THIS IS NEBRASKA BASKETBALL

"Now is the best time in history to be the men's basketball coach at the University of Nebraska."

COACH TIM MILES

Third-year Nebraska coach Tim Miles has built a reputation on turning programs into winners. At Colorado State, he turned a program that won nine games in his first season to three straight postseason appearances, including the school's first NCAA bid in nine years. At Nebraska, Miles guided the Huskers to 19 wins and the school's first NCAA Tournament appearance since 1998 in just his second season. For his efforts, he was named Big Ten Coach of the Year and won the Jim Phelan Award for national coach of the year in 2014.

Not only is Nebraska in the Big Ten, considered one of the best basketball conferences in the country, but the Huskers have benefited from more than $200 million in basketball facility improvements over the last four years, including the Hendricks Training Complex and Pinnacle Bank Arena.

- 1 Miles and the Huskers opened the 2013-14 season with a scrimmage in September with over 7,500 fans in attendance. Nebraska sold a school-record 15,000 season tickets for the 2013-14 season.
- 2 Miles poses with former NBA and Husker standout Tyronn Lue and Director of Athletics Shawn Eichorst at Lue's Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame Induction ceremony in 2013.
- 3 To bring back former letterwinners, the Huskers have hosted Legends weekend each of the past two seasons. In 2014, nearly 50 former players representing seven decades of Husker basketball returned to campus.
- 4 The Huskers have hosted youth camps for kids around the Lincoln area for the last two years. In 2013, nearly 200 kids attended the event at Pinnacle Bank Arena.

5 Miles gets some instructions from Husker baseball coach Darin Erstad prior to throwing out the first pitch at a Husker baseball game.

Top: Chris Harriman has been at NU since 2012 after serving as an assistant to the late Rick Majerus at Saint Louis University. Middle: Kenya Hunter joined the Husker coaching staff in 2013 after spending six seasons at Georgetown, where he helped the Hoyas to a pair of Big East titles and five NCAA appearances.

Bottom: Jim Molinari comes to Nebraska after serving as a head coach at Western Illinois for six seasons and has over 300 wins as a Division I head coach.

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT TIM MILES

"He understands it's guys in T-shirts and shorts running around playing a game. He's highly competitive, but he can also tell the difference between the phony guys and the type of players you can count on...You gotta be able to differentiate between the fluff and the substance. Tim understands substance."

- BO RYAN

Wisconsin Head Coach

"This guy's got energy. I've been on the road with him recruiting, he's phenomenal. He's got a great personality. I think he's a damn good coach."

- TOM IZZO

Michigan State Head Coach

"He didn't come with a silver spoon and a Carolina or Kentucky or Duke hat. He's earned his spurs. Sometimes that's the best way to get where you want to go."

- STEVE FISHER

San Diego State Head Coach

"He's great in regard with X's and O's. He's great with his players. He's terrific with the fans. I just think he's a great choice."

- LON KRUGER

Oklahoma Head Coach

"Tim understands basketball, and he understands what it's going to take to compete in the Big Ten. He's done an unbelievable job of rebuilding programs."

- GREG MCDERMOTT

Creighton Head Coach

"Tim has always done a good job with his program wherever he has been. He's a high-energy guy who gets his kids to play hard."

- DARRIN HANSEN

Nebraska-Omaha Head Coach

"With their new facilities and energetic coach, the Huskers have received interest from high-major recruits who might not have considered the program even a year ago. The buzz surrounding basketball in Lincoln is growing."

PINNACLE BANK ARENA

The Nebraska men's basketball program entered a new era in 2013-14 with the move into the $179 million Pinnacle Bank Arena. Located in downtown Lincoln, the 15,000-seat arena is the centerpiece of a bold and dynamic city plan. A landmark venture that shows the cooperative spirit across the community, the arena is the permanent home of Nebraska men's and women's basketball while serving as one of the Midwest's hottest spots for the nation's top touring shows.

The arena, which is just steps away from both Memorial Stadium and Hawks Field and Bowlin Stadium at Haymarket Park, also serves as a hub for a new outdoor entertainment district in Lincoln, known as the Railyard. NEBRASKA'S NBA CONNECTION

Nebraska players have enjoyed significant professional success following their Husker careers. Nebraska has had 26 players drafted by teams in the National Basketball Association, including three first-round picks during the 1990s.

Mikki Moore made a name for himself, spending 13 years in the NBA after being an undrafted free agent out of Nebraska. Moore, who led the NBA in shooting percentage in 2006-07, has played in 564 career games and helped his teams to three playoff appearances.

With former NBA veterans Eric Piatkowski, Tyronn Lue and Erick Strickland playing in the league in the last decade, Nebraska has been well represented at the highest level of basketball. Lue is currently the associate head coach of the Cleveland Cavaliers after being named to the position in June of 2014.

- 1 Tyronn Lue played for seven teams during his 11-year NBA career. During that time, he won two World Championship rings with Kobe Bryant, Shaquille O'Neill and the L.A. Lakers and played beside one of the greatest players in NBA history, Michael Jordan, with the Washington Wizards. He is currently in his first season as associate head coach of the Cleveland Cavaliers after coaching with the Los Angeles Clippers and Boston Celtics.
- 2 During his 13 years in the league, Mikki Moore played with nine teams. Moore was the first non-drafted player to lead the league in field-goal percentage, as he hit 60.9 percent from the filoor for New Jersey in 2006-07. His final season in the NBA was in 2011-12 with the Golden State Warriors.
- 3 Eric Piatkowski played 13 seasons in the NBA and set the L.A. Clippers' club record for 3-pointers made. He retired following the 2007-08 campaign. Following his playing career, he served as a color analyst for Nebraska television games on Fox Sports Midwest for two seasons.
- 4 Erick Strickland played nine years in the NBA after entering the league as an undrafted free agent, appearing in over 500 career games with six teams.
- 5 Rich King was a 1991 first-round draft pick after helping NU to a school-record 26 wins and an NCAA Tournament appearance as a senior.
- 6 Nebraska's all-time leading scorer, Dave Hoppen was the second pick of the 1988 expansion draft by the Charlotte Hornets and spent six seasons in the NBA.
- 7 Husker great Stu Lantz played eight years in the NBA, twice averaging more than 18 points per game for a season. He has been the Los Angeles Lakers' color commentator on TV since 1987.
- 8 Nebraska's NBA players are featured in the locker room at Pinnacle Bank Arena.

Through the years, Nebraska has had 26 players drafted by teams in the National Basketball Association.

In the 1990s, Nebraska had three first-round selections in the NBA Draft. Rich King was the 14th selection in 1991, Eric Piatkowski was picked 15th overall in 1994 and Tyronn Lue, who entered the draft following his junior season, was selected 23rd overall in 1998.

The last five teams of the Huskers' second decade all posted winning records. The 1911-12 team won the school's first Missouri Valley Conference title and then repeated as champs in 1912-13 and 1913-14.

1917-1926

Nebraska fashioned its first-ever 20-win season in 1919-20, finishing 22-2 and setting a school record for wins that stood until 1990-91. During the decade, Nebraska was 111-71 (.610) and had six winning campaigns.

1927-1936

NU opened the decade in the Nebraska Coliseum, but finished under .500 at home in 1925-26. In 1928-29, Nebraska joined Missouri, Kansas, Kansas State, Iowa State and Oklahoma to form the Big Six Conference.

1937-1946

Nebraska's record of 65-120 (.351) in the decade was its worst ever. Twice, in 1943-44 and 1944-45, the Huskers mustered only two wins. Sid Held and Don Fitz earned first-team All-Big Six honors in 1940-41.

1947-1956

The Huskers were 102-141 (.420) in the decade. However, the 1948-49 team tied for first in the Big Seven Conference and beat Oklahoma to advance to the NCAA District Tournament. Claude Retherford was a first-team All-Big Seven pick that season and led the team in scoring. In 1949-50, Bus Whitehead earned first-team all-conference honors as Nebraska tied Kansas and Kansas State for the Big Seven championship.

1957-66

The Huskers' 20-5 record in 1965-66 was their first 20-win season since 1919-20. Stuart Lantz, who finished second to KU's Jo Jo White in the Sophomore-of-the-Year balloting, would go on to become a third-round NBA draft pick. For the decade, NU was 102-142 (.418).

1967-1976

Nebraska finished above .500 for the decade with a 147-111 (.570) record. Marvin Stewart was the first player to average 20 points in a season in 1970-71. The Huskers opened the Bob Devaney Sports Center in the 1976-77 season. Jerry Fort earned three straight first-team allconference awards from 1974 to 1976.

1977-1986

The Cornhuskers posted a 175-119 (.595) record in the decade, including a 15-14 ledger in 1976-77, the first season at the Bob Devaney Sports Center. In 1977-78, the Huskers earned their second postseason tournament bid and first since 1966-67, advancing to the second round of the NIT. NU posted 20 wins twice during the decade (1977-78, 1982-83).

1987-1996

The Huskers enjoyed their most successful decade, winning 20-or-more games five times. Nebraska advanced to the NCAA Tournament four times, won its first-ever Phillips 66 Big Eight Tournament trophy in 1994 and captured the NIT Championship in 1996. For the decade NU was 185-131 (.585).

1997-2006

Nebraska continued its success while starting its second century of play. The Huskers added a pair of 20-win seasons as NU was also one of just 15 schools to appear in nine consecutive postseason tournaments from 1991 to 1999.

2007-PRESENT

Nebraska made three postseason appearances in Doc Sadler's six seasons (2007-2012). Aleks Maric was an allconference selection in 2007-08 and the first Husker ever with 1,600 points and 1,000 rebounds. Nebraska joined the Big Ten Conference and played its first season during the 2011-12 campaign. Tim Miles was named Nebraska's 26th head coach on March 24, 2012, after leading Colorado State to three straight postseason appearances, including the 2012 NCAA Tournament. The Huskers opened Pinnacle Bank Arena in August of 2013 and went 15-1 in the facility en route to earning their first NCAA Tournament appearance since 1998. Terran Petteway became Nebraska's first conference scoring champion in more than 60 years, as he averaged 18.1 points per game to earn first-team All-Big Ten accolades. Miles won the Jim Phelan Award as national coach of the year in 2014, the first Husker basketball coach to win a national honor.

Joe Cipriano led the Husker basketball program for 17 seasons and finished his NU coaching career with a school-record 253 wins.

"It takes a special person to be able to sell yourself and sell your program. Some people have it and some people don't. Everyone that I know who's met Coach Miles thinks he has it. I like the way he's going after some of the top guys out there to sell himself and sell the program. He's opened the door to some first-tier players and seems ready to take this program to the next level. He has the formula, the staff, the facilities and the backing of the university and the athletic department. Put all that together and everyone feels pretty good about the future direction of the Nebraska program."

— DAVE HOPPEN

THE NEBRASKA ACADEMIC EXPERIENCE

From the day student-athletes decide the University of Nebraska is the right place to be, the athletic academic counseling unit provides personal and academic support to ensure that student-athletes will get the most out of their years as Huskers. Featuring one of the most innovative and comprehensive academic support systems in the country, Nebraska is dedicated to helping its student-athletes become outstanding leaders in their chosen fields. The academic support team is comprised of 13 full-time staff members and a tutorial staff of approximately 75 tutors addressing all subject areas.

ACADEMIC COUNSELING

Eight academic counselors and three assistant academic counselors are in place to monitor daily academic progress, receive consistent course feedback, assist with the advising/registration process and monitor continuing eligibility and progress toward graduation. Essentially, academic counselors assist student-athletes in navigating the University of Nebraska system.

TUTORIAL SUPPORT

A tremendous resource for all academic abilities, unlimited tutorial support is available from day one up to college graduation. Subject and mentor tutors help provide academic support and study strategies to be successful. Supplemental Instruction, a sub-component of the tutorial program, provides targeted group review sessions to help ease the transition to college academics while improving study strategies and building academic self-esteem.

STUDY HALL

Nebraska's study hall program is housed in the D.J. Sokol Enrichment Center within the Dick and Peg Herman Family Student Life Complex. Student-athletes attend a supervised, flex-time study hall that features day, evening and weekend hours. Each student-athlete is required to complete a specific number of study hours each week as determined by their academic counselor and/or coach. In addition, weekly study hall reports are provided to the coaching staff. Additional performance-based or tutor-based study hall may also be determined by the academic counselor.

MENTORING

Many student-athletes meet with a mentor on a weekly basis to assist in making a smooth transition from high school to college. Mentors collect syllabi, gather and report academic progress information and teach academic success strategies.

EDUCATIONAL ASSESSMENTS

Assessments are administered upon the request of the student-athlete, academic counselor, or coach to determine student strengths and areas for improvement. Results allow academic counselors to develop a personalized academic support program and to determine if more in-depth testing is warranted. When additional assessments are necessary, referrals are made to a consulting psychologist who conducts the assessments. If it is determined that a student-athlete has a learning disability, appropriate accommodations are made through the Office of Services for Students with Disabilities.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ORIENTATION

The academic staff coordinates New Student-Athlete Orientation to help newcomers adjust to the multiple demands of being a college student-athlete. Presentations are made by academic counselors, compliance officials, NU faculty and administrators, business/community professionals and student-athletes.

PERSONAL COUNSELING

Student-athletes will find a supportive and caring environment at Nebraska. Transitional issues, stress management, time management, academic focus and problem resolution are all addressed in a proactive manner throughout the year. If necessary, counseling referrals are also made to designated practitioners.

COMPUTER RESOURCES

Student-athletes enjoy a new state-of-the art computer lab and technology center with 58 computers and professional supervision. Laptops are also available during team travel. Student-athletes have the benefit of ongoing education and assistance from a full-time computer technician.

NEBRASKA'S NATIONAL POWER

Nebraska competed at the highest levels across the board in 2013-14, producing top-25 national finishes in 14 of its 24 varsity sports. Nebraska was one of only two NCAA Division I schools to advance to the NCAA Championships in the six major team sports of men's and women's basketball, baseball and softball, women's soccer and women's volleyball, while also playing in a football bowl game. The Huskers won NCAA Tournament games in five of those sports, while also winning their bowl game, a feat no other school in the country matched in 2013-14.

In addition to the success of Husker teams, Nebraska produced its most All-Americans in more than a decade with 42 student-athletes capturing national honors across all sports in 2013-14. Nebraska's 42 All-Americans included 29 first-team award winners in their respective sports, led by 2014 NCAA 400-meter hurdles champion Miles Ukaoma. Not only did the Huskers enjoy success across many fields of competition, Nebraska fans supported the Big Red in record numbers as the volleyball (1st), football (9th), women's basketball (11th), men's basketball (13th), baseball (15th) and softball programs all ranked among the nation's top 20 in attendance.

The former Major League All-Star and Gold Glove winner guided the Huskers to a 41-21 record and runner-up finishes in the Big Ten regular season and at the tournament held at TD Ameritrade Park.

Coach John Cook's traditionally powerful volleyball program marched to the NCAA Elite Eight and finished No. 7 nationally in the AVCA Top 25. For Coach Tim Miles and the Nebraska basketball program, there are a lot of things to look back on a breakthrough 2013-14 season. However, one item which has sharpened the Huskers' focus heading into preseason practice.

It's not the 19 wins, including a pair of victories against top-10 teams.

It's not the 11-7 Big Ten record and fourth-place Big Ten finish - the program's best since 1999.

It's not the 15-1 home record in front of standing-room crowds at Pinnacle Bank Arena.

It's the two losses the Huskers suffered to close the year – to Ohio State in the Big Ten Tournament and to Baylor in the NCAA Tournament – which served as a reminder that there is still work to do.

"There is no doubt we have unfinished business," Miles, who was the Big Ten Coach of the Year after leading the Huskers to their first tournament appearance since 1998, said. "They remember that more than the accolades that went with their great run to end the Big Ten season. We didn't have a chance to end things the way we wanted to."

Miles has seen the focus and edge in his players in the preseason and is excited to see what the season brings.

"A few days ago, we had a one-hour workout, and when we finished nobody left the gym but me," Miles said. "They all hung around. They want to practice. They want to get better and that is a really good sign."

The Huskers return all five starters, including All-Big Ten performers Terran Petteway and Shavon Shields, and seven of their top eight rotation players from a group that went 19-13. Not only does Nebraska return a pair of double-digit scorers for the first time in 11 years, but also its top six rebounders and its top three distributors.

"You can't replace veteran leadership and to have such a strong core nucleus back certainly bodes well if they have the same mentality," Miles said. "If we have that fighter's mentality with something to prove, I think we will be alright. These guys have that. Their ambition for work has been excellent. They spend a lot of time improving themselves, not only with their basketball skills, but also with their physical training. I've been impressed with their work ethic and their dedication to our program."

For Miles, one of the keys will be to regain the defensive identity that NU found to key an 11-3 surge to close conference play. Nebraska held its final 14 Big Ten foes to a combined 39 percent shooting.

"I think we found an identity late in the year which was a defensive presence and it took us a while to realize that," Miles said. "If we can continue to be an excellent defensive team, we will have success in the Big Ten."

FRONTCOURT

The Husker frontcourt will be the deepest in Miles' three seasons with the return of starters Walter Pitchford and David Rivers, along with seniors Leslee Smith and Kye Kurkowski. Senior transfer Moses Abraham provides a strong defensive presence and experience after spending four years at Georgetown, while freshman Jake Hammond is brimming with potential.

Pitchford gives opponents a unique challenge, as the 6-foot-10 junior is one of the Big Ten's best-shooting big men. In his first season of action for Nebraska, he averaged 9.3 points and 4.7 rebounds per game while shooting 41 percent from 3-point range. One of the Huskers' most athletic players, Pitchford played some of his best basketball in the final six weeks of the season, reaching double figures in 11 of NU's final 14 games, including a career-high 18 points at ninth-ranked Michigan State.

"Walt is such a difficult matchup for a five-man and is a real asset on the offensive end," Miles said. "His shooting range creates opportunities for our wings and guards. For him, the next step is to be able to get to the line more often."

Rivers is the Huskers' most experience performer, as he has made 77 appearances, including 31 starts in his career. While he averaged just 3.0 points and 2.9 rebounds per game, his biggest contributions come on the defensive end, where his length and athleticism allows him to pester more physical players. Rivers became a more efficient offensive player, setting career highs in both field goal percentage and free throw percentage. He also grabbed at least six rebounds in four of his eight starts, including a career-high nine against Ohio State in the Big Ten Tournament.

"David is our ultimate glue guy," Miles said. "He does a lot of little things well, and has a knack for making winning plays, whether it is blocking a shot, getting a big rebound or hitting a shot. His focus is all about the team, and he finds a way to operate well on winning teams and that is a great quality for a player to have."

Smith was one of the best frontcourt reserves in the Big Ten in 2013-14, averaging 5.4 points and 4.8 rebounds per game. The 6-foot-8 forward led the Huskers with three double-doubles and his brawny work inside complimented the perimeter-based Pitchford to give the Huskers a solid inside combination. Smith's status for early in the season is in doubt, as he tore his left ACL in July, but has worked diligently in rehab in hopes of returning during Big Ten play.

"Leslee is in a situation where his rehab is going well, and we are excited about that. But at the same time, we won't know until we get him back on the floor every day and see how it responds" Miles said. "We are hopeful to have him back by January."

The early loss of Smith could be offset by the addition of Abraham, who arrived on campus in June. The 6-foot-9 senior center played for three seasons at Georgetown, averaging 1.9 points and 2.8 rebounds per game in 2013-14, while ranking second on the Hoyas with 23 blocked shots in just 13.1 minutes per game. Abraham's physicality and shotblocking ability provides someone who can protect the rim, which is essential in the Big Ten.

"Moses brings a physicality and length that we haven't had here," Miles said. "His physical play and rebounding will help us, and he also has played in some big games for championship teams, and that experience is just as important for our program."

While the addition of Abraham gives the Huskers experience, Hammond has the ability to be a long-term solution on the front line. The 6-foot-10, 230-pound forward averaged 26.2 points, 14.8 rebounds and 5.7 blocks per game at Comanche High School in Oklahoma as a senior and was rated among the top 150 players in the country by some services. Hammond is very athletic for his size and is not afraid to be physical and how quickly he progresses will determine the playing time he earns as a true freshman.

"Jake has a nose for the ball, rebounds well and really runs well," Miles said. "He is still developing and I think he will be strong in the future for us, but I also think he will do some good things for us this year."

A walk-on, Kurkowski played in five games in spot duty in 2013-14, totaling two points and three rebounds in 10 minutes of work. The fifth-year senior provides depth up front and has been a valuable performer on the scout team during his Husker career.

WINGS

The Huskers' biggest strength is on the wings, where All-America candidate Terran Petteway and All-Big Ten performer Shavon Shields both return for their junior campaigns. The duo averaged 31.0 points and 10.6 rebounds per game in 2013-14, and is among the best duos in the country. Redshirt freshman Nick Fuller will make a bid for early playing time, while Andrew White III will push the returnees in practice as he sits out this year after transferring from Kansas. Freshman B.J. Day will likely redshirt following a knee injury he suffered during the first week of practice in October.

"Shavon and Terran are excellent offensive players and can go out and take over a game at any point," Miles said. "There are not a lot of teams in the country that have a pair of players who can get you 30 points in conference play, and we are fortunate that they can play off each other so well."

"When you have guys like Shavon and Terran who are your best players and your hardest workers, it sets a tone for the rest of your team, especially the young players coming into your program," Miles said.

Petteway emerged as one of college basketball's biggest surprises last year, leading the Big Ten in scoring average with 18.1 points per game, while ranking among team leaders with 4.8 rebounds and 1.6 assists per contest. Not only did Petteway become a proven scorer, recording seven 20-point games, including a season-high 35-point effort against Minnesota, but played his best against the Huskers' toughest foes, averaging 20.8 points per game in 14 games against top-50 RPI teams. A tireless worker with a relentless work ethic, he earned invitations to the Kevin Durant Skills Academy and adidas Nations Camp and honed his game against some of the best players in the nation, working on his ball handling and expanding his shooting range. That work should only enhance his game entering his junior season, as his size and athleticism on the wing makes him a tough matchup for opponents.

2014-15 NEBRASKA MEN'S BASKETBALL | HUSKERS.COM | @HUSKERHOOPS

Shields, who joined Petteway at adidas Nations Camp over the summer, has been a mainstay in the Husker lineup for the past two years, and has developed into one of the Big Ten's top all-around players. The 6-foot-7 junior averaged 12.8 points and a team-high 5.8 rebounds per game while starting all 32 games. He played some of his best basketball when the Huskers went to a bigger lineup, moving to the wing and averaging 15.7 points and 6.0 rebounds per game over the Huskers' final 12 contests. Shields put up four 20-point efforts as a sophomore, including a 26-point effort against No. 9 Wisconsin and a career-high 33-point night against Illinois, where he matched a school record by going 15-of-15 from the line. He is one of only four returnees who ranked among the Big Ten leaders in both scoring and rebounding in Big Ten play, and his leadership and strong play will be critical to the Huskers' success.

Fuller made the most of his redshirt season, earning the Huskers' lifter of the year while adding nearly 20 pounds since coming to campus a year ago. The additional strength and explosiveness will only help his game, and the challenge of facing Petteway and Shields every day in practice helped his adjustment to the college game. The 6-foot-7, 207-pounder is an excellent shooter and scorer, averaging 25.0 points and 11.2 rebounds per game as a senior at Sun Prairie (Wis.) High School. A finalist for Mr. Basketball in Wisconsin, Fuller totaled 1,940 points during his high school career and was a two-time all-state selection.

"Nick is a crafty player and someone who has really improved his body. He went from a slender kid to someone who is more of a physical presence," Miles said. "He shoots the ball well, but he also rebounds well and is a smart player with his cuts and reads. I think he can add value to what we are doing."

One of the biggest coups for the Huskers was the transfer of Andrew White III in August. The 6-foot-7 guard spent the last two years at Kansas, helping the Jayhawks to a pair of Big 12 titles, and will have two years of eligibility remaining beginning in 2015-16. A former top-50 recruit and player of the year in Virginia, White averaged 2.3 points and 1.2 rebounds per game off the bench, including a pair of double-figure scoring efforts. An excellent shooter who possesses a strong work ethic, White will be an impact player early in his Husker career.

"I think it is going to be great for Andrew's development to go up against Terran and Shavon every day in practice," Miles said. "It is going to raise the level of play for all three of them.

Andrew possesses great leadership qualities and is about the right things. He has dedicated himself to being a better player and only good things are on the horizon for him."

Day walked on to the program and is an intriguing player. The 6-foot-5, 236-pound forward earned all-state honors at Lincoln Southeast, averaging 14.5 points and 6.5 rebounds per game last year. He is a second-generation Husker, as his father, Bernard, starred for the Huskers in the mid-1980s and was a member of NU's first NCAA Tournament qualifier.

"B.J. has a good skill level and a physical presence," Miles said. "His dad was a good player and he has been exposed to the finer points of the game. For B.J., it is a matter of him being healthy and being in the best top physical condition he is in and he'll be all right."

BACKCOURT

Despite the loss of four-year letterwinner and 3-point specialist Ray Gallegos, the Huskers have depth in the backcourt with the return of starting point guard Tai Webster, along with Benny Parker and Trevor Menke. In addition, freshman Tarin Smith has been impressive in workouts and pushes himself into the mix at one of the guard spots. The development of Parker and Smith could allow Webster more of an opportunity to play both guard spots.

Webster was thrown into the fire early on, making 30 starts as a true freshman, as he played in all 32 games. He led the Huskers with 63 assists, while averaging 3.9 points and 2.1 assists per game. Webster showed flashes of his potential with four double-figure scoring efforts, including a season-high 14 points against Georgia. The 6-foot-4 guard gained valuable experience for New Zealand's Senior National Team over the summer, culminating in the FIBA World Cup in Spain. He averaged 5.3 points, 3.0 rebounds and 1.5 assists per game despite being the fourth-youngest player in the tournament, helping New Zealand to the round of 16. Among the teenagers in the event, only Giannis Antetokounmpo of the Milwaukee Bucks averaged more points and rebounds while Webster's assists per game were second only to Utah Jazz rookie Dante Exum. Miles believes the lessons Webster learned as a freshman will pay dividends in 2014-15.

"The experience he gained last year and back home was important for his development," Miles said. "Even though he didn't play his best at times, he learned to play through it and has come back with a lot of confidence and it had been evident early. My goal for him is to play the point and the two-guard. I think he can do some neat things off the ball and things that can really help our team."

While Webster has the potential to be an effective scorer, Benny Parker's strength comes at the defensive end, as he earned a reputation as one of the best defensive guards in the Big Ten. Parker, who was chosen as the Huskers' defensive MVP, played in every game last season, but saw more action as the season progressed, averaging 1.5 steals per game over the Huskers' final 14 games. Parker was a solid distributor at the point, posting a better than 2-to-1 assist-to-turnover ratio, and also became more of an offensive threat in the final month of the season. He had eight points and three steals at Indiana and seven points against Northwestern. At 5-foot-9, Parker is a fearless defender who is not afraid of a challenge.

"Benny is a guy who creates so many things for us defensively," Miles said. "He does an excellent job of stopping opponents' offense with his ability to guard the ball and he can create turnovers that lead to easy fast break opportunities. He brings that energy for us every night and that is a special quality to have."

Fifth-year senior Trevor Menke provides more experience and depth for the Husker backcourt. A walk-on, Menke played in five games last year and hit a 3-pointer against Purdue. He saw significant action as a sophomore in 2012-13, committing one turnover in 65 minutes of work. The Beatrice, Neb., native is a great practice player, doing whatever it takes to help his teammates succeed.

Another player who has been impressive during the offseason work is freshman Tarin Smith. The freshman was a two-year starter at point guard at St. Anthony High School in New Jersey, helping the school to a pair of state runner-up finishes. As a senior, he was a first-team all-state pick by the AP, averaging 15 points, four rebounds and four assists per game. As a player coming from Hall of Fame Coach Bob Hurley's program, Smith has a good grasp of the game and is an excellent distributor, and could be in position to earn significant minutes as a freshman.

"I have been very impressed with Tarin," Miles said. "He is a true point guard who delivers the ball on time and on target, handles the ball well, can get around guys and uses screen and roll well. He is improving on the defensive end, but college basketball is different defensively. I think he has a bright future in our program."

The Grant, Neb., native is also a three-time Academic All-Big Ten honoree.

2013-14 (Junior)

Kurkowski saw action in five contests, totaling two points and three rebounds in 10 minutes. He grabbed a career-high two rebounds in three minutes against South Carolina State on Nov. 17, and converted his only field goal attempt at No. 10 Michigan on Feb. 5. Kurkowski played in six games in 2012-13, including five Big Ten contests, and totaled two points and two rebounds in nine minutes. He did not play in NU's first 19 contests before making his season debut against Illinois on Jan. 22, when he grabbed a pair of rebounds in three minutes. He broke into the scoring column for the first time of his career against Northwestern on Jan. 26, hitting a basket in the final minute of a 65-49 win. He also saw playing time at No. 1 Indiana on Feb. 13, at No. 17 Wisconsin on Feb. 26, and at lowa on March 9. ## 2010-11 (Redshirt)

Kurkowski redshirted as a true freshman.

Before Nebraska

Kurkowski was a standout player for Coach Shawn Cole at Perkins County High School, a Class C-2 school in Grant, Neb.

Kurkowski was a first-team all-conference and all-district performer as a senior, averaging 12.9 points, 9.2 rebounds and 3.9 blocks per game in 2009-10. He reached double figures in rebounding in 11 of 21 games as a senior and had five games with at least six blocked shots.

His best performance as a senior came in a 27-point performance against Dundy County, when he hit 11-of-14 shots from the floor and added 11 rebounds and a pair of steals. He also had a triple-double against Chase County with 18 points, 11 rebounds and 10 blocked shots.

He became a full-time starter during his junior campaign, when he averaged 8.6 points, 8.2 rebounds and 3.5 blocked shots per game.

In addition to his basketball exploits, he lettered four times in football and three years in track, giving him 10 varsity letters. Kurkowski was an accomplished student, finishing his career with a 4.0 GPA and ranking in the top five in his senior class. He was an academic all-state selection by the Lincoln Journal Star and was a member of the High Honor Roll at Perkins County. His success in the classroom qualified him for a Regents Scholarship at Nebraska.

Personal

Kye is the son of Kelvin and Judy Kurkowski and was born on Dec. 25, 1991. He has three brothers, Max, Ross and Zak, and two sisters, Nileelle and Jaclyn. Kurkowski is an agricultural engineering major at Nebraska and will graduate in December.

2014-15 (Outlook)

Walk-on Trevor Menke has proven to be a valuable member of the Husker squad throughout his career. The 5-foot-11 guard from Beatrice, Neb., has been a critical part of NU's scout team during his career and his work ethic and intangibles have helped the Huskers every day in the gym. Menke has been a steady reserve when called upon, appearing in 23 games as a Husker, including 15 games as a sophomore. One of five seniors on the 2014-15 squad, Menke received his undergraduate degree in May of 2014 and is working on a master's degree.

2013-14 (Junior)

Menke was a solid reserve in the Husker backcourt, appearing in five games while running the Husker scout team in daily practice. He totaled three points and a steal in 10 minutes. He played in consecutive games against Western Illinois and South Carolina State during non-conference action, logging three minutes in the win over the Bulldogs. In Big Ten play, Menke made three appearances, recording a steal at No. 10 Michigan on Feb. 5 and hitting his only field goal of the season - a three-pointer - against Purdue on Feb. 23.

2012-13 (Sophomore)

Menke provided the Huskers with a solid reserve at the point guard spot, appearing in 15 games and totaling four points and five assists. Menke was a solid ball-handler, committing one turnover in 64 minutes of action. He saw a majority of his action early in the season, backing up freshman Benny Parker and seeing action in six of NU's first eight contests. Menke's most extensive playing time came against Southern on Nov. 11, and Nebraska-Omaha on Nov. 18, when he played a career-high 16 minutes in both games. Against UNO, he dished out three assists and had a steal in NU's 75-62 win. He also turned in a solid effort against Valparaiso, grabbing two rebounds in seven minutes of work.

In Big Ten action, his time decreased, as the Huskers moved Dylan Talley to the point guard spot, but Menke still played in eight contests. He scored his first career point against Illinois on Jan. 22, hitting 1-of-2 from the foul line in three minutes. His most extensive action came against Northwestern on Jan. 26, as he played five minutes to help handle the Wildcats' 1-3-1 zone, dishing out a pair of assists in a 64-49 win. Menke hit his first career shot, a 3-pointer in the final minute, at lowa on March 9. He also played the final minute of NU's Big Ten quarterfinal against No. 10 Ohio State on March 15.

2011-12 (Redshirt Freshman)

Menke saw limited duty, playing in three games during the 2011-12 season as a backup point guard. The walk-on earned an opportunity with his work in practice running the scout team, as he was forced into duty following a rash of injuries.

Menke made his Husker debut against Alcorn State on Dec. 17, playing four minutes against the Braves as the Huskers were without three players because of injuries. He got another opportunity against Central Michigan, as he played two minutes in the first half backing up Brandon Richardson and Bo Spencer. After not playing during Big Ten action, he saw time in the Huskers' Big Ten Tournament loss to Purdue on March 8, playing the final minute of the loss to the Boilermakers.

2010-11 (Redshirt)

Menke redshirted as a freshman. He missed the second half of the season with a broken foot suffered in practice in late December of 2010.

Before Nebraska

Menke was one of the state's top point guards playing for Beatrice High School and legendary Coach Jim Weeks. Menke was a four-year starter, helping Beatrice to a Class B state title in 2008, two runner-up finishes (2007 and 2009) and a third-place showing as a senior. In 2009-10, Menke earned first-team Class B and third-team All-Nebraska (all-class) honors, averaging 14.2 points, 5.1 assists and 2.3 rebounds a game. That followed on the heels of a junior campaign where he averaged 14.2 points and 5.0 assists per game while hitting 44 percent from 3-point range to earn firstteam all-state accolades for the first time in his career. Menke showed a knack for clutch performances throughout his high school career, hitting game-winning buzzer beaters in the state tournament in both his junior and senior years, including a 28-footer in the first round of the 2010 state tournament. A four-year letterwinner in basketball, Menke also lettered four years in track and three in cross country at Beatrice. He was a member of the National Honor Society, a member of the honor roll throughout his career and served as vice president of the student council.

Personal

Trevor is the son of Steven and Wendy Menke and was born on July 1, 1991. He has one older brother, Brent, who served as a team manager for the Husker program. Trevor is a social science education major at Nebraska and graduated in May of 2014. He is currently working on a degree in higher education administration.

2014-15 (Outlook)

Benny Parker took advantage of an opportunity and became one of the focal points of Nebraska's defensive turnaround in 2013-14. When Deverell Biggs was dismissed in late January, Parker found a chance to play extended minutes, and quickly became a fan favorite with his tenacity, on-ball defense and hustle. The 5-foot-9 guard had better than a 2-to-1 assist-to-turnover ratio while averaging 1.5 steals per game over the Huskers' last 14 games. Parker, who provided a change of pace from Tai Webster, also became a more confident shooter down the stretch, hitting 58 percent from the floor in that span. His efforts were recognized by his teammates, as he was chosen by his teammates as the team's Defensive MVP.

Heading into his junior season, Parker has worked hard to improve other facets of his game, and he is poised to earn significant time in the backcourt.

Parker emerged as a vital member of the Huskers' rotation at the point guard spot. Although he averaged just 2.4 points per game and had a better than 2-to-1 assist-to-turnover ratio, Parker provided intangibles and toughness in his perimeter defensive efforts. He led NU with 30 steals despite playing less than 15 minutes per game and was chosen by his teammates as the Huskers' defensive MVP.

Parker became more of a scoring threat down the stretch, averaging 3.8 points per game on 58 percent shooting from the field over NU's final 14 games, a stretch where the Huskers went 10-4. He also increased both his rebounding and assist totals and averaged 1.5 steals per game in that span. He saw significant time in the postseason, averaging 4.5 points, 2.0 rebounds and 1.5 steals per game in the Big Ten and NCAA Tournament contests.

In Big Ten action, Parker played in all 18 games, but found consistent minutes down the stretch. Beginning with the Minnesota win on Jan. 26 when he had four points, two assists and two rebounds in 10 minutes of work, Parker saw doubledigit minutes in 13 of the Huskers' final 14 games. He provided a lift at Northwestern on Feb. 8, scoring all five of his points in the second half and added a pair of steals as Nebraska picked up its first road win of the year. Against Illinois, he matched his career high with four steals and had four assists, while his on-ball defense limited the Illini to 33 percent second-half shooting. Parker was electrifying against Purdue with two points, two assists and three steals, helping to limit the Boilermakers to just 30 percent shooting. During the final weeks of the season. Parker became more of an offensive threat, as he had six points at Illinois on Feb. 26. He had seven points and drew a crucial charge with 29 seconds left to preserve a four-point Husker lead against Northwestern on March 1. Parker set his Big Ten career high with eight points at Indiana, as he went 3-for-3 from the field, added three steals and helped limit Yogi Ferrell to 4-of-14 shooting. Parker closed Big Ten play by playing a season-high 31 minutes in the win over No. 9 Wisconsin, adding four points, two assists and a pair of steals.

During non-conference action, Parker showed signs of improvement early, when he scored a career-high nine points and had two steals against Florida Gulf Coast. He single-handedly keyed a 10-0 second half run with seven points and both of his steals against the Eagles. He played at least 20 minutes in each of NU's first two contests, as Biggs and Ray Gallegos were suspended. He had three assists in a win over South Carolina State on Nov. 17, and had a pair of assists and three steals in the loss to UMass on Nov. 22. Parker then started consecutive games against Georgia and Northern Illinois. He also had six points on 3-of-3 shooting and a steal in 16 minutes against Arkansas State on Dec. 14.

2012-13 (Freshman)

Parker was one of two freshmen who played a significant role for the Huskers, appearing in all 33 games and averaging 2.7 points, 2.1 assists and 1.3 rebounds per game. His 69 assists not only ranked second on the team, but placed him seventh on NU's single-season freshman list. Parker also topped the Big Red with a 1.6-to-1 assist-to-turnover ratio and committed one turnover or less in 20 of his 33 games. The Kansas City, Kan., native did not commit a turnover in his final 81 minutes of action and led the Huskers in assists 11 times during his freshman campaign.

Parker closed the season with one of his best efforts against Big Ten competition, totaling five points, three assists and matching his career high with three rebounds against No. 10 Ohio State in the Big Ten quarterfinals on March 15. It was his highest point total since Dec. 3, and his three assists were the most since dishing out six assists at Minnesota on Jan. 29. He came off the bench for the majority of the Big Ten season, averaging 1.4 points and 1.4 assists per game while playing an average of 17 minutes per contest. Parker had multiple assists six times in Big Ten action, including six at Minnesota when he played 30 minutes. He also scored four points in three consecutive games, including performances against No. 8 Ohio State on Feb. 2 and at No. 1 Indiana on Feb. 13.

During non-conference play, Parker battled through nagging injuries, but started every game. He had season bests in points (eight) and minutes in his debut against NCAA qualifier Southern on Nov. 11, finishing with 11 points on 4-of-7 shooting. He also had seven points, three rebounds and three assists in a win over Horizon League champion Valparaiso on Nov. 1 before totaling eight points against Nebraska-Omaha on Nov. 18. Parker played a significant role in NU's win at Wake Forest in the ACC/Big Ten Challenge on Nov. 27, totaling eight points, including 6-of-9 from the charity stripe, and adding four assists and a career-high four steals. That game marked the final time in non-conference play that Parker was healthy as he battled foot and knee problems over the next month beginning with a sprained foot suffered prior to NU's win over USC on Dec. 3. In that stretch, he totaled just 17 points, but led NU with five assists against Creighton on Dec. 6.

Before Nebraska

Parker was one of the top players in the Kansas City area during his high school career. He was a four-year starter who led Sumner Academy of Arts and Science to an 85-15 record and a pair of Class 4A state titles during his high school career playing for Coach Dan Parra. Parker totaled 1,468 points, 375 assists and 355 steals during his high school career, finishing third in school history in points scored.

Parker was a first-team Class 4A all-state honoree and second-team selection among all classes in Kansas by the Topeka Capital Journal as a senior. He was a first-team all-metro performer by the Kansas City Star. Parker was honored with the DiRenna Award, representing the top player in the Kansas City metro area following a campaign where he averaged 24.8 points, 6.2 assists and 3.9 steals per game in helping Sumner Academy to a 19-4 record and an appearance in the sub-state tournament. Parker was named the MVP of the Spring Hill Invitational following a 41-point, seven-assist performance in a semifinal win over Spring Hill, tying a school record for most points in a game. He also had a pair of 30-point efforts and totaled 20 or more points in 16 of 23 games as a senior. Parker capped his career with 20 points in the Kansas-Missouri All-Star game with 8-of-9 shooting, including 4-of-4 from 3-point range in just 15 minutes of action.

As a junior, he was a first team all-state Class 4A performer and a third-team selection among all classes, helping Coach Parra's team to a 23-3 record and a state title, as he averaged 19.8 points, 5.9 assists, 4.8 steals and 3.7 rebounds per game. During his sophomore campaign, he garnered honorable-mention all-state honors, averaging 12.3 points, 5.3 assists and 4.1 steals per outing while leading Sumner to a state crown.

2014-15 (Outlook)

Terran Petteway (pronounced tur-RAN PET-eh-way) took the Big Ten by storm as a sophomore in 2013-14. The 6-foot-6 guard/forward quickly became one of the conference's top performers in leading Nebraska to a fourth-place finish in the Big Ten, the program's highest conference finish since 1999. Petteway led the Big Ten in scoring, averaging 18.1 points per game, but also showed that he was not afraid to take - and make - the big shot in crucial situations. The strength and nearly 15 pounds of muscle he added during a redshirt year after transferring from Texas Tech, allowed him to use his athleticism to get to the basket and finish winning plays.

Petteway brings a work ethic that pushes his teammates every day in practice. He was chosen as a captain before playing his first game at Nebraska, and the leadership he and fellow sophomore Shavon Shields showed were instrumental in the steps the Huskers made last season. Petteway spent his summer at the Kevin Durant Skills Academy and adidas Nations and enters his junior season at 215 pounds. With another off-season, Petteway has worked to expand his shooting range and become a better player on the perimeter in hopes of leading the Huskers to a second straight NCAA Tournament bid.

A preseason All-American, Petteway looks to become the first person since Ohio State's Evan Turner (2009-10) to lead the Big Ten in scoring in consecutive seasons. Over the last 30 years, only three players - Turner, Purdue's Glenn Robinson (1993-94) and Michigan's Glen Rice (1988-89) - have accomplished the feat.

Petteway put together one of the best seasons a Husker basketball newcomer has ever enjoyed in the Nebraska program. The 6-foot-6 sophomore was a unanimous All-Big Ten selection, as he averaged a conference-best 18.1 points per game. He was second on the team with with 4.8 rebounds and 1.6 assists per game. Petteway, who was NU's first unanimous first-team all-conference pick since 1999, became the first Husker to lead the conference in scoring in over 60 years and was a first-team all-district pick by the NABC (coaches) and U.S. Basketball Writers Association (writers). He also finished sixth in free throw percentage, while his 167 made free throws ranked second in school history and were the most since Jake Moore's school mark of 184 in 1979-80.

Petteway was a consistent scorer for the Big Red, reaching double figures 30 times in 32 games, including a pair of 30-point outings. He had a career-high 35 point game – the most by a Husker since 2008 – against Minnesota on Jan. 26, and had 30 points against UMass on Nov. 21. He had many of his best games against NU's toughest opponents, averaging 20.8 points and 4.9 rebounds in 12 games against top-50 RPI teams.

In Big Ten action, he averaged 18.6 points and 5.1 points per game, becoming the first Husker since former Big Eight Player of the Year Andre Smith in 1980-81 to be a scoring leader in conference play. Petteway opened conference play with his first career double-double, scoring 20 points and grabbing a career-high 12 rebounds in a loss to Iowa on Dec. 31. His best game came against Minnesota, when he scored a career-high 35 points on 10-of-15 shooting and six rebounds. Petteway hit four 3-pointers in the win and went 11-of-14 from the foul line. That win sparked Nebraska's surge, as the Huskers won 10 of their final 12 conference games. He garnered Big Ten Player-of-the-Week honors by scoring 23 points in a win at No. 9 Michigan State. He had 16 points in the second half, as Nebraska posted its first road win over a top-10 team since 1997. Petteway had consecutive 20-point outings in February, scoring 26 points, including 14-of-19 from the line against Penn State on Feb. 20, and 29 points against Purdue on Feb. 23. He closed conference action with one of his best efforts to key a win over ninth-ranked Wisconsin. Petteway had 26 points, including 11-of-14 from the foul line, and 10 rebounds for his second double-double of the season as the Huskers clinched fourth place in the Big Ten. He continued his scoring in the postseason with 20 points and five rebounds against Ohio State in the Big Ten quarterfinals while leading NU with 18 points in the NCAA second-round loss to Baylor on March 21.

During non-conference action, Petteway had five 20-point performances, including 30 points and three steals against UMass. In Nebraska's three Charleston Classic games, he averaged 22.0 points and 5.0 rebounds per game, as he had 20 points against UAB and 15 points and seven rebounds against Georgia. He closed non-conference action with a flourish, scoring 20 or more points in three of NU's final four games, including a game-high 27 points against the Citadel and 22 points, including 4-of-5 from 3-point range, at Cincinnati.

2012-13 (Redshirt)

Petteway sat out the 2012-13 season after transferring from Texas Tech University.

Before Nebraska

Petteway played in 27 games at Texas Tech as a true freshman in 2011-12, making 11 starts for the Red Raiders and averaging 3.3 points and 2.1 rebounds per game. He had a season-high 13 points in 15 minutes of action against DePaul in the Old Spice Classic and also had nine-point contests against Indiana State and Cal State Bakersfield. He grabbed a career-high 10 rebounds in an overtime loss to NCAA qualifier Texas, one of three games with at least five caroms. In all, 10 of his 11 starts came in Big 12 action.

Petteway enjoyed a decorated career at Galveston Ball High School for Coach Jerald Temple. He earned all-state recognition on two occasions and was ranked as one of the top-10 prospects in the state, according to TexasHoops.com. He was a two-time District MVP and District Offensive MVP, averaging 27 points, nine rebounds and 3.5 assists per game as a senior helping the Tornados to a 34-4 record, a regional finals appearance and a fourth straight district crown. As a junior, Petteway averaged 19.1 points per game in helping Ball High School to a 21-6 mark to earn District 24-5A Offensive Player-of-the-Year honors. He was recruited by Auburn, Colorado, Clemson, SMU, UTEP and Colorado State before selecting Texas Tech. In addition, he also ran track and was a regional finalist in the 4x400 relay.

Personal

Terran is the son of Terry and Joetta Petteway and was born on Oct. 8, 1992, in Galveston, Texas. He is the third brother in his family to play basketball in college, as his oldest brother Terrell played at Lamar from 1999 to 2004 before playing professionally in England, and Tavoir played two seasons in junior college. Terran majors in ethnic studies at Nebraska.

CAREER HONORS

 Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll (Fall 2012, Spring 2013)

2014-15 (Outlook)

Junior Walter Pitchford poses unique problems for teams defending the Huskers. The 6-foot-10 forward may be one of the best shooting big men in college basketball. As a sophomore, Pitchford connected on 41 percent of his shots from 3-point range, as his outside shooting opened lanes for All-Big Ten performers Shavon Shields and Terran Petteway. The trio all averaged double figures in Big Ten play last year, while Pitchford played some of his best basketball down the stretch, averaging 11.0 points per game on 53 percent shooting over the final 14 games, including 17 points and nine rebounds at Indiana and a careerhigh 18 point effort at No. 9 Michigan State.

One of the most athletic players on the Husker roster, Pitchford has better than a 40-inch vertical leap and the quickness to affect the game on both ends of the court. Pitchford, who began his career at the University of Florida, has worked hard in the weightroom and improving his post game to become a more versatile player this season. He also may get more opportunities to play on the perimeter this year with the addition of senior transfer Moses Abraham.

Pitchford developed into a solid starter for the Huskers, and his maturation into a solid scoring option played a major role in Nebraska's success during the second half of the 2013-14 season. He played in all 32 games, including 31 starts, and averaged 9.3 points and 4.7 rebounds per game. The 6-foot-10 forward ranked among the Big Ten leaders in both field goal percentage (.473, 10th) and 3-point percentage (.410, seventh) in his first season at Nebraska. Pitchford was tied for second on the team in 3-pointers(48), third in scoring and blocked shots (18) and fourth in rebounding, as he was one of six Huskers to appear in every game. He reached double figures 18 times, including 11 times in the final 14 contests, when he averaged 11.0 ppg on 53 percent shooting. Pitchford, who had a pair of double-doubles, also put together a unique streak, going 339:23 without committing a turnover dating back to his season at Florida before it was snapped on Jan. 9. He was the last rotation player in the country to commit a turnover in 2013-14. He turned in a solid effort against No. 24 Ohio State in the Big Ten quarterfinals on March 14 with 15 points and five rebounds, but was held scoreless in 28 minutes against sixth-seeded Baylor in the NCAA Tournament on March 21.

In Big Ten action, he was one of three Huskers to average double figures, averaging 10.0 points and 4.8 rebounds per game as he started 17 of 18 games, missing only the start against Ohio State on Jan. 4 as he battled flu-like symptoms. He was among the conference leaders in four categories: 3-point percentage (.426, 8th); field goal percentage .481, 11th); 3-pointers per game (1.6, 12th) and rebounding (4.8, 20th). He began Big Ten play with one of the best efforts of the year, scoring 13 points and grabbing a career-high 12 boards at No. 23 Iowa on Dec. 31, including eight offensive boards. After a five-game stretch where he averaged 5.6 points and 2.8 rebounds per game, he turned it around against Minnesota on Jan. 26. Pitchford scored seven points in the first five minutes on his way to a 13-point game on 5-of-7 shooting. That began a four-game stretch where he averaged 12.3 points per game, capped by a strong effort in a win at Northwestern on Feb. 8. In that game, he scored 13 of his then-season high 15 points in the second half, as the Huskers overcame a six-point halftime deficit to pick up their first conference road win in a year. With the score tied at 44, Pitchford hit a pair of free throws with 3:10 left to give the Huskers the lead before hitting his third 3-pointer of the game on the next possession to help the Huskers clinch the win. The road heroics would continue at ninth-ranked Michigan State on Feb. 16, when he had a career-high 18 points and grabbed four rebounds in NU's stunning 60-53 win over the Spartans. He had 12 of his 18 points in the first half, including four 3-pointers, as Nebraska posted its first win over a top-10 team on the road since 1997. Pitchford became a consistent rebounder down the stretch, grabbing at least five rebounds in each of the final seven Big Ten games, including nine against Northwestern on March 1 and at Indiana on March 5. He got the Huskers off to a blistering start against the Hoosiers, scoring the games' first nine points as part of a game-high 17 points and nine rebound effort to give NU its first-ever win in Bloomington. He delivered the dagger, as his 3-pointer with 1:55 left keyed an 11-2 spurt after the Hoosiers pulled to within 59-58. He continued his late-season surge against No. 9 Wisconsin on March 9 with 15 points on 5-of-7 shooting, including a trio of 3-pointers in the win over the Badgers.

During non-conference action, he was in double figures five times, including a game-high 14 points against Western Illinois on Nov. 11. He turned in a solid effort against Miami in the Big Ten/ACC Challenge on Dec. 4 with 13 points and five rebounds, but took over after Miami pulled to within 36-31 with 7:53 left, as he scored five straight points and took a charge as the Huskers regained momentum in a key earlyseason win. Pitchford's best game in non-conference action came against Arkansas State on Dec. 14 when he scored 12 points on 5-of-8 shooting and grabbed 10 rebounds for his first career double-double.

2012-13 (Redshirt)

Pitchford sat out the 2012-13 season after transferring from the University of Florida.

Before Nebraska

Pitchford spent the 2011-12 season at Florida, where he appeared in 13 games, helping the Gators finish 26-11 and reach the NCAA Elite Eight. He totaled six points and four rebounds in 22 minutes of action on the year. He had two points against Virginia in the second round of the NCAA Tournament and grabbed a rebound in three minutes of action in the Gators' third-round win over Norfolk State. Pitchford played a season-high four minutes against Jacksonville in non-conference action and saw time in four SEC contests as a true freshman.

A three-star prospect by Rivals.com and Scout.com, he originally signed a National Letter-of-Intent with DePaul prior to his senior year, but attended postgraduate school at East Lansing (Mich.) Summit Christian Academy in 2010-11, averaging 17.4 points, 9.5 rebounds and 4.5 blocks per game. He also looked at Indiana, Iowa and Arizona State before joining the Gator program. He also attended New Creations (Ind.) Christian School and Oak Hill (Va.) Academy and played on the AAU circuit for the Michigan Mustangs and Team Detroit.

Personal

Pitchford is the first NU scholarship player in basketball from Michigan since Chester Surles, who played with the Huskers during the 1994-95 and 1995-96 seasons. Walter has one older brother, Keith, and one sister, Elizabeth. Walter, who was born on April 24, 1992, in Chicago, is the son of Walter Pitchford IV and Elaine Pitchford. He majors in ethnic studies at Nebraska.

CAREER HONORS

- ♦ Most Improved Player (2013-14)
- ◆ Unsung Hero Award (2013-14)

2014-15 (Outlook)

The contributions that senior David Rivers makes goes well beyond the boxscore. The 6-foot-7 forward provides the intangibles that any team needs to be successful. Rivers is an unselfish player who takes pride in his defensive and rebounding ability and is willing to sacrifice personal goals for the good of the team. While he averaged just 3.0 points per game last year, the Huskers' greatest success came when he was inserted into the starting lineup at forward in mid-February. Over the final nine games, he averaged 4.9 points and 4.6 rebounds per game while his defensive ability and length helped limit opponents to 37 percent shooting in that stretch. His efforts have not gone unnoticed, as he was chosen as the team's unsung hero in 2014 and shared most improved honors with Benny Parker. Rivers has gained the strength needed to battle in the post, putting on more than 30 pounds over the course of his career.

2013-14 (Junior)

It was a tale of two seasons for Rivers, whose emergence down the stretch helped the Huskers make a run to the NCAA Tournament. While he averaged 3.0 points, 2.9 rebounds and 1.0 steals per game, Rivers insertion into the starting lineup solidified the Huskers' rebounding and defense over the last month of the year. He averaged 4.9 points on 56 percent shooting and 4.6 rebounds per game over NU's final nine contests after returning to the starting lineup. He had five games with at least five rebounds in that run, including a careerhigh nine caroms in the Big Ten quarterfinal loss to Ohio State. That was one of three times where he led NU in rebounding in 2013-14. Rivers averaged 6.0 points, 5.0 rebounds and 1.5 steals per game in the postseason, including eight points and nine rebounds against the Buckeyes on March 14.

In Big Ten play, he played in 15 games and averaged 2.8 points and 3.3 rebounds per game. After playing just three minutes in NU's first four Big Ten games, a solid week of practice helped Rivers return to the rotation, and he had four points and two rebounds in 14 minutes in a win over No. 18 Ohio State. Rivers saw his minutes increase and he continued to make major contributions to NU's success. Against Illinois on Feb. 12, he matched his career high with seven rebounds in 28 minutes of work. He made his first start since Nov. 30 at ninth-ranked Michigan State on Feb. 16, and came through with six points, seven rebounds and a pair of assists in 24 minutes to help the Huskers to their first road win over a top-10 team since 1997. That began a run where he averaged 6.8 points on 89 percent shooting and 5.5 rebounds per game, including a 4-of-4 effort from the field at Illinois on Feb. 26.

Rivers started six of the Huskers' first seven games of the season, but then played just six minutes in NU's final five non-conference games. He played at least

Rivers emerged as a starter in the Huskers' frontcourt, as he moved into the starting lineup during the second half of the season. Rivers, who moved into the starting lineup after Brandon Ubel suffered an elbow injury in early January, remained a starter for the remainder of the season, as he started the Huskers' final 17 contests. He was one of only four Huskers to appear in all 33 contests, while averaging 5.6 points and 3.4 rebounds in over 25 minutes per contest.

Rivers, who played a lot of power forward in the Huskers' four-guard attack, reached double figures four times, including twice in Big Ten action. He averaged 6.2 points per game in conference play, including 40 percent shooting from 3-point range. Rivers started 15 conference tilts in addition to the Huskers' two conference tournament games in Chicago. Rivers played a major role in NU's win over Purdue with six rebounds, four points and a pair of assists in 24 minutes before fouling out. He was held scoreless in 20 minutes against Ohio State in the quarterfinals, marking only the second time he was held scoreless since moving into the lineup.

Rivers' first career start at Nebraska was a memorable one, as he nearly carried the Huskers to an upset at No. 22 Michigan State on Jan. 13. He scored 18 points on 8-of-8 shooting and grabbed six rebounds in a loss to the Spartans that was decided in the final moments. His other double-figure effort came against a ranked team with a team-high 13 points on 5-of-7 shooting and added six rebounds against No. 11 Ohio State on Feb. 2. Rivers had six rebounds in four Big Ten games, including six boards, nine points and a career-high five assists in a win over Penn State on Feb. 9. He also had six boards, seven points and a pair of assists in the Devaney Center finale against Minnesota on March 6.

Rivers was the Huskers' primary frontcourt backup during the first half of the season and provided a steady effort. He had seven points, four rebounds and a pair of blocked shots against NCAA qualifier Valparaiso on Nov. 15. He matched his personal best with seven rebounds and in a then-career best 32 minutes at Wake Forest in the ACC/Big Ten Challenge on Nov. 27. Rivers was slowed by a sprained ankle suffered in the opening minutes at Oregon on Dec. 15, and played just 11 minutes in a two-game stretch before breaking out against Central Michigan. Rivers, who had never been in double figures in his college career, propelled the Huskers to their best offensive output in three years, totaling a career-high 20 points on 8-of-10 shooting and added seven rebounds in 25 minutes in an 89-75 win. He totaled 14 of his 20 points in the second half, as his 20-point effort matched the most bench points by a Husker since November of 2010. One week later, he closed non-conference play with his second-straight double-figure effort, as he scored 12 points on 4-of-7 shooting and added six rebounds in a win over Nicholls State.

2011-12 (Freshman)

Rivers was one of three freshmen to see action for the Huskers, as he earned playing time on the wing and in the post. He appeared in 19 games, averaging 1.1 points and 0.8 rebounds a game while averaging 8.3 minutes per contest. Rivers was an active player inside as nearly half of his rebounds were on the offensive glass.

After playing a total of nine minutes in the Huskers' first four games, Rivers got his first opportunity against eventual NCAA qualifier South Dakota State. Rivers set season bests with eight points and five rebounds, hitting 3-of-5 shots from the field in 18 minutes off the bench. He continued to play well off the bench against Wake Forest in the Big Ten/ACC Challenge on Nov. 30, totaling three points and three rebounds in 17 minutes. He also played well in a come-frombehind win at TCU on Dec. 10, totaling five points and an assist in 13 minutes of work.

In Big Ten action, Rivers played in Nebraska's first three games as the Huskers were without Jorge Brian Diaz and Dylan Talley, including a season-high 20 minutes at No. 6 Ohio State on Jan. 3. He played just seven minutes over the next eight games before playing two minutes against Michigan on Feb. 8. He saw action in five consecutive games late in the conference season, including eight minutes at No. 6 Michigan State on Feb. 25. He also played three minutes in the Huskers' Big Ten Tournament opener.

Before Nebraska

Rivers came to Nebraska following a distinguished prep career, winning three state titles at Hall High School in Little Rock for Coach Eric Coleman. Rivers, who first started midway through his freshman year, was a three-time all-conference performer and helped Hall High School win three state titles (2008, 2010 and 2011) and earn a runner-up finish (2009).

As a senior, Rivers led Hall to the Class 7A (largest class) state crown and a 23-7 record, averaging 19 points, seven rebounds and three assists per game. He was a consensus first-team all-state performer and was the MVP of the state tournament, scoring 19 points and grabbing six rebounds in the title game against West Memphis after scoring 23 points in a semifinal win over Rogers High School. He was rated as the No. 46 small forward nationally by ESPN, was a three-star pick by both Rivals.com and Scout.com, and also was ranked among the top 150 overall prospects in the country by various scouting services. He was also named the state MVP and selected to the All-Southern Boys basketball team by the Orlando Sentinel following his senior campaign.

As a junior, he averaged 14 points, six rebounds and three blocks per game, leading Hall to a 28-3 record and a Class 6A state title. A first-team all-state selection, Rivers had 12 points, seven rebounds and five assists in a 64-59 win over West Memphis in the Class 6A state title game. He had four games with at least 20 points as a junior, including a season-

2014-15 (Outlook)

Shavon (pronounced sha-VON) Shields is driven to lead the Huskers back to the NCAA Tournament in 2015. The 6-foot-7 junior is one of the Huskers' leaders, making 51 consecutive starts dating back to his freshman year. Shields was second on the team in scoring at 12.8 points per game while topping the Huskers with 5.8 rebounds per contest as a sophomore en route to honorable-mention All-Big Ten honors. A savvy player with an exceptional court awareness, Shields' game flourished when the Huskers went to a bigger lineup late last season. He averaged 15.8 points per game in the Huskers' final 12 contests to help Nebraska reach the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1998. He has continued to expand his game, spending part of the summer at the adidas Nations Camp and will be counted on heavily for not only his ability, but his mature approach to the game. Shields is also an exceptional student who could push for Academic All-America honors before his Husker career ends.

Shields was one of the Huskers' leaders in 2013-14, helping Nebraska make its first NCAA Tournament appearance since 1998. He earned honorable-mention All-Big Ten honors from the conference coaches and media, averaging 12.8 points and a team-high 5.8 rebounds per game. Shields, who was one of three captains, ranked in the top 20 in the Big Ten in both scoring and rebounding and was second on the team in assists per game (1.6 apg). Shields, who was one of two Huskers to start every game, flourished when Nebraska moved him back to the wing in a larger lineup. He averaged 15.8 points per game on 49 percent shooting and 5.9 rebounds per game over the Huskers' final 12 contests. A two-time Big Ten Player of the Week, Shields reached double figures 21 times, highlighted by a career-high 33 points against Illinois. In that game, he also matched Nebraska's single-game record by going a perfect 15-of-15 from the foul line. Shields had a pair of double doubles – both in Big Ten action - and had three games with at least 10 rebounds. In the Big Ten Tournament, he totaled 12 points, six rebounds and matched his career high with four assists vs. No. 24 Ohio State and had 16 points and five rebounds in the second-round NCAA Tournament loss to Baylor.

In Big Ten play, Shields was in the top 13 in both scoring (12.7 ppg) and rebounding (5.9 rpg), one of only six players in the conference to accomplish the feat. Shields was in double figures 11 times in conference action, including five of Nebraska's final six games. Shields was bothered by a knee bruise early in Big Ten play, as he averaged just 5.8 points per Shields recorded his first double-double of 2013-14 against Purdue on Feb. 23 with 18 points and 10 rebounds and followed up with 17 points and 10 rebounds in a win over Northwestern on March 1. Shields then closed the season with his best week of the year, averaging 21.5 points and 5.5 rebounds per game in wins at Indiana and against No. 9 Wisconsin. At Indiana, he scored 11 of his 17 points in the second half, and added eight rebounds as the Huskers pulled away down the stretch for their first-ever win in Bloomington. He capped the regular season with 26 points, on 10-of-17 shooting, in a win over the Badgers on March 9.

Shields opened non-conference play on a roll, reaching double figures in each of his first five games. He erupted for 28 points against Florida Gulf Coast on Nov. 8, leading the Huskers in points, rebounds (six) and assists (three) to earn Big Ten and National Player-of-the-Week honors. He broke out of a mini slump against Creighton on Dec. 8 with a teamhigh 22 points, including a pair of 3-pointers, four rebounds and two assists. He paced NU in scoring with 15 points on 5-of-8 shooting and five rebounds against Arkansas State on Dec. 14 and scored 15 of his 17 points in the second half against The Citadel on Dec. 21 while adding six rebounds and three assists.

2013 (Summer)

Shields spent part of the summer with the Denmark U-20 National Team, leading the country to the championship of the 2013 Nordic Championship. He averaged 13.3 points per game in wins over Sweden, Finland and Estonia, capping the tournament with a 17-point, 12-rebound effort in a 101-94 double overtime win over Estonia. Shields had nine points in the opener against Sweden and 14 points in the victory over host Finland.

2012-13 (Freshman)

Shields emerged as one of the cornerstones of the Huskers' rebuilding project under Tim Miles as a true freshman.

Shields played in 29 games and averaged 8.6 points and 5.1 rebounds per game, while shooting 47 percent from the wing. Shields proved his mettle in the Big Ten, ranking in the top eight among all conference freshmen in scoring, rebounding and steals (0.8 spg). Shields reached double figures in scoring eight times while leading NU in scoring three times and eight times in rebounding.

Shields played some of his best basketball in the Big Ten Tournament, averaging a team-high 16.5 ppg on 61 percent shooting and 5.5 rebounds per game. He led NU in scoring with a game-high 19 points and added six rebounds and a pair of steals in a 57-55 win over Purdue in the first round on March 14 before totaling 14 points and five rebounds in a quarterfinal loss to No. 10 Ohio State the following day.

Shields, who started every Big Ten game but the conference opener, ranked among the league's top freshmen in scoring (9.2 ppg, seventh), rebounding (6.0 rpg, second), field goal percentage (45.0 pct., seventh), 3-point shooting 42.3 pct, second) and steals (0.9). A two-time Big Ten freshman of the week, Shields was 11th in the conference in rebounding, while raising nearly all of his numbers from non-conference play. His biggest contributions came on the boards, as he grabbed at least five rebounds in seven of the Huskers' last eight contests.

During conference play, Shields reached double figures in scoring five times, including a 17-point, seven-rebound performance in the comeback win over lowa on Feb. 23. He earned Big Ten Freshman-of-the-Week honors for the second time on the season for his performance. Shields collected his first career double-double with a 19-point, 13-rebound effort against No. 8 Michigan State on Feb. 16, the first doubledouble by a Husker freshman since the 2004-05 season. He set career highs in consecutive games in January, highlighted by a 29-point effort at Penn State on Jan. 19. Shields hit 10-of-11 shots from the field and went 8-of-8 from the line in posting the highest scoring effort by a Husker freshman since 2007 (Ryan Anderson at Hawaii). Shields also had team bests in both rebounds (six) and steals (three) to help NU to its first Big Ten win. On Jan. 16 against Purdue, Shields became the first Husker freshman in three years to lead the team in scoring with a then-career-best 18 points and eight rebounds. For his performances against the Nittany Lions and Boilermakers, Shields was named Big Ten Freshman of the Week. It was the first time since 2009 that a Husker freshman was honored by the league. He averaged 23.5 points on 73 percent shooting and 7.0 rebounds per game in the two

During non-conference play, Shields played in just one of the Huskers' first six games because of elbow surgery in October before returning to the rotation in December. He set season bests in scoring in three straight non-conference games (Creighton, Oregon and Jacksonville State), capping the run with 14 points on 6-of-7 shooting against JSU. He played a major role in NU's runner-up finish at the Sun Bowl Invitational in El Paso, averaging 5.5 points on 55 percent shooting and 7.0 rebounds in games against Central Michigan and UTEP.

Before Nebraska

Shields came to Nebraska after being one of the top players in the Kansas City area throughout his prep career. Shields joined Kentucky signee Willie Cauley-Stein as Olathe Northwest's first-ever Division I signees in November of 2011. Shields totaled 1,068 points in his three-year career at the school and finished as the school's all-time leader in points, rebounds, free throws, field goals, steals and rebounds.

He shot 60 percent from the floor, including 43 percent from 3-point range, in helping the Ravens to a 20-2 record and an appearance in the sub-state finals. Shields helped Olathe Northwest to an unblemished record in league play, earning Sunflower Conference MVP honors. In addition, he earned second-team all-class honors from the Topeka Capital Journal and Wichita Eagle, a first-team all-metro selection by the Kansas City Star and was a finalist for the DiRenna Award, signifying the top player in the Kansas City metro area.

As a junior, Shields was a second-team all-Class 6A honoree and a first-team All-Sunflower Conference selection, as he averaged 17 points and six rebounds a game. His efforts helped the Ravens finish 17-5 and fall one game shy of reaching the 2011 state tournament. He was rated as the No. 6 prospect in the state of Kansas by ESPN.com. Shields transferred into Olathe Northwest for his sophomore year, earning Sunflower League Newcomer-of-the-Year accolades. He also starred playing AAU ball for the MoKan Elite and Coach Rodney Perry. An outstanding student with a 4.0 GPA, Shields was on the honor roll throughout high school and a National Honor Society member.

- ◆ Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll (Spring 2014)
- ◆ British Virgin Islands Senior National Team (2014)

2014-15 (Outlook)

One of the questions early on during the 2014-15 season is when Leslee Smith will return to action. The 6-foot-8 forward tore his left ACL playing for the British Virgin Islands in July, but has worked tirelessly in hopes to return to action during the 2014-15 season. Smith was NU's top backup post player last year, averaging 5.4 points and 4.8 rebounds per game, while providing a physical presence in the post.

2014 (Summer)

Smith represented his country at the 2014 FIBA Caribbean Basketball Championships in Tortola, British Virgin Islands. Smith averaged 7.6 points and 4.3 rebounds per game before suffering a torn left ACL on July 3 against the Virgin Islands.

2013-14 (Junior)

Smith proved to be a valuable newcomer for the Huskers, and was one of the Big Ten's best frontcourt reserves. He played in all 32 games, averaging 5.4 points on a team-high 52 percent shooting and 4.8 rebounds per game. Smith was third for the Huskers in rebounding, while he had five games with 10 or more rebounds, which was sixth among all Big Ten players. He reached double figures in scoring six times and led the Huskers with three doubledoubles. Smith's 4.8 rebounds per game ranked second among all Big Ten reserves, while he was second on the Husker team in both blocked shots (20) and steals (29).

In Big Ten action, Smith played in all 18 conference games, averaging 3.9 points and 4.0 rebounds per game as he provided a physical presence off the bench. He had eight or more points four times in Big Ten action, including 11 points on 5-of-6 shooting and 10 rebounds at No. 3 Ohio State Jan. 4 in his only start. Smith had at least eight points in four Big Ten games, including nine points on 4-of-4 shooting at Illinois on Feb. 26, and eight each against Michigan (Jan. 9) and at Purdue (Jan. 12). Smith keyed NU's win at Indiana on March 5 with four points and five rebounds in 13 minutes.

In non-conference action, Smith quickly found a role, as he played at least 20 minutes six times in non-conference action. He reached double figures for the first time against Western Illinois on Nov. 11, scoring 10 points and pulling down five rebounds. He had 12 points and seven rebounds against South Carolina State on Nov. 17 before he recorded his first career doubledouble against UMass in the Charleston Classic on Nov. 21. In that game, he had 12 points on 5-of-7 shooting, 10 rebounds and a season-high three blocked shots. He nearly posted his second double-double of the season three days later with a seasonhigh 11 rebounds and eight points in a win over Georgia. Smith closed out nonconference action by averaging 8.7 points on 60 percent shooting and 7.0 rebounds in NU's final three non-conference games, including 10 points and 10 rebounds in a season-high 29 minutes against the Citadel on Dec. 21.

Before Nebraska

Smith played at Seward County Community College in 2012-13 for Coach Bryan Zollinger, helping the Saints win the Jayhawk West Conference championship. Smith averaged 8.3 points and a teamleading 6.6 rebounds per game to help Seward County CC to a 25-8 record and the Region VI semifinals. He reached double figures in scoring eight times, including a 16-point effort against Garden City CC, and had four games of at least 10 rebounds, including 13 caroms against Lamar State College. He totaled a pair of double-doubles while finishing second on the club with 22 blocked shots. Smith began his college career at SMU, where he spent two seasons playing for Coach Matt Doherty. After redshirting his first season, his second year got off to a slow start after he tore his right ACL in March of 2011. He played 25 games during the 2011-12 season after missing the first seven games rehabbing the injury, averaging 3.8 points, 3.4 rebounds and 1.2  $\,$ assists per game. He led the Mustangs in rebounding six times, including a pair of double-figure rebound performances. He had 12 rebounds against Southeast Missouri State and 11 against Tulane. Smith's season high in points came in a 10-point effort against Tulsa. He started SMU's final four games and made six starts during his redshirt freshman campaign.

Smith played his high school basketball at Christian Life Center Academy in Humble, Texas, for Carlos Wilson. As a senior, he averaged 12 points and seven rebounds per game. He was also selected to the school honor roll at Christian Life Center Academy. Smith helped the British Virgin Islands National Team to a silver medal at the 2009 FIBA Caribbean Basketball Confederation (CBC) Championships held on Tortola, BVI. Smith also looked at Saint Louis University and Murray State before selecting Nebraska.

CAREER HONORS

- ♦ New Zealand Senior National Team (2014)
- ◆ Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll (Fall 2013, Spring 2014)

2014-15 (Outlook)

Sophomore Tai (pronounced Tie) Webster literally traveled the world in his quest to improve. The Auckland, New Zealand, native returned home to represent his homeland and played 19 games with the national team, including a stint at the FIBA World Cup in Spain. The 6-foot-4 guard faced some of the world's top players, including Derrick Rose, Kyrie Irving and Goran Dragic, and that experience should pay dividends this winter. Webster also bulked up in the weight room, adding nearly 10 pounds since his freshman year. That increased strength has been evident in off-season training, and helped buoy Webster's confidence heading into 2014-15.

2014 (Summer)

Webster competed for New Zealand's Senior National Team, including the FIBA World Cup in Spain, helping his team to the round of 16. He averaged 5.3 points, 3.0 rebounds and 1.5 assists per game despite being the fourth-youngest player in the tournament. Webster had eight points, seven rebounds and three assists in a win over the Ukraine and added seven points and five rebounds against Turkey. Against Team USA he had four points and a pair of blocked shots in 15 minutes against the eventual gold medalists.

2013-14 (Freshman)

Webster was an immediate contributor for the Huskers as a true freshman, averaging 3.9 points, 2.1 rebounds and 2.0 assists per game in helping the Huskers reach the NCAA Tournament. He led NU with 63 assists and also was among the team leaders in steals. Webster reached double figures four times, including a season-high 14 points against Georgia, and paced the squad in assists eight times.

In Big Ten play, Webster started all 18 games, as he split time with Benny Parker during the second half of the season. He averaged just 2.6 points per game in conference play, but helped the Huskers in other areas as he was second on the team in assists (31) and fourth in steals (13) while hitting 73 percent from the foul line after entering Big Ten play at 56 percent. He enjoyed his best effort in conference play against Penn State on Feb. 23, totaling 10 points, a season-high five rebounds and a team-best three assists. It marked his first double-digit effort in Big Ten play, as he went 8-of-10 from the line against the Nittany Lions. Webster also performed well in NU's win over No. 18 Ohio State with nine points, including 5-of-6 from the foul line, and two rebounds. Webster had five points and four assists in 29 minutes in the win over Minnesota on Jan. 26 and had four points, two assists and two steals against Indiana on Jan. 30. He dished out four assists and matched his personal best with four steals at No. 22 Iowa on Dec. 31.

In his collegiate debut, Webster totaled nine points, two rebounds and an assist in helping the Huskers to a 79-55 win over Florida Gulf Coast. He reached double figures for the first time in his young career against South Carolina State on Nov. 17, totaling 13 points, four rebounds and two assists. He had 12 points and two assists in a loss to UMass on Nov. 22, before enjoying the best game of his career on Nov. 24 against Georgia. In that game, he came off the bench to score 14 points and dish out three assists in NU's 73-65 win. Webster scored 13 of his points in the second half and went 7-of-9 from the foul line. The Georgia game began a five-game stretch where he averaged 4.2 assists per game, dishing out five dimes against Miami, Creighton and Arkansas State.

Before Nebraska

Webster has enjoyed a decorated career on the international stage, as well as in his native New Zealand. After graduating from Westlake Boys High School, Webster played for the Waikato Pistons in the National Basketball League in New Zealand in 2012-13, averaging 18.5 points, 3.9 rebounds and 4.4 assists per game despite being the youngest player in the league. In his final year in school, Webster led the Westlake Boys High School and Coach Ben Eves to the National Secondary Schools Basketball Championships in October of 2012, scoring 24 points en route to garnering tournament MVP honors.

Much of Webster's acclaim was on the national and international stage, as he was selected for the New Zealand team at 17 years old. He made his national team debut in 2012, leading the Tall Blacks in scoring three times in six contests in his first senior national team action. He averaged 13.5 points per game in the 2012 FIBA World Olympic Qualifying Tournament, while shooting 52.5 percent from the field. His 21 points led all scorers in a win over Angola, as he went 7-of-12 from the field, including 5-of-6 from 3-point range. He topped New Zealand in scoring in pretournament competition against both Olympic qualifier Brazil (eight) and Greece (18). He also won a gold medal at the inaugural FIBA 3x3 U18 World Championship in Italy in 2011. In addition to his basketball, he also played volleyball at Westlake Boys High School.

Webster selected Nebraska over Pittsburgh, Virginia, Wake Forest, St. Mary's, LSU and SMU. He was a four-star recruit by ESPN.com and one of the top point guards in the class of 2013.

Personal

Tai is the son of Cherry and Tony Webster and was born on May 29, 1995, in Auckland, New Zealand. He has one older brother, Corey, who was also a member of New Zealand's national team in 2014. Tony Webster was a standout athlete in his own right, earning first team All-WAC honors at Hawaii in 1983 and ranking fourth on Hawaii's career steals list before playing professionally in New Zealand. Tai has not declared a major at Nebraska.

♦ 2013-14 Husker Lifter of the Year

2014-15 (Outlook)

It takes a lot to beat Terran Petteway at anything, especially in strength and conditioning, but at the team banquet last April, it was Nick Fuller receiving the team's Lifter of the Year trophy. The honor signified a successful first year for the Sun Prairie, Wis., native. During his first year, he added nearly 20 pounds to his frame, while reducing his body fat by more than 3.5 percent. He also saw marked increases in both his strength and vertical leap while honing his skills daily against Petteway and Shavon Shields, a pair of All-Big Ten performers.

Fuller, who has grown to 6-foot-7, also gives the Huskers a scoring threat from the perimeter, as Nebraska looks to replace Ray Gallegos, who led the Huskers in 3-pointers in each of the past two seasons. An excellent shooter, Fuller totaled 1,940 points at Sun Prairie High School in Wisconsin and was a finalist for Mr. Basketball in Wisconsin 2013.

With a year of experience in the program, the left-hander could push for significant playing time this winter and provide some outside scoring punch.

2013-14 (Redshirt)

Fuller redshirted during the 2013-14 season to get stronger and adjust to the speed of Division I basketball. He was named Lifter of the Year, adding nearly 20 pounds, while lowering his body fat to 8.3 percent. He also increased his bench press by 35 pounds, his squat by 70 pounds and his standing vertical jump by three inches.

Before Nebraska

Fuller enjoyed a storied high school career playing for Coach Jeff Boos at Sun Prairie High School. Fuller was a four-year starter and set the Big Eight Conference scoring record with 1,940 points, shattering the previous mark of 1,669 points by Jeronne Maymon, who played at Marquette and Tennessee. He had a pair of 40-point games and scored 30 or more points 15 times during his high school career. He was a two-time Wisconsin State Journal All-Area Boys Basketball Player of the Year and two-time Big Eight Conference Player of the Year. He also grabbed 693 rebounds from his forward spot.

Fuller was rated by 247Sports as one of the top 150 players in the country and was a consensus three-star recruit by Rivals. com, Scout.com, ESPN Recruiting Nation and 247Sports.com. He was listed by ESPN as the 21st-best small forward in the country in the class of 2013.

A finalist for Mr. Basketball in Wisconsin in 2012-13, Fuller averaged 25.0 points and 11.2 rebounds per game in leading Sun Prairie to a 20-4 record and the Cardinals' first conference title in 37 years. He shot 80 percent from the line and got to the line 220 times during his senior campaign. A second-team all-state selection, he was part of a talent-rich 2012-13 senior class which sent nearly 20 players to the Division I ranks. He was a two-time D1 all-state selection by the Wisconsin Basketball Coaches Association and a three-time all-state honoree by the AP.

He earned Big Eight Conference Player of the Year and Wisconsin State Journal Area Player of the Year for the first time as a junior, when he averaged 23.5 points and 8.2 rebounds per game in helping Sun Prairie to a 17-8 record and a berth in the 2012 Division I sectional semifinals. He totaled 40 points in a win over Madison West to help Sun Prairie earn a runner-up conference finish. A three-time all-conference pick and three-time all-state honoree. Fuller averaged 18.5 points per game as a sophomore and helped Sun Prairie to a 19-6 record and a sectional final runner-up. In the summers, he played for the Wisconsin Swing AAU program directed by Justin Litscher.

He also performed well in the classroom during his career at Sun Prairie, carrying a 3.5 GPA and making the honor roll all four years at the school. Fuller selected Nebraska over Minnesota and a host of schools, including Marquette, Butler, Colorado and Creighton.

Nick is the son of Jeff and Ann Fuller and was born on May 2, 1995, in Madison, Wis. He has one younger brother, Kyle. Nick, who chose Nebraska because of the coaching staff and academics, is a business administration major at Nebraska. When he arrived in the fall of 2013, Fuller became the first Wisconsin native on the Husker basketball roster since Keith Neubert in the mid-1980s.

2014-15 Outlook

One of the priorities for the Huskers in 2014-15 was to improve their interior defense, and the addition of senior transfer Moses Abraham will greatly aid that goal. Abraham, who spent four seasons at Georgetown before graduating in May, adds a physical presence and shot blocker to the Husker lineup. Last season, Abraham totaled 23 blocked shots - a total which would have been one off Nebraska's team lead - while averaging just 13.1 minutes per game at Georgetown last season.

Abraham, who was a top-100 recruit coming out of high school in 2010, is also reunited with Husker assistant coach Kenya Hunter, who worked with Abraham during his first three seasons at Georgetown.

Abraham's arrival became more important as a knee injury to Leslee Smith - the Huskers' primary frontcourt backup - will keep him sidelined until at least the start of Big Ten play.

Before Nebraska

Abraham spent four seasons at Georgetown, helping the Hoyas to three NCAA appearances during his career. He played in 31 games at Georgetown during the 2013-14 season, averaging 1.9 points on 56 percent shooting and 2.8 rebounds per game, as the Hoyas went 18-15 and reached the second round of the NIT. The 6-foot-9 forward was second on the team with 23 blocked shots while averaging 13.1 minutes per game. His best game of the season was in an overtime loss to Marquette, when he had six points, five rebounds and four blocked shots in a career-high 30 minutes of work. He had five or more rebounds in seven games, including eight against both Butler and High Point and seven at Big East Tournament champion Providence.

During his sophomore season, he returned from a knee injury to appear in 28 games, averaging 1.3 points and 2.5 rebounds per game to help the Hoyas win the Big East regular-season title and reach the NCAA Tournament. He came off the bench and played at least 10 minutes in 11 contests, including 10 times in Big East play. He grabbed a career-high 10 rebounds in games at Notre Dame and at Syracuse and had eight boards in 18 minutes against Cincinnati. During his first three years at Georgetown, he worked with current Husker assistant coach Kenya Hunter, as the Hoyas made three straight NCAA Tournament appearances.

Abraham attended Progressive Christian (Md.) Academy and averaged 15 points, 16 rebounds and 12 blocks per game in his only season at the school for Coach Taj Hawkins. He was a top-100 recruit by Rivals and was among the top-20 centers in the country by both Rivals and Scout. com in the class of 2010. He originally chose Georgetown over Indiana and Maryland.

Personal

He is the son of Josephine Adikou and was born on Jan 4, 1991, in Kano, Nigeria. Moses earned his economics degree in May of 2014 and is enrolled in graduate school classes at Nebraska. Abraham also considered Indiana, Boston College, Miami and Long Beach State for graduate school.

2014-15 Outlook

Freshman forward B.J. Day has grown up around the Nebraska basketball program. A Lincoln native, Day garnered second-team all-state honors at Lincoln Southeast High School, where he averaged 14.5 points and 6.5 rebounds per game as a senior playing for former Husker assistant coach Jeff Smith. Day walked on to the Husker program and looks to begin a legacy at a program where his father, Bernard, was a two-year standout in the mid-1980s. The elder Day shared team MVP honors with Dave Hoppen on Nebraska's first NCAA Tournament team in 1985-86. At 6-foot-5, 236 pounds, B.J. is already bigger than his father was during his college career, as B.J. also played football at Lincoln Southeast.

B.J.'s progress was slowed in early October as he suffered a knee injury in the first week of practice. He will undergo surgery and will redshirt during the 2014-15 season.

Before Nebraska

B.J. Day played his basketball at Lincoln Southeast under former Nebraska basketball assistant coach Jeff Smith, helping the Knights to three straight Class A (largest class) state tournament appearances during his four-year high school career. As a senior, he earned second-team Super-State (all classes) honors from the Lincoln Journal Star, averaging 14.5 points and 6.5 rebounds per game. A second-team All-Class A selection by the Journal Star, Omaha World-Herald and the Associated Press, Day and the Knights went 20-6 in 2013-14. He had a pair of double-doubles as a senior, including a 24-point, 12-rebound effort against Creighton Prep and 19 points and 11 rebounds against Omaha Central. Day averaged 9.3 points and 4.7 rebounds per game during his junior season, as Lincoln Southeast went 16-9 and reached the state tournament. In his four-year career at Lincoln Southeast, he totaled 943 points and 456 rebounds while shooting 51 percent from the field and 38 percent from 3-point range. In addition to playing basketball, Day also played two years of varsity football for the Knights, which reached the Class A state playoffs in 2013. He chose to walk-on at Nebraska despite receiving scholarship offers from several junior colleges and smaller programs.

Personal

B.J. is the son of Michelle and Bernard Day and was born on Oct. 20, 1995, in Bismark, N.D. He has one younger brother, Brayden. His full name is Bernard Junius Day Jr. He is studying pre-physical therapy at Nebraska.

B.J's father, Bernard, was a two-year performer for the Huskers in 1985-86 and 1986-87, starting every game at Nebraska after coming from Moberly (Mo.) Junior College. The elder Day earned honorablemention All-Big Eight honors in 1985-86, averaging 13.1 points and 6.6 rebounds per game to help Nebraska to its first NCAA Tournament in school history. He shared the Jack Moore Team MVP Award with Dave Hoppen that season. During his senior year, he paced the Huskers in scoring at 12.6 points per game, as Nebraska won 21 games and reached the NIT semifinals.

2014-15 Outlook

Freshman Jake Hammond provides the Huskers with athleticism and length in the post. The 6-foot-10, 230-pound freshman was one of the top performers in the state of Oklahoma as a senior, averaging 26.2 points, 14.8 rebounds and 5.7 blocks per game last season. Hammond, who grew up in the Dallas area before moving to Oklahoma for high school, has a 7-foot-2 wingspan and is a physical player on the defensive end. Hammond has worked on getting stronger since arriving on campus in June, and is now at 230 pounds entering the season.

Hammond may be in line for playing time early in his career as senior forward Leslee Smith recovers from an ACL injury suffered in July. Hammond and senior transfer Moses Abraham will look to fill the void until he returns to the lineup.

Before Nebraska

Hammond was a dominant post player at Comanche (Okla.) High School for Coach Nick Price. The 6-foot-10 forward averaged 26.2 points, 14.8 rebounds, 5.7 blocks and 3.1 steals per game as a senior, helping the Class 3A school to a 22-6 record and the second round of the area tournament. He was rated as the No. 2 prospect in the state of Oklahoma by both ESPN.com and 247Sports as a senior, and was a threestar recruit by ESPN.com, Scout.com and 247Sports.com. He was ranked as the No. 115 player in the country by Hoop Scoop. His senior season was highlighted by a pair of 40-point efforts, including 41 points in the regional. He was chosen first-team all-state by the coaches association and Regional Player of the Year by the Duncan Banner. A finalist for Mr. Basketball in Oklahoma, he was also selected for the Faith 7 Basketball Bowl, pitting some of the top players from Oklahoma and Texas against each other. As a junior, Hammond played for national power Sunrise Christian Academy in Bel Aire, Kan., playing for Coach Kyle Lindsted where he averaged 12 points per game in helping the school to a 29-1 record and a No. 6 ranking in the MaxPreps Academy Top-10 in 2012-13.

JAKE HAMMOND

Hammond, who grew up in the Dallas area before his family moved to Oklahoma, spent the summer playing for the Dallasbased Pro Skills and the Oklahoma Magic AAU programs. As a sophomore, Hammond averaged 14 points, 15 rebounds and six blocks per game for the Oklahoma City Storm, a home school team, and began his high school career at Duncan High School as a freshman. Hammond selected Nebraska over a number of schools, including Oklahoma, TCU and Texas Tech.

Personal

Jake is the son of David and Sandy Hammond and was born on March 2, 1995, in Grand Prairie, Texas. He has two younger brothers, Jon and Joseph. Jake has not declared a major. He will look to become the first letterwinner from the state of Oklahoma in Husker basketball history.

2014-15 Outlook

One of the benefits of the Big Ten's eastward expansion is the ability for the Huskers to get into areas where they have not had success recruiting previously, and freshman Tarin Smith is an example. The 6-foot-2 guard is the first Husker freshman basketball player from the state of New Jersey, and comes to Nebraska after playing at one of the nation's top high school basketball programs in St. Anthony.

Smith continues a long line of college point guards from St. Anthony and Hall of Fame Coach Bob Hurley. Smith was a two-year starter at point guard, helping the Friars to a 53-7 record and a pair of state runner-up finishes. He averaged 15 points and four assists per game as a senior. Smith was overshadowed early in his high school career, as he played behind 2014 NBA firstround pick Kyle Anderson as a sophomore while his backcourt mates as a junior included current lowa State guard Hallice Cooke and Temple guard Josh Brown, who was a top-150 player coming out of high school.

Smith is an athletic defender who possesses length for the Husker backcourt, as well as an intelligent player who picks things up quickly. His development could give the Huskers intriguing options in the backcourt, where NU returns Tai Webster and Benny Parker.

Before Nebraska

Smith was a two-year starter at St. Anthony (N.J.) High School, one of the premier high school basketball programs in the country. During his two seasons as a starter, Smith guided the Friars to a 53-7 record, a pair of sectional titles and state runner-up finishes in 2013 and 2014 for Hall of Fame Coach Bob Hurley. As a senior, he was a first-team all-state pick by the AP and a third-team honoree by the Newark Star-Ledger, as he averaged 15 points, four rebounds and four assists per game, as St. Anthony finished with a 25-5 record. Smith reached double figures in all but two games as a senior, including a pair of 23-point outings. One of his best performances was a 12-point, eight-assist, six-rebound effort in a win over eventual state champion Roselle Catholic. During his junior year, he averaged more than seven points per game while sharing time at guard with a pair of current Division I performers. That season, St. Anthony went 28-2 and finished second in the state in its class. Smith was the only sophomore on the varsity team in 2011-12, when the Friars went 32-0, was ranked first nationally and won the Tournament of Champions title as the best team in the state. Hurley has won over 1,100 games and 25 state titles since taking over the St. Anthony program in 1972. During his tenure, he has coached over 150 players who have signed with Division I programs. Smith also played with the Sports U AAU program and was one of five players from Sports U to sign with power-conference teams in 2013-14. The valedictorian of his high school class at St. Anthony, Smith was also a member of the National Honor Society. Smith also strongly considered Providence and Ole Miss before selecting Nebraska. He chose Nebraska for the "great coaching staff, good academics and the Big Ten Conference."

TARIN SMITH GUARD 6-2 l OCEAN TOWNSHIP. N 175

Personal

Tarin is the son of Tanya Allen-Smith and Stephen Smith and was born on Dec. 6, 1995, in Ocean Township, New Jersey. Tarin is studying business administration at Nebraska. Smith will look to become the third Husker letterwinner from New Jersey, joining Pete Manning (1988-89, Trenton) and Dylan Talley (2012-13, Camden). Both Manning and Talley came to Nebraska after stints in junior college.

"I promise you this. You give us a chance, Husker fans you give us a chance and we're going to come through for you. We've exceeded expectations everywhere we've been, and I intend to continue to do the same."

- Tim Miles at his introductory press conference on March 24, 2012

Exceeding expectations. That's what Tim Miles has done throughout his collegiate coaching career.

A proven program builder who has enjoyed success at the Division I, Division II and NAIA levels, Tim Miles was named the 27th basketball coach at the University of Nebraska on March 24, 2012.

"Tim Miles is an ideal fit to lead our men's basketball program," then-Nebraska Athletic Director Tom Osborne said when announcing the hiring. "He has built successful programs at four schools at different levels of college basketball. Tim is from this part of the country, has recruited the Midwest and will relate well to our players, prospective recruits and our fans."

For Miles, who hails from Doland, S.D., the opportunity to coach in the Big Ten and the new facilities for Nebraska basketball, including the Hendricks Training Complex and the Pinnacle Bank Arena, puts the Husker basketball program in position for success

"Now is the best time in history to be the men's basketball coach at Nebraska." Miles said. "We're in the premier basketball league in the country, and we want to build on that. We want to make the Big Ten even better than it is right now and that is our job right now."

Miles, the only active coach who has taken teams to the postseason at the Division I, Division II and NAIA ranks, made monumental strides in his second year at Nebraska, leading the Huskers to the NCAA Tournament for the first time in 16 seasons. For his efforts, he won the lim Phelan

Award for national coach of the year, and was selected as the Big Ten Coach of the Year by his peers.

In 2013-14, the Huskers, who were picked to finish last in the Big Ten, became one of the big stories in college basketball, going 19-13 and reaching the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1998. The ride was remarkable for the Huskers, as they opened Big Ten play with a 1-5 record before orchestrating a turnaround which saw the Huskers win 10 of their final 12 Big Ten games to finish fourth with an 11-7 record. The stretch including a pair of wins over top 10 teams - a 60-51 win at No. 9 Michigan State which was the Huskers' first road win over a top-10 team since 1997 and a 77-68 win over a Wisconsin team which reached the Final Four. Nebraska's 11 conference wins were the most by a Husker basketball team since 1966.

Nebraska's improvement came on the defensive end of the floor, as the Huskers finished second in the Big Ten second in field goal defense (.415) and third in scoring defense (64.3 ppg) during conference play. NU held eight straight Big Ten teams to under 40 percent shooting.

Sophomore Terran Petteway became the first Husker to win a Big Ten scoring title, as he averaged 18.1 points and 4.8 rebounds per game en route to first-team All-Big Ten honors. Petteway, who became Nebraska's first unanimous first-team all-conference pick since 1998, was one of four freshmen and sophomores in the everday lineup. Fellow sophomore Shavon Shields earned honorable-mention All-Big Ten honors, as he averaged 12.8 points and a team-high 5.8 rebounds per game. Four of Nebraska's top six scorers were all in their first year of competition at Nebraska.

Miles' energetic personality has also spurred unprecedented fan interest in the Husker program. Nebraska sold out its first season at Pinnacle Bank Arena, averaging a school-record 15,419 fans per game. The increase of 5,067 fans per game marked the largest increase in college basketball since 2007. The Huskers went 15-1 at home in 2013-14, the best home record by a Husker team since the 1982-83 campaign and the best record in the Big Ten during 2014-15.

In his first season at Nebraska, Miles took a team that returned one starter and two of its top nine scorers, and improved the Huskers' win total from 12 to 15 despite facing one of the nation's toughest schedules, including a school-record 10 ranked teams. Nebraska posted wins over a trio of NCAA Tournament teams before capping the season with a win over Purdue in the Big Ten Tournament in Chicago – the program's first Big Ten Tournament victory. Not a bad feat for a program that was a near unanimous choice for the league cellar by the league's pundits.

Before taking the Nebraska job, Miles spent five seasons building the Colorado State program into a contender in the Mountain West Conference. He increased his victory total in each of his five years at CSU, culminating in a 20-12 record and the school's first NCAA appearance in nine seasons during his final year in Fort Collins. After winning 16 games in his first two years at CSU, his teams went 55-41 over the last three years, reaching postseason play in each campaign.

The 2011-12 Rams posted the school's first 20-win season since the 1997-98 campaign while playing a schedule rated as the fourth-toughest in the country. Colorado State set a school record with three wins over ranked teams and placed three players on the All-Mountain West team. Miles was named the District VIII Coach of the Year by the U.S. Basketball Writers Association for his efforts. The Rams' 20-win season was only the seventh in the program's 108 seasons of competition despite playing a school-record eight ranked foes.

The Rams were one of four Mountain West teams to receive bids in the 2012 NCAA Tournament. CSU averaged 70.1 points per game on the season and topped the Mountain West Conference in field-goal percentage (47.1), 3-point percentage (40.0) and free throw percentage (76.8) and was one of two programs in the country to rank in the top 10 in both free throw percentage and 3-point percentage.

Three of Miles' players earned All-Mountain West honors, marking the program's most honorees in its half century affiliation with the WAC or Mountain West conferences. Wes Eikmeier earned first-team Mountain West honors after averaging 15.5 points per game, while Dorian Green and Pierce Hornung were both third-team honorees. Hornung also was named to the league's all-defensive team in 2011-12.

In 2010-11, Miles guided the program to a 19-13 record, a fourth-place finish in the Mountain West, and a berth in the NIT, reaching milestones at every step along the way. The 2010-11 campaign marked the Rams' first winning season since 2007, and the squad became the 10th in program history to record 19 or more victories in a single season.

Tim Miles has guided four schools to postseason berths, including Nebraska's first NCAA Tournament appearance in 16 seasons during the 2013-14 season.

2014-15 NEBRASKA MEN'S BASKETBALL | HUSKERS.COM | @HUSKERHOOPS

Tim Miles has been active in selling the basketball program, whether it is celebrating with students after a big win or making national and local media appearances, meeting with former players after practices or welcoming back former players like Tyronn Lue for Legends Weekend. Coach Miles is also active on twitter, where he is one of the most followed coaches in college basketball and provides fans a unique look into the Husker program. The Rams' nine conference victories were the most for CSU since the formation of the Mountain West in 1999-2000, and CSU's fourth-place finish was the best since a fourth-place finish in the inaugural MW season. Miles and the Rams' received votes in the top-25 national polls for the first time since 2005-06, and he became just the third coach in the program's 100-year plus history to take the Rams to back-to-back postseason appearances. The Rams also won the ESPN Cancun Governor's Cup, defeating Southern Miss in the title game. Senior Andy Ogide became only the second Ram to earn first-team Mountain West honors as he averaged 17.2 points and 7.7 rebounds per game in 2010-11. He was also a first-team all-district honoree from the NABC.

Miles' third Colorado State team continued to make improvements, as the 2009-10 Rams won 16 games and reached postseason play for the first time since 2003 with a berth in the 2010 College Basketball Invitational (CBI). For his efforts, Miles was selected as the Mountain West Coach of the Year by CollegeInsider.com in 2010.

During his first two years, Miles began to build the Colorado State program despite battling numerous injuries. In 2007-08, he led a roster that featured just one returning starter to early season success, including a tournament championship at the Top of the World Classic in Fairbanks, Alaska. And, after battling through a tough conference slate, the Rams ended the season on a high note with a victory over rival Wyoming in the opening round of the Mountain West tournament.

His second season in Fort Collins proved to be just as fruitful as the Rams continued to make strides. Miles led the Rams to early season victories over Montana and Northern Colorado, both of which had beaten the Rams the previous year, and lost a one-point game against Minnesota. In addition, the Rams boosted their win column with four conference wins against UNLV, Air Force (twice) and TCU.

While establishing a tradition of winning in college basketball, Miles' philosophy extends far beyond the basketball court. He and his staff are committed to academics and the success of their student-athletes in the classroom.

At Colorado State, he donated back to the school and the community by capping the J.J. Williams scholarship endowment in 2011 and establishing the Ram Basketball Legacy scholarship endowment, while making a contribution to School is Cool, a CSU driven program to support Poudre School District.

With 19 years of experience as a head coach at four institutions, he has compiled a career record of 317-251 that includes three conference championships and seven postseason tournament appearances.

Before taking over the Colorado State program, Miles spent six seasons at North Dakota State, guiding the Bison through the transition to the Division I ranks. He won at least 16 games in each of his final five seasons at the school, including the program's first three years at the Division I level. Miles' tenure at NDSU was highlighted by a pair of road wins over top-15 squads in his final two seasons.

In 2005-06, the Bison, who started three redshirt freshmen, snapped Wisconsin's 27-game win streak against non-conference foes with a 62-55 win over the 13th ranked Badgers, marking one of only six non-conference home losses in Bo Ryan's 11 seasons at Wisconsin.

In his final season at NDSU, Miles guided the Bison team that had one senior on the roster to a 20-8 record, including a 64-60 win at eighth-ranked Marquette in the championship game of the 2006 Blue and Gold Classic. North Dakota State was one of only two independent programs with a winning record in 2006-07.

Miles showed his ability to turn around programs during his tenure at Southwest Minnesota State University. He took a program that had only one winning season in the previous decade and went 78-39 in his four seasons at the school, recorded the first 20-win season in school history, and led Southwest Minnesota State to back-to-back winning seasons for the first time in more than two decades.

In his final year at the school, the Mustangs won a school record 28 games – the first 20-win season in program history – captured the 2001 Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference championship and reached the Division II Elite Eight. For his efforts, Miles was named the National Coach of the Month by the Division II Bulletin in December 2000 and was the NSIC and North Central Region Coach of the Year following the 2000-01 campaign.

Miles began his head coaching career at Mayville (N.D.) State University, guiding the program to a 35-22 record from 1995 to 1997 and a pair of conference titles after Mayville State went 4-44 during the previous two seasons.

He began his coaching career as an assistant coach at Northern State for six seasons from 1989-90 through 1994-95 and helped the Wolves to five NAIA playoff appearances and five regional titles. He was the recruiting coordinator for NSU and was responsible for bringing in and coaching five All-Americans at that school.

A native of Doland, S.D., he graduated from the University of Mary in Bismarck, N.D., in 1989 and earned a master's degree in health and physical education from Northern State in Aberdeen, S.D., in 1990. He was inducted into the University of Mary Athletic Hall of Fame in 2007.

Miles, and his wife, Kari, have one daughter, Ava, and one son, Gabriel.

Chris Harriman is in his third season at Nebraska, joining the Husker basketball program as an assistant coach in May of 2012.

In his role, Harriman works with both the frontcourt and backcourt players and assists with opponent scouting. Harriman's teaching and coaching has been instrumental in the development of the Husker wing players over the last two years, as three players have earned All-Big Ten honors.

In 2013-14, Harriman helped Terran Petteway become the first Husker since 1998 to capture first-team all-conference honors. Petteway also led the Big Ten in scoring at 18.1 points per game, the first time a Husker has been a conference scoring leader in more than 60 years. Sophomore Shavon Shields also earned honorable-mention All-Big Ten honors and was a two-time Big Ten Player of the Week, as he was second on the team in scoring and first in rebounding.

In his first season at NU, Harriman helped turn Dylan Talley into an All-Big Ten performer, as he led the Huskers in both scoring and rebounding. In addition, he helped Ray Gallegos improve his scoring average more than 10 points per game from his previous year of competition. In addition, his recruiting acumen helped Nebraska sign Tai Webster, who started 30 games as a freshman in 2013-14 and played for New Zealand in the FIBA World Cup in 2014.

Prior to joining the Husker staff, Harriman spent four seasons as an assistant coach at Saint Louis University working under the tutelage of the late Rick Majerus. During his tenure, the Billikens posted a pair of 20-win seasons, including a 26-8 mark in 2011-12 that culminated in a third-round appearance in the NCAA Tournament.

In 2011-12, the Billikens won 26 games, finishing second in the Atlantic-10 Conference with a 12-4 mark and earning the program's first NCAA Tournament bid since 2000. SLU ranked in the top 25 nationally in four categories, including scoring defense (57.6, eighth), scoring margin (11.1, 14th), turnover margin (+3.5, 16th) and turnovers per game (11.2, 25th) and received the program's first national ranking since 1994. SLU downed Memphis, 61-54, for the program's first NCAA win since 1995 before falling to No. 1 seed Michigan State, 65-61 in the third round.

The longest-tenured member of Majerus' SLU staff, Harriman filled in as head coach for a game in March of 2012 when Majerus was hospitalized and guided the Billikens to a 75-60 win at Duguesne, a victory that clinched second place in the Atlantic-10.

A native of Sydney, Australia, Harriman's recruiting ties helped SLU land highlyregarded players, including top Australian players Cody Ellis and Christian Salecich, and New Zealand's Rob Loe. In fact, Harriman played a lead role in recruiting four of SLU's top seven scorers in his final year for the Billikens.

Prior to SLU, Harriman served for four years as an assistant coach at Nova Southeastern University in Fort Lauderdale-Davie, Fla. He worked under head coach Gary Tuell, his college coach at Augusta State. Harriman was instrumental in recruiting student-athletes to NSU and established a strong coaching reputation in Australia. Joining a rebuilding NSU program, Harriman helped the Sharks post 48 victories during his tenure. A 17-win season in 2005-06 was the biggest turnaround in 15 years in Division II basketball. In 2007-08, he helped Tim Coenraad earn first-team NABC All-South Region honors.

As a player, Harriman had a short stint in his homeland Australia's National Basketball League in 1997-98 with a traditional league power, the Sydney Kings. He moved to the United States and attended Augusta State (Ga.) University. Harriman tallied 627 points and 375 assists in his playing career at ASU and was named league Player of the Week in January 2003. As a senior, he led the Peach Belt Conference in steals. Harriman led ASU to two NCAA Division II Tournaments and one PBC North Division title, and he was a part of 78 victories.

After graduating from Augusta State in 2003, Harriman played the 2003-04 season with the Hunter Valley Pirates in the NBL and was runner-up for Rookie of the Year honors. After his professional playing career, Harriman joined the coaching staff at Nova Southeastern.

Kenya Hunter is in his second season at Nebraska after joining the Husker coaching staff in June of 2013.

In his role, he coaches the Husker post players and also assists in player development and opponent scouting. Hunter's tutelage of Walter Pitchford helped the Husker sophomore rank among the team leaders in both scoring and rebounding in 2013-14.

Prior to joining the Husker program, Hunter spent six seasons at Georgetown and was instrumental in helping Georgetown to a pair of Big East titles (2008 and 2013), five 20-win seasons and five NCAA Tournament bids in his tenure. His teams were ranked in the top 10 during each of the six seasons at the school and were either a No. 2 or No. 3 seed in the NCAA Tournament four times in that span.

In his tenure at Georgetown, Hunter played a significant role in the development of four NBA players. The group included all-star Roy Hibbert and Greg Monroe, who was the No. 7 pick of the Detroit Pistons in the 2010 NBA Draft. Most recently, Hunter developed Otto Porter, who was the Big East Player of the Year in 2012-13, and the No. 3 pick in the 2013 NBA Draft.

Hunter has worked with some of college basketball's top coaches, including Thompson, Arizona's Sean Miller and Arizona State's Herb Sendek. Hunter has helped 12 teams reach postseason play over the last 13 seasons, including 11 NCAA appearances.

At Georgetown, he was involved in offensive and defensive on-court coaching and opponent scouting while also playing a leading role in the Hoyas' recruiting efforts. Three of Hunter's recruiting classes were among the top 25 nationally, as he played a major role in the recruitment of 11 players who were ranked among the top 100 nationally by either ESPN.com or Rivals. com. His ability to develop players resulted in five players earning first-team All-Big East honors and two Big East Rookies of the Year, while Porter was honored as Georgetown's first Big East Player of the Year since 2007.

Prior to joining the Georgetown staff, Hunter spent three years as an assistant coach at Xavier University, where he helped Coach Sean Miller to back-toback 20-win seasons, including a 25-9 record and a second-round appearance in the 2007 NCAA Tournament. At Xavier, he assisted in on-court coaching as well as playing a major role in recruiting.

Hunter also has experience in the ACC, spending two stints at North Carolina State. He served as Director of Basketball Operations for the Wolfpack from 2000 to 2004, and was responsible for the day-to-day administrative responsibilities for the men's program, which made three straight NCAA Tournaments during his tenure.

He began his full-time coaching career at his alma mater, Duquesne, spending two seasons at the school. Hunter was responsible for on-floor coaching and off-campus recruiting. He helped the Dukes staff bring in the top recruiting class in the Atlantic 10 in 1999.

A four-year letterwinner point guard for Duquesne (1993-96), Hunter finished his career ranked third on the Dukes' all-time assist list (439). He tallied 971 points and 218 steals while shooting 74.4 percent from the free throw line and 35.1 percent from the three-point arc. After starting 93 of his 103 career games for the Dukes, Hunter was a two-time recipient of the Sihugo Green Award, presented annually to Duquesne's top upperclassman. He was also a threeyear captain. During his playing career at Duquesne, Hunter spent the summers as an assistant coach for an AAU squad, the Pittsburgh Jots. He worked with Head Coach John Miller, the father of Sean Miller and Dayton coach Archie Miller.

In high school, Hunter starred on the gridiron as well as the hardwood. He was an accomplished football quarterback as well as a point guard at Wakefield High School in Arlington, Va. Following his high school career, he teamed with former Syracuse guard Lawrence Moten to lead New Hampton School in New Hampshire to a 23-3 record prior to enrolling at Duquesne.

Hunter completed his liberal arts degree at Duquesne in 1996, and earned his master's degree in education from NC State in 1998. While earning his master's degree, Hunter was a student manager at North Carolina State under Herb Sendek from 1996 to 1998 and accompanied the Wolfpack to a pair of NIT appearances.

Hunter is married to the former Johncie Brown of Durham, N.C. The couple has a son, Jaylin and a daughter, Kendall.

One of the most well-respected teachers in college basketball, Jim Molinari (pronounced Mole-in-AIR-ee) joined the Nebraska staff in April of 2014, and brings more than three decades of Division I coaching experience to Nebraska, including 20 years of head coaching experience.

He is a three-time conference coach of the year during his career, while he has guided nine teams to postseason play. In addition, he has been a member of 10 NCAA Tournament staffs during his 13 seasons as a Division I assistant coach.

Molinari spent the past six seasons at Western Illinois, leading the Leathernecks to their first-ever postseason appearances at the Division I level. In 2012-13, he guided WIU to a 22-9 record and a share of the Summit League regular-season title with a 13-3 mark. The 22 wins were the program's highest total since moving to Division I while he was named the Summit League Coach of the Year and the NABC District 12 Coach of the Year. He was also a finalist for the Hugh Durham Award (CollegeInsider.com Mid-Major Coach of the Year). WIU led the nation in fewest fouls committed and was second in scoring defense at 52.6 points per game, while ranking in the top 75 in six categories. Molinari coached Terell Parks who was tabbed second-team NABC all-district and also named first-team All-Summit League and the Summit League Defensive Player of the Year in 2012-13.

In 2011-12, WIU broke through with an 18-15 record and an appearance in the College Basketball Invitational, the program's first-ever postseason appearance at the Division I level. The Leathernecks reached the Summit League title game for the first time since 1997, while the 18 wins were the most since 1996-97. Ceola Clark led the team earning Summit League Defensive Player of the Year for the second straight season, becoming the first player in conference history to be a two-time winner of the award. Clark was also a three-time All-Summit League performer, including a two-time first-team winner.

In 2007-08. Molinari served as an assistant coach at Ball State, following a three-year stint at Minnesota in which he was the interim head coach for most of the 2006-07 season. In his first season as an assistant at Minnesota, his defensive emphasis helped the Gophers rank third in Big Ten scoring defense (62.7 points per game). They led the league in field goal percentage defense (.424) and three-point field goal percentage defense (.274) in conference play, and allowed 62.9 points per league game, the fewest since the 1981-82 season. In 2005, Street & Smith's named Molinari the "best assistant in the Big Ten Conference."

For 11 seasons, from 1991-2002, Molinari was the head coach at Bradley University, where he amassed a 174-152 (.534) record and guided the Braves to the postseason six times - five National Invitation Tournament appearances and the 1996 NCAA Tournament. He led Bradley to a trio of 20-win seasons, including a 22-8 record in 1995-96 when he was chosen as Missouri Valley Conference Coach of the Year. He left Bradley with more league wins than any other active coach in the Missouri Valley.

From 1989-91, he was the head coach at Northern Illinois, where he posted a record of 42-17 (.712). The Huskies won the 1991 Mid-Continent Conference title, going 25-6 and setting a school record for wins. At NIU, Molinari inherited a program that had not won as many as 17 games in a season since 1981, but made a quick turnaround with a 17-win season followed by a 25-win campaign in just his second year at the school.

At DePaul from 1979-89, Molinari helped both Ray and Joey Meyer lead the Blue Demons to national prominence. Over 10 seasons at DePaul, Molinari helped recruit college and professional stars such as Mark Aguirre, Dallas Comegys, Tyrone Corbin, Terry Cummings and Rod Strickland -- players who led DePaul to nine NCAA Tournaments and a runner-up finish in the NIT.

In addition to his collegiate coaching experience, Molinari is a veteran of national selection committees for international competition. He led the 1997 USA Basketball men's team to a gold medal at the World University Games played in Trapani, Italy. For two years in between collegiate coaching positions, Molinari was an NBA scout for the Toronto Raptors (2002-03) and Miami Heat (2003-04).

His college playing career began at Kansas State, where he teamed with current Oklahoma head coach Lon Kruger for two seasons. After transferring to Illinois Wesleyan, where he teamed with former NBA center Jack Sikma, Molinari helped the Titans win consecutive league titles, before entering the coaching ranks in 1978 as a part-time assistant with DePaul.

Molinari earned his bachelor's degree in English from Illinois Wesleyan University in 1977 and earned a Juris Doctor from DePaul in 1980.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS | WISCONSIN-WHITEWATER, 1990

Since taking over for the legendary Tom Osborne as Director of Athletics on Jan. 3, 2013, Eichorst has immersed himself in Nebraska's rich traditions. He has made nearly 300 public appearances, including nearly 200 speaking engagements in Nebraska. He serves on the Chancellor's Senior Administrative Team and regularly meets with campus administrators and deans. Eichorst's monthly radio show and Connecting on Campus column promote the university's academic and athletic successes, along with the academic and community achievements of Husker student-athletes.

Eichorst was also the first Director of Athletics to visit the Big Ten-based Committee on Institutional Cooperation (CIC) at its Champaign, Ill., headquarters. The CIC is a highly successful academic-based consortium of 15 schools, including all 14 in the Big Ten Conference. Nebraska is leading the Big Ten and the CIC in several areas, including the Digital Humanities and head injury research.

Under Eichorst's watch, Nebraska extended its nation-leading total of CoSIDA Academic All-Americans to 314, including seven in 2013-14. NU also increased its nation-leading total to 17 NCAA Top Ten Award winners, as Mary Weatherholt (women's tennis) earned the honor in 2014. A total of 279 Huskers were honored at the Student-Athlete Recognition Banquet, and 208 Husker student-athletes earned Academic All-Big Ten honors in 2013-14, an increase of 20 from 2012-13.

In 2013-14, Nebraska became one of only two NCAA institutions – and the first Big Ten program in history – to qualify for a football bowl game, and advance to NCAA postseason in the major team sports of volleyball, soccer, men's and women's basketball, baseball and softball. Nebraska was the only institution to win a postseason game in six of those seven sports.

The Nebraska football team completed its sixth straight nine-win season, while playing in its third consecutive New Year's Day bowl game, a win over Georgia. The volleyball team advanced to the NCAA Elite Eight in its first season at the Bob Devaney Sports Center. The Husker soccer team qualified for the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 2005, and advanced to the second round after winning Big Ten regular-season and tournament titles.

The women's basketball team captured Nebraska's first-ever conference tournament title while earning an NCAA Tournament win for the second straight year. The Huskers also hosted an NCAA Regional at Pinnacle Bank Arena – the first time since 1993 that NCAA Tournament basketball came to Lincoln. The men's basketball team earned Nebraska's first trip to the NCAA Tournament since 1998, following a top-four Big Ten finish. The men's and women's basketball teams qualified for the NCAA Tournament in the same season for the first time since 1998.

The bowling team earned an NCAA runnerup finish, and the rifle team finished fifth at the NCAA Championships. The women's gymnastics program made the NCAA Super Six and earned a share of the Big Ten title. The men's gymnastics team added an eighth-place NCAA finish, while the wrestling team claimed 11th at nationals - its top showing at the NCAA Championships since 2009.

The softball team shared the Big Ten regular-season title and advanced to an NCAA Super Regional for the second straight season. The baseball team earned its first NCAA Tournament bid since 2008. It marked the first time in school history the baseball and men's basketball teams advanced to the NCAA Tournament in the same season.

The men's track and field team finished 12th at the NCAA Outdoor Championships, after finishing 17th at the indoor meet. The women added a 19th-place finish at the NCAA Outdoor Championships.

The Huskers produced 42 All-Americans who won 51 awards, including 29 first-team honors - NU's highest totals in more than a decade.

Nebraska ranked in the top 20 nationally in attendance in football (90,933, 9th), volleyball (8,175, 1st), men's basketball (15,419, 13th), women's basketball (6,161, 11th), baseball (3,241, 15th) and softball (963) in 2013-14. NU's football, men's basketball and volleyball attendances were all school records, and the Huskers extended NCAA-record home sellout streaks in both football (333) and volleyball (201).

Nebraska is focusing on improving the game-day atmosphere at every venue, including a $12.3 million upgrade of its wireless networks in and around Memorial Stadium in 2014. It is the largest wireless network system installation at a college stadium in history. The upgrade includes a new sound system, IPTV system installation and innovative smartphone applications.

In the summer of 2013, Memorial Stadium expansion increased capacity while adding the innovative Nebraska Athletic Performance Laboratory (NAPL) inside East Stadium next to the Center for Brain, Biology and Behavior (CB3). The men's and women's basketball teams became the primary tenants at Pinnacle Bank Arena, and the renovated Devaney Center became the home of the Husker volleyball, wrestling and men's and women's gymnastics programs.

The next major facility project is a worldclass, $20.4 million Nebraska Soccer and Tennis Complex, located just north of the Devaney Center and Innovation Campus. When completed in 2015, the facilities will rank among the best in the Big Ten.

Eichorst came to Nebraska after serving as Director of Athletics at Miami in 2011 and 2012. During his tenure, Eichorst helped grow the academic reputation of an already sterling program with NCAA Top 10 recognition in Academic Progress Rates (APR) for five programs – football, baseball, men's diving, women's cross country and women's golf. Miami's Hurricane Club grew to more than 5,000 nationwide. A total of $19 million in student-athlete support was generated in 2011-12, and $14.2 million in capital gifts was raised for the Center for Athletic Excellence.

Eichorst hired legendary men's basketball coach Jim Larrañaga, and the Hurricanes advanced to the NIT second round. The women's basketball program posted the highest national ranking in school history (No. 5) and advanced to the NCAA second round. The women's tennis team advanced to the NCAA Elite Eight for the fourth straight season, and the baseball team made its 40th consecutive NCAA appearance. The women's soccer team posted the first NCAA Tournament win in history, and the volleyball team made its third straight NCAA Tournament trip.

Before heading to Miami, Eichorst was the Deputy Athletics Director at Wisconsin from 2009 to 2011. He was the Chief Operating Officer and oversaw the day-to-day operations (23 intercollegiate programs, 850 student-athletes, 320 full-time employees) under Director of Athletics and former Husker Barry Alvarez. Eichorst was involved in the design and planning of a new ice hockey and swimming facility, and the Student-Athlete Performance Center at Camp Randall Stadium.

At South Carolina, Eichorst oversaw daily operations of the department and supervised Lou Holtz's and Steve Spurrier's football programs and Ray Tanner's baseball program. The football team was bowl-eligible each season, and the baseball team competed in the 2004 College World Series. Additionally, he coordinated and supervised multi-million dollar facility projects, including a football training facility.

From 1999 to 2003, Eichorst served as the Director of Athletics at Wisconsin-Whitewater, which produced four top 10 percent NACDA Directors Cup finishes, one NCAA team title, two NCAA runner-up finishes and five individual national champions. The program also featured 11 COSIDA Academic All-America selections, seven NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship winners and 74 All-Americans.

A native of Lone Rock, Wis., Eichorst was an all-conference defensive back. three-time letterwinner and 1990 football team captain for Wisconsin-Whitewater. He graduated magna cum laude in business from UW-Whitewater in 1990 and earned a law degree from Marquette in 1995. He practiced law in Milwaukee until 1999. He is a past member of the NCAA Division I Student-Athlete Reinstatement Committee and the State Bar of Wisconsin Board of Governors. He previously served as an assistant adjunct professor of law at Marquette Law School, where he taught classes in sports law. He serves on the Marquette University National Sports Law Institute Board of Advisors. In 2006, Marquette awarded Eichorst the Sports Law Alumnus of the Year award. He also is a graduate of the Sports Management Institute and serves on its Executive Committee.

MARC BOEHM

EXECUTIVE ASSOCIATE ATHLETIC DIRECTOR | KANSAS STATE, 1984

A member of the Nebraska Athletics senior administration since May 2003, Marc Boehm (pronounced BAME) serves as executive associate athletic director and is the top assistant to the athletic director. Boehm fulfills the director's responsibilities in his absence and also serves as the department's chief operating officer.

Boehm oversees the efforts of several areas within athletics, including the Huskers Athletic Fund, ticket operations, event management and guest services. He also oversees the Nebraska men's and women's basketball programs. Boehm serves as the liaison to Pinnacle Bank Arena, the NU Foundation and the Nebraska Alumni Association.

Boehm, who previously oversaw the efforts of the facilities, marketing, media relations and HuskerVision areas within the athletic department, played a primary role in negotiations for Nebraska's contract extension with IMG College Sports. To date, it is the largest multi-media rights contract in college athletics.

As the primary administrator for the NU basketball programs, Boehm played an integral role in the hiring of Tim Miles as the Huskers' men's basketball coach in March of 2012. In 2013-14, Miles earned the Jim Phelan Award as the national coach of the year, after capturing Big Ten Coach-of-the-Year honors from his peers earlier in the season. Boehm also played a lead role during the men's and women's basketball programs move into Pinnacle Bank Arena in 2013-14. He also worked to help develop Nebraska's new practice facility - the Hendricks Training Complex - which opened in October of 2011.

Boehm has worked to create a fan-friendly atmosphere at men's and women's basketball, leading to record-setting attendances and season ticket sales for both programs. In 2013-14, the men's basketball program sold out its season tickets for the entire season in May of 2013 in anticipation of the first season at Pinnacle Bank Arena and Coach Miles' second Husker team. The more than 15,000 Husker fans that packed the new arena watched the Big Red roll to a 15-1 home record on their way to the 2014 NCAA Tournament. It was the fifth postseason trip for the men's basketball program since Boehm's arrival. NU ranked 13th nationally in average home attendance (15,419) on its way to a top-four regular-season finish with an 11-7 record in the powerful Big Ten Conference while going 19-13 overall.

Under Boehm's supervision, Coach Connie Yori's women's basketball program has enjoyed the most success in school history over the past eight years. The Husker women have earned six NCAA Tournament bids, including a pair of NCAA Sweet 16 appearances in 2010 and 2013 and two more trips to the NCAA second round. The Huskers have produced the four highest single-season win totals in NU history over the past five years. The Big Red have also finished the season ranked in the top 25 in four of the past five seasons - the first four top-25 final national rankings in school history.

In 2013-14, Yori's Huskers won their first-ever conference tournament title, claiming the Big Ten crown with a 3-0 run at Bankers Life Fieldhouse in Indianapolis. The Huskers finished with a 26-7 overall record that included a 12-4 Big Ten mark for the second straight year. NU earned a No. 4 seed in the NCAA Tournament and advanced to the second round.

Boehm also played a lead role in bringing NCAA Tournament basketball back to Lincoln for the first time since 1993, as the Husker women played host to the NCAA Lincoln Regional. The two sessions attracted well over 17,000 fans as one of the most successful sites in the tournament.

During the regular season, the Husker women ranked No. 8 nationally in total home attendance with more than 110,000 fans flocking to the arena as the Huskers tied a school record with 16 home victories. NU's average home attendance of 6,161 fans per game ranked 11th in the country.

Yori, who joined Miles in winning Big Ten Coach-of-the-Year honors from the conference coaches in 2014, earned her third league coach-of-the-year award in the last five seasons. She was also a consensus national coach-of-the-year in 2010.

Boehm, who played a significant role in aiding Nebraska's functional transition to the Big Ten Conference in 2011-12, was also instrumental in conceptualizing and developing the Husker Nation Pavilion, which is the premier pregame event around home football games.

Boehm also took the lead role in obtaining First National Bank and Ameritas as premier sponsors for the Nebraska Athletic Department for a combined deal worth more than $7 million over a three-year period. First National Bank and Ameritas joined Verizon, Pepsi and adidas as premier corporate sponsors for Husker athletics.

Boehm held the same position at Pittsburgh from 1997 to 2003. Boehm assisted in the rise of the Panthers' basketball program with the men's team posting back-to-back Sweet 16 appearances in the NCAA Tournament. During construction of the Panthers' new athletic facilities, Boehm played a central role in Pitt's athletic teams moving to the UPMC Sports Performance Complex, Heinz Field and the Petersen Events Center.

Boehm served as interim athletic director at Pittsburgh for nearly five months before coming to Nebraska. During that time, he hired men's basketball head coach Jamie Dixon.

Boehm also spent five years as associate executive director of the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl. He directed and managed a 125-member fund-raising committee of Arizona business people responsible for generating more than $4.5 million in cash and in-kind partnerships. Previously he spent four years as associate executive director and public relations director of the Sun Bowl from 1987 to 1991.

Born in Grand Island, Boehm earned his bachelor's degree in communications from Kansas State in 1984 and added a master's degree in sports management from St. Thomas (Fla.) University in 1985. Boehm and his wife, the former Janelle Broderick of Minot, N.D., have three boys, Broderick, Christian and Lukas John.

THE BIG TEN CONFERENCE

Known as one of intercollegiate sports' most successful undertakings, the Big Ten is home to a lineage of legendary names and an ongoing tradition of developing strong leaders. Even in its infancy, the conference established itself as the preeminent collection of institutions in the nation, where the pursuit of academic excellence prevailed as the definitive goal.

The history of the Big Ten traces back nearly 120 years to the Palmer House hotel in Chicago, where on January 11, 1895, then-Purdue president James H. Smart and leaders from the University of Chicago, University of Illinois, University of Michigan, University of Minnesota, Northwestern University and University of Wisconsin set out to organize and develop principles for the regulation of intercollegiate athletics.

At that meeting, a blueprint for the administration of college athletics under the direction of appointed faculty representatives was outlined. The presidents' first known action "restricted eligibility for athletics to bonafide, full-time students who were not delinquent in their studies." That important legislation, along with other legislation that would follow in the coming years, served as the primary building block for amateur intercollegiate athletics.

On February 8, 1896, one faculty member from each of those seven universities met at the same Palmer House and officially established the mechanics of the conference, which was officially incorporated as the "Intercollegiate Conference Athletic Association" in 1905.

Indiana University and the State University of Iowa became the eighth and ninth members in 1899. In 1908, Michigan briefly withdrew its membership, and in 1912 Ohio State University joined the conference, bringing its membership total back to nine. Upon Michigan's return in 1917, the conference was first referred to as the "Big Ten" by media members, and that name was eventually incorporated in 1987.

As the 1900s opened, faculty representatives established rules for intercollegiate athletics that were novel for the time. As early as 1904, the faculty approved legislation that required eligible athletes to meet entrance requirements and to have completed a full year's work, along with having one year of residence.

In 1901, the first Big Ten Championship event was staged when the outdoor track and field championships were held at the University of Chicago. The debut event marked what is now a staple of conference competition. Today, the Big Ten sponsors 28 sports, 14 for men and 14 for women, including the debut of men's and women's lacrosse this academic year, furthering the conference's commitment to broad-based programming and providing opportunities to more student-athletes than any conference in the country.

One of the conference's proudest traditions began in 1902 when Michigan took on Stanford in the Rose Bowl, the nation's first bowl game. Big Ten teams only appeared in Pasadena twice before the conference signed an exclusive contract with the Tournament of Roses in 1946, making it the first bowl game with permanent conference affiliations. But Michigan's appearance in 1902 cultivated a relationship that has endured for more than a century. In January 2014, Michigan State defeated Stanford in the 100th Rose Bowl Game.

Coupling the academic goals set forth by the leaders of the charter members of the conference and their steadfast commitment to athletics, the conference instituted the Big Ten Medal of Honor in 1915. It is awarded annually by each conference institution to a student of the graduating class who has attained the greatest proficiency in scholarship and athletics. It is the most prestigious honor a conference student-athlete can receive and in 2014, the conference celebrated its 100th anniversary.

In 1922, Major John L. Griffith became the conference's first "Commissioner of Athletics." Griffith was the first of five men to assume the role of commissioner in the conference's history, followed by Kenneth L. "Tug" Wilson in 1945, Bill Reed in 1961, Wayne Duke in 1971 and current commissioner James E. Delany in 1989.

After nearly 30 years as a 10-member conference, the conference consolidated to a nineschool league when the University of Chicago formally withdrew its membership in 1946. Michigan State College (now Michigan State University) was added to the Big Ten three years later, bringing the number of affiliated conference schools to 10 once again.

In 1955, the Big Ten formulated a revenue-sharing model designed to pool all football television rights of its members and share those proceeds equally. The conference and its members continue to utilize a revenue-sharing model, dividing media rights, bowl payouts and other profits among all conference institutions.

In one of Duke's first actions as commissioner, he oversaw the adoption of the Big Ten Advisory Commission in 1972, designed to study conference programs and make suggestions which would further Big Ten objectives. The Advisory Commission enlists former student-athletes to serve as liaisons to the NCAA's Diversity and Inclusion Department, the Big Ten Student-Athlete Advisory Commission and other organizations.

In 1981, the conference presidents and chancellors endorsed a proposal that enabled universities to affiliate their women's intercollegiate programs with the conference, and the first conference championships for women were staged that fall. The Big Ten was the first conference to voluntarily adopt male and female participation goals after launching its Gender Equity Action Plan in 1992.

James E. Delany Commissioner

Rick Boyages Associate Commissioner

Brett McWethy Assoc. Director of Communications

In December of 1989, the conference agreed in principle to invite Pennsylvania State University for membership. On June 4, 1990, the Council of Presidents officially voted to integrate Penn State into the conference, giving the Big Ten 11 members.

In 2004, the Big Ten implemented a pilot program of instant replay for college football. Following the season, the conference forwarded replay proposals to the NCAA regarding the future use of instant replay, where it approved country-wide testing in 2005. In 2006, the NCAA approved the use of instant replay for all conferences.

In 2006, Commissioner Delany announced the creation of the first conference-owned television network, a 20-year agreement with Fox Cable Networks to create what would become the Big Ten Network (BTN). BTN launched on August 30, 2007, and is in 60 million homes. BTN is carried by all major cable, satellite and telco providers, as well as more than 300 cable operators across the United States and Canada. BTN2Go is the network's 24/7 simulcast available on smartphones, tablets and the internet that also allows international fans to access BTN.

On June 11, 2010, the Big Ten Council of Presidents/Chancellors (COP/C) approved a formal membership application by the University of Nebraska, expanding the conference to 12 institutions. Nebraska officially joined the Big Ten Conference on July 1, 2011.

The conference expanded its footprint further in 2012 when the COP/C approved formal membership applications from the University of Maryland and Rutgers University on November 19 and 20, respectively. Maryland and Rutgers became official Big Ten members on July 1, 2014, giving the conference almost 9,500 student-athletes and more than 11,000 participation opportunities on 350 teams in 42 different sports.

In the fall of 2013, the Big Ten opened a new conference headquarters and meeting center in Rosemont, Ill. The newly constructed building is located 10 minutes from O'Hare Airport and has been designed to fully service the needs of nearly 200 meetings annually for Big Ten and Committee on Institutional Cooperation (CIC) related committees and coaches groups. The new headquarters also features an interactive digital museum - the Big Ten Experience – which opened to the public on June 7, 2014, and brings the conference's storied academic and athletic history to life. For more information, on the Big Ten Experience, go to bigten.org.

In June 2014, the Big Ten opened a second office in New York City, featuring both office and meeting space in Midtown Manhattan. Three Big Ten staff members are based in the New York City office to provide expanded coverage and service, while other conference and institutional administrators will utilize the space as necessary when conducting business on the East Coast. The Big Ten and its member institutions also have access to satellite office space in Washington, D.C.

Delany and his staff work to meet the educational needs of student-athletes to allow them to excel in both academics and athletics. The conference office manages 28 different championships and tournaments, offers legislative and compliance services, oversees the production and distribution of more than 1,200 events annually, provides staff services to coaching and administrative personnel and services media and fans interest for information on the Big Ten Conference.

Nearly 120 years after its inception, the Big Ten remains a national leader in intercollegiate athletics on and off the field. Big Ten programs have combined to win more than 300 team and nearly 1,700 individual NCAA Championships, consistently taking home individual honors for athletic and academic accomplishments and fulfilling the Big Ten's mission of academic achievement and athletic success.

For outsiders around the Nebraska basketball program, the 2013-14 season will be looked back on as a breakthrough year, but for Coach Tim Miles and the team, it was about setting a standard for the group and striving for that every day.

When media members and fans asked what the goal should be for the Husker program, Miles, as he is known to do, was quick with a reply, a response which has been the same since he took over the helm of the program in March of 2012 after leading Colorado State to three straight postseason appearances.

"We want to get to the NCAA Tournament and win when we get there."

With a host of newcomers and one double-figure scorer back from a team that went 15-18, there were plenty of question marks as the 2013-14 season commenced. Prior to the season, the Huskers were picked to finish last in the Big Ten in an informal media poll, but Miles believed that the Huskers would surprise people.

"If you look at the facts, I understand. But as a competitor, you're like, 'No way, no frickin' way," Miles said at Big Ten Media Day in Chicago in October. "I look up all the way through (our schedule) and go, 'We can beat those guys, we got those guys, I know we beat those guys last year, we're going to beat them again.' You just have that faith in your team that you're going to do it."

"And I believe in our guys. So I don't think we're going to end up 12th, and I think it's going to be a good thing, Miles said."

Shavon Shields totaled a game-high 28 points against Florida Gulf Coast and was one of two Huskers to earn All-Big Ten honors in 2013-14.

That belief that Miles had in his team, despite a rocky start in Big Ten play, never wavered even during a 1-5 start.

Fast forward to March, as Nebraska finished a 19-13 season with the school's first NCAA Tournament appearance since 1998. As Miles addressed the media before Nebraska's second-round game, he talked about the difference between expectations and goals.

"So expectations, I think really can skew you the wrong way," Miles said. "But your goals are what you strive for. Your attitude every day is what really matters. Our goals never changed even when we were 1-5. We wanted to be in the NCAA Tournament."

The catalyst to the turnaround was keyed by two things - an increased emphasis on the defensive end of the court as well as a subtle lineup adjustment triggered an in-season turnaround that few outside the program could envision.

Two players - junior David Rivers and sophomore Benny Parker - went from being at the end of the rotation to becoming instrumental contributors down the stretch. Rivers, a 6-foot-7 forward, provided the Huskers with more size and length and rebounding, while Parker, a 5-foot-9 guard, provided toughness and tenacity on the perimeter and a change of pace off the bench.

To get into the NCAA Tournament, Nebraska, which was 9-9 on the season following a 58-54 loss to Penn State on Jan. 23, needed to string together some wins in the final month of the season.

The impetus of the change came on the defensive end of the floor first. The Huskers, who were 12th in the Big Ten in field goal defense entering the conference season, did not allow an opponent to shoot over 50 percent over their final 16 games, including an eight-game stretch of holding foes to under 40 percent shooting. That marked the first time in over four decades that Nebraska had accomplished the feat. The Huskers finished second in the Big Ten in field goal defense (.415) and third in scoring defense (64.3 ppg).

"That's been our calling card," Miles said following a win at Indiana in early March. "I'll bet you money — even though I would never do that — that if you ask these guys if their calling card would be defense in October, they would have laughed at you."

A four-point win over NIT champion Minnesota on Jan. 26 began a surge including a 10-2 stretch to close the Big Ten slate. The run featured a pair of top-10 wins (at No. 9 Michigan State and No. 9 Wisconsin), as well as the first sweep of Indiana in program history.

The statement came in East Lansing on Feb. 16, when the Huskers delivered a stunning 60-51 win over the ninth-ranked Spartans. The Huskers jumped to an early 13-4 lead and showed poise, as Michigan State erased the deficit in the first half. Michigan State cut Nebraska's lead to 51-49 before Petteway delivered the dagger. The sophomore guard's 3-pointer with 2:32 left highlighted a 23-point effort, as he scored 14 straight second-half points for the Huskers, while Walter Pitchford added 18 points, including four 3-pointers, in the win - the Huskers' first win on the road over a top-10 team since 1997.

Nebraska held Michigan State to 34 percent shooting and forced 11 turnovers, earning the Terran Petteway scored a career-high 35 points in the win over Minnesota. His 35 points against the Gophers were the most during conference play in 2013-14. Petteway went on to earn first-team All-Big Ten honors - the first by a Husker player since 2008.

praise of Michigan State head coach Tom Izzo.

"They reminded me of some of our old teams," Izzo said. "They took it at us. They talked it, they walked it, they played it."

Nebraska continued to play with more confidence, returning home to rout Penn State and Purdue - two teams which had beaten the Huskers earlier in conference play - to put itself in position for a top-four finish heading into the final week of the season.

The Huskers headed to Bloomington looking for another crucial road win and sophomore Walter Pitchford got the Huskers off on the right track. The 6-foot-10 sophomore scored the first nine points for Nebraska, as the Huskers never trailed en route to completing their first-ever regular-season sweep of Indiana. There were heroes up and down the roster, including senior Ray Gallegos, who broke a long slump with nine points, including a pair of key 3-pointers in the second half to push the lead to 10 points. He was one of several Husker reserves with big performances, as Benny Parker added eight points in 19 minutes, while Leslee Smith had four points and five rebounds in 13 minutes.

The regular season came down to the final Big Ten game, when the Huskers hosted ninth-ranked Wisconsin. In front of a school-record crowd of 15,998 on No-Sit Sunday, Nebraska rose to the occasion, using a 12-1 second-half surge to overcome a four-point deficit to regain the lead for good. Petteway and Shavon Shields led all scorers with 26 points each while Pitchford added 15 points as the trio combined for 67 of the Huskers' 77 points against the Final Four bound Badgers.

As it was most of the season, Nebraska's sophomore trio of Petteway, Shields and Pitchford provided the bulk of the Huskers' offensive attack.

Petteway became one of the biggest surprises in the Big Ten in 2013-14, leading the conference in scoring at 18.1 points per game, as he became the first Husker in over 60 years to earn that honor. Petteway, who had 12 20-point games, became the first player since 1998 to earn consensus first-team all-conference honors. A transfer from Texas Tech, he became the first Big Ten player in three years to put up multiple 30-point efforts, including a careerhigh 35 points against Minnesota.

Shields emerged as one of the Huskers' most consistent performers, as he averaged 12.8 points and a team-high 5.8 rebounds per game. Shields, who had four games of at least 20 points, scored a career-high 33 points against Illinois, including a school-record 15-of-15 from the foul line. Shields was at his best down the stretch, averaging 17.6 points per game on 50 percent shooting over the Huskers' final five contests, including 26 points against the Badgers.

- .938 Nebraska's home winning percentage, as the Huskers went 15-1 at Pinnacle Bank Arena in 2013-14. NU went 2-0 against ranked teams, while the only loss was a 71-70 setback against Big Ten regular-season champion Michigan on Jan. 9.
- 4 The Huskers had four players total double-doubles in 2013-14 (Leslee Smith, Walter Pitchford, Shavon Shields and Terran Petteway).
- ${f 7}$  Nebraska made its seventh NCAA Tournament appearance in 2013-14, the school's first appearance since 1998.
- 8 Number of games Nebraska played against ranked opponents in 2013-14, going 3-5 in those contests. The Huskers picked up a pair of wins over top-10 teams for the first time since 1993-94.
- 9 Number of Huskers who have scored in double figures at least once in 2013-14.
- 11 Nebraska's Big Ten wins, which are the school's highest total since 1965-66. The only other times NU won 11 or more conference games were back in 1915-16 and 1924-25 when Nebraska was a member of the Missouri Valley Conference.
- 18.1 Scoring average for sophomore guard Terran Petteway, which led the Big Ten. Petteway became the first Husker to lead a conference in scoring in all games since 1950. He also averaged a conference-best 18.6 ppg in Big Ten play.
- 158 Number of 3-pointers made by Ray Gallegos in his Husker career, including 137 over his final two seasons. The total ranks seventh on Nebraska's career list.
- 15,419 Average attendance for the Huskers, setting a school record and ranking 13th nationally. The mark shattered the previous school mark of 13,357 in 1992-93.

Sophomore Walter Pitchford emerged as a third scoring option down the stretch for the Huskers, averaging 9.3 points per game while shooting 41 percent from 3-point range. Pitchford was in double figures in seven of NU's final nine games, including a career-high 18 points at Michigan State.

Pitchford, who transferred in from Florida, developed into a solid third scoring option, averaging 9.3 points and 4.7 rebounds per game in his first action as a Husker. The 6-foot-10 sophomore shot 41 percent from 3-point range, and averaged 11 points per game on 53 percent shooting over the Huskers' final 14 games. He keyed NU's win at No. 9 Michigan State with a career-high 18 points, including four 3-pointers, and added 17 points on 7-of-10 shooting, and nine rebounds at Indiana.

Miles was recognized for guiding Nebraska to 11 Big Ten wins, its highest total in nearly 50 years, as he was named Big Ten Coach of the Year and won the Jim Phelan Award as national coach of the year. Nebraska's fourth-place finish in the Big Ten was the program's best conference finish since 1999, while NU knocked off two top-10 teams for the first time since the 1993-94 season.

The other part of the Huskers' success was its new home, and how quickly Pinnacle Bank Arena provided Nebraska with an impressive homecourt advantage. The Huskers shattered school records for attendance by averaging 15,419 fans per home game to rank 13th nationally and post the largest single-season increase in college basketball since 2007. NU was an impressive 15-1 at Pinnacle Bank Arena with the only loss coming to Big Ten regular-season champion Michigan by one point. From opening night to the final regular-season game, the facility was packed, serving as the Huskers' sixth man.

It was only appropriate that the Huskers gathered at Pinnacle Bank Arena for the NCAA selection show to learn their postseason fate. With over 2,500 fans on hand, Nebraska received the word that its 16-year draught from the NCAA Tournament had ended, and the Huskers would face Baylor in San Antonio.

While a 14-point loss to the Bears ended a magical run, the 2013-14 season will be looked at fondly as a breakthrough year for Nebraska basketball.

Ray Gallegos closed his Husker career with 15 points against Baylor in the NCAA Tournament.

PINNACLE BANK ARENA

Opened on Aug. 29, 2013, Pinnacle Bank Arena is the home of the Nebraska men's and women's basketball programs. Located in the Haymarket District in downtown Lincoln, Pinnacle Bank Arena has a basketball capacity for over 15,000 and is quickly becoming one of the premier concert destinations in the Midwest. In its first year, it hosted concerts ranging from Jay-Z, Paul McCartney, Jason Aldean, Katy Perry, The Eagles and Michael Bublé.

Pinnacle Bank Arena opened to rave reviews during its first year of operation. It was a nominee for best New Major Concert Venue by Pollstar Magazine, one of five facilities in the world chosen for the honor. In April of 2014, the facility was chosen as the Best Arena in College Basketball by Athletic Business, a magazine source for athletic, fitness and recreation professionals.

The 470,400-square feet arena was created with basketball in mind. The facility features a split upper concourse, allowing fans to be closer to the floor than in a typical arena. Pinnacle Bank Arena also features expansive premium seating with 36 suites, 20 loge boxes and over 800 club seats in addition to courtside seating. Other arena amenities include free wifi, a Panasonic video board which is 16 1/2 feet tall and 22 feet wide, as well as an upper video board which is six feet tall and 22 feet wide, and retractable seating to allow an intimate environment on game days as well as over 160 concession points of sale. The arena also features an expansive student section with 1,000 seats on the 100 Level, including behind both team benches.

The $179-million dollar arena is easily accessible in downtown Lincoln as nearly 5,100 parking stalls are within walking distance of the facility, including three new parking garages and the Festival Space to the north of Pinnacle Bank Arena. Pinnacle Bank Arena is part of a $344 million project in the Haymarket District in downtown Lincoln which also includes a 200-room hotel, 100,000 square feet of retail space, another 100,000 square feet of office space and 100 residential units.

Mikki Moore led Nebraska to the 1996 NIT championship game, where the Huskers defeated St. Joseph's, 60-56, to earn their first-ever basketball title on the national level.

Cookie Belcher shares the school record with six steals in a postseason game. He accomplished the feat on three occasions as a Husker.

THE HISTORY OF HUSKER BASKETBALL

By Mike Babcock

As near as anyone can determine, the University of Nebraska was first represented by a men's basketball team on Feb. 2, 1897, just six years after Dr. James A. Naismith set down the rules of the game at the International YMCA Training School in Springfield, Mass.

A team from the Lincoln YMCA was the opponent, and Nebraska posted an 11-8 victory at Grant Memorial Hall, the home of the Huskers for all but two seasons until the Coliseum opened in 1926. The same teams played in Grant Hall three weeks later with a similar result, as NU won 23-14. Nebraska had to rally in the second game. The Hesperian, a student newspaper, reported: "At the end of the first half the score stood 9 to 6 in favor of the visitors but during the second half our boys took a brace and some excellent work was done."

Such was the modest beginning of a program that has enjoyed its greatest success since 1980. In that span, NU has earned a 504-379 record and 18 postseason appearances, including six NCAA Tournaments, while adding a Phillips 66 Big Eight Tournament title in 1994 and the 1996 National Invitation Tournament championship.

Nebraska doubled its schedule in 1898, losing twice to the Lincoln YMCA and splitting two games with the Omaha YMCA. A 16-12 loss against the Omaha YMCA provided evidence as to why Nebraska finished 1-3 that season. According to The Hesperian account: "The great difficulty of the University team was mere recklessness. Our boys have been playing with a loose interpretation of the rules. The officials were strict and of course the resulting advantage was in favor of Omaha." Then as now, overly aggressive play had its drawbacks.

Nebraska played teams from other universities for the first time in 1899, winning two games against Nebraska Wesleyan and one against Doane en route to the unofficial state championship. The next season, Nebraska played an out-of-state opponent for the first time, defeating the University of Kansas, 48-8, at Lincoln. That game still ranks as the worst loss for a Jayhawk team and was the first for either school against a present-day NCAA Division I school and the first matching present-day Big 12 Conference institutions.

The Kansas team was coached by Dr. Naismith. The Nebraska student yearbook, Sombrero, wrote: "A closely contested game was looked for. The Jayhawkers were, however, completely outclassed, the score being 48-8." Based on the victory against Kansas and four other similarly decisive victories, "the basketball team for this year was undoubtedly superior to any in the west," the Sombrero concluded. It would be several years before such a claim could be made again.

Nebraska hired its first full-time coach in 1911. E.O. "Jumbo" Stiehm, who scored 24 points against Nebraska as a Wisconsin basketball player in 1908, coached both football and basketball. His first Husker basketball team won 14 of 15 games, its only loss coming at Minnesota, 40-15. The student newspaper, The Daily Nebraskan, blamed the loss on Nebraska's inability to adjust to the Gophers' "100-foot floor."

A Daily Nebraskan account of Nebraska's 29-28 season-ending victory against Kansas at Lincoln in 1912 provides evidence that some fans' behavior hasn't changed much over the years.

"The game as a whole was entirely unsatisfactory, being marred by rough tactics of the visitors, incompetent work on the part of the referee and interruptions by the audience, which were in part justifiable."

Nebraska shared the Missouri Valley Conference championship with Kansas in 1912 and 1914 and won the title outright in 1913 under Stiehm's leadership. The 1913-14 team was "so fast it took a movie camera to catch 'em," according to the Cornhusker student yearbook. It was described as a "point-a-minute" team, which wasn't quite accurate. Typically, games lasted 40 minutes (though that wasn't always the case), and Nebraska averaged 30 points per game. Guard Sam Carrier became Nebraska's first All-America basketball player in 1913. He and Carl Underwood led the Huskers to 17 victories in 19 games. Underwood was the Missouri Valley Conference scoring leader with 66 points in 10 conference games.

Nebraska won another conference title outright in 1916, after Sam Waugh replaced Stiehm as the Cornhuskers' coach for one season. Stiehm, who coached the first game of the season before giving way to Waugh, had planned to remain at Nebraska through the basketball season before leaving to become coach and athletic director at Wisconsin. But the Nebraska Athletic Board decided to replace him.

Waugh was succeeded by E.J. "Doc" Stewart, whose three Cornhusker teams had a combined record of 29-23. Nebraska was 22-2 in 1919-20 and 11-3 in 1920-21 under Coach P.J. Schissler. After the 1919-20 season, Schissler challenged the University of Chicago to a game, but to no avail. The Cornhuskers also were invited to a postseason AAU tournament in Atlanta but didn't go.

Schissler's teams played as independents. Nebraska lost its affiliation with the Missouri Valley Conference because of a decision to play a football game against Oklahoma in Omaha in 1919. Conference rules prohibited such games (Oklahoma had not yet joined the Missouri Valley Conference). Nebraska returned to the Missouri Valley Conference in 1921, and Owen Frank replaced Schissler as basketball coach. The remainder of the Roaring 1920s was, for the most part, undistinguished.

Basketball was rough and tumble. There was a center jump after every basket and no requirement to cross mid-court in 10 seconds or less. The ball was a lot different, too, more like a medicine ball, which contributed to some dull games.

The most significant event during the 1920s was the building of the Coliseum, which was dedicated on Feb. 6, 1926. The Cornhuskers dropped a 25-14 decision to Kansas in the first game at their new home, which was built at a cost of $445,000 and seated 8,000 for basketball. Prior to that, Nebraska played most of its home games in Grant Hall, which seated about a fourth as many fans as the Coliseum and was located just to the north of where the Sheldon Art Gallery now stands.

Athletic Director Fred Leuhring arranged for Nebraska to play its home basketball games at the State Fairgrounds Coliseum in 1921, in order to accommodate more spectators. The Cornhuskers played two seasons at the Fairgrounds Coliseum, which had a wider court than Grant Hall

The first game there was played on Jan. 14, 1921. Nebraska defeated conference opponent Grinnell 31-10 before an audience of 1,500, according to newspaper estimates. After two seasons, the Cornhuskers returned to Grant Hall, which had been remodeled, and continued to play home games there until the NU Coliseum opened.

Nebraska ended the decade with an 11-5 season under Charles T. Black, a former Kansas All-American in 1928-29. In the next 19 seasons, the Huskers had just two winning records. back-to-back campaigns under Coach W.H. Browne in 1935-36 and 1936-37. The 1937 team tied Kansas for the Big Six championship, after finishing second to the Jayhawks in 1936.

The 1930s produced four more Cornhusker All-Americans: center Don Maclay in 1931, guard Steve Hokuf in 1933, guard George Wahlquist in 1936 and guard Robert Parsons in 1937. Maclay was the Big Six scoring leader in 1930, scoring 112 points in 10 league games.

Harry Good was hired as head coach in 1946 and after two losing seasons, turned Nebraska's fortunes around. In 1948-49, Good's Huskers went 16-10, tied Oklahoma for the Big Seven regular-season championship and defeated the Sooners, 57-56, in a conference playoff to qualify for an NCAA playoff game. The NCAA Tournament was structured differently then, and the Cornhuskers needed to win that playoff to advance into the NCAA field. They lost to Oklahoma A&M, the Missouri Valley Conference champion, 52-35, at Kansas City, Mo. Coach Henry P. Iba's Aggies went on to finish second to Kentucky, coached by Adolph Rupp, in the NCAA Tournament.

In 1949-50, Nebraska again won 16 games and shared the Big Seven crown with Kansas and Kansas State. That marks the last time the conference had a three-way tie at the top. "We were King in our day," Claude Retherford once told a newspaper reporter. "They were firing football coaches left and right, but we packed 'em in. Oh, people were interested in football, but basketball was THE game on the Nebraska campus when we played." Retherford earned All-Big Seven recognition in 1949 after leading the conference in scoring with a 12.4 pointsper-game average.

The Cornhuskers had another first-team All-Big Seven performer in 1949, Milton "Bus" Whitehead. The 6-10 center from Scottsbluff, Neb., also earned all-conference honors in 1950, when he averaged a then-school-record 15.7 points per game. Whitehead was named to the District V All-America team by Collier's Magazine. Whitehead also was the first Cornhusker selected to play in the East-West All-Star Game in New York City's Madison Square Garden. When he graduated, Whitehead held nine school scoring records.

Nebraska basketball experienced another drought beginning in 1950-51, with 15 consecutive losing seasons. Despite playing for a team that finished last in the Big Seven in 1952, Husker guard Jim Buchanan earned All-America and all-conference honors. And even though the late Jerry Bush, dubbed the "Big Bear of the Coliseum," never produced a winning team in his nine seasons as head coach at Nebraska, his colorful personality and uncanny ability to fashion upsets kept Cornhusker fans entertained.

The most dramatic upset during Bush's tenure as coach came on Feb. 22, 1958, against Kansas. The Jayhawks featured 7-foot center Wilt Chamberlain and were ranked fourth in the nation when they came to Lincoln. Earlier in the season, the Jayhawks had defeated the Huskers, 102-46, at Lawrence, Kan., with Chamberlain matching Nebraska by scoring 46 points. Nebraska scored a 43-41 victory in the rematch, when 5-9 guard Jim Kubacki hit a 15-foot jump shot with two seconds remaining.

But that's only part of the drama. Kubacki, a senior from Toledo, Ohio, spent all but the final 6:53 of the game sitting on the bench in street clothes, forced there by a knee injury and the kind of fate from which legends are built. When the Cornhuskers' captain, Gary Reimers, left the game with leg cramps, Kubacki convinced Bush to let him suit up. Four minutes and seven seconds later, Kubacki went into the game. Two minutes and 44 seconds after that, he hit the winning shot.

Bush also had the distinction of coaching the school's first 1,000-point scorer, guard Herschell Turner, who came from Indianapolis, Ind., where he was rated the second-best high school player in the state as a senior, behind only crosstown-rival Oscar Robertson. Turner earned All-America honors in 1959 and followed with All-Big Eight honors in 1960 and ended his Cornhusker career with 1,056 points.

Following the 1962-63 season, Bush was replaced as head coach by Joe Cipriano, who brought the nickname "Slippery Joe" and up-tempo basketball to the Coliseum. His teams pressed full-court and ran a fast-break offense, which led the Big Eight in scoring average in 1966, 1967 and 1968.

Cipriano's first two teams had a combined record of 17-33. But his third team, in 1965-66, was one of the most successful in school history, finishing 20-5 and second to Kansas in the Big Eight. All-Big Eight guard Grant Simmons, the first Cornhusker to earn academic All-Big Eight honors, was the team's leader.

The 1966-67 team finished 16-9 and made the school's first appearance in the 16-team National Invitation Tournament, played at New York City's Madison Square Garden. Guard Stu Lantz was a two-time All-Big Eight pick and led the Cornhuskers in scoring and rebounding in both 1966-67 and 1967-68.

Guard Marvin Stewart and center Chuck Jura earned All-Big Eight honors for Cipriano in 1971 and 1972, respectively. Guard Jerry Fort, who finished his career with a then-school-record 1,882 points, was the first Nebraska player chosen first-team all-conference three times, from 1974 through 1976. With Fort's leadership, Nebraska began a string of 14 winning seasons.

In the fall of 1976, Cornhusker basketball moved out of the Coliseum and into the state-ofthe-art Bob Devaney Sports Center. Located on the State Fairgrounds, the $13 million athletic complex was financed by a special cigarette tax.

Cipriano coached Nebraska to another 20-victory season in 1977-78. The Cornhuskers, led by All-Big Eight guard Brian Banks, finished with a 22-8 record and advanced to the second round of the NIT. Despite failing health – a battle against cancer that he finally lost – Cipriano shared coaching duties with his assistant, Moe Iba, in 1979-80, and took Nebraska to the NIT again. For their efforts, the duo shared United Press International Big Eight Coach-of-the-Year honors.

Cipriano brought Nebraska into the modern era, coaching 17 seasons and 450 games. His record was 253-197, and those 253 victories represent nearly one-fifth of Nebraska's all-time total. Following Cipriano's death, Iba was named head coach, and he continued Cipriano's winning ways. In Iba's six seasons on the bench, Nebraska was 106-71 and advanced to postseason play four times.

Center Andre Smith was the 1981 Big Eight MVP and twice earned All-Big Eight honors. However, it was the late Jack Moore, a 5-10 playmaker from Muncie, Ind., who captured the hearts of Nebraska fans from 1980 through 1982. Moore earned All-Big Eight honors in 1982, when he won the Naismith Award, given annually to the nation's top player under 6-feet tall. The first three-time academic All-Big Eight pick in Nebraska history, Moore scored 1,204 points and hit .901 from the free throw line during his career.

The cornerstone of Iba's teams from 1983 through 1986 was Omaha, Neb., native Dave Hoppen, a three-time All-Big Eight center and the first Nebraska basketball player to have his jersey number (42) retired by the school. In 1982-83, Hoppen's freshman season, the Cornhuskers were 22-10 and won three games in the NIT before losing to DePaul in the semifinals at Madison Square Garden. The Cornhuskers returned to the NIT each of the next two seasons, advancing to the second round both times.

Hoppen's college career, though, was ended by a knee injury he sustained in a game at Colorado on Feb. 1, 1986. He finished as the school's all-time scoring leader with 2,167 points and broke or tied 19 school records during his four-year stay. After Hoppen's injury, Iba's team regrouped and went on to earn the school's first-ever "official" NCAA Tournament berth. Nebraska lost to Western Kentucky in the first round of the Southeast Regional, 67-59. Following the game, Iba announced his resignation.

On March 27, 1986, Danny Nee was officially introduced as Nebraska's 24th basketball coach. During a news conference to announce his hiring, Nee said a "new era" in Cornhusker basketball was beginning.

Nee's 14 teams appeared in postseason play 11 times and topped the 20-victory mark in seven seasons. In his first season, Nebraska was 21-12 and finished third in the NIT.

After a 13-18 record in his second season, the Cornhuskers got back over the .500 mark with a 17-16 record in 1988-89 and advanced to the second round of the NIT.

Nebraska missed the school single-season record for losses by one in 1989-90 (10-18), then won a school-record 26 games, with only eight losses, in 1990-91. The Cornhuskers reached the Big Eight Tournament championship game for the first time and advanced to the NCAA Tournament, losing to Xavier 89-84 in the first round of the regionals at Minneapolis, Minn

The 1990-91 team included two first-round NBA draft picks, senior Rich King and redshirt freshman Eric Piatkowski. The 7-2 King was the tallest player in Cornhusker history.

Piatkowski, Nebraska's sixth-man in 1990-91, went on to win first-team all-conference honors twice. He ranks second on the Cornhuskers' career-scoring list with 1,934 points, and he is the only Nebraska player to finish with at least 1,900 points, 600 rebounds (669) and 300

Nebraska won the 1996 NIT title at Madison Square Garden. It was the third time since 1980 that the Huskers reached at least the NIT semifinals.

Nebraska won its only Big Eight Tournament title during the 1994 season as the Huskers won three straight over Oklahoma, No. 3 Missouri and No. 23 Oklahoma State.

assists (322). In 2006, Piatkowski became the third Husker, joining Hoppen and Stu Lantz (No. 22), to have his jersey number (52) retired.

Three more NCAA Tournament appearances followed the record-shattering 1991 season. In 1992-93, the Huskers registered their highest league finish under Nee by tying for second in the Big Eight.

In addition to reaching the NCAA Tournament for a fourth consecutive season and recording back-to-back 20-victory seasons for the first time in school history, Nee's 1993-94 team made history by winning the school's first Phillips 66 Big Eight Tournament title. The Cornhuskers defeated Oklahoma, Missouri and Oklahoma State, in that order, to earn the tournament championship.

Nebraska's NCAA Tournament run ended at four in 1994-95, but the Huskers kept their postseason streak alive with an NIT berth, advancing to the second round. The 1995-96 team struggled down the stretch but was back in the NIT and capped its season with a run to the tournament title.

The Huskers won two games on the road and scored more than 80 points in four of their five postseason games. They finished with a 60-56 victory against St. Joseph's at Madison Square Garden.

"The NIT run was incredible when you look at the teams we beat and how we beat them," Nee said after the remarkable run. "I don't care what anybody says, it was domination."

The 1996 NIT championship team was one of the most talented in school history. Two future NBA players, Erick Strickland and 1998 first-round draft pick Tyronn Lue, were in the backcourt. And two other players on the team scored 1,000 career points, Jaron Boone and freshman Venson Hamilton, who would finish his career in 1999 as the school's all-time leading rebounder and shot-blocker.

Lue's contributions as a freshman to the NIT championship team were only a preview of what was to come. The lightning-quick, 6-0 point guard finished his career as the seventh-leading scorer in school history, and he ranked in the top 10 in 12 other career categories. His leadership carried the 1996-97 Cornhusker team, the first to play in the Big 12, to another NIT appearance.

Behind a late-season run, which included Nebraska's longest conference winning streak in 20 years, Nee's 12th team finished fourth in the Big 12 and returned to the NCAA Tournament. The bid was the Cornhuskers' fifth during the 1990s and extended the school-record postseason run to eight.

The streak reached nine in 1999, as the Cornhuskers just missed an NCAA Tournament bid and advanced to the second round of the NIT. In the process, NU reached the 20-victory mark for a second consecutive season, and Hamilton was named Big 12 Player of the Year.

The optimism that preceded the 1999-2000 season, Nee's last, quickly faded with the loss of guard Cookie Belcher, who was sidelined by a wrist injury and forced to take a medical redshirt. The Cornhuskers were off-balance almost from the beginning of the season and fell far short of expectations.

Even though Nee became the winningest coach in school history in 1999-2000, getting victory No. 254 to pass Joe Cipriano in the Cornhuskers' final home game against Colorado, his final team finished with an 11-19 record. The 19 losses tied for the most in school history.

With then-Director of Athletics Bill Byrne setting his sites on bringing NU basketball back to national prominence, he hired Barry Collier as the Cornhuskers' new coach on April 5, 2000. In Collier's first season with the Huskers, Nebraska finished with a 14-16 mark as Belcher returned to the lineup and earned second-team All-Big 12 Conference honors while finishing third in NCAA history for career steals with 353.

In Collier's fourth season, Nebraska ran to an 18-13 record and its first postseason bid in five years. Nebraska won its first two games in the 2004 NIT, including an exhilarating 71-70 road victory over in-state foe Creighton in the opening round. After a home-court victory over Niagara, the Huskers' season came to an end three days later in a valiant effort at Hawaii when NU came back from 17 points down at halftime to tie the game at the first media timeout of the second period before eventually falling by a point.

Nebraska struggled the following season but an influx of young talent helped the Huskers move forward. Freshman 6-11 center Aleks Maric made an immediate impact as he broke the NU freshman rebounds record and ranked in the rookie top 10 for blocked shots. Maric – the first Australian to ever play basketball for the Huskers – was a force in the paint as he tied the school freshman record for double-doubles. It was a sign of good things to come as he finished his four-year career ranked fifth all-time in scoring and was only the second Husker ever to record at least 1,000 career rebounds.

NU made its second postseason appearance in three years in 2006 before finishing with a 19-14 record. It was the most wins under Collier and the first time his Huskers won a game at the Big 12 Championship as NU reached the semifinals of the conference tourney for the first time since winning the Big Eight Tournament title in 1994.

Collier looked to have a solid base in place for 2006-07 before abruptly resigning in early August to take the position of athletic director at his alma mater, Butler University, ending his career at Nebraska with an 89-91 overall record.

The late opening posed little challenge for Nebraska as one week later, on Aug. 8, 2006, Kenneth 'Doc' Sadler was introduced as the 26th head coach in program history. Sadler's forte on the defensive end helped the Huskers to three postseason appearances in his first five years at Nebraska.

Nebraska finished first in the Big 12 and 18th nationally in scoring defense in 2007-08, allowing just 60.7 points per game. Sadler's specialty was highlighted again in 2008-09 as the Huskers proved it was no fluke, claiming another first-place defense in the league while ranking 22nd nationally by giving up just 60.4 points per contest. It was the second-lowest total in the Husker record book since 1951, giving Sadler-coached squads three of the top four Aleks Maric finished his career ranked fifth all-time in scoring and second in rebounding, becoming only the third player in Big 12 history to record at least 1,600 points and 1,000 rebounds in a career.

Husker scoring defenses in the past half century. In 2010-11, Nebraska led the Big 12 for the third time in four seasons, allowing just 60.5 points per game and ranking seventh nationally in field goal defense (.389).

The Huskers' 20-13 record in 2007-08 included a 7-9 record in league play, after starting the Big 12 campaign with an 0-4 mark. In 2008-09, Sadler helped Nebraska continue its upward trend with eight league victories, marking NU's first .500 record in conference play in a decade. Nebraska's 2010-11 season was highlighted by wins over three ranked teams, including No. 3 Texas, as the victory over the Longhorns was marked the highest ranked team Nebraska had defeated since 1994.

The 2011-12 season began a new era for Nebraska basketball, as the Huskers joined the Big Ten Conference. That season also marked the opening of the Hendricks Training Complex, an 84,000-foot training facility for the Husker basketball program which includes practice courts, locker room, team lounge, offices as well as strength and nutrition areas, giving Nebraska one of the best facilities in the nation.

In March of 2012, Nebraska moved into a different direction as Athletic Director Tom Osborne chose Tim Miles to run the basketball program. Miles guided a short-handed roster to 15 wins in his first season, including the program's first-ever Big Ten Tournament win, and has worked tirelessly to build Nebraska's basketball brand.

The 2013-14 season was a rebirth for the Husker program. Nebraska moved into $179 million dollar Pinnacle Bank Arena in downtown Lincoln in August of 2014 and presold the entire season six months before the opener. The Huskers flourished in their new home, going 15-1 including a win over ninth-ranked Wisconsin in front of a record crowd of 15,998. The Huskers went 19-13 on the season and earned their first NCAA appearance in 16 years. Terran Petteway earned consensus All-Big Ten honors while Miles was named Big Ten and National Coach of the Year after leading the Huskers to the NCAAs following a 1-5 start in Big Ten play.

A crowd of nearly 2,500 were on hand to celebrate with the Huskers on their first NCAA berth since 1998.

Terran Petteway led the Big Ten in scoring and had a pair of 30-point games in 2013-14.

PETTEWAY SELECTED AS JACK MOORE AWARD WINNER

Terran Petteway was selected by a vote of his teammates as the Jack Moore Award winner, which is annually presented to the team's most valuable player. The award is named for late Husker guard Jack Moore, a 5-9 playmaker who set 17 school records in a career that ended in 1982. Moore was presented with the 1982 Francis Pomeroy-Naismith Award as the best collegiate player in the nation under six feet tall. A consensus All-Big Eight performer in 1982, Moore was killed in a plane crash in March of 1984.

Petteway earned first-team All-Big Ten honors in 2013-14, as he led the conference in scoring at 18.1 points per game. The 6-foot-6 sophomore topped NU in scoring 21 times and had 12 20-point games, including a career-high 35 points against Minnesota and 30 points against UMass. Petteway averaged 18.6 points per game in Big Ten play, becoming the first Husker since 1981 to lead Nebraska in scoring in conference action. Petteway also averaged 4.8 rebounds and 1.6 assists per game, and led NU in blocked shots (24) and was tied for second in steals (29). His play helped the Huskers go 19-13 and reach the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1998.

While Petteway was honored by his teammates with the team MVP, two Huskers – sophomore Benny Parker and junior David Rivers – won two team-voted awards apiece. Parker, who led NU in steals, was named the team's Outstanding Defender and shared the Most Improved award with junior forward David Rivers, whose emergence into the rotation keyed NU's surge in Big Ten play. Rivers also was chosen as the Unsung Hero for his efforts on the court. Junior Trevor Menke was awarded the Scout Team MVP, while freshman Nick Fuller's work in the weight room was recognized, as he was chosen as the team's Lifter of the Year

NEBRASKA BASKETBALL HALL OF FAME

The Nebraska Men's Basketball Hall of Fame was the brainchild of longtime Husker athletic supporter Jerry Solomon, who first approached the University about the project in the fall of 1988. Solomon, along with Jack Bock, Dale Herman and Dale Jensen, provided financial support for the Hall of Fame. The Hall is now co-sponsored by the Nebraska Athletic Department and the Rebounders Club with inductions held every two years as part of Legends Weekend. The next class will be inducted during the 2014-15 season.

The first class was inducted in 1989 with 11 members. Since then, 58 players and five coaches have been inducted into the Hall of Fame, including 10 classes with at least three members.

Tyronn Lue joined this exclusive list in February of 2013. One of the most electrifying players in school history, Lue led the Huskers to 59 wins and postseason appearances in all three of his seasons at Nebraska, including an NCAA Tournament bid in 1997-98. Lue's name is all over the Husker record book, as the 6-foot guard from Mexico, Mo., finished his career in the top 10 in 13 categories and still ranks among Nebraska career leaders in 10 categories, including assists (432, fourth), scoring average (15.9, seventh), steals (154, seventh), points scored (1,577, eighth), 3-pointers (145, eighth), free throw percentage (.788, eighth) and games started (96, 10th).

As a junior in 1997-98, Lue earned first-team All-Big 12 honors, averaging 21.2 points, 4.8 assists and 4.3 rebounds per game, as the Huskers went 20-12 and reached the NCAA Tournament. His 678 points that season ranked second on Nebraska's single-season chart while his 152 assists that season was fifth on NU's single-season list. He had four of his school-record seven career 30-point efforts in 1997-98, including a career-high 36-point performance against Virginia in the Rainbow Classic. He was at his best in leading the Huskers back to the NCAAs after a four-year absence. With the Huskers sitting at 4-6 in the Big 12, Lue carried the Huskers down the stretch, averaging 24.3 points and 4.5 assists per game in leading the Huskers to six consecutive conference wins and a fourth-place finish in the Big 12.

He earned second-team All-Big 12 honors during a record-setting sophomore campaign in leading the Huskers to the NIT. Lue led the Huskers in both scoring (18.8 ppg) and assists (4.3 apg), while ranking sixth in the Big 12 in scoring. Lue became an immediate contributor to the Huskers as a true freshman, starting 34 games on Nebraska's NIT Championship Team, as he averaged 8.5 points per game and set a school freshman mark with 144 assists. A member of the Big Eight All-Freshman team, Lue became the first Husker freshman to score 30 points in a game when he accomplished the feat against Oregon in just his second game as a Husker.

Following his Husker career, he was the No. 23 overall pick of the Denver Nuggets before he was traded to the Los Angeles Lakers shortly after the 1998 NBA Draft. Lue won two NBA titles with the Lakers, as part of an 11-year professional career. He played for seven teams during his NBA career, appearing in 554 career games and averaging 8.5 points and 3.1 assists per game. Following his retirement at the conclusion of the 2008-09 season, Lue joined the Boston Celtics as the organization's Director of Player Development in 2009 and was named an assistant coach in 2011. He is currently the associate head coach of the Cleveland Cavaliers.

A total of 22 people who have played supporting roles in shaping the Nebraska basketball program have also been enshrined by earning the Bud Cuca Special Merit Award. The award was renamed in honor of Cuca in 2003 after he passed away following a battle with cancer. Tom Osborne was the award recipient in 2013.

In 2003, the first Distinguished Hall of Fame Alumni Award was given, honoring a former player and Hall of Fame member who has been a positive force in the state and local community since his playing days ended. The award was named after Bus Whitehead, who passed away in 2010, to recognize his contributions to the Nebraska basketball program. Dave Hoppen was the 2013 Bus Whitehead Distinguished Alumni Award winner.

Tyronn Lue thanks the crowd during the 2013 Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame Ceremony. Lue, a former All-Big 12 performer, is currently the associate head coach with the Cleveland Cavaliers.

seasons was wiped out in the Big Red's 20-5 campaign that ended one win short of a share of the school's first league title in some 15 years... NU headed into the final week of conference play tied with Kansas for the league's top spot, but a loss at Colorado ended the Huskers' title hopes... Huskers posted only second 20-win season in school history, first in 45 seasons...NU moved into the wire service polls, was rated as high as eighth and finished 11th in the final United Press International listing...Grant Simmons was first-team All-Big Eight pick and landed a spot on the USBWA District V all-star team...Stuart Lantz finished second in Big Eight sophomore-of-the-year voting to KU standout Jo Jo White...NU topped century mark for first time ever in 101-88 victory at Wisconsin to open season; later made first appearance in Big Eight Holiday Tournament championship game.

Lance Jeter earned third-team All-Big 12 honors in 2010-11, helping the Huskers to 19 wins and a berth in the NIT.

Season Notes: Nebraska finished 2-14 in conference play, the Huskers' most league losses in school history... despite the league record, NU became just the second No. 12 seed to win a game at the Big 12 Championship... NU played seven games against ranked squads, including a school-record five straight games against top-25 teams... the Huskers set the school record for 3-point percentage, hitting 39.7 percent to rank 15th nationally... senior Ryan Anderson led the Big 12 Conference in 3-point percentage and finished his career as just the third Husker ever with at least 1,000 points, 500 rebounds and 150 3-pointers...center Jorge Brian Diaz set the NU freshman record for blocked shots with 41 on the season, and was the only freshman ranked in the top 15 in the conference.

MEDIA INFORMATION & POLICIES

The 2014-15 Nebraska media guide is designed to assist the media in its coverage of the Nebraska Cornhusker men's basketball program. Additional information, including releases, photographs and video may be obtained by contacting the Media Relations Office at (402) 472-2263, or in many cases can be found on Huskers.com.

Please take a moment to review the following policies and services, which are intended to assist media members in their coverage of Nebraska basketball this season.

MEDIA CREDENTIALS

All requests for press, broadcast, photo and parking credentials for Nebraska basketball home games should be directed to Vicki Capazo (vcapazo@huskers.com), One Memorial Stadium, P.O. Box 880123, Lincoln, NE, 68588-0123. Credential requests can also be sent via e-mail to Associate Media Relations Director Shamus McKnight (smcknight@huskers.com) at least one week before the game.

As a general rule, working space is allocated on the following basis:

- 1) daily newspaper and wire-service writers covering for next-day publication;
- 2) radio and television personnel for broadcast origination;
- 3) sports editors of Nebraska daily newspapers;
- 4) official school student daily newspaper;
- 5) approved special coverage;
- 6) press and TV working photographers.

Generally, weekly newspaper representatives, Internet news services and non-originating radio representatives cannot be accommodated because of space limitations. Internet writers for sites affiliated with established, nationally recognized media outlets will be considered on a game-by-game basis as space allows. Credentials will not be granted for writers or photographers for Internet sites that are not affiliated with an accredited news organization.

MEDIA WILL CALL/MEDIA PARKING

Media passes that are not mailed may be picked up at the Will-Call window, located near the main ticket office at Pinnacle Bank Arena. The main ticket office is located on the south end of Pinnacle Bank Arena. The will-call window opens 90 minutes before tipoff and photo identification is required for pickup of credentials or tickets.

For the 2014-15 season, media parking is located in Lot 24, which is located on 9th Street between R and S streets. Media should enter the lot from S Street and the media lot is located about two blocks from the main entrance of Pinnacle Bank Arena. Parking is available on a first-come, first-served basis.

COACH MILES INTERVIEW TIME

Coach Miles will hold press availability with the local media prior to each game, either at the Hendricks Training Complex or at Pinnacle Bank Arena. Typically one or two players will be available at that time, depending on class schedules. Additional player interviews can be conducted after practice. All interviews with Coach Miles must be scheduled through the Media Relations Office. Contact the Media Relations Office for a daily schedule.

Out-of-town media are encouraged to participate in the Big Ten weekly teleconference. Coach Miles will participate in the telephonic press conferences (see schedule, above right) each week beginning at 9 a.m. (CST). The teleconferences begin on Monday, Jan. 5, and continue throughout the season. Contact the Big Ten Conference communications staff at (847) 696-1010 for more information on how to join the conference call.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

Nebraska's locker room is closed to the media at home and on the road. For home games, Nebraska's postgame news conference will be held following a brief cooling off period in the interview room (C-145) off the northeast corner of the court. The opposing team is housed in the visitor's locker room, located off the northwest corner of the playing floor and will

Notes and flipcards and media guides will also be available, and a pregame meal will be available approximately one hour prior to tipoff. To access the media work room and postgame interview room, take the elevator from the main concourse behind Section 103.

PHOTOGRAPHY/VIDEO BOXES

Photography and video boxes are located along both baselines in front of the courtside seating area. Spots will be assigned on a game-by-game basis, and those boxes are the only place photographers can shoot from. Once the team enters the court for pregame warmups, photographers should not be on the court at any time.

WIRELESS INTERNET

Pinnacle Bank Arena has a secured media wireless network for working media. Instructions will be available on how to access the network in the media work room and on press row. A member of NU's competing service staff will be on hand to assist media needing access.

MEDIA SERVICES

Notes, flipcards and media guides will be provided before each game. Final statistics, playby-play sheets and quotes from each locker room will be distributed via email following the game and will be available on Huskers.com. A light pregame meal will be served in the media work room (C-151) prior to tipoff.

RADIO/TELEVISION BROADCAST SPACE

Requests for live radio and television broadcast space should be made to Associate Media Relations Director Shamus McKnight at smcknight@huskers.com. If statisticians are needed, contact Shamus McKnight at least three days in advance.

RADIO BROADCAST RIGHTS

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln and IMG World own exclusive radio broadcast rights to all of the University's men's basketball games. Other than the Husker Sports Network and the University of Nebraska student radio station (KRNU), the only radio stations or networks allowed to broadcast Nebraska games from Pinnacle Bank Arena are those that have rights to broadcast games played by the opposing team.

All radio stations and networks broadcasting from the Pinnacle Bank Arena must receive prior permission from the University. Any representative of a radio station or network that has not purchased such rights shall not air live game action or description of any game while it is in progress, nor shall such representatives air tape-recorded or live commentary of Nebraska coaches or players from the premises for one hour before or 20 minutes after a game.

Only stations that have purchased broadcast rights may install telephone lines on press row, or use telephone lines on press row for reporting on games. By accepting media credentials, representatives of stations and networks that have not purchased broadcast rights signify their agreement to all stipulations.

BROADCAST TELEPHONE LINES

The Husker Sports Network installs telephone lines for visiting official broadcasts and charges a fee for the use of those lines for non-conference games. Big Ten official stations receive the use of the lines free of charge as part of a cooperative. Those interested in using the lines should contact Mike Elliott of Husker Sports Network at (402) 332-4000.

Official visiting radio stations are welcome to have their own telephone lines installed at the visiting radio position and may do so by contacting Jason Matthews, Technology Manager at Pinnacle Bank Arena, by phone at (402) 904-5660 or jmathews@smglincoln.com. Visiting teams should contact Associate Media Relations Director Shamus McKnight before the game to find out where the broadcast position is located.

PRO SCOUTING PASSES

Per Big Ten Conference rules, the University of Nebraska provides press box access to scouts of professional basketball teams based on availability. If no space is available in the press box, scouts may arrange through the Media Relations Office (402) 472-2263 to purchase tickets for Nebraska home games.

The IMG Husker Sports Network will continue the strong tradition of broadcasting excellence in 2014-15. All basketball games this season will be broadcast by the Husker Sports Network, which includes 37 stations that cover all of Nebraska. KFAB (1110 AM) serves as the Omaha affiliate and KLIN (1400 AM/94.5 FM) serves as the Lincoln affiliate, while KRVN (880 AM) is a third affiliate that reaches around the state. In addition, all games are heard live on Huskers.com and the Huskers App for iOS and Android phones, on the TuneIn Radio app and on desktops while many are also carried live on SiriusXM Satellite Radio.

The Husker Sports Network, in its 20th year of producing and marketing the live broadcast of University of Nebraska Athletics, extended and expanded its agreement with the University on June 13, 2008. Under the agreement, IMG College's Husker Sports Marketing manages and markets all rights associated with the radio programming, Coaches' TV and radio shows, program sales, sponsorship inventory and publication printing rights.

Kent Pavelka returns behind the microphone to handle his 28th overall season calling Husker hoops in 2014-15. Pavelka previously called Nebraska basketball for two long stints between 1974 and 1996 before returning to the Husker basketball play-by-play chair prior to the 2006-07 season. A six-time winner of the Nebraska Sportscaster-of-the-Year Award, Pavelka also handled color analyst duties on NU football broadcasts from 1974 to 1983, and was the play-by-play announcer from 1983 to 1996. Pavelka was honored in January 2009 with the Bud Cuca Special Merit Award given by the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame for his contributions to the NU men's basketball program.

Alongside Pavelka as color analyst will be Matt Davison. He returns for his 11th season on the basketball broadcast and also handles duties on the Nebraska football radio broadcasts.

The Husker Sports Network will also carry a weekly radio show with Coach Tim Miles, which can be heard statewide on the network on Monday nights at 7 p.m. during the season. All Husker games and coaches shows can also be heard for free on Huskers.com.
