Fifth-year Nebraska coach Tim Miles has built a reputation on turning programs into winners.

At Colorado State, he turned a program that won nine games in his first season to three straight postseason appearances, including the school's first NCAA bid in nine years.

At Nebraska, it took Miles two years to guide the program to its first NCAA Tournament appearance since 1998. For his efforts in 2014, Miles was named Big Ten Coach of the Year and won the Jim Phelan Award for national coach of the year.

Not only is Nebraska in the Big Ten, considered one of the best basketball conferences in the country, but the Huskers have benefited from more than $200 million in basketball facility improvements, including the Hendricks Training Complex and Pinnacle Bank Arena.

The Big Ten has been at the forefront of college basketball this decade, producing six national players of the year since 2010 and having six teams reach the Final Four in that time.

From inviting the Red Zone to a practice and taking selfies, to bringing back former players to campus for the annual Legends Weekend, to his popular radio show from Buffalo Wings and Rings during the season, Miles' boundless energy helps build the Nebraska basketball brand in the community.

Top: Jim Molinari is in his third season as an assistant at Nebraska. Molinari has over 300 career wins as a head coach and is a three-time conference coach of the year.

Middle: Kenya Hunter is in his fourth season at Nebraska after spending six years at Georgetown, where he helped the Hoyas to a pair of Big East titles and five NCAA appearances.

Bottom: Michael Lewis is in his first season at Nebraska after spending the past five seasons at Butler. Lewis also played collegiately at Indiana, holding the school record for most career assists.

WHAT OTHERS HAVE SAID ABOUT MILES

"This guy's got energy. I've been on the road with him recruiting, he's phenomenal. He's got a great personality. I think he's a damn good coach."

- Tom Izzo, Michigan State Head Coach

"He understands it's guys in T-shirts and shorts running around playing a game. He's highly competitive, but he can also tell the difference between the phony guys and the type of players you can count on...You gotta be able to differentiate between the fluff and the substance. Tim understands substance."

- Bo Ryan, Former Wisconsin Head Coach

"He didn't come with a silver spoon and a Carolina or Kentucky or Duke hat. He's earned his spurs. Sometimes that's the best way to get where you want to go."

- Steve Fisher, San Diego State Head Coach

"He's great in regard with X's and O's. He's great with his players. He's terrific with the fans."

- Lon Kruger, Oklahoma Head Coach

"Tim understands basketball, and he understands what it's going to take to compete in the Big Ten. He's done an unbelievable job of rebuilding programs."

- Greg McDermott, Creighton Head Coach

"Tim has always done a good job with his program wherever he has been. He's a high-energy guy who gets his kids to play hard."

- Darrin Hansen, Omaha Head Coach

2016-17 NEBRASKA BASKETBALL PINNACLE BANK ARENA

The Nebraska men's basketball program entered a new era in 2013-14 with the move into the $179 million Pinnacle Bank Arena. Located in downtown Lincoln, the 15,000-seat arena is the centerpiece of a bold and dynamic city plan. A landmark venture that shows the cooperative spirit across the community, the arena is the permanent home of Nebraska men's and women's basketball while serving as one of the Midwest's hottest spots for the nation's top touring shows.

The arena, which is just steps away from both Memorial Stadium and Hawks Field and Bowlin Stadium at Haymarket Park, also serves as a hub for a new outdoor entertainment district in Lincoln, known as the Railyard. In addition to the economic impact of thousands of Husker fans at each basketball home game, the Haymarket area has seen the addition of several major hotels, upscale housing options and many new dining and entertainment options.

The South entrance of Pinnacle Bank Arena faces the Railyard outdoor entertainment district in downtown Lincoln. The arena seats nearly 15,000 fans and includes 36 suites, 20 loge boxes and 832 club seats. It also includes 11 permanent concession stands, 14 portable locations and 85 total points of sale. The arena is also home to the official Husker Team Shop.

The men's locker room entrance includes a large "N" identical to the design in the Hendricks Training Complex.

Bottom left and right: The Railyard entertainment district includes a public courtyard, an outdoor ice skating rink and a giant 750-square-foot screen known as The Cube.

Pinnacle Bank Arena has quickly become one of the more formidable homecourt environments in the Big Ten Conference. The 15,000-seat facility has helped Nebraska rank in the top 15 nationally in attendance, including 11th in 2015-16 with an average of 15,430 fans per game. Nebraska is one of eight programs in Division I basketball to average 15,000 fans per game over the past three seasons.

WHAT OTHERS HAVE SAID

"What a cool atmosphere. I've been fortunate to be in the best environment for college basketball for the past almost 20 years. Walking around that floor today and seeing all that red and seeing the energy and the hunger of the crowd, man, it's a really cool thing."

- Chris Collins, Northwestern Head Coach and former Duke Assistant Coach

"Nebraska, outside of Louisville, has the best arena I've been in."

-Cincinnati Head Coach Mick Cronin

"Pinnacle Bank Arena is one of the best venues in the B1G...maybe in the country."

– Rod Beard, Detroit News

"My first visit to Nebraska's Pinnacle Bank Arena. I. Am. Floored. One of the nicest college venues I've ever seen."

- Jason King, Bleacher Report

"Nebraska and what head coach Tim Miles has done shouldn't be a surprise given his ability to build a program. But the "Vault" (Pinnacle Bank Arena) has quickly become a difficult place for opponents to find a win."

- ESPN Announcer Sean Farnham

Named for one of the legendary players in program history, the Bus Whitehead Court features a court and a half for the team to practice, an auxiliary training room as well as a 103-inch plasma screen for teaching during drills. The court is named for Bus Whitehead, a two-time all-conference performer who led the Huskers to consecutive Big Seven titles in 1949 and 1950 and is a member of the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame.

Located next to the Bus Whitehead Court, the Nebraska men's basketball team room features 24 theater-style seats with built-in tables, a high-definition video system with a 120-inch video screen and treated walls to enhance the extensive built-in sound system.

The Neal and Jamie Hawks Players Lounge features a custom leather couch as well as over 400 inches of televisions, as the room features a pair of 103-inch and three 65-inch screens, all with access to cable, DirecTV and the film system built into the facility.

The area features over 400 inches of high-definition TVs, leather couches that can seat more than a dozen players and a custom-created pool table, as well as a kitchen area to store or prepare food. 2016-17 NEBRASKA BASKETBALL HUSKER POWER

The University of Nebraska has long been recognized as being the national leader in the area of strength and conditioning. Nebraska was the first NCAA school to have a paid strength and conditioning coach, the first to lift weights in-season, the first to hold an official summer conditioning class for student-athletes and the first to offer a degree for strength coaching.

With 13 staff members, including men's basketball strength coach Tim Wilson, it is one of the most comprehensive strength and conditioning organizations in the country. Husker basketball student-athletes train in the Hendricks Training Complex, which features a 5,000-square foot weight room.

Before returning to college athletes, Wilson spent 11 years in the NBA with the Milwaukee Bucks and has worked with the Chicago White Sox, as well as Oregon, Pittsburgh and UNLV.

– Phillip Hage, Editor, Physician and Sports Medicine Magazine

One of the most media-savvy coaches in college basketball, Tim Miles has quickly become popular around college basketball for both his insight and his sense of humor. At Colorado State, he won a regional Emmy for The Mtn. documentary of the Rams' program. Miles is also consistently rated as one of the top coaches nationally to follow on Twitter (@CoachMiles) as he provides his unique insight, including halftime tweets.

Nebraska basketball will be in the national spotlight this season, as a minimum of 31 games will be available nationally on television or streamed on Big Ten television partners ESPN, BTN and CBS. Every game will be broadcast on the IMG Husker Sports Network and carried for free on Huskers.com and on the TuneIn Radio app, with select broadcasts on Sirius XM Satellite Radio.

HUSKER NBA HERITAGE

Nebraska players have enjoyed significant professional success following their Husker careers. Nebraska has had 26 players drafted by teams in the National Basketball Association, including three first-round picks during the 1990s.

Mikki Moore made a name for himself, spending 13 years in the NBA after being an undrafted free agent out of Nebraska. Moore, who led the NBA in shooting percentage in 2006-07, has played in 564 career games and helped his teams to three playoff appearances.

With former NBA veterans Eric Piatkowski, Tyronn Lue and Erick Strickland playing in the league in the last decade, Nebraska has been well represented at the highest level of basketball. Lue (right) took over the reigns of the Cleveland Cavaliers in January of 2016 and guided the franchise to its first NBA title in 2016. In 2016, former Huskers Terran Petteway and Shavon Shields played in the NBA Summer League.

HUSKERS IN THE NBA DRAFT

The first NBA draft of collegiate players was held following the 1947-48 season, but the league did not begin to keep records of team-by-team draft lists until 1952. Here is a list of the 26 Cornhusker players drafted by the NBA since 1949:

2016-17 NEBRASKA BASKETBALL HUSKER BASKETBALL HISTORY

Entering the 121st year of Husker basketball, the Nebraska program has collected nearly 1,500 wins and made 24 all-time postseason appearances, including the 2014 NCAA Tournament.

Over the last 26 years, the Huskers have averaged more than 17 wins per season, while making 15 postseason tournaments during that span. Fifteen of the school's 27 1,000-point scorers have also played for the Huskers since 1990, including Terran Petteway and Shavon Shields in 2014-15.

#42 - DAVE HOPPEN

Nebraska's all-time leading scorer, Hoppen had his No. 42 jersey retired at the end of Senior Night in 1986. Hoppen totaled 2,167 points before a knee surgery cut short his senior year and broke or tied 19 school records as a Husker.

#22 - STU LANTZ

Stu Lantz became the second Husker basketball player to have his jersey retired when it was retired in 1989. A two-time first-team All-Big Eight performer, Lantz totaled 1,269 points and 571 rebounds in his three-year Husker career.

#52 - ERIC PIATKOWSK

Eric Piatkowski became Nebraska's most recent retired jersey, as he was honored on Feb. 18, 2006. Piatkowski was a two-time All-Big Eight selection as he totaled 1,934 points in helping NU to four straight NCAA Tournaments.

"It takes a special person to be able to sell yourself and sell your program. Some people have it and some people don't. Everyone that I know who's met Coach Miles thinks he has it. I like the way he's going after some of the top guys out there to sell himself and sell the program. He's opened the door to some first-tier players and seems ready to take this program to the next level. He has the formula, the staff, the facilities and the backing of the university and the athletic department. Put all that together and everyone feels pretty good about the future direction of the Nebraska program."

- Dave Hoppen, Nebraska's all-time leading scorer

HUSKER BASKETBALL HISTOR

The Huskers celebrate winning the 1994 Big Eight Tournament championship. The title helped Nebraska make a school-record four straight NCAA appearances.

Joe Cipriano was a three-time Big Eight Coach of the Year.

Danny Nee guided the Huskers to five NCAA Tournament appearances.

Nebraska posted a 59-26 (.694) record in its first decade of basketball, including three perfect seasons. In those 10 years, the Huskers were coached by Frank Lehmer, T.P. Hewitt, E. Berry, Fred Morrell, Walter Hiltner and R.G. Clapp.

The last five teams of the Huskers' second decade all posted winning records. The 1911-12 team won the school's first Missouri Valley Conference title and then repeated as champs in 1912-13 and 1913-14.

Nebraska fashioned its first-ever 20-win season in 1919-20, finishing 22-2 and setting a school record for wins that stood until 1990-91. During the decade, Nebraska was 111-71 (.610) and had six winning campaigns.

NU opened the decade in the Nebraska Coliseum, but finished under .500 at home in 1925-26. In 1928-29, Nebraska joined Missouri, Kansas, Kansas State, Iowa State and Oklahoma to form the Big Six Conference.

Nebraska's record of 65-120 (.351) in the decade was its worst ever. Twice, in 1943-44 and 1944-45, the Huskers mustered only two wins. Sid Held and Don Fitz earned first-team All-Big Six honors in 1940-41.

The Huskers were 102-141 (.420) in the decade. However, the 1948-49 team tied for first in the Big Seven Conference and beat Oklahoma to advance to the NCAA District Tournament. Claude Retherford was a first-team All-Big Seven pick that season and led the team in scoring. In 1949-50, Bus Whitehead earned first-team all-conference honors as Nebraska tied Kansas and Kansas State for the Big Seven championship.

The Huskers' 20-5 record in 1965-66 was their first 20-win season since 1919-20. Stuart Lantz, who finished second to KU's Jo Jo White in the Sophomore-of-the-Year balloting, would go on to become a third-round NBA draft pick. For the decade, NU was 102-142 (.418).

1967-1976

Nebraska finished above .500 for the decade with a 147-111 (.570) record. Marvin Stewart was the first player to average 20 points in a season in 1970-71. The Huskers opened the Bob Devaney Sports Center in the 1976-77 season. Jerry Fort earned three straight first-team all-conference awards from 1974 to 1976.

The Cornhuskers posted a 175-119 (.595) record in the decade, including a 15-14 ledger in 1976-77, the first season at the Bob Devaney Sports Center. In 1977-78, the Huskers earned their second postseason tournament bid and first since 1966-67, advancing to the second round of the NIT. NU posted 20 wins twice during the decade (1977-78, 1982-83).

The Huskers enjoyed their most successful decade, winning 20-or-more games five times. Nebraska advanced to the NCAA Tournament four times, won its first-ever Phillips 66 Big Eight Tournament trophy in 1994 and captured the NIT Championship in 1996. For the decade NU was 185-131 (.585).

Nebraska continued its success while starting its second century of play. The Huskers added a pair of 20-win seasons as NU was also one of just 15 schools to appear in nine consecutive postseason tournaments from 1991 to 1999.

2007-PRESENT

Nebraska made three postseason appearances in Doc Sadler's six seasons (2007-2012). Aleks Maric was an all-conference selection in 2007-08 and the first Husker ever with 1,600 points and 1,000 rebounds. Nebraska joined the Big Ten Conference and played its first season during the 2011-12 campaign. Tim Miles was named Nebraska's 26th head coach on March 24, 2012, after leading Colorado State to three straight postseason appearances, including the 2012 NCAA Tournament. The Huskers opened Pinnacle Bank Arena in August of 2013 and went 15-1 in the facility en route to earning their first NCAA Tournament appearance since 1998. Terran Petteway became Nebraska's first conference scoring champion in more than 60 years, as he averaged 18.1 points per game to earn first-team All-Big Ten accolades. Miles won the Jim Phelan Award as national coach of the year in 2014, the first Husker basketball coach to win a national honor.

HUSKER STUDENT ATHLETES: A LIFETIME EXPERIENCE

Nebraska Athletics is one of the few self-sustaining athletic programs in the country. In 2015-16, Nebraska was one of only two collegiate programs in the nation to attract more than 1.3 million fans across its seven major team sports through the doors of its world-class facilities. This incredible interest and support enables Nebraska Athletics to invest in the student-athlete experience, as well as the overall game-day experience. Nebraska is a leader in providing all the resources and support necessary for student-athletes to become successful in Academics, Athletics and Life. Nebraska will continue to strategically plan for avenues to strengthen the resources to support more than 600 Husker student-athletes across 24 sports.

LIFE SKILLS

The Husker Life Skills program allows student-athletes to continue their development and impact lives in the community. In 2015-16, Husker student-athletes, such as Malcolm Laws, combined for more than 2,500 hours in the community, making an impact on thousands of Nebraskans across the state.

DICK AND PEG HERMAN FAMILY STUDENT LIFE COMPLEX

The Dick and Peg Herman Family Student Life Complex provides a comprehensive learning area for many of the Husker student-athletes. The complex houses the Academics, Life Skills and Compliance offices, and the Walter Scott Technology Center.

HUSKER STUDENT ATHLETES: A LIFETIME EXPERIENCI

LEWIS TRAINING TABLE

Husker student-athletes have ample places to dine, as the Lewis Training Table is open extended hours for meals, while the North Stadium and Hendricks Training Complexes have areas for supplements for recovery after workouts or for snacks throughout the day.

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

Nebraska's strength and conditioning has long been at the forefront of college athletics. Under the direction of Boyd Epley, Nebraska has a staff of 13 strength coaches, including basketball strength coach Tim Wilson, who creates personalized strength and conditioning programs for Husker student-athletes.

ATHLETIC MEDICINE

Nebraska's Athletic Medicine facilities rank among the nation's best, while one of the most experienced medical staffs in the nation care for all Husker student-athletes.

In August of 2014, the NCAA Division I Board of Directors restructured how member institutions and conferences, including the Big Ten, govern themselves. Nebraska has a great history and tradition of providing first-class benefits and support to its student-athletes like no other. However, this change in governance, and subsequent legislation, has paved the way for Nebraska to enhance the benefits and experiences for our student-athletes even further. A few examples of these enhanced benefits are:

- All scholarship student-athletes across all sports will have their scholarship calculated based on the full cost of attendance.
- Each student-athlete will receive an Apple MacBook Air laptop computer to enhance their learning opportunities (pictured top left).
- Nebraska has increased resources and support in all academic and performance related areas including but not limited to Academic Services, Life Skills, Athletic Medicine, Athletic Training, Strength and Conditioning, Nutrition and Dining Services (Training Table).
- Nebraska created the first-known post-eligibility benefit program, where each student-athlete, who has graduated and exhausted their athletic eligibility, will have the opportunity to pursue with our support an internship, participate in a study abroad program or attend graduate school.

2016-17 NEBRASKA BASKETBALL ACADEMIC SUCCESS

Nebraska increased its nation-leading total of CoSIDA Academic All-America awards to 325, adding five Huskers in 2015-16. Senior forward Shavon Shields earned his second consecutive first-team Academic All-America award in men's basketball before being named Nebraska's Male Student-Athlete of the Year. Shields (pictured right with Director of Athletics Shawn Eichorst) was also a member of the Allstate NABC Good Works Team for his outstanding community service. He was joined by Nebraska Female

Student-Athlete-of-the-Year Mattie Fowler as a first-team Academic All-American in 2015-16. Fowler (insert) was the President of the Nebraska Student-Athlete Advisory Board in 2014-15. She and Shields were Nebraska's Big Ten Medal of Honor winners in 2015-16. The Nebraska men's track and field team continued its extraordinary run

of CoSIDA Academic All-America success with three-time first-team honoree Levi Gipson and fellow first-team award winner Cody Rush. Rush, who earned second-team CoSIDA Academic All-America accolades in 2014, joined baseball outfielder Ryan Boldt as a two-time honoree. Boldt also earned third-team recognition in 2015.

Graduation is the ultimate achievement, and 109 Husker student-athletes earned undergraduate and graduate degrees in three commencement exercises at Pinnacle Bank Arena in 2015-16.

Nebraska student-athletes regularly earn prestigious postgraduate scholarships from the Big Ten and NCAA. That tradition continued in 2015-16, as two-time CoSIDA Academic All-American Cody Rush earned a $10,000 Wayne Duke Postgraduate Scholarship from the Big Ten before claiming an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship worth $7,500. Rush was also an 11-time All-American on the track.

In 2015-16, 109 Huskers earned their college degrees including senior track and field standout Levi Gipson. Gipson became just the second three-time first-team CoSIDA Academic All-American across all sports at Nebraska, while adding a prestigious Big Ten Postgraduate Scholarship worth $7,500. Gipson was also a seven-time All-American on the track.

Junior outfielder Ryan Boldt earned his second CoSIDA Academic All-America award in 2016, after helping the Nebraska baseball team to the NCAA Tournament, Boldt, who was a member of the Golden Spikes Award Midseason Watch List, was a secondround pick of the Tampa Bay Rays in the 2016 Major League Baseball Draft.

The athletic academic unit, located in the Dick and Peg Herman Family Student Life Complex, provides personal and academic support to ensure that student-athletes will get the most out of their years as Huskers. Featuring one of the most innovative and comprehensive academic support systems in the country, Nebraska is dedicated to helping its student-athletes become outstanding leaders in their chosen fields. The academic support team is composed of 14 full-time staff members and is certified by the National Association of Academic Advisors for Athletics (N4A) as meeting the standards established by the N4A.

ACADEMIC COUNSELING

Seven academic counselors, three learning specialists and two assistant academic counselors are in place to monitor daily academic progress, receive consistent course feedback, assist with the advising/registration process and monitor continuing eligibility and progress toward graduation.

TUTORIAL SUPPORT

A tremendous resource for all academic abilities, unlimited tutorial support from approximately 120 tutors on staff is available from day one up to college graduation in all subject areas. The tutorial program is certified as a model tutoring program by the College Reading and Learning Association.

STUDY HALL

Nebraska's study hall program is housed in the D.J. Sokol Enrichment Center within the Student Life Complex. Student-athletes attend a supervised, flex-time study hall that features day, evening and weekend hours. Student-athletes are required to complete a specific number of study hours each week as determined by their academic counselor and/or coach. Additional performance-based or tutor-based study hall also may be determined by the academic counselor.

MENTORING

Academic support staff serve as mentors to all incoming student-athletes and a select group of returning student-athletes. Student-athletes meet with their mentor weekly to develop time management skills, gather and report academic progress information, and discuss academic success strategies.

EDUCATIONAL ASSESSMENTS

Assessments are administered upon the request of the student-athlete, academic counselor, or coach. Learning specialists are available to administer and score informal assessments, which include a reading comprehension and a writing assessment. When more in-depth assessments are necessary, referrals are made to a consulting psychologist who conducts the assessments. If it is determined a student-athlete has a learning disability or another medical condition that impedes the student from reaching their academic potential, appropriate accommodations are implemented by the Office of Services for Students with Disabilities.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ORIENTATION

Each new student-athlete attends an orientation at the beginning of their academic career. Studentathletes are introduced to staff, faculty, administrators, and a variety of resources that help facilitate the transition into college while enhancing awareness of support services in the Athletic Department and across campus.

PERSONAL COUNSELING

Student-athletes will find a supportive and caring environment at Nebraska. Transitional issues, stress management, time management, academic focus and problem resolution are all addressed in a proactive manner throughout the year. If necessary, counseling referrals are also made to designated practitioners.

COMPUTER RESOURCES

The Herman Student Life Complex has two computer labs available for student-athletes. The Scott Technology Center features two tech tables for use on group computer projects and group study sessions. Additionally, each student-athlete is provided a laptop for use throughout their academic career at Nebraska.

2016-17 NEBRASKA BASKETBALL LIFE SKILLS

Regarded as the premier and most comprehensive Life Skills program in college athletics, the Husker program is committed to providing proactive education, resources and support through college and beyond to promote total person development and preparation for life after sports. Led by Senior Associate Athletic Director Keith Zimmer, five full-time staff members coordinate community involvement, career planning, effective communication strategies and much more to benefit Husker student-athletes.

PROACTIVE EDUCATION

The Life Skills team organizes several orientations aimed at acclimating student-athletes to college life. Additionally, all incoming student-athletes attend the fall semester Husker Life Seminar. This interactive class promotes responsible decision-making, personal brand, financial literacy, leadership, involvement and service.

INDIVIDUAL MEETINGS

Every Nebraska student-athlete is assigned a Life Skills Coordinator who will arrange multiple individual meetings throughout the academic year aimed at enhancing personal and career development. The meetings help each student-athlete identify a career focus and implement a plan to increase career marketability.

CAREER COMMITMENT

Annually, Nebraska Life Skills organizes a Student-Athlete Career, Networking Night (pictured bottom right) and other career events aimed at connecting Huskers with companies desiring competitive, hard-working, accountable candidates. Athlete Network and Husker Hire Link provide opportunities to explore career opportunities across the country.

COMMUNITY OUTREACH

Nebraska student-athletes readily accept the role-model challenge, collectively giving more than 2,500 hours annually to impact thousands across the state of Nebraska. Outreach events include but are not limited to hospital visits, mentoring, school assemblies, statewide rallies, Make-A-Wish, NFL Play 60 and Husker Heroes.

LEADERSHIP

Nebraska Life Skills provides student-athletes with endless opportunities to enhance leadership skills while distinguishing themselves from the competition. Internally, student-athletes can be members of the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee, Uplifting Athletes Chapter or Husker Distinction Council. On campus, UNL offers more than 600 recognized student organizations allowing athletes to collaborate with other campus leaders for a common goal. Annually, Nebraska Life Skills funds and coordinates a one-week service abroad trip allowing nearly 20 student-athletes to come together for a common goal while enriching cultural competencies.

RECOGNITION

In 2015-16, 14 Husker basketball student-athletes were named to the Tom Osborne Citizenship Team for completing a minimum of six service projects in the calendar year. There are a host of other recognition opportunities both at the institutional, Big Ten and NCAA level which all reflect on the high ideals, character and servant leadership nurtured through community involvement.

POST-ELIGIBILITY OPPORTUNITIES

Effective December 2015 and beyond, student-athletes who letter and graduate will have a three-year window to benefit from one of three post-eligibility opportunities each valued at $7,500. Upon completion of required seminars, graduates can either study abroad, complete an internship or begin graduate school within the University of Nebraska system.

DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

The Life Skills program also is responsible for all Diversity and Inclusion initiatives for Husker Athletics. The first Diversity and Inclusion Summit occurred in January of 2016 and reached all student-athletes and staff members with a message of acceptance and unity.

IC MEDICINE

Providing expert care to more than 600 Husker student-athletes, Nebraska features one of the most well-trained and highly skilled athletic medicine staffs in the country. Under the guidance of Director of Athletic Medicine Dr. Lonnie Albers, Head Athletic Trainer and Physical Therapist Jerry Weber and Basketball Head Athletic Trainer R.J. Pietig, the 2016-17 Nebraska athletic medicine staff consists of five doctors, 13 athletic trainers, seven graduate assistant athletic trainers, a full-time in-house athletic psychologist and sports psychiatry consultants who work directly with Husker student-athletes.

Nebraska's medical facilities have long been among the nation's best, and NU's athletic medicine center within the Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex will keep the Huskers on the front line of technology for decades to come. In addition to Nebraska's North Stadium facility, Haymarket Park, the Bob Devaney Sports Center, Pinnacle Bank Arena and the Nebraska Soccer and Tennis Complex all feature athletic medicine areas. The Devaney Center's Athletic Medicine facility underwent an extensive expansion as part of the Hendricks Training Complex addition in 2011.

Nebraska uses advanced equipment to help athletes recondition after injury.

Nebraska's Athletic Medicine Center features a hydrotherapy area that includes a three-level laned pool. The Hydroworx 1000 Treadmill Pool is equipped with two cameras underwater for evaluation and assessment.

The hot and cold plunge tanks in the Holthus Family Hydrotherapy area help the Huskers recover after workouts and injuries.

Nebraska's on-site medical services for student-athletes rank among the nation's best. Dr. Lonnie Albers, Head Athletic Trainer Jerry Weber (pictured) and the Athletic Medicine staff have their own X-ray equipment at Memorial Stadium.

NAPL: INTEGRATING SPORT PERFORMANCE AND RESEARCH

NEBRASKA ATHLETIC PERFORMANCE LAB

The Nebraska Athletic Performance Laboratory (NAPL) is recognized as the first performance research center within a collegiate department of athletics. The NAPL features a talented, multidisciplinary team that includes a full-time director and endocrinology lab director, two research post-doctoral fellows and a research analyst.

Located in East Memorial Stadium adjacent to UNL's Center for Brain, Biology and Behavior (CB3), the NAPL collaborates with Nebraska's Strength and Conditioning team, Husker Nutrition staff, Nebraska's Athletic Medicine staff and sports programs to offer the highest level of integration of sport performance technologies and systems.

The NAPL is made up of the Mark and Debra Classen Cardio Area, James and Karen Linder Dynamic Performance Center, Markin Family Collaborative Center, Thayer Family Athletic Research Lab and cutting-edge equipment donated by the Suzanne and Walter Scott Foundation. The main entrance for the research facilities is located in the Janet and Gerard Keating Family Concourse.

Focused on student-athlete health, safety and welfare, the NAPL is a world-leading research and performance facility focusing on the performance enhancement, safety and long-term well-being of student-athletes.

The NAPL includes simulated athletic environments for studying performance, incorporating a camera system to track human movement in 3D, force plates to measure ground reaction forces and state-of-the-art technology to assess physiological biomarkers, investigate exercise cardiovascular capacity and measure body composition. All 24 Husker athletic programs conduct performance testing at NAPL. Force plates and motion capture videos (3D) are used to measure athletes in their development through testing results to create an athletic performance index for each athlete.

The NAPL uses IDexa as an advanced, accurate and reliable method to analyze and measure body composition.

The focus of the Thayer Family Athletic Research Lab is recovery from competition by measuring salivary biomarkers 24 hours prior to and 24 hours post-competition. Collaborative research projects are conducted in conjunction with the Center for Brain, Biology and Behavior (CB3), including concussion prevention, treatment and return to play.

The University of Nebraska was chartered by the Nebraska Legislature in 1869 as the state's public university and land-grant institution. Founded in Lincoln, the University of Nebraska was expanded in 1968 into a state educational system now comprising four campuses under the guidance of a Board of Regents and a central administration. Nebraska, which joined the Big Ten Conference in 2011, is a member of the Big Ten Academic Alliance, a consortium of Big Ten universities and the University of Chicago, which has generated unique opportunities for students and faculty by sharing expertise, leveraging resources and collaborating on programs. BIG TEN ACADEMIC ALLIANCE (BTAA)

As a member of the Big Ten, the University of Nebraska-Lincoln (UNL) is a member of the Big Ten Academic Alliance (BTAA), formerly the Committee on Institutional Cooperation, which is the academic consortium of the universities in the Big Ten Conference. The consortium was renamed on June 29, 2016. The BTAA includes all 14 Big Ten Institutions and the University of Chicago. The Big Ten Academic Alliances and the institutions together have annual research expenditures topping $10.2 billion — more than the lvy League and the University of California System combined — and they educate a total of nearly 600,000 students with approximately 50,000 full-time faculty members.

SEASON OUTLOOK

Tai Webster is NU's top returning scorer at 10.1 points per game. Webster also was fifth in the Big Ten in steals at 1.4 per game.

The 2016-17 edition of the Huskers have a chip placed squarely on their collective shoulder.

"Quite frankly, I think they have been grossly underrated," Nebraska Coach Tim Miles said of pundits' preseason prognostications. "Any media report is basically throwing dirt in our face and burying us alive."

While the Huskers return two starters and five of its top eight players, many of the questions revolve around filling the void left by the graduation of Shavon Shields, Benny Parker and Andrew White III, as the trio accounted for almost 40 points per game.

"I know there are a lot of people who doubt, and for good reason," Miles said. "We lost a lot of scoring, but that doesn't mean we don't have a lot of quality people coming back. I am excited about the season and the people we have in our program."

Miles' belief in the Huskers comes from the continued development of senior guard Tai Webster, who built off a strong junior season with an excellent summer with the New Zealand National team and the experienced gained last season by a talented four-member sophomore class. Michael Jacobson, Glynn Watson Jr., Ed Morrow Jr. and Jack McVeigh combined for nearly 40 percent of the Huskers' minutes in conference play last season. Miles praised the group's work on the off-season, as the group has taken on a significant leadership role.

The Huskers' rotation will likely feature five newcomers, as Louisville transfer Anton Gill is eligible after sitting out last year along with newcomers Isaiah Roby, Jeriah Horne, Evan Taylor and Jordy Tshimanga.

Last year, the Huskers, who were ranked in the top-25 defensively nationally by KenPom in 2013-14 and 2014-15, struggled defensively at times with size. Miles believes the year of experience for the post players and the addition of the newcomers will help NU regain that defensive edge.

"If you play the way that we do, you need versatility and Jack McVeigh (left) and Ed Morrow Jr. (right) look to earn more playing time this season. McVeigh averaged 4.8 points and 2.6 rebounds per game, while Morrow chipped in 4.1 points per game on 64 percent shooting while ranking second on the team in blocked shots.

length, especially defensively on the perimeter," Miles said. "You could see last year when we were playing two small guards that our 3-point shooting defense really suffered. We were also weak at the center spot so when we doubled down, we had no effect on the kick out and the extra reversals and that hurt us a great deal."

"I think we made strides because we are longer defensively and we are stronger inside," Miles said. "I think we made some schematic changes which will pay off for us, and I expect us to be good defensively."

Keyed by the backcourt of Watson and Webster, the fifth-year Husker coach is confident the Huskers' offense can eventually hit its stride as roles change and expand during the year.

"Offensively, I think we will be a good passing team and I think we will create better offensive movement and be better in transition," Miles said. "I am excited to see what we bring to the table. I think it will be a product that will be fun to watch."

Backcourt

The Huskers' deepest area could be in the backcourt, as that position features the Huskers' top two returning scorers in Webster and Watson Jr. In addition, newcomers Gill and Taylor both possess Division I experience and will factor into the Huskers' rotation this season.

The lone senior on the 2016-17 roster, Webster looks to continue his upward trajectory that began last season. The 6-foot-4 guard raised his scoring average more than six points per game from his sophomore campaign (3.9 to 10.1) while also averaging 4.1 rebounds, 1.4 steals and 1.9 assists per game in 2015-16. Webster reached double figures 16 times, highlighted by a 22-point effort at No. 19 lowa and a 21-point, eight-carom performance against No. 24 Cincinnati. He closed his junior year with a flourish, averaging 14.7 points per game on 63 percent shooting, along with 4.7 rebounds and 2.3 steals per game in three Big Ten Tournament games.

Webster comes off a great summer representing New Zealand at the FIBA Olympic Qualifying Tournament, averaging 16.3 points and 9.7 rebounds per game despite being the youngest player on the New Zealand roster.

"I think Tai likes the fact that he is the only senior on the team because it clarifies his role," Miles said. "He is our leader and go-to guy, and I think that is something he enjoys because it is similar to his role on New Zealand's team. He is one of the better athletes in the league at the guard position, and he is a power guard who can both score and defend."

Watson proved as a freshman that he could be equally effective as both a scorer and distributor as he shared the point guard spot with four-year performer Benny Parker. Watson played in all 34 games as a true freshman, including 16 starts, and averaged 8.6 points, 2.4 assists and 1.2 steals per game. Watson finished in the top five all-time among Husker freshman in both assists and steals, while his scoring average was the most by a Husker freshman guard since 2005. He reached double figures 15 times and averaged 10.7 points and 2.7 assists per game in the Big Ten Tournament, including a 16-point effort in the win over Wisconsin. With a year of experience and 10 more pounds on his frame, the Husker coaches hope that he can develop into one of the top point guards in the Big Ten.

"Glynn has really worked hard in the offseason with (Strength) Coach Tim Wilson to improve his strength," Miles said. "He showed the ability to be a playmaker, not only with his passing, but also the ability to take over a game from the guard spot."

Although he is listed as a newcomer, Gill has the benefit of being in the Husker program for the last year after transferring from Louisville. A former top-50 recruit, Gill played in 55 games for the Cardinals, helping the school to an Elite Eight appearance in 2015. As a sophomore, Gill came off the bench for Louisville and averaged 2.5 points, including three double-digit efforts. He also had seven points, including the go-ahead basket and a pair of steals, in the Cardinals' Sweet 16 win over NC State. The 6-foot-3, 195-pound guard has the potential to be an explosive scorer, and looks to follow in the footsteps of All-Big Ten performers Terran Petteway and White as transfers who could make an immediate impact in the Husker lineup.

"Anton has high expectations for the team and himself and I'm excited to see him on the court," Miles said. "He is a powerful, explosive athlete, especially in transition, and is a shot maker. Anton is also someone who has bought in and can be one of the leaders for us."

"He had some knee issues earlier in the summer that we are being cautious with and won't rush him back, but we hope to have him return to action this month, giving him plenty of time before the season starts."

While Gill has the ability to be a prolific scorer, Taylor could provide an impact on the defensive end. The 6-foot-5, 206-pounder played at Odessa College last season, helping the school to it first NJCAA Tournament appearance since 2001. He averaged 7.1 points, 2.5 points and 2.5 assists per game while earning a reputation as a solid physical defender.

"Evan is a total team guy and all he wants to do is win," Miles said. "Whatever role that required him to do, he will do it. I think he can be a timely shooter, an excellent defender and brings a lot to the table and can play at either the point or wing."

Walk-ons Malcolm Laws and Jason Shultis round out the guard rotation. Laws appeared in six games for the Huskers after transferring from Florida Atlantic, totaling one point and two rebounds in 19 minutes. The 6-foot-1, 190-pounder is a hard worker in practice and will provide depth during his junior season.

Shultis is a late addition to the roster, as he joined the squad at the start of the semester after not playing since high school. The lone Nebraska native on the roster, the 6-foot-1, 198-pound guard helped Grand Island Northwest reach the state tournament as a senior in 2014.

Wings

The biggest change for the Huskers will be at the wings, where the Huskers lose their top two scorers to graduation. The pair combined for over 33 points per game last year, while Shields finished his career as one of only five players in school history with 1,500 points and 600 rebounds.

McVeigh and junior Nick Fuller both saw action at the spot a year ago, while Roby and Horne could push for playing time as true freshmen. The final member of the group, James Palmer Jr., is sitting out this season after transferring from Miami.

McVeigh brings both collegiate and international experience to the Husker lineup. The 6-foot-8, 215-pounder was one of four freshmen to play significant roles for the Big Red in 2015-16, averaging 4.8 points and 2.6 rebounds per game. He emerged as one of the Huskers' top 3-point threats, finishing second on the team with 34 3-pointers while playing 17 minutes a game. McVeigh is a member of the Australian National Team pool and made his debut in 2014.

McVeigh got a taste of being in the starting lineup when Shields was sidelined by a concussion for four games. McVeigh made the most of the opportunity, averaging 11.0

Sophomore guard Glynn Watson Jr. had a 2.44-to-1 assist-to-turnover ratio in 2015-16.

points and 3.0 rebounds per game in four contests, while shooting 48 percent from 3-point range. His length and shooting ability gives the Huskers someone who can stretch the floor

"Jack is an excellent shooter, and as he improves his ball-in-hand game, he will continue to improve," Miles said. "I think the opportunities he had when Shavon missed time will help him this year as he looks to expand his role."

Fuller has been in and out of the Huskers' rotation during the last two seasons. The 6-foot-7 junior from Sun Prairie, Wis., averaged 1.8 points and 1.4 rebounds per game in 24 contests in 2015-16. His season was highlighted by a near double-double in the opener against Mississippi Valley State with 10 points and a career-high nine rebounds in 16 minutes off the bench. Fuller provides depth both on the wing and in the frontcourt for the Huskers.

"Nick has been a utility guy for us the last two seasons," Miles said. "The thing I respect about Nick is that he would run through a brick wall for us. He brings a positive effort and attitude every day to the gym.

Roby brings a strong skill set to the Husker program. A top-150 player according to Rivals.com, Roby was a two-time all-state performer at Dixon (III.) High School. As a senior, he averaged 19.7 points, 10.5 rebounds, 5.5 assists and 3.9 blocks per game in helping his school to a 25-4 mark. At 6-foot-8, 215 pounds, Roby is still growing and his all-around game is well suited to the Huskers' attack. He has been slowed by a pelvic injury since mid-summer, but if healthy, could make a significant early impact.

"Isaiah has a chance to be an incredible player in this program," Miles said. "He's 6-8 or 6-9 with a 7-1 wingspan, has the ball skills of a guard and the ability to block shots, pass and score. You can run an offense through him because he facilitates exceptionally well and he has the ability to play a major part as a true freshman."

Horne comes to Nebraska after a decorated career at The Barstow School in Kansas City, where he led the school to three straight state finals appearances. A top-150 recruit by Rivals, he averaged 22 points, 11 rebounds and three assists per game as a senior en route to being the co-winner of the DiRenna Award, awarded to the top player in the Kansas City area, and a finalist for Mr. Basketball in the state of Missouri. Horne capped his high school career with a 39-point, 14-rebound effort in the state championship game. Horne is a solid shooter, and at 6-foot-7, 222 pounds, he also has the size to match up in the Big Ten.

"Jeriah is a guy who I've been impressed with," Miles said. "He has worked hard to change his body since he got here this summer and has really made improvements. His confidence is growing, and he possesses a high skill level. He can shoot the 3, and I think he is someone who has a chance to get on the floor and be productive for us."

Palmer comes to Nebraska after spending his first two years at the University of Miami. The 6-foot-6 wing brings another veteran to the Husker lineup, as he played in 72 games for the Hurricanes over the last two seasons. As a sophomore, he played in 34 games, averaging 3.5 points and 1.2 rebounds per game for a team that reached the NCAA Sweet 16. He was in double figures twice in 2015-16, including a 14-point effort against Mississippi State and made five starts as a freshmen. He will have two years of eligibility remaining beginning with the 2017-18 season.

"James brings a lot of length and athleticism to the wing for us," Miles said. "This redshirt year will be beneficial, as he improves his game. It is going to be great for our guys to go against him every day because he can be a lockdown defender and difficult to go against. James is a guy who can get going offensively and be a bear for us. He will make us better.

Frontcourt

The Huskers' frontcourt should be significantly improved with the return of Jacobson and Morrow Jr. and the addition of Tshimanga.

For both Morrow and Jacobson, the added strength greatly benefitted both players, as well as being healthy throughout the summer. Both players missed significant practice times in 2015-16 because of injuries.

"As both Michael and Ed have gotten stronger, both have gained a lot of confidence in their games, and I've seen that in workouts and in practices," Miles said. "Michael has the ability to play several positions for us with his shooting, Freshmen Isaiah Roby, Jordy Tshimanga and Jeriah Horne were all ranked among the top 150 recruits in the class of 2016.

while Ed is able to showcase his toughness and athleticism now that he is fully healthy."

"I expect good years out of both, and think they can be consistent and productive players."

Jacobson emerged as Nebraska's starting center as a true freshman, moving into the lineup in December and starting the final 25 games of the season. Jacobson averaged 4.7 points and 4.3 rebounds per game while playing less than 20 minutes per game, while leading the Huskers with 28 blocked shots. He cracked the top-five freshmen lists at NU in both blocked shots and rebounds. Jacobson raised his numbers in Big Ten play, averaging 4.9 points, 5.0 rebounds and 1.1 blocks per game and reached double figures three times in conference action. Jacobson set season bests twice in NU's three Big Ten Tournament games, scoring a season-high 14 points on 6-of-9 shooting against Rutgers before blocking four shots in NU's second-round win over Wisconsin. Jacobson, who is fully healthy after missing a significant portion of the fall because of foot surgery, has been exceptional in the weight room, adding nearly 20 pounds to his 6-foot-9 frame.

Morrow was effective in spurts despite a pair of injuries that limited his explosiveness and effectiveness for most of his freshman year. The 6-foot-7, 234-pound forward averaged 4.1 points and 3.3 rebounds per game while shooting 64 percent from the field. Morrow was also second on the team in blocked shots despite playing less than 14 minutes per game. He reached double figures four times, including three times against Big Ten opponents and shot 74 percent in conference play. Morrow enjoyed a strong offseason and is poised to make a significant impact for the Huskers as a sophomore.

Tshimanga provides size and bulk that has been missing for several seasons in the Husker program. The 6-foot-11, 275-pound freshman averaged 18.3 points, 14.0 rebounds and 3.1 blocks per game at The MacDuffie School last season. He totaled 1,123 points and grabbed 571 rebounds during his career, while reshaping his body after picking up the sport three years ago. Tshimanga, who possesses a 7-foot-4 wingspan, was a top-150 recruit by Rivals and his development during the year may allow Miles the flexibility to match up to the size in the Big Ten.

"We've been missing a true center for some time now, and Jordy fills that role and that is important," Miles said. "He is an impressive person and a willing learner. As he gets more accustomed to this level and improves his body, I think he can be a very productive player with a high ceiling for the Huskers."

Schedule

The Huskers' schedule will be full of tests by the time Nebraska opens Big Ten play at defending champion Indiana on Dec. 28.

"The schedule is extremely ambitious and was built thinking that we would have our best team, albeit it was a young team," Miles said. "We lost a piece of that late, and I think we can overcome that, but at the same time, you are going to look at our schedule as one of the top 15 or 20 in the country.

"If you want to make the NCAA Tournament as an at-large team, there are some tremendous opportunities for us."

The non-conference slate is highlighted by a trip to California for the DirecTV Wooden Legacy. The Huskers' tournament begins against a Dayton team which returns four starters from a team that won 25 games. The eightteam field also features Sweet 16 participant Texas A&M, UCLA, New Mexico and Virginia Tech.

November closes with the annual ACC/Big Ten Challenge, as the Huskers travel to Clemson looking to remain unbeaten on the road in the challenge. NU is 2-0 in ACC/Big Ten Challenge road tilts, including wins at Florida State (2014) and Wake Forest (2012).

The Huskers return home to take on South Dakota on Dec. 3 before hosting Creighton in the annual intrastate matchup on Dec. 7. Three days later, the Huskers will get their biggest test of non-conference action, as NU travels to Allen Fieldhouse to take on the Kansas Jayhawks. The matchup between NU and KU is the first of a home-and-home series, as well as the first time NU has faced a Big 12 team during the regular season since 2011.

Nebraska opens Big Ten play on the road, as the Huskers travel to Indiana and Maryland (Jan. 1) before hosting Iowa in their home opener on Jan. 5. In all, the Huskers will play 12 of their conference games against teams which made the postseason in 2015-16.

The home schedule features games against Ohio State (Jan. 18), Purdue (Jan. 29), Michigan State (Feb. 2) and Wisconsin (Feb. 9) before the annual Senior Night game against Michigan closes the regular season on Sunday, March 5.

2016-17 NEBRASKA BASKETBALL NOTEBOOK

PLAYING THE YOUNGSTERS

With its highest-ranked freshman class in nearly two decades, Head Coach Tim Miles relied on his freshman class extensively in 2015-16. The quartet of Michael Jacobson, Jack McVeigh, Ed Morrow Jr., and Glynn Watson Jr., accounted for 35 percent of the Huskers' entire minute total in 2015-16. Jacobson, McVeigh and Watson played in all 34 games, while Morrow played in 30 contests, as he missed four games with a foot injury. In the Big Ten Tournament, they combined for nearly 40 percent of NU's minutes and 31 percent of the Huskers' offense.

- Nebraska has relied on its youth down the stretch, as a freshman led the Huskers in either points, rebounds or assists in 10 of the Huskers' final 11 contests.
- In Big Ten play last season, nearly 40 percent of Nebraska's total minutes and 35 percent of Nu's offense came from the freshmen class.
- In research by Bradley University, Nebraska ranked fifth among all power conference teams in minutes played by freshmen in 2015-16. NU trailed only Washington, Boston College, Kentucky, and Duke among minutes played by freshmen in power conferences during the regular season.
- At Wisconsin on Feb. 10, the Huskers started three true freshmen (Glynn Watson Jr., Michael Jacobson and Jack McVeigh), marking the first time in nearly 10 years that the Huskers starting lineup featured three true freshmen.
- ▶ Since Tim Miles arrived at Nebraska four seasons ago, the Huskers have started at least one true freshman in 71 percent of its games.

TAI'S SCORING JUMP

Tai Webster put together one of the largest one-season scoring jumps by a Husker in recent memory during the 2015-16 season. The 6-foot-4 guard from Auckland, New Zealand improved his scoring average from 3.9 ppg to 10.1 ppg from his sophomore to junior campaigns. Webster's jump was the largest by a NU faced 10 ranked opponents in 2012-13 as well as during the 1991-92 and 1994-95 seasons. In addition, the Huskers also faced Wisconsin, which was ranked 25th in the coaches poll, during the Big Ten Tournament.

2016-17 (Outlook)

Tai (pronounced Tie) Webster looks to build on a solid junior season, as he becomes the focal point of the Husker attack this season. Webster, whose 52 career starts at Nebraska are more than the rest of the roster combined, was third on the team in scoring at 10.1 points per game last season and ranked fifth in the Big Ten with 1.4 steals per game. The 6-foot-4 senior continued to enhance his game over the summer playing with the New Zealand National Team. Webster starred for the Kiwis in the FIBA Olympic qualifier, leading the team in both scoring (16.3 ppg) and rebounding (9.7 rpg) in helping them reach the semifinals. Webster's size and athleticism makes him a tough matchup for opposing guards, while he has worked hard to expand his game.

2016 (Summer)

Webster represented New Zealand in the FIBA Olympic Tournament Qualifier in July of 2016, playing in all three games to help New Zealand reach the semifinals. He averaged 16.3 points per game and 9.7 rebounds per game despite being the youngest player on New Zealand's 12-man roster. Webster finished tournament play second among all players in rebounding, fifth in scoring and sixth in field goal percentage and assists. His tournament was highlighted by a pair of double-doubles, including a 15-point, 10-rebound effort against Canada in the semifinals.

2015-16 (Junior)

One of the most improved players in the Big Ten, Webster put together the best season of his career in 2015-16. He played in all 34 games, averaging 10.1 points and 4.1 rebounds per game, doubling his previous bests in both categories. The 6-foot-4 guard also ranked fifth in the BIg Ten in steals at 1.4 per game.

Webster, who made 18 starts, reached double figures 16 times, including a pair of 20-point efforts. He closed the season by playing some of his best basketball in the Big Ten Tournament, averaging 14.7 points, 4.7 rebounds and 2.3 steals per game to help the Huskers to the quarterfinals. He scored 12 of his 17 points in the second half against No. 18 Maryland, as the Huskers cut a 25-point deficit to six points in the final minute. He also keyed NU's win over Rutgers with 18 points, five rebounds and four assists.

Webster moved back into the starting lineup for the Huskers' final six games and averaged 12.2 points, 5.5 rebounds, 2.2 assists and 2.2 steals per game in that

In Big Ten play, he averaged 9.9 points, 4.3 rebounds and 1.3 steals per game while shooting 45 percent from the field. Webster reached double figures in Big Ten play eight times, including a career-high 22 point effort at No. 19 Iowa on Jan. 5. In that game, he hit 7-of-11 shots and also added five rebounds in 33 minutes off the bench. He also had 17 points and three steals at No. 21 Purdue and added 16 points on 6-of-8 shooting and five rebounds at Illinois. He had nine of his 17 points in a 17-4 first-half

After a slow start to the season, Webster enjoyed a breakout performance at the Barclays Center Classic to earn a spot on the all-tournament team. In the opener, Webster set then career bests in points (21) and rebounds (eight) in a four-point loss to No. 24 Cincinnati. The following day, he followed up with an 18-point effort in a win over Tennessee. He also had 15 points in a loss at Crieghton.

2014-15 (Sophomore)

Webster emerged as one of the first Huskers off the bench, backing up All-Big Ten performers Terran Petteway and Shavon Shields. He played in 30 games, averaging 3.9 points and 1.9 rebounds per game in 18.4 minutes per game. In all, he had three games in double figures, including a pair of 13-point efforts, and led NU in assists on five occasions in 2014-15. Webster, who fell out of the rotation early in Big Ten play, found a role as NU's energy guy off the bench and his improved defense showed in other facets of his game. In his final 13 appearances off the bench, he shot nearly 40 percent from the field, including 35 percent from 3-point range, and had a 1.3-to-1 assist-to-turnover ratio.

Webster got off to a slow start in Big Ten play, totaling just five points and playing just 27 minutes during NU's first five conference games before earning an opportunity against Minnesota on Jan. 20. In that game, he helped limit Andre Hollins to just 2-of-10 shooting in the second half of Nebraska's 52-49 win. Webster built off that performance with his best game of the season, scoring 13 points, including a pair of 3-pointers, going 7-of-8 from the line, and adding three rebounds and a pair of steals in 28 minutes to key a 79-77 win over Michigan State on Jan. 24. He nearly keyed a comeback at Penn State, totaling five points and four steals as NU whittled a 20-point second-half deficit to three before falling, as he had five points off the bench in four consecutive games.

Webster started NU's first three games before moving to the bench to give the Huskers more scoring punch. He reached double figures in two of NU's first four games, scoring 13 points on 5-of-7 shooting and recording four steals against Central Arkansas. He keyed NU's win over Omaha with 10 points and a season-high four assists in 28 minutes off the bench. Webster's biggest contributions in nonconference action came in the double overtime win over Cincinnati on Dec. 13, when he scored all nine of his points in the second half and the two overtimes. His hustle play and offensive rebound with 1:18 left in the second OT led to Benny Parker's game-winning basket against the Bearcats.

2014 (Summer)

Webster competed for New Zealand's Senior National Team, including the FIBA World Cup in Spain, helping his team to the round of 16. He averaged 5.3 points, 3.0 rebounds and 1.5 assists per game despite being the fourth-youngest player in the tournament. Webster had eight points, seven rebounds and three assists in a win over the Ukraine and added seven points and five rebounds against Turkey. Against Team USA he had four points and a pair of blocked shots in 15 minutes against the eventual gold medalists.

Webster was an immediate contributor for the Huskers as a true freshman, averaging 3.9 points, 2.1 rebounds and 2.0 assists per game in helping the Huskers reach the NCAA Tournament. He led NU with 63 assists and also was among the team leaders in steals. Webster reached double figures four times, including a season-high 14 points against Georgia, and paced the squad in assists eight times.

In Big Ten play, Webster started all 18 games, as he split time with Benny Parker during the second half of the season.

He averaged just 2.6 points per game in conference play, but helped the Huskers in other areas as he was second on the team in assists (31) and fourth in steals (13) while hitting 73 percent from the foul line after entering Big Ten play at 56 percent. He enjoyed his best effort in conference play against Penn State on Feb. 23, totaling 10 points, a season-high five rebounds and a team-best three assists. It marked his first double-digit effort in Big Ten play, as he went 8-of-10 from the line against the Nittany Lions. Webster also performed well in NU's win over No. 18 Ohio State with nine points, including 5-of-6 from the foul line, and two rebounds.

In his collegiate debut, Webster totaled nine points, two rebounds and an assist in helping the Huskers to a 79-55 win over Florida Gulf Coast. He reached double figures for the first time in his young career against South Carolina State on Nov. 17, totaling 13 points, four rebounds and two assists. He had 12 points and two assists in a loss to UMass on Nov. 22, before enjoying the best game of his freshman year on Nov. 24 against Georgia. In that game, he came off the bench to score 14 points and dish out three assists in NU's 73-65 win. Webster scored 13 of his points in the second half and went 7-of-9 from the foul line.

Before Nebraska

Webster has enjoyed a decorated career on the international stage, as well as in his native New Zealand. After graduating from Westlake Boys High School, Webster played for the Waikato Pistons in the National Basketball League in New Zealand in 2012-13, averaging 18.5 points, 3.9 rebounds and 4.4 assists per game despite being the youngest player in the league. In his final year in school, Webster led the Westlake Boys High School and Coach Ben Eves to the National Secondary Schools Basketball Championships in October of 2012, scoring 24 points en route to garnering tournament MVP honors.

Much of Webster's acclaim was on the national and international stage, as he was selected for the New Zealand team at 17 years old. He made his national team debut in 2012, leading the Tall Blacks in scoring three times in six contests in his first senior national team action. He averaged 13.5 points per game in the 2012 FIBA World Olympic Qualifying Tournament, while shooting 52.5 percent from the field. His 21 points led all scorers in a win over Angola, as he went 7-of-12 from the field, including 5-of-6 from 3-point range. He topped

New Zealand in scoring in pretournament competition against both Olympic qualifier Brazil (eight) and Greece (18). He also won a gold medal at the inaugural FIBA 3x3 U18 World Championship in Italy in 2011. In addition to his basketball exploits, he also played volleyball at Westlake Boys High School.

Webster selected Nebraska over Pittsburgh, Virginia, Wake Forest, St. Mary's, LSU and SMU. He was a four-star recruit by ESPN.com and one of the top point guards in the class of 2013.

2016-17 (Outlook)

With the graduation of starting wings Shavon Shields and Andrew White III, junior Nick Fuller has an opportunity to earn extended playing time in 2016-17. Throughout the last two years, Fuller has provided a spark off the bench, whether it was a career-high 12 points at nationally ranked Maryland as a sophomore or taking a spot in the rotation while Shields was sidelined with a concussion in 2015-16. One of the most experienced players on the roster, Fuller has played in 40 games at Nebraska and possesses a good understanding of the Huskers offense. A solid rebounder, the 6-foot-7 Fuller has the potential to be more of a scorer and that would aid the Huskers in 2016-17.

2015-16 (Sophomore)

Fuller was a backup at both the wing and post positions, playing in 24 games and averaging 1.8 points and 1.4 rebounds per game.

In Big Ten play, his longest stretch of action came in February after Shavon Shields was injured. Fuller played 18 minutes in the win over Rutgers on Feb. 6, totaling two points, three rebounds and a pair of steals against the Scarlet Knights. That began a stretch of three straight games playing double-figure minutes, capped by four points, two steals and three rebounds in 14 minutes in a win over Penn State on Feb. 13. He also had four points on 2-of-2 shooting in the win at Rutgers on Jan. 9.

During non-conference action, Fuller played in 11 contests, highlighted by a 10-point, nine-rebound effort off the bench against Mississippi Valley State on Nov. 14. He also helped key a second-half rally against Rhode Island with three points. three boards and a steal in 11 minutes, as Nebraska rallied from a 11-point deficit on Dec. 13. Fuller closed non-conference play with seven points on 3-of-5 shooting against Prairie View A&M on Dec. 22.

2014-15 (Redshirt Freshman)

Fuller provided depth on the wing as a redshirt freshman. He played in 16 games and averaged 2.1 points and 1.3 rebounds per game. He shot 52 percent from the floor, including 3-of-8 from 3-point range, in limited action.

He earned a majority of his action during the final three weeks of the regular season, as he played in five of the Huskers' last six Big Ten games. Fuller enjoyed a breakout performance against Maryland on Feb. 19, coming off the bench to set season highs in both points (12) and rebounds (five) in 26 minutes of work. That effort earned him a start against Iowa, when he had five points and five rebounds in a season-high 30 minutes of work. Fuller also provided a spark in NU's win over Rutgers, totaling four points and four rebounds, including three offensive boards, in just 13 minutes.

During non-conference action, Fuller played just eight minutes in NU's first seven games before earning some time against Incarnate Word. In that game, he played 13 minutes and had six points, two rebounds and a pair of assists.

2013-14 (Redshirt)

Fuller redshirted during the 2013-14 season. He was named Lifter of the Year, adding nearly 20 pounds, while lowering his body fat to 8.3 percent. He also increased his bench press by 35 pounds, his squat by 70 pounds and his standing vertical jump by three inches.

Before Nebraska

Fuller enjoyed a storied high school career playing for Coach Jeff Boos at Sun Prairie High School. Fuller was a four-year starter and set the Big Eight Conference scoring record with 1,940 points, shattering the previous mark of 1,669 points by Jeronne Maymon, who played at Marquette and Tennessee. Fuller had a pair of 40-point games and scored 30 or more points 15 times during his high school career. He was a two-time Wisconsin State Journal All-Area Boys Basketball Player of the Year and two-time Big Eight Conference Player of the Year. He also grabbed 693 rebounds from his forward spot.

Fuller was rated by 247Sports as one of the top 150 players in the country and was a consensus three-star recruit by Rivals.com, Scout.com, ESPN and 247Sports.com. He was listed by ESPN as the 21st-best small forward in the country in the class of 2013.

A finalist for Mr. Basketball in Wisconsin in 2012-13, Fuller averaged 25.0 points and 11.2 rebounds per game in leading Sun Prairie to a 20-4 record and the Cardinals' first conference title in 37 years. A secondteam all-state selection, he was part of a talent-rich 2013 senior class which sent nearly 20 players to the Division I ranks. He was a two-time D1 all-state selection by the Wisconsin Basketball Coaches Association and a three-time all-state honoree by the Associated Press.

He earned Big Eight Conference Player of the Year and Wisconsin State Journal Area Player of the Year for the first time as a junior, when he averaged 23.5 points and 8.2 rebounds per game in helping Sun Prairie to a 17-8 record and a berth in the 2012 Division I sectional semifinals. He totaled 40 points in a win over Madison West to help Sun Prairie earn a runner-up conference finish. A three-time allconference pick and three-time all-state honoree, Fuller averaged 18.5 points per game as a sophomore and helped Sun Prairie to a 19-6 record and a sectional final runner-up. In the summers, he played for the Wisconsin Swing AAU program directed by Justin Litscher.

He also performed well in the classroom during his career at Sun Prairie, carrying a 3.5 GPA and making the honor roll all four years at the school. Fuller selected Nebraska over Minnesota and a host of schools, including Marquette, Butler, Colorado and Creighton.

2016-17 (Outlook)

At this time last year, one of the biggest question marks was the playing status of Michael Jacobson. The freshman missed nearly two months of workouts because of off-season foot surgery and didn't return to practice until mid-October.

The time off didn't hurt Jacobson, as he not only played in all 34 contests, but moved into the starting lineup in mid-December and remained throughout conference play. He became just the second Husker freshmen in 15 years to start every conference game and ranked among the top freshmen in school history in both blocked shots (fourth) and rebounds (fifth).

Jacobson showed his potential during the Big Ten Tournament, averaging 6.3 points on 50 percent shooting, 5.0 rebounds and 2.0 blocked shots per game.

With a healthy offseason, Jacobson has worked hard not only on his body but refining his game. He has added nearly 20 pounds to his frame and has worked on his shooting range to give the Huskers a more varied offensive attack.

2015-16 (Freshman)

Jacobson played in all 34 games as a true freshman, including 25 starts, and averaged 4.7 points and 4.3 rebounds per game. Jacobson finished his rookie year fourth on NU's freshman blocked shot list (28) and fifth in rebounds (141). He led NU in blocked shots and was third in rebounds despite being one of the smallest centers in the Big Ten.

He closed the season with a solid effort in the Big Ten Tournament, averaging 6.3 points on 50 percent shooting, 5.0 rebounds and 2.0 blocked shots in three games during the Big Ten Tournament. He posted a career-high 14 points on 6-of-9 shooting and added six rebounds and two blocked shots against Rutgers before blocking a career-high four shots in a win over Wisconsin the following day.

Jacobson started all 18 conference games, averaging 4.9 points, 4.3 rebounds and 1.1 blocks per game. He ranked third among all Big Ten freshmen in blocked shots in conference play and was seventh in rebounds. He reached double figures three times, including a 13-point effort on 5-of-7 shooting against Rutgers on Feb. 6, and 10points apiece against Maryland (Feb. 3) and Penn State (Feb. 13). He set personal conference highs with nine rebounds at Wisconsin on Feb. 10 and against Ohio State on Feb. 20. In the game against the Buckeyes, he also blocked three shots. One of his best performances in Big Ten play came in a loss to No. 4 Maryland when he had 10 points and seven rebounds in 30 minutes.

Jacobson, who missed most of preseason practice because of a stress fracture, was eased into the lineup during nonconference play. He came off the bench for NU's first nine games, including an 11-point, seven-rebound performance in 15 minutes vs. against Southeastern Louisiana on Nov. 22 before making his first career start at Creighton on Dec. 9. He sparked NU's comeback against Rhode Island, playing a then-high 26 minutes and scoring 11 points an adding four rebounds.

Before Nebraska

A four-year starter for Head Coach Justin Ohl at Waukee High School, Jacobson totaled 1,287 points, 776 rebounds and blocked 224 shots during his high school career. He was ranked among the top 200 players in the nation by some recruiting services and was rated the top player in the state of Iowa by 247Sports. He was a consensus three-star selection by Rivals, Scout and 247Sports. As a senior, he earned second-team All-lowa (all classes) and first-team Class 4-A (largest class) accolades by leading Waukee to an 18-6 record and the school's first state tournament berth in four years. Jacobson averaged 18.6 points, 9.6 rebounds and 2.3 blocked shots per game. He totaled 10 double-doubles on the year, including a 28-point, 15-rebound effort against Ankeny. He was in double figures in 22 of 24 games, including 10 20-point efforts, and had a 34-point performance against Mason City. As a junior, he earned second-team all-state honors from the Des Moines Register and first-team All-Central Iowa Metropolitan League accolades, averaging 17.1 points and 9.7 rebounds per game. A very smooth shooter for his size, Jacobson also shot 81.4 percent from the foul line and averaged nearly a 3-pointer per game that season. As a sophomore, he was a Class 4A all-state pick, averaging 14.6 points and 10.5 rebounds while totaling more than 70 blocked shots. Over the summer, he played for the MoKan Elite program for Coach Rodney Perry. Jacobson was recruited by Iowa, Iowa State, Harvard, Princeton, and UTEP among others and also by Iowa State in football before selecting Nebraska. He was the starting tight end at Waukee High School which advanced to the semifinals of the Class 4A playoffs in 2014. An exceptional student, Jacobson finished his high school career with close to a 4.0 GPA.

Personal

Michael is the son of Bill and Katie Jacobson and was born on April 4, 1997, in Pittsburgh, Pa. Michael has two younger sisters, Reilly and Molly, and one younger brother, Evan. Jacobson is a business administration major at Nebraska. His father, Bill, played college basketball at the University of Nebraska at Omaha for four seasons (1983-86), helping the Mavericks to a pair of Division II playoff appearances during his career. 2016-17 (Outlook)

Jack McVeigh enters his sophomore season as one of the leading contenders to start on the wing for the Huskers. The 6-foot-8, 215-pounder played in all 34 contests as a freshman, averaging 4.8 points and 2.6 rebounds per game. McVeigh was second on the team with 34 3-pointers while coming off the bench for the majority of the season. McVeigh provides the Huskers with an option who can stretch the floor and possesses a high basketball IQ. He performed well when Shavon Shields was sidelined for four games, as he moved into the starting lineup and averaged 11.0 points while shooting 44 percent from the field. The stretch included a career-high 17 points at No. 22 Indiana. With a year of experience and a summer of training under his belt, McVeigh is expected to be counted on for a major role this winter.

2015-16 (Freshman)

McVeigh quickly found a home in the Huskers' rotation as a true freshman, playing in all 34 games and averaging 4.8 points and 2.6 rebounds per game. He emerged one of the Huskers' top 3-point shooters, as his 34 3-pointers ranked second on the team and fifth on NU's all-time freshman list.

He raised his scoring average in Big Ten play, averaging 5.3 points per game while shooting 35 percent from 3-point range. McVeigh had a chance to earn extended minutes during a four-game stretch while Shavon Shields was out with a concussion. McVeigh performed well, averaging 11.0 points and 3.0 rebounds per game while shooting 44 percent from the field, including 48 percent from 3-point range. The 6-foot-8 forward reached double figures in consecutive games, highlighted by a career-high 17 points at No. 22 Indiana on Feb. 17, a game where he added four rebounds and two assists. He followed up with a team-high 16 points in an overtime loss to Ohio State, including a career-high five 3-pointers. Three of his four doublefigure efforts came in Big Ten action, as he also totaled 16 points off the bench, including 6-of-8 shooting, and a seasonhigh six rebounds against Indiana on Jan. 2.

McVeigh also provided a lift in the Huskers' win at No. 11 Michigan State with eight points, including six points in a 13-0 second-half run, along with six boards against the Spartans.

He made a quick first impression, opening his Husker career with 16 points off the bench, including 4-of-4 from 3-point range, against Mississippi Valley State. It was the highest-scoring debut by a Husker freshman in 10 years. While that was his only double-figure effort in non-conference action, McVeigh chipped in eight or more points three other times, including an eight-point, five-rebound effort in the win over Tennessee at the Barclays Center Classic.

Before Nebraska

McVeigh was one of the top international players in the class of 2015, as he attended the Australian Institute of Sport, the same program that produced seven NBA players in the last 15 years, as well as Husker great and 2012 Olympian Aleks Maric. McVeigh made his debut for Australia's Senior National Team at the 2014 Sino-Australia Challenge and was voted captain of Australia's Under-19 National Team in 2014. In the summer of 2015, he represented Australia at the FIBA Under-19 World Championship, averaging 11.1 points and a team-high 5.7 rebounds per game. He had a pair of 18-point performances against Italy and Serbia, when he also had 12 rebounds. In addition, he was also chosen to play on the Australian Select Team in 2014 and represented his country at the 2013 adidas Nations event, averaging 11.6 points and 3.6 rebounds while playing against some of the top basketball players in the World in his age group. In domestic competition, he led his Queensland team to a runner-up finish at the 2014 National Under-20 Championships, averaging 27.5 points per game on 55 percent shooting and 9.3 rebounds per game. His efforts earned McVeigh the Bob Staunton Medal as the tournament's most outstanding player, joining a list of past winners that includes Dante Exum and Patty Mills. He averaged 24.3 points and 10.8 rebounds per game playing in the National Under-18 Championships in 2013. He had a 41-point effort in the semifinals and averaged 17.6 points and 12.4 rebounds in 2012.

#30 ED MORROW JR SOPHOMORE | FORWARD | 6-7 | 234 | CHICAGO, ILI

CAREER HONORS

Tom Osborne Citizenship Team (2016)

2016-17 (Outlook)

The 2015-16 season was an up and down one for sophomore Ed. Morrow Jr. The 6-foot-7 forward battled injuries throughout the year, as he had a bone spur removed when he arrived on campus and a foot injury which sidelined him for nearly three weeks and hampered him through much of the final six weeks of the season. Despite the injuries, Morrow showed glimpses of the talent which made him NU's highest ranked signee in nearly two decades. Morrow showed the ability to attack the glass, as he was second on the team in offensive rebounds and blocked shots despite playing just 14 minutes per contest, and shot 64 percent from the field. After taking part of the summer to heal, Morrow may be the team's most improved player heading into the fall, as he has regained the explosiveness and leaping ability that made him such a sought-after recruit. Morrow has worked hard to add strength, and how begins his sophomore season 10 pounds heavier than as a freshman, allowing him the ability to battle inside in the Big Ten. Morrow is a second-generation Husker, as his father and mother were both student-athletes at Nebraska.

2015-16 (Freshman)

Morrow battled through injuries as a freshmen to play in 30 contests, averaging 4.1 points and 3.3 rebounds. Morrow was efficient on offense, hitting 64 percent from the field and finished second on the team with 21 blocked shots, a total which was fifth all-time among Husker freshmen. Morrow reached double figures four times despite averaging just 13.7 minutes per outing.

Morrow played in all three of the Huskers' Big Ten Tournament game, averaging 6.0 points and 2.7 rebounds per game while averaging just 11.3 minutes per game. He reached double figures for the fourth time in 2015-16, as he scored all 10 of his points in the second half against Rutgers. In the quarterfinals against No. 14 Maryland, Morrow had six points, four rebounds and a blocked shot in 14 minutes.

Morrow played in 14 Big Ten contests, averaging 4.6 points per game while shooting a dazzling 74 percent from the field. Morrow enjoyed a strong three-game stretch where he averaged 8.3 ppg while hitting 12-of-13 shots. The run included a 10-point effort against Rutgers on Jan. 9 and was capped by a six-point, six-rebound effort at Illinois on Jan. 16. Morrow had six points and six rebounds against Michigan on Jan. 23 and had 10 points and seven rebounds in 17 minutes against Rutgers on Feb. 6, but would miss the next four games with a foot injury. Morrow came back with four blocked shots in 12 minutes against Penn State on Jan. 25 before seeing an extended role against No. 15 Purdue with eight points on 4-of-5 shooting.

In non-conference play, Morrow got off to a quick start, averaging 6.0 ppg on 73 percent shooting over his first four contests, including a season-high 11 points on 5-of-5 shooting against Southeastern Louisiana on Nov. 22, and added six points and five caroms in 17 minutes at No. 11 Villanova on Nov. 17. Morrow had four or more rebounds eight times in non-conference action, including six rebounds in 12 minutes against Prairie View A&M on Dec. 22 and five rebounds against Tennessee on Nov. 28. He made his first career start against Abilene Christian on Dec. 5, recording three points and four boards.

Before Nebraska

Morrow was one of two highly regarded signees from the state of Illinois in Nebraska's 2015 signing class. He hails from national power Simeon Career Academy in Chicago where he played for Coach Robert Smith. The 6-foot-7 forward was one of the top players in the class of 2015, checking in at No. 52 nationally on ESPN's top 100 list and was the highest-rated high school recruit Nebraska has signed in nearly two decades. He was considered a four-star recruit by Rivals and is rated among the nation's top 150 players by the site. He was selected to the Lebron James Skills Academy, which featured 80 of the top high school players in the nation, in the summer of 2014. Simeon went 28-4 and reached the Class 4A (largest class) Supersectional in 2015. He was a unanimous first-team all-state selection by the Chicago Tribune, Chicago Sun Times, Champaign-Urbana News-Gazette and the Illinois Basketball Coaches Association, averaging 17 points, eight rebounds and three blocked shots per game. He was part of a Simeon team which included three players who signed with Big Ten programs. Had nine double-doubles as a senior, including a 31-point, 16-rebound effort against Bogan during the regular season and a 19-point, 10-rebound, fiveblocked shot effort in the city title game. He also had 16 rebounds and 11 points in a nationally televised loss to St. Rita. A firstteam all-area and all-city selection, Morrow was the MVP of the Penny Hardaway Classic after scoring 25 points and grabbing nine rebounds against Arlington (Tenn.). As a junior, Morrow helped the school go 23-4 in his first season as a starter, averaging 17 points, 11 rebounds and two blocked shots per game. Despite being undersized in the post, he turned in a 24-point effort on Jahlil Okafor, a first-round NBA lottery pick in 2015 and had 22 points against Cliff Alexander, who was the No. 3 player in the 2014 class. For his efforts, he was a secondteam All-City honoree by the Chicago Sun Times and a second-team all-state pick by the Illinois Basketball Coaches Association and the Champaign-Urbana News-Gazette. As a sophomore, he came off the bench and played a significant role for a team which went 30-3, won its fourth consecutive Class 4A state title and finished fifth in the country. He played behind five senior starters in 2012-13, including Milwaukee Bucks standout Jabari Parker. Morrow played for the Mac Irvin Fire AAU program and Coach Mike Irvin, averaging 14.1 points on 68 percent shooting, 7.6 rebounds and 1.8 blocks per game in the Nike EYBL in 2014. Morrow also helped lead the Mac Irvin Fire to the Las Vegas Classic in July of 2014, as the program featured six Division I signees.

GLYNN WATSON JR.

CAREER HONORS

- ▶ Big Ten Freshman of the Week (2/15/16)
- Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll
- ▶ Tom Osborne Citizenship Team (2016)

2016-17 (Outlook)

Glynn Watson Jr. proved to be an impact newcomer for the Huskers as a true freshman. Watson stepped into the Huskers' rotation and ranked among the Big Ten's top freshmen in both steals and assists, while his scoring average of 8.6 points per game was the highest by a Husker freshman guard since 2005. More impressively, Watson posted a 2.4 assist-toturnover ratio, which was the best by any Husker guard in the last decade.

He showed that he was not afraid of the ball in big moments, whether it was his game-tying 3-pointer in the final seconds of regulation against Miami or his 16-point outburst against Wisconsin in the Big Ten Tournament, Watson has worked hard in the offseason, working on adding weight to his frame to withstand the rigors of Big Ten play. Glynn looks to follow in the footsteps of older brother, Demetri McCamey, who was an All-Big Ten performer at Illinois.

2015-16 (Freshman)

Watson proved to be an impact newcomer in the Big Ten, playing in all 34 games for the Huskers, including 16 starts. The 6-foot guard averaged 8.6 points, 2.4 assists and 1.2 steals per game. Watson ranked fourth among Big Ten rookies in both steals and assists, and earned a place on NU's freshman top-10 lists in points (292, eighth), assists (83, fifth), steals (40, fifth) and field goals (115, sixth). He also posted a 2.4-to-1 assist-to-turnover ratio, which was the best by any Husker guard in the last decade.

Watson came off the bench in the Big Ten Tournament, averaging 10.6 points per game, closing his freshman campaign with 10 points, five rebound and three assists in the loss to No. 18 Maryland in the Big Ten Tournament. Watson played a major role in NU's win over Wisconsin in the conference tournament, finishing with 16 points in the win over the Badgers.

In Big Ten play, he started 15 games, as he raised his average from 7.5 ppg to 9.1 ppg while dishing out 2.3 assists per game. Watson reached double figures eight times, including a season-high 17 points and three rebounds at Illinois on Jan. 16. That performance began a streak of six straight games in double figures for the freshman. He also had 13 points, two steals and two assists in NU's win at Michigan State on Jan. 20 and he added 13 points against Michigan on Jan. 23. He totaled at least four assists four times, including a career-high nine assists in a win over Rutgers on Feb. 6. That was the most by a Husker freshman since 2008. He also performed well in the first meeting at Wisconsin on Feb. 10 with 16 points in a losing effort. His last start of the season came in an overtime loss to Ohio State on Feb. 20, when he had 10 points and a season-high six rebounds.

Watson proved to be a valuable scorer off the bench early on, reaching double figures five times in his first 12 games before moving into the starting lineup. He had 12 points in a loss at No. 11 Villanova on Nov. 17, while showing a knack for heroics, as his 3-pointer with 18.3 seconds left sent NU into overtime with No. 21 Miami on Dec. 1. His biggest heroics came against Rhode Island on Dec. 13, when he scored 13 of his 17 points in the second half to lead the Huskers to a 70-67 win. He also had 14 points, four rebounds and three assists against Southern Louisiana on Nov. 22.

Before Nebraska

Watson was one of the top point guards nationally in the class of 2015, playing for legendary high school coach Gene Pingatore at Saint Joseph High School in Westchester, III. A consensus four-star prospect, Watson was ranked among the top 100 players in the country by every recruiting service and was ranked as high as 66th nationally by Scout.com, which also ranks him as the seventh-best point guard in the class of 2015, and No. 71 on ESPN. com's top-100 seniors.

As a senior, he led St. Joseph High School to a 29-6 record and the school's second state title. Watson averaged 15.5 points, 4.3 rebounds, 4.0 assists and 3.0 steals per game during his senior season, joining Northwestern signee Jordan Ash in a backcourt which was one of the best in the state of Illinois in 2014-15. Watson, who earned an invitation to the 2014 USA men's U18 National Team training camp, was at his best at the state tournament, averaging 23.5 points on 55 percent shooting, 5.5 rebounds and 3.5 assists per game. He had 28 points, six rebounds and three assists in the semifinals before a 19-point, five-rebound, four-assist performance in a 67-63 win over Althoff Catholic in the Class 3A state title game. In all, Watson had nine games of at least 20 points as a senior, including a season-high 38-point effort in the regular-season win over Althoff Catholic.

For his efforts, he earned first-team all-state honors from the Illinois Basketball Coaches Association and Champaign News-Gazette in 2015. In addition, he was a second-team choice by the Chicago Tribune (all classes) and Chicago Sun Times (Class 3A).

A two-time first-team All-Catholic League selection. Watson earned third-team Class 3A all-state honors from the Illinois Basketball Coaches Association and all-state special mention by the Champaign-Urbana News-Gazette as a junior. That season, he averaged 15 points, five assists, five rebounds and two steals per game, while leading St. Joseph to a 25-8 record and the Class 3A Sectional semifinals. As a sophomore, he garnered honorablemention Chicago Catholic League honors in his first season as a starter, helping St. Joseph to an 18-13 record and a sectional finals appearance. Watson also played AAU ball for the Illinois Wolves and Head Coach Mike Mullins. Watson also looked at Creighton, Maryland, Purdue, Tennessee and West Virginia before choosing Nebraska.

Personal

Glynn Juwan Watson is the son of Sabrina Watson and Glynn Watson Sr., and was born on March 9, 1997, in Chicago, Ill. He has two older brothers (Demetri and DeAndre McCamey) and two sisters (Kiera and Monique). Older bothers Demetri and DeAndre McCamey both also starred at St. Joseph. Demetri was a three-time All-Big Ten pick at Illinois, earning firstteam honors in 2009-10. Watson majors in sociology at Nebraska. St. Joseph High School has the distinction of being the only school which has produced a pair of 1,000-point scorers for Nebraska, as Clifford Scales (1988-91) and Carl Haves (1990-92) both played for Pingatore. Scales and Hayes both scored 1,136 points at Nebraska and played major roles in the Huskers' schoolrecord 26-win team in 1990-91.

2016-17 (Outlook)

Freshman Jeriah Horne continues Nebraska's recent run of players from the Kansas City area. In recent years, Kansas City area players Shavon Shields, Brandon Ubel and Benny Parker have played major roles in the Husker program. Horne was one of the top players in the Midwest after leading The Barstow School to three straight state championship game appearances. A 6-foot-7 forward, Horne was a three-time all-state pick and totaled over 2,000 career points in high school. A solid shooter with range to the 3-point line and a very good rebounder for his size, Horne has worked hard on adding strength and reshaping his body since arriving on campus in June. The Huskers graduated both starting wings from last season, and Horne has an opportunity to crack the rotation as a freshman.

Before Nebraska

Horne was a four-year standout for Coach Billy Thomas at The Barstow School in Kansas City, helping the school to three state championship appearances, including a state title in 2015. Horne was a three-time first-team all-state pick in Missouri and totaled over 2,000 career points at Barstow, which went 82-9 in his last three campaigns. For his efforts, Horne was ranked No. 122 nationally by Rivals and was a three-star selection by Rivals, Scout and 247Sports.

As a senior. Horne shared the DiRenna Award, given to the top player in the Kansas City area and was a finalist for Mr. Basketball in the state of Missouri. On the season, he averaged 22 points, 11 rebounds and three assists per game, as Barstow finished with a 27-4 record and a runner-up finish in Class 3 in Missouri this season. In the state title game, he had 39 points and 14 rebounds in a 62-60 loss to Father Tolton Regional Catholic. He also had a 42-point effort as a senior.

2016-17 (Outlook)

When looking back at the Huskers' post players last year, the most common word was undersized. NU's top two posts in 2015-16 were both 6-8 or smaller, making it a challenge at times on the defensive end for the Huskers.

The addition of freshman Jordy Tshimanga (pronounced shuh-MAHN-gah) gives the Huskers a big man who can be a force in the post. At 6-foot-11, 275 pounds, Tshimanga was one of the top 150 recruits in the country last year, as he averaged 18.3 points, 14.1 rebounds and 3.1 blocks per game at The MacDuffie School. Tshimanga only played basketball for three seasons, but his work ethic has impressed his teammates and coaches. Tshimanga dropped 60 pounds in high school as he picked up the sport and improved his conditioning. His size, length and physicality give him a chance to make an impact early in his Husker career.

Before Nebraska

Tshimanga came to Nebraska after spending three seasons at The MacDuffie School in Granby, Mass., playing for Coach Jacque Rivera. Tshimanga, who possesses a 7-4 wingspan, was a four-star selection by Scout.com and was rated as the No. 150 prospect in the senior class by Rivals.com.

Tshimanga scored 1,123 points and grabbed 571 rebounds in his time at MacDuffie, while losing over 60 pounds during his three seasons after picking up the sport. A two-time NEPSAC Class AA honoree, he averaged 18.3 points, 14.0 rebounds and 3.1 blocks per game during his senior season. One of his best performances of the season came against Wilbraham & Monson at the HoopHall Classic when he had 13 points, 19 rebounds and three blocks while facing Kentucky signee Wenyen Gabriel. He was also the MVP of the 2015 Hoop Hall Classic.

Tshimanga was ranked as the No. 15 prospect in New England by the New England Recruiting Report while ESPN. com rated him as the third-best prospect in the state of Massachusetts in 2016. He represented Canada in the 2014 NIKE Global Challenge and played in the Under Armour All-America camp in 2015. He is the No. 19 center in the country by Scout, No. 22 by 247Sports and No. 25 by ESPN.com. Jordy selected Nebraska over a host of schools, including UNLV, Minnesota, Oregon, Purdue and Arizona.

Personal

Jordy is the son of Florent Tshimanga and was born on Nov. 4, 1996 in Montreal. He has two older brothers, Link Kabadyundi and Yannick Wak, and one older sister, Yasmine Bidikuindila. Link currently plays at UT Arlington after beginning his collegiate career at TCU, while Yasmine is a freshman basketball player at LSU. Jordy's family is originally from the Democratic Republic of the Congo, and he can speak two languages (English and French).

2016-17 NEBRASKA BASKETBALL HEAD COACH TIM MILES

TIM MILES

HEAD COACH · FIFTH SEASON

The story of Tim Miles building programs goes back over two decades at three different levels of college basketball.

For Miles, the only active coach who has taken teams to the postseason at the Division I, Division II and NAIA ranks, his coaching journey began at Mayville State, an NAIA program which had won four games in two previous seasons. He guided the school to 17 and 18-win seasons in his two years at the school. At Southwest Minnesota State, he turned a program that had one winning season in a decade to the NCAA Division II Elite Eight in just four seasons. At North Dakota State, he took a Division II program to the Division I ranks and positioned the school to enjoy unprecedented success at the Division I level. At Colorado State, he built a program that made it to three straight postseason appearances and left the foundation for one of the most successful seasons in school history before he was named the 27th head coach in Nebraska's history on March 24, 2012.

Miles has continued his program-building ways at Nebraska, leading the school to its first NCAA Tournament appearance in 16 seasons in 2014. For his efforts, he won the Jim Phelan Award for national coach of the year, and was selected as the Big Ten Coach of the Year by his peers.

Miles has continued the building process at Nebraska as the foundation now includes seven players who were among the nation's top 150 players by Rivals. All of those players arrived at Nebraska over the last two years.

In 2015-16, Miles guided a youthful Husker team to 16 wins against a schedule featuring 10 ranked opponents. More than 55 percent of the Huskers' offense in 2015-16 was by players in their first year of the program. The Huskers also won multiple games in the conference tournament for the first time in a decade, including a win over a Wisconsin team which eventually reached the NCAA Sweet 16.

The team was led by senior Shavon Shields, who garnered second-team All-Big Ten honors by the conference coaches to lead a pair of All-Big Ten picks. Shields, who was one of five players in school history with 1,600 points and 500 rebounds, also shined off the court, as he was named to the NABC Good Works Team and repeated as CoSIDA Academic All-American. For his efforts, he was named Nebraska's Big Ten Medal of Honor Winner and UNL's Male Student-Athlete of the Year, becoming the first Husker basketball player to receive the honors.

In 2014-15, the Huskers garnered their first national ranking since 1995 and enjoyed record-setting attendance numbers, establishing a school-record attendance of 15,569 fans per game to rank 10th nationally.

Individually, Terran Petteway earned All-Big Ten honors for the second straight year and earned an invitation to training camp with the Atlanta Hawks. Petteway was one of four Huskers to sign professional contracts in 2015. Miles' program also enjoyed a first in the classroom, as Shields became the first Husker basketball player to be named a first-team Academic All-American. He was one of five Huskers named Academic All-Big Ten in 2015.

In 2013-14, the Huskers, who were picked to finish last in the Big Ten, became one of the big stories in college basketball, going 19-13 and reaching the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1998. The Huskers opened Big Ten play with a 1-5 record before orchestrating a turnaround which saw them win 10 of their final 12 Big Ten games to finish fourth with an 11-7 record. The stretch included a pair of wins over top 10 teams - a 60-51 win at No. 9 Michigan State which was the Huskers' first road win over a top-10 team since 1997 and a 77-68 win over a Wisconsin team which reached the Final Four. Nebraska's 11 conference wins were the most by the Huskers since 1966.

Nebraska's improvement came on the defensive end of the floor, as the Huskers finished second in the Big Ten in field goal percentage defense (.415) and third in scoring defense (64.3 ppg) during conference play.

Petteway became the first Husker to win a Big Ten scoring title, as he averaged 18.1 points and 4.8 rebounds per game en route to first-team All-Big Ten honors. Shields earned honorable-mention All-Big Ten honors, as he averaged 12.8 points and a team-high 5.8 rebounds per game. Four of Nebraska's top six scorers were all in their first year of competition at Nebraska.

In 2013-14, Nebraska averaged 15,419 fans per game, a jump of 5,067 fans per game from the previous year and the largest increase by any program since 2004. The Huskers went 15-1 at home in 2013-14, the best home record by a Husker team since the 1982-83 campaign and the best record in the Big Ten during 2014-15.

Miles' energetic personality has also spurred unprecedented fan interest in the Husker program. Nebraska has sold out its season ticket allotment in each of the first three years of Pinnacle Bank Arena. Nebraska is one of only eight programs in college basketball to average at least 15,000 fans per game in each of the last three seasons.

In his first season at Nebraska, Miles took a team that returned one starter and two of its top nine scorers, and improved the Huskers' win total from 12 to 15 despite facing a school-record 10 ranked teams. Nebraska posted wins over a trio of NCAA Tournament teams before capping the season with a win over Purdue in the Big Ten Tournament – the program's first Big Ten Tournament victory. Not a bad feat for a program that was a near unanimous choice for the league cellar by the league's pundits.

Before taking the Nebraska job, Miles spent five seasons building the Colorado State program into a contender in the Mountain West Conference. He increased his victory total in each of his five years at CSU, culminating in a 20-12 record and the school's first NCAA appearance in nine seasons during his final year in Fort Collins. After winning 16 games in his first two years at CSU, his teams went 55-41 over the last three years, reaching postseason play in each campaign.

The 2011-12 Rams posted the school's first 20-win season since the 1997-98 campaign while playing a schedule rated as the fourth-toughest in the country. Colorado State set a school record with three wins over ranked teams and placed three players on the All-Mountain West team. Miles was named the District VIII Coach of the Year by the U.S. Basketball Writers Association for his efforts. The Rams' 20-win season was only the seventh in the program's 108 seasons of competition despite playing a school-record eight ranked foes.

The Rams were one of four Mountain West teams to receive bids in the 2012 NCAA Tournament. CSU averaged 70.1 points per game on the season and topped the Mountain West Conference in field-goal percentage (47.1), 3-point percentage (40.0) and free throw percentage (76.8) and was one of two programs in the country to rank in the top 10 in both free throw percentage and 3-point percentage.

Three of Miles' players earned All-Mountain West honors, marking the program's most honorees in its half century affiliation with the WAC or Mountain West conferences. Wes Eikmeier earned first-team Mountain West honors after averaging 15.5 points per game, while Dorian Green and Pierce Hornung were both third-team honorees. Hornung also was named to the league's all-defensive team in 2011-12.

In 2010-11, Miles guided the program to a 19-13 record, a fourth-place finish in the Mountain West, and a berth in the NIT, reaching milestones at every step along the way. The 2010-11 campaign marked the Rams' first winning season since 2007, and the squad became the 10th in program history to record 19 or more victories in a single season.

The Rams' nine conference victories were the most for CSU since the formation of the Mountain West in 1999-2000, and CSU's fourth-place finish was the best since a fourth-place finish in the inaugural MW season. Miles and the Rams received votes in the top-25 national polls for the first time since 2005-06, and he became just the third coach in the program's 100-year plus history to take the Rams to back-to-back postseason appearances. The Rams also won the ESPN Cancun Governor's Cup, defeating Southern Miss in the title game. Andy Ogide became only the second Ram to earn first-team Mountain West honors as he averaged 17.2 points and 7.7 rebounds per game in 2010-11. He was also a first-team all-district honoree from the NABC.

Miles' third Colorado State team continued to make improvements, as the 2009-10 Rams won 16 games and reached postseason play for the first time since 2003 with a berth in the 2010 College Basketball Invitational (CBI). For his efforts, Miles was selected as the Mountain West Coach of the Year by CollegeInsider.com in 2010.

During his first two years, Miles began to build the Colorado State program despite battling numerous injuries. In 2007-08, he led a roster that featured just one returning starter to early season success, including a tournament championship at the Top of the World Classic in Fairbanks, Alaska. And, after battling through a tough conference slate, the Rams ended the season on a high

Tim Miles has guided four schools to postseason berths, including Nebraska's first NCAA Tournament appearance in 16 seasons during the 2013-14 season.

HEAD COACH TIM MILES

Tim Miles has been active in selling the basketball program, whether it is celebrating with students after a big win, interviewing his dad at the season-opening event, speaking at community events or welcoming back former players like Tyronn Lue for Legends Weekend. Coach Miles is also active on Twitter, where he is one of the most followed coaches in college basketball and provides fans a unique look into the Husker program. For more information or to follow Coach Miles on twitter, visit Twitter.com/CoachMiles.

note with a victory over rival Wyoming in the opening round of the Mountain West tournament.

His second season in Fort Collins proved to be just as fruitful as the Rams continued to make strides. Miles led the Rams to early season victories over Montana and Northern Colorado, both of which had beaten the Rams the previous year, and lost a one-point game against Minnesota. In addition, the Rams boosted their win column with four conference wins against UNLV, Air Force (twice) and TCU.

While establishing a tradition of winning in college basketball, Miles' philosophy extends far beyond the basketball court. He and his staff are committed to academics and the success of their student-athletes in the classroom.

At Nebraska, he has had 12 Academic All-Big Ten honorees, including a conferencebest five honorees in 2015.

At Colorado State, he donated back to the school and the community by capping the J.J. Williams scholarship endowment in 2011 and establishing the Ram Basketball Legacy scholarship endowment, while making a contribution to School is Cool, a CSU driven program to support Poudre School District.

With 21 years of experience as a head coach at four institutions, he has compiled a career record of 346-287 that includes three conference championships and seven postseason tournament appearances. Only twice in two decades has a team failed to match its win total from the previous year.

Before taking over the Colorado State program, Miles spent six seasons at North Dakota State, guiding the Bison through the transition to the Division I ranks. He won at least 16 games in each of his final five seasons at the school, including the program's first three years at the Division I level. Miles' tenure at NDSU was highlighted by a pair of road wins over top-15 squads in his final two seasons.

In 2005-06, the Bison, who started three redshirt freshmen, snapped Wisconsin's 27-game win streak against non-conference foes with a 62-55 win over the 13th ranked Badgers, marking one of only 10 non-conference home losses in Bo Ryan's 15 seasons at Wisconsin.

In his final season at NDSU, Miles guided the Bison team that had one senior on the roster to a 20-8 record, including a 64-60 win at eighth-ranked Marquette in the championship game of the 2006 Blue and Gold Classic. North Dakota State was one of only two independent programs with a winning record in 2006-07.

Miles showed his ability to turn around programs during his tenure at Southwest Minnesota State University. He took a program that had only one winning season in the previous decade and went 78-39 in his four seasons at the school, recorded the first 20-win season in school history, and led Southwest Minnesota State to back-to-back winning seasons for the first time in more than two decades.

In his final year at the school, the Mustangs won a school-record 28 games, captured the 2001 Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference championship, won the NCAA North Central Regional championship and reached the Division II Elite Eight. For his efforts, Miles was named the NSIC and North Central Region Coach of the Year following the 2000-01 campaign.

Miles began his head coaching career at Mayville (N.D.) State University, guiding the program to a 35-22 record from 1995 to 1997 and a pair of conference titles after Mayville State went 4-44 during the previous two seasons.

He began his coaching career as an assistant coach at Northern State for six seasons from 1989-90 through 1994-95 and helped the Wolves to five NAIA playoff appearances and five regional titles. He was the recruiting coordinator for NSU and was responsible for bringing in and coaching five All-Americans at that school. Northern State reached the NAIA National Championship game in both 1993 and 1994.

A native of Doland, S.D., he graduated from the University of Mary in Bismarck, N.D., in 1989 and earned a master's degree in health and physical education from Northern State in Aberdeen, S.D., in 1990. He was inducted into the University of Mary Athletic Hall of Fame in 2007.

Miles, and his wife, Kari, have one daughter, Ava, and one son, Gabriel.

ASSISTANT COACH KENYA HUNTER

KENYA HUNTER

ASSISTANT COACH · FOURTH SEASON

Kenya Hunter is in his fourth season at Nebraska after joining the staff in June of 2013. In his role, Hunter coaches the Husker post players and also assists in player development and opponent scouting.

In his first three seasons, four of his post players have signed professional contracts, including Walter Pitchford, who played in the NBA D-League in 2015-16.

Hunter has also played a major role in the Huskers' recruiting efforts, including Andrew White III, who earned All-Big Ten honors in 2016. In addition, Hunter also helped the Huskers recruit seven other players who were among the nation's top 150 players in their classes by ESPN or Rivals.com over the last two seasons.

Last year, Hunter helped prepare freshmen Michael Jacobson and Ed Morrow Jr., as the two were the Huskers' primary post players in 2015-16. Hunter also worked on the development of two-time All-Big Ten performer Shavon Shields, who finished his career as one of five players in school history with 1,500 points and 600 rebounds.

Prior to joining the Husker program, Hunter spent six seasons at Georgetown and was instrumental in helping the Hoyas to a pair of Big East titles (2008 and 2013), five 20-win seasons and five NCAA Tournament bids in his tenure. His teams were ranked in the top 10 during each of the six seasons at the school and were either a No. 2 or No. 3 seed in the NCAA Tournament four times in that span.

In his tenure at Georgetown, Hunter played a significant role in the development of four NBA players. The group included all-star Roy Hibbert and Greg Monroe, who was the No. 7 pick of the Detroit Pistons in the 2010 NBA Draft. Most recently, Hunter developed Otto Porter, who was the Big East Player of the Year in 2012-13, and the No. 3 pick in the 2013 NBA Draft.

Hunter has worked with some of college basketball's top coaches, including Thompson, Arizona's Sean Miller and Herb Sendek. Hunter has helped 12 teams reach postseason play over the last 15 seasons, including 11 NCAA appearances.

At Georgetown, he was involved in offensive and defensive on-court coaching and opponent scouting while also playing a leading role in the Hoyas' recruiting efforts. Three of Hunter's recruiting classes were among the top 25 nationally, as he played a major role in the recruitment of 11 players who were ranked among the top 100 nationally by either ESPN.com or Rivals.com.

His ability to develop players resulted in five players earning first-team All-Big East honors and two Big East Rookies of the Year, while Porter was honored as Georgetown's first Big East Player of the Year since 2007.

Prior to joining the Georgetown staff, Hunter spent three years as an assistant coach at Xavier University, where he helped Coach Sean Miller to back-to-back 20-win seasons, including a 25-9 record and a second-round appearance in the 2007 NCAA Tournament. At Xavier, he assisted in on-court coaching as well as playing a major role in recruiting.

Hunter also has experience in the ACC, spending two stints at North Carolina State. He served as Director of Basketball Operations for the Wolfpack from 2000 to 2004. He was responsible for the day-to-day administrative responsibilities for the men's program, which made three straight NCAA Tournaments during his tenure.

He began his full-time coaching career at his alma mater, Duquesne, spending two seasons at the school. Hunter was responsible for on-floor coaching and off-campus recruiting. He helped the Dukes staff bring in the top recruiting class in the Atlantic 10 in 1999.

A four-year letterwinner point guard for Duquesne (1993-96), Hunter finished his career ranked third on the Dukes' all-time assist list (439). He tallied 971 points and 218 steals while shooting 74.4 percent from the free throw line and 35.1 percent from the three-point arc. After starting 93 of his 103 career games for the Dukes, Hunter was a two-time recipient of the Sihugo Green Award, presented annually to Duquesne's top upperclassman. He was also a three-year captain. During his playing career at Duquesne, Hunter spent the summers as an assistant coach for an AAU squad, the Pittsburgh Jots. He worked with Head Coach John Miller, the father of Sean Miller and Dayton coach Archie Miller.

In high school, Hunter starred on the gridiron as well as the hardwood. He was an accomplished football quarterback as well as a point guard at Wakefield High School in Arlington, Va. Following his high school career, he teamed with former Syracuse guard Lawrence Moten to lead New Hampton School in New Hampshire to a 23-3 record prior to enrolling at Duquesne.

Hunter completed his liberal arts degree at Duquesne in 1996, and earned his master's degree in education from North Carolina State in 1998. While earning his master's degree, Hunter was a student manager at North Carolina State under Herb Sendek from 1996 to 1998 and accompanied the Wolfpack to a pair of NIT appearances.

Hunter is married to the former Johncie Brown of Durham, N.C. The couple has a son, Jaylin and a daughter, Kendall.

JIM MOLINARI

ASSISTANT COACH · THIRD SEASON

One of the most well-respected teachers in college basketball, Jim Molinari is in his third season as an assistant coach at Nebraska. Molinari has more than three decades of Division I coaching experience, including 20 years of head coaching experience.

Molinari is a three-time conference coach of the year during his career, while he has guided nine teams to postseason play and has over 300 wins as a college head coach. In addition, he has been a member of 10 NCAA Tournament staffs during his 14 season as a Division I assistant coach.

Before joining the Nebraska staff in April of 2014, Molinari spent six seasons as head coach at Western Illinois, leading the Leathernecks to their first-ever postseason appearance at the Division I level. In 2012-13, he guided WIU to a 22-9 record and a share of the Summit League regular-season title with a 13-3 mark. The 22 wins were the program's highest total since moving to Division I while he was named the Summit League Coach of the Year and the NABC District 12 Coach of the Year. He was also a finalist for the Hugh Durham Award (CollegeInsider.com Mid-Major Coach of the Year). WIU led the nation in fewest fouls committed and was second in scoring defense at 52.6 points per game, while ranking in the top 75 in six categories. Molinari coached Terell Parks who was tabbed second-team NABC all-district and also named first-team All-Summit League and the Summit League Defensive Player of the Year in 2012-13.

In 2011-12, WIU broke through with an 18-15 record and an appearance in the College Basketball Invitational, the program's first-ever postseason appearance at the Division I level. The Leathernecks reached the Summit League title game for the first time since 1997, while the 18 wins were the most since 1996-97. Ceola Clark led the team earning Summit League Defensive Player of the Year for the second straight season, becoming the first player in conference history to be a two-time winner of the award. Clark was also a three-time All-Summit League performer, including a two-time first-team winner.

In 2007-08, Molinari served as an assistant coach at Ball State, following a three-year stint at Minnesota in which he was the interim head coach for most of the 2006-07 season. In his first season as an assistant at Minnesota, his defensive emphasis helped the Gophers rank third in Big Ten scoring defense (62.7 points per game). They led the league in field goal percentage defense (.424) and three-point field goal percentage defense (.274) in conference play, and allowed 62.9 points per league game, the fewest since the 1981-82 season. In 2005, Street & Smith's named Molinari the "best assistant in the Big Ten Conference."

For 11 seasons, from 1991-2002, Molinari was the head coach at Bradley University, where he amassed a 174-152 (.534) record and guided the Braves to the postseason six times - five National Invitation Tournament appearances and the 1996 NCAA Tournament. He led Bradley to a trio of 20-win seasons, including a 22-8 record in 1995-96 when he was chosen as Missouri Valley Conference Coach of the Year. He left Bradley with more league wins than any other active coach in the Missouri Valley.

From 1989-91, he was the head coach at Northern Illinois, where he posted a record of 42-17 (.712). The Huskies won the 1991 Mid-Continent Conference title, going 25-6 and setting a school record for wins. At NIU, Molinari inherited a program that had not won as many as 17 games in a season since 1981, but made a quick turnaround with a 17-win season followed by a 25-win campaign in just his second year at the school.

At DePaul from 1979-89, Molinari helped both Ray and Joey Meyer lead the Blue Demons to national prominence. Over 10 seasons at DePaul, Molinari helped recruit college and professional stars such as Mark Aguirre, Dallas Comegys, Tyrone Corbin, Terry Cummings and Rod Strickland -- players who led DePaul to nine NCAA Tournaments and a runner-up finish in

In addition to his collegiate coaching experience, Molinari is a veteran of national selection committees for international competition. He led the 1997 USA Basketball men's team to a gold medal at the World University Games played in Trapani, Italy. For two years in-between collegiate coaching positions, Molinari was an NBA scout for the Toronto Raptors (2002-03) and Miami Heat (2003-04).

His college playing career began at Kansas State, where he teamed with current Oklahoma head coach Lon Kruger for two seasons. After transferring to Illinois Wesleyan, where he teamed with former NBA center Jack Sikma, Molinari helped the Titans win consecutive league titles, before entering the coaching ranks in 1978 as a part-time assistant with DePaul.

Molinari earned his bachelor's degree in English from Illinois Wesleyan University in 1977 and earned a Juris Doctor from DePaul in 1980.

UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA ADMINISTRATION

HANK M. BOUNDS, PH.D.

UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA PRESIDENT SECOND YEAR

SOUTHERN MISSISSIPPI 1991

On Jan. 12, 2015, the Board of Regents appointed lifelong educator Hank M. Bounds, Ph.D., as the seventh president of the University of Nebraska. Bounds began his tenure as president on April 13, 2015, bringing with him a demonstrated record of expanding opportunities for students, improving higher education outcomes and efficiencies, and building successful partnerships with policymakers, donors and business leaders.

Bounds grew up on a small farm in rural Mississippi, where his family raised hogs and cattle and he hauled hay. His service in the Army National Guard helped him pay for college, and he earned bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Southern Mississippi and a doctorate from the University of Mississippi.

Bounds has devoted his 25-year career to helping change students' lives in the same way education opened doors in his own life. He began as a high school teacher, then rose to principal, superintendent and state superintendent before becoming Mississippi's commissioner of higher education in 2009. In that role, he oversaw a complex system of eight public universities including research universities, regional universities, an academic health science center, historically black institutions, a law center, a school of veterinary medicine and 200 institutes and centers. Together the system enrolled 85,000 students, employed 26,000 faculty and staff, and operated with a combined annual budget of $4.5 billion, including $500 million in research and development.

During every year of Bounds' tenure as commissioner, student enrollment and degrees awarded by the institutions in the Mississippi system increased, by a total of 13.3 percent and 11.4 percent, respectively. He advocated with legislative leadership for improved faculty compensation and providing greater opportunities for students. He also provided oversight for private fundraising in excess of $250 million per year.

Bounds worked with the Board of Trustees to implement a performance-based allocation model that distributed funds equitably and rewarded universities for operating efficiently and achieving attainment outcomes. He designed an efficiencies plan that saved more than $90 million, an internal audit function, and a comprehensive diversity initiative that led to increased diversity among Mississippi faculty, staff and students.

Bounds also worked with partners to increase educational attainment in Mississippi, including a Center for Education Innovation focused on improving learning opportunities for disadvantaged children. Bounds created an office to foster relationships among university researchers, business and industry, and economic developers. He was tapped by the business community to chair a major statewide initiative to create an action plan to improve Mississippi's competitive position.

Bounds brings this experience to the University of Nebraska, which he believes can serve as a catalyst for change and growth in the lives of students and people in the state and around the world. He is working to make the University of Nebraska a giant in higher education—for the benefit of the state, the country and the world.

Bounds holds faculty appointments in the College of Education and Human Sciences at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln and in the Colleges of Education at the University of Nebraska at Omaha and the University of Nebraska at Kearney. He and his wife, Susie, are the parents of a son, Will, and a daughter, Caroline. They reside in Lincoln, Neb.

The Board of Regents consists of eight voting members elected by district for six-year terms, and four non-voting student Regents, one from each campus, who serve during their tenure as student body president. The board supervises the general operations of the university, and the control and direction of all expenditures. The board also includes a corporation secretary who manages all records including agendas, minutes, notices, policies and bylaws. Those documents can be found on the web at nebraska.edu/

The board meets regularly, primarily in Lincoln but also in Omaha and greater Nebraska. Persons wishing to provide information to the board or to appear before it should contact: Corporation Secretary, University of Nebraska, Varner Hall, 3835 Holdrege, Lincoln, NE 68583.

who graduates and has exhausted his or her eligibility has an opportunity to pursue either an internship, study abroad or graduate school program valued at $7,500. Nebraska was also one of the first institutions to create a spring service abroad trip, taking a team of student-athletes and staff to Guatemala in 2015 and to the Dominican Republic in 2016.

Eichorst is in high demand and has made more than 500 public appearances around the state and country and his monthly radio show and "Connecting on Campus" online column provide opportunities to connect and share the incredible activities, initiatives and accomplishments happening at the greater University and in the department. As a member of the Chancellor's Senior Administrative Team, Eichorst maintains a strong connection and collaboration between the University and athletics.

A highly respected national leader, Eichorst was appointed in 2015 to the Division I Football Oversight Committee. Most recently, Eichorst was named co-chair of the NCAA Division I Football Recruiting ad hoc working group. He also serves on the Big Ten Conference Program and Budget Review Committee. Eichorst was the first Director of Athletics from any conference to visit the Big Ten Conference-based Academic Alliance (formerly known as the Committee on Institutional Cooperation) at its Champaign, Ill., headquarters. The Big Ten Academic Alliance is a highly successful academic-based consortium of 15 schools, including all 14 in the Big Ten Conference. Nebraska is leading the Big Ten and the Big Ten Academic Alliance in several areas, including Digital Humanities and head injury research.

Under Eichorst, Nebraska extended its nation-leading total of CoSIDA Academic All-Americans to 325 and its nation-leading total of NCAA Top Ten Award winners to 17. More than 700 awards were presented at the 26th Annual Student-Athlete Awards Show—A Night at the Lied. In 2015-16, 109 student-athletes earned undergraduate or graduate degrees and the Big Ten Conference honored 209 Husker student-athletes with Academic All-Big Ten awards. For the first time in school history, all Nebraska teams had an NCAA Academic Progress Rate (APR) of 960 or higher and the overall Graduation Success Rate (GSR) of 86 percent is the highest in program history. In addition, seven Husker teams (women's basketball, golf, gymnastics, softball, tennis and volleyball and men's tennis) had a GSR of 100 percent as reported in the fall of 2015.

During Eichorst's tenure, Nebraska has won three NCAA team Championships, increasing its total to 27. In 2012-13 and in 2014-15, the Nebraska women's bowling team earned the program's fourth and fifth NCAA titles, while the Husker volleyball team won the 2015 NCAA Championship, the program's fourth national title.

In 2016, the Husker men's track and field team swept the Big Ten Indoor and Outdoor Championships and 14 Nebraska teams competed in NCAA postseason action, including bowling, football, volleyball, women's swimming and diving, wrestling, softball, baseball, men's and women's gymnastics, rifle, and men's and women's indoor and outdoor track and field. In 2015-16, Nebraska produced 41 All-Americans who won 49 national awards, including 21 first-team honorees.

In 2013-14, Nebraska became one of only two NCAA institutions – and the first Big Ten program in history – to qualify for a football bowl game, and advance to NCAA postseason in the major team sports of volleyball, soccer, men's and women's basketball, baseball and softball. Additionally, Nebraska was the only institution to win a postseason game in six of those seven sports.

Nebraska's fan support continues to be unparalleled in college athletics. In 2015-16, top 15 national rankings for average attendance were reached across 10 sports—football, volleyball, men's and women's basketball, wrestling, soccer, softball, baseball and men's and women's gymnastics. Nebraska is the only school in the country to rank among the top 15 nationally in both football and men's basketball attendance and in volleyball and women's basketball. A tribute to loyal Husker fans, two sports lead the nation with consecutive home sellout streaks. Football has 347 consecutive sellouts and volleyball has 204 consecutive regular-season sellouts.

Under Eichorst's leadership, Nebraska continues to focus on improving its facilities and the gameday experience at all athletic venues. In August of 2015, Hibner Stadium and Barbara Hibner Field for soccer and the Sid and Hazel Dillon Tennis Center were completed. A new center-hung video board and sound system was installed in the Devaney Center in 2015 to improve the game-day experience for volleyball, wrestling and men's and women's gymnastics. In 2014, the largest wireless network system at a college football stadium in history was installed in Memorial Stadium, along with a state-of-the-art sound system. In the summer of 2013, Memorial Stadium expansion added the innovative NAPL inside East Stadium next to the Center for Brain, Biology and Behavior (CB3). That same year, Nebraska's men's and women's basketball teams became the primary tenants at Pinnacle Bank Arena, and the renovated Devaney Center became the home for Husker volleyball, wrestling and the men's and women's gymnastics programs.

Eichorst came to Nebraska after serving as Director of Athletics at Miami in 2011 and 2012. He hired legendary men's basketball coach Jim Larrañaga, who led Miami to the NIT Second Round in his first season and ACC regular-season and tournament titles as well and the NCAA Sweet 16 in his second. The women's basketball program posted its highest national ranking in school history (No. 5) and advanced to the Second Round of the NCAA Tournament. The Miami women's tennis team advanced to the NCAA Elite Eight for the fourth straight season, and the baseball team made its 40th consecutive NCAA appearance. The Hurricane women's soccer team posted its first NCAA Tournament win in school history, and the volleyball team made its third straight NCAA Tournament trip.

Before heading to Miami, Eichorst was the Deputy Athletics Director at Wisconsin. He was the Chief Operating Officer and oversaw the department's daily operations, as well as the men's basketball program under the direction of Director of Athletics and former Husker Barry Alvarez.

From 2004 to 2006, Eichorst served as the Senior Associate Athletics Director for Administration at South Carolina, overseeing the department's daily operations, as well as the football and baseball programs under legendary coaches Lou Holtz, Steve Spurrier and Ray Tanner, respectively.

From 1999 to 2003, Eichorst served as the Director of Athletics at Wisconsin-Whitewater, which produced four top 10-percent finishes in the NACDA Directors Cup, one NCAA team title and two NCAA runner-up finishes. The program also featured 11 CoSIDA Academic All-America selections.

A native of Lone Rock, Wis., Eichorst was an all-conference defensive back, three-time letterwinner and 1990 football team captain for the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater. He graduated magna cum laude in business from UW-Whitewater in 1990 and in 2015 was awarded the Distinguished Alumni Award for Professional Achievement. He earned a law degree from Marquette Law School in 1995, practiced law in Milwaukee until 1999 and is a past member of the State Bar of Wisconsin Board of Governors. He served as an assistant adjunct professor of law at Marquette, where he taught classes in sports law. He serves on the Marquette University National Sports Law Institute Board of Advisors and in 2006, Marquette awarded Eichorst the Sports Law Alumnus of the Year Award. He is also a graduate of the Sports Management Institute and serves on its Executive Committee.

Shawn and his wife Kristin have three sons: Jack, Joseph and Bennett.

DEPARTMENT OF ATHLETICS ADMINISTRATION

MARC BOEHM

EXECUTIVE ASSOCIATE ATHLETIC DIRECTOR 12th YEAR

KANSAS STATE 1984

Boehm also oversees the Nebraska men's and women's basketball programs. Boehm serves as the liaison to Pinnacle Bank Arena, the NU Foundation and the Nebraska Alumni Association

Boehm, who previously oversaw the efforts of the facilities, marketing, media relations and HuskerVision areas within the athletic department, played a primary role in negotiations for Nebraska's contract extension with IMG College Sports. To date, it is the largest multi-media rights contract in college athletics.

As the primary administrator for the NU basketball programs, Boehm played an integral role in the hiring of Tim Miles as the Huskers' head coach in March of 2012. In 2013-14, Miles earned the Jim Phelan Award as the national coach of the year, after capturing Big Ten Coach-of-the-Year honors from his peers earlier in the season.

Boehm also played a lead role during the men's and women's basketball programs move into Pinnacle Bank Arena in 2013-14. He also worked to help develop Nebraska's new practice facility - the Hendricks Training Complex - which opened in October of 2011.

Boehm has worked to create a fan-friendly atmosphere at men's and women's basketball, leading to record-setting attendance and season ticket sales for both programs.

In 2013-14, the men's basketball program sold out its season tickets for the entire season in May of 2013 in anticipation of the first season at Pinnacle Bank Arena and Coach Miles' second Husker team. The more than 15,000 Husker fans that packed the new arena watched the Big Red roll to a 15-1 home record on their way to the 2014 NCAA Tournament. It was the fifth postseason trip for the men's basketball program since Boehm's arrival.

NU ranked 13th nationally in average home attendance (15,419) on its way to a top-four regular-season finish with an 11-7 record in the powerful Big Ten Conference while going 19-13 overall, and the Huskers are one of only eight NCAA programs to average 15,000 fans per game in each of the last three seasons.

UPANTIMENT OF ATTILETION ADMINISTRATION Under Poolem's supervision, the Nebrocks we man's backethall program has enjayed to Under Boehm's supervision, the Nebraska women's basketball program has enjoyed the most successful stretch in school history.

The Husker women have earned six NCAA Tournament bids, including a pair of NCAA Sweet 16 appearances in 2010 and 2013 and two more trips to the NCAA second round. The Huskers have produced the four highest single-season win totals in NU history over the past six years. The Big Red have also finished the season ranked in the top 25 in four of the past six seasons - the first four top-25 final national rankings in school history.

Boehm also played a lead role in bringing NCAA Tournament basketball back to Lincoln for the first time since 1993, as the Husker women played host to the NCAA Lincoln Regional. Eventual national champion Connecticut, Texas A&M, DePaul and BYU battled it out for a spot in the 2014 NCAA Women's Final Four. The two sessions attracted well over 17,000 fans as one of the most successful sites in the tournament.

Nebraska has ranked among the top 12 teams nationally in women's basketball home attendance in each of its first three seasons in Pinnacle Bank Arena.

Boehm, who played a significant role in aiding Nebraska's functional transition to the Big Ten Conference in 2011-12, was also instrumental in conceptualizing and developing the Husker Nation Pavilion, which is the premier pregame event around home football games.

Boehm also took the lead role in obtaining First National Bank and Ameritas as premier sponsors for the Nebraska Athletic Department for a combined deal worth more than $7 million over a three-year period. First National Bank and Ameritas joined Verizon, Pepsi and adidas as premier corporate sponsors for Husker athletics.

Boehm held the same position at Pittsburgh from 1997 to 2003. Boehm assisted in the rise of the Panthers' basketball program with the men's team posting back-to-back Sweet 16 appearances in the NCAA Tournament. During construction of the Panthers' new athletic facilities, Boehm played a central role in Pitt's athletic teams moving to the UPMC Sports Performance Complex, Heinz Field and the Petersen Events Center.

Boehm served as interim athletic director at Pittsburgh for nearly five months before coming to Nebraska. During that time, he hired men's basketball head coach Jamie Dixon.

Boehm also spent five years as associate executive director of the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl. He directed and managed a 125-member fund-raising committee of Arizona business people responsible for generating more than $4.5 million in cash and in-kind partnerships. Previously he spent four years as associate executive director and public relations director of the Sun Bowl from 1987 to 1991.

Born in Grand Island, Boehm earned his bachelor's degree in communications from Kansas State in 1984 and added a master's degree in sports management from St. Thomas (Fla.) University in 1985. Boehm and his wife, the former Janelle Broderick of Minot, N.D., have three boys, Broderick, Christian and Lukas John.

THE BIG TEN CONFERENCE

Known as one of intercollegiate sports' most successful undertakings, the Big Ten is home to a lineage of legendary names and an ongoing tradition of developing strong leaders. Even in its infancy, the conference established itself as the preeminent collection of institutions in the nation, where the pursuit of academic excellence prevailed as the definitive goal.

The history of the Big Ten traces back more than 120 years to the Palmer House hotel in Chicago, where on January 11, 1895, then-Purdue president James H. Smart and leaders from the University of Chicago, University of Illinois, University of Michigan, University of Minnesota, Northwestern University and University of Wisconsin set out to organize and develop principles for the regulation of intercollegiate athletics.

At that meeting, a blueprint for the administration of college athletics under the direction of appointed faculty representatives was outlined. The presidents' first known action "restricted eligibility for athletics to bonafide, full-time students who were not delinquent in their studies." That important legislation, along with other legislation that would follow in the coming years, served as the primary building block for intercollegiate athletics.

On February 8, 1896, one faculty member from each of those seven universities met at the same Palmer House and officially established the mechanics of the conference, which was officially incorporated as the "Intercollegiate Conference Athletic Association" in 1905.

Indiana University and the State University of Iowa became the eighth and ninth members in 1899. In 1908, Michigan briefly withdrew its membership, and in 1912 Ohio State University joined the conference, bringing its membership total back to nine. Upon Michigan's return in 1917, the conference was first referred to as the "Big Ten" by media members, and that name was eventually incorporated in 1987.

As the 1900s opened, faculty representatives established rules for intercollegiate athletics that were novel for the time. As early as 1904, the faculty approved legislation that required eligible athletes to meet entrance requirements and to have completed a full year's work, along with having one year of residence.

In 1901, the first Big Ten Championship event was staged when the outdoor track and field championships were held at the University of Chicago. The debut event marked what is now a staple of conference competition. Today, the Big Ten sponsors 28 official sports, 14 for men and 14 for women, including the addition of men's ice hockey and men's and women's lacrosse over the last three years. Big Ten schools compete in a total of 42 different sports, furthering the conference's commitment to broad-based programming and providing more participation opportunities than any conference in the country.

One of the conference's proudest traditions began in 1902 when Michigan took on Stanford in the Rose Bowl, the nation's first bowl game. Big Ten teams only appeared in Pasadena twice before the conference signed an exclusive contract with the Tournament of Roses in 1946, making it the first bowl game with permanent conference affiliations. But Michigan's appearance in 1902 cultivated a relationship that has endured for more than a century. In January 2014, Michigan State defeated Stanford in the 100th Rose Bowl Game.

Coupling the academic goals set forth by the leaders of the charter members of the conference and their steadfast commitment to athletics, the conference instituted the Big Ten Medal of Honor in 1915. It is awarded annually by each conference institution to a student of the graduating class who has attained the greatest proficiency in scholarship and athletics. It is the most prestigious honor a student competing in Big Ten athletics can receive.

In 1922, Major John L. Griffith became the conference's first "Commissioner of Athletics." Griffith was the first of five men to assume the role of commissioner in the conference's history, followed by Kenneth L. "Tug" Wilson in 1945, Bill Reed in 1961, Wayne Duke in 1971 and current commissioner James E. Delany in 1989.

After nearly 30 years with 10 members, the conference consolidated to nine schools when the University of Chicago formally withdrew its membership in 1946. Michigan State College (now Michigan State University) was added to the Big Ten three years later, bringing the number of affiliated conference schools to 10 once again.

In 1955, the Big Ten formulated a revenue-sharing model designed to pool all football television rights of its members and share those proceeds equally. The conference and its members continue to utilize a revenue-sharing model, dividing media rights, bowl payouts and other profits among all conference institutions.

While academics have always played an integral role in the conference, presidents of the Big Ten member institutions formalized the primacy of academics with the establishment of the Big Ten Academic Alliance (formerly the Committee on Institutional Cooperation) in 1958. The Big Ten Academic Alliance is an academic consortium of all Big Ten universities. In 2014, the schools currently constituting the Big Ten Academic Alliance produced over $10 billion in funded research, $5 billion more than any other conference.

In one of Duke's first actions as commissioner, he oversaw the adoption of the Big Ten Advisory Commission in 1972, designed to study conference programs and make suggestions which would further Big Ten objectives. The Advisory Commission enlists former students that competed in Big Ten athletics to serve as liaisons to the NCAA's Diversity and Inclusion Department, the Big Ten Student-Athlete Advisory Commission and other organizations.

In 1981, the conference presidents and chancellors endorsed a proposal that enabled universities to affiliate their women's intercollegiate programs with the conference, and the first conference championships for women were staged that fall. The Big Ten was the first conference to voluntarily adopt male and female participation goals after launching its Gender Equity Action Plan in 1992.

In December of 1989, the conference agreed in principle to invite Pennsylvania State University for membership. On June 4, 1990, the Council of Presidents officially voted to integrate Penn State into the conference, giving the Big Ten 11 members.

In 2004, the Big Ten implemented a pilot program of instant replay for college football. Following the season, the conference forwarded replay proposals to the NCAA regarding the future use of instant replay, where it approved country-wide testing in 2005. In 2006, the NCAA approved the use of instant replay for all conferences.

In 2006, Delany announced the creation of the first conference-owned television network, a 20-year agreement with FOX Networks to create what would become the Big Ten Network (BTN). Launched on Aug. 30, 2007, BTN now produces more than 1,000 events across all platforms each year. BTN is in more than 60 million homes in the U.S. and Canada via the nation's major cable, satellite and telco providers and more than 300 additional cable operators across the country. BTN2Go is the digital extension of BTN, delivering live and ondemand programming to computers, smartphones and tablets and also is accessible outside the U.S., Canada and the Caribbean via BTN2Go International.

On June 11, 2010, the Big Ten Council of Presidents/Chancellors (COP/C) approved a formal membership application by the University of Nebraska, expanding the conference to 12 institutions. Nebraska officially joined the Big Ten on July 1, 2011.

The conference expanded its footprint further in 2012 when the COP/C approved formal membership applications from the University of Maryland and Rutgers University on November 19 and 20, respectively. Maryland and Rutgers became official Big Ten members on July 1, 2014, giving the conference almost 9,500 students participating in intercollegiate athletics and more than 11,000 participation opportunities on 350 teams.

Since opening in the fall of 2013, the Big Ten conference center has hosted more than 300 meetings annually for member institutions, Big Ten Academic Alliance (formerly CIC) related committees and coaches groups. The headquarters also features an interactive digital museum - the Big Ten Experience – which opened to the public on June 7, 2014, and brings the conference's storied academic and athletic history to life. For more information on the Big Ten Experience, go to bigten.org.

In June 2014, the Big Ten opened a second office in New York City, featuring both office and meeting space in Midtown Manhattan. Big Ten staff members are based in the New York City office to provide expanded coverage and service, while other conference and institutional administrators utilize the space as necessary when conducting business on the East Coast. The Big Ten and its member institutions also have access to satellite office space in Washington, D.C.

Delany and his staff work to meet the educational needs of students competing in intercollegiate athletics to allow them to excel in all areas of their lives. The conference office manages 28 different championships and tournaments, offers legislative and compliance services, oversees the production and distribution of more than 1,400 events annually, provides staff services to coaching and administrative personnel and services media and fans interest for information on the Big Ten.

More than 120 years after its inception, the Big Ten remains a national leader in intercollegiate athletics on and off the field. Big Ten programs have combined to win more than 450 team and 1,800 individual national championships, consistently taking home individual honors for athletic and academic accomplishments and fulfilling the Big Ten's mission of academic achievement and athletic success.

2016-17 NEBRASKA BASKETBALL 2015-16 SEASON REVIEW

Shavon Shields became the first Husker men's basketball player to be named UNL Student-Athlete of the Year at the 2016 Night at the Lied Ceremony.

2015-16 BY THE NUMBERS

- 2.44 Assist-to-turnover ratio for true freshman Glynn Watson Jr., which was the best by any Husker guard since the 2006-07 season.
- 3-Straight wins by Nebraska over Michigan State, including a win over the No. 11 Spartans in East Lansing on Jan. 20, 2016. The win over the Spartans snapped a 10-game losing streak to ranked opponents.
- 3.72 -GPA for two-time first-team Academic All-American Shavon Shields. Shields became just the sixth player in Big Ten history to be a multiple time first-team Academic All-American.
- 5-Nebraska now has five double-digit comebacks under Tim Miles, as the Huskers rallied from an 11-point deficit against Rhode Island on Dec. 13.
- 6 The 2015-16 season marked the sixth time in school history where Nebraska had two players average over 16 points per game.
- 6.2 -Points per game increase by Tai Webster, who raised his scoring average from 3.9 points per game to 10.1 in 2015-16. Webster was in double figures 16 times as a junior.
- 7 Number of games decided by five points or less, as Nebraska went just 2-5 in those contests. The Huskers were 15-9 in games by five points or less in Miles' first three seasons.
- 7.4 -Nebraska led the Big Ten in steals per game at 7.4 in 2015-16. The Huskers also led in steals per game in Big Ten games at 6.9 per game.
- 10 Number of games Nebraska played against ranked teams in 2015-16, matching a school record set most recently in 2012-13.
- 11 Nebraska ranked 11th nationally in attendance, averaging 15,430 fans per game at Pinnacle Bank Arena. The Huskers were one of seven Big Ten teams ranked in the top-20 in attendance.
- 11.7 -Nebraska increased its scoring offense by 11.7 points per game in 2015-16, the largest increase in school history and the largest in the Big Ten this season.
- 16.6 -Scoring per game for Andrew White III, the second-highest scoring average by a Husker newcomer.
- 38 -Percent of Nebraska's minutes by true freshmen in 2015-16. NU's freshman class also accounted for 32 percent of NU's total offense, including 35 percent in Big Ten play.
- 72.2 -Points per game by the Huskers in 2015-16, the highest scoring average by the Huskers since the 1996-97 season.
- 1920 Nebraska's 34-point win at Rutgers on Jan. 9, was the largest road win in conference play and largest in a road game since 1920.
- 1994 -The last time NU had a player make the conference all-tournament team before Shavon Shields ended that streak in 2016.

Seniors Shavon Shields and Benny Parker helped a Husker roster with eight newcomers in 2015-16.

With one of the country's youngest teams, the Nebraska men's basketball team experienced growing pains, but closed the season by playing some of its best basketball of the year. Nebraska, which had seven freshmen, including four playing critical roles, finished with a 16-18 record after winning two games at the conference tournament for the first time since 2006.

The strong finish was highlighed by a 70-58 win over Wisconsin in the second round of the Big Ten Tournament. The Huskers were without Shavon Shields for the first meeting in February, but his 20-point, 11-rebound effort keyed Nebraska's win over a Badger team which eventually reached the Sweet 16.

Nebraska Coach Tim Miles thought the win over the Badgers was an important stepping stone for his young team in finding a way to fight through to advance in the postseason.

"I literally -- and I'm not trying to glamorize March basketball, but I was so proud of these guys," Miles said. "I looked at the clock with 35 seconds and got chills. I could feel goosebumps on my legs, because I was just so happy for these guys. I saw just extreme joy, you know, tough-minded group playing together, finding a way, you know, beating a ranked opponent. And I was just so happy for them. And that's, you know, kind of the essence of what we're supposed to do. So whatever that describes, that's what it was."

The Huskers battled throughout the season, posting a win at No. 11 Michigan State, but also suffered their share of heartbreak. NU lost five games by five points or less, including losses to nationally ranked Miami, Cincinnati and Maryland. Half of the losses were to nationally ranked foes, as the Huskers' 10 games against ranked teams tied a school record.

With only five players who had seen action as a Husker entering the season, much of the burden was placed on Shields and fellow senior captain Benny Parker. Shields earned second-team All-Big Ten honors, averaging 16.8 points and 5.1 rebounds per game. Shields paced the Huskers in scoring and assists (2.7) while ranking second in rebounding and steals per game. Parker, who played in all 130 games of his career, established career bests in scoring, rebounding and assists, while providing defense and toughness for a young team.

The emergence of juniors Andrew White III and Tai Webster was a revelation to Husker fans. White became one of the Big Ten's top scorers, averaging 16.6 points per game in his first season at NU while pacing the Huskers with 5.9 rebounds per game. White had nine 20-point efforts on the year, capped by a 25-point effort against No. 18 Maryland in the Big Ten Tournament.

Webster may have been the Big Ten's most improved player, as he raised his scoring average from 3.9 points to 10.1 points per game while averaging 4.1 rebounds per game. The Big Ten Tournament provided a stage for Webster's development, as the 6-foot-4 guard averaged 14.7 points, 4.7 rebounds and 2.3 steals per game in Indianapolis. Webster seemed to play best against NU's toughest foes, averaging 12.9 points and 4.7 boards in 10 games against ranked foes.

The Huskers' freshman class learned valuable lessons, as the class provided nearly 40 percent of the team's minutes in 2015-16. Career Recap

2015-16 REVIEW

One of the toughest defenders in school history, Benny Parker played a valuable role in the Huskers' success during his four-year career.

The 5-foot-9 guard finished his career ranking second in school history in games played (130) and ninth in steals (137), including 40 multi-steal games in his career. He played in all 130 games at NU, setting a school record for most consecutive games in a career. Parker also finished with a 1.68-to-1 assist-to-turnover ratio during his career.

As a senior, Parker enjoyed his best campaign, setting personal bests in points (4.8), rebounds (2.3) and assists (2.2) while averaging 1.1 steals per game. He keyed the Huskers' win over Wisconsin with 12 points, three steals and four rebounds, while limiting Bronson Koenig to just 3-of-12 shooting. The performance against Wisconsin was one of four double-figure performances for Parker in 2015-16 after having just one in his first three seasons. His signature performance came against Northwestern, a game where he tied or set career bests with 17 points, including five 3-pointers, and seven assists along with a team-high five rebounds against the Wildcats. Parker showed his sense of the dramatic in the come-from-behind win over Rhode Island with his go-ahead 3-pointer with 1:14 left gave NU a 67-65 lead.

Parker was one of four Huskers to appear in all 31 games in 2014-15, as he averaged 4.2 points, 2.2 rebounds, 1.7 assists and 1.5 steals per contest. He started 25 of 31 games and topped the Huskers in steals and ranked third in assists, while posting a team-best 1.46-to-1 assist-to-turnover ratio. His steals per game ranked eighth in the Big Ten. More impressively, Parker was one of only 12 players in Division I to average at least 1.40 steals per game while committing less than 1.20 turnovers per game. Parker had one turnover or less in 22 of 31 games, including each of the Huskers' final eight contests. He had 16 multi-steal games and was chosen by his teammates as the team's defensive MVP in 2014-15.

Parker emerged as a vital member of the Huskers' rotation at the point guard spot as Nebraska reached the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1998. He averaged 2.4 points per game and had a better than 2-to-1 assist-toturnover ratio, Parker provided intangibles and toughness in his perimeter defensive efforts. He led NU with 30 steals despite playing less than 15 minutes per game and was chosen by his teammates as the Huskers' defensive MVP.

He became more of a scoring threat down the stretch, averaging 3.8 points per game on 58 percent shooting from the field over NU's final 14 games, a stretch where the Huskers went 10-4. He also increased both his rebounding and assist totals and averaged 1.5 steals per game in that

Parker was one of two freshmen who played a significant role for the Huskers in 2012-13, appearing in all 33 games and averaging 2.7 points, 2.1 assists and 1.3 rebounds per game. His 69 assists ranked second on the team and was seventh on NU's single-season freshman list. Parker also topped the Big Red with a 1.6-to-1 assist-to-turnover ratio and committed one turnover or less in 20 of his 33 games. The Kansas City, Kan., native did not commit a turnover in his final 81 minutes of action and led the Huskers in assists 11 times during his freshman campaign.

Parker graduated from Nebraska in August of 2016.

His best performance of the year came at No. 11 Michigan State when he had 28 points in the win over the Spartans. Shields had started 106 straight games before suffering a concussion against Rutgers on Feb. 6 and missing four games. He returned to the lineup and was at his best, averaging 21.2 points per game and 5.5 rebounds per game in his final six contests.

Shields excelled on the court and in the classroom during his junior season. Shields reached double figures in 26 contests, including nine games of at least 20 points, and closed his junior campaign with his second double-double of the season (20 points, 10 rebounds) against Penn State in the Big Ten Tournament. Off the court, he was a first-team Academic All-American, becoming the first-ever Husker to earn that prestigious honor. He scored a career-high 35 points in a win Over Omaha, going 12-of-16 from the field, including 4-of-4 from 3-point range.

Shields was one of the Huskers' leaders as a sophomore, helping Nebraska make its first NCAA Tournament appearance since 1998. He earned honorable-mention All-Big Ten honors from the conference coaches and media, averaging 12.8 points and a team-high 5.8 rebounds per game. A two-time Big Ten Player of the Week, Shields reached double figures 21 times, highlighted by a season-high 33 points against Illinois. Opened on Aug. 29, 2013, Pinnacle Bank Arena is the home of the Nebraska men's and women's basketball programs. Located in the Haymarket District in downtown Lincoln, Pinnacle Bank Arena has a basketball capacity of 15,000 and is quickly becoming one of the premier concert destinations in the Midwest. Since its opening, it has hosted concerts ranging from Jay-Z, Paul McCartney, Jason Aldean, Katy Perry, The Eagles and Michael Bublé.

Pinnacle Bank Arena opened to rave reviews during its first year of operation. It was a nominee for best New Major Concert Venue by Pollstar Magazine, one of five facilities in the world chosen for the honor. In April of 2014, the facility was chosen as the Best Arena in College Basketball by Athletic Business, a magazine source for athletic, fitness and recreation professionals.

The 470,400-square feet arena was created with basketball in mind. The facility features a split upper concourse, allowing fans to be closer to the floor than in a typical arena. Pinnacle Bank Arena also features expansive premium seating with 36 suites, 20 loge boxes and over 800 club seats in addition to courtside seating. Other arena amenities include free wi-fi, a Panasonic video board which is 16 1/2 feet tall and 22 feet wide, as well as an upper video board which is six feet tall and 22 feet wide, and retractable seating to allow an intimate environment on game days as well as over 160 concession points of sale. The arena also features an expansive student section with 1,000 seats on the 100 Level, including behind both team henches.

The $179-million dollar arena is easily accessible in downtown Lincoln as nearly 5,100 parking stalls are within walking distance of the facility, including three new parking garages and the Festival Space to the north of Pinnacle Bank Arena. Pinnacle Bank Arena is part of a $344 million project in the Haymarket District in downtown Lincoln which also includes a 200-room hotel, 100,000 square feet of retail space, another 100,000 square feet of office space and 100 residential units.

Mikki Moore led Nebraska to the 1996 NIT championship game, where the Huskers defeated St. Joseph's, 60-56, to earn their first-ever basketball title on the national level.

Cookie Belcher shares the school record with six steals in a postseason game. He accomplished the feat on three occasions as a Husker.

HISTORY OF NEBRASKA BASKETBALL

By Mike Babcock

As near as anyone can determine, the University of Nebraska was first represented by a men's basketball team on Feb. 2, 1897, just six years after Dr. James A. Naismith set down the rules of the game at the International YMCA Training School in Springfield, Mass.

A team from the Lincoln YMCA was the opponent, and Nebraska posted an 11-8 victory at Grant Memorial Hall, the home of the Huskers for all but two seasons until the Coliseum opened in 1926. The same teams played in Grant Hall three weeks later with a similar result, as NU won 23-14. Nebraska had to rally in the second game. The Hesperian, a student newspaper, reported: "At the end of the first half the score stood 9 to 6 in favor of the visitors but during the second half our boys took a brace and some excellent work was done."

Such was the modest beginning of a program that has enjoyed its greatest success since 1980. In that span, NU has earned a 504-379 record and 18 postseason appearances, including six NCAA Tournaments, while adding a Phillips 66 Big Eight Tournament title in 1994 and the 1996 National Invitation Tournament championship.

Nebraska doubled its schedule in 1898, losing twice to the Lincoln YMCA and splitting two games with the Omaha YMCA. A 16-12 loss against the Omaha YMCA provided evidence as to why Nebraska finished 1-3 that season. According to The Hesperian account: "The great difficulty of the University team was mere recklessness. Our boys have been playing with a loose interpretation of the rules. The officials were strict and of course the resulting advantage was in favor of Omaha." Then as now, overly aggressive play had its drawbacks.

Nebraska played teams from other universities for the first time in 1899, winning two games against Nebraska Wesleyan and one against Doane en route to the unofficial state championship. The next season, Nebraska played an out-of-state opponent for the first time, defeating the University of Kansas, 48-8, at Lincoln. That game still ranks as the worst loss for a Jayhawk team and was the first for either school against a present-day NCAA Division I school and the first matching present-day Big 12 Conference institutions.

The Kansas team was coached by Dr. Naismith. The Nebraska student yearbook, Sombrero, wrote: "A closely contested game was looked for. The Jayhawkers were, however, completely outclassed, the score being 48-8." Based on the victory against Kansas and four other similarly decisive victories, "the basketball team for this year was undoubtedly superior to any in the west," the Sombrero concluded. It would be several years before such a claim could be made again.

Nebraska hired its first full-time coach in 1911. E.O. "Jumbo" Stiehm, who scored 24 points against Nebraska as a Wisconsin basketball player in 1908, coached both football and basketball. His first Husker basketball team won 14 of 15 games, its only loss coming Bus Whitehead was a two-time All-Big Seven selection in 1949 and 1950. The court at the Hendricks Training Complex is named after Whitehead, who passed away in 2010.

at Minnesota, 40-15. The student newspaper, The Daily Nebraskan, blamed the loss on Nebraska's inability to adjust to the Gophers' "100-foot floor."

A Daily Nebraskan account of Nebraska's 29-28 season-ending victory against Kansas at Lincoln in 1912 provides evidence that some fans' behavior hasn't changed much over the years.

"The game as a whole was entirely unsatisfactory, being marred by rough tactics of the visitors, incompetent work on the part of the referee and interruptions by the audience, which were in part justifiable."

Nebraska shared the Missouri Valley Conference championship with Kansas in 1912 and 1914 and won the title outright in 1913 under Stiehm's leadership. The 1913-14 team was "so fast it took a movie camera to catch 'em," according to the Cornhusker student yearbook. It was described as a "point-a-minute" team, which wasn't quite accurate. Typically, games lasted 40 minutes (though that wasn't always the case), and Nebraska averaged 30 points per game. Guard Sam Carrier became Nebraska's first All-America basketball player in 1913. He and Carl Underwood led the Huskers to 17 victories in 19 games. Underwood was the Missouri Valley Conference scoring leader with 66 points in 10 conference games.

Nebraska won another conference title outright in 1916, after Sam Waugh replaced Stiehm as the Cornhuskers' coach for one season. Stiehm, who coached the first game of the season before giving way to Waugh, had planned to remain at Nebraska through the basketball season before leaving to become coach and athletic director at Wisconsin. But the Nebraska Athletic Board decided to replace him.

Waugh was succeeded by E.J. "Doc" Stewart, whose three Cornhusker teams had a combined record of 29-23. Nebraska was 22-2 in 1919-20 and 11-3 in 1920-21 under Coach P.J. Schissler. After the 1919-20 season, Schissler challenged the University of Chicago to a game, but to no avail. The Cornhuskers also were invited to a postseason AAU tournament in Atlanta but didn't go.

Schissler's teams played as independents. Nebraska lost its affiliation with the Missouri Valley Conference because of a decision to play a football game against Oklahoma in Omaha in 1919. Conference rules prohibited such games (Oklahoma had not yet joined the Missouri Valley Conference). Nebraska returned to the Missouri Valley Conference in 1921, and Owen Frank replaced Schissler as basketball coach. The remainder of the Roaring 1920s was, for the most part, undistinguished.

Basketball was rough and tumble. There was a center jump after every basket and no requirement to cross mid-court in 10 seconds or less. The ball was a lot different, too, more like a medicine ball, which contributed to some dull games.

The most significant event during the 1920s was the building of the Coliseum, which was dedicated on Feb. 6, 1926. The Cornhuskers dropped a 25-14 decision to Kansas in the first game at their new home, which was built at a cost of $445,000 and seated 8,000 for basketball. Prior to that, Nebraska played most of its home games in Grant Hall, which seated about a fourth as many fans as the Coliseum and was located just to the north of where the Sheldon Art Gallery now stands.

Athletic Director Fred Leuhring arranged for Nebraska to play its home basketball games at the State Fairgrounds Coliseum in 1921, in order to accommodate more spectators. The Cornhuskers played two seasons at the Fairgrounds Coliseum, which had a wider court than Grant Hall.

The first game there was played on Jan. 14, 1921. Nebraska defeated conference opponent Grinnell 31-10 before an audience of 1,500, according to newspaper estimates. After two seasons, the Cornhuskers returned to Grant Hall, which had been remodeled, and continued to play home games there until the NU Coliseum opened.

Nebraska ended the decade with an 11-5 season under Charles T. Black, a former Kansas All-American in 1928-29. In the next 19 seasons, the Huskers had just two winning records, back-to-back campaigns under Coach W.H. Browne in 1935-36 and 1936-37. The 1937 team tied Kansas for the Big Six championship, after finishing second to the Jayhawks in 1936.

The 1930s produced four more Cornhusker All-Americans: center Don Maclay in 1931, guard Steve Hokuf in 1933, guard George Wahlquist in 1936 and guard Robert Parsons in 1937. Maclay was the Big Six scoring leader in 1930, scoring 112 points in 10 league games.

Harry Good was hired as head coach in 1946 and after two losing seasons, turned Nebraska's fortunes around. In 1948-49, Good's Huskers went 16-10, tied Oklahoma for the Big Seven regular-season championship and defeated the Sooners, 57-56, in a conference playoff to qualify for an NCAA playoff game. The NCAA Tournament was structured differently then, and the Cornhuskers needed to win that playoff to advance into the NCAA field. They lost to Oklahoma A&M, the Missouri Valley Conference champion, 52-35, at Kansas City, Mo. Coach Henry P. Iba's Aggies went on to finish second to Kentucky, coached by Adolph Rupp, in the NCAA Tournament.

In 1949-50, Nebraska again won 16 games and shared the Big Seven crown with Kansas and Kansas State. That marks the last time the conference had a three-way tie at the top. "We were King in our day," Claude Retherford once told a newspaper reporter. "They were firing football coaches left and right, but we packed 'em in. Oh, people were interested in football, but basketball was THE game on the Nebraska campus when we played." Retherford earned All-Big Seven recognition in 1949 after leading the conference in scoring with a 12.4 points-per-game average.

The Cornhuskers had another first-team All-Big Seven performer in 1949, Milton "Bus" Whitehead. The 6-10 center from Scottsbluff, Neb., also earned all-conference honors in 1950, when he averaged a then-school-record 15.7 points per game. Whitehead was named to the District V All-America team by Collier's Magazine. Whitehead also was the first Cornhusker selected to play in the East-West All-Star Game in New York City's Madison Square Garden. When he graduated, Whitehead held nine school scoring records.

Nebraska basketball experienced another drought beginning in 1950-51, with 15 consecutive losing seasons. Despite playing for a team that finished last in the Big Seven in 1952, Husker guard Jim Buchanan earned All-America and all-conference honors. And even though the late Jerry Bush, dubbed the "Big Bear of the Coliseum," never produced a winning team in his nine seasons as head coach at Nebraska, his colorful personality and uncanny ability to fashion upsets kept Cornhusker fans entertained.

The most dramatic upset during Bush's tenure as coach came on Feb. 22, 1958, against Kansas. The Jayhawks featured 7-foot center Wilt Chamberlain and were ranked fourth in the nation when they came to Lincoln. Earlier in the season, the Jayhawks had defeated the Huskers, 102-46, at Lawrence, Kan., with Chamberlain matching Nebraska by scoring 46 points. Nebraska scored a 43-41 victory in the rematch, when 5-9 guard Jim Kubacki hit a 15-foot jump shot with two seconds remaining.

But that's only part of the drama. Kubacki, a senior from Toledo, Ohio, spent all but the final 6:53 of the game sitting on the bench in street clothes, forced there by a knee injury and the kind of fate from which legends are built. When the Cornhuskers' captain, Gary Reimers, left the game with leg cramps, Kubacki convinced Bush to let him suit up. Four minutes and seven seconds later, Kubacki went into the game. Two minutes and 44 seconds after that, he hit the winning shot.

Bush also had the distinction of coaching the school's first 1,000-point scorer, guard Herschell Turner, who came from Indianapolis, Ind., where he was rated the second-best high school player in the state as a senior, behind only crosstown-rival Oscar Robertson. Turner earned All-America honors in 1959 and followed with All-Big Eight honors in 1960 and ended his Cornhusker career with 1,056 points.

Following the 1962-63 season, Bush was replaced as head coach by Joe Cipriano, who brought the nickname "Slippery Joe" and up-tempo basketball to the Coliseum. His teams pressed full-court and ran a fast-break offense, which led the Big Eight in scoring average in 1966, 1967 and 1968.

Cipriano's first two teams had a combined record of 17-33. But his third team, in 1965-66, was one of the most successful in school history, finishing 20-5 and second to Kansas in the Big Eight. All-Big Eight guard Grant Simmons, the first Cornhusker to earn academic All-Big Eight honors, was the team's leader.

The 1966-67 team finished 16-9 and made the school's first appearance in the 16-team National Invitation Tournament, played at New York City's Madison Square Garden. Guard Stu Lantz was a two-time All-Big Eight pick and led the Cornhuskers in scoring and rebounding in both 1966-67 and 1967-68.

Guard Marvin Stewart and center Chuck Jura earned All-Big Eight honors for Cipriano in 1971 and 1972, respectively. Guard Jerry Fort, who finished his career with a then-school-record 1,882 points, was the first Nebraska player chosen first-team all-conference three times, from 1974 through 1976. With Fort's leadership, Nebraska began a string of 14 winning seasons

In the fall of 1976, Cornhusker basketball moved out of the Coliseum and into the state-ofthe-art Bob Devaney Sports Center. Located on the State Fairgrounds, the $13 million athletic complex was financed by a special cigarette tax.

Cipriano coached Nebraska to another 20-victory season in 1977-78. The Cornhuskers, led by All-Big Eight guard Brian Banks, finished with a 22-8 record and advanced to the second round of the NIT. Despite failing health – a battle against cancer that he finally lost – Cipriano shared coaching duties with his assistant, Moe Iba, in 1979-80, and took Nebraska to the NIT again. For their efforts, the duo shared United Press International Big Eight Coach-of-the-Year honors.

Cipriano brought Nebraska into the modern era, coaching 17 seasons and 450 games. His record was 253-197, and those 253 victories represent nearly one-fifth of Nebraska's all-time total. Following Cipriano's death, Iba was named head coach, and he continued Cipriano's winning ways. In Iba's six seasons on the bench, Nebraska was 106-71 and advanced to postseason play four times.

Center Andre Smith was the 1981 Big Eight MVP and twice earned All-Big Eight honors. However, it was the late Jack Moore, a 5-10 playmaker from Muncie, Ind., who captured the hearts of Nebraska fans from 1980 through 1982. Moore earned All-Big Eight honors in 1982, when he won the Naismith Award, given annually to the nation's top player under 6-feet tall. The first three-time academic All-Big Eight pick in Nebraska history, Moore scored 1,204 points and hit .901 from the free throw line during his career.

The cornerstone of Iba's teams from 1983 through 1986 was Omaha, Neb., native Dave Hoppen, a three-time All-Big Eight center and the first Nebraska basketball player to have his jersey number (42) retired by the school. In 1982-83, Hoppen's freshman season, the Cornhuskers were 22-10 and won three games in the NIT before losing to DePaul in the semifinals at Madison Square Garden. The Cornhuskers returned to the NIT each of the next two seasons, advancing to the second round both times.

Andre Smith was the Big Eight Player of the Year for Nebraska in 1981.

HISTORY OF NEBRASKA BASKETBALL

Hoppen's college career, though, was ended by a knee injury he sustained in a game at Colorado on Feb. 1, 1986. He finished as the school's all-time scoring leader with 2,167 points and broke or tied 19 school records during his four-year stay. After Hoppen's injury, lba's team regrouped and went on to earn the school's first-ever "official" NCAA Tournament berth. Nebraska lost to Western Kentucky in the first round of the Southeast Regional, 67-59. Following the game, lba announced his resignation.

On March 27, 1986, Danny Nee was officially introduced as Nebraska's 24th basketball coach. During a news conference to announce his hiring, Nee said a "new era" in Cornhusker basketball was beginning.

Nee's 14 teams appeared in postseason play 11 times and topped the 20-victory mark in seven seasons. In his first season, Nebraska was 21-12 and finished third in the NIT.

After a 13-18 record in his second season, the Cornhuskers got back over the .500 mark with a 17-16 record in 1988-89 and advanced to the second round of the NIT.

Nebraska missed the school single-season record for losses by one in 1989-90 (10-18), then won a school-record 26 games, with only eight losses, in 1990-91. The Cornhuskers reached the Big Eight Tournament championship game for the first time and advanced to the NCAA Tournament, losing to Xavier 89-84 in the first round of the regionals at Minneapolis, Minn.

The 1990-91 team included two first-round NBA draft picks, senior Rich King and redshirt freshman Eric Piatkowski. The 7-2 King was the tallest player in Cornhusker history.

Piatkowski, Nebraska's sixth-man in 1990-91, went on to win first-team all-conference honors twice. He ranks second on the Cornhuskers' career-scoring list with 1,934 points, and he is the only Nebraska player to finish with at least 1,900 points, 600 rebounds (669) and 300 assists (322). In 2006, Piatkowski became the third Husker, joining Hoppen and Stu Lantz (No. 22), to have his jersey number (52) retired.

Three more NCAA Tournament appearances followed the record-shattering 1991 season. In 1992-93, the Huskers registered their highest league finish under Nee by tying for second in the Big Eight.

In addition to reaching the NCAA Tournament for a fourth consecutive season and recording back-to-back 20-victory seasons for the first time in school history, Nee's 1993-94 team made history by winning the school's first Phillips 66 Big Eight Tournament title. The Cornhuskers defeated Oklahoma, Missouri and Oklahoma State, in that order, to earn the tournament championship.

Nebraska's NCAA Tournament run ended at four in 1994-95, but the Huskers kept their postseason streak alive with an NIT berth, advancing to the second round. The 1995-96 team struggled down the stretch but was back in the NIT and capped its season with a run to the tournament title.

The Huskers won two games on the road and scored more than 80 points in four of their five postseason games. They finished with a 60-56 victory against St. Joseph's at Madison Square Garden.

Nebraska won the 1996 NIT title at Madison Square Garden. It was the third time since 1980 that the Huskers reached at least the NIT semifinals.

"The NIT run was incredible when you look at the teams we beat and how we beat them," Nee said after the remarkable run. "I don't care what anybody says, it was domination."

The 1996 NIT championship team was one of the most talented in school history. Two future NBA players, Erick Strickland and 1998 first-round draft pick Tyronn Lue, were in the backcourt. And two other players on the team scored 1,000 career points, Jaron Boone and freshman Venson Hamilton, who would finish his career in 1999 as the school's all-time leading rebounder and shot-blocker.

Lue's contributions as a freshman to the NIT championship team were only a preview of what was to come. The lightning-quick, 6-0 point guard finished his career as the seventh-leading scorer in school history, and he ranked in the top 10 in 12 other career categories. His leadership carried the 1996-97 Cornhusker team, the first to play in the Big 12, to another NIT appearance.

Behind a late-season run, which included Nebraska's longest conference winning streak in 20 years, Nee's 12th team finished fourth in the Big 12 and returned to the NCAA Tournament. The bid was the Cornhuskers' fifth during the 1990s and extended the school-record postseason run to eight.

The streak reached nine in 1999, as the Cornhuskers just missed an NCAA Tournament bid and advanced to the second round of the NIT. In the process, NU reached the 20-victory mark for a second consecutive season, and Hamilton was named Big 12 Player of the Year.

The optimism that preceded the 1999-2000 season, Nee's last, quickly faded with the loss of guard Cookie Belcher, who was sidelined by a wrist injury and forced to take a medical redshirt. The Cornhuskers were off-balance almost from the beginning of the season and fell far short of expectations.

Even though Nee became the winningest coach in school history in 1999-2000, getting victory No. 254 to pass Joe Cipriano in the Cornhuskers' final home game against Colorado, his final team finished with an 11-19 record. The 19 losses tied for the most in school history.

With then-Director of Athletics Bill Byrne setting his sites on bringing NU basketball back to national prominence, he hired Barry Collier as the Cornhuskers' new coach on April 5, 2000. In Collier's first season with the Huskers, Nebraska finished with a 14-16 mark as Belcher returned to the lineup and earned second-team All-Big 12 Conference honors while finishing third in NCAA history for career steals with 353.

In Collier's fourth season, Nebraska ran to an 18-13 record and its first postseason bid in five years. Nebraska won its first two games in the 2004 NIT, including an exhilarating 71-70 road victory over in-state foe Creighton in the opening round. After a home-court victory over Niagara, the Huskers' season came to an end three days later in a valiant effort at Hawaii when NU came back from 17 points down at halftime to tie the game at the first media timeout of the second period before eventually falling by a point.

Nebraska struggled the following season but an influx of young talent helped the Huskers move forward. Freshman 6-11 center Aleks Maric made an immediate impact as he broke the NU freshman rebounds record and ranked in the rookie top 10 for blocked shots. Maric – the first Australian to ever play basketball for the Huskers – was a force in the paint as he tied the school freshman record for double-doubles. It was a sign of good things to come as he finished his four-year career ranked fifth all-time in scoring and was only the second Husker ever to record at least 1,000 career rebounds.

NU made its second postseason appearance in three years in 2006 before finishing with a 19-14 record. It was the most wins under Collier and the first time his Huskers won a game at the Big 12 Championship as NU reached the semifinals of the conference tourney for the first time since winning the Big Eight Tournament title in 1994.

Collier looked to have a solid base in place for 2006-07 before abruptly resigning in early August to take the position of athletic director at his alma mater, Butler University, ending his career at Nebraska with an 89-91 overall record.

The late opening posed little challenge for Nebraska as one week later, on Aug. 8, 2006, Kenneth 'Doc' Sadler was introduced as the 26th head coach in program history. Sadler's forte on the defensive end helped the Huskers to three postseason appearances.

Nebraska finished first in the Big 12 and 18th nationally in scoring defense in 2007-08, allowing just 60.7 points per game. Sadler's specialty was highlighted again in 2008-09 as the Huskers proved it was no fluke, claiming another first-place defense in the league while ranking 22nd nationally by giving up just 60.4 points per contest. It was the second-lowest total in the Husker record book since 1951, giving Sadler-coached squads three of the top four Husker scoring defenses in the past half century. In 2010-11, Nebraska led the Big 12 for the third time in four seasons, allowing just 60.5 points per game and ranking seventh nationally in field goal defense (.389).

The Huskers' 20-13 record in 2007-08 included a 7-9 record in league play, after starting the Big 12 campaign with an 0-4 mark. In 2008-09, Sadler helped Nebraska continue its upward trend with eight league victories, marking NU's first .500 record in conference play in a decade. Nebraska's 2010-11 season was highlighted by wins over three ranked teams, including No. 3 Texas, as the victory over the Longhorns was marked the highest ranked team Nebraska had defeated since 1994.

The 2011-12 season began a new era for Nebraska basketball, as the Huskers joined the Big Ten Conference. That season also marked the opening of the Hendricks Training Complex, an 84,000-foot facility for the Husker basketball program which includes practice courts, locker room, team lounge, offices as well as strength and nutrition areas, giving Nebraska one of the best facilities in the nation.

In March of 2012, Nebraska moved in a different direction as Athletic Director Tom Osborne chose Tim Miles to run the basketball program. Miles guided a short-handed roster to 15 wins in his first season, including the program's first-ever Big Ten Tournament win, and has worked tirelessly to build Nebraska's basketball brand.

The 2013-14 season was a rebirth for the Husker program. Nebraska moved into the $179 million dollar Pinnacle Bank Arena in downtown Lincoln in August of 2014 and presold the entire season six months before the opener. The Huskers flourished in their new home, going 15-1 including a win over ninth-ranked Wisconsin in front of a record crowd of 15,998. The Huskers went 19-13 on the season and earned their first NCAA appearance in 16 years. Terran Petteway earned consensus All-Big Ten honors while Miles was named Big Ten and National Coach of the Year after leading the Huskers to the NCAAs following a 1-5 start in Big Ten play.

Since the opening of Pinnacle Bank Arena, Husker fans have been coming out in record numbers, as the program broke its attendance record for the second straight year in 2014-15. Nebraska averaged 15,569 fans per game to rank 10th nationally. Over the last three seasons, the Huskers are one of only eight programs to average at least 15,000 fans per game.

A crowd of nearly 2,500 were on hand to celebrate with the Huskers on their first NCAA berth since 1998.

2016-17 NEBRASKA BASKETBALL HUSKER AWARD WINNERS

SHIELDS SELECTED AS JACK MOORE AWARD WINNER

Senior forward Shavon Shields was selected by a vote of his teammates as the Jack Moore Award winner, which is annually presented to the team's Most Valuable Player, for the 2015-16 season.

The award is named for late Husker guard Jack Moore, a 5-9 playmaker who set 17 school records in a career that ended in 1982. Moore was presented with the 1982 Francis Pomeroy-Naismith Award as the best collegiate player in the nation under six feet tall. A consensus All-Big Eight performer in 1982, Moore was killed in a plane crash in March of 1984.

Shields earned second-team All-Big Ten honors in 2015-16, averaging 16.8 points, 5.1 rebounds and 2.7 assists per game. He finished the year fifth in the Big Ten in scoring and seventh in steals (1.3 spg) while ranking first or second on the team in scoring, rebounding and assists in 2015-16. He totaled 10 games of at least 20 points, including a season-high 32 points on 11-of-19 shooting against No. 15 Purdue. A four-year starter, Shields finished fifth on NU's career scoring list with 1,630 points and placed in the top-10 in field goals made (562, eighth) and attempted (1236, sixth), free throws made (429, fourth) and attempted (565, fourth) and starts (112, second).

Tai Webster earned the team's Most Improved Player for his strides during the season. The 6-foot-4 guard raised his scoring average from 3.9 points per game to 10.1 points per game while averaging 4.1 rebounds and 1.4 steals per game. Webster reached double figures 16 times, including a season-high 22 points at lowa.

For the third straight year, guard Benny Parker was chosen as the team's top defender. Parker totaled 1.1 steals per game while guarding opponent's top backcourt scorer. Parker finished his career with 137 steals, tying for ninth on NU's career list.

Junior Anton Gill was chosen as the scout team player of the year, as he redshirted after transferring from Louisville and went against the starters in practice. Gill also shared the Husker Power Lifter of the Year award with Parker for their work in the weightroom with strength coach Tim Wilson.

6-11, 235, C, 1983-86, Omaha, Neb. (Benson)

Three-time All-Big Eight center Dave Hoppen finished his career as Nebraska's all-time leading scorer with 2,167 points. Hoppen, whose four-year collegiate career was cut short by a knee injury in a game at Colorado, Feb. 1, 1986, broke or tied 19 Nebraska records and five Big Eight marks during his standout career. A native of Omaha, Neb., Hoppen was the first player in Husker basketball history to have his jersey number (42) retired.

Originally drafted by the NBA's Atlanta Hawks in the third round of the 1986 draft, he played with both Charlotte and Philadelphia, and a stint in the CBA. Hoppen was inducted into the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame in 1996.

The Most Valuable Player in the 1994 Phillips 66 Big Eight Tournament, Piatkowski had a school and tournament-record 42-point outburst in Nebraska's first-round victory over Oklahoma. A two-time, first-team All-Big Eight pick, Piatkowski averaged 21.5 points in his final season as a Husker, and became the first player in school history to score 1,900 points (1,934), grab 600 rebounds (669) and dish out 300 assists (322). A first-round draft pick of the NBA's Indianapolis Pacers, Piatkowski's draft rights were then traded to the Los Angeles Clippers, who he played with for eight seasons. He also played with the Houston Rockets, Chicago Bulls and Phoenix Suns. Piatkowski's jersey No. 52 was retired by the Huskers in 2006, the same year he was inducted into the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame.

NEBRASKA BASKETBALL HALL OF FAME

Tyronn Lue thanks the crowd during the 2013 Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame Ceremony. Lue, a former All-Big 12 performer, is the head coach with the NBA Champion Cleveland Cavaliers.

The Nebraska Men's Basketball Hall of Fame was the brainchild of longtime Husker athletic supporter Jerry Solomon, who first approached the University about the project in the fall of 1988. Solomon, along with Jack Bock, Dale Herman and Dale Jensen, provided financial support for the Hall of Fame. The Hall is now co-sponsored by the Nebraska Athletic Department and the Rebounders Club with inductions held in conjunction with Legends Weekend. The first class was inducted in 1989 with 11 members. Since then, 58 players and five coaches have been inducted into the Hall of Fame, including 10 classes with at least three members.

Tyronn Lue joined this exclusive list in February of 2013. One of the most electrifying players in school history, Lue led the Huskers to 59 wins and postseason appearances in all three of his seasons at Nebraska, including an NCAA Tournament bid in 1997-98. Lue's name is all over the Husker record book, as the 6-foot guard from Mexico, Mo., finished his career in the top 10 in 13 categories and still ranks among Nebraska career leaders in 10 categories, including assists (432, fourth), scoring average (15.9, seventh), steals (154, seventh), points scored (1,577, eighth), 3-pointers (145, eighth), free throw percentage (.788, eighth) and games started (96, 10th).

As a junior in 1997-98, Lue earned first-team All-Big 12 honors, averaging 21.2 points, 4.8 assists and 4.3 rebounds per game, as the Huskers went 20-12 and reached the NCAA Tournament. His 678 points that season ranked second on Nebraska's single-season chart while his 152 assists that season was fifth on NU's single-season list. He had four of his school-record seven career 30-point efforts in 1997-98, including a career-high 36-point performance against Virginia in the Rainbow Classic. He was at his best in leading the Huskers back to the NCAAs after a four-year absence. With the Huskers sitting at 4-6 in the Big 12, Lue carried the Huskers down the stretch, averaging 24.3 points and 4.5 assists per game in leading the Huskers to six consecutive conference wins and a fourth-place finish in the Big 12.

He earned second-team All-Big 12 honors during a record-setting sophomore campaign in leading the Huskers to the NIT. Lue led the Huskers in both scoring (18.8 ppg) and assists (4.3 apg), while ranking sixth in the Big 12 in scoring. Lue became an immediate contributor to the Huskers as a true freshman, starting 34 games on Nebraska's NIT Championship Team, as he averaged 8.5 points per game and set a school freshman mark with 144 assists. A member of the Big Eight All-Freshman team, Lue became the first Husker freshman to score 30 points in a game when he accomplished the feat against Oregon in just his second game as a Husker.

Following his Husker career, he was the No. 23 overall pick of the Denver Nuggets before he was traded to the Los Angeles Lakers shortly after the 1998 NBA Draft. Lue won two NBA titles with the Lakers, as part of an 11-year professional career. He played for seven teams during his NBA career, appearing in 554 career games and averaging 8.5 points and 3.1 assists per game. Following his retirement at the conclusion of the 2008-09 season, Lue joined the Boston Celtics as the organization's Director of Player Development in 2009 and was named an assistant coach in 2011. He is currently the head coach of the Cleveland Cavaliers, leading the organization to its first NBA title in 2016.

A total of 22 people who have played supporting roles in shaping the Nebraska basketball program have also been enshrined by earning the Bud Cuca Special Merit Award. The award was renamed in honor of Cuca in 2003 after he passed away following a battle with cancer.

In 2003, the first Distinguished Hall of Fame Alumni Award was given, honoring a former player and Hall of Fame member who has been a positive force in the state and local community since his playing days ended. The award was named after Bus Whitehead, who passed away in 2010, to recognize his contributions to the Nebraska basketball program.

MEDIA INFORMATION AND POLICIES

The 2016-17 Nebraska media guide is designed to assist the media in its coverage of the Nebraska Cornhusker men's basketball program. Additional information, including releases, photographs and video may be obtained by contacting the Communications Office at (402) 472-2263, or in many cases can be found on Huskers.com.

Please take a moment to review the following policies and services, which are intended to assist media members in their coverage of Nebraska basketball this season.

MEDIA CREDENTIALS

All requests for press, broadcast, photo and parking credentials for Nebraska basketball home games should be directed to Vicki Capazo (vcapazo@huskers.com), One Memorial Stadium, P.O. Box 880123, Lincoln, NE, 68588-0123. Credential requests can also be sent via e-mail to Sr. Associate Communications Director Shamus McKnight (smcknight@huskers.com) at least one week before the game.

As a general rule, working space is allocated on the following basis:

- 1) Writers covering for same or next day publication;
- 2) Radio personnel for broadcast originations;
- 3) Sports editors of Nebraska daily newspapers;
- 4) Official school student daily newspaper, one seat only;
- 5) Approved special coverage as space allows;
- 6) Press and TV working photographers;

Visiting freelance and amateur photographers are not eligible for media credentials, except by approval of the Nebraska Communications Office. Generally, weekly newspaper representatives, Internet news services and non-originating radio representatives cannot be accommodated because of space limitations. Internet writers for sites affiliated with established, nationally recognized media outlets will be considered on a game-by-game basis as space allows. Credentials will not be granted for writers or photographers for Internet sites that are not affiliated with an accredited news organization.

MEDIA WILL CALL/MEDIA PARKING

Media passes that are not mailed may be picked up at the Will-Call window, located near the main ticket office at Pinnacle Bank Arena. The main ticket office is located on the south end of Pinnacle Bank Arena. The will-call window opens 60 minutes before tipoff and photo identification is required for pickup of credentials or tickets.

For the 2016-17 season, media parking is located in Lot 24, which is located on 8th Street between R and S streets. Media should enter the lot from S Street and the media lot is located about two blocks from the main entrance of Pinnacle Bank Arena. Parking is available on a first-come, first-served basis.

COACH MILES INTERVIEW TIME

Coach Miles will hold press availability with the local media prior to each game, either at the Hendricks Training Complex or at Pinnacle Bank Arena. Typically one or two players will be available at that time, depending on class schedules. Additional player interviews can be conducted after practice. All interviews with Coach Miles must be scheduled through the Communications Office. Contact the Media Relations Office for a daily schedule.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

Nebraska's locker room is closed to the media at home and on the road. For home games, Nebraska's postgame news conference will be held following a brief cooling off period in the interview room (C-145) off the northeast corner of the court. The opposing team is housed in the visitor's locker room, located off the northwest corner of the playing floor and will be available following the cooling off period. The visiting coach will also be brought to the postgame interview room. Make requests for opposing players and coaches through the visiting SID. To access the media work room and postgame interview room, take the elevator from the main concourse behind Section 103.

On the road, Coach Miles and select players will be available upon request after the cooling off period. Check with Sr. Associate Communications Director Shamus McKnight regarding where player interviews will take place.

PLAYER INTERVIEWS

All media requests for interviews with Nebraska basketball players should be directed to Sr. Associate Communications Director Shamus McKnight [office phone: (402) 472-7772, cell phone: (402) 540-0268] at least one day in advance. The best time for in-season interviews is after practices, depending on class schedules. Players will not be available on game days.

Selected practices will be open to the media during the season with seating on the balcony overlooking the practice court at the Hendricks Training Complex or at Pinnacle Bank Arena. Contact the Communications Office for practice availability.

PRESS SEATING

Press row for writers and non-originating radio networks is located in Section 121 (northwest corner), just below the main concourse. The visiting radio network is located across from the scorer's table, along with the Husker Sports Network spot and live television tables. The camera deck is located above Sections 116 and 117. Television crews broadcasting live may shoot from either floor level (northeast or southwest baselines) or the camera deck, but they may not occupy space in the upper-level video area.

MEDIA WORK ROOM

A media work room (C-151) is available on the east side of Pinnacle Bank Arena, a short walk from the Interview room. Media can use the room prior to, during and after the game to write and send stories. Wireless Internet is available in the room, while media entities needing ethernet lines to transmit photography and video should contact Justin Schoen, Technology Manager at Pinnacle Bank Arena, by phone at (402) 904-5660 or by email at jschoen@ smglincoln.com at least three days in advance.

PHOTOGRAPHY/VIDEO BOXES

Photography and video boxes are located along both baselines in front of the courtside seating area. Spots will be assigned on a game-by-game basis, and those boxes are the only place photographers can shoot from. Once the team enters the court for pregame warmups, photographers should not be on the court at any time.

MEDIA INFORMATION AND POLICIES

WIRELESS INTERNET

Pinnacle Bank Arena has a secured media wireless network for working media. Instructions will be available on how to access the network in the media work room and on press row. A member of NU's computing services staff will be on hand to assist media needing access.

MEDIA SERVICES

Notes, flipcards and media guides will be provided before each game. Final statistics, playby-play sheets and quotes from each locker room will be distributed via email following the game and will be available on Huskers.com. A light pregame meal will be served in the media work room (C-151) approximately 60 minutes before tipoff.

RADIO/TELEVISION BROADCAST SPACE

Requests for live radio and television broadcast space should be made to Sr. Associate Communications Director Shamus McKnight at smcknight@huskers.com. If statisticians are needed, contact Shamus McKnight at least three days in advance.

RADIO BROADCAST RIGHTS

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln and IMG World own exclusive radio broadcast rights to all of the University's men's basketball games. Other than the Husker Sports Network and the University of Nebraska student radio station (KRNU), the only radio stations or networks allowed to broadcast Nebraska games from Pinnacle Bank Arena are those that have rights to broadcast games played by the opposing team.

All radio stations and networks broadcasting from the Pinnacle Bank Arena must receive prior permission from the University. Any representative of a radio station or network that has not purchased such rights shall not air live game action or description of any game while it is in progress, nor shall such representatives air tape-recorded or live commentary of Nebraska coaches or players from the premises for one hour before or 20 minutes after a game.

Only stations that have purchased broadcast rights may install telephone lines on press row, or use telephone lines on press row for reporting on games. By accepting media credentials, representatives of stations and networks that have not purchased broadcast rights signify their agreement to all stipulations.

BROADCAST TELEPHONE LINES

The Husker Sports Network installs telephone lines for visiting official broadcasts and charges a fee for the use of those lines for non-conference games. Big Ten official stations receive the use of the lines free of charge as part of a cooperative. Those interested in using the lines should contact Mike Elliott of Husker Sports Network at (402) 742-8624.

Official visiting radio stations are welcome to have their own telephone lines installed at the visiting radio position and may do so by contacting Justin Schoen, Technology Manager at Pinnacle Bank Arena, by phone at (402) 904-5660 or jschoen@smglincoln.com. Visiting teams should contact Sr. Associate Communications Director Shamus McKnight before the game to find out where the broadcast position is located.

PRO SCOUTING PASSES

Per Big Ten Conference rules, the University of Nebraska provides press box access to scouts of professional basketball teams based on availability. If no space is available in the press box, scouts may arrange through the Communications Office (402) 472-2263 to purchase tickets for Nebraska home games.

TELEVISION, RADIO, INTERNET BROADCAST RIGHTS AND RESTRICTIONS

Nebraska, its opponent and the respective conference designate the broadcast rights for all games. No pregame coverage shall be permitted for two hours before the game without the express permission of the University of Nebraska, the Big Ten Conference and the broadcast rights holder. Live postgame interviews may not be aired while the television rights holder is still on the air. Per the Big Ten Conference, a maximum of two minutes (2:00) of game video footage (without audio) may be utilized during the seven days following the conclusion of the game solely within regularly scheduled bona fide news programming distributed via television, and may not be distributed via the internet, wireless or other forms of media. In addition, live in-game streaming of the contests on social media is prohibited.

Any secondary use of any picture, photograph, audio description, video, film/tape, drawing or other description of a game taken or made by the accredited organization or individual to whom a credential has been issued (including, but not limited to use in delayed editorial or non-editorial advertising, sales promotion or merchandising) is prohibited without prior specific written approval of the Big Ten Conference. Nothing in these terms and conditions authorizes or allows bearer to violate any of the trademarks, copyright and other proprietary rights of the Big Ten Conference.

This restriction also includes highlights of games while in progress (live or recorded). Use of video highlights in any other manner or any media distribution platform without the advanced written permission of the Big Ten Conference is expressly prohibited. Any agency wishing to use film or video in any other manner must obtain written permission from the Big Ten Conference.

Local television stations may not originate a pre- or post-game show from inside Pinnacle Bank Arena.

Any blogs, tweets, live chats, social media posts, etc. from the game site should not serve as a substitute for, or approximate, play-by-play accounts of a game in any medium.

Non-originating radio stations or internet sites may not provide play-by-play coverage, live or delayed, but may provide short news updates provided such news update is one minute or less occurring no more than once per hour. No pregame coverage from inside the arena shall be permitted for two hours before the game without the express permission of the University of Nebraska and the broadcast rights holder.

NCAA COMPLIANCE INFORMATION

COMMITMENT TO COMPLIANCE

On behalf of the University of Nebraska student-athletes, coaches and Athletics Department staff, I would like to express my appreciation for your continued support of our entire athletics program.

The University of Nebraska is known for its loyal, passionate, and knowledgeable fans. It is this type of fervent support that not only assists Nebraska student-athletes in reaching their full potential on and off the playing field, but also draws the next generation of student-athletes to our campus. However, as a University of Nebraska booster, please remember that you are also required to know and follow NCAA regulations.

Our coaches, student-athletes, and Athletics Department staff members are knowledgeable about NCAA regulations because they receive on-going education. But, to truly attain the excellence the University of Nebraska strives for, we also need our supporters to be educated about these same regulations. In turn, you will be assisting us with protecting the eligibility and well-being of our current and future student-athletes.

Please review the information listed below, which includes some of the most important and frequently asked questions about NCAA regulations for boosters. Since this document cannot address everything you may need to know, I encourage you to contact our office with questions that may arise. Our staff can be reached at (402) 472-2042 or Compliance@ Huskers.com.

Thank you and Go Huskers!

Jamie Vaughn, Senior Associate Athletics Director for Compliance
