists and two steals and got the Huskers' offense into high gear after trailing by 13 points at halftime.

■ The 13-point deficit the Huskers overcame matched the largest comeback under Coach Doc Sadler. It also tied for the second-largest comeback by Nebraska during the Big 12 era, matching the 13-point deficit NU overcame at Texas Tech during Sadler's first season on the sideline.

■ The largest deficit Nebraska has rebounded from to win since the formation of the Big 12 Conference was 20 points against Kansas State in the first year of the league (1996-97). KSU also had the biggest halftime lead that NU has overcome in the Big 12 era as the Wildcats led by 18 points at the break.

Largest Nebraska Deficits Overcome to Win (Big 12 era only, since 1996-97)

Year	Opponent	Deficit Overcome
1996-97	Kansas State	20 points
2008-09	Creighton	13 points
2006-07	at Texas Tech	13 points
2002-03	vs. UC Santa Barbara	12 points
1998-99	Texas A&M	12 points
2005-06	Baylor	11 points
2004-05	Oklahoma State	11 points
2001-02	Colorado	11 points
2000-01	Missouri	11 points
1999-2000	Eastern Illinois	10 points
1997-98	Baylor	10 points
2003-04	Creighton (NIT game)	9 points

■ Nebraska nearly added another fantastic finish to the list as it rallied from a 16-point halftime deficit, and 20-point overall deficit in the first half, to have the final shot at the win against UMBC.

■ The near comeback against UMBC came just three days after the Huskers rallied from a five-point halftime deficit at home to pull away for a 75-48 victory over IPFW.

■ In an continuing theme, NU fell behind by 13 points at Iowa State before battling back to tie the game at 45-45 with under seven minutes to play. With 2:13 remaining, NU trailed by just two points, 55-53, but saw the Cyclones go on a 10-0 run to end the game.

NEBRASKA GAME-BY-GAME NOTEBOOK (GAMES 1-10)

GAME 1 VS. SAN JOSE STATE (NU 63, SJSU 46)

The Nebraska Cornhuskers jumped out of the gate in fine fashion, using a 17-0 second-half run to keep San Jose State at bay in a 63-46 victory at the Devaney Center. The Huskers went into halftime with an 18-point lead but saw it nearly vanish as, at one point, NU went more than eight minutes without a field goal. SJSU cut the lead to five before redshirt freshman Brandon Richardson and senior Paul Velander turned it up a notch on defense and redshirt freshman Toney McCray led the Huskers on offense as they picked up their sixth straight season-opening victory. McCray paced the squad with 17 points and nine rebounds while Velander added nine points on three 3-pointers. Nebraska harassed the Spartans into 25 turnovers on the day while collecting 16 steals, the most under third-year coach Doc Sadler.

GAME 2 AT TCU (NU 62, TCU 50)

Playing in their first road game of the season, the Nebraska Huskers responded in strong fashion, holding off TCU for a 62-50 victory in Ft. Worth. The win snapped a streak of 12 straight losses in true road openers, and was only Nebraska's third win in the Big 12 era in the first game of the season away from Lincoln. Nebraska shot the ball well from 3-point range, hitting 5-of-10 from beyond the arc in the opening period while overcoming 15 first-half fouls. NU used a 9-0 run to burst out to a 37-24 lead at the break. The Huskers were up 16, 42-26, before the Horned Frogs mounted a comeback, pulling within seven, 46-39, before redshirt freshman Toney McCray drained a 3-pointer from the corner with the shot clock winding down to ignite the offense. Nebraska held TCU to just 10 field goals, including only three 3-pointers on 19 attempts, as the Horned Frogs shot just 27.0 percent from the floor. The 50 points were the fewest NU has allowed in a true road opener since 1977.

GAME 3 VS. ARKANSAS-PINE BLUFF (NU 67, UAPB 53)

Nebraska was sluggish to start but picked up the pace over the final minutes of the first half and held off a hard-nosed effort by Arkansas-Pine Bluff, 67-53, at the Devaney Center. The Huskers used a 17-3 run over the last 7:42 before halftime to go into the break up 32-24. Sek Henry scored 12 of his 14 points in the opening frame while Steve Harley led the Huskers with 18 points in the contest. Nebraska forced 23 turnovers and won despite losing the battle on the boards, 33-27. Along with Harley and Henry, Paul Velander added three 3-pointers for the third straight game and Brandon Richardson had the best of his young career, scoring nine points with two assists in 23 minutes. NU had 11 steals in the contest with Henry leading the way with four.

GAME 4 VS. SAINT LOUIS (NU 71, SLU 57)

Sek Henry and Ade Dagunduro jump-started the Husker offense and Nebraska executed the defensive game plan to near perfection, running away with a 71-57 victory over Saint Louis. Henry hit 7-of-8 attempts from the floor for a game-high 19 points, just one off his career high. He added four assists without a turnover, as Nebraska had just six turnovers as a team. Dagunduro added 14 points on 5-of-7 shooting, after entering the game with just 13 points in his first three games. He helped Nebraska hit 59.1 percent from the floor, including an impressive 65.0 percent in the second half. Saint Louis led 28-20 on the boards, but were held to just 41.7 percent shooting. NU kept the Billikens off the scoreboard for just over six minutes while powering to a 9-0 run. The surge extended the Husker lead to 16 points with just over three minutes to play, sealing the victory.

GAME 5 VS. CREIGHTON (NU 54, CU 52)

Steve Harley scored a game-high 18 points, but it was his lone assist that made the biggest difference as Harley set up Ade Dagunduro's game-winner in the final seconds of a tremendous comeback victory. Harley, who hit 8-of-16 shots from the floor and tied his career high with six rebounds, had the ball on a designed play for him in the final seconds. With the shot clock off, Harley drove the lane with less than seven seconds remaining. As he got into the lane, Creighton hedged to the middle and while in the air, Harley fed the ball to a wide-open Dagunduro, who had an uncontested layup with 2.7 seconds remaining to give NU the win. Nebraska hit just 30.4 percent from the floor in the first half and trailed by 13 points at the intermission. NU used a 27-7 surge, including a 13-0 run that included three 3-pointers, to move back ahead and hold on for its fifth straight victory to open the season. The 13-point comeback tied the largest for a Husker squad under Coach Doc Sadler, equaling the mark set in 2007 on the road against Texas Tech. Dagunduro finished with 11 points while Cookie Miller's strong second-half play helped him finish with six assists, four rebounds and two steals off the bench as Nebraska won for just the second time in the last 10 regular-season matchups between the in-state opponents.

GAME 6 VS. ALABAMA STATE (NU 80, ASU 51)

Nebraska had four players record three 3-pointers apiece as the Huskers hit 14 treys on the night while running past Alabama State, 80-51, to end a four-game home stand at the Devaney Center. Steve Harley led the way with 16 points including a trio of 3-pointers while Ryan Anderson added 11 points by hitting 3-of-4 from long range. Anderson, who moved into the career top 10 for 3-pointers made with the effort, added a game- and career-best seven assists without a turnover. Nebraska posted 23 assists on the night as it hit 51.7 percent from the floor, including a blistering 56.0 percent from beyond the arc. Sek Henry was a perfect 3-for-3 from long range while Paul Velander added his fifth game with three 3-pointers. The Huskers also held Alabama State to 51 points on 36.0 percent shooting, including a paltry 25.0 percent from long range.

GAME 7 AT NO. 19 ARIZONA STATE (ASU 64, NU 44)

No. 19 Arizona State used a pair of key runs and strong second-half play by All-America candidate James Harden to ease past Nebraska, 64-44, at Wells Fargo Arena in Tempe. The Sun Devils evened the Big 12/Pac-10 Hardwood Series with the Huskers at 1-1. NU defeated ASU, 62-47, last year in Lincoln. Nebraska came out strong and led by as many as five points as ASU had just one basket in the first 10 minutes of the game. The Sun Devils stormed back at the end of the period, using a 15-2 run to end the frame and go into the locker room with a 30-18 advantage. After the break, a key 8-0 surge spurred by Harden knocked back the charging Huskers. Harden finished with 20 points, nine rebounds and six assists. The Huskers struggled against the ASU zone, hitting just 28.9 percent from the field with only Steve Harley (11 points) reaching double figures.

GAME 8 AT OREGON STATE (OSU 64, NU 63)

Ade Dagunduro's arcing shot from the baseline hit off the back of the rim and bounced away at the buzzer as Oregon State held on for a 64-63 victory over the Huskers in Gill Coliseum as the Huskers dropped their second straight road game. The teams went back and forth all game, accumulating 11 ties and 20 lead changes before the Beavers got four free throws in the final 30 seconds from Daniel Deane to ice the game. Dagunduro put NU up 63-62 on a pair of free throws with 11 seconds remaining before Deane had the ball stripped, but Cookie Miller was called for the foul to put Deane at the line with 8.3 seconds left. Deane hit both and Miller's jumper at the other end missed and went out of bounds with 1.1 seconds remaining to set up Dagunduro's final attempt. Dagunduro led the Huskers with 16 points while Toney McCray came off the bench for 13 points, seven rebounds and two steals.

GAME 9 VS. IPFW (NU 75, IPFW 48)

Nebraska was sluggish in the first half and trailed by five, 34-29, at the intermission following a 16-4 run by IPFW to end the period. But the Huskers, led by Steve Harley and Cookie Miller, caught fire on offense in the second half and clamped down defensively while posting their 31st consecutive non-conference home win to tie the school record. Harley scored a career-high 21 points on 9-of-15 shooting from the floor, helping Nebraska hit at a scorching 60.9-percent clip from the field. He had 12 points at the half and became the first Husker this season to eclipse the 20-point plateau. Miller continually set up Harley and his teammates, finishing with six assists without a turnover. He had four steals and seven points off the bench, although he started the second half, and helped Nebraska to a 31-8 run to put the game away. Defensively, the Huskers held IPFW to just 14 points on 21.7 percent shooting in the second period while forcing 24 Mastodon turnovers.

GAME 10 VS. UMBC (UMBC 66, NU 64)

The Huskers' furious second-half rally came up just short as Nebraska fell at home to a non-conference opponent for the first time since 2005, falling 66-64 to UMBC. NU never led in the contest and trailed by as many as 20 points in the first period following a 13-0 run. UMBC led by 16 at the intermission before the Huskers started a comeback, cutting within two points in the final minute. Nebraska held the Retrievers without a field goal over the final 6:42 to get back into the contest, but UMBC hit 15-of-18 at the free throw line, including their last nine points, to record the upset. Ade Dagunduro led the comeback with 15 of his career-high 19 points in the second period. He finished the game 9-of-9 from the field, tying the NU single-game record for field goals without a miss. Dagunduro's basket with 30 seconds remaining cut the deficit to three points, and after the teams traded free throws, Paul Velander had a trey that would have tied the game rim out with 14 seconds left. NU added a free throw by Steve Harley to cut it to the final deficit but one last shot attempt with under a second was blocked out of bounds. Velander finished with 14 points including four 3-pointers while Harley had 13 points and Sek Henry added 12 points.

NEBRASKA GAME-BY-GAME NOTEBOOK (GAMES 11-19)

GAME 11 VS. SOUTH CAROLINA STATE (NU 77, SCSU 63)

The Nebraska Cornhuskers made their final appearance at the Bob Devaney Sports Center in 2008 a happy one as they used a strong second half to run past South Carolina State, 77-63. Sek Henry nearly tied his season high with 19 points while Ade Dagunduro scored 14 points and finished 5-of-8 from the field. Dagunduro set a school record as he knocked down his first three attempts from the floor, extending his consecutive field-goals made streak to 15 straight over three games. He surpassed the previous Nebraska record of 13 consecutive made field goals by Mikki Moore in the 1997 NIT. Dagunduro and Henry helped the Huskers to a 15-0 run in the second half, pushing a tie out to a 51-36 advantage. Henry was 7-of-9 at the free throw line, as the Huskers got to the stripe 35 times (22 made) while hitting 46.3 percent from the field in their second-highest scoring game before New Year's.

GAME 12 VS. MARYLAND EASTERN SHORE (NU 88, UMES 56)

Senior guard Ade Dagunduro continued his torrid shooting, hitting 8-of-9 shots from the floor to help Nebraska hit better than 60 percent from the field for the second time in four games as the Huskers ran to a 32-point victory. Dagunduro scored 18 points by hitting his first eight shots from the floor while Steve Harley added 12 points. Ten other Huskers also scored, as Nebraska posted its highest point total in regulation under Coach Doc Sadler. The Huskers' offensive efficiency came as NU tied the school record by turning the ball over only three times (once in the first half, twice after the intermission), while adding 18 assists on 33 baskets. Nebraska hit 28-of-39 from inside the 3-point line and limited the Hawks to 41.3 percent shooting, including just 32.0 percent in the second half. Dagunduro helped Nebraska to a 13-0 run late in the second half that pushed the lead out to 36 points.

GAME 13 VS. FLORIDA A&M (NU 81, FAMU 56)

Junior guard Sek Henry tied his season high with 19 points and the Cornhuskers hit better than 55 percent from the field for the second straight game as NU ran past Florida A&M 81-56. The Huskers topped the 80-point plateau for the third time this season and only the third time in the past three years NU has reached the mark in consecutive games. Henry got Nebraska out early as he hit 8-of-14 from the floor, including 3-of-6 from 3-point range, in just 24 minutes to pace the Huskers. He helped Nebraska hit 10 3-pointers, their second-highest total in non-conference play. Senior Steve Harley had 15 points and senior Paul Velandar came off the bench to hit four 3-pointers for 12 points. Chris Balham added a career-high tying eight rebounds, as Nebraska held a +14 advantage on the glass, its highest total in non-conference play this season. Despite hitting 37.7 percent from the field overall, FAMU kept it from being a bigger deficit by hitting 9-of-13 from 3-point range in the second period. The Rattlers hit 12-of-24 from long range on the game.

GAME 14 VS. MISSOURI (NU 56, MU 51)

Guards Ade Dagunduro and Sek Henry combined for 33 points and eight rebounds and the Huskers held off a furious second-half comeback to earn a 56-51 victory over Missouri at the Devaney Center. The win was Nebraska's fifth in the last six games against the Tigers under coach Doc Sadler while marking the Huskers' first win in a Big 12 opener since 2005-06. Overall, NU improved to 3-10 in league openers since the formation of the Big 12. Dagunduro got the Huskers started strong, pouring in 13 first-half points as Nebraska opened a 32-18 lead the intermission. NU went ahead by as many as 18 early in the second half before the Tigers started to rally. Leo Lyons and DeMarre Carroll, who came into the game combining for more than 31 points per game, were held scoreless in the first half but posted 19 points in the second frame. The inside punch helped the Tigers rally to tie the game at 51 with less than two minutes remaining, but MU never took the lead in the game as Henry's driving basket down the baseline put NU back on top for good. Ryan Anderson set a season high with 10 rebounds, including one with less than 10 seconds remaining and his three free throws in the final seconds iced the victory for Nebraska.

GAME 15 AT IOWA STATE (ISU 65, NU 53)

Nebraska fell behind by 12 points at halftime and despite a strong comeback that included tying the game at 45-45 with under seven minutes to play, the Huskers fell at Iowa State, 65-53, to drop to 1-1 in the Big 12 Conference. Ade Dagunduro led NU with 13 points, but his missed layup with less than six minutes to play was the last chance the Huskers had to take a lead as Iowa State capitalized on the offensive end over the final minutes of the contest. ISU hit four of its last five field-goal attempts and 3-of-4 free throws, all in the final three minutes, to pull away for the double-figure victory. Point guard Cookie Miller had a season-high 11 points and Steve Harley had 10 points despite going 4-of-14 from the floor. Nebraska led 13-12 on Miller's third basket of the opening half but ISU used a 15-1 run to break up the contest. The Cyclones led 32-20 at the break and held NU to 34.5 percent shooting in the game while outrebounding the Huskers 42-28.

GAME 16 VS. KANSAS STATE (NU 73, KSU 51)

Nebraska hit 50.0 percent from the floor behind the solid shooting of Paul Velandar and Cookie Miller, who combined for 35 points in the Huskers' 73-51 victory over Kansas State. The win against the Wildcats served as the largest margin of victory over a Big 12 opponent under coach Doc Sadler, and was the largest vs. a conference team since defeating No. 25 Texas Tech, 72-44, in 2004. Velandar tied his career high with 20 points, connecting on 6-of-10 shots from 3-point range while adding two steals in 25 minutes. Miller posted a season-high for the second straight game, earning 15 points on 4-of-6 shooting, including hitting all three of this 3-point attempts. They combined to help NU hit 10-of-18 from long range and 15-of-18 at the free throw line to offset KSU's 33-22 lead on the boards. KSU was held to 41.5 percent shooting, including 23.1 percent (3-of-13) from 3-point range. The Wildcats were forced into 25 turnovers, as the Huskers had nine steals and 15 assists, although they also turned the ball over 15 times.

GAME 17 AT NO. 6/5 OKLAHOMA (OU 72, NU 61)

Ryan Anderson scored 19 points, including 17 in the first half, to help Nebraska keep pace with the No. 6/5 Sooners, but in the end Oklahoma was too much for the Cornhuskers as it pulled away for a 72-61 victory in Norman. The game was still in doubt heading into the final minutes as the pesky Nebraska defense kept the Huskers within a basket until a decisive 8-0 Sooner run over the final four minutes gave OU its 18th win of the season. Anderson scored a season high with 19 points, after scoring just 11 points in the first three conference games combined. He hit four 3-pointers in the first half and helped Nebraska to a 38-32 lead at the intermission. Nebraska, which led by as many as seven points in the game, withstood an OU rally and had the score tied at 53-53 and had two possessions to try to take the lead. Anderson misfired on a 3-pointer on the first try and Steve Harley missed a pair of free throws before OU's Austin Johnson hit a 3-pointer to put the Sooners ahead for good. Blake Griffin, who did not score his first basket until nearly 12 minutes into the game, had 16 second-half points on his way to a 27-point, 18-rebound game. Despite Griffin's individual domination on the glass, OU outrebounded the Huskers by only three boards, 39-36.

GAME 18 VS. OKLAHOMA STATE (OSU 76, NU 74, OVERTIME)

After trailing early, Nebraska came back to force overtime but was unable to hold on to a lead in the extra period as Oklahoma State snapped the Huskers' five-game home Big 12 Conference win streak dating to last season with a 76-74 overtime victory. The Cowboys became just the second team this season to hit better than 47 percent from the field against Nebraska, which allowed a season high for points for the second straight game. Cookie Miller's free throws with 20 seconds left in regulation tied the game at 66-66 and his defense on Byron Eaton in the final seconds forced a missed shot, leading to overtime. In the extra frame, NU led with just over two minutes to play but could not hold on. Miller led the way with a career-high tying 19 points, including hitting 9-of-10 at the free throw line as NU knocked down 27-of-31 at the stripe overall. Ryan Anderson added 14 points and eight rebounds for his second straight solid game off the bench while five players scored in double figures for the Cowboys, who held a 35-26 advantage on the glass.

GAME 19 VS. KANSAS (KU 68, NU 62)

In another down-to-the-wire finish, the Cornhuskers were within one point in the final two minutes but were unable to get over the hump as Kansas held on for a 68-62 come-from-behind victory at the Devaney Center. Nebraska shot just 30 percent from the field in the second half but Sek Henry's consecutive 3-pointers 25 seconds apart cut the deficit from seven to one, 63-62, with 1:06 to play. After a pair of KU free throws with 29 seconds remaining, the Huskers had the ball with a chance to tie but a turnover – one of only eight Husker miscues in the game – led to the Jayhawks icing the game at the line. Nebraska forced Kansas into a season-high 21 turnovers, but KU's young squad overcame the ballhandling mistakes by hitting 56.4 percent from the field and taking a 38-22 advantage on the glass. Nebraska led by as many as 13 points in the first half and held a slim, 34-29, lead at the intermission. Ade Dagunduro led the Huskers with a career-high 24 points on 10-of-16 shooting, his second 20-point game in six league games.

NEBRASKA GAME-BY-GAME NOTEBOOK (GAMES 20-21)

GAME 20 AT TEXAS TECH (NU 82, TTU 69)

Unlike the last time the Huskers went to Lubbock when they needed to rally from a 13-point halftime deficit to win at the buzzer, the Huskers took control from the opening tip and in the end, pulled away for an 82-69 victory over Texas Tech. Nebraska built a 17-point lead in the first half and 18-point advantage in the second period before holding on after furious Red Raider rallies to end each half. TTU pulled within three in the final four minutes of the first half and, after coach Pat Knight was ejected following two technicals with 9:49 remaining in the game, the Red Raiders pulled within five twice down the stretch at the end of the game. NU squashed the rallies by hitting their free throws (23-of-30) and pressuring TTU in 20 turnovers. The Cornhuskers hit 55.1 percent (27-of-49) from the field with Ade Dagunduro leading the way with 20 points, six boards, three assists and three steals. Cookie Miller tied his career high with 19 points while adding five assists and five steals, and Brandon Richardson came off the bench to post a career-best 11 points on 3-of-4 shooting from long range.

GAME 21 AT COLORADO (NU 55, CU 53)

Nebraska built a seven-point lead in the last minute but had to hold on as Colorado made a furious push at a comeback that included cutting the lead to one with 18 seconds remaining. After NU missed the second of two free throws, CU's Cory Higgins took the ball up the court, driving right through the middle of the lane and making his way to the basket, but his floater hit off the back of the rim and Sek Henry rebounded. Henry missed both free throws with 2.6 seconds left but Colorado's desperation 60-foot heave fell short as the Huskers held on for a 55-53 win. Nebraska led by as many as nine points in the second half and had a seven-point lead twice in the first half before leading by two, 27-25, at the break. Ryan Anderson and Steve Harley had 12 points apiece for the Huskers, who hit 47.5 percent from the field but just 54.2 percent from the free throw line. NU also outrebounded the Buffs, 30-22, the first time in Big 12 play that Nebraska held an advantage on the glass.
