THIS IS NEBRASKA BASKETBALL

Nebraska basketball is about family and winning. In his tenure on the NU sideline, Coach Doc Sadler has provided both, bringing the Cornhusker family back together and winning 70 times, which is among the best four-year starts for any Husker basketball coach. From former players and coaches to fans across the country and even other Nebraska coaching staffs, Sadler has engaged them all and enlisted their support as he builds the Huskers into an annual contender on the conference and national levels.

Excitement around the Nebraska basketball program is still building. Sadler's energetic and engaging personality has carried over to his hard-working and increasingly talented squad, which has earned a reputation as one of the toughest defensive units in the country. With the fans back on board and a competitive team on the court, the Huskers know only one way to go under Sadler's direction – up.

Tormer Husker and NBA veteran Stu Lantz returned as a special guest for the annual Doc Sadler Golf Classic, one of the many ways Sadler has reached out to former Nebraska players and coaches to bring them back into the NU family.

2 Former Huskers like Jerry Fort, the school's third-leading all-time scorer, have made Sadler's summer golf outing an annual event after being away from the program for years.

3 Numerous other former Huskers have returned to the program recently, including NBA veteran Erick Strickland and former Husker coach Danny Nee, both 2009 Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame inductees.

4 During his time in Lincoln, Sadler has embraced all the sporting teams and coaches at Nebraska. He and wrestling coach Mark Manning and football coach Bo Pelini frequently talk and attend each others' practices and games/meets. 5 Off the court, Sadler pushes his athletes to succeed in the classroom. In Sadler's first four years at NU, 11 Huskers have received academic honors and 10 have earned their degrees. Two more Huskers are scheduled to receive diplomas within the next year.

• Over the past four years, Sadler has pushed the Huskers to rarely seen heights. NU has improved its league record in three of the last four seasons, made two postseason appearances, averaged 17 wins per year and defeated five ranked teams.

"Watching Doc Sadler's team practice and play is a joy because I honestly don't think there are five teams in all of college basketball that play harder or get more out of their ability than Sadler's club. Every single drill was carried out at full speed because the players' energy level was equaled by their head coach and then some. And every piece of instruction to the players was met with total attention."

> - FRAN FRASCHILLA, ESPN Color Analyst

"He's making Nebraska Basketball a family. We all feel welcome to go back there anytime. His door is always open to former players and we can come back and go to games. He just wants us to come back and be a part of the program again. That makes us want to get out there and recruit for him and help him however we can."

> - JAKE MUHLEISEN, former Husker team captain

"While we fixate on title contending teams and are valuing wins and losses, elevating and writing off teams, and deifying and dismissing players (all of which is fair game and fine), we can sometimes overlook just how important these games are to the players and coaches. Case in point is Nebraska's Doc Sadler. After a hard-fought win over Texas, Sadler broke down in tears talking about how much the win meant to his team.

The Cornhuskers are a hard-working bunch, laying the foundation for a program to compete with Big 12 powers. They go to work every day, and plow and sweat to get better and compete with the best teams. And nobody works any harder to win. Nebraska lays it on the line every game, and they are striving to make every game, and every possession, important.

And Nebraska is not alone. We can argue about which teams are "NCAA tournament worthy", but we also have to respect the effort put in to win, and how much it hurts to lose. These players and coaches are laying their hearts on the line every time they step onto the court."_____

- JAY BILAS

ESPN College Basketball Analyst following Nebraska's 58-55 win over No. 16 Texas

"I've seen Doc's teams play for many years. This guy can recruit, he can coach, he stresses academics and he has a great way with people. People gravitate toward him."

- GAR FORMAN,

Chicago Bulls, General Manager

"I've had a lot of coaches over my NBA career, some well-respected in the NBA. After watching Doc go through a couple practices over the last few years, I saw that this guy can coach. He can coach and he's very, very good at coaching defense. Defense is what wins basketball games That shows a lot about Doc Sadler and his ability to coach and get through to players."

- ERIC PIATKOWSKI,

13-year NBA veteran and Nebraska Basketball Hall of Famer

"I think the future is bright with the addition of a couple of players and the return to health of Toney McCray and Christopher Niemann. Doc is a very positive person and a person who has done a great job of coaching. His teams play hard and give good effort, and I have great confidence in him."

- TOM OSBORNE

Nebraska Athletic Director

"I think those two things together - a state-of-the-art practice facility and a state-of-the-art arena will change everything for Nebraska basketball. Of course, we all know that you can have the nicest facility in the world and not have a quality team. That's where Doc comes in. He's one of the best coaches I've seen in a long time."

DAVE HOPPEN
 Six-year NBA veteran and Nebraska Basketball Hall of Famer

MAGICAL EXPERIENCE

Husker fans have created an intimidating environment for visiting teams since the Bob Devaney Sports Center opened 34 years ago. The Huskers own an all-time record of 410-131 (.758) in the building, including a 256-33 (.886) mark vs. non-conference opponents.

Nebraska, which owns a 37-1 home record against non-conference teams under Coach Doc Sadler, has seen its significant home-court advantage increase over the past few years behind the support of the "Red Zone" student section.

The past three years, the Huskers have averaged more than 10,000 fans per game in Big 12 play, the most since the late 1990s. Last year, Nebraska averaged 10,877 for its eight Big 12 home games, its best average in league play since 1997-98.

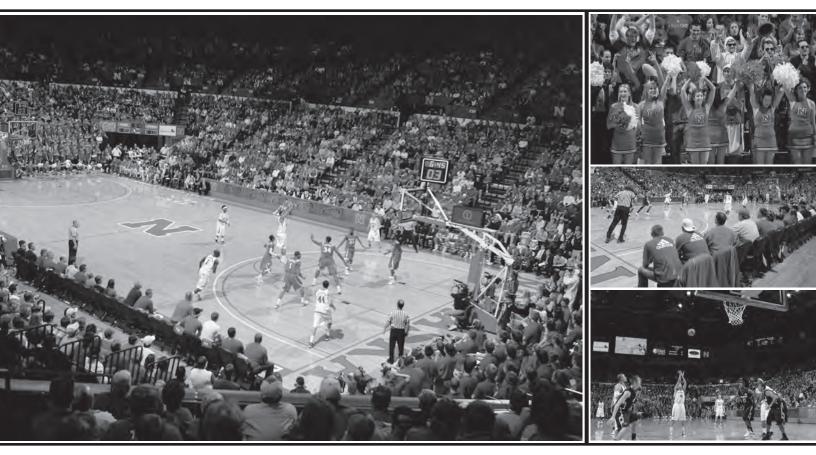

"I think it's one of the toughest places to play in this league. The people of Nebraska understand sports, they understand momentum and they know what a big part they can play in tough situations. They are always there when those times get tough."

> COACH DOC SADLER, on playing at the Devaney Center

BOB DEVANEY SPORTS CENTER

Named after the Cornhuskers' long-time football coach and athletic director, the 13,595-seat Bob Devaney Sports Center is home to Nebraska basketball. With recent renovations to the locker room, coaching offices and support staff areas, the Devaney Center now has everything the Huskers need under one roof. In 2011, the Huskers will add to the impressive facilities with the opening of the Hendricks Training Complex that will be attached to the Devaney Center. In 2013, the Huskers will move into the Haymarket Arena in downtown Lincoln, as the 16,000-seat facility will be provide one of the nation's top collegiate atmospheres when it opens.

The locker room (top) and players lounge area (above) were refurbished over the past two years. Each player has a custom-made wood locker with security system and a rolling chair to relax in before getting ready for practices or games. There are two televisions in the lounge area and a video gaming system, allowing players to enjoy some down time between practices and class.

The team video area (above right) was also updated and a pair of computers were installed so that players could have Internet access and word processing ability to work on projects without having to leave the arena.

Before the 1999-2000 season, the Devaney Center underwent $7.9 million in renovations, including several major renovations on the concourse level and the addition of HuskerVision screens and stat boards. The arena court was refinished and redesigned in 2004.

The Husker coaches' offices received an upgrade during the 2006-07 season, giving the front desk/ waiting area (bottom middle) a complete overhaul while also adding valuable space to the video editing/ archive room (below). Each assistant coach's office was also updated while Coach Sadler's office was remodeled to allow easier access for the players.

HUSKER POWER

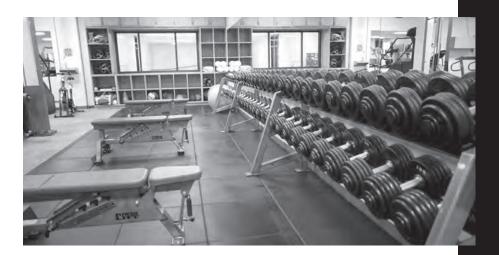

The model strength and conditioning program in the nation, Husker Power plays a major role in the continuing success of Nebraska athletics. Nebraska's strength program was the first in the nation, and with 12 current staff members is now one of the most comprehensive strength and conditioning organizations in the country.

The Devaney Center also houses a separate weight room utilized by the men's basketball team on a daily basis. Along with the athletic training room and locker room, it is just steps away from the arena floor.

THREE REASONS FOR SUCCESS

PROGRAM - The Husker Power Strength and Conditioning Program is geared for maximum improvement of performance on the basketball court. Each athlete receives his own individual computerized program each year.

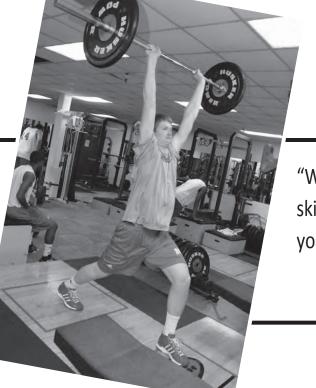

SUPERVISION - The Husker Power staff has eight full-time strength and conditioning specialists and four interns. Basketball strength coach Rusty Ruffcorn is devoted to working directly with the basketball program to help Husker athletes prepare for a successful career on the court.

FACILITIES - The Charles and Romona Myers Performance Center in the Osborne Athletic Complex is the finest all-around athletic facility in the nation, providing athletes with all the tools necessary to achieve at the highest level. Nebraska basketball players also have a weight room at the Devaney Center to utilize on a daily basis. In 2011, the Hendricks Training Complex will triple the size of the current Devaney Center weight room.

Rusty Ruffcorn Basketball Strength Coach

"When you start talking about the training table, life skills, travel, equipment, all of that, we have everything you need to be successful."

> - DOC SADLER, in September 2009 interview with ESPN.com Writer Dana O'Neill

ATHLETIC MEDICINE

Providing expert care to nearly 600 Husker student-athletes, Nebraska features one of the most well-trained and highly skilled athletic medicine staffs in the country.

Under the guidance of Director of Athletic Medicine Dr. Lonnie Albers, Head Athletic Trainer, Physical Therapist Jerry Weber and Men's Basketball Athletic Trainer R.J. Pietig, the 2010-11 Nebraska athletic medicine staff consists of five doctors, two therapist/athletic trainers, six athletic trainers and five graduate assistant athletic trainers.

Nebraska's team of orthopaedists is led by Chief of Staff Dr. Pat Clare, a nationally respected orthopaedic surgeon with more than 30 years of service to Husker athletics.

R.J. Pietig Assistant Athletic Trainer/ Men's Basketball

1-3 Husker student-athletes have the benefit of using state-of-the-art equipment for rehabilitation and injury prevention at both the Bob Devaney Sports Center and the Osborne Complex.

4-5 Nebraska basketball players are cared for on a daily basis by Assistant Athletic Trainer R.J. Pietig, who works to keep athletes physically prepared for practice and games, and provides expert care in rehabilitation services.

6 Assistant Athletic Trainer R.J. Pietig provides individual care for basketball players, helping them safely reach peak performance.

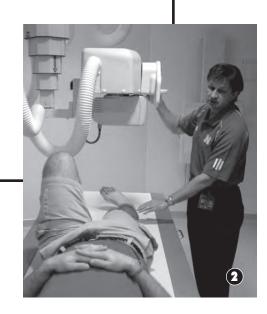

7 In addition to the training room at the Devaney Center, student-athletes have access to the finest equipment and rehab area in the country at the Osborne Complex on campus.

8 A leader in preventive care, Nebraska installed a new cold plunge tank in the Devaney Center training room in 2009.

SPORTS NUTRITION

Making solid nutritional choices helps an athlete become stronger and improves game-day performance. NU Sports Nutritionists Josh Hingst and Lindsey Remmers work with all 23 of Nebraska's sports by educating athletes on topics such as gaining weight, losing body fat, staying hydrated, increasing energy and supplement use.

The Lewis Training Table was remodeled in 2010 and is a great location for athletes to utilize the training they receive from the sports nutrition staff.

2 At the Landing, athletes can grab a drink or light snack to help recharge between classes and workouts. The Hendricks Training Complex will also have a nutritional landing in the fall of 2011.

3 The sports nutrition staff keeps the area at the Landing stocked with quality nutritional products for athletes.

4 Student-athletes are given expert direction in how to make smart dietary choices to stay in peak shape during the season.

MEDIA EXPOSURE

Media attention is at an all-time high in college basketball and the Huskers have been the beneficiary of a great wave of positive media since Coach Doc Sadler joined the program. The media-savvy Sadler has also endeared himself to the Nebraska public, as he is one of the most engaging speakers in the state.

Nebraska basketball will continue to be in the national spotlight this season as more than 20 games will be televised live. Every game will be broadcast on a 32-station radio network and carried for free on Huskers.com, with select broadcasts on Sirius XM Satellite Radio.

2008-09 NEBRASKA HOOPS PREVIEW

"Doc Sadler has ensured the Huskers are a competitive group. The challenge now is to make them into a conference title contender. Sadler's tenacity in recruiting and in the gym should help push Nebraska in that direction."

HUSKER EQUIPMENT

Nebraska student-athletes are fitted with the finest adidas equipment and clothing as part of the apparel manufacturer's lucrative sponsorship deal with the Nebraska Athletic Department. From head to toe, Husker athletes receive the newest gear to not only look sharp, but to also have the latest technology at their disposal.

Devaney Center Equipment Manager Pat Norris works closely with an on-campus adidas representative to make sure Husker basketball players have everything they need to represent the University in a proper manner. From warmups to workout gear and shoes to winter coats, Norris orders the best fitting, most appropriate gear for the Huskers every season, so they can look their best on and off the court.

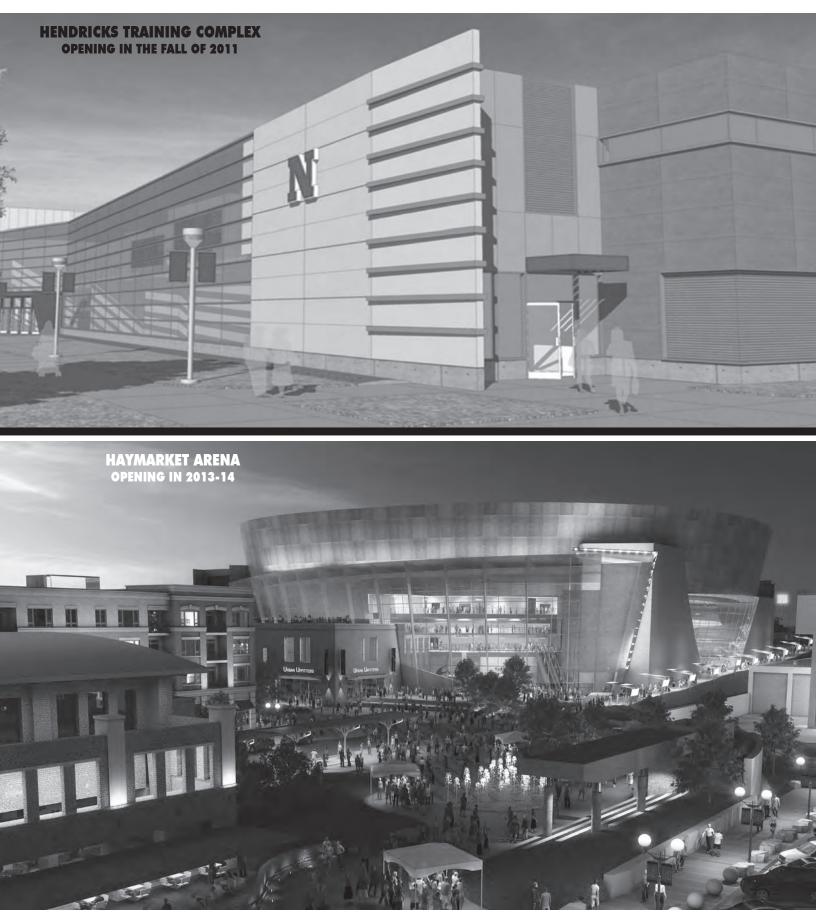

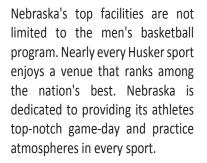

NEBRASKA ATHLETIC FACILITIES

In 2011, the Nebraska men's basketball program will move into a new practice facility that will not only include a new court, but also new locker room, team room and offices, while tripling the size of the athletic medicine and strength training areas. In 2013, the 16,000 Haymarket Arena in downtown Lincoln will be completed, giving the basketball programs one of the best facilities in the country.

The Osborne Athletic Complex provides Nebraska student-athletes with the nation's best training facilities.

Nebraska's teams compete in some of the nation's finest facilities in front of large crowds, including the (2) NU Coliseum, home of the three-time national champion volleyball team; (3) Bob Devaney Sports Center, home of NU men's and women's basketball; and (4) Hawks Field, home of the perennial power Husker baseball team.

5 Memorial Stadium has been packed for more than 300 consecutive home games - a continuing NCAA record. Approximately 85,000 fill Memorial Stadium each game, with an electric game-day atmosphere that includes giant HuskerVision replay boards and ribbon boards spanning the east and west balconies.

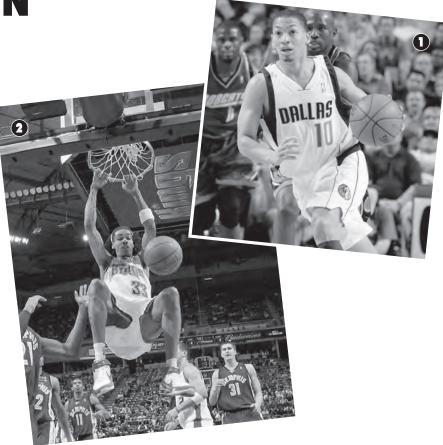

NBA CONNECTION

Nebraska players have enjoyed significant professional success following their careers as Huskers. Nebraska has had 26 players drafted by teams in the National Basketball Association, including three first-round picks during the 1990s.

Mikki Moore has made a name for himself, spending the last 12 years in the NBA after being an undrafted free agent out of Nebraska. Moore, who led the NBA in shooting percentage in 2006-07, has played in 557 career games and helped his teams to playoff appearances in two of the past four seasons.

With former NBA veterans Eric Piatkowski, Tyronn Lue and Erick Strickland playing in the league as recently as 2008, Nebraska has had one of the highest totals of active NBA players among Big 12 schools this decade.

HUSKER COACHES AND THE NBA

During his career, Coach Doc Sadler has recruited or coached 19 players who have gone on to play in the NBA. Sadler personally recruited eight of those players. The Nebraska staff has combined to coach 21 players who went on to play in the league.

THE SADLER NBA CONNECTION

Players Recruited By Sadler

Michael Batiste Tony Battie Cory Carr Mark Davis Darvin Ham Eddie House Maurice Jeffers Jason Sasser

Greg Anderson Mario Bennett Randy Brown Isaac Burton Byron Irvin Joe Kleine Andrew Lang Ron Riley

Players Coached By Sadler

Ron Riley Alvin Robertson Darrell Walker Rickie Winslow Tyronn Lue played for seven teams during his 11-year NBA career. During that time, he won two World Championship rings with Kobe Bryant, Shaquille O'Neill and the L.A. Lakers and played beside one of the greatest players in NBA history, Michael Jordan, with the Washington Wizards. Lue is the only league player from the Big 12 era to win multiple NBA titles. In 2008-09, Lue was traded to Orlando before the Magic's run to the NBA championship series. He is currently on the Boston Celtics coaching staff.

2 During his 12 years in the league, Mikki Moore has played with nine teams, including the Golden State Warriors in 2009-10. Moore was the first non-drafted player to lead the league in field-goal percentage, as he hit 60.9 percent from the floor for New Jersey in 2006-07.

3 Eric Piatkowski played 13 seasons in the NBA and set the L.A. Clippers' club record for 3-pointers made. After retiring following the 2007-08 campaign, he now works as a color analyst for Nebraska television games on Fox Sports Midwest.

4 Erick Strickland played nine years in the NBA after entering the league as an undrafted free agent.

5 Rich King was a 1991 first-round draft pick after helping NU to a school-record 26 wins as a senior.

6 Nebraska's all-time leading scorer, Dave Hoppen was the second pick of the 1988 expansion draft by the Charlotte Hornets.

7 Husker great Stu Lantz played eight years in the NBA, twice averaging more than 18 points per game for a season.

8 Fans at the Devaney Center can check out an exhibit with the memorabilia for all former Huskers who played in the NBA.

Through the years, Nebraska has had 26 players drafted by teams in the National Basketball Association.

In the 1990s, Nebraska had three first-round selections in the NBA Draft. Rich King was the 14th selection in 1991, Eric Piatkowski was picked 15th overall in 1994 and Tyronn Lue, who entered the draft following his junior season, was selected 23rd overall in 1998.

HUSKER CENTURY

Three numbers for Nebraska men's basketball and one on the women's side have been retired. Eric Piaktowski was the most recent honoree to have his number retired in 2006.

Entering the 115th year of Husker basketball, the Nebraska program has collected more than 1,300 wins and 22 all-time postseason appearances.

The Huskers are looking to build on two of the strongest decades in school history. Nebraska has averaged more than 18 wins per season over the past quarter century, while making 14 postseason tournaments during that span. Fourteen of the school's 25 1,000-point scorers have also played for the Huskers in the last 26 years.

HUSKER PROGRAM QUICK FACTS

• The Cornhuskers own 1,368 all-time victories, including 12 20-win seasons. Nebraska's last 20-win season came in 2007-08, as Coach Doc Sadler led NU to a 20-13 record and the second round of the National Invitation Tournament.

 Nebraska has made 22 appearances in the postseason, including six NCAA berths and 16 trips to the NIT. All but two of the postseason appearances have come since 1980. • Overall, 25 Huskers have topped the 1,000-point mark in program history, most recently by Ryan Anderson in 2010. Herschell Turner was the first to accomplish the feat in 1960.

 Dave Hoppen owns the school record with 2,167 points between 1983 and 1986. He is the only 2,000-point scorer in school history.

Danny Nee, Nebraska's all-time winningest coach

Nebraska posted a 59-26 (.694) record in its first decade of basketball, including three perfect seasons. In those 10 years, the Huskers were coached by Frank Lehmer, T.P. Hewitt, E. Berry, Fred Morrell, Walter Hiltner and R.G. Clapp.

1907-16

The last five teams of the Huskers' second decade all posted winning records. The 1911-12 team won the school's first Missouri Valley Conference title and then repeated as champs in 1912-13 and 1913-14.

1917-1926

Nebraska fashioned its first-ever 20-win season in 1919-20, finishing 22-2 and setting a school record for wins that stood until 1990-91. During the decade, Nebraska was 111-71 (.610) and had six winning campaigns.

1927-1936

NU opened the decade in the Nebraska Coliseum, but finished under .500 at home in 1925-26. In 1928-29, Nebraska joined Missouri, Kansas, Kansas State, Iowa State and Oklahoma to form the Big Six Conference.

1937-1946

Nebraska's record of 65-120 (.351) in the decade was its worst ever. Twice, in 1943-44 and 1944-45, the Huskers mustered only two wins. Sid Held and Don Fitz earned first-team All-Big Six honors in 1940-41.

1947-1956

The Huskers were 102-141 (.420) in the decade. However, the 1948-49 team tied for first in the Big Seven Conference and beat Oklahoma to advance to the NCAA District Tournament. Claude Retherford was a first-team All-Big Seven pick that season and led the team in scoring. In 1949-50, Bus Whitehead earned first-team all-conference honors as Nebraska tied Kansas and Kansas State for the Big Seven championship.

1957-66

The Huskers' 20-5 record in 1965-66 was their first 20-win season since 1919-20. Stuart Lantz, who finished second to KU's Jo Jo White in the Sophomore-of-the-Year balloting, would go on to become a third-round NBA draft pick. For the decade, NU was 102-142 (.418).

1967-1976

Nebraska finished above .500 for the decade with a 147-111 (.570) record. Marvin Stewart was first player to average 20 points in a season in 1970-71. The Huskers opened Bob Devaney Sports Center in 1976-77 season. Jerry Fort earned three straight first-team all-conference awards from 1974 to 1976.

1977-1986

The Cornhuskers posted a 175-119 (.595) record in the decade, including a 15-14 ledger in 1976-77, the first season at the Bob Devaney Sports Center. In 1977-78, the Huskers earned their second postseason tournament bid and first since 1966-67, advancing to the second round of the NIT. NU posted 20 wins twice during the decade (1977-78, 1982-83).

1987-1996

The Huskers enjoyed their most successful decade, winning 20-or-more games five times. Nebraska advanced to the NCAA Tournament four times, won its first-ever Phillips 66 Big Eight Tournament trophy in 1994 and captured the NIT Championship in 1996. For the decade NU was 185-131 (.585).

1997-2006

Nebraska continued its success while starting its second century of play. The Huskers added a pair of 20-win seasons as NU was also one of just 15 schools to appear in nine consecutive postseason tournaments from 1991 to 1999.

2007-PRESENT

Nebraska posted back-to-back winning seasons to open the frame, including adding the program's 12th 20-win campaign. A postseason appearance in 2009 was Nebraska's fourth in six years. Aleks Maric was an all-conference selection as a senior and the first Husker ever with 1,600 points and 1,000 rebounds.

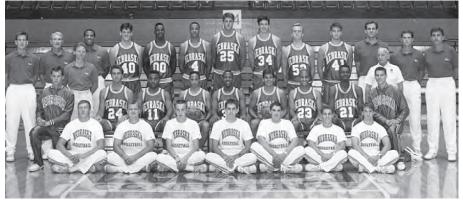

Fifth-year coach Doc Sadler has helped Nebraska reach the postseason NIT in both 2008 and 2009, the first time NU made consecutive postseason appearances since nine straight in the 1990s.

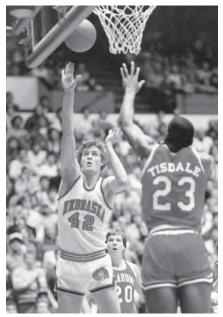

"I'm really psyched about the direction the program is going. I follow the Huskers as much as I can, but being in Connecticut, everyone is crazy about UConn. I saw that program turn around back when (UConn coach) Jim Calhoun took over in 1986. They had a rough first couple of years, but they got better and better, making it to the NIT, then the NCAA Tournament and before we knew it, they were winning national championships. It takes effort from coaches, players, alumni and fans. There's a certain kind of formula that worked there, and it's what I'm starting to see here with Doc."

> - JERRY FORT, No. 3 on Nebraska's all-time scoring chart

Nebraska's winningest team in program history, the 1990-91 Cornhusker squad won 26 games and had a pair of eventual first-round NBA selections.

Dave Hoppen is Nebraska's all-time leading scorer and helped the Huskers to four straight postseason appearances.

Nebraska won the 1994 Big Eight Tournament title on its way to a fourth consecutive NCAA Tournament bid.

ACADEMIC SUCCESS

The success of Nebraska student-athletes reaches far beyond athletic competition. More Husker studentathletes have been selected to CoSIDA Academic All-America teams than any other school in the nation, as Nebraska continues to set the standard for the approximately 1,400 NCAA member institutions. In addition to individual academic recognition, NU has led the Big 12 in graduation rates in 10 of the conference's first 14 years.

ACADEMIC TRADITION THRIVES IN 2009-10

Husker student-athletes produced another stellar year at the University of Nebraska, continuing NU's tradition of academic success. Nebraska increased its nation-leading total of CoSIDA Academic All-Americans across all sports to 277 with a Big 12-leading eight honorees in 2009-10, while also setting conference records with 178 academic All-Big 12 selections and 687 selections to the Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll during the year.

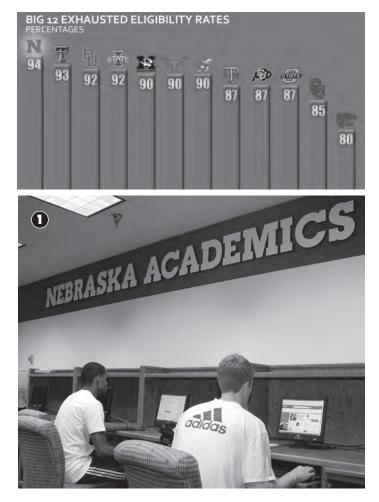

Nebraska Female Student-Athlete of the Year Kelsey Griffin, the first Husker in history to win the Lowe's Senior CLASS Award in any sport, capped a stellar career by earning a $7,500 Dr. Prentice Gautt Big 12 Postgraduate Scholarship. A unanimous first-team All-American and the 2010 Big 12 Player of the Year, Griffin powered the Nebraska women's basketball team to the Big 12 regular-season title, which included the only unbeaten regular season in conference history at 29-0. Craig Brester claimed NU's Male Student-Athlete-of-the-Year honor, while joining Griffin as a recipient of a Big 12 Postgraduate Scholarship. Brester, a three-time wrestling All-American, closed his career with a 109-21 record , including two NCAA runner-up finishes.

Husker volleyball star Kori Cooper, a two-time honorable-mention All-American on the court, became NU's 60th two-time academic All-American by earning first-team honors in 2009. Joining Cooper as a first-team CoSIDA Academic All-American in 2009-10 was Nebraska baseball centerfielder D.J. Belfonte and Nicholas Gordon, the 2009 NCAA indoor long jump champion and three-time All-American.

Across all sports, Nebraska student-athletes claimed a Big 12-leading 178 academic All-Big 12 selections, including an astounding 152 first-team academic All-Big 12 honorees. The Huskers had 24 more first-team selections than any other Big 12 school had selected to both the first and second teams. Over the past two years, Nebraska has claimed 350 academic All-Big 12 certificates across all sports, while no other Big 12 school has accumulated 250 honors. NU student-athletes also earned a record-setting 687 spots on the Big 12 Commissioner's Fall and Spring Academic Honor Rolls.

The hard work, dedication and commitment of Nebraska's student-athletes in the classroom resulted in 121 current or former student-athletes earning degrees from August of 2009 through May of 2010. The Huskers continued to set the graduation standard among Big 12 Conference schools by increasing their Exhausted Eligibility Graduation Rate to 94 percent.

Each spring Nebraska hosts an Academic Awards Banquet to honor student-athletes who have earned either a 3.0 or higher cumulative GPA or have earned a 3.0 or higher GPA in the previous calendar year. Last spring, 278 student-athletes were honored.

Andrea Einspahr

All Husker student-athletes receive tremendous academic support. The Husker basketball program is third in the league in academic All-Big 12 honors since the formation of the conference and has earned more than 25 spots on the Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll since the 2006-07 season when Doc Sadler took over.

2 Nebraska student-athletes are honored at a yearly banquet. In 2010, Craig Brester and Kelsey Griffin were named the Nebraska Student-Athletes of the Year.

3 Huskers graduate at a record pace at Nebraska, as the athletic department has led the Big 12 in exhausted eligibility graduation rates at 94 percent. Ryan Anderson received his degree in August of 2010.

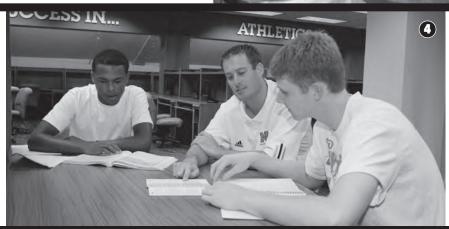

5 Nebraska basketball players utilize a daily study hall to benefit their academic performance.

• Along with academic honors, Nebraska studentathletes such as Ben Nelson, also commonly receive honors for their Life Skills participation.

7 Former Husker Ade Dagunduro graduated in 2009, as Nebraska leads the Big 12 with an 83 percent graduation success rate.

ACADEMIC EXPERIENCE

NEBRASKA'S ATHLETIC/ACADEMIC COUNSELING - A NATIONAL LEADER

From the day student-athletes decide the University of Nebraska is the right place to be, the athletic academic counseling unit provides personal and academic support to ensure that student-athletes will get the most out of their years as Huskers.

Featuring one of the most innovative and comprehensive academic support systems in the country, Nebraska is dedicated to helping its student-athletes become outstanding leaders in their chosen fields. The academic support team is comprised of 13 full-time staff members and a tutorial staff of approximately 70 tutors addressing all subject areas.

ACADEMIC COUNSELING

Eight academic counselors and three assistant academic counselors are in place to monitor daily academic progress, receive consistent course feedback, assist with the advising/registration process and monitor continuing eligibility and progress toward graduation. Essentially, academic counselors assist student-athletes in navigating the University of Nebraska system.

Tutorial Support

A tremendous resource for all academic abilities, unlimited tutorial support is available from day one up to college graduation. Subject and mentor tutors help provide academic support and study strategies to be successful. Supplemental Instruction, a sub-component of the tutorial program, provides targeted group review sessions to help ease the transition to college academics while improving study strategies and building academic self-esteem.

Study Hall

There are two facets to the study hall program at Nebraska. Student-athletes either attend a structured study hall, typically two hours in length held four days a week, or have flex time where they study a specific number of hours each week as determined by their academic counselor and/or coach. Weekly study hall reports are provided to the coaching staff.

Mentoring

Many student-athletes meet with a mentor on a weekly basis to assist in making a smooth transition from high school to college. Mentors collect syllabi, gather and report academic progress information and teach academic success strategies.

Educational Assessments

Assessments are administered upon the request of the student-athlete, academic counselor, or coach to determine student strengths and areas for improvement. Results allow academic counselors to develop a personalized academic support program and to determine if more in-depth testing is warranted. When additional assessments are necessary, referrals are made to a consulting psychologist who conducts the assessments. If it is determined that a student-athlete has a learning disability, appropriate accommodations are made through the Office of Services for Students with Disabilities.

Multi-Cultural Programs

Designed to enhance cultural awareness, staff members concentrate efforts on issues of transition, adjustment and retention for students of color, international students and women. These support programs include Ladies First, International Night and Your Degree First. Your Degree First is a program designed to assist, motivate and promote minority student-athletes in pursuing the degree of their choice.

Student-Athlete Orientation

The academic staff coordinates New Student-Athlete Orientation to help newcomers adjust to the multiple demands of being a college student-athlete. Presentations are made by academic counselors, compliance officials, NU faculty and administrators, business/community professionals and student-athletes.

Personal Counseling

Student-athletes will find a supportive and caring environment at Nebraska. Transitional issues, stress management, time management, academic focus and problem resolution are all addressed in a proactive manner throughout the year. If necessary, counseling referrals are also made to designated practitioners.

Computer Resources

Student-athletes enjoy a new state-of-the art computer lab and technology center with nearly 60 computers and professional supervision. Laptops are also available during team travel. Student-athletes have the benefit of ongoing education and assistance from a full-time computer technician.

LIFE SKILLS

To provide proactive education, resources and support throughout college and beyond, best preparing Husker studentathletes for life after sports. Services will foster transition, retention, responsible decision-making, leadership, volunteerism and career development.

Nebraska has long been considered a pioneer in life skills support and programming. In 1998, Nebraska was one of five Division I schools nationally to win the prestigious Program of Excellence Award recognizing a strong commitment to total person development. In 2005, Keith Zimmer, Associate A.D. for Life Skills, was the recipient of the Dr. Gene Hooks Award recognizing him as the top life skills administrator in the country.

LIFE SKILLS COMPONENTS Proactive Education

Husker Life Seminar - All incoming student-athletes complete a 16-week fall semester seminar addressing a variety of life skills topics ranging from leadership to money to relationships and study skills. Team Workshops - Campus and community experts facilitate team-specific life skills education workshops. Student-Athlete Assemblies - Meetings featuring remarks from Athletic Director Tom Osborne and nationally recognized life skills trainers.

Personalized Support/Individual Sessions

Resume Development - Each student-athlete works individually with a life skills staff member to create a personalized resume with periodic follow-up meetings to make updates through graduation. Game Plan Creation - Life skills counselors will create a "Game Plan for Life" outlining specific goals and objectives to be completed to enhance marketability prior to college graduation. Sports Psychology/Performance Enhancement – Sports psychology resources are available to assist with performance enhancement.

Community Outreach

Nebraska student-athletes combine to impact over 100,000 people statewide on an annual basis. Team Service Requirement - Each team participates in a minimum of two service projects per year. School Outreach - Individuals participate in numerous school outreach campaigns in both classroom and assembly settings. Hospital Visits - Huskers are frequent hospital visitors providing cheer and encouragement to a variety of patients. Mondays Matter - Monday evening outreach to various local community agencies placing athletics in the proper perspective. Miscellaneous Outreach – Outreach requests are received daily from the entire state requesting involvement from Husker student-athletes. Mentoring Programs - Typically requires one hour of service per week serving as a youth mentor.

Leadership/Citizenship

Life Skills promotes leadership development and provides recognition opportunities for extraordinary citizenship. Student Athlete Advisory Committee - Elected team representatives from each of the 23 sports serve as the "voice" of the entire student-athlete population discussing student-athlete welfare, legislation and service events. Your Degree First - Leadership group providing programming and specialized support to student-athletes of color, women and international studentathletes. HERO Leadership Award – Individual recognition to Huskers who have consistently gone above and beyond serving as exemplary role models. Brook Berringer Citizenship Team – Annual "Good Works" team honoring football players for dedicated service in memory of late Husker Brook Berringer. Life Skills Award of Excellence - Presented to the single men's and women's team who scores the highest point total in the year long life skills team competition.

Career Commitment

In addition to the creation of a personalized resume and game plan, the following career resources are available to every Husker. Student-Athlete Career Fair - Attended by approximately 25 companies. Networking/Nexpo Night - Former Huskers and every UNL college educate studentathletes about major and career options. Assessments - On-line assessments to help individuals discover talents and match with a major and career. Practical Experience - Programs in place to facilitate shadowing and internship placements. Job Preparation - Expert advice on cover letter writing, interviewing skills and evaluating the job offer.

Postgraduate Assistance

Commitment to helping student-athletes pursue postgraduate plans and scholarships. Career Nights - Learn from the experts to gain valuable insight on timelines, application procedures, entrance requirements, personal essays and more. Scholarships - Seniors in their final season of athletic eligibility can apply for numerous postgraduate awards.

- Every athlete who letters in a varsity sport and graduates from Nebraska is recognized in the Hall of Distinction.
- 2 Lance Jeter works with Senior Associate A.D. Dennis Leblanc, as Leblanc and his staff keep track of the Huskers' classroom performance.
- 3 Jorge Brian Diaz and the Huskers participate in the JDRF Walk for a Cure in September.

4 Husker athletes routinely participate in Life Skills events outside the classroom and campus, giving the athletes a chance to view the world from a different perspective.

5 Nebraska student-athletes, such as Ray Gallegos, continually prepare for life after basketball at functions like the business and career fairs presented by the Life Skills Department.

LEADING THE WAY

As one of the nation's premier public institutions, the University of Nebraska is committed to undergraduate learning and world-class research. In early 2001, Nebraska was named to a national list of 16 schools that serve as a role model for other institutions by the Association of American Colleges and Universities. Quality instruction is emphasized in Nebraska's 147 undergraduate majors, which are spread through nine undergraduate colleges.

The University of Nebraska was chartered by the Nebraska Legislature in 1869 as the state's public university and land-grant institution. Founded in Lincoln, the University of Nebraska was expanded in 1968 into a state educational system now comprising four campuses under the guidance of a Board of Regents and a central administration.

"The Big Ten is a historically prestigious and stable academic community of scholars and students. The Big Ten, known for its athletic prowess, is highly regarded for its academic and research enterprises. There is nothing but upside for UNL to join the Big Ten."

HARVEY PERLMAN

University of Nebraska Chancellor at the June 11, 2010, press conference announcing UNL's move to the Big Ten Conference

The Bell Tower on campus is a focal point for students and alumni, often serving as a central meeting location on game days.

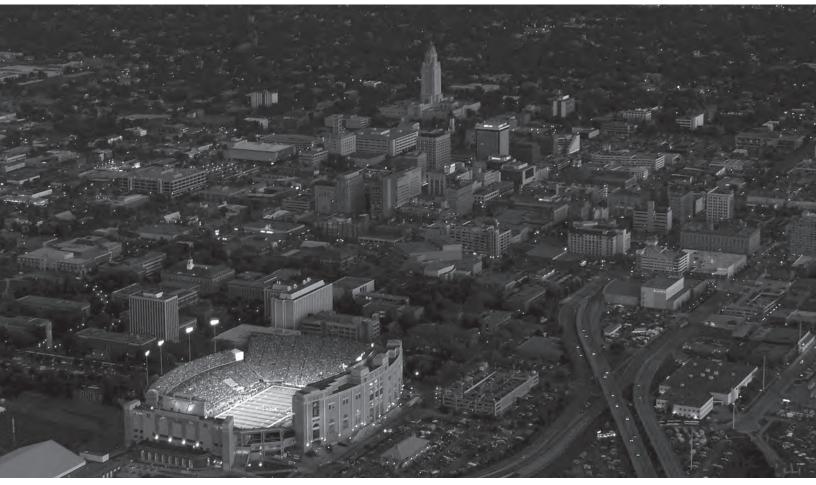

2 The Nebraska Student Union is the meeting place on campus where students can spend a little down time between classes. It has areas to use for studying as well as a food court.

3 Named for UNL alumni Irene and Winslow Van Brunt, the Van Brunt Visitors Center is located at the gateway to the city campus. The UNL Van Brunt Visitors Center offers resources and information for visitors to the UNL campus, and is utilized extensively for recruiting new students by the UNL Office of Admissions, which has offices and staff located in the building.

4 The Esther L. Kaufmann Center was completed in May 2001 and houses the Jeffery S. Raikes School of Computer Science and Management.

5 The Don L. Love Memorial Library is the main library in the University of Nebraska-Lincoln library system. Located on the southern edge of City Campus, it is bounded by two lovely botanical areas, Love Garden and Cather Garden.

NATIONAL POWERS

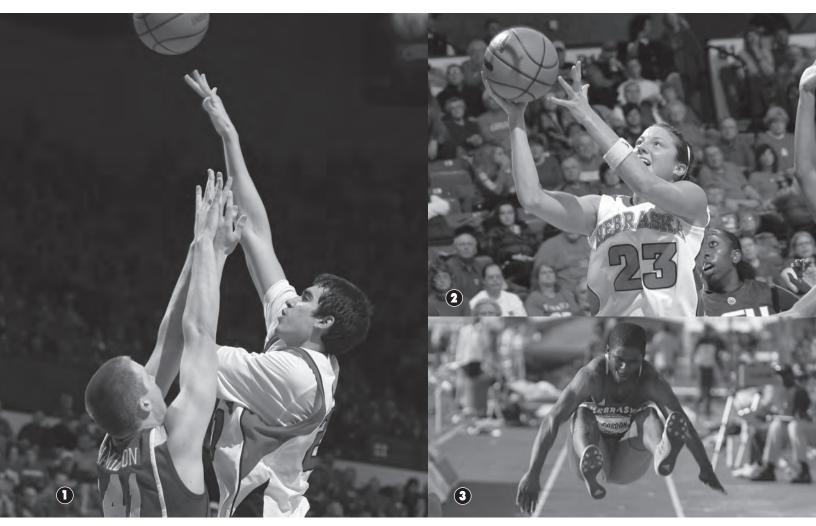

One of the nation's premier athletic programs, Nebraska is dedicated to and successful in all 23 of its varsity sports. Nebraska has won a total of 24 team national championships since 1970, including a fifth bowling crown in 2008, eight men's gymnastics titles, five football championships, three volleyball titles and three women's track and field championships. In 2009-10, six Husker teams finished among the top 10 in their respective sports. The Huskers finished the year ranked 17th in the final NACDA Directors Cup all-sport standings, their highest overall finish since taking 13th in 2000-01.

NU had 15 teams advance to NCAA Tournament action in 2009-10, and the Husker football team won a 2009 Holiday Bowl crown. The bowling team produced an NCAA runner-up finish, while National Coach-of-the-Year Connie Yori's women's basketball team finished fourth - the best showing in school history. NU's tradition-rich volleyball program added a No. 5 final national ranking, while the rifle team finished sixth at the 2010 NCAA Championships. The Nebraska women's gymnastics team added a seventh-place NCAA finish, while men's gymnastics rounded out NU's six top-10 team finishes by placing ninth.

Individually, football All-American Ndamukong Suh, who became the first defensive player in history to earn Associated Press National Player-of-the-Year honors, captured the Outland Trophy and Lombardi Award while being named a Heisman Trophy finalist. He also became the first Husker to win both the Bronko Nagurski and Chuck Bednarik awards, before being selected with the No. 2 overall pick in the 2010 NFL Draft. All-American Kelsey Griffin also claimed national headlines while leading the women's basketball team to a record-setting season. The 6-2 forward was a finalist for every major national playerof-the-year award and became Nebraska's first-ever winner across all sports of the prestigious Lowe's Senior CLASS Award, recognizing her success in competition, in the classroom and in the community. The 2010 Big 12 Player of the Year was a unanimous first-team All-American and picked No. 3 overall in the 2010 WNBA Draft.

All-American Cassandra Leuthold also captured 2010 National Player-of-the-Year honors while leading the bowling team to an NCAA runner-up finish. Overall, 29 Nebraska student-athletes captured 33 All-America awards in their respective sports, including NCAA 197-pound runner-up Craig Brester, who helped the wrestling team to a 12th-place finish at the NCAA Championships.

A testament of NU's national recruiting power, the Huskers' 29 All-Americans in 2009-10 came to Nebraska from 13 states and three foreign countries. Among NU's 29 All-Americans in 2009-10, 20 were underclassmen who are expected to return in 2010-11.

Sophomore center Jorge Brian Diaz returns as the Huskers' leading rebounder and shot blocker and second-leading scorer for the 2010-11 season. Last year, Diaz set a Nebraska freshman record for blocked shots and also ranked among the top 10 freshmen in NU history for scoring, rebounding and games started.

2 Kelsey Griffin led Nebraska to the most successful women's basketball season in school history in 2009-10. The first-team All-American and 2010 Big 12 Player of the Year powered the Huskers to an unbeaten regular season and a Big 12 title. The No. 3 overall pick in the 2010 WNBA Draft, Griffin was Nebraska's first-ever winner of the Lowe's Senior CLASS Award.

3 Three-time All-American Nicholas Gordon captured the 2009 NCAA indoor national championship in the long jump with a winning leap of 26-4 ¼ in his final attempt. Following the season, Gordon earned a spot in the 2009 World Championships with a personal-best jump of 26-7 ¼.

BIG 12 LEADERS

The Huskers have won more Big 12 Conference championships than any other league school in the following categories:

- Baseball Postseason: 4 Men's Outdoor Track: 6 Women's Indoor Track: 5 Women's Gymnastics: 8 Volleyball: 11
- Men's Indoor Track: 9 Men's Track Combined: 15 Men's and Women's Track: 22 Soccer Postseason: 5

9 The Nebraska women's basketball team (left) advanced to its first NCAA Sweet 16 after claiming its first Big 12 title in 2010. The Huskers became the first Big 12 men's or women's team to post a perfect regular season (29-0), while earning a No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament.

4 The Nebraska volleyball team continued to rank among the nation's elite in 2009, producing four All-Americans en route to advancing to the Elite Eight of the NCAA Tournament for the 10th consecutive season and finishing with a No. 5 national ranking.

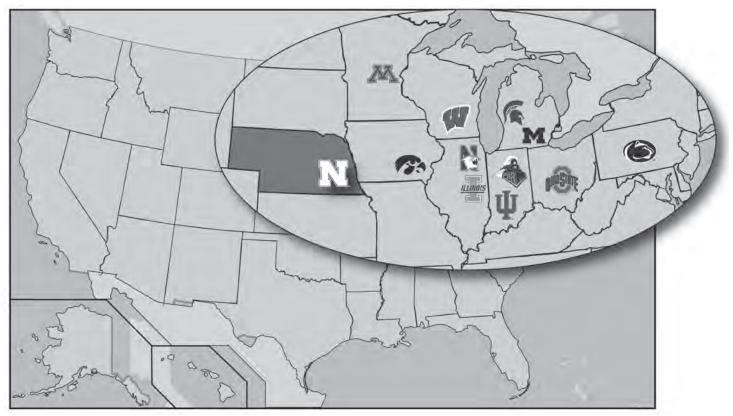

5 After earning Most Outstanding Player honors in leading the bowling team to the 2009 national title, Cassandra Leuthold captured National Player-of-the-Year honors as the Huskers finished as the national runner-up in 2010.

6 Julie Brechtel was an all-region selection on the field and in the classroom as the Husker softball team qualified for its 15th NCAA Tournament appearance in 16 seasons.

7 Freshman Morgan Marlborough was the 2009 Big 12 Offensive Player of the Year and Newcomer of the Year after leading the league with 21 goals and 49 points.

8 Three-time All-American Craig Brester finished as the 197-pound runner-up at the NCAA Championships in 2010. The two-time national runner-up helped Nebraska to a Big 12 Championship in 2009 by winning the 197-pound title.

NEBRASKA HEADS TO BIG TEN IN 2011

On June 11, 2010, the Big Ten Conference announced that its member schools voted unanimously to accept the University of Nebraska as the conference's 12th member beginning on July 1, 2011. The Big Ten Conference is a union of 11 world-class academic institutions – 12 beginning in 2011-12 – who share a common mission of research, graduate, professional and undergraduate teaching and public service. The conference's 100-plus years of history, strong tradition of competitive intercollegiate athletic programs, vast and passionate alumni base, and consistent leadership in innovations position the Big Ten and its entire community firmly on the Big Stage.

The Big Ten has sustained a comprehensive set of shared practices and policies that enforce the priority of academics and emphasize the values of integrity, fairness and competitiveness in all aspects of its student-athletes' lives, with the ultimate goal of ensuring that each individual has the opportunity to live a Big Life.

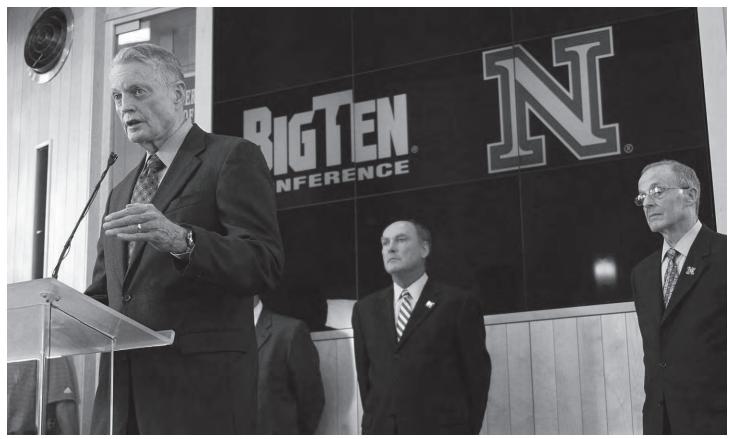

BIG TEN CONFERENCE HIGHLIGHTS

- Big Ten universities provide approximately $100 million in direct financial aid to more than 8,500 men and women student-athletes who compete for 25 championships.
- Conference institutions sponsor broad-based athletic programs with more than 270 teams. Other than the Ivy League, the Big Ten has the most broad-based athletic programs in the United States.
- Big Ten universities are members of the nation's only conference whose constituency is entirely composed of institutions that are members of the Association of American Universities (AAU), a prestigious association of major academic and research institutions in the United States and Canada.

- Big Ten fans are some of the nation's most supportive, with more than 8.7 million patrons attending conference home contests during the 2008-09 seasons for football, men's and women's basketball and volleyball alone.
- Over the last 31 seasons, the conference has ranked either No. 1 or No. 2 nationally in football, men's basketball and wrestling attendance.
- Big Ten institutions have more than 4.2 million living alumni and over 300,000 undergraduate students attending their universities
- Based on the U.S. Census projected population for 2010, the eight-state Big Ten region accounts for 68,056,353 people, which ranks second only to the Big East and ahead of the ACC, SEC, Pac-10 and Big 12.

"Nebraska is a great addition to our league as another strong state school with a passionate following like so many in our conference. Doc Sadler is a great, defensive-minded coach from the Eddie Sutton coaching tree just like coach (Gene) Keady, and his teams will always play hard and be a difficult opponent."

Nebraska Athletic Director Tom Osborne (left) joined Big Ten Commissioner James Delany (middle) and UNL Chancellor Harvey Perlman (right) as the Huskers were announced as the newest member of the league starting in 2011-12.

BIG TEN NETWORK

Headquartered in Chicago, the Big Ten Network is the first internationally distributed television network dedicated to covering one of America's premier collegiate conferences.

With more than 350 live sports events, and virtually all of them in high definition, the Big Ten Network is the ultimate destination for Big Ten fans and alumni across the country. The network is on the air 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

The network is available to an estimated 75 million households, through agreements with more than 300 cable, satellite and telco affiliates in all 50 states and Canada. That includes existing distribution agreements with each of the nation's 10 largest cable, satellite and telco providers.

BIG TEN NETWORK FACTS

- The Big Ten's media agreements with CBS Sports, ABC/ESPN, the Big Ten Network and CBS College Sports Network provide the conference with its greatest television exposure ever.
- In 2006, the Big Ten created the first national conference-owned television network devoted to the athletic and academic programs of a single conference. The Big Ten Network launched on Aug. 30, 2007, and became the first new network in cable or satellite television history to reach 30 million homes in its first 30 days. The Big Ten Network is now available to more than 75 million homes nationally through agreements with more than 250 cable/satellite/telco affiliates and is in 19 of the nation's top 20 media markets.
- Since the current media agreements began in 2007-08, every home football and men's basketball game has been produced while women's basketball has received more coverage than any other conference.
- The Big Ten's new media agreements have resulted in the broadcast of more than 500 events nationally and regionally on an annual basis, compared to 300 events in the final year of the previous agreements.

Conseco Fieldhouse in Indianapolis is the home of the annual Big Ten Men's Basketball Tournament.

BIG TEN BASKETBALL

- Big Ten programs have combined for 10 men's NCAA basketball titles in their history and four programs have played in the national title game since 2002.
- Big Ten Conference teams have made 41 Final Four appearances, including five appearances in the last six seasons. That ties the Big East for the most Final Four appearances by any conference.
- Since 2000, the Big Ten Conference has sent nine teams to the Final Four, second only to the ACC in that span.
- Big Ten Conference teams have combined for 313 victories in the NCAA Tournament.
- The Big Ten has led the nation in men's basketball attendance every year since 1978, and had six teams ranked in the top-20 nationally in attendance in 2009-10.
- The Big Ten annually places an average of eight basketball teams in postseason tournaments and has totaled 50 NCAA Tournament berths since 2001.

2010 BAHAMAS TRIP

The 2010-11 season began early for the Huskers, as the team spent part of August on a foreign trip to the Bahamas. The trip, the first taken by the Husker basketball team since 2004, was a success, as Nebraska went a perfect 4-0 against teams from the Bahamas Basketball Federation.

In addition, the trip also provided the team an opportunity to enjoy life off the court. The Huskers took in several team activities during the week, including scuba diving at a cove on the far side of the island, visiting the local attractions on Paradise Island, shopping in downtown Nassau and enjoying life on the beach in the tropical paradise.

Point guard Lance Jeter started all 33 games in his first season at Nebraska, ranking among the Big 12 leaders in assists and assist-to-turnover ratio in 2009-10.

For Nebraska Coach Doc Sadler, there is comfort in familiarity. The Huskers suffered through growing pains last winter with just four returning scholarship lettermen and a host of newcomers playing significant roles. Now as Sadler begins the 2010-11 season, he hopes the experience learned from last year will propel the Huskers into postseason play.

The 2009-10 season was a challenging one for a young team in the Big 12 Conference, which was exactly the situation the Nebraska basketball team faced.

Battling a league that sent seven teams to the NCAA Tournament - the highest total in the league's 14-year history - and was rated first in the country in RPI, the Huskers struggled at times with a youthful roster that featured 10 players in their first season at the Division I level.

The Huskers ended the year with a 15-18 record and 12th-place finish in the Big 12, marking the first time Sadler had suffered a losing season in his 11 years as a collegiate head coach.

While the league was setting records with seven firstround picks in June's NBA Draft, the Huskers were setting their own marks, as five freshmen earned at least one start during the season, including games where NU put three rookies in the lineup.

Season-ending injuries to Christopher Niemann and Toney McCray reduced the depth and forced Sadler to give the youngsters more playing time than he hoped.

"We went through a lot of growing pains last year," Sadler said. "We had a lot of guys gain experience they would not have likely received in other years.

"For us to expect freshmen to compete against firstround draft picks was difficult, but it is going to help us in the long run. They are not going to be playing against guys better than the ones they faced last year and now we are a year older."

Nearly 40 percent of Nebraska's total points were scored by freshmen in 2009-10, as Jorge Brian Diaz (8.8 ppg) and Christian Standhardinger (8.1 ppg) ranked third and fourth on the team in scoring. In all, four of Nebraska's eight top scorers by the end of last season were either true or redshirt freshmen.

For Sadler, who guided the Huskers to postseason appearances in the previous two campaigns and has taken his teams to the postseason in four of his six years as a Division I head coach, the experience of last season is already beginning to reap early rewards.

"I think last year's finish was an eye-opener and gave our players a sense of urgency heading into the season that they may not have had otherwise," Sadler said. "They made great strides in the weight room and in conditioning, and now they understand the work ethic that it takes to be successful in a league like the Big 12."

LEARNING TO FINISH

One of the areas where the Huskers' youth was exposed was late in games. Nebraska was in many of its Big 12 contests, as the Huskers were within two possessions of the lead in the final eight minutes in eight losses to conference teams, including the Big 12 Tournament. Sadler said that creating the mindset to succeed late in games has been an emphasis of the Huskers' offseason training. Throughout every drill, the rallying cry has been to finish strong, which could be the difference in a return to postseason play.

"I don't think we played that badly, but we didn't finish games," Sadler said. "There may be all types of reasons for that, whether it was youth or mental mistakes, but the bottom line is we didn't get it done. That is something we have worked on since last year, whether it is in conditioning or drills, and we are trying to turn that into a positive."

ADDITIONAL DEPTH AND EXPERIENCE

While Sadler was able to see the strides his team made since the end of last season, the biggest change for the Huskers is an intangible one.

"We tried to prepare our team for how difficult the league was, but until they go through it for the first time, they really don't understand because its something they have never experienced," Sadler said. "Now they are used to the different arenas, the travel and the preparation, and our team has that understanding. Experience is something all of us improve with, whether it is players or coaches, and it will definitely be a benefit."

Nebraska's 2010-11 squad has an intriguing blend of youth and experience. While the Huskers bring back 10 lettermen, including four players who started at least 15 games last season, it is still a young team with half of the 20 players being freshmen and sophomores.

For Sadler, the increased numbers give him something he has rarely enjoyed in his five seasons at NU - depth.

"There is no question that we are deeper in numbers and experience," Sadler said. "Players are going to have to earn minutes this year and anytime you have competition for playing time, that is a positive."

JETER PROVIDES SENIOR LEADERSHIP

One of the keys to the Huskers' success in 2010-11 will be the play of Lance Jeter. The 6-foot-3 point guard is the Huskers' only scholarship senior with Division I experience and comes off a junior year where he started every game. He averaged 7.5 points, 4.1 assists and 3.8 rebounds per game in his first year at Nebraska to earn a spot on the Big 12 All-Newcomer team. He ranked in the top 10 in the league in both assists and assist-to-turnover ratio (1.9-to-1). He became more of an offensive threat down the stretch, averaging 10 points, 4.4 assists and 4.8 rebounds per game over the Huskers' final eight contests, highlighted by a season-high 21-point effort at Iowa State.

"Most of the time, you are only as good as your seniors and although we are not strong in numbers, I like the leadership we have," Sadler said. "Lance is a guy who will do whatever you ask him to do, and he will do it the best he can. He is someone who understands what he has to do to help his teammates." ADMINISTRATION OPPONENTS

Jeter is joined in the senior class by Drake Beranek and walk-on Matt Karn. Beranek spent three seasons at Nebraska-Kearney where he totaled nearly 1,500 points. The Ravenna, Neb., native impressed the Husker coaches during his transfer season enough to earn a scholarship for his senior year. Two years ago at UNK, he was 11th nationally in scoring at 21.9 points per game, including 43 percent from 3-point range. He has a high basketball IQ and will fill a role in the backcourt or on the wing.

Karn gives the Huskers a potential shooter off the bench. The 6-foot-3 guard received a medical exemption after missing three years because of injuries. He played in nine contests last year, hitting 3-of-5 from 3-point range.

DEPTH IN THE FRONTCOURT

After being undersized for the last two years, the Huskers have beefed up the front court. NU returns three of its top interior players in Diaz, Standhardinger and sophomore Brandon Ubel and adds the services of Niemann and Andre Almeida.

"The strength of this team will be our inside players," Sadler said. "Jorge and Brandon have a whole year of experience under their belts while Christian has been through a 16-game conference schedule. We can allow Andre and Christopher to find and develop their roles. Overall, we have not had this much depth on the inside since I've been here."

Diaz gives the Huskers a solid post presence, averaging 8.8 points, 4.0 rebounds and a team-high 1.2 blocked shots per game during his freshman season. He made 26 starts the most ever by a Husker freshman post player - and shot a team-high 52.2 percent from the floor. He showed the ability to score inside with 14 double-digit efforts, including a 22-point effort against TCU and 20 points at No. 1 Kansas.

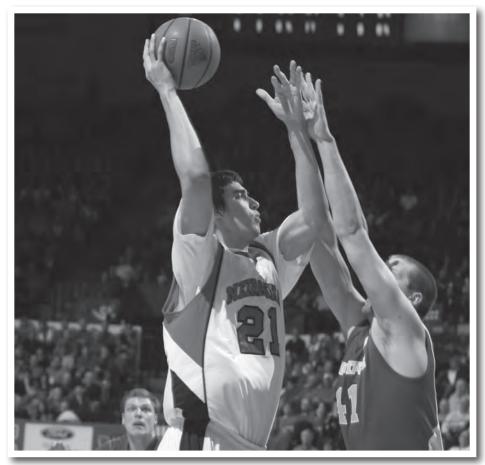

REVIEW RECORDS HISTORY MEDIA

While Diaz is more of a force inside, Ubel has the shooting touch to be a tough matchup at any of the frontcourt spots. He made 16 starts in 2009-10, averaging 4.4 points and 2.0 rebounds per game. An excellent shooter for his size, Ubel shot just 41 percent from the field, but was 11-of-21 from 3-point range. Ubel, who has added 20 pounds over the last year, had his best performance at Texas Tech, scoring 14-points in a double-overtime win.

Standhardinger got a late start to the year after sitting out non-conference play, but became one of NU's top offensive threats down the stretch. The 6-foot-9 forward averaged 8.1 points and 3.8 rebounds per game as a rookie. He showed a knack for getting to the foul line, leading the Huskers in free throws in Big 12 play where he connected on 78.3 percent. He had six games in double figures in league play, setting personal bests with 25 points and eight rebounds at lowa State.

While technically not a newcomer, Niemann looks to make his Husker debut after two seasons of sitting out. He missed all of last season following a pair of ACL surgeries, and if healthy, the 6-foot-11, 275-pounder gives the Huskers a physical presence in the post.

Almeida comes to Nebraska after an impressive career at Arizona Western College, earning All-America honors in both his seasons at the school. As a sophomore, he averaged 13.6 points, 9.2 rebounds and 4.5 blocks per contest, ranking seventh nationally in shooting percentage at 67.3 percent (140-of-208) and fifth in blocked shots. At 6-foot-11, 310 pounds, he has the size to be a force in the paint. He also possesses solid passing ability to find open teammates for baskets. He has impressed the coaches with his work ethic, losing 25 pounds to improve his conditioning and be ready to be an impact newcomer.

Jorge Brian Diaz averaged 8.8 points per game last season and set Nebraska's freshman record with 41 blocks.

Brandon Richardson ranked second on the team in scoring last season, averaging 8.9 points per game. The junior has played in 58 games at Nebraska over the last two years - the most of any current Husker.

AN EXPERIENCED BACKCOURT

While Jeter is the Huskers' returning starter at point guard, he is one of a trio of experienced players who could run the point for Nebraska. Juniors Brandon Richardson and Kamyron Brown, who played two seasons at Oregon before coming to Nebraska, give Sadler flexibility with a trio of strong ball-handlers.

"I think we have a lot of competition in the backcourt, and that is a healthy thing to have" Sadler said. "Both Brandon and Kamyron have the ability to start, and their level of play pushes each other to keep improving."

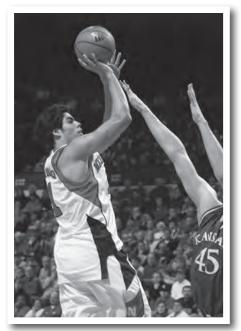

Richardson is the veteran of the Husker squad, as the junior from Los Angeles has been in the backcourt rotation for the past two years. He enjoyed a solid sophomore campaign, making 15 starts and averaging 8.9 points, 2.7 rebounds, 1.8 assists and 1.1 steals per game. Richardson, who could see time at either backcourt spot, reached double figures in points 13 times, ranked among team leaders in points (276, 2nd), steals (35, 2nd), field-goal percentage (45.6, 2nd) 3-pointers (27, 3rd) and assists (56, 4th), while shooting a team-high 82.5 percent (85-of-103) from the charity stripe.

Brown was a part-time starter at Oregon for two years, leading the Ducks in assists both seasons in the program, including 94 assists as a freshman in 2007-08. He averaged 4.4 points, 2.7 assists, 1.6 rebounds and nearly a steal per game in his two years at the school. As a sophomore, he had a season-high 15 points against Saint Mary's, one of three performances in double figures that season. Coming out of high school, he was rated the No. 18 point guard in the country after leading Mater Dei High School to a 33-3 record and a No. 25 national ranking.

WINGS ARE KEY TO HUSKERS' SUCCESS

The biggest losses for the Huskers entering the season come on the wings, as Nebraska looks to replace seniors Ryan Anderson and Sek Henry. The pair combined for 64 starts last season, while Anderson paced the Huskers with 11.3 points per game. Nebraska has some experience at the position with junior Toney McCray and sophomores Eshaunte Jones and Ray Gallegos. In addition, junior college transfer Caleb Walker enrolled in the summer and performed well on the Huskers' summer trip to the Bahamas.

"In this league, how our wings do will be the key to our success," Sadler said. "Toney took a year off with the injury, and we need him to come back and be healthy. Eshaunte and Ray gained a lot of experience last year and should be better. Caleb gives us a lot of athleticism and toughness at the spot. We have to have those guys step up, and the success we have is going to depend on those two positions."

Forward Christian Standhardinger averaged 8.1 points and 3.8 rebounds per game as a freshman, highlighted by a 25-point effort at Iowa State.

McCray looks to be 100 percent following Tommy John surgery that ended his 2009-10 season after just three games. He averaged 6.3 points and 4.0 rebounds per game before the injury and gave the Huskers length and athleticism on the perimeter. A two-time Big 12 Rookie of the Week two years ago, he reached double figures five times, including a career-high 18-point performance at Baylor in the regular-season finale. That performance helped the Huskers finish .500 for the first time in the league in a decade.

Jones, who overcame foot surgery and a sports hernia as a freshman, gives the Huskers a threat from long range. He averaged 6.0 points per game, finishing second on the team in 3-pointers made (40) and 3-point shooting percentage (43.5 percent). The 6-foot-4 guard showed the ability to play his best against strong competition, as five of his six double-figure efforts came against postseason teams. Jones had a career-high 21 points coming off the bench against BYU in the finals of the Las Vegas Classic, hitting 5-of-7 from 3-point range.

Gallegos showed flashes of his ability as a freshman, averaging 3.0 points and 1.4 rebounds per game while appearing in 30 contests. A solid ball-handler, he also is one of the quickest players on the roster and has the athleticism to create his own shot. Gallegos reached double figures twice as a freshman, including a season-high 13 points against Texas-Pan American that featured a trio of 3-pointers.

Walker enters the Husker program with solid credentials, earning first-team NJCAA All-America honors at Butler County CC in 2010. As a sophomore, he averaged 16.4 points and 8.0 rebounds per game, hitting 53 percent from the field in helping the school to a 29-7 record and its first NJCAA Tournament appearance since 1996. The 6-foot-4 guard was the Region VI Tournament MVP after posting a season-high 26 points and nine boards in the title game. Walker was able to accompany the Huskers on their summer trip and made an immediate impact, averaging 11.5 points and 4.5 rebounds per game, ranking third on the team in both points and rebounds.

Sophomore walk-on Mike Fox is the other player who could see time at the spot, as he made eight appearances as a redshirt freshman. Fox averaged 0.9 points and 0.5 rebounds per game, including season highs of four points and two rebounds against Texas-Pan American.

2010-11 SCHEDULE

The Huskers will be tested by a schedule that features a minimum of 16 games against teams that reached postseason play last season.

"Overall, it is one of the most challenging schedules we have faced in my five years here, especially with the tournament in San Juan," Sadler said. "We need to play well, but what we learned last year is that success in preseason does not equal success in the league."

The non-conference slate is highlighted by the Puerto Rico Tip-Off, where NU opens against SEC power Vanderbilt and could potentially see West Virginia, Minnesota or North Carolina among others in the eight-team field. Other nonconference tests include a match-up with USC in the Big 12/ Pac-10 Hardwood Challenge and home games against TCU, Creighton, Arkansas-Pine Bluff and Jackson State. Nebraska opens the 2010-11 season against CIT qualifier South Dakota, which went 22-10 last season.

"Our guys are anxious to get on the court and have a bad taste in their mouth about last season," Sadler said. "They have worked hard to get better everyday and if we can maintain that focus on improvement, things are going to work out."

HUSKERS LOOK TO RECLAIM BIG 12 DEFENSIVE TITLE

OUTLOOK

Throughout Doc Sadler's four seasons at Nebraska, the Huskers have been one of the Big 12's top defensive teams. In 2009-10, NU was fourth in the Big 12 in scoring defense, allowing 65.7 points per game. That snapped a two-year streak where the Huskers led the conference in scoring defense. In 2008-09, Nebraska allowed just 60.4 points per game to rank 22nd nationally and lead the Big 12. A year earlier, it gave up just 60.7 ppg and held on to a final No. 18 national ranking in that category.

HUSKERS GO PERFECT IN BAHAMAS

The Nebraska basketball team spent part of August in the Bahamas, taking on teams from the Bahamas Basketball Federation in an exhibition tour. The Huskers went 4-0 on the trip, their first overseas travel since going to Australia in 2004.

HOLDING COURT

Nebraska has been strong on its home court over the years, and will try to continue an impressive run at home under Coach Doc Sadler.

In the history of the Bob Devaney Sports Center, Nebraska has posted a 410-131 record for a .757 winning percentage. In the past four seasons under Sadler, Nebraska has dominated to the tune of a 54-17 record (.761 winning percentage) against all teams.

Facing non-conference opponents, the Huskers have been nearly unbeatable at home under Sadler. During his tenure, the team has earned a 37-1 record at the Devaney Center, with the lone loss coming in the 2008-09 season.

The Huskers enter the 2010-11 campaign with a 13-game home winning streak against non-conference foes.

FRESHMEN MADE THEIR MARK ON HUSKER RECORD LISTS

With five freshmen in the playing rotation during the 2009-10 season, it was natural that some of the Husker rookies would find their way on to NU's single-season freshman charts.

Jorge Brian Diaz set NU's freshman record with 41 blocked shots, topping the old mark of 39 set by Venson Hamilton (1996) and John Turek (2002). Diaz also finished in the top 10 among Husker freshmen in field goals made (133, fourth), points (291, eighth), rebounds (133, seventh) and points per game (8.82, 10th).

Eshaunte Jones proved to be one of the Huskers' best long-range shooters, finishing his redshirt freshman year ranked second in 3-point shooting percentage (38.8 percent) and fifth in 3-pointers made (40).

HUSKERS LOOKING FOR IMPROVED HEALTH IN 2010-11

One of the main reasons for the Huskers' youth movement in 2009-10 was the loss of a pair of players to season-ending surgery. Forward Toney McCray and center Christopher Niemann were both expected to be contributors, but the pair combined to play in just three games.

McCray suffered an elbow injury in September and tried to play through it before being shelved in mid-November. McCray averaged 6.3 points and 4.0 rebounds per game, and was able to shoot 53.3 percent despite the injury.

Niemann suffered a torn ACL for the second time in a six-month span in August of 2009, forcing him to take a redshirt season.

Both players made their return to the court on the Huskers' trip to the Bahamas in August of 2010.

PLAYING WITH A DEGREE

Under Doc Sadler, the Huskers have enjoyed success in the classroom. In all, 10 of 12 seniors who have completed eligibility under Sadler have received their degrees from Nebraska.

This season, senior Matt Karn is the 11th senior to earn a degree under Sadler, participating in commencement ceremonies earlier this year. Fellow seniors Drake Beranek (May of 2011) and Lance Jeter (August of 2011) are on schedule to complete their course work in the next year.

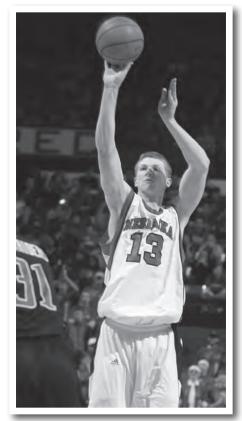

Nebraska leads all Big 12 men's basketball programs with an 83 percent Graduation Success Rate (GSR).

WALK-ON TRADITION CONTINUES

While the Nebraska football program is nationally known for its walk-on program, the Husker basketball team has gotten major contributions from walk-ons in Doc Sadler's four seasons. The most notable was Paul Velander, who received the Jack Moore Award, symbolizing the team's MVP, after helping the 2008-09 squad to the NIT.

This summer, senior guard Drake Beranek was recognized for his hard work, as he was placed on scholarship for the 2010-11 year. Beranek walked on to the program after spending three years at the University of Nebraska-Kearney. He scored 1,453 career points at UNK and ranked 11th nationally in Division II with 21.9 points per game in 2008-09.

For the 2010-11 season, the Huskers added five walkons, including in-state products Trevor Menke (Beatrice), Kye Kurkowski (Grant) and Jordan Tyrance (Lincoln), as well as Marshall Parker (Fort Smith, Ark.) and Bo Spencer (Baton Rouge, La.).

Forward Brandon Ubel played in 32 games and made 16 starts as a freshman in 2009-10.

REGULAR-SEASON SCHEDULE NOTES

Nebraska faces a rugged schedule with a minimum of 16 regular-season games against teams that reached the 2010 postseason. Among the Huskers' opponents that reached last year's NCAA Tournament were: Elite Eight participants Kansas State (twice) and Baylor, NCAA second-round qualifiers Kansas (twice), Missouri (twice), Texas A&M along with NCAA qualifiers Arkansas Pine-Bluff, Vanderbilt, Oklahoma State and Texas. NU will also face 2010 postseason NIT gualifiers Jackson State and Texas Tech, along with CIT gualifiers South Dakota and Creighton. In addition, the Huskers could face two more postseason gualifiers in Puerto Rico, including Final Four participant West Virginia, NCAA qualifier Minnesota, NIT runner-up North Carolina and CBI qualifier Hofstra.

• The Huskers are set to play 19 regular-season games at the Bob Devaney Sports Center, the most regular-season home games since the 2005-06 season. Last year, the Huskers went 12-6 in the building and NU is 54-17 at home under Coach Doc Sadler. The Huskers also played 18 regular-season home games in 2007-08, but one game (vs. Oregon) took place at the Qwest Center in Omaha.

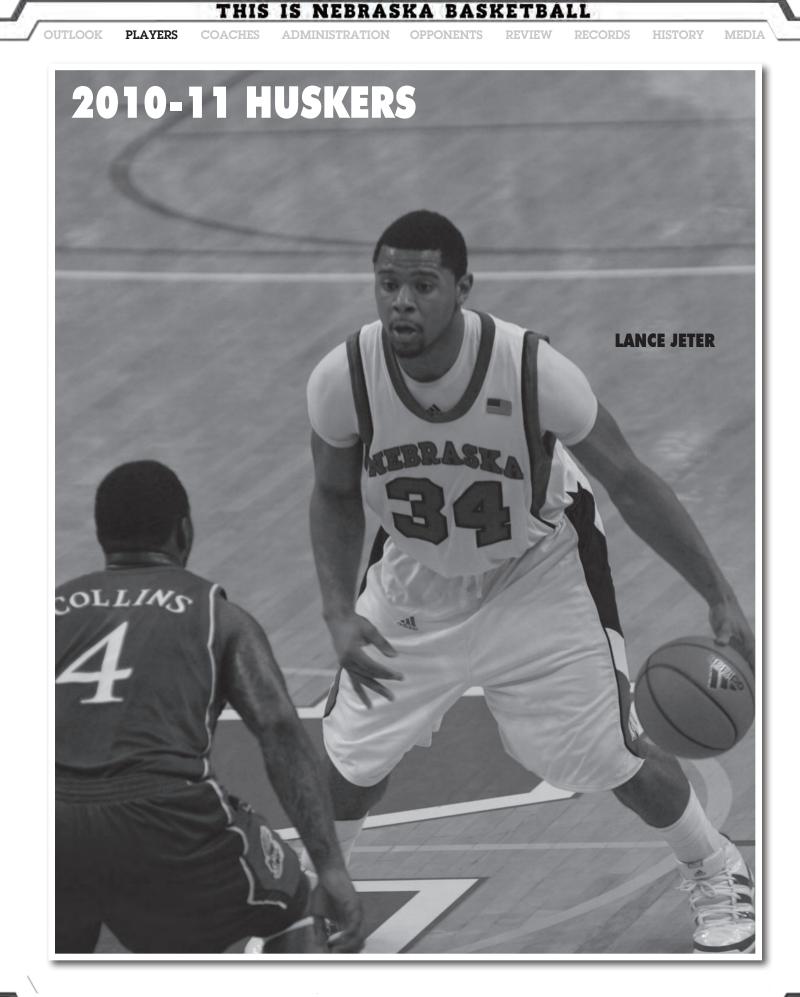

• Nebraska will look to keep an outstanding home winning streak alive in 2010-11 as the Huskers look for their 35th straight winning season at the Bob Devaney Sports Center. The Huskers have never had a losing season in the Devaney Center since the building opened for the 1976-77 campaign.

• Nebraska heads to San Juan for the Puerto Rico Tip-off in November. This will be the fifth time the Huskers have travel to Puerto Rico for a tournament and first since winning the San Juan Shootout title in 2000. That season, Nebraska won its three games by a total of four points, earning one-point wins over Iona and Kent State before winning the title with a 72-70 win over SMU. Nebraska is 8-4 in its four previous tournaments in Puerto Rico, reaching the finals of the 1990 San Juan Shootout and placing third in the 1994 San Juan Shootout.

• The Huskers will face USC in the fourth annual Big 12/Pac-10 Hardwood Classic on Nov. 27. Nebraska won the 2009 matchup in Los Angeles, 51-48.

• The Huskers will have at least 20 games televised regionally or nationally, including five games set to be seen around the country on the ESPN family of networks and another nationally televised on Fox Sports Net. The Huskers have averaged more than 20 televised contests (national, regional and local) each of the past four years.

• The Huskers' schedule features a school-record 10-game homestand beginning with the USC contest on Nov. 27. Prior to this season, the longest stretch of home games in school history was seven, which had been done four other times, most recently during the 2007-08 season.

HISTORY MEDIA

Outlook

Drake Beranek may be one of the oldest newcomers in the Big 12 this season. The fifth-year senior spent his first three seasons at Nebraska-Kearney, where he was one of the top guards in the Division II ranks. He scored nearly 1,500 points in his three years at UNK and averaged more than 20 points per game as both a sophomore and junior before walking on to the Husker program in August of 2009.

With a year under his belt at Nebraska, Beranek could play a significant role for the Huskers this winter. Not only is he an excellent shooter, Beranek gives NU additional size in the backcourt for matching up with opponents. He also has a high basketball IQ. Beranek understands his role and could play a similar role to Paul Velander, who was a key performer on Doc Sadler's first two postseason teams at Nebraska.

Despite not playing an official game as a Husker, he is respected for his leadership and work ethic, as he works to make his teammates better. Beranek was rewarded for his hard work in August by earning a scholarship for the 2010-11 season.

Bahamas Trip

Beranek saw time in all four of the Huskers' games in the Bahamas, averaging 3.8 points and 0.5 rebounds per game. After seeing limited action in his first two games, Beranek had 10 points and a pair of steals in 14 minutes of action against the Bahamas Select team.

2009-10 (Senior)

Beranek sat out the 2009-10 season under NCAA transfer guidelines.

Before Nebraska

Beranek walked on at Nebraska for the 2009-10 season with the goal of trying his hand at Division I basketball. He has a tremendous opportunity after being one of the top players in Division II his first three years at Nebraska-Kearney when he led the Lopers to a 51-35 record.

Individually, Beranek was a three-time all-conference selection after averaging 17.9 points per game over his career. A two-time all-region selection, he ranked 15th on the UNK career scoring chart with 1,453 career points in 81 games.

As a junior, Beranek led the conference in scoring at 21.9 points per game, an average that ranked 11th in Division II. He hit 49.5 percent (211-of-426) from the floor - including an impressive 43.3 percent (52-of-120) from beyond the arc - while draining 82.1 percent (96-of-117) at the free throw line. He also averaged 6.9 rebounds per game and more than three assists per contest.

He posted a season-high 40 points in a win at New Mexico Highlands and had a career-best 41-point effort against Metro State as a sophomore when he averaged 20.5 points and 9.3 rebounds per game. In his career, he posted 11 games of 30 or more points and had 18 double-doubles.

In high school, Beranek was coached by his father, Paul Beranek, at Ravenna High School. The younger Beranek helped the team to a 73-7 record over his final three seasons, including a 41-game win streak along with a state championship and a state runner-up finish. As a senior, Beranek ranked in the top 10 in the state in 10 categories.

Beranek also was a member of the honor roll and the National Honor Society at Ravenna High School.

Personal

Drake is the son of Paul and Brenda Beranek, and was born April 24, 1988. He has two brothers, Riley and Connor.

Drake majors in communication studies at Nebraska and is on pace to earn his degree in May of 2011.

Outlook

One of the encouraging signs for the Husker basketball program was the emergence of Jorge Brian Diaz last season. The 6-foot-11 center started 26 games in the post in his redshirt freshman campaign, averaging 8.8 points and 4.0 rebounds per game, while leading the Huskers in field goal percentage (52.2 percent) and blocked shots (41). He reached double figures in 14 contests, including a season-high 22 points against TCU. Diaz closed his freshman year on a strong note, averaging 12 points and 4.5 rebounds per game in the Big 12 Tournament, while shooting 67 percent in two games in Kansas City.

SOPHOMORE | CENTER

While Diaz uses his length to alter opposing shots and create mismatches away from the basket, he has also added 15 pounds in the offseason to better handle the physical nature in the post.

Bahamas Trip

Diaz performed well on the Huskers' Bahamas trip, averaging 9.3 points and 5.8 rebounds per game on 62 percent shooting. Diaz, who reached double figures in NU's final three games, topped the Huskers with 11 offensive rebounds and was second with seven steals.

2009-10 (Redshirt Freshman)

Diaz posted one of the best freshman campaigns for a Husker post player in school history, averaging 8.8 points, 4.0 rebounds and 1.2 blocked shots per game. He started 26 games, the most ever by a Husker freshman post player, while playing 23.7 minutes per contest. He was one of a school-record five freshmen to start for the Huskers in 2009-10, and was one of three freshmen to start against BYU, also a school record.

On the year, Diaz hit a team-high 52.2 percent from the floor by knocking down 133-of-255 shots. He ranked fourth on the Nebraska freshman chart for field goals made, eighth in points (291) and 10th in points per game (8.82). Diaz also ranked seventh on the NU freshman chart in rebounds with 133, including a seasonhigh 12 against Chicago State. He added 11 boards against USC Upstate in his first career game, but did not record a doubledouble on the year, as he scored nine points in each of those contests.

His strong performance on the boards was not Diaz's only contribution on the defensive end, as he ranked ninth overall (1.2 bpg) and 12th in league-only games (1.0 bpg) in blocked shots. He was the only freshman in the top 15 on each list, as he posted a freshman record 41 blocks, surpassing the mark of 39 set by Venson Hamilton (1996) and John Turek (2002).

Offensively, Diaz provided a consistent presence in the paint, as he posted between nine and 15 points in 16 games, and added a pair of 20-point contests. With a season-best 22 points against TCU (on 9-of-10 shooting) and 20 points at No. 1 Kansas (on 9-of-17 shooting with nine rebounds), Diaz became just the eighth Husker freshman in history to post multiple 20-point games.

Two of Diaz's most proficient games came against nationally ranked Kansas, as he combined to hit 16-of-27 shots from the field while averaging 17.5 points and 6.5 rebounds against the Jayhawks. In seven games against ranked teams, Diaz averaged 10.9 points and 3.3 rebounds while hitting 53 percent from the floor.

Diaz's strongest stretch came in three straight games against Oklahoma, No. 7 Kansas State and No. 1 Kansas when he averaged 14.3 points and 6.3 rebounds while hitting 19-of-38 field-goal attempts. That was the only time on the season that he recorded double figures in three consecutive contests, although he had 14 double-figure scoring games, including four of the last six games of the season. 2008-09 (Freshman)

After originally attempting to come to Nebraska at the beginning of the fall semester, Diaz was finally admitted to the University and joined the Nebraska basketball team on Jan. 17, 2009. While he would have given the Huskers an immediate boost as the team's tallest active player, Diaz made the decision to redshirt so he could gain weight and prepare for the rigors of the Big 12.

Before Nebraska

Diaz came to Nebraska from Puerto Rico, where he grew up and played high school basketball in his hometown for Coach Leonel Arill at Colegio Bautista de Caguas. He averaged about 17 points, 10 rebounds and three blocked shots per game in 2007-08 under Arill, who helped Diaz and the Caguas team to a national title in 2006.

Diaz has also played on the Puerto Rican Under-19 National Team, traveling to many international tournaments, including playing in Serbia in 2007, where he was first seen by the Nebraska coaching staff.

Personal

Jorge Brian was born Nov. 13, 1989. He is the son of Nilda Hernandez and Jorge Diaz, and he has one sister, Natalie Diaz. Jorge Brian was born in Bronx, N.Y., and lived there until he was three years old before moving to his hometown of Caguas, Puerto Rico. He has not declared a major at Nebraska.

Outlook

One of five Nebraska natives on the 2010-11 roster, Mike Fox returns after playing in eight games as a redshirt freshman. Fox possesses a strong work ethic and is a good complimentary player who knows how to make people around him better. He provides good size in the backcourt and understands what it takes to win, as he was a part of two state title teams at Beatrice High School. He is one of two former Orangemen on this year's roster, joining freshman guard Trevor Menke.

Bahamas Trip

Fox came off the bench during the Bahamas trip, totaling two points and three rebounds while seeing time in all four wins.

2009-10 (Redshirt Freshman)

Fox saw action in eight games as a redshirt freshman, but did not see any time during the Big 12 campaign. He averaged 0.9 points and 0.5 rebounds per game. On the season he took two shots, making his only field-goal attempt against Texas-Pan American. He also had two rebounds against UTPA and added single boards against USC Upstate and Maryland Eastern Shore.

Fox had a season-best four points against UTPA and added his other three points against Southern Utah when he went 3-of-4 at the charity stripe. Overall, he was 5-of-6 at the foul line. He also added one steal in the season opener against USC Upstate.

2008-09 (Freshman)

Fox joined the Huskers at Christmas after spending his first semester in college at Northwest Missouri State. He enrolled for the fall semester but did not officially practice with the NMSU basketball team during the competition season. He redshirted once he arrived at Nebraska.

Before Nebraska

Fox was an all-state performer at Beatrice High School as a prep. He helped Beatrice and Coach Jim Weeks to a Nebraska Class B state title in 2008, when he averaged 15.8 points and 9.7 rebounds per game. The Orangemen finished his senior season with a 23-3 record, defeating Elkhorn in the state title game. Fox had a pair of free throws with 2.4 seconds remaining for the final margin, giving Beatrice its second state title in four years.

Fox, who was a freshman when an undefeated Beatrice squad (24-0) won the 2005 state championship, helped Beatrice to a Class B runner-up finish as a junior. He posted a career high with 31 points against Grand Island Northwest as a senior while posting multiple games with a career-best 15 rebounds.

Fox earned Class B all-state first-team honors from both the Lincoln Journal Star and Omaha World-Herald in 2008 and was a two-time Class B player of the year. He was selected to the Journal Star's Super-State team and was a second-team All-Nebraska honoree by the World-Herald. Fox led Class B in rebounding at 9.7 boards per game in 2008, and was ranked second in the state in free throw percentage. He hit 81 percent (81-of-100) from the stripe as a senior.

A four-year letterman in basketball. Fox also lettered three seasons in soccer and twice in tennis. He was a National Honor Society member and was on the honor roll and student council at Beatrice.

Personal

Fox is the son of Paul and Deb Fox, and was born Oct. 20, 1989. He has two brothers, Sean and Steve and one sister, Lauren. Mike majors in mathematics education at Nebraska.

GALLE SOPHOMORE | GUARD | 6-2 | 178 | JORDAN, UTAH | WEST JORDAN

Outlook

Ray Gallegos (pronounced GUY-ehgoes) showed glimpses of his potential as a freshman and his continued development could be key for the Huskers this season. He played in 30 contests as a true freshman, averaging 3.0 points per game and posting a 1.4-to-1 assist-to-turnover ratio. He used his guickness and his explosiveness to create offensive opportunities, but hit just 36.6 percent from the floor.

Gallegos, who was one of five freshmen to earn at least one start in 2009-10. impressed the coaches with his work ethic in the off-season and was one of the Huskers' most improved players on the team's trip to the Bahamas in August. Gallegos also showed an improved shooting touch, hitting 47 percent of his shots on the foreign tour, including 4-of-9 from 3-point range.

Bahamas Trip

Gallegos became one of the Husker go-to players on the team's Bahamas trip, averaging 9.5 points per game, while posting a 2-to-1 assist-to-turnover ratio in four contests. His trip was highlighted by a team-high 18 points in the opener on 7-of-9 shooting, including knocking down both of his 3-point attempts.

2009-10 (Freshman)

Gallegos was one of the quickest players on the court as a freshman when he played in 30 contests. He averaged 3.0 points and 1.4 rebounds in 13.6 minutes per game while posting a solid 1.4 assist-to-turnover ratio from his shooting guard spot.

Gallegos scored in double figures twice on the year, posting a season-best 13 points against Texas-Pan American and 10 points against Creighton in back-to-back contests. He hit 4-of-7 shots from the field, including a season-high three 3-pointers against UTPA, and nailed 4-of-5 field-goal attempts while adding three rebounds against Creighton.

After missing the first two regularseason games with injury, Gallegos' solid work in games and practice early on helped him earn three starts. He drew starting assignments against Jackson State, Tulsa and BYU, helping NU to a 2-1 mark in those contests. Gallegos was one of a schoolrecord five freshmen to start for NU during the season. He helped set the school single-game mark with three freshmen in the starting lineup against BYU, as he joined redshirt freshman Jorge Brian Diaz and Brandon Ubel.

During league play, two of his best games came on the road at Missouri and nationally ranked Kansas State. He scored eight points in each contest, including combining for four 3-pointers. Gallegos' performance against KSU was his second consecutive solid game after posting five points on 2-of-4 shooting in 20 minutes at nationally ranked Texas.

Before Nebraska

Gallegos came to Nebraska after adding hardware to his collection. as he led his West Jordan High School squad to the Utah 5A (largest class) state championship in 2009. For his efforts, he was also named MVP of the 5A first-team all-state squad.

In the state title game, he played a primary role as the Jaguars forced the reigning state player of the year, Tyler Haws (who currently plays at BYU), into one of his worst shooting nights of his career. Gallegos also had four treys - including consecutive 3s in a 64-second span - to help his team earn the gold and earn alltournament team honors.

On the season, Gallegos averaged 16.7 points per game to rank sixth in the state in scoring, posting 417 points in 25 games as the Jaguars went 21-4 on the year. He had nine games with at least 20 points. including a season-best 31 points and added 22 points, including four 3-pointers, in the state championship game.

Gallegos was second in the state in 3-point field-goals per game, hitting a school-record 66 3-pointers in 2008-09. He had a season-best six 3-pointers against Kearns, and five treys in four other games.

Gallegos really came on during the 2008 summer AAU circuit when he was playing for the Utah Pump-N-Run White. Gallegos averaged about 25 points per game, according to Coach Brad Blanchfield. Gallegos was rated the No. 53 shooting guard in the country by Scout.com and was tabbed the No. 7 shooting guard on the West Coast following the summer.

The 6-2, 178-pound Gallegos also helped West Jordan High School to the state tournament as a junior, when the team went 16-7. Gallegos was the team's third-leading scorer at 10.5 points per game over 21 contests. Using his impressive quickness and ball-handling skills, Gallegos can get to the basket in a variety of ways, and has shown a solid mid-range game. His scoring ability helped him top 20 points in three contests as a junior, including a season-best 22 points vs. Kearns.

Personal

Ray, whose given name is Rayes, is the son of Maxine Gallegos and Anthony Nelson, and was born Nov. 15, 1990. Gallegos has one brother, Jonah, and three sisters, Jessica, Sherrie and Amber. Gallegos' legal guardian is basketball coach Brad Blanchfield.

Gallegos, who has not declared a major at Nebraska, was the first Husker basketball signee from the state of Utah since Jaron Boone (Salt Lake City, Skyline High School), who went on to become one of the top 10 all-time scorers at Nebraska.

MEDIA HISTORY

Outlook

Lance leter made his presence known in his first season at Nebraska, taking over the starting point guard spot and giving the Huskers a physical presence in the backcourt. Not only did Jeter start every game, but he averaged 7.5 points and 4.1 assists per game and ranked among the Big 12 leaders in both assists and assist-toturnover ratio.

GUARD

At 6-foot-3, 222 pounds, Jeter showed he could handle the rigors of the Big 12 slate, averaging 31 minutes per game. Jeter, who began his career as a wide receiver at Cincinnati, became more of an offensive threat by the end of the season, averaging 10 points and 4.4 assists per game in his last eight contests. With a year of experience, his steady leadership will be vital for the Huskers as they look for improvement this winter.

Bahamas Trip

Jeter keyed Nebraska's perfect trip to the Bahamas, averaging 8.0 points on 57 percent shooting, 2.5 assists and 2.0 steals per game. He turned in his best effort against the Bahamas Select team with 14 points, four assists and three steals off the bench in 20 minutes of action.

2009-10 (Junior)

Jeter was one of only two Huskers to start all 33 games in 2009-10, as he proved to be one of the Big 12's top junior college transfers. A member of the Big 12 All-Newcomer team by the league's sportswriters, Jeter paced NU with 134 assists, finishing eighth in the league with 4.1 assists per game and seventh with a 1.9 assist-to-turnover ratio. Jeter ranked in the top 10 in both categories in league play, ranking seventh (3.8 apg) and sixth (1.7 assist-to-turnover ratio), respectively, in Big 12 action. Jeter's season assist total missed NU's single-season top-10 list by one and ranked fourth all-time among Husker juniors with the most since Cookie Belcher's 138 assists in 1999.

Jeter added 7.5 points and 3.8 rebounds per game while averaging a team-high 31.0 minutes per game. His 1,024 minutes were the second-highest total in a decade, trailing only the 1,125 minutes (36.3 mpg) by Charles Richardson Jr. in 2007.

Jeter, who reached double figures 10 times and led NU in scoring in three games, emerged as more of a scoring threat down the stretch. He averaged 10 points, 4.4 assists and 4.8 rebounds per game over the Huskers' final eight contests, highlighted by a season-high 21 points on 7-for-10 shooting at Iowa State. During that stretch he hit 45.6 percent (26-of-57) from the floor, including 45 percent (9-of-20) from 3-point range. Those percentages were significantly higher than his 41.2 percent from the field and 39.7 percent from 3-point range for the season.

Jeter showcased his ability to distribute early on, dishing six assists in his Husker debut. That was one of 12 games where he had at least five assists. Jeter had a stretch of six straight games with at least five assists, the longest streak by a Husker in the Big 12 era. Jeter's best performance came when he produced his first doubledouble (12 points, 12 assists) at No. 7 Kansas State. The assist total was one off the Nebraska record (13) for a conference game, originally set by Brian Carr in 1987. Jeter's total is believed to be the most assists ever in a regular-season league road game. He closed the season with a flourish, totaling 13 assists in two Big 12 Tournament contests.

Before Nebraska

Jeter arrived at NU after spending two seasons at Polk (Fla.) Community College playing for Coach Matt Furjanic. Jeter guided Polk to a pair of regular-season titles and a 49-12 record. He was listed as the No. 50 prospect on the JucoJunction. com Top 150 in 2009. As a sophomore, Jeter averaged 15.9 points, 5.7 rebounds, 4.6 assists and 2.0 steals per game to lead Polk to a 26-6 mark, including a 12-0 mark in the Suncoast Conference. He was among the top 20 in the region in scoring (20th), assists (15th) and steals (13th). Jeter was an honorable-mention All-American by the National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) in 2009. He was also the Florida Community College Activities Association (FCCAA) Player of the Year and a first-team All-FCCAA pick as a sophomore. The FCCAA is made up of four junior college conferences throughout the state of Florida.

A native of Beaver Falls, Pa., Jeter averaged 16.3 points, 5.8 rebounds and 5.4 assists per game as a freshman. Previously, he spent one year as a scholarship wide receiver on the football team at Cincinnati, where he redshirted.

At Beaver Falls High School, Jeter was a first-team all-state honoree in both football and basketball, earning the honor as both a junior and senior on the hardwood. He averaged 20.4 points per game as a senior, helping Beaver Falls go 27-5 and win the Class AA State title in 2005. During his career, he posted 2,243 career points as a four-year starter while helping Beaver Falls to a 102-19 record, and was twice named to the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette's Fab-5 as one of the top five players in Western Pennsylvania. On the gridiron, he recorded 50 receptions for 810 yards and 15 scores as a senior. He was selected to play in the prestigious Big 33 Football Classic.

Personal

Lance is the son of Joy Jeter and was born July 18, 1988. He has one brother, Ramone Shepard. Lance majors in sociology and is on track to graduate next August.

Jeter's mother, Joy, was also a prominent basketball player, winning the 1987 NCAA Division II national title with the University of New Haven and was named the Final Four MVP. She was a three-time Kodak NCAA Division II All-American and a threetime league player of the year at UNH. She finished as the school's all-time leading scorer (2,299) and rebounder (1,486), ending her college career ranked in the top 10 in scoring (10th) and rebounding (4th) in Division II history. In 2005, the same season Lance won a state title for Beaver Falls High School, Joy was inducted into the Beaver County Sports Hall of Fame. She was a high school basketball star whose teams compiled a 114-10 record, including a state title, while she finished her career as the second-leading scorer in Beaver Falls history (1,691 points).

- ◆ 2009 Las Vegas Classic All-Tournament Team
- Fifth on Nebraska's single-season freshman list in 3-pointers (40) and sixth on NU's single-season 3-point percentage list (43.5 percent)

Outlook

Eshaunte "Bear" Jones (pronounced E-shawn-tay) made a solid contribution as one of the Huskers' top performers off the bench in 2009-10, and will be looking to make a great impact on Nebraska's success this season.

SOPHOMORE | GUARD | 6-4 |

ADMINISTRATION

Jones, who was forced to redshirt following surgery on his left foot and a sports hernia in 2008-09, was one of the Huskers' top long-distance shooters in 2009-10. He ranked second on the team in 3-pointers (40) and 3-point shooting percentage (43.5 percent). Although the 6-foot-4 guard averaged just 6.0 points per game as a redshirt freshman, he showed the ability to score against good teams, as five of his six double-figure efforts came against postseason clubs, including a 21-point performance vs. BYU.

The Fort Wayne, Ind., product has always had the ability to fill up the basket during his career, racking up over 1,800 points in his high school career. His shooting ability makes him valuable as NU replaces Ryan Anderson on the wing this season.

Bahamas Trip

Jones helped Nebraska go 4-0 on the Huskers' foreign trip, averaging 7.0 points, 2.5 rebounds and 2.0 assists per game.

2009-10 (Redshirt Freshman) Jones was healthy after missing almost all of the previous season. He averaged 16.9 minutes per contest in 29 games. He averaged 6.0 points, 1.6 rebounds and 1.0 assist per contest, shooting 42.7 percent from the field. The 6-4 guard was one of the Huskers' most prolific 3-point shooters,

Jones' long distance shooting helped him rank sixth on the Huskers' single-season 3-point percentage chart. His average was also the second-highest ever by a Husker freshman. On the year, Jones hit 40 3-pointers to rank second on the team and fifth all-time among Husker freshmen. Jones was also efficient with the ball, holding a nearly 2.2 assist-to-turnover ratio, collecting 29 assists against just 13 turnovers.

His top performance came in the championship of the Las Vegas Classic when he scored a season-high 21 points, one of six double-figure scoring games on the season. Jones hit 6-of-11 shots from the floor against BYU, including 5-of-7 from 3-point range, while adding three rebounds, two assists and a steal in 27 minutes off the bench. In the tournament opener, Jones had 12 points on 4-of-5 shooting, all from 3-point range, in a victory over Tulsa to help him earn all-tournament honors.

Jones made a pair of starts during the season and was one of a school-record five freshmen who made at least one start in 2009-10. He played a career-high 32 minutes against Kansas, hitting four 3-pointers for 12 points. It was one of six games against Big 12 teams that Jones had at least two treys on the season.

2008-09 (Freshman)

Jones was slowed by a foot injury that forced him to take a medical redshirt after four games. He got off to a great start, scoring 16 points on 6-of-9 shooting from the floor, including a pair of 3-pointers, in an exhibition win over Chadron State. The injury limited Jones to just 46 minutes in the regular season before surgery. He scored seven points and hit just 2-of-7 from the floor, over those four contests.

Before Nebraska

Jones originally signed an NLI with Oregon State in the 2007 early signing period. He was released from his commitment following a coaching change, giving the Huskers a chance to sign one of the top playmakers in the prep school ranks. Jones attended Hargrave Military Academy (Va.) for one season following high school. He played only a partial season because of a foot injury, but averaged about 16 points and five rebounds per contest over the first 12 games of the 2007-08 season. His efforts helped Hargrave to a 12-0 start before the team continued on to an undefeated season with a 29-0 record, including winning the National Prep Invitational title.

Jones joined the Hargrave squad after a stellar high school career at Fort Wayne (Ind.) North Side High School. He is the first player to sign with Nebraska from the state of Indiana since Brennon Clemmons before the 2001-02 season, although they are far from alone in representing the Hoosier state while wearing a Husker uniform. Six of Nebraska's 25 1,000-point scorers have come from Indiana, including Carl McPipe (Hammond), Tom Baack (Fort Wayne), Jack Moore (Muncie), Brian Carr (Muncie), Brian Banks (Hammond) and Herschell Turner (Indianapolis).

As a senior, Jones averaged 28 points, six rebounds, five assists and three steals per contest for North Side, ranking third in the state as a senior. He earned a spot on the prestigious Indiana All-Stars team as one of the top 12 players in the state.

A three-time, first-team all-conference selection, Jones finished his career as the school's all-time scoring leader with 1,759 points. He was named the area player of the year by the Fort Wayne News Sentinel and the Journal Gazette and was a McDonald's All-America nominee as a senior. Jones was ranked by Rivals.com as the No. 31 shooting guard nationally and was a four-star recruit by both Rivals. com and Scout.com. Entering his prep school season, Jones was No. 10 nationally on the fifth-year seniors listing by HoopScoopMagazine.com.

Personal

Eshaunte is the son of Tornette Jones, and was born on March 9, 1988. He has two brothers, Juwan and Devin, and a sister, LaKia. Jones chose to sign with the Cornhuskers after being recruited by Kentucky, Cincinnati, West Virginia and Memphis. He majors in sociology at Nebraska.

Outlook

Senior Matt Karn received a medical hardship exemption for the 2010-11 season after missing three seasons in college because of injuries. Karn, who missed his first season at NU after recovering from a knee injury, provides the Huskers with a strong shooter off the bench. He was 3-of-5 from long range in limited time during the 2009-10 season. Karn is the first member of the 2011 senior class to earn his degree, as he received a degree in history in May of 2010, and is currently in graduate school.

Bahamas Trip

Karn saw action in all four games in the Bahamas, averaging 3.3 points per game, including 3-of-11 from 3-point range. He had six points, on a pair of 3-pointers, and an assist in seven minutes of action in the opener. He dished out two assists and added four points in eight turnover-free minutes in the trip finale.

2009-10 (Redshirt Junior)

In his first season on the court for the Huskers, Karn saw action in nine contests (33 minutes) during the non-conference slate, but did not get any playing time during Big 12 action. He was 3-of-5 from the field on the season, with all five of his shots coming from 3-point range. The long-range specialist had 3-pointers against Chicago State, Southern Utah and Southeastern Louisiana. He also added single rebounds vs. Texas-Pan American and SELU while adding assists against Southern Utah and Southeastern Louisiana. Karn had one steal against Southern Utah.

2008-09 (Junior)

Karn redshirted his first season in Lincoln, sitting out the 2008-09 campaign while rehabilitating a knee injury.

Before Nebraska

Karn joined the Husker program after playing at Shawnee (III.) Community College for Coach John Sparks. Karn was outstanding for Sparks in 2006-07 and earned second-team preseason All-America honors from the NJCAA before a leg injury sidelined him for all of the 2007-08 season. He also missed the 2005-06 season at Shawnee with a wrist injury.

PHILPOT, KY. | OHIO COUNTY HS |

During the 2006-07 campaign, Karn averaged 17.5 points per game to rank among the top 50 scorers in NJCAA Division II. He ranked second in the league in 3-point field goals, and had eight games with at least four treys, including twice tying his season high with seven 3-pointers in a contest. Karn was also proficient from the foul line as he ranked 19th in the country by hitting 81.2 percent from the charity stripe.

As a prep, Karn competed at Ohio County (Ky.) High School for Coach Kyle Estes, where Karn averaged 14 points, six rebounds, three assists and nearly two steals per game during his senior campaign. He shot better than 50 percent from the field, 39 percent from behind the arc and 81 percent from the free throw line while helping Ohio County finish the season as region champs with a record of 26-8. Ohio County lost in the first round of the state tournament to the eventual state champion. Individually, Karn earned alldistrict and all-region honors for his efforts.

During AAU play, Karn played for the Derek Smith All-Stars and the Kentucky Kings. He averaged 23 points and eight rebounds per game for Coach Kris Vance and the Derek Smith All-Stars, and added 14 points and five boards per contest for Coach Greg Keown and the Kentucky Kings.

Personal

Matt is the son of Timothy and Patti Karn, and was born Jan. 21, 1987. He has one brother, Christopher. Matt received his degree in May of 2010, and is currently in graduate school at Nebraska.

CAREER HONORS

- Two-time Big 12 Rookie of the Week
- Seventh on Nebraska's single-season freshman list in blocked shots (18).

JUNIOR | GUARD | Outlook

One of the keys for the Huskers in 2010-11 is the health of guard Toney McCray. The junior, who was a two-time Big 12 Rookie of the Week as a redshirt freshman, played in just three games before undergoing Tommy John surgery on his right elbow in November.

The Huskers missed McCray's combination of length, athleticism and shooting range on the wing last year, as the 6-foot-6 guard spent the majority of the season rehabbing after surgery. McCray, who was cleared for practice in May, played on the Huskers' trip to the Bahamas and displayed some of the all-around skills that made him such a threat before the surgery. McCray's ability to harness his tools into being a stronger defender and rebounder will be vital as he challenges for extended playing time on the wing.

Bahamas Trip

McCray returned to action for the first time since elbow surgery on the team's trip to the Bahamas. He averaged 6.8 points and 3.0 rebounds per game, while ranking third on the team with 1.8 assists per game. His best game came in the opener when he had 10 points on 4-of-7 shooting, six rebounds and four assists.

2009-10 (Sophomore)

McCray played in just three regularseason games before having surgery to fix the UCL in his left elbow. In his three appearances, McCray averaged 6.3 points and 4.0 rebounds per contest while hitting 53.3 percent (8-of-15) from the field. He was 2-of-4 from 3-point range and added two assists and a steal while playing 18.7 minutes per game. His best game came against Saint Louis when he had nine points and eight rebounds.

2008-09 (Redshirt Freshman)

During his rookie season, McCray averaged 5.7 points and 2.8 rebounds per game. He hit a solid 45.4 percent (69-of-152) from the floor, including 34.5 percent (10-of-29) from long range.

McCray opened with a flurry, scoring 17 points in a season-opening win over San Jose State. He had an all-around solid game, posting nine boards with a block and an assist for the Huskers. The strong performance helped McCray win his first Big 12 Rookie-of-the-Week award.

MISSOURI CITY, TEXAS

From there, McCray scored in double figures three more times in the nonconference slate, all in a four-game span. He posted 12 points against NCAA Tournament participant Alabama State, 13 at Oregon State and 11 vs. IPFW, hitting 15of-26 shots from the field in that stretch. McCray posted his best long-range shooting performance of the year against IPFW, hitting 3-of-5 from beyond the arc.

McCray's solid play helped him earn three starts at the end of non-conference play, against South Carolina State, Maryland Eastern Shore and Florida A&M. He hit 7-of-15 shots from the floor in that stretch, including posting nine points, four rebounds and a career-best four steals against UMES.

McCray's long arms and extensive reach helped him provide a unique weapon for the Huskers on defense. During the season he posted 24 steals and led the team in blocked shots with 18. His blocks total ranked seventh on the Husker freshman chart, while his steals were 11th, just one behind teammates Brandon Richardson and Ryan Anderson

Despite a dip in playing time early in league action, McCray averaged 17 minutes per game down the stretch while posting several key baskets that helped Nebraska to a .500 record (8-8) in league play for the first time in a decade.

McCray started his strong finishing stretch, hitting three of his field-goal attempts and added a blocked shot in 13 minutes at Colorado. Two of his baskets came late in the game and stopped a pair of Husker scoring droughts, as NU snuck out a 55-53 road victory. In the Huskers' next contest, McCray played a big role in NU's 58-55 win over No. 16 Texas, hitting 4-of-7 shots while grabbing five rebounds and two steals in the upset.

McCray ended the regular season on a high note, earning his second Big 12 Rookie-of-the-Week accolade in the final week of the season. After scoring just four points against Iowa State in the home finale, McCray set a career high with 18 points on 7-of-10 shooting in a road victory over Baylor. He added four boards, two blocks and two steals to give the Huskers their third league road win.

HISTORY

FORT BEND ELKINS HS

McCray sat out his initial season in Lincoln as a redshirt and added more than 15 pounds to his long, wiry frame.

Before Nebraska

McCray came on strong during his senior season and was a fast-rising prospect before becoming the Huskers' final signee in 2007. He averaged 16 points, six rebounds and 2.5 assists per game in 2006-07 for Fort Bend Elkins High School. McCray helped Elkins to a 31-5 record as a senior and a No. 5 ranking in the state. Elkins won the district title and reached the third round of the state tournament.

McCray was named the Most Valuable Player in the district and earned first-team all-district accolades in 2006-07. McCray also earned all-region honors from the Texas Association of Basketball Coaches and was ranked among the top 20 recruits in the state according to texashoops.com.

McCray did not play basketball during his junior season as he was held out while undergoing examinations for a medical condition. The testing was necessary as his older brother, Jason, died from an enlarged heart in 1998 at age 19. Jason was a defensive end on the Navy football team and was on a summer cadet cruise that stopped in Boston where he was playing pickup basketball when he collapsed and passed away.

Personal

Toney is the son of Valda and Tony McCray, and was born on April 13, 1989. He has one sister, Danielle. His cousin is former Nebraska quarterback Steve Taylor. Toney is majoring in history at Nebraska.

After missing his junior season, McCray was not heavily recruited but saw considerable late interest from major programs like Georgia, UConn, Washington State and Baylor before choosing Nebraska.

RISTOPHER NI EM SOPHOMORE | CENTER | 6-11 | 275 | KUHLUNGSBORN, GERMANY | ERDGAS EHINGEN/URSPRINGSCHULE

Outlook

It has been a long wait for the debut of Christopher Niemann (pronounced NEEman). The 6-foot-11, 275-pounder from Kühlungsborn, Germany, is in his third year at Nebraska, but has not logged a minute of playing time as a Husker.

After sitting out the 2008-09 season because of an NCAA ruling on his amateur status while playing in his native Germany, Niemann tore his ACL twice in a six-month span beginning in March of 2009, forcing him to take a redshirt season. He worked diligently in his rehab and was able to return to practice in time for the Huskers' trip to the Bahamas in August.

Niemann gives the Huskers additional size in the frontcourt, as well as a skilled low-post threat. His addition, along with newcomer Andre Almeida, could make the Husker front line the deepest it has been in Doc Sadler's five years at Nebraska. Niemann will be eased into the lineup, as he gets used to the speed of Division I basketball and continues to return to full health.

Bahamas Trip

Niemann returned to competition for the first time since his knee surgery, and averaged 5.5 points, 1.3 rebounds and a team-high 0.8 blocks per game on the trip. His best performance came on the final day of the trip when he hit 4-of-6 shots from the floor en route to nine points in 18 minutes of action.

2009-10 (Sophomore)

Niemann had hopes of seeing the first action of his Nebraska career in 2009-10, as he was expected to be a key frontcourt player -- and possible starter -- for the Huskers. Those plans were put on hold in late August as he suffered the second ACL tear of his short career during a nonbasketball conditioning session, forcing him to miss the entire season.

2008-09 (Freshman)

Niemann was unable to play because of an NCAA ruling on his amateur status while playing in his native Germany. He practiced with the team throughout the fall and all of the regular season and gave the Nebraska scout team a large target in the paint. His presence - and height - would have been valuable for the shortest team in Division I, as he made a favorable impression on his coaches and teammates. Unfortunately, Niemann's progress was hindered as he suffered a torn ACL during the last week of the regular season that required surgery. His rehabilitation went well until late August when he tore the same ACL for the second time in six months.

He was named to the Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll during his first semester at Nebraska in the fall of 2008.

MEDIA

Before Nebraska

Niemann signed with the Cornhuskers in November of 2007 and was one of two scholarship newcomers for the 2008-09 campaign. After signing with the Huskers, Niemann put on nearly 30 pounds of muscle to his frame before arriving in Lincoln

Niemann played with Erdgas Ehingen/ Urspringschule where he made solid contributions as he hit nearly 50 percent from the field and averaged about five points and five rebounds per game. He helped the team to a 16-16 record in the 2007-08 season.

A year earlier, Niemann helped Urspringschule win the under 19 national championship. During the regular season, Niemann averaged 9.8 points per game, but caught fire in the playoffs, helping the team with 14.8 points and 8.0 rebounds per contest while advancing to the championship. When Niemann found his offensive rhythm, he helped the squad to an 11-1 record as they earned the first of two straight titles for the school.

Niemann is a native of Kühlungsborn, Germany. He was the second international player recruited by Sadler in three years and will be the fourth foreign-born player to compete for Sadler during his time in Lincoln.

Personal

Christopher is the son of Katrin Niemann, and was born on Dec. 9, 1988. Niemann is majoring in computer science engineering at Nebraska.

RICHARDSON'S CAREER STATS

JUNIOR | GUARD | 6-0 | 190 | LOS ANGELES, CALIF. | HAWTHORNE HS

REVIEW

Outlook

The veteran of the Husker roster, Brandon Richardson is also one of Nebraska's most versatile backcourt performers. The 6-foot combo guard is a steady performer who can impact the game on both ends of the court.

Richardson has played in a team-high 58 games over the last two years, and is considered one of the team's best defenders. He is also on pace to reach the 100-steal plateau by the end of the 2010-11 campaign.

He enters his junior year as a career 82.4 percent shooter from the foul line, and needs 68 attempts to be eligible for NU's career free throw percentage chart.

Last year, he was relied on more as an offensive threat, ranking second on the team with 8.9 points per game, including a career-high 19-point effort against Missouri at the Big 12 Tournament.

Bahamas Trip

Richardson helped the Huskers post a perfect 4-0 mark in the Bahamas, averaging 3.5 points and a team-high 3.8 assists per game. He had a 3-to-1 assist-to-turnover ratio on the trip, while hitting 50 percent of his shots from the floor in four games.

2009-10 (Sophomore)

Richardson was one of four Huskers who made at least 15 starts on the season, ranking second on the team with 8.9 points per game. He also chipped in 2.7 rebounds, 1.8 assists and 1.1 steals per game in 24 minutes per contest.

Richardson, who reached double figures in points 13 times, ranked among team leaders in points (276, 2nd), steals (35, 2nd), field-goal percentage (45.6, 2nd) 3-pointers (27, 3rd) and assists (56, 4th), while shooting a team-high 82.5 percent (85-of-103) from the charity stripe to finish fifth in the league.

He became more of a focal point in the offense in Big 12 play, raising his scoring average to 9.3 ppg, including seven double-figure efforts. He posted a then-career-high 18 points against No. 3 Kansas at home, hitting 5-of-6 shots from the floor and all five attempts from the charity line. He also had 16 points in a win over Oklahoma and added 15 points at No. 7 Kansas State and in a victory over Texas Tech. He closed the regular season with a 16-point effort on 5-of-7 shooting at Oklahoma State.

Richardson saved his best for the Big 12 Tournament, establishing a career high with 19 points to help the Huskers knock off No. 5 seed Missouri. He hit 6-of-8 shots from the field in addition to his five free throw attempts and tied his career high with seven boards to lead Nebraska to the 15-point victory. It marked just the second time that the No. 12 seed won a first-round game in the Big 12 Tournament.

2008-09 (Redshirt Freshman)

Richardson enjoyed a solid first season on the court, averaging 4.1 points and 1.3 rebounds per game in 15.3 minutes per game. Despite a shoulder injury that limited him at the start of Big 12 play, he shot 40 percent from the field, including 31.4 percent from 3-point range. He was second on the team at the foul line, hitting 82.1 percent (32-of-39) of his free throws.

He also made a name for himself on the defensive end, gaining a reputation as one of the team's top man-to-man defenders. Richardson helped the Huskers lead the Big 12 and rank in the top 25 nationally in scoring defense. He finished with 25 steals, which ranked ninth on NU's freshman list, including six games with at least two steals.

Richardson started on a strong note, averaging more than 18 minutes and six points per game over his first four games, including a nine-point effort against Arkansas-Pine Bluff. After a slump in December, he regained his shooting touch after the New Year, hitting 5-of-9 shots, including a pair of 3-pointers, while adding four assists and two steals in the final two games before Big 12 play. In NU's final non-conference game against Florida A&M, Richardson hit two shots in his first 11 minutes, but suffered a shoulder injury that forced him to miss the next four games. He returned against Oklahoma State, hitting 2-of-3 shots, including a pair of 3-pointers, in an overtime loss before enjoying a breakout performance at Texas Tech. In that game, he drained a trio of 3-pointers and hit 4-of-5 shots en route to an 11-point day in a road win. Richardson posted his second double-figure road effort at nationally ranked Missouri with 12 points, including a pair of 3-pointers, and added four rebounds, an assist and a steal.

Richardson redshirted during his first season in Lincoln.

Before Nebraska

Richardson helped Hawthorne High School and Coach Mike Rios to 36 wins over his final two seasons. A two-time firstteam all-state performer by the state high school coaches association, Richardson also earned Nike All-America honors as a senior.

A three-year starter, Richardson garnered all-conference accolades four times in his career, including earning firstteam honors each of his last three seasons. Richardson was also named the league's most valuable player, and was an all-area and All-California Interscholastic Federation (CIF) first-team selection after leading his squad to the playoffs as a senior. In the first round of the state playoffs, Richardson scored a career-high 38 points and came back to add 31 points in the second round.

He averaged 20.4 points and 7.0 rebounds per game in 2006-07 while topping the 2,000-point scoring plateau. Richardson, who scored 20 or more in 13 of his 28 games as a senior, was an immediate contributor for Hawthorne beginning in his freshman year, and exploded onto the scene as a junior when he posted 22.5 points, 5.5 rebounds, 3.7 assists and 3.0 steals per game. He helped Hawthorne to a 19-10 overall record that season, including a perfect 10-0 mark in league action. It was the first time in school history that the team went undefeated in league play and the first conference title since 1991.

Personal

Brandon is the son of Denise and Gentry Richardson, and was born on Dec. 31, 1988. He has one brother, Trey. Brandon is majoring in sociology at Nebraska.

Richardson, who was one of three high school players to sign in Coach Doc Sadler's first fall recruiting class, was heavily recruited by several West Coast schools before signing with Nebraska.

CHRISTIAN STANDHARDINGER SOPHOMORE | FORWARD | 6-9 | 215 | MUNICH, GERMANY | ERDGAS EHINGEN/URSPRINGSCHULE

One of the more intriguing returnees for the Huskers is forward Christian Standhardinger. The sophomore showed the ability to slash to the basket and finish as well as a soft touch that extends to 3-point range during his freshman year.

Standhardinger, who didn't make his Husker debut until the start of Big 12 play, averaged 8.1 points and 3.8 points per game to rank fourth on the team in scoring. The 6-9 forward showed the ability to get to the basket, leading NU in free throw attempts in Big 12 action despite averaging just 16 minutes per game. He moved into the starting lineup down the stretch, averaging 12 points and 8.4 rebounds per game over his final five games, highlighted by a 25-point, eight-rebound performance at Iowa State.

Bahamas Trip

Standhardinger paced the Huskers to a 4-0 mark on their foreign tour, averaging team highs in both points (15.5) and rebounds (7.5). He hit 54 percent of his shots from the floor and also converted 17-of-23 from the foul line. Standhardinger had 13 rebounds and 11 points in a win over the Bahamas Select team and finished with 22 points on 10-of-13 shooting in the final game of the trip.

2009-10 (Freshman)

Standhardinger got a late start to his freshman year, as he was forced to sit out the first 15 games of the season (all of the non-conference slate) as a result of an NCAA amateurism ruling and did not make his debut until the Big 12 opener at Texas A&M on Jan. 9. Once he got on the court, Standhardinger made a solid impact as a rookie, averaging 8.1 points and 3.8

rebounds per game while hitting 40.9 percent from the field and 37.5 percent from long range. He also was one of the team's top free throw shooters, hitting 78.3 percent while getting to the line more times than any Husker in conference action.

Standhardinger made a solid debut, collecting 13 points and grabbing seven rebounds at Texas A&M. He hit 4-of-7 shots from the floor, including a 3-pointer that gave NU the lead midway through the second half. The effort was one of five double-figure scoring games for Standhardinger as a freshman. It was also one of six games with at least five rebounds, including four of his last five contests of the season.

After posting 14 points, including hitting 8-of-9 at the free throw line, against Colorado, Standhardinger recorded just 32 points over the next seven games before exploding for 25 points at Iowa State. He hit 9-of-17 shots against the Cyclones, including a pair of 3-pointers, and added a career-best eight rebounds in his first career start. His scoring total was the ninth highest by a freshman in school history and the most ever in the first career start by a freshman. The impressive effort against ISU was the beginning of a strong finish to his season, as he averaged 12.0 points and 5.4 rebounds per game over his last five contests. Standhardinger hit 45.9 percent from the field and 81.5 percent (22-of-27) from the charity stripe in that span while adding 1.2 assists and 1.0 steals per game.

Before Nebraska

Standhardinger came to Nebraska from Erdgas Ehingen, the same school that produced Husker center Christopher Niemann. In 2008-09, Standhardinger averaged a stellar 22.2 points, 8.5 rebounds, 2.1 assists and 1.6 steals over 26 games. He hit 54.7 percent (151-of-276) from the floor, including 40.6 percent (43of-106) from beyond the arc.

On the year, Standhardinger topped 25 points seven times while posting at least 20 points in 21-of-26 contests. He was named the league's Youngster of the Month on two occasions and once was the Player of the Month. In possibly his most impressive game of the year, Standhardinger posted a season-best 41 points against Speyer when he hit 11-of-19 from the field with five 3-pointers while draining 14-of-16 at the charity stripe. He also added 13 rebounds in the contest. Standhardinger also had game highs of 16 rebounds, eight assists and six steals in 2008-09. His 16 boards and eight assists came in the same game against Freiburg, when he hit 8-of-17 from the floor to post 22 points.

The previous year, Standhardinger averaged 17.1 points and 7.4 rebounds per game for Ehingen while hitting 47.3 percent from the floor. Standhardinger came to the United States with the same Urspringschule squad as Niemann that played in the Arby's Classic in Bristol, Tenn., in the winter of 2007-08. Standhardinger led the team to a fourth-place finish in the tournament and was the only player from his team named to the all-tournament squad. In the finale of the 2008 U19 German Championship, he scored 37 points and posted 12 rebounds. He also earned top scorer honors at the Europe's Best Junior Tournament in 2007 and was the MVP of the German Top 4 in 2007.

A year earlier while playing for Urspringschule, he scored a career-best 52 points in a contest against Ulm, as he hit 19-of-21 shots in the game. Later that season, he posted a career-high 22 rebounds against Mittlehessen. He averaged 7.1 points and 2.5 rebounds per game in his first year at Urspringschule while hitting 53.9 percent from the field and 66.2 percent at the line. Standhardinger was also a member of the German Junior National Team, where he averaged 8.0 points and 2.0 rebounds per game at the 2007 U18 European Championships. He posted his best games with 16 points on 6-of-8 shooting against Israel and added 15 points with five rebounds against Russia in back-to-back games.

Personal

Christian is the son of Elizabeth and Gunter Standhardinger and was born on July 4, 1989. He has twin sisters, Kristin and Kathrin. Christian majors in business management at Nebraska.

While Christian was born and raised in Germany, his mother is originally from the Philippines, making him one of only a handful of Division I basketball players of Filipino heritage.

Both Kristin and Kathrin Standhardinger competed in volleyball at the collegiate level, playing at Armstrong Atlantic State University in Georgia. Both players earned AVCA Division II All-Southeast Region honors in 2009.

Outlook

With a year of experience under his belt, Brandon Ubel (pronounced YOU-bell) has the potential to play an important role for the Huskers this season.

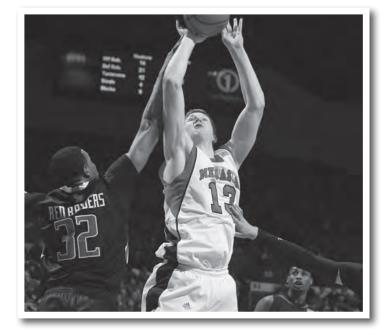

Last year, he was one of five freshmen to play regularly, averaging 4.4 points and 2.0 rebounds per game in 32 contests. His role became more prominent with the season-ending knee injury to Christopher Niemann, forcing Ubel to play extensively in the post. He showed good shooting range for his size, hitting better than 50 percent of his 3-point attempts last year.

With the return of Niemann and the addition of Andre Almeida, Ubel could move out to the four spot, where he could be a tough matchup for opponents with his combination of size, athleticism and shooting touch.

Ubel, who has added 20 pounds since joining the Husker program, flourished in that role on the Huskers' summer trip. He averaged 12.5 points on 62.5 shooting and was the one of two Huskers to finish in double figures all four games.

Bahamas Trip

Ubel was one of the Huskers' breakout performers in the Bahamas, averaging 12.5 points and 4.3 rebounds. He was second on the team in both scoring and shooting percentage (62.5 percent) and third in rebounds while playing a team-high 21 minutes per game. He was one of two Huskers to reach double figures all four games, highlighted by a 15-point, fiverebound, four-steal performance against the Bahamas Select team.

2009-10 (Freshman)

Ubel started 16 contests while playing in all but one game as a true freshman. He was one of three freshman post players to see action and averaged 4.4 points and 2.0 rebounds while playing 15.8 minutes per contest. In fact, Ubel was one of five freshmen to earn a starting assignment during the season and one of a schoolrecord three freshmen to start in a game when he joined Jorge Brian Diaz and Ray Gallegos in the lineup against BYU.

On the season, the youngster hit 41.1 percent (46-of-112) from the field and drained an impressive 52.4 percent (11-of-21) from 3-point range. Ubel also hit a solid 79.6 percent (39-of-49) from the free throw line, the second-highest mark on the team and the top average among the post players

Ubel started his career on a strong note with 12 points and two blocked shots in the season opener against USC Upstate. He hit 4-of-12 shots from the floor while producing one of four double-figure scoring games. Ubel came back four games later to produce 10 points on 4-of-6 shooting in a road win over Pac-10 foe USC, and then added 13 points against Southern Utah.

After struggling through much of the first half of the Big 12 slate, Ubel sparked the Huskers in a narrow loss at No. 1 Kansas and again in a victory over Texas Tech. He posted six points on a pair of 3-pointers to help the Huskers take a four-point lead with less than 16 minutes remaining at Allen Fieldhouse against the Jayhawks. It was one of three games he had a pair of treys. Ubel added a pair of 3s and posted a career-high 14 points in a double-overtime victory against the Red Raiders. Playing a conference-high 20 minutes against TTU, Ubel hit 5-of-6 shots from the field. In the win, Ubel posted three rebounds to help the Huskers to a 52-43 advantage on the glass, the first time the Huskers surpassed the 50-rebound mark in four years. It was one of five times in the last nine games of the year that Ubel had at least three rebounds, after grabbing at least three boards only five times in the first 23 games of his career.

Before Nebraska

Ubel joined the Huskers after a great senior season on the court. He was rewarded by being named one of five players on the Class 6A (largest classification) all-state first team by the Kansas Basketball Coaches Association. Under Coach Donnie Campbell, Ubel earned the accolade after averaging 17.7 points and 7.6 rebounds per game, both team highs and among the conference leaders.

As a senior, Ubel was impressive from the floor, hitting 51 percent inside the arc and an outstanding 80 percent (109-of-136) at the charity stripe. Ranked among the top 80 high school forwards in the country by Scout.com, Ubel showed range that extends out to the 3-point line, where he hit 21-of-64 (33 percent) as a senior. He also added 1.5 blocked shots, 1.5 steals and 1.3 assists per contest as a senior. In fact, he had more than half of the team's blocked shots (33 of 62) and more than a quarter of the team's steals (32 of 116).

As a junior, he helped Blue Valley West to the first round of the state tournament and a 15-8 record while posting nearly 16 points and six rebounds per game. He hit 55 percent from the floor and 88 percent at the charity line. His team also won the Class 6A state title during his sophomore season, posting an 18-7 record.

During the 2008 summer AAU circuit, Ubel began to come into his own, averaging close to 20 points and eight rebounds per game for the Wedman Pumas.

Ubel drew interest from Marquette and Stanford and was offered scholarships from Drake, Illinois State and Utah State before choosing the Huskers. During high school at Blue Valley West, he was an honor roll student and a member of the National Honor Society.

Brandon is the son of Doug and Lynette Ubel and has one sister, Kayla. Brandon was born on Aug. 29, 1991. Ubel is a broadcasting major at Nebraska. He is one of two family members who compete at Nebraska, as his older sister, Kayla, is a middle distance runner for the Husker track and field program.

Outlook

After having the shortest roster in Division I basketball two years ago, the Huskers gained massive size inside with the addition of junior college transfer Andre Almeida (pronounced AL-may-duh).

Almeida's addition, along with the return to health of sophomore center Christopher Niemann, gives Doc Sadler two inside players in the mold of former All-Big 12 performer Aleks Maric.

Almeida, who hails from Sao Paulo, Brazil, starred at Western Arizona College, totaling 795 points, 494 rebounds and 230 blocks in his two seasons at the school. He ranked among the national leaders in both field goal percentage and blocks both seasons. He led the country by shooting 71 percent as a freshman.

Almeida is a skilled big man who uses his size to his advantage in gaining positioning in the post. He also possesses soft hands and the ability to find open players when double teamed. He has worked hard to improve his conditioning and stamina to be ready for the rigors of Division I basketball after having his sophomore season shortened by the removal of his appendix.

Almeida is the fifth international player to sign with the Cornhuskers under Doc Sadler. He joins Niemann, Jorge Brian Diaz and Christian Standhardinger to give the Huskers a heavy foreign influence on the 2010-11 roster.

Before Nebraska

Almeida joined the Huskers in 2010-11 after being one of the top post players -- and one of the largest players overall -- in the junior college ranks the past two years. He averaged 13.7 points, 8.5 rebounds and 4.0 blocks per game in his two-year junior college career at Arizona Western College for Coach Kelly Green.

A 2010 NJCAA Division I third-team All-American, Almeida finished the year by averaging 13.6 points, 9.2 rebounds and 4.5 blocks per contest over 26 games. He ranked seventh nationally in shooting percentage at 67.3 percent (140-of-208) and fifth in blocked shots (4.5 per game) despite sitting out the last six games of the season after having his appendix removed.

A first-team all-league and all-region selection, he led Arizona Western in scoring nine times, including a seasonhigh 30-point effort against Glendale Community College. Almeida totaled 11 double-doubles on the year. Defensively, he had a pair of 15 rebound games and four games with seven or more blocked shots. Almeida also chipped in 57 assists and 29 steals in helping Arizona Western to a 24-8 record, including a 16-point victory over eventual national champion Howard College. The team was ranked as high as 13th nationally before Almeida was sidelined.

Almeida led Arizona Western College to a 26-6 record in 2008-09, including an 18-4 mark in conference action. AWC finished the year ranked 17th nationally in NJCAA Division I.

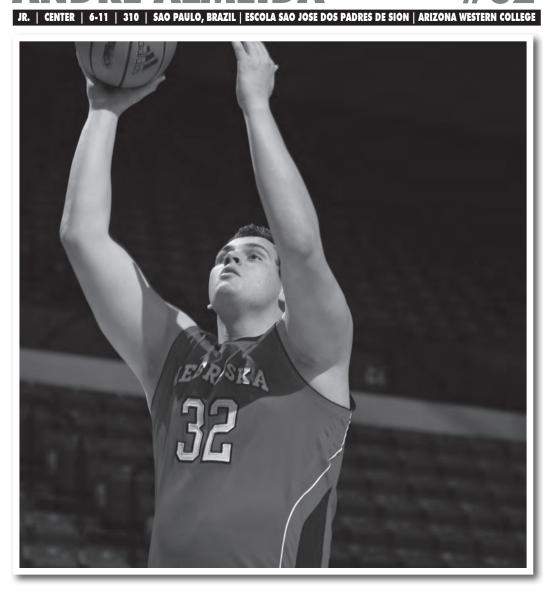

Almeida averaged 13.8 points over 32 games as a freshman while leading the nation in field-goal percentage by hitting an outstanding 71 percent (184-of-261) from the floor. He also led the league in blocked shots with 3.5 per game (112 total) while adding 7.9 rebounds and 1.6 assists per contest.

After finishing with 11 double-doubles on the year, Almeida was honored as a second-team All-American and a first-team all-conference and all-region selection. He was also named the Arizona Community College Athletic Conference Player of the Year. Earlier in the season, Almeida was named the NJCAA Division I Player of the Week on Jan. 19, after averaging 20 points, 12 rebounds and three blocks per game. He hit 81 percent from the field over a two-game stretch.

He attended Escola Sao Jose dos Padres de Sion High School and was a member of the Brazilian Junior National Team. He started for Brazil in the 2009 World University games, averaging 10.6 points per game on 62 percent shooting along with five rebounds and one block per game.

For junior Kamyron Brown (pronounced KAM-er-un), the second time is the charm, as Nebraska was one of his final choices as a high school senior. He now he joins the Husker program after spending two seasons at Oregon. Brown, a 6-foot-2, 170-pounder, provides Nebraska with an experienced point guard who teams with senior Lance Jeter in giving the Huskers a pair of veteran lead guards. Brown led Oregon in assists in both seasons at the school despite averaging fewer than 20 minutes per game in both years. He is also a solid defender who averaged better than a steal per game as a sophomore.

Before Nebraska

Brown signed with Nebraska in April of 2010 after playing two seasons at the University of Oregon and sitting out the 2009-10 basketball season while attending Rancho Santiago (Calif.) College.

A native of Anaheim, Calif., Brown led Oregon in assists as both a freshman and sophomore. He had 94 assists (3.1 apg) as a rookie and added a team-high 69 assists while playing in 31 games during his sophomore campaign. He averaged 4.4 points and 1.6 rebounds over two seasons in the Ducks program.

As a sophomore, Brown had a seasonbest 15 points on 5-of-10 shooting against Saint Mary's, the second straight season he torched the Gaels. It was one of three double-figure scoring nights, including 11 points at both USC and Stanford. Brown hit 3-of-4 shots from 3-point range against the Trojans, his only game with multiple treys. He also posted a career-high tying four steals against Saint Mary's, one of 18 games with multiple steals in his two-year stint at Oregon.

During his second season with the Ducks, Brown found a better shooting touch from long range and the charity stripe. He hit 34.3 percent (12-of-35) from beyond the arc in 2008-09 after hitting just 25.8 percent in his rookie season. He also saw his free throw percentage rise from 57.4 percent (35-of-61) to 75.9 percent (44-of-58) from his first to second collegiate season.

He played in all 30 contests, including eight starts, as a freshman in 2007-08, ranking in the top 10 in the Pac-10 in assistto-turnover ratio (1.36-to-1). His best game as a freshman came against Saint Mary's when he totaled a career-high 20 points.

Brown's 20-point effort against Saint Mary's came just three days after posting his first career double-double with 10 points and 10 assists against Portland. His 10 assists were a career high at Oregon and one of seven games with at least six assists. Brown added 11 points against San Francisco for his third straight double-figure scoring game before posting just two more the rest of the season.

Before joining the Ducks, Brown played for Coach Gary McKnight at Mater Dei High School. Brown led the team to consecutive state title game appearances, including a 33-4 mark and a CIF State Division II title. Mater Dei was ranked 10th in the nation by USA Today during his senior year.

He was rated as the best point guard in the state by Rivals.com and the No. 18 in the country. Scout.com listed Brown as the top point guard on the West Coast. He averaged 10 points, eight assists and six rebounds per game as a junior, as Mater Dei went 33-3 and finished ranked No. 25 nationally.

Personal

Kamyron is the son of Charlotte and Myron Brown, and was born on June 22, 1988. He has one sister, Tesia, and two brothers, Kyle and Myron. His uncle is Miles Simon, who was the Most Outstanding Player of the 1997 NCAA Final Four when Arizona defeated Kentucky for the national championship. Kamyron is majoring in sociology at Nebraska.

The addition of junior college transfer Caleb Walker gives the Huskers more flexibility and athleticism at the wing spot. The 6-foot-4, 205-pound junior was a first-team NJCAA All-American last season at Butler County Community College, averaging 16.4 points and 8.0 rebounds per game to help Butler CC to the 2010 NJCAA Tournament.

Walker showed some of his abilities during the Huskers' summer trip to the Bahamas, averaging 11.5 points and 4.5 rebounds per game, while showing the ability to score in transition as well as hit the outside shot.

Walker, who also played football as a freshman at Butler County, is the second first-team junior college All-American signed at Nebraska by Coach Doc Sadler, joining former South Plains (Texas) standout Steve Harley, who was a two-year starter at Nebraska and played professionally in Europe.

Bahamas Trip

Walker enrolled at Nebraska for the summer session, allowing him to join the team's trip to the Bahamas. He averaged 11.5 points and 4.5 rebounds per game, ranking third on the squad in both points and rebounds, while hitting 67 percent of his shots from the field. Walker finished in double figures in three of the four games, including a 16-point effort in the opener on 7-of-8 shooting.

Before Nebraska

Walker spent two seasons at Butler Community College under Coach Mike Bargen, helping the school to 58 wins and the first Jayhawk West Conference championship since 2001.

Walker was one of the top junior college players in the nation in 2010, leading Butler CC to a 29-7 record, a No. 15 national ranking and the school's first appearance in the NJCAA National Tournament since 1996.

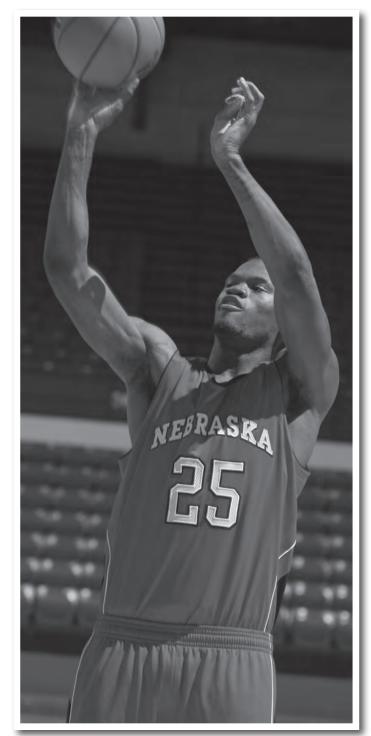

He was one of 10 NJCAA first-team All-Americans, becoming the program's first All-American since 1999. He also earned Jayhawk West Conference Player-of-the-Year and Region VI Player-of-the-Year ALEB WALKER honors. Walker was named the Region VI Tournament MVP after posting a seasonhigh 26 points and nine boards in the title game. He showed his versatility in the opening game of the national tournament, finishing with 18 points, nine rebounds and eight assists in a 84-81 loss to Wallace (Ala.) State.

On the season, Walker averaged 16.4 points and 8.0 rebounds per game while hitting better than 53 percent from the field. He also connected on nearly 38 percent of his attempts from 3-point range, better than 71 percent at the charity stripe while ranking second on the squad in both assists and steals. In conference action, Walker ranked third in the league in scoring (16.8 ppg) and paced the Jayhawk West in rebounding (9.7 rpg). He was also among the top five in field-goal percentage (51.9) while helping the Bulldogs win 16 of 17 games before heading into the national tournament.

He was named the NJCAA Player of the Week on Jan. 19, after collecting a pair of double-doubles - two of his nine doubledoubles on the season. Walker produced nine 20-point contests as a sophomore as Butler recorded its most victories in nearly 15 years.

As a freshman in 2008-09, Walker was an honorable-mention all-league performer, averaging 9.7 points and 4.6 rebounds per game. He was named the Jayhawk Conference Player of the Week on Jan. 20, averaging 20.5 points and 6.0 rebounds in two games, including a career-best 29 points against Hutchinson Community College.

He began his career playing both football and basketball at Butler CC before turning his full attention to the basketball court. Walker, who moved to Hutchinson from Kansas City at 13, starred in both sports, helping Hutchinson High School to four straight state titles as a linebacker. On the basketball court, he was a secondteam all-state honoree by the Topeka Capital Journal, averaging 19.1 points, 9.7 rebounds and 2.0 steals per game as a senior.

Outlook

Freshman Kye Kurkowski is one of three freshmen who walked on to the Husker basketball team for the 2010-11 campaign. He will provide additional size and depth in practice and is expected to use the year to add strength on a wiry 6-10, 200-pound frame. Kurkowski is an intriguing prospect, as he averaged nearly four blocked shots per game as a senior in high school.

Before Nebraska

Kurkowski was a standout player for Coach Shawn Cole at Perkins County High School, a Class C-2 school in Grant, Neb.

Kurkowski was a first-team allconference and all-district performer as a senior, averaging 12.9 points, 9.2 rebounds and 3.9 blocks per game in 2009-10. He reached double figures in rebounding in 11 of 21 games as a senior and had five games with at least six blocked shots.

His best performance as a senior came in a 27-point performance against Dundy County, when he hit 11-of-14 shots from the floor and added 11 rebounds and a pair of steals. He also had a triple-double against Chase County with 18 points, 11 rebounds and 10 blocked shots.

He became a full-time starter during his junior campaign, when he averaged 8.6 points, 8.2 rebounds and 3.5 blocked shots per game.

In addition to his basketball exploits, he lettered four times in football and three years in track, giving him 10 varsity letters. Kurkowski was an accomplished student, finishing his career with a 4.0 GPA and ranking in the top five in his senior class. He was an academic all-state selection by the Lincoln Journal Star and was a member of the High Honor Roll at Perkins County.

a freshman, logging just 23 minutes of action over seven contests, but grabbed six rebounds in that stretch.

He spent his senior year at Van Buren High School in Fort Smith playing for Coach Randy Loyd. Parker averaged 12 points and nine rebounds per game in his only year at the school, earning first-team 7A Central Conference honors.

In all, he played three years of basketball, as he played at Southside High School in Fort Smith during his sophomore and junior seasons.

Parker also performed well in the classroom, earning National Honor Society honors and graduating in the top 40 of his class.

Personal

Marshall is the son of Kyle and Renee Parker and was born on April 3, 1991. He has one brother, Christian. Parker is a premedicine major at Nebraska.

Outlook

Bo Spencer joined the Husker program in August of 2010 after transferring from LSU. A two-year starter for the Tigers, Spencer will sit out this season under NCAA transfer guidelines and will have one year of eligibility remaining. He will provide the Huskers an experienced presence in the backcourt, as he helped the Tigers to an SEC title during the 2008-09 season, and averaged 9.3 points per game during his three seasons at LSU.

Before Nebraska

Spencer became more of an offensive threat during his junior season at LSU, ranking 15th in the SEC with 14.5 points per game while also dishing out 2.7 assists and hauling in 2.5 rebounds per contest.

BO SPENCER SENIOR | GUARD | 6-2 | 193 | BATON ROUGE, LA. | GLEN OAKS HS | LSU

He was among the SEC leaders in minutes (36.2 per game) and free throw percentage (83.9 percent), hitting on 99-of-118 shots from the charity stripe.

Spencer was second on the team in scoring and assists, while pacing the team with 61 3-pointers. He had 11 games of at least 20 points in 2009-10, including a 28-point performance against Western Kentucky in a second round win in the Preseason NIT. He also put up 25 points in consecutive games against Kentucky and Tennessee.

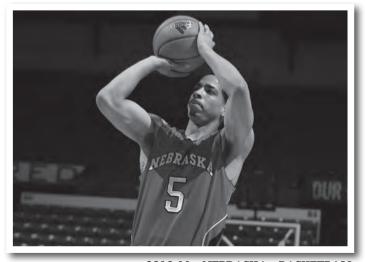

Spencer became the starter at point guard as a sophomore, starting 32 games for an LSU team that went 27-8 and lost to eventual national champion North Carolina in the second round of the 2009 NCAA Tournament. He averaged 11.4 points, 2.9 rebounds and 2.6 assists per game for the SEC regular-season champions while averaging 31.2 minutes per contest. Spencer totaled 20 double-figure performances, including a season-high 21 points against Jackson State and Arkansas, when he went 5-for-6 from 3-point range. He dished out 87 assists on the season, including a pair of six-assist games, and connected on 40.3 percent of his 3-point attempts on the year.

As a freshman, he played in 30 contests, averaging 3.4 points and 1.2 rebounds per game. He totaled double figures in four contests, including a 14-point performance against Arizona State when he hit 4-of-8 shots from 3-point range, in the Maui Invitational.

He was one of the top high school players in Louisiana for Coach Harvey Adger at Glen Oaks High School. He led the school to a pair of Class 4A state titles. As a senior, he was an all-state performer who averaged 26 points, seven assists and four rebounds a game, while totaling over 2,000 career points.

Personal

Bo is the son of John and Vanessa Spencer and was born on March 2, 1989. He has one brother, John, and two sisters, Tonya and Tamara. Bo majors in sociology at Nebraska.

Outlook

The only Lincoln native on the 2010-11 roster, Jordan Tyrance is an athletic guard who walked on to the roster this fall after playing at Lincoln Southwest High School. A three-sport standout in high school, Tyrance will provide depth in the backcourt, as he transitions to the college ranks.

The Tyrance name is a familiar one to Husker fans, as his father (Patrick) was an All-Big Eight linebacker and his mother (Renita Robinson) won an NCAA title as a Husker triple jumper during her collegiate career.

Before Nebraska

Tyrance was a two-year starter at Lincoln Southwest High School for Coach GUARD LINCOLN, NEB. | SOUTHWEST HS 195

Duane Baack. Tyrance averaged nearly a double-double as a senior, averaging 11.1 points and 8.2 rebounds per game, ranking among the Class A (largest class) leaders in rebounding. He also averaged 2.2 steals per game to earn first-team All-Heartland Conference honors and honorable-mention all-state accolades from both major papers in the state. He had a 27-point performance against Norfolk and grabbed 13 rebounds against Lincoln East. During his junior campaign, he was a part-time starter for Lincoln Southwest, which went 22-3 and lost in the state championship game. He averaged seven points and four rebounds per game and was an honorable-mention all-state performer for his efforts.

Tyrance was a three-sport performer in high school, starting at wide receiver and strong safety in football, while competing in track and field, where he placed third in the state as a senior in the triple jump after finishing fourth as a junior.

Tyrance, who spent his freshman and sophomore years at Parkview Christian High School, was a strong performer in the classroom. He earned academic all-state honors on six occasions and was a member of the National Honor Society at Lincoln Southwest.

Personal

Jordan is the son of Renita Robinson and Patrick Tyrance Jr., and was born on Oct. 31, 1992. He has one brother, Patrick. Jordan's mother, Renita, was an NCAA champion in the triple jump in 1989 and won four conference titles during her career at Nebraska. His father, Patrick, was a three-year starter in football, earning All-Big Eight honors as a junior and senior. He was also a two-time CoSIDA Academic All-American and was inducted into the CoSIDA Academic All-America Hall of Fame in 2009.

DOC SADLER

HEAD COACH | FIFTH YEAR | ARKANSAS, 1982 | RECORD AT NEBRASKA: 70-58

When visitors come to the Bob Devaney Sports Center this winter, they will see the framework for the new Hendricks Training Complex. The structure, which will be the practice facility for the Huskers when it opens in the fall of 2011, is the byproduct of people working toward a common goal to build long-term success. For Coach Doc Sadler, there is a similar process underway within the Nebraska basketball team, as the fifth-year mentor continues to build the Huskers into a program that can enjoy sustained success at both the conference and national level.

Sadler's drive and passion to build a successful program has placed Husker basketball on a winning course. Nebraska never had a coach that pushed the Huskers to at least 17 victories in each of his first three years on the sideline until Sadler arrived in Lincoln before the 2006-07 season. Since then, the energetic and engaging head coach has done his best 'everyman' impression to lift the Huskers into the national spotlight.

Sadler has prodded his Nebraska teams to 70 victories, the second-most wins by an NU coach in his first four years. Twice in that span, he has gotten enough out of his team to reach the postseason. But it's been in the National Invitation Tournament (NIT) each of those years, and while he'll say it's an honor to be in that prestigious elder tourney, it's in the NCAA Tournament, yearin and year-out, that he wants his squad.

That determination Sadler has shown serves his program and his players well. In six seasons as a Division I head coach, his teams have averaged nearly 20 wins per year, leaving him with a .608 winning percentage (118-76 record). As a head coach, his teams have posted winning marks in 10 of his 11 years on the sideline, while seven squads have won at least 20 games. Overall, he owns a 238-115 (.674) career record as a college head coach.

The find-a-way-to-win attitude has been the cornerstone for Sadler's coaching career since he got into the profession in the early 1980s at Arkansas. It's a career that includes an outstanding resume over the past 25-plus years, which highlighted with him being named the 26th head coach in Nebraska history on Aug. 8, 2006.

During his coaching tenure, Sadler has been associated with 13 postseason teams in 18 seasons, including four times in six years as head coach at this level. He has helped 19 players reach the pinnacle of their sport – the National Basketball Association -- and he personally recruited eight of those players.

Sadler's success comes as much from his background as it does from his work ethic.

He has an all-star coaching heritage dating back to his home state school, Arkansas, with future Hall of Fame Coach Eddie Sutton. That puts Sadler in the same coaching family under Mr. Henry Iba, a legend and Hall of Famer in his own right. And while Sadler served one year as an assistant and two years as head coach at UTEP, he gleaned knowledge from yet another legend of the college game, Hall of Famer Don Haskins, who won the national title with the first all-black starting lineup at Texas Western (now UTEP) in 1966.

Alongside Sadler's tradition of success, his other impressive personal traits – the charismatic personality, energy, passion and workmanlike approach to winning – made it easy for Sadler to build excitement around the Husker program in a short time in Lincoln.

In four seasons, Sadler has rebuilt the Cornhuskers from the ground up. Not only is the roster filled with more athleticism and natural ability than in recent years, but Sadler and the Husker basketball program have created interest in the program not seen for quite a while. The facts state as much:

◆ The Huskers have posted a pair of appearances in the National Invitation Tournament, as Sadler is just the second Nebraska coach in history to lead his team to two postseason berths in his first three seasons on the sideline.

◆ With a win in the 2008 Postseason NIT, Sadler led Nebraska to just the 12th 20-win season in program history and first since 1999.

◆ The Cornhuskers finished the 2009 league slate with an 8-8 record, the first .500 conference record by Nebraska in a decade.

◆ Nebraska saw an average of more than 10,000 fans per game in conference home games over each of the last three seasons, the first time league attendance at the Devaney Center averaged five figures since 1998, which is the last year the Huskers reached the NCAA Tournament.

◆ Attendance has gone up 22 percent in his four years as head coach over the previous four-year span. The Huskers averaged 10,877 fans in their eight conference home games in 2009-10, their highest total this decade.

◆ Nebraska ranked among the nation's elite defensive teams in two of the past three seasons, finishing 18th and 22nd, respectively, in 2007-08 and 2008-09.

◆ In 2008-09, the Huskers led the Big 12 in scoring defense, including leading teams in conference-only games by more than three points per contest.

Sadler was also the only coach in program history to post at least 17 wins in each of his three seasons on the Husker sideline. He reached that mark despite Nebraska being picked to finish ninth or lower in the preseason polls each year. That's a true Sadler trademark -- getting the most out of his players every time they step on the floor.

In 2009-10, the Huskers put the youngest team in the Big 12 on the floor, as seven of their 11 active scholarship players were freshmen and sophomores. Although the team struggled to a 15-18 record after losing a pair of projected starters to season-ending injuries, the building blocks for future success were evident. Despite playing a schedule that included 18 contests against postseason qualifiers, Sadler's freshman class accounted for nearly 40 percent of the Huskers' scoring and 36 percent of NU's rebounding. Nebraska was in nearly every game, having a lead or within two possessions of the lead in the final eight minutes in eight of their 15 losses to conference opponents (including the Big 12 Tournament). The Huskers won two of their final five games, including a 15-point victory over fifth-seeded Missouri in the Big 12 Tournament in Kansas City, becoming just the second No. 12 seed to win an opening-round game.

Following the season, seniors Ryan Anderson and Sek Henry received their degrees, as 10 of 12 seniors who have completed eligibility at Nebraska have left with their degrees.

Nebraska opened the 2008-09 campaign with hopes of continuing the momentum gained the previous season and did well to meet those lofty goals. The Huskers posted 18 more wins, including a solid 8-8 mark in league play that left them one game out of fourth place in the final conference standings. The Huskers faced 12 teams that reached the postseason (16 games), earning six wins including victories over Elite Eight performer Missouri and nationally ranked Texas at home. Overall, five of those opponents went on to win at least one game in the postseason.

Nebraska solidified its postseason spot by forging the best scoring defense in the league at 60.4 points per game, the secondbest mark at NU in the last 50 years. The Huskers' second straight NIT appearance marked the first time in a decade that Nebraska had played in the postseason in consecutive years. The strong finish also helped several Huskers earn individual honors as Ade Dagunduro was a third-team All-Big 12 selection and an All-Defense Team pick by the coaches. Dagunduro (All-Underrated), Ryan Anderson (All-Defense) and Paul Velander (All-Bench) were picked to postseason squads by the league's soortswriters.

Sadler's second squad in Lincoln earned every one of its 20 victories in 2007-08. Overall, 18 of NU's 33 games were against teams that qualified for the postseason, including 13 against NCAA Tournament squads.

After starting 0-4 in league play including a pair of losses to a top-five Kansas, Sadler showed a steady hand while keeping the program headed in the right direction. Nebraska rebounded to finish 7-5 down the stretch, with only Big 12 co-champions Kansas and Texas holding better records over the final 12 games of league play.

MEDIA

HISTORY

Nebraska suffered a 10-point setback against KU in the Big 12 Tournament despite holding the largest halftime lead over the Jayhawks of any team all year (5 points) and limiting Kansas to its fewest points in any half (22). Kansas went on to win the Big 12 and national titles, while Nebraska finished the season 3-5 against ranked teams, including upsets of No. 16 Oregon, No. 24 Kansas State and No. 22 Texas A&M.

Overall, Sadler owns a 5-12 mark against ranked squads in four years at Nebraska.

The wins over KSU and A&M came in back-to-back games, with the victory over the Aggies in College Station, Texas, marking Nebraska's first road league win over a ranked team since 1999. That was also the last time NU defeated ranked teams in back-to-back games. The Huskers' win over Oregon – one of five victories over teams that qualified for the postseason – was the first ever against a ranked non-conference team outside of Lincoln, as the squads faced off in front of more than 12,000 fans in the Qwest Center in Omaha.

By buying into Sadler's plan, center Aleks Maric and guards Dagunduro and Steve Harley reaped the rewards with postseason accolades. Maric was a 2008 first-team All-Big 12 selection and a firstteam all-district honoree, while Dagunduro and Harley -- both junior college products -- were tabbed to the 2008 Big 12 All-Newcomer Team.

COACHES ADMINISTRATION

STARTING STRONG

Doc Sadler has a history of starting strong. At UTEP, Sadler's first team posted what was then the seventh-highest single-season victories total for a first-year Division I head coach (today it's ninth). At Nebraska, Sadler has helped his first four Husker squads to two postseason appearances and 70 wins, the second-highest win total ever by a fourth-year mentor at NU.

Maric became just the third player in the Big 12 era to record at least 1,600 points and 1,000 rebounds, as he finished fifth all-time in scoring (1,630) and second in rebounding (1,030) at Nebraska. He completed his career with 19 school or conference records before going on to a professional career.

A year earlier, Sadler got up and running quickly when he was hired in August 2006, as he had less than 90 days before the start of fall practice to get his staff in order, finish the schedule and round out the roster, including re-recruiting players from the previous season. As he accomplished each task with resounding success, Sadler's drive and determination rewarded the Husker faithful with immediate dividends, not only on the court but also with a feeling that the program was again headed in a positive direction.

Sadler opened his Nebraska career with five straight wins, including his 50th as a Division I head coach in a victory over nationally ranked Creighton. He went on to guide an undermanned Husker squad to 17 wins, tying for the third-most victories by a first-year coach in Nebraska history.

The Huskers' immediate improvements under Sadler were a direct reflection of his simple approach and ability to get the most out of his players. Sadler demands that his players give maximum effort every time they step on the court – whether in practice or a game. The defensive-minded coach reciprocates by providing players the freedom to create scoring opportunities on the offensive end.

The biggest benefactor of Sadler's creative style in 2006-07 was Maric, who blossomed into arguably the Big 12's top post player. Maric was one of the league's most improved players averaging 18.5 points and 8.7 rebounds per game while hitting a league-high 56.5 percent from the floor.

Maric was far from the only beneficiary of Sadler's savvy coaching. Four other Huskers entered the Nebraska record books in 2007, including seniors Charles Richardson Jr. (third in NU single-season assists) and Marcus Perry (sixth in NU single-season 3-pointers). After posting impressive numbers on the court, Richardson and Perry also became the first Huskers to earn their degrees after playing for Sadler.

Following the season, Sadler was honored to receive an invite to serve as a Trials Team Coach for the 2007 U.S. Under-19 World Championships team, the first stint of his career working with USA Basketball. Selected to the position by his peers, Sadler coached invited participants at the Dallas Mavericks' facilities and helped the coaching staff choose the team that went on to win the silver medal at the 2007 U-19 World Championships.

Before Sadler, 50, brought his engaging personality and hard-nosed basketball style to the Big 12 Conference, he spent two impressive seasons as head coach at Texas-El Paso, where he helped continue the long-standing tradition of success in Miners basketball.

Sadler's UTEP teams boasted 48 victories in his two years as head coach and won 72.7 percent of their games. Including his first season with the Miners as an assistant coach, Sadler helped UTEP to 72 victories over three years, ranking the Miners 20th nationally in victories during that span. The Miners gained three straight postseason appearances with Sadler on the bench.

REVIEW

OPPONENTS

A native of Greenwood, Ark., Sadler made one of the most successful Division I coaching debuts in college basketball history, as his 2004-05 Miners squad ran to an impressive 27-8 record and an NCAA Tournament berth. UTEP won a schoolrecord 14 Western Athletic Conference (WAC) games and its first WAC Tournament title in 15 years to earn the league's automatic bid to the Big Dance.

The 27 wins were one off the UTEP school record. They also put Sadler in rare territory, as the mark still ranks ninth in NCAA history for victories by a first-year Division I coach.

Sadler led UTEP to 21 victories in 2005-06 and an NIT berth, relying on a defense that ranked 15th nationally by allowing only 59.5 points per game. UTEP set a C-USA record by allowing just 56 points per game in conference play in 2005-06, and also allowed teams to hit just 40.6 percent from the floor on the year, the program's best mark since 1974.

While solid defense is a staple of his teams, Sadler understands the need to put creative scorers in a position to flourish. That was especially noticeable in his first UTEP team, as the 2005 Miners set the school record for points scored (2,616, 74.7 ppg), assists (579) and free throw percentage (.792).

Sadler helped two players, Omar Thomas and Filberto Rivera, earn first-team All-WAC honors in 2005, the first time UTEP

RECORDS HISTORY MEDIA had a pair of players on the first squad in 20 years. Thomas also earned MVP honors

20 years. Thomas also earned MVP honors after an outstanding performance at the league tournament. A year later, John Tofi, one of two 1,000-point scorers on the squad, was the third Miner to earn a firstteam all-league certificate under Sadler.

Before taking over as head coach, Sadler was an assistant at UTEP under then-head coach Billy Gillispie in 2003-04 when the Miners made their first NCAA Tournament appearance in more than a decade. Under Gillispie and Sadler, UTEP tied the biggest turnaround in NCAA history that season as it went from six wins the previous year to 24 wins in Sadler's first season assisting the Miners.

Sadler honed his coaching skills in his native state, as he served as a head coach in the junior college ranks for five years at Arkansas-Fort Smith from 1999 to 2003. The success at UTEP should have come as little surprise to anyone who knows Sadler, as he posted a 120-39 record at Fort Smith.

Sadler served two stints as an assistant coach at Arkansas-Fort Smith, first in 1988-91 and then again during the 1997-98 season. He took over as head coach and athletic director in 1998 and served in that capacity until 2003 when he left to join Gillispie at Texas-El Paso.

Sadler's teams won the Bi-State East Conference title each of his last four years at Arkansas-Fort Smith. The 2001 and 2002 NJCAA Region II Coach of the Year, Sadler led the Lions to the region title and an appearance in the NJCAA Tournament while winning 30 games each of those seasons. Off the court, his teams had a 95 percent graduation rate during his tenure and every sophomore over his last two seasons at UAFS was awarded a scholarship to a four-year institution, including eight Division I scholarships.

Honing his administrative and fundraising skills, Sadler oversaw a department that posted a 72.4 winning percentage across all sports under his guidance while he also spearheaded efforts to build a new basketball arena for the university.

Considered by many to be a tremendous tactician and strategist, Sadler is equally as impressive on the recruiting paths. Sadler has signed eight players who have gone on to play in the NBA, including Michael Batiste, Tony Battie, Cory Carr, Mark Davis, Darvin Ham, Eddie House, Maurice Jeffers and Jason Sasser.

COACHES ADMINISTRATION

Sadler has also coached 11 other players who reached the NBA -- Greg Anderson, Mario Bennett, Randy Brown, Isaac Burton, Byron Irvin, Joe Klein, Andrew Lang, Ron Riley, Alvin Robertson, Darrell Walker and Rickie Winslow. Overall, Sadler's total is an impressive 19 former pupils who reached the highest level of professional basketball.

Sadler, who pulled in a top-25 recruiting class in 2007 in his first full season recruiting for Nebraska, has a unique ability to build relationships and then develop players both on and off the court. Along with his NBA pupils and all-conference picks, Sadler has seen his players succeed in the classroom, including 10 Huskers on the 2007-08 team who earned at least a 3.0 grade-point average in the first semester. In all, 10 of his 12 seniors who have completed their eligibility at Nebraska have received their degree, including all four of the 2009-10 seniors.

OPPONENTS REVIEW

As an assistant coach, Sadler served stints at seven current Division I schools, including Arkansas (1982-85, under Coach Eddie Sutton), Lamar (1985-86, under Coach Pat Foster), Houston (1986), Chicago State (1987-88, under Coach Tommy Suitts), Texas Tech (1991-94, under Coach James Dickey), Arizona State (1994-97, under Coach Bill Freider) and UTEP (2003-04, under Coach Billy Gillispie).

Over 12 full seasons as a Division I assistant coach, nine of his teams reached the postseason, including ASU's 1996 team that reached the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament. At Texas Tech, Sadler helped the Red Raiders to the 1993 Southwest Conference title and an NCAA appearance. He recruited talent that helped the Red Raiders to a 28-1 record and a Sweet 16 appearance in 1996.

The energetic Sadler also served one season as a high school coach, guiding

County Line High School to a 38-7 record. Sadler's late father, Charles, coached football at the high school level for more than 30 years in Arkansas, and Sadler's brother, Pedro, is currently head golf coach and assistant basketball coach at Fort Smith

CHRIS CROFT

ASSISTANT COACH | FIRST YEAR | SOUTHERN MISS, 1995

One of the longest-tenured members of Doc Sadler's staff, Chris Croft is in his fifth season at Nebraska. He served as Director of Basketball Operations for four seasons before being named an assistant coach in July of 2010.

While this is Croft's first year as an assistant coach at Nebraska, he has a wealth of coaching experience. Croft was a head coach at the NAIA level while also serving as an assistant coach at the Division I level for eight seasons. He has experience at both Big 12 and Pac-10 Conferences.

In his previous role as director of basketball operations, Croft was the primary day-to-day administrator within the basketball office, where he handled the budget, clinics, camps and daily office operations. He was heavily involved with team scheduling and the Huskers' community involvement and Life Skills programs. Croft coordinated the Huskers' public speaking efforts, both for players and the coaching staff. Another integral part of Croft's position was handling team travel, including all postseason trips. Croft assisted Sadler and the Huskers to postseason appearances in 2007-08 and 2008-09, the first time in a decade NU earned back-to-back postseason berths. Overall, Croft has aided teams to the postseason in three of the five years he's Croft came to Nebraska from UTEP, where he served as a program specialist for one season with Sadler's staff. He oversaw several administrative areas for the Miners, as the squad reached the National Invitation Tournament in 2006.

Following eight years as a Division I assistant coach. Croft was named head coach at Martin Methodist (Tenn.) College at the age of 30. Croft's first squad in 2003-04 won 22 games and grabbed the TranSouth Conference title – the first in school history - while also advancing to the NAIA Tournament. He was the first coach in league history to win a championship in his initial season as a head coach, and also was the youngest coach in league history to win the championship. He led his team to 13 road wins to rank second nationally across all divisions of four-year colleges. Croft's team led the conference in scoring defense, as he coached four all-conference players and seven academic all-conference student-athletes.

Croft broke into the coaching profession as an undergraduate student assistant at East Central (Miss.) CC in 1991-93. While at ECCC, he was part of a state championship team and the squad made two regional tournament appearances. Croft then assisted M.K. Turk at Southern Mississippi as an undergraduate before being named an assistant coach at USM at age 22 in 1995.

Croft helped USM to two NIT appearances before moving to the Big 12 under Coach Eddie Sutton in an administrative position at Oklahoma State before the 1996-97 season. In two seasons with the Cowboys, Croft helped OSU to a pair of postseason appearances, including the second round of the 1998 NCAA Tournament. He moved on to Maryland Eastern Shore for one year in a recruiting capacity before spending four seasons (1999-2000 to 2002-2003) at Washington State. Croft also was the head coach for the Planet Basketball All-Star team that toured New Zealand in the summer of 2001.

Croft earned his bachelor's degree in coaching and sports administration from Southern Miss in 1995 and received a master's degree in human performance in 1996. Croft completed his doctoral degree in educational leadership and administration through UTEP in 2008.

Croft has served as a member of the NABC Committee on Academics and was a member of the Winning Hoops Editorial Board and contributing writer for the publication.

ASSISTANT COACH FIRST YEAR AUBURN, 1997

Wes Flanigan begins his first season on the Nebraska bench after joining the coaching staff in May of 2010.

Flanigan brings a variety of experiences and a history of success throughout his career, which includes coaching at UAB, UALR and in the junior college ranks. He was also an All-Southeastern Conference point guard at Auburn in the mid-1990s.

Flanigan comes to Lincoln after spending the past two seasons in Birmingham, Ala., where he helped UAB to 47 wins and a pair of postseason appearances. Overall, Flanigan has been associated with three straight 20-win teams, including the last two reaching the National Invitation Tournament (NIT).

The Blazers went 25-9 in 2009-10, including an 11-5 Conference USA finish, before reaching the quarterfinals of the National Invitation Tournament. UAB defeated Coastal Carolina and NC State before falling to eventual runner-up North Carolina. Among the 25 victories was a December win over NCAA runner-up Butler, the Bulldogs' last loss of the regular season.

With the Blazers, Flanigan worked primarily with the perimeter players, helping UAB rank in the school record book. In 2008-09, UAB connected on 228 3-pointers, the third-highest total in school history.

Prior to his stint at UAB, Flanigan worked four seasons at UALR (2004-05 to 2007-08). In his final season with the Trojans, Flanigan served as associate head coach/ recruiting coordinator, helping the UALR squad to a 20-11 record. It was the teams' second campaign with at least 18 wins with Flanigan assisting from the bench.

Like Nebraska Coach Doc Sadler, Flanigan is a native of Arkansas (Little Rock) and has a strong background in the junior college ranks. Flanigan spent five seasons as an assistant coach at Northwest Mississippi Community College, working with both the men's and women's squads. They combined for a 199-90 record, including an impressive 119-39 mark by the men's team. The NMCC men won two MACJC North Division titles and three Region XXII championships to advance to the NJCAA Tournament in Hutchinson, Kan. The women's team recorded five postseason appearances with Flanigan on the bench.

The similarity to Sadler's career does not end there. Flanigan is also the son of a coach (Sadler's father was a high school football coach for more than 30 years), as Al Flanigan coaches at Little Rock Parkview High School.

After playing for his father at Parkview, where Wes was named the 1992-93 Gatorade High School Player of the Year for Arkansas, Flanigan earned four letters at Auburn (1993-94 to 1996-97). He was team co-captain for three seasons and finished his college career averaging 10.1 points, 4.8 assists and 2.4 rebounds per game. He graduated from Auburn with a degree in health promotion in 1997.

MEDIA

As a junior, Flanigan had a stellar season, averaging 13.4 points and 6.7 assists while earning All-SEC honors and being named the team's MVP. He was honored as Auburn University's top student-athlete in 1997 and was twice recognized by the university with awards for his leadership abilities. Flanigan still ranks in the top 20 all-time for scoring (1,228 points) and ranks second in Tiger history with 573 assists.

Flanigan and his wife, Katrina, have three sons: Michael Lewis (17), Allen (9) and Collin (2).

ASSISTANT COACH | FIRST YEAR | WISCONSIN, 1995

Tracy Webster, who has one Final Four appearance and extensive playing and coaching experience on his resume, is the newest member of the Husker staff, as he was named an assistant coach in August of 2010.

Webster, who was ranked by Hoop Scoop among the top-50 assistant coaches in the country in September of 2009, joined the Huskers after one season at DePaul. While he was originally hired at the Big East Conference school as an assistant coach, Webster was named interim head coach on Jan. 12, 2010, and guided the Blue Demons through the remainder of conference play. While DePaul struggled to the finish, their first win under Webster came with a home victory over NCAA Tournament-bound Marquette.

The move to DePaul came after two years as an assistant under Billy Gillispie at Kentucky in 2007-08 and 2008-09. The Wildcats earned an NCAA bid in Webster's first season in Lexington and then reached the NIT quarterfinals in his second year. Those bids were the sixth and seventh postseason appearances by teams Webster has helped coach over the past 12 years, including four NCAA Tournament squads.

Webster also has a wealth of coaching knowledge and recruiting experience in the Big Ten Conference. He spent three years (2004-05 to 2006-07) as an assistant to Bruce Weber at Illinois, taking the Fighting Illini to three NCAA bids. During his first season in Champaign, Webster coached on the team that reached the Final Four, where it finished as national runner-up with a 37-2 record, at the time tying the NCAA record for most wins in a season.

A native of the Chicagoland area (Harvey, III.), Webster had his first coaching stint in the Big Ten during the 2003-04 season. That year, he worked under Gene Keady with the Purdue Boilermakers, where he started strengthening his recruiting in areas like his hometown Chicago along with Milwaukee, Detroit, Indianapolis and other Midwestern recruiting hotbeds.

Purdue reached the NIT that season, the second straight year Webster's team saw postseason action. A year earlier, Webster helped Ball State to the NIT quarterfinals. It was his second year with the Cardinals after spending one year at Division III University of Wisconsin-Parkside.

Webster began his coaching career as the head freshman and varsity assistant coach at Verona High School in Wisconsin from 1997-98. Prior to his tenure at Ball State, Webster spent 1999-2000 as the director of Webster Extramural Basketball Productions and as a care coordinator at Willowglen Academy in Milwaukee.

As a player, Webster was an All-Big Ten Conference guard at Wisconsin, where he played under Steve Yoder and Stu Jackson. Webster lettered three years and finished his career with 1,264 points and a schoolrecord 501 assists. He earned all-league honors three times, including first-team accolades when he set the school singleseason record with 179 assists in 1993. He added a school-record mark for 3-point percentage, hitting 49.0 percent beyond the arc in 1992.

After wrapping up his playing career, Webster served as the coordinator of community outreach programs at Wisconsin from 1994 to 1997 before getting into the coaching ranks.

Webster attended Thornton High School in Harvey, Ill., where he played four years and was a two-time all-state selection. He was selected the sixth-best point guard in Chicago history by the Chicago Sun Times in 1992.

Webster resides in Lincoln with his wife, Shenetta.

David Anwar begins his 10th season working alongside Coach Doc Sadler and his first as Nebraska's director of operations. In his new role, he serves as the primary day-to-day administrator within the basketball office, where he handles the budget, clinics, camps, scheduling, team travel and the Huskers' community involvement and Life Skills programs.

It is the second time he has served as director of operations on a Sadler-coached team, as he worked in the same role at UTEP from 2004 to 2006. In that stint, he helped the Miners to a pair of postseason berths, including an NCAA appearance in 2005. Overall, he has helped teams to four postseason appearances in his six years working at the Division I level.

Anwar has been a valuable member of the Husker staff since he arrived in August of 2006. He has helped the Huskers record 70 victories, including back-to-back postseason appearances in 2008 and 2009, the first time Nebraska has achieved that feat in a decade.

He worked with the Husker wings and post players for a majority of the time at Nebraska, and played a major role in NU ranking among the top 25 nationally in scoring defense in two of the past three seasons. The Huskers also showed the ability to score from long distance in 2009-10, as Eshaunte Jones (40-of-92, 43.5 percent), Ryan Anderson (54-of-126, 42.9 percent) and Brandon Ubel (11-of-21, 53.4 percent) helped Nebraska set a school record and rank 15th nationally in 3-point percentage (39.7 percent). Working primarily with the Nebraska guards in his first year, Anwar's guidance helped the Huskers power to the second-highest 3-point total in school history with 244 treys in 2006-07.

Off the court, Anwar was instrumental in recruiting, helping Nebraska reel in arguably its top-rated class in the Big 12 era. The Huskers' eight-man recruiting class for 2007 was ranked among the top 25 in the nation by at least three major scouting services, including ESPN.com's Bob Gibbons (21st), CSTV.com's Van Coleman (12th) and HoopScoopOnline.com's Clark Francis (5th). Anwar has also provided significant recruiting ties in the junior college ranks and has been a strong voice for the Huskers in international recruiting the past two seasons as well.

When he came to Nebraska, Anwar rejoined Sadler's staff after serving two seasons under him at Texas-El Paso. During that time, Anwar was the Miners' director of operations. He was responsible for the program's budget, scheduling and practice management. Anwar also oversaw the administrative staff and assisted with special projects, camps and on-campus recruiting while helping Sadler and the Miners reach the 2005 NCAA Tournament and 2006 NIT.

Before joining the UTEP program, Anwar served as an assistant coach at Arkansas-Fort Smith for four seasons, including the final three under Sadler. Anwar had on-court and practice responsibilities and also served as the recruiting coordinator. Arkansas-Fort Smith earned a 101-29 record with Anwar on the bench, including a pair of top-seven national finishes in 2001 (fifth) and 2002 (seventh). The team won the Bi-State Conference East league title each of his three seasons under Sadler and produced numerous all-conference players on the court and in the classroom.

Anwar has helped several programs earn a successful record of academic success, including helping more than 20 players move on to four-year schools from Arkansas-Fort Smith.

Earlier in his career, Anwar helped more than 40 high school and prep players earn a spot on Division I or II rosters while serving as a coach in his native Philadelphia and in Massachusetts.

A native of Philadelphia, Anwar earned a bachelor's degree in special education and sociology from Fitchburg State in 1998 and added a master's degree in sports management/ sports leadership from Virginia Commonwealth in 2004.

VIDEO COORDINATOR | FIFTH YEAR

The first member of the staff hired by Coach Doc Sadler at Nebraska, Jim Shaw enters his fifth season as video coordinator in 2010-11. Shaw oversees all aspects of the video operations, including video exchange, taping workouts and games, breaking down video and organizing the video library. He also oversees student assistants who assist with the program's video needs.

Shaw helps coordinate Nebraska player appearances in the community and assists with the Huskers' team efforts in NU's Life Skills Team Award challenge. During the offseason, he plays an integral role with the Doc Sadler Basketball Camps by assisting with all phases of camp planning and supervision.

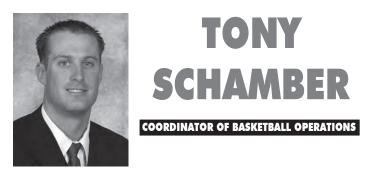

In his role, Shaw has helped four squads to postseason play in the past six years under Sadler. In 2008-09, the Huskers earned an 18-13 record and a berth in the National Invitation Tournament (NIT). It was the second straight year that culminated with a postseason NIT appearance for the Huskers and included a .500 finish (8-8) in Big 12 Conference play, both firsts in a decade for the program. Previously, Shaw helped Sadler guide Texas-El Paso to an NCAA berth in 2004 and an appearance in the 2005 NIT.

Shaw joined the Husker staff after serving as a program specialist at Texas-El Paso under Sadler and former Miners' coach Billy Gillispie. Shaw handled all duties surrounding the Miners' video system during his three years in El Paso, and was heavily involved with directing camps and clinics, including serving as director for the Doc Sadler Basketball Camps each of his last two years. He also has significant experience assisting with recruiting efforts and all areas of player development.

A native of San Antonio, Texas, Shaw is familiar with the Midwest after earning his undergraduate degree in economics at Grinnell (Iowa) College in 2003. He added a master's degree in business administration from Texas-El Paso in 2005 while working with the Miners' program.

Shaw was a four-year letterwinner at Grinnell, helping the Pioneers to four straight Division III national scoring titles, including an all-division scoring record of 124.9 points per game in 2002-03. He led Grinnell to a league title as a sophomore and senior, and in 2001, paced the conference in made 3-pointers while pushing the Pioneers to the NCAA Tournament.

Shaw was married to the former Leslie Hawley in June 2007.

Tony Schamber is in his second year as the Nebraska basketball staff and his first as coordinator of basketball operations for the Husker program. In his role, he assists with administrative duties in the day-to-day operations of the program, including team travel and operations.

Schamber began his association with the Nebraska Athletic Department in August of 2008, serving for a year as an assistant academic counselor. He worked directly with the men's basketball team and assisted with football within the Academic Programs and Student Services unit.

Schamber joined the Nebraska staff after spending four years working with the basketball program at his alma mater, Wyoming. He most recently served as the director of basketball operations after spending three years as a graduate manager. Schamber was in charge of coordinating travel, scheduling, academics and summer camps in his final year at Wyoming.

SHAMUS MCKNIGHT ASSOCIATE MEDIA RELATIONS DIRECTOR

Shamus McKnight joined the Nebraska Athletic Department in 1997 and currently serves as associate media relations director after being promoted to that position in August of 2009.

McKnight joined the full-time athletic department staff in 1999, and handles all publicity for the Husker men's basketball team while serving as the No. 2 contact for the football program. McKnight has served as the media relations director for three NCAA championships Nebraska has hosted and has worked two national championship bowl games in football. In addition, he has served on the College World Series Media Coordination team for the past four years.

A native of North Ridgeville, Ohio, he is a 1996 graduate of Baldwin-Wallace College.

MEN'S BASKETBALL SECRETARY

Kim Whitemore joined the Nebraska Athletic Department in December of 2006 as the men's basketball office administrative assistant. In her role, she provides administrative support to all the members of the Husker coaching staff while assisting with the coordination of Doc Sadler Basketball Camps and the annual Doc Sadler Golf Classic.

Whitemore returned to Lincoln in 2006 after spending the previous six years in Kansas City, Mo., where she served as an administrative assistant at FirstGuard Health Plan. She supported two company vice-presidents and a department of six employees. Before moving to Kansas City, she worked in the front office for Lincoln orthodontist Brett Cascini.

Kim was married to Erich Whitemore in July of 2010 and resides in Fremont. Originally from Seward, Neb., Whitemore graduated from Nebraska Wesleyan in 1997 with a bachelor's degree in psychology.

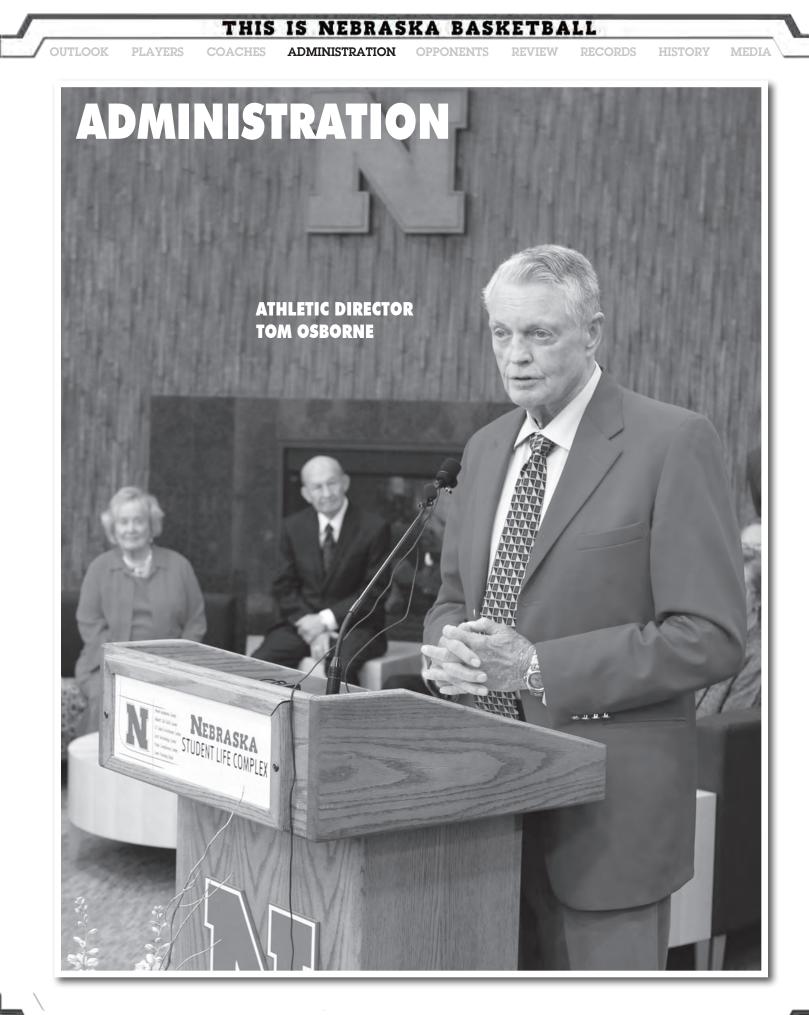

Pat Norris began working as the equipment manager for the Bob Devaney Sports Center in 2004. A member of the American Equipment Managers Association, Norris is responsible for overseeing the day-to-day operations for equipment checkout and upkeep for seven Husker athletic squads, including the men's basketball team. He worked in a similar position as a student from 1997 to 1999.

Before joining the Husker staff, Norris worked five years in Chicago. He was an installations billing coordinator at Hub Group Distribution Services and an account manager at SCR Companies.

Norris married the former Elizabeth Fonfara in September 2007. The couple has a 2-year-old daughter, Parker Elizabeth.

TOM OSBORNE

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR | HASTINGS COLLEGE, 1959

Hall of Fame football coach Tom Osborne has continued to leave a lasting impression on the history of Nebraska Athletics since returning to lead the Husker program as the school's 13th athletic director on Oct. 16, 2007. Osborne, who led Nebraska to three national championships (1994, 1995, 1997) and 255 victories in his 25 years as the Huskers' head football coach, has continued to use his impressive leadership skills to guide the NU athletic department as a whole over the past three seasons.

With the core values of integrity, trust, respect, teamwork and loyalty serving as guiding principles for Nebraska's 23-sport program, the Huskers have enjoyed renewed success in Osborne's first three years as athletic director. In 2009-10, Nebraska finished 17th in the NACDA Directors' Cup final standings, the Huskers' best showing since 2000-01.

One of Osborne's first major decisions as athletic director was to hire Bo Pelini as the Huskers' football coach. Pelini has energized Nebraska's storied tradition with back-to-back nine-win seasons and a pair of Big 12 North Division titles. In 2009, the Huskers notched 10 wins, including a 33-0 win over Arizona in the Holiday Bowl, while finishing in the top 15 in both major national polls.

The tradition-rich NU volleyball program has claimed a pair of Big 12 titles and advanced to three NCAA Elite Eight appearances, while the women's basketball program has earned two NCAA Tournament trips, while notching the best season in school history with a 2010 Big 12 title and a berth in the NCAA Sweet 16. The NU wrestling program shared the 2009 Big 12 title and finished in the top 16 at three straight NCAA Championships. The NU men's track and field team has captured a pair of Big 12 outdoor crowns, while the men's and women's teams have produced five top-20 finishes indoors and outdoors over the past three years. The men's and women's gymnastics teams both produced top-10 NCAA finishes in 2010, while the Husker bowling team won the 2009 NCAA title and finished in the top eight at the NCAA Championships each of the past three years. The NU rifle team has produced a pair of topsix NCAA finishes in the last three years, while the men's and women's tennis teams both earned NCAA Tournament trips in 2010.

In addition to their competitive success, the Huskers have continued to set high standards academically at both the conference and national levels. Nebraska led the Big 12 with eight CoSIDA Academic All-Americans in 2009-10, increasing NU's nation-leading total to 277 across all sports. The Huskers also led the Big 12 with 178 academic all-conference selections, along with a conference-record 687 Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll selections. NU graduated 121 student-athletes from August of 2009 through May of 2010, while increasing its Big 12-leading exhausted eligibility graduation rate to 94 percent.

The Huskers also have continued to set the standard on the national level in the area of life skills. In September of 2010, Nebraska opened its new Student Life Center, which is designed to help Husker studentathletes maximize their performance in the classroom and the community. The Student Life Center is the first step in Osborne's aggressive building plan for Nebraska's athletic facilities. In the summer of 2010, the athletic department broke ground on the Hendricks Training Complex at the Bob Devaney Sports Center, which will directly benefit the men's and women's basketball and wrestling programs with new practice and team areas. The project is also expected to lead to additional opportunities for improved facilities for many other Husker Olympic sport programs. The Hendricks Training Complex is scheduled to open before the 2011-12 season. In the spring of 2010, the city of Lincoln also received voter approval to begin construction on the 16,000-seat Haymarket Arena, which will serve as the new competitive home for both Nebraska men's and women's basketball programs beginning in 2013-14. In October of 2010, he also received approval to expand Memorial Stadium as well as add an indoor practice facility for the baseball and softball programs at Haymarket Park.

Not long after the historic arena vote in Lincoln, Osborne helped Chancellor Harvey Perlman announce an even more historic move with the shift by Nebraska from the Big 12 to the Big Ten Conference beginning in 2011-12. Nebraska's move to the Big Ten is expected to add University-wide academic opportunities, while providing financial stability for the athletic department for years to come.

Before being asked by Chancellor Perlman to return to NU as athletic director in 2007, Osborne served three terms in the U.S. House of Representatives (Nebraska's 3rd congressional district) from 2000 to 2006. He returned to academia following a 2006 gubernatorial bid, serving as a senior lecturer at Nebraska in the College of Business Administration, teaching leadership and business ethics, in the fall of 2007. Osborne also worked as a consultant for local college athletic departments for two years.

Osborne and his wife, Nancy, continue to pour their time and support into the TeamMates mentoring program, which they founded in 1991. TeamMates provides encouragement to school-aged youth to help them graduate from high school and pursue a post-secondary education.

Osborne's leadership of the TeamMates program began while he was putting the final touches on one of the best coaching careers in college football history. The Hastings, Neb., native, who earned master's and doctoral degrees in educational psychology from Nebraska, was named NU's 25th head coach following the 1972 season.

In 25 seasons with Osborne at the helm, the Huskers mounted a 255-49-3 record - the sixth-most wins in major college history. Osborne's .836 winning percentage ranked fifth all-time. His career came to a close with a 42-17 win over No. 3 Tennessee in the 1998 Orange Bowl, when he became the first coach in college football history to retire as a reigning national champion. Following his career, he became one of just four coaches in history to have the mandatory three-year waiting period waived for induction into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame in December of 1998.

Osborne's 1994 and 1995 teams allowed Nebraska to become just the second school in history to post back-to-back perfect national championship seasons (Oklahoma 1955-56). Nebraska put together the best five-year run in college football history from 1993 to 1997, going 60-3 with five straight 11-win seasons.

Osborne led NU to 13 conference crowns, including six of his last seven seasons on the sideline. All 25 of his Husker teams won at least nine games and went to a bowl, while 15 won 10-or-more games.

In the classroom, the NU football program totaled 65 CoSIDA Academic All-America awards in Osborne's 25 years. In fact, he accumulated more football Academic All-Americans in his 25 years as coach than any other football program in the nation has produced in its history.

Prior to becoming head coach, Osborne spent five seasons under Devaney, helping the Huskers win back-to-back national championships in 1970 and 1971. In 1973, Osborne succeeded Devaney, who also served as Nebraska's Athletic Director from 1967 to 1993.

Osborne and his wife, Nancy, have three adult children, Mike, Ann and Suzanne and four grandchildren.

A member of the Nebraska Athletics senior administration since May 2003, Marc Boehm (pronounced BAME) serves as executive associate athletic director and is the top assistant to the athletic director. Boehm fulfills the director's responsibilities in his absence and also serves as the department's chief operating officer.

Boehm oversees the efforts of several areas within athletics, including marketing, media relations, HuskerVision, facilities and events. Boehm also oversees the Nebraska men's and women's basketball programs and the Husker soccer program. He also played a major role in the athletic department's negotiations for its contract extension with IMG College Sports. To date, it is the largest multi-media rights contract in college athletics.

BO ARC F EXECUTIVE ASSOCIATE ATHLETIC DIRECTOR | KANSAS STATE, 1984

As the primary administrator for the NU basketball programs, Boehm played an integral role in the hiring of Doc Sadler as the Huskers' coach on Aug. 8, 2006. Sadler has guided the Huskers to a pair of postseason appearances in his four seasons and has won 70 games in that span.

Boehm has worked tirelessly with Fox Sports Net and the Big 12 Conference to provide the men's basketball team with an extensive television package each of the past six seasons. His efforts in providing a fan-friendly atmosphere at the Bob Devaney Sports Center have helped Nebraska be one of only nine programs in the country last year with men's and women's basketball attendance both over 7.000 fans per game.

Under Boehm's supervision, Coach Connie Yori's women's basketball team enioved the best season in school history in 2009-10. The Huskers made their seventh straight postseason trip, advancing to the school's first NCAA Sweet 16. Yori captured 2010 National Coach-of-the-Year honors by leading the Huskers to a Big 12 record-tying 30-game winning streak and the 2010 Big 12 regular-season title.

The men have added three postseason trips during Boehm's tenure, including a trip to the 2009 Postseason NIT. Boehm's efforts to enhance NU's gameday atmosphere were not restricted to the basketball programs. He was instrumental in conceptualizing and developing the Husker Nation Pavilion, which quickly became the premier pregame event around home football games.

Boehm also took the lead role in obtaining First National Bank and Ameritas as premier sponsors for the Nebraska Athletic Department for a combined deal worth more than $7 million over a three-year period. First National Bank and Ameritas joined Verizon, Pepsi and adidas as premier corporate sponsors for Husker athletics.

Boehm held the same position at Pittsburgh from 1997 to 2003. Boehm assisted in the rise of the Panthers' basketball program with the men's team posting back-to-back Sweet 16 appearances in the NCAA Tournament. During construction of the Panthers' new athletic facilities, Boehm played a central role in Pitt's athletic teams moving to the UPMC Sports Performance Complex, Heinz Field and the Petersen Events Center.

Boehm served as interim athletic director at Pittsburgh for nearly five months before coming to Nebraska. During that time, he hired men's (Jamie Dixon) and women's basketball (Agnus Berenato) and soccer (Sue-Mov Chin) head coaches for the Panther program. Under Dixon's direction, the Panthers have advanced to eight straight NCAA Tournaments, while Berenato has rejuvenated the women's program with three straight NCAA Tournament appearances from 2007 to 2009.

Boehm also spent five years as associate executive director of the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl. He directed and managed a 125-member fund-raising committee of Arizona business people responsible for generating more than $4.5 million in cash and in-kind partnerships. Previously he spent four years as associate executive director and public relations director of the Sun Bowl from 1987 to 1991.

Born in Grand Island, Boehm earned his bachelor's degree in communications from Kansas State in 1984 and added a master's degree in sports management from St. Thomas (Fla.) University in 1985. Boehm and his wife, the former Janelle Broderick of Minot, N.D., have three sons, Broderick, Christian and Lukas John.

Husker-Red Raider Notes

• NU held the No. 25-ranked Red Raiders to 44 points in 2004, equaling the fewest points TTU scored in a game since 1990. • Nebraska won its first contest over the Red Raiders in Lubbock since 1989 with a 61-59 victory in 2007. Charles Richardson Jr. hit a desperation shot at the buzzer to help NU come back from a 13-point halftime deficit.

• The win in 2007 was NU's largest comeback win (13 points) against a league team on the road during the Big 12 era.

HUSKERS WORK HARD DESPITE FACING DIFFICULT SLATE

The Nebraska basketball team, which finished with a 15-18 overall record and 2-14 mark in league action, softened a disappointing season with a solid finish at the Big 12 Championship in Kansas City in early March. The Huskers earned just the second victory by a No. 12 seed in the history of the Big 12 tourney when NU upended fifth-seeded Missouri, 75-60, in the first round.

The victory over the Tigers was Nebraska's only win over an NCAA Tournament team. It also gave the Huskers two wins in their final five games of the season after a brutal conference schedule that included a school-record five straight games against nationally ranked teams. Among those were three consecutive road contests against teams in the national top 15.

Overall, the Huskers played 18 games against teams that advanced to postseason play, including 12 contests against NCAA Tournament foes. Five opponents reached at least the second round of the NCAA Tournament while another made it to the quarterfinals of the NIT and one reached the CBI final round.

Despite the final record, the Huskers were still competitive with a young squad that included seven freshmen and sophomores among the 11 active scholarship players at the end of the season. Nearly 40 percent of the scoring came from freshmen, who also recorded more than 30 percent of the team's starting assignments.

With only three returning scholarship winners to lead the way, the team relied heavily on seniors Ryan Anderson and Sek Henry and sophomore Brandon Richardson. The trio produced career years to help provide guidance for the youthful group.

Anderson finished his career among the most versatile players in Nebraska and Big 12 history. He surpassed the 1,000-point and 500-rebound barriers as a senior and became only the eighth player in the Big 12 era – and just the third ever at Nebraska – to have at least 1,000 points, 500 rebounds and 150 3-pointers. He also finished his career among the Huskers' all-time top five for steals, 3-pointers and games started.

Richardson came on strong down the stretch and will be back in 2010-11 as the team's leading returning scorer after posting 8.9 points per game as a sophomore. He scored at least 15 points six times against Big 12 teams in 2009-10 and will have a chance to take on the role of offensive catalyst for the Huskers in 2010-11.

Also back with Richardson will be the Huskers' third-, fourth- and fifth-leading scorers from the season in Jorge Brian Diaz (8.8 ppg), Christian Standhardinger (8.1 ppg) and Lance Jeter (7.5 ppg). Diaz set the NU freshman record for blocked shots this season (41) and ranked among the NU freshman top 10 for field goals, points, scoring average and rebounds. Standhardinger showed impressive flashes scoring and rebounding and expects to see his role continue to grow while Jeter returns after becoming only the fourth Husker in the Big 12 era to average at least 4.0 assists per game.

2009-10 QUICK NOTES

◆ Nebraska finished the year with a 15-18 overall record, its first losing season since 2002-03. That season was also the last time NU finished in 12th place in the conference standings. The Huskers were 2-14 in league play with wins over Oklahoma and Texas Tech (in two OTs).

◆ Despite the poor conference record, the Huskers continued to compete hard throughout the season and won two of their last five games of the year. The last win came at the Big 12 Championship, where Nebraska became only the second No. 12 seed to win a game as it defeated NCAA participant Missouri, 75-60. The Huskers nearly pulled off a second straight upset before falling 70-64 to No. 23 Texas A&M in the quarterfinals of the Big 12 Championship.

◆ Showing their competitiveness, the Huskers were within four points or less with 10 minutes remaining in eight of their 15 losses to conference opponents (including the Big 12 Championship). Five of those games were decided by six or fewer points.

◆ Overall, the Huskers faced 13 teams (18 games) during 2009-10 that went on to play in the postseason, including seven league teams that advanced to the NCAA Tournament. Five of those squads reached the second round, including Missouri, which the Huskers upended at the Big 12 Championship a week earlier.

◆ The Husker roster was filled with newcomers in 2009-10 as seven of Nebraska's 11 active scholarship players at the end of the season were freshmen and sophomores. Including walkons, more than 64 percent (9-of-14 active players to end the season) of the Huskers who recorded playing time were in their first year in a Nebraska uniform.

◆ Nebraska freshmen accounted for 848 of the Huskers' 2,194 points on the season, or 38.7 percent. The 2009-10 Husker squad set team records for number of freshmen to start games (5 on the season; 3 in a single game) and for number of freshman to record 20-point games in same season (3). Freshmen accounted for 51 starts on the season, including two in the season opener.

◆ The young Nebraska roster was also without preseason projected starters Christopher Niemann and Toney McCray, who were sidelined with injuries. McCray averaged 6.3 points and 4.0 rebounds while playing just three games before undergoing UCL surgery in November, while Niemann sat out the whole season following September ACL surgery.

J OUTLOOK PLAYERS COACHES ADMINISTRATION OPPONENTS REVIEW RECORDS HISTORY MEDIA

Sek Henry was a four-year starter at Nebraska set career bests in points (249) and rebounds (110) during the 2009-10 campaign. Henry started 99 games during his career and totaled 872 career points.

◆ Nebraska's comeback from down 14 points against Texas Tech was the second largest in a Husker victory during the Big 12 era, trailing only the 20-point comeback NU made against Kansas State in 1996-97. It was the 12th double-digit comeback for an NU win in the Big 12 era, and the third under coach Doc Sadler. His teams own three of the top four largest comebacks by NU since the formation of the conference.

◆ The Huskers tied the school record with just three turnovers against then-No. 24 Baylor. NU had one turnover in the first half and two in the second, marking the third time in school history a Husker squad posted three turnovers in a game, and the second time under coach Doc Sadler.

◆ Nebraska set a school record when it faced five straight ranked teams, including three top-15 opponents on the road. Overall, the Huskers faced seven nationally ranked teams during the season, the second time in three years NU has faced at least seven ranked teams. Nebraska did not win a game against a ranked team for the first time since 1999-2000. Three of the contests were decided by six or fewer points.

◆ Nebraska ranked second in the league – and 15th nationally – as it hit a school-record 39.7 percent from beyond the arc in 2009-10. The average bettered the former mark of 38.9 percent by the 2003-04 squad. The Huskers drained 217-of-547 attempts from 3-point range. The 217 3-pointers are fourth in the Nebraska single-season record book. Only five NU teams (2002, 2007, 2006, 2004, 2009) have topped 200 3-pointers in a season. All four of coach Doc Sadler's Nebraska squads now rank in the top 10 in school history for 3-pointers. His 2007 squad is second with 244 treys, while the 2009 (206, 6th) and 2008 (190, 9th) squads also rank among the program's best.

◆ Guard Ryan Anderson led the Big 12 in 3-point percentage by hitting 42.9 percent from on the season. Anderson also led the league in conference-only games by hitting 48.6 percent from 3-point range, including hitting 18 of his last 28 attempts.

◆ Anderson crossed the 1,000-point and 500-rebound plateaus as a senior. He became just the third Husker overall and only the eighth player in the Big 12 era with 1,000 points, 500 rebounds and 150 3-pointers.

◆ Guard Sek Henry ended his career third all-time at Nebraska in games played. He saw action in every contest over his four years, finishing with 128 games played including 99 starts (6th all-time). Henry also ranked in the Nebraska career top 15 for assists with 256.

◆ Guard Brandon Richardson saw improved play during his sophomore campaign, making him a player many will look to as possibly the team's offensive leader in 2010-11. As a sophomore, Richardson finished second on the team in scoring (8.9 ppg), including 14 games in double figures. His average improved to 9.3 ppg in conference play as he had six games vs. Big 12 team with at least 15 points.

◆ Diaz also finished in the NU all-time freshman record book for field goals (4th), rebounds (7th), points scored (8th) and scoring average (9th), and was only the eighth freshman in Nebraska history with at least two 20-point games.

• Diaz was not the only freshman to make some noise for the Huskers. Redshirt freshman Eshaunte Jones also finished fifth in the Husker freshman record book for 3-pointers, while Jones and freshman Christian Standhardinger each joined the elite group of Husker freshmen to produce 20-point games. Standhardinger's 25 points at Iowa State were the ninth-most in a single game by an NU freshman and the most ever in a Husker freshman's first career start.

◆ Point guard Lance Jeter finished the season with 134 assists while ranking in the top 10 in the league for assists per game (4.1) and assist-to-turnover ratio (1.94). Jeter was 12th on the Nebraska single-season list and was just the fourth Husker in the Big 12 era to average at least 4.0 assists per game. His total assists were also the second-highest for a Husker in the past decade.

CAREER HONORS

2009 Big 12 All-Defensive Team (media)

Ryan Anderson etched his name throughout the Nebraska record books during his senior season when he was the team leader in scoring, rebounds, 3-pointers and steals. Anderson averaged a career-best 11.3 points to go with 5.3 rebounds, and added 1.7 steals per game to rank fourth in the Big 12 Conference. For his efforts, Anderson, who played all four years as an undersized '4' man, was named to the Big 12 All-Underrated Team by league's sportswriters.

During the season, Anderson crossed the plateaus of 1,000 points, 500 rebounds and 150 3-pointers, becoming the first Husker in the Big 12 era (and only third Husker ever) and just the eighth league player since the formation of the Big 12 to reach all of those plateaus. Anderson joined Nebraska Hall of Famer Erick Strickland as the only two players in school history with 1,000 points, 500 rebounds, 150 3-pointers, 150 assists and 150 steals.

Anderson finished his career ranked third all-time with 185 3-pointers and fifth with 166 steals. He was also in the top 25 all-time for 3-point percentage (8th), scoring (23rd), rebounds (16th), assists (17th), games played (11th) and games started (5th). After a slow start to the 2009-10 season, Anderson picked up the pace in conference play, especially in the final seven games when he averaged 15.1 ppg and 7.0 rpg, including tying his season high twice with 22 points against Missouri and Kansas State. Anderson added a career-high 14 rebounds to go with 16 points against Oregon State and added one other double-double on the year (fourth career) with 10 points and 13 rebounds against Colorado on Senior Night. He scored in double figures in 19 games, and led the team in scoring 19 times. He posted a career-best six steals in the season opener vs. USC-Upstate and had at least four steals in six games. Down the stretch, Anderson hit 22 of his last 37 attempts (59.4 percent) from 3-point range while leading the league in long-range accuracy by hitting 42.9 percent on the season, including a Big 12-best of 48.6 percent in conference-only games.

RECORDS MEDIA HISTORY

Sek Henry finished fifth on the team in scoring (7.5 ppg) and was second in assists with a career-high 91. His assistto-turnover ratio (91-to-56) was also a career best, as were his 32 3-pointers and 37.2 percent shooting from outside the arc.

Henry was the most durable Husker over the past four seasons as he was the only Nebraska player in that time to play in every contest. He finished his career third in the school annals for games played (128) and was sixth in games started (99). Overall, he played more than 3,100 minutes in a Husker uniform, helping the team to 70 wins and two postseason appearances.

In 2009-10, Henry scored in double figures eight times, with a career-best 21 points in a double-overtime victory against Texas Tech. He hit 6-of-11 shots from the floor (three 3-pointers) and all six shots from the free throw line while producing six assists without a turnover. Earlier in the season he produced his only career double-double with 11 points and a career-high 11 assists against TCU, when he just missed the program's first-ever triple-double as he also had a season-high seven rebounds.

Henry ranked among the top 15 in the league in assists (2.8 apg) and finished 14th in school history with 256 assists in his career.

Ben Nelson made his presence felt for the Huskers as he provided leadership and guidance for a young group of post players during his final campaign in Lincoln. The four-year letterwinner enjoyed the most playing time of his career, seeing action in 13 games, including making his only career start on Senior Night against Colorado. He played a total of 51 minutes on the season and averaged 1.1 points and 0.8 rebounds per contest.

Nelson was in the opening lineup against Colorado on Senior Night, playing four minutes. He took a season-Guard | 6-4 | 200 Los Angeles, Calif. the season.

BOB DEVANEY SPORTS CENTER

Named after longtime athletic director and football coach Bob Devaney, the Bob Devaney Sports Center has been home to Nebraska basketball for the past 34 years with the Huskers amassing over 400 victories in the building.

OUTLOOK

Over the years, the Devaney Center has seen a number of dramatic improvements. Among the major renovations are:

 A newly renovated coaches offices and reception area (2007)

 Addition of a state-of-the-art video editing room and library (2007)

◆ Redesigned athletic medicine facility including the addition of a new cold water plunge tanks for faster recuperation (2009)

 Courtside LED boards were added (2008) to enhance the game-day atmosphere

The renovations since Coach Sadler arrived are not the only noticeable improvements around the building, which has held up remarkably well for more than 30 years of use. In 2000, fans saw the addition of two HuskerVision replay screens, hustle stat boards and digital message boards as well as new sound and lighting systems to help make an impressive gameday atmosphere even better. That same year, there were other upgrades such as the addition of a ring of honor and the Husker Hall of Fame. The displays in the concourse areas highlight more than 100 years of Nebraska athletics and more than three decades of women's athletics at the university.

The Huskers have shown an ability to raise their game in the facility as they have defeated 29 ranked teams in front of their raucous home crowds over the years. At the start of the 2000s, the student section was reorganized and reborn as the Red Zone, providing Nebraska with one of the liveliest student bases in Big 12 Conference.

The Devaney Center also boasts a top-notch weight room in the facility, making strength training a useful tool before or after practice. The weight room is part of three weight rooms available to NU student-athletes, as the Husker Power program is the model of excellence in strength training for schools around the nation.

The Nebraska basketball team is not the only tenant of the versatile facility. The Husker women's basketball team also calls the Devaney Center home, along with Nebraska teams for gymnastics, women's swimming and diving, track and field and wrestling.

With a capacity of 13,595, the Devaney Center has hosted numerous NCAA postseason events since opening its doors in 1976. The Husker men's basketball team has enjoyed playing on the Devaney Center court, as NU has an all-time record of 398-125 (.761) at home. Nebraska has posted less than eight home victories just once (1976-77) in the 34-year history of the Devaney Center.

THIS IS NEBRASKA BASKETBALL

By Mike Babcock

As near as anyone can determine, the University of Nebraska was first represented by a men's basketball team on Feb. 2, 1897, just six years after Dr. James A. Naismith set down the rules of the game at the International YMCA Training School in Springfield, Mass.

A team from the Lincoln YMCA was the opponent, and Nebraska posted an 11-8 victory at Grant Memorial Hall, the home of the Huskers for all but two seasons until the Coliseum opened in 1926. The same teams played in Grant Hall three weeks later with a similar result, as NU won 23-14. Nebraska had to rally in the second game. The Hesperian, a student newspaper, reported: "At the end of the first half the score stood 9 to 6 in favor of the visitors but during the second half our boys took a brace and some excellent work was done."

Such was the modest beginning of a program that has enjoyed its greatest success since 1980. In that span, NU has earned a 504-379 record and 18 postseason appearances, including six NCAA Tournaments, while adding a Phillips 66 Big Eight Tournament title in 1994 and the 1996 National Invitation Tournament championship.

Nebraska doubled its schedule in 1898, losing twice to the Lincoln YMCA and splitting two games with the Omaha YMCA. A 16-12 loss against the Omaha YMCA provided evidence as to why Nebraska finished 1-3 that season. According to The Hesperian account: "The great difficulty of the University team was mere recklessness. Our boys have been playing with a loose interpretation of the rules. The officials were strict and of course the resulting advantage was in favor of Omaha." Then as now, overly aggressive play had its drawbacks.

Nebraska played teams from other universities for the first time in 1899, winning two games against Nebraska Wesleyan and one against Doane en route to the unofficial state championship. The next season, Nebraska played an out-of-state opponent for the first time, defeating the University of Kansas, 48-8, at Lincoln. That game still ranks as the worst loss for a Jayhawk team and was the first for either school against a present-day NCAA Division I school and the first matching present-day Big 12 Conference institutions.

The Kansas team was coached by Dr. Naismith. The Nebraska student yearbook, Sombrero, wrote: "A closely contested game was looked for. The Jayhawkers were, however, completely outclassed, the score being 48-8." Based on the victory against Kansas and four other similarly decisive victories, "the basketball team for this year was undoubtedly superior to any in the west," the Sombrero concluded. It would be several years before such a claim could be made again.

Bus Whitehead was a two-time All-Big Seven selection in 1949 and 1950.

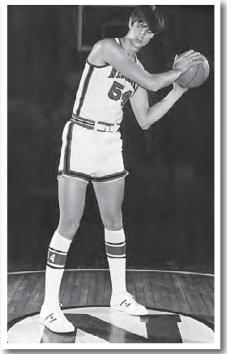

Nebraska hired its first full-time coach in 1911. E.O. "Jumbo" Stiehm, who scored 24 points against Nebraska as a Wisconsin basketball player in 1908, coached both football and basketball. His first Husker basketball team won 14 of 15 games, its only loss coming at Minnesota, 40-15. The student newspaper, The Daily Nebraskan, blamed the loss on Nebraska's inability to adjust to the Gophers' "100-foot floor."

A Daily Nebraskan account of Nebraska's 29-28 season-ending victory against Kansas at Lincoln in 1912 provides evidence that some fans' behavior hasn't changed much over the years.

"The game as a whole was entirely unsatisfactory, being marred by rough tactics of the visitors, incompetent work on the part of the referee and interruptions by the audience, which were in part justifiable."

Nebraska shared the Missouri Valley Conference championship with Kansas in 1912 and 1914 and won the title outright in 1913 under Stiehm's leadership. The 1913-14 team was "so fast it took a movie camera to catch 'em," according to the Cornhusker student yearbook. It was described as a "point-aminute" team, which wasn't quite accurate. Typically, games lasted 40 minutes (though that wasn't always the case), and Nebraska averaged 30 points per game. Guard Sam Carrier became Nebraska's first All-America basketball player in 1913. He and Carl Underwood led the Huskers to 17 victories in 19 games. Underwood was the Missouri Valley Conference scoring leader with 66 points in 10 conference games.

Chuck Jura earned All-Big Eight honors in 1972 for Head Coach Joe Cipriano.

conference title outright in 1916, after Sam Waugh replaced Stiehm as the Cornhuskers' coach for one season. Stiehm, who coached the first game of the season before giving way to Waugh, had planned to remain at Nebraska through the basketball season before leaving to become coach and athletic director at Wisconsin. But the Nebraska Athletic Board decided to replace him. Waugh was succeeded by E.J. "Doc" Stewart, whose three Cornhusker teams had a combined record of 29-23. Nebraska was 22-2 in 1919-20 and 11-3 in 1920-21 under Coach P.J. Schissler. After the 1919-20 season, Schissler challenged the University of Chicago to a game, but to no avail. The Cornhuskers also were invited to a postseason AAU tournament in Atlanta but didn't go.

Schissler's teams played as independents. Nebraska lost its affiliation with the Missouri Valley Conference because of a decision to play a football game against Oklahoma in Omaha in 1919. Conference rules prohibited such games (Oklahoma had not vet joined the Missouri Valley Conference). Nebraska returned to the Missouri Valley Conference in 1921, and Owen Frank replaced Schissler as basketball coach. The remainder of the Roaring 1920s was, for the most part, undistinguished.

Basketball was rough and tumble. There was a center jump after every basket and no requirement to cross mid-court in 10 seconds or less. The ball was a lot different, too, more like a medicine ball, which contributed to some dull games.

The most significant event during the 1920s was the building of the Coliseum, which was dedicated on Feb. 6, 1926. The Cornhuskers dropped a 25-14 decision to Kansas in the first game at their new home, which was built at a cost of $445,000 and seated 8,000 for basketball. Prior to that, Nebraska played most of its home games in Grant Hall, which seated about a fourth as many fans as the Coliseum and was located just to the north of where the Sheldon Art Gallery now stands.

Athletic Director Fred Leuhring arranged for Nebraska to play its home basketball games at the State Fairgrounds Coliseum in 1921, in order to accommodate more spectators. The Cornhuskers played two seasons at the Fairgrounds Coliseum, which had a wider court than Grant Hall.

The first game there was played on Jan. 14, 1921. Nebraska defeated conference opponent Grinnell 31-10 before an audience of 1,500, according to newspaper estimates. After two seasons, the Cornhuskers returned to Grant Hall, which had been remodeled, and continued to play home games there until the NU Coliseum opened.

Nebraska ended the decade with an 11-5 season under Charles T. Black, a former Kansas All-American in 1928-29. In the next 19 seasons, the Huskers had just two winning records, back-to-back campaigns under Coach W.H. Browne in 1935-36 and 1936-37. The 1937 team tied Kansas for the Big Six championship, after finishing second to the Jayhawks in 1936.

The 1930s produced four more Cornhusker All-Americans: center Don Maclay in 1931, guard Steve Hokuf in 1933, guard George Wahlquist in 1936 and guard Robert Parsons in 1937. Maclay was the Big Six scoring leader in 1930, scoring 112 points in 10 league games.

Harry Good was hired as head coach in 1946 and after two losing seasons, turned Nebraska's fortunes around. In 1948-49, Good's Huskers went 16-10, tied Oklahoma for the Big Seven regular-season championship and defeated the Sooners, 57-56, in a conference playoff to qualify for an NCAA playoff game. The NCAA Tournament was structured differently then, and the Cornhuskers needed to win that playoff to advance into the NCAA field. They lost to Oklahoma A&M, the Missouri Valley Conference champion, 52-35, at Kansas City, Mo. Coach Henry P. Iba's Aggies went on to finish second to Kentucky, coached by Adolph Rupp, in the NCAA Tournament.

In 1949-50, Nebraska again won 16 games and shared the Big Seven crown with Kansas and Kansas State. That marks the last time the conference had a three-way tie at the top. "We were King in our day," Claude Retherford once told a newspaper reporter. "They were firing football coaches left and right, but we packed 'em in. Oh, people were interested in football, but basketball was THE game on the Nebraska campus when we played." Retherford earned All-Big Seven recognition in 1949 after leading the conference in scoring with a 12.4 points-per-game average.

The Cornhuskers had another first-team All-Big Seven performer in 1949, Milton "Bus" Whitehead. The 6-10 center from Scottsbluff, Neb., also earned all-conference honors in 1950, when he averaged a then-school-record 15.7 points per game. Whitehead was named to the District V All-America team by Collier's Magazine. Whitehead also was the first Cornhusker selected to play in the East-West All-Star Game in New York City's Madison Square Garden. When he graduated, Whitehead held nine school scoring records.

Nebraska basketball experienced another drought beginning in 1950-51, with 15 consecutive losing seasons. Despite playing for a team that finished last in the Big Seven in 1952, Husker guard Jim Buchanan earned All-America and all-conference honors. And even though the late Jerry Bush, dubbed the "Big Bear of the Coliseum," never produced a winning team in his nine seasons as head coach at Nebraska, his colorful personality and uncanny ability to fashion upsets kept Cornhusker fans entertained.

The most dramatic upset during Bush's tenure as coach came on Feb. 22, 1958, against Kansas. The Jayhawks featured 7-foot center Wilt Chamberlain and were ranked fourth in the nation when they came to Lincoln. Earlier in the season, the Jayhawks had defeated the Huskers, 102-46, at Lawrence, Kan., with Chamberlain matching Nebraska by scoring 46 points. Nebraska scored a 43-41 victory in the rematch, when 5-9 guard Jim Kubacki hit a 15-foot jump shot with two seconds remaining.

But that's only part of the drama. Kubacki, a senior from Toledo, Ohio, spent all but the final 6:53 of the game sitting on the bench in street clothes, forced there by a knee injury and the kind of fate from which legends are built. When the Cornhuskers' captain, Gary Reimers, left the game with leg cramps, Kubacki convinced Bush to let him suit up. Four minutes and seven seconds later, Kubacki went into the game. Two minutes and 44 seconds after that, he hit the winning shot.

Bush also had the distinction of coaching the school's first 1,000-point scorer, guard Herschell Turner, who came from Indianapolis, Ind., where he was rated the second-best high school player in the state as a senior, behind only crosstown-rival Oscar Robertson. Turner earned All-America honors in 1959 and followed with All-Big Eight honors in 1960 and ended his Cornhusker career with 1,056 points.

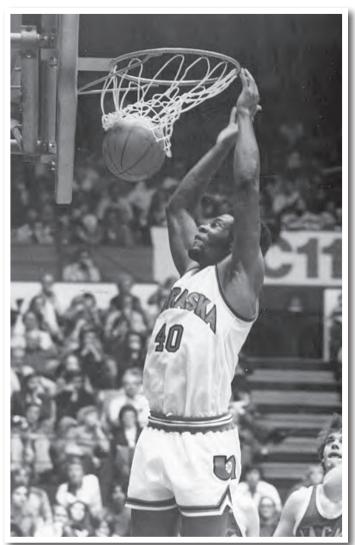

Following the 1962-63 season, Bush was replaced as head coach by Joe Cipriano, who brought the nickname "Slippery Joe" and up-tempo basketball to the Coliseum. His teams pressed full-court and ran a fast-break offense, which led the Big Eight in scoring average in 1966, 1967 and 1968.

Cipriano's first two teams had a combined record of 17-33. But his third team, in 1965-66, was one of the most successful in school history, finishing 20-5 and second to Kansas in the Big Eight. All-Big Eight guard Grant Simmons, the first Cornhusker to earn academic All-Big Eight honors, was the team's leader.

The 1966-67 team finished 16-9 and made the school's first appearance in the 16-team National Invitation Tournament, played at New York City's Madison Square Garden. Guard Stu Lantz was a two-time All-Big Eight pick and led the Cornhuskers in scoring and rebounding in both 1966-67 and 1967-68.

Guard Marvin Stewart and center Chuck Jura earned All-Big Eight honors for Cipriano in 1971 and 1972, respectively. Guard Jerry Fort, who finished his career with a then-school-record 1,882 points, was the first Nebraska player chosen first-team all-conference three times, from 1974 through 1976. With Fort's leadership, Nebraska began a string of 14 winning seasons.

In the fall of 1976, Cornhusker basketball moved out of the Coliseum and into the state-ofthe-art Bob Devaney Sports Center. Located on the State Fairgrounds, the $13 million athletic complex was financed by a special cigarette tax.

Andre Smith was the Big Eight Player of the Year for Nebraska in 1981.

Cipriano coached Nebraska to another 20-victory season in 1977-78. The Cornhuskers, led by All-Big Eight guard Brian Banks, finished with a 22-8 record and advanced to the second round of the NIT. Despite failing health - a battle against cancer that he finally lost - Cipriano shared coaching duties with his assistant, Moe Iba, in 1979-80, and took Nebraska to the NIT again. For their efforts, the duo shared United Press International Big Eight Coach-of-the-Year honors.

Cipriano brought Nebraska into the modern era, coaching 17 seasons and 450 games. His record was 253-197, and those 253 victories represent nearly one-fifth of Nebraska's all-time total. Following Cipriano's death, Iba was named head coach, and he continued Cipriano's winning ways. In Iba's six seasons on the bench, Nebraska was 106-71 and advanced to postseason play four times.

Center Andre Smith was the 1981 Big Eight MVP and twice earned All-Big Eight honors. However, it was the late Jack Moore, a 5-10 playmaker from Muncie, Ind., who captured the hearts of Nebraska fans from 1980 through 1982. Moore earned All-Big Eight honors in 1982, when he won the Naismith Award, given annually to the nation's top player under 6-feet tall. The first three-time academic All-Big Eight pick in Nebraska history, Moore scored 1,204 points and hit .901 from the free throw line during his career.

The cornerstone of Iba's teams from 1983 through 1986 was Omaha, Neb., native Dave Hoppen, a three-time All-Big Eight center and the first Nebraska basketball player to have his jersey number (42) retired by the school. In 1982-83, Hoppen's freshman season, the Cornhuskers were 22-10 and won three games in the NIT before losing to DePaul in the semifinals at Madison Square Garden. The Cornhuskers returned to the NIT each of the next two seasons, advancing to the second round both times.

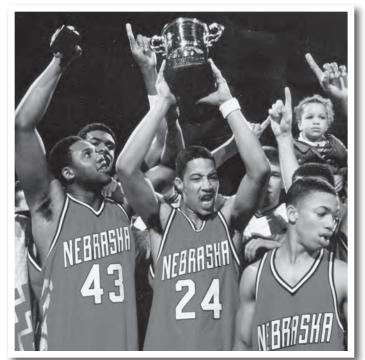

Hoppen's college career, though, was ended by a knee injury he sustained in a game at Colorado on Feb. 1, 1986. He finished as the school's all-time scoring leader with 2,167 points and broke or tied 19 school records during his four-year stay. After Hoppen's injury, Iba's team regrouped and went on to earn the school's first-ever "official" NCAA Tournament berth. Nebraska lost to Western Kentucky in the first round of the Southeast Regional, 67-59. Following the game, Iba announced his resignation.

On March 27, 1986, Danny Nee was officially introduced as Nebraska's 24th basketball coach. During a news conference to announce his hiring, Nee said a "new era" in Cornhusker basketball was beginning.

Nee's 14 teams appeared in postseason play 11 times and topped the 20-victory mark in seven seasons. In his first season, Nebraska was 21-12 and finished third in the NIT.

After a 13-18 record in his second season, the Cornhuskers got back over the .500 mark with a 17-16 record in 1988-89 and advanced to the second round of the NIT.

Nebraska missed the school single-season record for losses by one in 1989-90 (10-18), then won a school-record 26 games, with only eight losses, in 1990-91. The Cornhuskers reached the Big Eight Tournament championship game for the first time and advanced to the NCAA Tournament, losing to Xavier 89-84 in the first round of the regionals at Minneapolis, Minn.

Nebraska won the 1996 NIT title at Madison Square Garden. It was the third time since 1980 that the Huskers reached at least the NIT semifinals.

Nebraska won its only Big Eight Tournament title during the 1994 season as the Huskers won three straight over Oklahoma, No. 3 Missouri and No. 23 Oklahoma State.

The 1990-91 team included two first-round NBA draft picks, senior Rich King and redshirt freshman Eric Piatkowski. The 7-2 King was the tallest player in Cornhusker history.

Piatkowski, Nebraska's sixth-man in 1990-91, went on to win first-team all-conference honors twice. He ranks second on the Cornhuskers' career-scoring list with 1,934 points, and he is the only Nebraska player to finish with at least 1,900 points, 600 rebounds (669) and 300 assists (322). In 2006, Piatkowski became the third Husker, joining Hoppen and Stu Lantz (No. 22), to have his jersey number (52) retired.

Three more NCAA Tournament appearances followed the record-shattering 1991 season. In 1992-93, the Huskers registered their highest league finish under Nee by tying for second in the Big Eight.

In addition to reaching the NCAA Tournament for a fourth consecutive season and recording back-to-back 20-victory seasons for the first time in school history, Nee's 1993-94 team made history by winning the school's first Phillips 66 Big Eight Tournament title. The Cornhuskers defeated Oklahoma, Missouri and Oklahoma State, in that order, to earn the tournament championship.

Nebraska's NCAA Tournament run ended at four in 1994-95, but the Huskers kept their postseason streak alive with an NIT berth, advancing to the second round. The 1995-96 team struggled down the stretch but was back in the NIT and capped its season with a run to the tournament title.

The Huskers won two games on the road and scored more than 80 points in four of their five postseason games. They finished with a 60-56 victory against St. Joseph's at Madison Square Garden.

"The NIT run was incredible when you look at the teams we beat and how we beat them," Nee said after the remarkable run. "I don't care what anybody says, it was domination."

The 1996 NIT championship team was one of the most talented in school history. Two future NBA players, Erick Strickland and 1998 first-round draft pick Tyronn Lue, were in the backcourt. And two other players on the team scored 1,000 career points, Jaron Boone and freshman Venson Hamilton, who would finish his career in 1999 as the school's all-time leading rebounder and shot-blocker.

Lue's contributions as a freshman to the NIT championship team were only a preview of what was to come. The lightning-quick, 6-0 point guard finished his career as the seventhleading scorer in school history, and he ranked in the top 10 in 12 other career categories. His leadership carried the 1996-97 Cornhusker team, the first to play in the Big 12, to another NIT appearance.

Behind a late-season run, which included Nebraska's longest conference winning streak in 20 years, Nee's 12th team finished fourth in the Big 12 and returned to the NCAA Tournament. The bid was the Cornhuskers' fifth during the 1990s and extended the schoolrecord postseason run to eight.

The streak reached nine in 1999, as the Cornhuskers just missed an NCAA Tournament bid and advanced to the second round of the NIT. In the process, NU reached the 20-victory mark for a second consecutive season, and Hamilton was named Big 12 Player of the Year.

The optimism that preceded the 1999-2000 season, Nee's last, quickly faded with the loss of guard Cookie Belcher, who was sidelined by a wrist injury and forced to take a medical redshirt. The Cornhuskers were off-balance almost from the beginning of the season and fell far short of expectations.

Even though Nee became the winningest coach in school history in 1999-2000, getting victory No. 254 to pass Joe Cipriano in the Cornhuskers' final home game against Colorado, his final team finished with an 11-19 record. The 19 losses tied for the most in school history.

With then-Director of Athletics Bill Byrne setting his sites on bringing NU basketball back to national prominence, he hired Barry Collier as the Cornhuskers' new coach on April 5, 2000. In Collier's first season with the Huskers, Nebraska finished with a 14-16 mark as Belcher returned to the lineup and earned second-team All-Big 12 Conference honors while finishing third in NCAA history for career steals with 353.

In Collier's fourth season, Nebraska ran to an 18-13 record and its first postseason bid in five years. Nebraska won its first two games in the 2004 NIT, including an exhilarating 71-70 road victory over in-state foe Creighton in the opening round. After a home-court victory over Niagara, the Huskers' season came to an end three days later in a valiant effort at Hawaii when NU came back from 17 points down at halftime to tie the game at the first media timeout of the second period before eventually falling by a point.

Nebraska struggled the following season but an influx of young talent helped the Huskers move forward. Freshman 6-11 center Aleks Maric made an immediate impact as he broke the NU freshman rebounds record and ranked in the rookie top 10 for blocked shots. Maric – the first Australian to ever play basketball for the Huskers – was a force in the paint as he tied the school freshman record for double-doubles. It was a sign of good things to come as he finished his four-year career ranked fifth all-time in scoring and was only the second Husker ever to record at least 1,000 career rebounds.

NU made its second postseason appearance in three years in 2006 before finishing with a 19-14 record. It was the most wins under Collier and the first time his Huskers won a game at the Big 12 Championship as NU reached the semifinals of the conference tourney for the first time since winning the Big Eight Tournament title in 1994.

Collier looked to have a solid base in place for 2006-07 before abruptly resigning in early August to take the position of athletic director at his alma mater, Butler University, ending his career at Nebraska with an 89-91 overall record.

The late opening posed little challenge for Nebraska as one week later, on Aug. 8, 2006, Kenneth 'Doc' Sadler was introduced as the 26th head coach in program history.

Sadler's selection as the leader of the men's basketball program has proven to be a successful venture through his first four seasons in Lincoln. During that time, he has embraced the Husker faithful and provided a breath of excitement across the state. The surge of goodwill was evidenced by fans coming out in droves over the past three seasons as NU has averaged more than 10,000 per game at the Devaney Center in league play each of those years for the first time since 1997-98.

The success on the court played the biggest part in the ground swell of fan support. Nebraska finished first in the Big 12 and 18th nationally in scoring defense in 2007-08, allowing just 60.7 points per game. Sadler's specialty was highlighted again in 2008-09 as the Huskers proved it was no fluke, claiming another first-place defense in the league while ranking 22nd nationally by giving up just 60.4 points per contest. It was the second-lowest total in the Husker record book since 1951, giving Sadler-coached squads two of the top three Husker scoring defenses in the past half century.

The defensive strategy Sadler employs has paid dividends as Nebraska has earned 70 victories through four seasons. The total is the second-most ever by a Husker mentor in his first four years in Lincoln, trailing only Iba's 71 wins. Adding to Sadler's growing list of accomplishments is the fact that he was just the second NU coach ever to reach the postseason twice in his first three seasons and only the second since World War II to post at least three winning seasons in his first four years on the bench.

Among the 70 victories are five against ranked teams, including back-to-back wins over ranked opponents in 2008. It was the first time since 1999 that NU won consecutive games against ranked teams, and the first time in nine years since winning a road game over a ranked squad.

With the wins mounting, Sadler coaxed the Huskers back to the postseason for the second straight year in 2009. A year earlier, Nebraska went 1-1 in the NIT while securing just the 12th 20-win season in NU history.

The Huskers' 20-13 record in 2007-08 included a 7-9 record in league play, after starting the Big 12 campaign with an 0-4 mark. In 2008-09, Sadler helped Nebraska continue its upward trend with eight league victories, marking NU's first .500 record in conference play in a decade. Despite struggling to a 15-18 overall mark in 2009-10, Nebraska continued to build the foundation Sadler has been aiming for and now returns 11 sophomores and juniors for the 2010-11 campaign. Not only do the Huskers have a youthful foundation, but with the completion of the Hendricks Training Complex in 2011 and the 16,000-seat Haymarket Arena in 2013, the future looks bright for Husker basketball.

Aleks Maric finished his career ranked fifth all-time in scoring and second in rebounding, becoming only the third player in Big 12 history to record at least 1,600 points and 1,000 rebounds in a career.

Danny Nee is the winningest coach in Nebraska history with 254 career victories over 14 seasons. A 2009 Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame inductee, Nee was the Big Eight Coach of the Year in 1991 as he led NU to a school-record 26 victories.

After earning all-league honors as a junior, Tyronn Lue was a first-round NBA selection in 1998. During his collegiate career, he helped Nebraska to three postseason appearances and finished eighth in school history in scoring.

ACADEMIC

Ryan Anderson led Nebraska with 11.3 points and 5.3 rebounds per game as a senior, while leading the Big 12 Conference in 3-point percentage (42.9 percentage) in 2009-10.

JACK MOORE AWARD

Ryan Anderson was honored by the coaching staff as the winner of the Jack Moore Award, given annually to team's most valuable player, in 2009-10. Anderson led the Huskers with 11.3 points and 5.3 rebounds per game. He topped the Big 12 in 3-point percentage for the season (42.9 percent) and in league-only games (48.6 percent), and finished fourth in the conference in steals per game. A native of Seattle, Anderson left his mark on the Husker program in a variety of areas. The 6-4, 195-pounder played out of position nearly his whole career, competing at the '4' spot where he regularly gave up 5-6 inches and 40-60 pounds during the grind of Big 12 play. He ended his career ranked 23rd all-time in scoring (1,125 points), 16th in rebounding (584), 17th in assists (228) and fifth in games started (101). He also finished in the all-time top five for 3-pointers (3rd, 185) and steals (5th, 166) while becoming only the second player in school history with at least 1,000 points, 500 rebounds, 150 assists, 150 steals and 150 3-pointers, joining Nebraska Basketball Hall of Famer Erick Strickland.

The award is named for late-Husker guard Jack Moore, a 5-9 playmaker who set 17 school records in a career that ended in 1982. Moore was presented with the 1982 Francis Pomeroy-Naismith Award as the best collegiate player in the nation under six feet tall. A consensus All-Big Eight performer in 1982, Moore was killed in a plane crash in March of 1984.

1. DAVE HOPPEN - 2,167 POINTS

PLAYERS

6-11, 235, C, 1983-86, Omaha, Neb. (Benson)

Three-time All-Big Eight center Dave Hoppen finished his career as Nebraska's all-time leading scorer with 2,167 points. Hoppen, whose four-year collegiate career was cut short by a knee injury in a game at Colorado, Feb. 1, 1986, broke or tied 19 Nebraska records and five Big Eight marks during his standout career. A native of Omaha, Neb., Hoppen was the first player in Husker basketball history to have his jersey number (42) retired. Originally drafted by the NBA's Atlanta

Hawks in the third round of the 1986 draft, he played with both Charlotte and Philadelphia, and a stint in the CBA. Hoppen was inducted into the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame in 1996.

2. ERIC PIATKOWSKI - 1,934 POINTS

6-7, 215, F, 1991-94, Rapid City, S.D. (Stevens)

One of only two players in school history to play on four consecutive NCAA Tournament teams, Eric Piatkowski finished his career as the second-leading scorer in school history with 1,934 points. The Most Valuable Player in the 1994 Phillips 66 Big Eight Tournament, Piatkowski had a school and tournament-record 42-point outburst in Nebraska's first-round victory over Oklahoma. A two-time, firstteam All-Big Eight pick, Piatkowski averaged 21.5 points in his final season as a Husker, and became the first player in school history to score 1,900 points (1,934), grab 600 rebounds (669) and dish out 300 assists (322). A first-round draft pick of the NBA's Indianapolis Pacers, Piatkowski's draft rights were then traded to the Los Angeles Clippers, who he played with for eight seasons before joining the Houston Rockets during the summer of 2003. He was traded to the Chicago Bulls in the summer of 2004 and signed with the Phoenix Suns where he played his final three years in the league. Piatkowski's jersey No. 52 was retired by the Huskers in 2006, the same year he was inducted into the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame.

3. JERRY FORT - 1,882 POINTS

6-3, 170, G, 1973-76, Chicago, Ill. (Franciscan)

The first Husker basketball player to earn All-Big Eight honors for three straight seasons, Jerry Fort finished his career with 1,882 points – a record that stood for nine seasons, until Dave Hoppen broke it, Dec. 15, 1985. Fort was a third-round draft pick of the Boston Celtics following his senior season. He scored a then-school-record 40 points against Missouri as a junior. Fort was inducted into the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame in 1991.

4. ANDRE SMITH - 1,717 POINTS

REVIEW

6-7, 215, C/F, 1978-81, Chicago, Ill. (Kennedy)

Andre Smith closed his brilliant four-year career in 1980-81 when he led the Big Eight Conference in scoring with a 19.5 average in league-only games. Smith was named the conference's player of the year for his efforts – the only Husker to earn that honor in the Big Eight era. Smith was also a two-time all-conference selection. He scored 1,717 points and grabbed 753 rebounds during his Husker career and was chosen in the seventh round of the 1981 NBA Draft

5. ALEKS MARIC - 1,630 POINTS

6-11, 275, C, 2005-08, Sydney, Australia

(Life Center (N.J.)/Australian Institute for Sport)

Aleks Maric was one of the most dominant big men in the first 12 years of the Big 12 era. The Aussie was a first-team All-Big 12 selection by the Associated Press as a senior and a two-time secondteam pick by the coaches. During his senior year, he became only the third player in league history to record at least 1,500 points and 1,000 rebounds in a career. Maric tied the school single-season record with 335 boards as a senior in 2007-08. Maric led NU and ranked in the top seven in the league in scoring, rebounding, field-goal percentage and blocked shots as a senior. He finished his career tying or breaking 19 Nebraska and Big 12 Conference records. After declaring for the NBA Draft following his sophomore season, Maric withdrew and returned to Nebraska where he became just the ninth player in program history to reach 1,000 points before the start of his senior campaign (and 24th player overall).

6. JARON BOONE - 1,609 POINTS

6-6, 195, G, 1993-96, Salt Lake City, Utah (Skyline)

Jaron Boone played in 127 games and started 102 to rank third and fourth, respectively, in school history. Boone became the 17th player in school history to reach 1,000 points, but just the fifth to do so before completing his junior season. Boone earned second-team All-Big Eight honors as a junior and helped Nebraska to the NIT championship his senior year. Boone's 559 points in his junior season is the seventh-highest single-season output in school history. Boone scored at least 20 points 18 times in his career and ranks among the school leaders in 3-point shots made (fourth, 181) and attempted (fourth, 501), assists (third, 446) and minutes (fourth, 3,624).

7. ERICK STRICKLAND – 1,586 POINTS 6-3, 210, G, 1993-96, Bellevue, Neb. (West)

One of two 1,000-point scorers on the 1995-96 team, Erick Strickland finished his career with 1,586 points. Strickland was a second-team all-conference selection as a senior when he led the team in scoring (14.7) and was named the MVP of the NIT. Strickland played in 127 career games, tied for third in school history, and started 84. His 516 points during his senior season rank 14th in school single-season history. A three-time member of the Big Eight All-Defensive Team, he is second in steals at NU with 257. Strickland ranks fifth in 3-point field goals made (179), third in 3-point field goal attempts (512) and fifth in assists (414). He spent nine years in the NBA, including four with the Dallas Mavericks and two with the Milwaukee Bucks. He was inducted into the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame on Jan. 17, 2009.

8. TYRONN LUE - 1,577 POINTS

6-0, 175, G, 1996-98, Mexico, Mo. (Raytown)

Tyronn Lue became one of the few Huskers to eclipse the 1,000-point mark by early in his junior season. He finished his career with 1,577 points before turning pro a year early. Lue was a first-round NBA draft pick of the Denver Nuggets before being traded on draft night to the Los Angeles Lakers where he won a pair of NBA titles. He also played for the Washington Wizards, Orlando Magic, Houston Rockets, Atlanta Hawks, Dallas Mavericks and Milwaukee Bucks. Lue ranks in the top 10 in 13 Husker career categories, including assists (fourth, 432), 3-pointers (eighth, 145), games started (ninth, 96) and steals (seventh, 154). Lue started 96 of 99 games in his Husker career and led NU to three straight postseason appearances, including an NCAA berth in 1998.

9. COOKIE BELCHER - 1,552 POINTS

6-4, 205, G, 1997-2001, Mexico, Mo. (Mexico)

During the 1999 season, Cookie Belcher became the 21st player in school history to join the Huskers' 1,000-point club. With another stellar campaign in 2001, he moved into the Huskers' all-time top 10, finishing his career with 1,552 points. He was just the eighth player in NU history to reach 1,000 points before the start of his senior season. Belcher made a strong mark on the Husker record books in other areas. He owns the Nebraska game, season and career records for steals and finished his career ranked third in NCAA history with 353 steals. He also ranks in the top 10 on NU's career 3-point (seventh, 146) and assist lists (second, 477) and owns the school records for most career starts (129) and games played (131). He enjoyed a successful professional career in Europe for seven years.

10. RICH KING - 1,475 POINTS

7-2, 260, C, 1988-91, Omaha, Neb. (Burke)

The tallest player in Nebraska history at 7-2, Rich King finished his career with 1,475 points and then-school records for blocked shots (183) and games played (124). King had a big hand in the Huskers' record-breaking 26-8 campaign in 1990-91, as he led the team in scoring (15.5 ppg) and rebounding (8.1 rpg) en route to honorablemention All-America honors from both AP and UPI. A first-round draft pick of the Seattle SuperSonics in the 1991 NBA Draft, King tied Jerry Fort's then-school single-game scoring record with a 40-point outburst against Northern Illinois, Feb. 18, 1991. He was inducted into the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame in 2001.

11. VENSON HAMILTON - 1,416 POINTS

6-10, 240, C, 1996-99, Forest City, N.C. (Oak Hill Academy) One of two Huskers to reach the 1,000-point plateau in 1998-99, Venson Hamilton was a four-year standout for Coach Danny Nee. Hamilton finished his career with 1,416 points and ranks 11th on NU's all-time scoring list. His senior season was one of the finest campaigns in school history. For his efforts, Hamilton earned Big 12 Player-of-the-Year honors, the first Husker since 1981 to capture that prestigious award. Hamilton still owns NU records for rebounds

(1,080) and blocked shots (241) and is second in games played (129). Hamilton was just the fourth player all-time among Big 12 schools to score 1,000 points, grab 1,000 rebounds and block 200 shots in his collegiate career. He was a second-round draft pick of the Houston Rockets, and has since experienced a successful professional career in Europe.

12. CARL MCPIPE - 1,300 POINTS

6-8, 225, C, 1976-79, Hammond, Ind. (Technical)

One-half of the "Hammond Hustlers" (Brian Banks was the other), 'Pipe' and 'BB' provided Nebraska with a great four-year, one-two punch. McPipe, a three-year starter, finished his career with 1,300 points. As a junior, McPipe earned USBWA District V honors and was one of 12 starters designated as an All-American by the Citizens Savings Athletic Foundation. In his final year in a Husker uniform, McPipe was a repeat pick on the USBWA team and a fifth-round draft selection of the Philadelphia 76ers.

13. TOM BAACK - 1,299 POINTS

6-5, 192, F, 1966-68, Fort Wayne, Ind. (Concordia) Tom Baack, a 1995 Nebraska Hall of Fame inductee, finished his career with 1,299 points, a figure that stood as the school record until guard Jerry Fort came along 10 years later. He played on three straight winning NU teams from 1965 through 1968, and helped the Huskers to an NIT appearance in 1966-67—NU's first-ever bid to the nation's oldest postseason tournament. Known for his satinsmooth jump shot, Baack had a 17.3 points-per-game average for his career, which still ranks third in school history. Baack served as an assistant at Nebraska for eight seasons after his playing days. He was selected in the 10th round of the 1968 NBA Draft by the Detroit Pistons. He was inducted into the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame in 1995.

6-3, 175, G, 1966-68, Uniontown, Pa.

Stuart Lantz teamed with Tom Baack to give Nebraska a potent one-two offensive punch. Lantz finished his career with 1,269 points and 571 rebounds. A two-time All-Big Eight pick, Lantz went on to play eight years in the NBA with four teams (San Diego/Houston Rockets, Detroit Pistons, New Orleans Jazz, Los Angeles Lakers). A charter member of the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame, Lantz had his jersey (No. 22) retired in the fall of 1989. He has been the Lakers' television color commentator since 1987.

6-10, 220, C, 1970-72, Schuyler, Neb.

One of the top all-around centers in Nebraska history, Chuck Jura's 1,255 points rank 15th on the school's all-time list, and trail Stuart Lantz's career total by 14 points. Jura earned All-Big Eight honors as a senior and was an academic All-Big Eight choice. One of only six players in NU history to average more than 20 points in a season (21.2), Jura ranks sixth on the rebounding chart (740) and his 11.7 rebounds per game (305 total) in his final season are still an NU single-season record. Like Lantz, Jura was a charter member of the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame. A third-round NBA draft pick by the Chicago Bulls, Jura played professional basketball in Europe for several seasons.

16. LARRY FLORENCE - 1,223 POINTS

6-5, 220, F, 1997-2000, Phoenix City, Ala.

Forward Larry Florence surpassed the 1,000-point milestone midway through the 1999-2000 season. Florence ranks third at Nebraska in career starts (105) and is tied for ninth in games played (123). A four-year starter, Florence was Nebraska's captain as a senior and led the Huskers in scoring at 13.0 points per game. In his senior season, Florence earned honorable-mention All-Big 12 honors from the league's coaches. Florence also earned the reputation as a strong defender and a hard worker in the weight room. He was named the Husker Power Male Athlete of the Year for all sports in 1999 and was a three-time men's basketball lifter of the year.

17. JACK MOORE - 1,204 POINTS

5-9, 165, G, 1979-82, Muncie, Ind. (Central)

Jack Moore will long be remembered by Husker faithful for his gutty play on the basketball court. He was honored with the 1982 Naismith Award, which is presented annually to the nation's top player under 6-feet tall. During his four-year career, Moore scored 1,204 points, and shot .901 from the free-throw line – among the all-time best career marks in NCAA Division I history. Moore's .901 free-throw percentage broke the Big Eight record for career marksmanship, which had been held by his coach, Moe Iba. A consensus All-Big Eight selection as a senior, Moore was the first Husker cager to earn first-team academic All-Big Eight honors for three straight seasons, and his 382 career assists stand seventh on NU's all-time chart. Nebraska's MVP Award is named in honor of Moore, who was killed in a March 1984 plane crash. Moore was inducted into the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame in 1993.

6-0, 165, G, 1984-87, Muncie, Ind. (Burris)

Brian Carr is the only player in Nebraska history to score 1,000 points and collect more than 600 assists in a career. Carr, who finished his four-year career with 14 Nebraska school records, scored 1,182 points and collected 682 assists. The 682 assists ranked as the third-best total in Big Eight history, behind only former Kansas stars Cedric Hunter and Jacque Vaughn. Carr also ranks second in career minutes played at NU. A second-team All-Big Eight selection as a senior (UPI), Carr was a two-time, first-team academic All-Big Eight performer. Carr was inducted into the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame in 2001.

24. CARY COCHRAN - 1,082 POINTS

6-1, 190, G, 1999-2002, Minden, Iowa (Tri-Center)

One of the most dangerous long-distance threats in Nebraska and Big 12 history, Cary Cochran topped the 1,000-point mark during his senior campaign. Cochran set Nebraska records for career (268), single-season (89) and single-game (8) 3-pointers during his senior season. He led the team in scoring at 14.0 points per game as a senior, and led the conference and nation in free-throw percentage by hitting 92.2 percent at the charity stripe. For his career, Cochran was an 89.6 percent shooter from the foul line, and was second in Nebraska history by hitting 42.5 percent from behind the arc. Cochran was an honorable-mention All-Big 12 pick by the coaches as a senior, and earned academic all-district and all-conference honors.

25. HERSCHELL TURNER - 1,056 POINTS

G, 1958-60, Indianapolis, Ind. (Shortbridge)

The first Husker cager to top the 1,000-point mark, Herschell Turner finished his career with 1,056 points. Turner teamed with Al Maxey to provide a strong offensive punch for Coach Jerry Bush's teams in the late 1950s. A first-team All-Big Eight selection as a senior, Turner earned All-America honors as a junior. Turner was a strong rebounder and held NU's single-season rebounding record (244) for 10 seasons, until Leroy Chalk grabbed 257 rebounds in 1969. Turner finished his career with 626 rebounds, which ranks 13th on NU's all-time chart. He was a sixth-round draft choice of the NBA's Syracuse Nationals in 1960. He was inducted into the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame in 1990.

NEBRASKA BASKETBALL HALL OF FAME

Danny Nee and Erick Strickland were the most recent inductees into the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame, becoming the 60th and 61st members of the elite basketball fraternity on Jan. 17, 2009.

Nee recorded more wins at Nebraska than any coach, accumulating 254 victories over 14 years. He owned a .572 winning percentage (254-190) at Nebraska while leading the Huskers to five NCAA Tournament and six NIT berths. Nee is the only coach since 1950 to lead the Huskers to a league or national-level title, helping Nebraska to the 1994 Big Eight Tournament and the 1996 National Invitation Tournament (NIT) titles.

Nee led NU to a school-record 26 wins in 1991 and earned league coach-of-the-year accolades as the Huskers posted the school's highest-ever final ranking of No. 9 (UPI) and 11 (AP). He coached 10 of Nebraska's 24 1,000-point scorers and recruited and coached all three of NU's first-round selections in the NBA Draft (Rich King, 1991; Eric Piatkowski, 1994; Tyronn Lue, 1998), as well as 1999 Big 12 Player of the Year Venson Hamilton (second-round NBA pick).

Strickland was a key component of Husker squads that won 79 games between 1992-93 and 1995-96, with three seasons earning at least 20 wins. During his career, Strickland played in two NCAA Tournaments and two NITs, including helping Nebraska win five straight games in March to earn the 1996 NIT championship.

Along the way, Strickland played in 127 games with 84 starts, while averaging 12.5 points per game for his career. He had his best scoring season as a junior when he averaged 16.3 points per game and hit a career-best 54 3-pointers. A native of Bellevue, Neb., Strickland was the MVP of the 1996 NIT and earned Big Eight All-Defensive Team honors three times. Following his Husker career, Strickland earned a spot in the NBA as a free agent, playing nine years in the league.

Also in 2009, Kent Pavelka was the 19th person to earn the Bud Cuca Special Merit Award, given to an individual who helps shape the Husker basketball program from a supporting role. The award was renamed in 2003 in honor of Bud Cuca, a long-time NU basketball supporter who passed away that year following a battle with cancer. Pavelka returned to the microphone as the Huskers' basketball voice in 2006-07, and now has more than 20 years under his belt calling Nebraska hoops. He is a six-time winner of the Nebraska Sportscaster of the Year Award.

Earning a special honor from the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame was Rex Ekwall, a letterwinner for NU from 1955 to 1957. Ekwall still holds the Nebraska career record for rebounding average, as he pulled in 679 boards in 65 games for an average of 10.4 per game. More than 50 years after he last played, Ekwall is still 10th on the rebounds chart and 35th in scoring at Nebraska (880 points, 13.5 points per game).

Ekwall was the second former Husker to earn the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame Distinguished Alumni Award, following Bus Whitehead who received the inaugural honor in 2003. The award honors a former player and Hall of Fame member who has been a positive force in the state and local community since his playing days ended.

The Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame was the brainchild of longtime Husker athletic supporter Jerry Solomon, who first approached the University about the project in 1988. Solomon, along with Jack Bock, Dale Herman and Dale Jensen, provided financial support for the Hall of Fame at that time. The Hall is now co-sponsored by the Nebraska Athletic Department and the Rebounders Club.

Season Notes: For the first time ever, NU had two 1,000-point career scorers on the floor at the same time, as Tom Baack and Stuart Lantz reached that plateau during the 1967-68 campaign... Baack finished three-year career with a then-school-record 1,293 points and would later become Husker assistant coach...Lantz logged 1,266 points over his three-year career and was a first-team All-Big Eight pick and a District V all-star as a senior...Lantz was a third-round draft pick of the National Basketball Association's San Diego Rockets and would go on to play eight seasons of pro hoops... Baack was a 10th-round pick of the Detroit Pistons...NU won its first Big Eight Holiday title, scoring wins over Oklahoma, Oklahoma State and Kansas State...Huskers' post third straight .500 or better record, a feat the school hadn't accomplished since a three-year string from 1929 through 1931.

THIS IS NEBRASKA BASKETBALL

The 2010-11 Nebraska media guide is designed to assist the media in its coverage of the Nebraska Cornhusker men's basketball program. Additional information, including releases, photographs and video may be obtained by contacting the Media Relations Office at (402) 472-2263, or in many cases can be found on Huskers.com.

Please take a moment to review the following policies and services, which are intended to assist media members in their coverage of Nebraska basketball this season.

MEDIA CREDENTIALS

All requests for press, broadcast, photo and parking credentials for Nebraska basketball home games should be directed to Vicki Capazo, One Memorial Stadium, P.O. Box 880123, Lincoln, NE, 68588-0123. Credential requests can also be sent via e-mail to Associate Media Relations Director Shamus McKnight (smcknight@huskers.com) at least one week before the game.

As a general rule, working space is allocated on the following basis:

- 1) daily newspaper and wire-service writers covering for next-day publication;
- 2) radio and television personnel for broadcast origination;
- 3) sports editors of Nebraska daily newspapers;
- 4) official school student daily newspaper;
- 5) approved special coverage;
- 6) press and TV working photographers.

Generally, weekly newspaper representatives, Internet news services and non-originating radio representatives cannot be accommodated because of space limitations. Internet writers for sites affiliated with established, nationally recognized media outlets will be considered on a game-by-game basis as space allows. Credentials will not be granted for writers or photographers for Internet sites that are not affiliated with an accredited news organization.

MEDIA WILL CALL/MEDIA PARKING

Media passes that are not mailed may be picked up at the Will-Call window, located under the south ramp of the Bob Devaney Sports Center. The Will-Call window opens 90 minutes before tipoff. Photo identification is required for credentials or tickets. All other Will-Call windows are located on the upper north concourse.

For the 2010-11 season, media parking is located next to and across the street from the Bob Devaney Sports Center in a portion of Lot 54. Enter on 14th Street and follow around the west side of Devaney Center.

COACH SADLER INTERVIEW TIME

The best time for local media to reach Coach Doc Sadler for an interview is 30 minutes before practice on the Devaney Center court. All interviews with Coach Sadler must be scheduled through the Media Relations Office.

Out-of-town media are encouraged to participate in the Big 12 weekly teleconference. Coach Sadler will participate in the telephonic press conferences (see schedule, above right) each week beginning at 11:30 a.m. (CST). The teleconferences begin Dec. 13 and continue throughout the season. Contact the Big 12 Conference communications staff at (469) 524-1000 for more information on how to join the conference call.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

Nebraska's locker room is closed to the media at home and on the road. For home games, Nebraska's postgame news conference will be held following a brief cooling off period in the designated postgame interview room off the southeast corner of the Devaney Center court.

The opposing team is housed in the visitor's locker room, located off the hallway at the northwest corner of the playing floor and will be available following the cooling off period.

BIG 12 WEEKLY TELECONFERENCE

The Big 12 Conference men's basketball coaches will participate in a weekly media-only teleconference during the 2010-11 season. The calls begin in December, followed by weekly teleconferences beginning in January. The schedule is as follows:

| Monday, Dec. 13 | Monday, Feb. 7 |
|----------------------------------|--------------------------------------|
| Thursday, Jan. 6 | Monday, Feb. 14 |
| Monday, Jan. 10 | Monday, Feb. 21 |

During conference and select non-conference games play, they will also be brought to the postgame interview room. Make requests for opposing players and coaches through the visiting SID.

On the road, Coach Sadler and select players will be available upon request after the cooling off period. Check with Associate Media Relations Director Shamus McKnight regarding where player interviews will take place.

PLAYER INTERVIEWS

All media requests for interviews with Nebraska basketball players should be directed to Associate Media Relations Director Shamus McKnight [office phone: (402) 472-7772, cell phone: (402) 540-0268] at least one day in advance. The best time for in-season interviews is before practice between 1-1:20 p.m., depending on class schedules.

Players are usually available for telephone interviews before practice, except on game days when no interviews are allowed. Nebraska is tentatively scheduled to practice from 1:30-4 p.m. during the season, with practices typically at the Devaney Center. With advance notice, interviews can be arranged for other times during the day at the Devaney Center or in the Media Relations Office during the day if the players' class schedule allows.

Media are welcome to attend practice, which is open to the public. Check Huskers.com on the men's basketball page for updated practice times and site location.

PRESS BOX LOCATION

The press box for Nebraska basketball games is located in the lower portion of section C-12 (upper level) on the south side of the playing floor (opposite the team benches).

Television and radio crews originating an officially sanctioned broadcast of the game (see Broadcast Rights below) will be seated on the floor, with the visiting radio adjacent to the visiting team's bench when there is a TV telecast (east side of the scorer's table) and the home radio and television broadcasting teams positioned at midcourt opposite the team benches. When there is no television broadcast, both radios will broadcast from floor level opposite the team benches.

The camera deck is located at the top of the arena, directly behind the press box. Live originating telecasts may be shot from either floor level (northeast or southwest baselines) or the camera deck in marked areas, but may not occupy space in the press box.

MEDIA WORK ROOM

The media work room is located on the south side of the lower level, across from the media will-call window. Media can use the room prior to, during and after the game to write and send stories.

Phone and free wireless Internet will be available in the media work room, along with limited ethernet lines. Wireless Internet and limited ethernet lines will also be available in the photography area on the southwest concourse level.

WIRELESS INTERNET

The Bob Devaney Sports Center and Nebraska's other athletic facilities has a secured wireless network for media use. Media members are encouraged to register for the network in advance and should contact the Media Relations Office for registration information and instructions.

MEDIA SERVICES

Notes, flipcards and media guides will be provided before each game. Final statistics, playby-play sheets and quotes from each locker room will be distributed following the game and will be available on Huskers.com. Refreshments will be available to the media in a designated area before the game.

Any media wishing to place a phone in the press box should contact University Telecommunications at (402) 472-2000 at least two weeks before the game.

RADIO/TELEVISION BROADCAST SPACE

Requests for live radio and television broadcast space should be made to Associate Media Relations Director Shamus McKnight at smcknight@huskers.com. If statisticians are needed, contact Trickie at least three days in advance.

RADIO BROADCAST RIGHTS

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln and IMG World own exclusive radio broadcast rights to all of the University's men's basketball games. Other than the Husker Sports Network and the University of Nebraska student radio station (KRNU), the only radio stations or networks allowed to broadcast Nebraska games from the Devaney Center are those that have rights to broadcast games played by the opposing team.

All radio stations and networks broadcasting from the Bob Devaney Sports Center must receive prior permission from the University. Any representative of a radio station or network that has not purchased such rights shall not air live game action or description of any game while it is in progress, nor shall such representatives air tape-recorded or live commentary of Nebraska coaches or players from the premises for one hour before or 20 minutes after a game.

Only stations that have purchased broadcast rights may install telephone lines on press row, or use telephone lines on press row for reporting on games. By accepting media credentials, representatives of stations and networks that have not purchased broadcast rights signify their agreement to all stipulations.

BROADCAST TELEPHONE LINES

The Husker Sports Network installs telephone lines for visiting official broadcasts and charges a fee for the use of those lines for non-conference games. Big 12 official stations receive the use of the lines free of charge as part of a cooperative. Those interested in using the lines should contact Mike Elliott of Husker Sports Network at (402) 332-4000.

Official visiting radio stations are welcome to have their own telephone lines installed at the visiting radio position and may do so by contacting University Telecommunications at (402) 472-2000. Visiting teams should contact Associate Media Relations Director Jerry Trickie before the game to find out where the broadcast position is located.

PRO SCOUTING PASSES

Per Big 12 Conference rules, the University of Nebraska provides press box access to scouts of professional basketball teams based on availability. If no space is available in the press box, scouts may arrange through the Media Relations Office (402-472-2263) to purchase tickets for Nebraska home games.

DEVANEY CENTER DIRECTIONS

The Bob Devaney Sports Center is located on the west edge of the Nebraska's new Innovation Campus. To reach it from the Lincoln Municipal Airport, turn right on Northwest 12th Street as you drive out of the airport. Northwest 12th Street becomes Cornhusker Highway, which intersects with 14th Street. Exit south on 14th Street off Cornhusker Highway. Travel to Military Avenue and turn left. Continue a half mile and enter Innovation Campus. Take the first right turn before the Devaney Center and follow the access road to Lot 4 on the South Side of the arena. From Omaha's Eppley Airfield, follow the signs to downtown Omaha and I-480. Take I-480 West to I-80, then take I-80 West approximately 60 miles to I-180. Exit South on I-180, then exit East to Cornhusker Highway and follow the instructions above.

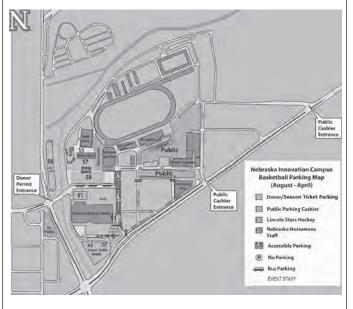

MEDIA RELATIONS OFFICE

The University of Nebraska Media Relations Office is located on the third floor of the Osborne Athletic Complex, which is at the north end of Memorial Stadium. The building address is One Memorial Stadium, Lincoln, NE 68588, and is located approximately one mile away from the Devaney Center.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Text Messaging with UNL Police: This season, fans at the Devaney Center will be able to utilize a new text-messaging reporting system to quickly summon the UNL Police. In case of emergencies or to report a disturbance in your area, send a SMS text message to 41513, keyword UNLPD. Then type in the complaint and location. Standard SMS text message rates apply. This is a two-way texting system allowing the UNL Police to respond back, as needed. First Aid: The Red Cross provides emergency medical services and the first aid station is located in the southwest corner of the concourse level.

Restrooms: Restrooms are located on the north and south sides of the court level and on the east and west ends of the concourse level. A handicap-only family restroom is located in the southeast corner of court level. An elevator is located in the southeast corner of the building. No Smoking Policy: Smoking is NOT permitted in the Devaney Center. If you choose to leave the building to smoke, you must have both your ticket stub and a hand stamp to re-enter the Devaney Center.

Public Telephones & ATMs: Public pay phones are located on the four corners of the concourse level and the court level. An ATM can be found on the northeast corner of the concourse level. Lost and Found: If you have lost anything - or found a lost item - please report/return it to the nearest event staff member or police officer. All lost and found items will be kept until the end of the season. Items may be claimed by contacting the Athletic Events Office at (402) 472-1960.

Will Call: Will call tickets will be available for pickup at the Devaney Center ticket window, outside the north entrance at the top of the upper ramp, beginning 90 minutes prior to tipoff. Media will call is available at the media entrance on court level on the south side. A photo ID is required to pick up will call tickets.

HUSKER SPORTS NETWORK

OUTLOOK

The IMG Husker Sports Network will continue the strong tradition of broadcasting excellence in 2010-11. All basketball games this season will be broadcast by the Husker Sports Network, which includes 32 statewide radio markets that cover the entire state. KFAB (1110 AM) serves as the Omaha affiliate and KLIN (1400 AM) serves as the Lincoln affiliate, while KRVN (880 AM) is a third affiliate that reaches around the state. The national coverage area is broad and all games will also be heard live on Huskers.com with many also carried live on Sirius Satellite Radio.

The Husker Sports Network, in its 16th year of producing and marketing the live broadcasts of Nebraska Athletics, extended and expanded its agreement with the University on June 13, 2008. Under the agreement, IMG College's Husker Sports Marketing will manage and market all rights associated with radio programming, coaches' TV and radio shows, program sales, sponsorship inventory and publication printing rights.

IMG College, which purchased Host Communications and the Husker Sports Network on Nov. 16, 2007, is the leader in developing integrated licensing, marketing and multi-media opportunities for the nation's top collegiate brands across local, regional and national platforms. In addition to Nebraska, IMG College represents athletic organizations from across the country including such BCS universities as Arizona, Cincinnati, Connecticut, Florida, Kansas, Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio State, Oregon, Tennessee and Texas. IMG College partners include the NCAA and its 88 championships, NCAA football, leading conferences, some of the most prestigious universities and licensing for nearly 200 institutions. IMG College is a division of IMG, the world's premier sports, entertainment and media company. IMG employs more than 3,000 people in 30 countries. For more information, visit www.imgworld.com.

Kent Pavelka returns behind the microphone to handle his 22nd overall season calling Husker hoops. Pavelka previously called Nebraska basketball for two long stints between 1974 and 1996 before returning to the Husker basketball play-byplay chair before the 2006-07 season. A six-time winner of the Nebraska Sportscaster-of-the-Year Award, Pavelka also handled color analyst duties on NU football broadcasts from 1974 to 1983, and was the playby-play announcer from 1983 to 1996. Pavelka was honored in January 2009 with the Bud Cuca Special Merit Award given by the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame for his contributions to the NU men's basketball program.

Alongside Pavelka as color analysts this year will be Matt Davison and Andy Markowski. Davison returns for his seventh season on the basketball broadcast and also handles duties on the Nebraska football radio broadcasts. Markowski, a four-year Husker letterwinner from 1996-99, has filled in as analyst on several occasions over the past two years.

The Husker Sports Network will also carry a weekly radio show with Coach Doc Sadler and host Lane Grindle, which can be heard statewide on the network on Monday nights at 7 p.m. during the season. All Nebraska games and coaches shows can also be heard for free on the Internet at Huskers.com.

HUSKERS CARRY ANOTHER STRONG TV SCHEDULE

REVIEW

Nebraska will have a minimum of 20 games televised regionally or nationally in 2010-11, and will have at least seven of its eight Big 12 Conference road games televised for the fourth straight season. Overall, one game will be seen on ESPN2, four on ESPNU, one game on FSN (national), seven games on Fox Sports Midwest and six on the the Big 12 Network. NU could make another ESPNU appearance if the Huskers win the opener in Puerto Rico.

For the seventh straight season, the Huskers will have eight games shown within the state on NU's third-tier telecast partner, Fox Sports Midwest. For the third straight season, all games televised on the Husker package on Fox Sports Midwest will also be made available to air nationally on the ESPN FullCourt package and on the Internet at ESPN3.com.

Veteran broadcaster Greg Sharpe returns for his seventh season calling the action for Husker telecasts. Sharpe is in his third year as the full-time radio voice of Husker football and baseball after serving on an interim basis in 2007-08. A two-time Kansas Sportscaster of the Year, he previously served as the voice of the Kansas State Wildcats from 1996 to 2002.

Returning for his third year as part of the broadcast team, former Husker Eric Piatkowski is back on the NU sideline as the Huskers' color analyst. A 13-year NBA veteran, Piatkowski retired from professional basketball in the summer of 2008 and was quick to sign on with his alma mater to be a part of the FSN package. Fox Sports Midwest, a regional sports television network, reaches more than 4.3 million cable and satellite television homes in six states. It carries more than 2,000 hours of local programming each year, including professional basketball (Indiana Pacers), baseball (St. Louis Cardinals, Kansas City Royals) and hockey (St. Louis Blues), along with Big 12 football, Big 12 women's basketball and several other collegiate athletic contests. Nationally, FSN's 20 regional sports channels reach more than 82 million homes in the United States.

NEBRASKA COMPLIANCE GUIDELINES

The University of Nebraska Athletic Department takes great pride in abiding by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and the Big 12 Conference rules and guidelines that govern Division I competition. For the benefit of the many alumni, fans and booster club members who are so active in supporting and assisting the Huskers throughout the year, we would like to remind everyone of a few definitions and rules that apply to all athletic representatives and boosters.

NCAA PRINCIPLES

Institutional Control

It is the responsibility of the University of Nebraska to control its intercollegiate athletic program in compliance with the rules and regulations of the NCAA.

Responsibility

The University of Nebraska's responsibility for the conduct of its program includes responsibility for the actions of its staff members and for the actions of any other individual, booster or organization engaged in activities promoting the athletic interests of the institution.

Compliance

The University of Nebraska must monitor its program to assure compliance and to identify and report to the NCAA instances in which compliance has not been achieved. An institution found to have violated NCAA rules is subject to disciplinary and corrective actions as determined by the NCAA.

QUESTION AND ANSWERS FOR FANS, BOOSTERS, ALUMNI AND REPRESENTATIVES OF ATHLETIC INTERESTS

Definitions

Q: What is a booster?

A: Someone who belongs to a University of Nebraska athletic booster club; promotes or makes financial donations to the athletic department or a specific Husker team; assists in the recruitment of prospective student-athletes; employs, gives benefits to, or provides services to a student-athlete, a prospective student-athlete or the relative/friends of either.

REPRESENTATIVE OF ATHLETIC INTERESTS (I.E., BOOSTERS), NCAA BYLAW 13

Q: What is a Prospective Student-Athlete?

A: A prospective student-athlete is a student who has started classes for the ninth grade or above, including students in prep schools and junior colleges as well as students who have officially withdrawn from a four-year institution and plan to transfer to another institution. In addition, a student who has not started classes for the ninth grade becomes a prospective student-athlete if the institution or a Nebraska booster provides the individual or the individual's relatives or friends with any financial assistance or benefits that the institution does not provide to prospective students in general. A good rule of thumb is to treat ALL STUDENTS as prospects.

Q: What is a Student-Athlete?

A: A student-athlete is a student whose enrollment was solicited by a member of the Nebraska athletic staff or other representative of athletic interests with a view toward the student's ultimate participation in the intercollegiate athletic program.

Q: What is a contact?

A: Contact is ANY face-to-face encounter between a prospect, or the prospect's parent or legal guardian, and a Nebraska staff member or athletic representative during which any dialogue occurs.

Q: What is recruiting?

A: Recruiting is any solicitation of a prospect or a prospect's family member (or guardian) by an institutional staff member or by athletic representative of the institution, for the purpose of securing the prospect's enrollment and ultimate participation in Nebraska's intercollegiate athletic program. Guidelines

Q: What is a Booster?

A: Someone who belongs to a University of Nebraska athletic booster club; promotes or makes financial donations to the athletic department or a specific Husker team; assists in the recruitment of prospective student-athletes; employs, gives benefits to, or provides services to a student-athlete, a prospective student-athlete or the relative/friends of either. REPRESENTATIVE OF ATHLETIC INTERESTS (I.E., BOOSTERS), NCAA BYLAW 13

Q: What constitutes impermissible contact by a Booster?

REVIEW

A: Phone calls to prospects (9th to 12th grade) and their relatives placed for recruiting purposes (questions about the athletic program at UNL must be directed to the coach); writing, paging, text messages or instant messages to a prospect to encourage UNL attendance; contact with a prospect at a high school or club contest; contact with a prospect or his/her coach, principal, or counselor to evaluate the prospect; visiting the prospect's educational institution to pick up videotape or transcripts for evaluation purposes; contacting a prospect to congratulate him/her for signing a National Letter of Intent to attend UNL; giving anything of value to a prospect to induce him/her to attend UNL; contact of any kind while the prospect is on the UNL campus for an official or unofficial visit.

RECRUITING CONTACTS, NCAA BYLAW 13

Q: What are the rules of employment for a student-athlete?

A: A student-athlete may be employed during the academic year or summer vacation period; receive compensation equal to the going rate for similar services in the locale; receive compensation only for work performed; receive benefits provided to all other employees; teach sport-related individual skill instruction or fee-for-lesson sessions. A student-athlete may not conduct personal sport camps or promote, market, advertise or endorse a commercial business or product.

Only benefits that are authorized by NCAA legislation shall be provided to and accepted by a student-athlete. It is not permissible for a student-athlete to receive a benefit that is the result of a "special" arrangement by an institutional employee, booster, employer or fan. EMPLOYMENT, NCAA BYLAW 12

Q: What are non-permissible benefits?

A: Free or reduced-fee housing/rent including the use of vacation or seasonal homes; free or reduced-fee meals; loans or cash advances in pay or salary; tuition costs or school supply expenses; gifts or presents of any type regardless of the occasion or purpose; use of telephone for long distance or use of telephone cards and cell phones; free use of any motor vehicle, boat or recreational vehicle; free use of services (i.e., automobile repair, hair care, laundry, copying, faxing, etc.); free or reduced-fee memberships at golf courses, health clubs, etc. (This list is not exhaustive. Only benefits that are authorized by NCAA legislation shall be provided to and accepted by a student-athlete. It is not permissible for a student-athlete to receive a benefit that is the result of a "special" arrangement by an institutional employee, booster, employer or fan.)

BENEFITS AND PREFERENTIAL TREATMENT, NCAA BYLAW 16

Q: What type of promotional activities may the student-athlete be permitted to participate?

A: Charitable, educational or non-profit promotions and events with requested approval from the Athletic Compliance Office prior to the event.

Q: What types of promotional activities are not permissible?

A: Any fundraising activity that supports a high school organization or group that assists prospective-aged students; use of his/her name or picture; or appear to promote or market a commercial business or product.

PROMOTIONAL ACTIVITIES, NCAA BYLAW 12

BG 12 CONFERENCE E

The Big 12 Conference has established a consistent level of national success on the field and in the classroom as it enters its 15th season in 2010-11. Since it began play in 1996-97, the Conference can boast of 38 team crowns and 459 individual NCAA Championships. The success continued last year, as Oklahoma State won the NCAA men's cross country title while Texas captured the national championship in men's swimming & diving. Texas A&M maintained its place as the nation's top outdoor track & field program, securing the NCAA crowns for both the men and women for the second consecutive year.

Big 12 squads continued to lead the nation in their respective sports as every single sport the Conference sponsors had at least one school ranked in the top six of the national rankings during the past campaign. In addition, nine different sports had the No. 1 team in the nation at some point during the 2009-10 season.

In addition to the NCAA crowns, several more schools made strong national showings. Five Big 12 volleyball teams competed in the regional semifinals of the NCAA Championship in 2010, the first time that has happened in conference history. The Big 12 also had a school play for the BCS National Championship (Texas) for the seventh season and placed two women's basketball squads (Baylor, Oklahoma) in the Final Four in the same season for the first time. Oklahoma finished second nationally at the NCAA women's gymnastics finals - an all-time high for the Big 12 - while Oklahoma State placed second at the men's golf championship. Iowa State was third at the NCAA wrestling championships and the Big 12 also placed a team in the College World Series in both softball (Missouri) and baseball (Oklahoma).

The individual honors also continued, as Jenny Barringer (Colorado) earned The Bowerman Award, presented for the first time to the most outstanding collegiate women's track and field athlete. In fact, all three women's finalists were from the Big 12. Caroline Hedwall (Oklahoma State) was named the recipient of the Honda Sports Award as the nation's top female golfer after capturing the NCAA individual title. Lisa Koll (Iowa State) earned the Honda Award as the top collegiate female athlete in track & field, Connie Yori (Nebraska) was the consensus Division I women's basketball coach of the year and K.J. Kindler (Oklahoma) earned national women's gymnastics coaching accolades.

The Big 12 has had four Heisman Trophy winners in its 14-year history. In 2008, the Big 12 established a high-water mark, as for the first time in the 74-year history of the Heisman four of the top five vote-getters hailed from the same conference, including award-winner Sam Bradford (Oklahoma). The league followed that recognition with two of the top five finalists in 2009.

During the past six seasons a total of 16 NCAA trophies have been hoisted by Big 12 institutions, with at least one national crown won in all but one year for the Conference, including each of the past 13 seasons.

The Big 12 leads all conferences with its seven appearances in BCS title games. Seven league squads have played for the football national championship in the last 10 years with berths in 17 BCS games overall.

The Big 12 and its member institutions are committed to a competitive environment where sportsmanship and fair play take center stage. Whether on the field, in the classroom, or within the community, the student-athletes, administrators, coaches and game officials of the Big 12 support the highest ideals in sportsmanship.

Sarah Pavan (Nebraska) earned countless accolades for her work away from competition, being named the Academic All-America of the Year for all sports in both 2006-07 and 2007-08. She was also named recipient of the prestigious 2006-07 Honda-Broderick Award as Collegiate Woman Athlete of the Year.

Competitive excellence, scholarship and sportsmanship are all equal components of the Big 12 philosophy. All-Big 12 teams and academic All-Big 12 squads are recognized for each sport at the end of their respective seasons. At the end of each academic year, the conference honors its top male and female student-athletes with the Big 12 Athlete of the Year and Big 12 Sportsperson of the Year awards. Institutions can also nominate student-athletes for the prestigious Dr. Prentice Gautt Postgraduate Scholarships at the end of each academic year. A total of 249 scholars have received over $1.6 million in postgraduate financial aid.

The Big 12 sponsors 21 sports. Men's squads include baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, indoor track and field, outdoor track and field, swimming and diving, tennis and wrestling. Women's teams are fielded in basketball, cross country, golf, gymnastics, indoor track and field, outdoor track and field, soccer, softball, swimming, tennis and volleyball. In 2010-11, conference schools include Baylor, Colorado, Iowa State, Kansas, Kansas State, Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Oklahoma State, Texas, Texas A&M and Texas Tech.

The institutions created a league that encompasses seven states, over 46 million people and television households in 18 of the top 100 markets within its geographic footprint.

The conference conducts championships for 19 of its 21 sports. Each championship helps to determine teams and/or individuals that will represent the Conference in national postseason competition. The winner of the Big 12 football championship game earns the league's berth into the Bowl Championship Series. In its first 14 years, the conference has distributed more than $1.2 billion to its 12 member institutions. The conference office is headquartered in Irving, Texas.

STUDENT LIFE

UDENT LIFE COMPLEX

- The Nebraska Student Life Complex was completed in the fall of 2010 to provide an expanded and renovated home to the nation's most successful athletic-academic support program. The $8.7 million expansion tripled the size of Nebraska's previous academic facility.
- The DJ Sokol Enrichment Center provides student-athletes the space and resources to study on their own, in groups or with tutors.
- The Scott Technology Center provides computing resources to student-athletes.
- The Abbott Life Skills Center provides a place to prepare for life after sports.
- Nebraska's Papik Compliance Office is also located within the Student Life Complex, providing easy access to compliance experts.
- The Lewis Training Table, provides excellent food prepared by Nebraska's team of nutritionists.
- Nebraska student-athletes receive extensive one-on-one counseling from a team of academic counselors in the Hewit Academic Center.
- Nebraska leads the Big 12 Conference with a 95 percent exhausted eligibility graduation rate.
- Nebraska has annually led the Big 12 in academic all-conference selections and Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll members.
- 10 of 12 seniors who completed eligibility under Coach Sadler have received their degree from Nebraska.
