- Graduate guard Maddie Krull, who started 60 games in two seasons at South Dakota, before transferring to Nebraska prior to last season, joins Shelley and Markowski as returning starters. Krull made 24 starts for the Big Red a year ago. The Millard South High School grad earned her bachelor's degree from Nebraska in August, just three seasons into her college career.
- The Huskers, who are coming off an 18-15 season that included a trip to the Super 16 in the Postseason WNIT, will be shooting for a trip to the NCAA Tournament. 14th Season at Dakota Wesleyan (276-148)

14th Season Overall (276-148)

HUSKER NUGGETS

• Nebraska has won 36 consecutive exhibition games dating back to an 81-58 loss to the Australian Institute of Sport at the Bob Devaney Sports Center on Nov. 12, 2000.

• Last season, the Huskers defeated Washburn, 70-27, at Pinnacle Bank Arena on Oct. 30, 2022. Alexis Markowski led Nebraska with 18 points and 10 rebounds in 22 minutes. NU's only other active returning starter from that game is Jaz Shelley, who managed four points, three rebounds and four assists.

• In two career exhibition games, Markowski has produced 33 points and 19 rebounds in 39 minutes. Shelley owns 18 points, five rebounds and 10 assists in 41 minutes of exhibition play as a Husker.

• Nebraska has won its last five exhibition games by an average of 47.6 points per game, dating back to an 88-55 win over Minnesota State-Mankato on Nov. 5, 2017.

• The Huskers have hit at least one three in 464 straight games dating back to a loss at UTEP on Dec. 20, 2008. Nebraska has hit at least two threes in 343 consecutive games.

• Nebraska has hit 10 or more threes 27 times in the last 73 games, including 15 times in 2022-23. The Huskers knocked down a season-high 14 threes in a season-opening win over Omaha (Nov. 7, 2022).

• Through the first 20 seasons with the three-point shot in women's basketball (1988-2007), Nebraska hit 10 threes in a game just six times (591 games).

SCOUTING THE DAKOTA WESLEYAN TIGERS

• Dakota Wesleyan comes to Lincoln to meet the Huskers for the first time in history. The NAIA Tigers will make the four-plus hour drive from Mitchell, S.D., to Pinnacle Bank Arena.

• Dakota Wesleyan competes in the Great Plains Athletic Conference alongside Nebraska's College of Saint Mary, Concordia, Doane, Hastings and Midland.

• Last season, the Tigers finished with a 23-9 overall record and advanced to the second round of the NAIA Tournament in Fayette, Mo., falling 57-53 to Central Methodist (Mo.), which advanced to the national semifinals in Sioux City, Iowa. Dakota Wesleyan went 15-7 in the GPAC.

• In 2022, DWU won the GPAC Tournament title and advanced to the NAIA second round, falling to Bethel (Tenn.), 54-53 at DJ Sokol Arena on the Creighton campus. The Tigers finished with a 27-8 record that included a regular-season loss at South Dakota State. Dakota Wesleyan finished 15-7 in the GPAC.

• The Tigers must replace their top two scorers from a year ago - 6-4 center Jada Campbell (14.3 ppg) and 5-10 forward Matti Reiner (14.0 ppg), who both started all 32 games. Campbell was also DWU's leading rebounder (6.4 rpg), while Reiner led the Tigers in assists (4.0 apg) and steals (1.5 spg), while ranking third on the team in rebounding (5.3 rpg).

• Dakota Wesleyan's roster does not include any players taller than 5-11, as the Tigers will rely on returning guards Isabel Ihnen and Morgan Edelman for production and leadership.

• Ihnen averaged 9.3 points, 2.2 rebounds and 2.2 assists while making all 32 starts last season. The 5-7 senior connected on a team-best 57 three-pointers.

• The 5-6 Edelman added 8.4 points and 5.8 rebounds to go along with 3.2 assists and 1.6 steals per game, while starting 29 of DWU's 32 contests as a sophomore a year ago.

• Sophomore Rylee Rosenquist, a 5-7 guard, returns after starting 15 games as a freshman for the Tigers a year ago. Rosenquist averaged 8.4 points and 4.9 rebounds while connecting on 53.1 percent of her shots from the floor.

• Lacey Sprakel, a 5-10 junior forward who made two starts and played in all 32 games a year ago, could step in to replace Reiner in the starting five. Sprakel averaged 6.3 points and 2.5 rebounds in just 12.7 minutes per game last season.

• The Tigers return just four other players who saw action a year ago, including 5-3 senior Mya Wilson (2.0 ppg, 1.0 rpg), 5-7 sophomore Maleighya Estes (1.4 ppg, 0.9 rpg), 5-6 sophomore Taliyah Hayes (0.9 ppg, 0.2 rpg) and the tallest returning player on the roster - 5-11 senior Anna Campbell (0.9 ppg, 0.5 rpg).

• As a team, Dakota Wesleyan averaged 72.1 points while surrendering 58.3 points per game a year ago. The Tigers carried a plus-7.8 team rebounding margin and a positive assist-to-turnover ratio (1.2). They hit 44.2 percent of their field goals, including 31.5 percent of their three-pointers while averaging 4.9 threes per game. DWU also sank 74.7 percent of its free throws.

NEBRASKA VS. DAKOTA WESLEYAN SERIES HISTORY

• Sunday's meeting will be the first in history between Nebraska and Dakota Wesleyan.

• The last time the Huskers faced a team from the Dakotas (either North or South) came on Dec. 21, 2013, when South Dakota came to Lincoln and suffered an 87-53 loss to No. 19 Nebraska at Pinnacle Bank Arena. That South Dakota team was coached by current Nebraska Head Coach Amy Williams, who took that Coyote team to the Summit League Tournament title and the 2014 NCAA Tournament.

SHELLEY, MARKOWSKI NAMED PRESEASON ALL-BIG TEN

• Jaz Shelley and Alexis Markowski captured preseason All-Big Ten honors from both coaches and media when the conference announced its honors on Oct. 4.

• Nebraska joined Ohio State (Cotie McMahon, Jacy Sheldon) as the only schools in the conference to place two players on the Preseason All-Big Ten teams.

• Shelley, a 2023 first-team All-Big Ten selection, averaged 14.5 points, 4.8 rebounds and a team-leading 6.2 assists while also ranking among Big Ten leaders with 79 three-pointers last season.

• The 5-9 guard from Moe, Australia (pronounced MO-ee) was a second-team All-Big Ten choice in her first season with the Huskers in 2021-22. She was also a member of the media's Big Ten All-Defensive Team, helping Nebraska to a 2022 NCAA Tournament berth. She was the only Big Ten player to rank among the top 20 in all five major statistical categories - scoring (13.1 ppg), rebounding (6.3 rpg), assists (5.0 apg), steals (1.8 spg) and blocked shots (0.9 bpg) in 2021-22.

• Markowski claimed Preseason All-Big Ten honors for the second consecutive season. The two-time second-team All-Big Ten choice averaged 11.9 points and 9.8 rebounds per game as a sophomore for the Huskers in 2022-23.

• The 6-3 center led the Big Ten with 322 total rebounds and was the only conference player to average a double-double (12.4 ppg, 10.2 rpg) during regular-season Big Ten action a year ago. She also led all league post players with 15 double-doubles.

• The 2022 Big Ten Freshman of the Year, Markowski averaged 12.8 points and 8.0 rebounds while becoming a starter during the conference season. She helped the Huskers to three wins over AP Top 10 teams and a trip to the Big Ten semifinals before advancing to the 2022 NCAA Tournament.

MARKOWSKI NAMED TO LISA LESLIE AWARD WATCH LIST

• Nebraska's Alexis Markowski was named to the Lisa Leslie Center of the Year Watch List when the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame announced its list of 20 preseason candidates for the award on Oct. 20.

• Markowski, a 6-3 center from Lincoln, Neb., has been one of the nation's top post players each of her first two seasons as a Husker. The junior earned preseason first-team All-Big Ten honors for the second straight year entering 2023-24. A two-time second-team All-Big Ten choice, Markowski was the only Big Ten player to average a double-double (12.4 ppg, 10.2 rpg) during the 2022-23 regular season. She finished the year by averaging 11.9 points and a Big Ten-best 9.8 rebounds, while leading Nebraska and tying for seventh in the conference with 31 blocks.

- She scored in double figures 23 times, while adding 19 double-digit rebound games, while leading all Big Ten posts with 15 double-doubles on the year. Markowski's 322 total rebounds also led the Big Ten and ranked as the fifth-highest season total in Nebraska history.

- The 2022 Big Ten Freshman of the Year, Markowski earned her second straight appearance on the Lisa Leslie Award Watch List. Last season, as the only sophomore on the list, she advanced to the Midseason Top 10 for the award.

- The list of candidates will be narrowed to 10 in late January, with plans to announce five finalists for the award in late March. South Carolina's Aliyah Boston won the past four consecutive awards.

- The Lisa Leslie Award, presented by the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame and the WBCA, honors the nation's top center in NCAA Division I women's basketball. It is named after three-time All-American and 1994 National Player of the Year Lisa Leslie, who was inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 2015.

- Fans are encouraged to vote for their favorite players daily at hoophallawards.com.

SHELLEY NAMED TO MEYERS-DRYSDALE WATCH LIST

- Shelley, a 5-9 guard from Moe, Australia (pronounced MO-ee), has been one of the nation's best guards in each of her first two seasons as a Husker. The graduate student earned first-team All-Big Ten honors last season after averaging 14.5 points and 4.8 rebounds per game. She also ranked third in the Big Ten in both assists (6.2 apg) and three-pointers per game (2.4).

361 teams ranked in NCAA Division I

• Michigan's Laila Phelia, Indiana's Sara Scalia and Ohio State's Celeste Taylor join Shelley in accounting for 25 percent of the watch list.

• A group of returning AP All-Americans also fills the list, including Paige Bueckers (UConn), Sonia Citron (Notre Dame), Shaylee Gonzales (Texas), Ta'Niya Latson (Florida State), Charlissee Leger-Walker (Washington State), Charisma Osborne (UCLA), Owusu, Taylor and Hailey Van Lith (LSU). Bueckers (first team) and Owusu (second team) were AP All-Americans in 2021, while the rest of the previously named group earned honorable-mention accolades from the AP in either 2022 or 2023.

• A national committee of top college basketball personnel determined the watch list of 20 candidates for the Ann Meyers-Drysdale Award. In late January, the watch list of 20 players for the 2023 Ann Meyers-Drysdale Award was narrowed to 10. In late February a final list of five candidates will be selected. In March, the five finalists will be presented to Meyers-Drysdale and the Hall of Fame selection committee with a winner being selected.

• Shelley is one of 14 graduate students (9) or seniors (5) among the 20 Ann Meyers-Drysdale Award candidates, while five juniors also fill the list. The lone sophomore in the group is Florida State's Latson. The list of candidates will be narrowed to 10 in late January, with plans to announce five finalists for the award in late March.

• The Ann Meyers-Drysdale Award, presented by the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame and the WBCA, honors the nation's top shooting guard in NCAA Division I women's basketball. It is named after the first player, male or female, selected to an All-America team in four straight college seasons (UCLA, 1975-78).

WHITE READY FOR HUSKER DEBUT

• Nebraska expects to get an immediate boost in the backcourt from three-time first-team All-Big Sky guard Darian White.

• The 5-6 graduate student transferred into the Husker program during the summer after averaging 14.3 points, 5.1 rebounds, 3.7 assists and 2.2 steals over 120 starts in four seasons at Montana State.

• The No. 2 scorer in Montana State history, White finished with 1,716 points, 612 rebounds, 449 assists and 260 steals.

• White was the 2022 Big Sky Tournament MVP, leading the Bobcats to the conference title and a trip to the 2022 NCAA Tournament.

• She was also a two-time Big Sky Defensive Player of the Year (2021, 2022) and the 2020 Big Sky Freshman of the Year.

• White was the 2019 Idaho Gatorade High School Player of the Year and joins three-time North Dakota Gatorade Player of the Year Logan Nissley, two-time Missouri MaxPreps Player of the Year Natalie Potts and Australian National Program forward Jessica Petrie in Nebraska's group of four newcomers for 2023-24.

RETURNING STARTER WEIDNER OUT FOR SEASON

• Allison Weidner suffered a right leg injury in practice on Friday, Oct. 13, and will miss the 2023-24 season. She underwent surgery on Oct. 25.

• Weidner, a 5-10 junior from Humphrey, Neb., averaged 10.2 points and 6.2 rebounds through 13 games as a starter in 2022-23 before suffering a season-ending left leg injury in the fourth quarter of an 85-79 triple-overtime victory over No. 20 Kansas at Pinnacle Bank Arena on Dec. 21. Weidner's recovery and rehabilitation on her left leg since surgery on Jan. 10, 2023, had gone well, and she was expecting to return to action for the start of this season before suffering the right leg injury.

• Weidner averaged 13.0 points, 10.6 rebounds and 6.0 assists in two wins over Big Ten opponents Maryland and Wisconsin in December of 2022. Nebraska was 10-3 overall with Weidner in the starting lineup.

• As a true freshman, Weidner played in all 33 games, including nine starts, helping Nebraska to the 2022 NCAA Tournament. She averaged 7.2 points, 3.7 rebounds and 2.2 assists as a freshman.

HUSKERS FACED HISTORIC STRENGTH OF SCHEDULE

• Nebraska finished 2022-23 with an 18-15 record after facing arguably its strongest schedule in school history with 12 games against Associated Press Top 25 opponents at game time.

• Since joining the Big Ten (2011-12), the Huskers had not played more than eight games in a season vs. AP Top 25 foes prior to 2022-23.

• Nebraska's second game with Iowa (Feb. 18) was its fifth against an AP Top 10 team in 2022-23. The Huskers have never faced more than five AP Top 10 teams in the same season. In fact, Nebraska played six games against teams that entered the NCAA Tournament ranked in the AP top seven nationally, including No. 2 Indiana (1), No. 3 Iowa (2), No. 4 Virginia Tech (1) and No. 7 Maryland (2).

• Nebraska's Big Ten road wins at No. 25 Illinois (90-57, +33, Feb. 22) and at No. 20 Maryland (90-67, +23, Dec. 4) represent the largest road victory margins in school history against AP Top 25 teams.

HUSKER ROSTER FILLED WITH STATE PLAYERS OF THE YEAR

- The 2023-24 Nebraska women's basketball roster features five state players of the year in basketball, who won their respective awards from their home states from 2019 to 2023. The group of five combined for eight state basketball player-of-the-year honors, while adding three state volleyball player-of-the-year awards. Nebraska's group does not include Allison Weidner, who was the state of Nebraska's overall girls athlete of the year across all sports in 2021.
- Freshman Logan Nissley carries the most state player-of-the-year honors with her to Lincoln. The 6-0 guard from Bismarck was a three-time North Dakota Gatorade High School Player of the Year in basketball. She led Bismarck Century to three straight state championship game appearances, including a title in 2022. Nissley was also the North Dakota Volleyball Player of the Year as a junior (2021) and senior (2022).
- Fellow freshman Natalie Potts added a pair of Missouri MaxPreps High School Player of the Year honors in 2021 and 2023. She was also the Gatorade Player of the Year in 2021. Potts, a 6-2 forward from O'Fallon, Mo., led Incarnate Word Academy to a 100-game winning streak to close her career. She finished her high school career with 2,108 points and 1,008 rebounds - just the third player in Missouri high school history to achieve that combined milestone.
- Junior center Alexis Markowski was the 2021 Nebraska Gatorade and MaxPreps High School Player of the Year at Lincoln Pius X. One of 10 semifinalists for the Lisa Leslie Center of the Year Award in 2023, Markowski was the 2022 Big Ten Freshman of the Year at Nebraska. She is a two-time preseason All-Big Ten selection and a two-time second-team All-Big Ten choice. Before arriving at Nebraska, Markowski led Pius X to back-to-back Class A state titles in 2020 and 2021 as the captain of the Class A All-Tournament team.
- Sophomore center/forward Maggie Mendelson was the Utah High School Player of the Year in both basketball and volleyball in 2021. Mendelson graduated from Fremont High School in Utah a year early and joined the Nebraska volleyball and women's basketball programs for the 2022-23 season. She has helped the volleyball team to a current No. 1 national ranking. In the summer of 2021, Mendelson helped the U.S. Under 16 National Team to gold at the FIBA Americas Championship in August. She also played for the U.S. Under 18 National Volleyball Team at the FIVB U18 World Championships a month later, before winning volleyball gold with the U.S. Under 19 National Team at the Pan American Cup in July of 2022. She played in 22 basketball games for the Huskers as a freshman.

She led Mountain View to a 25-1 record and a state runner-up finish as a senior, before earning 2020 Big Sky Freshman-of-the-Year accolades at Montana State. She went on to be a three-time first-team All-Big Sky selection at Montana State (2021, 2022, 2023) and a two-time Big Sky Defensive Player of the Year (2021, 2022). She was also the Big Sky Tournament MVP in 2022.
- Junior Allison Weidner was not a state basketball player of the year, but she was Nebraska's overall Girls High School Athlete of the Year in 2021. The two-time first-team all-class all-state pick in basketball was a two-time Class D2 first-team all-state volleyball player and an eight-time Nebraska state track and field champion at Humphrey St. Francis.

HUSKERS RADIO NETWORK COVERS WORLD

- The Huskers Radio Network is in its second season of producing and marketing the live broadcasts of Nebraska women's basketball in 2023-24, but play-by-play announcer Matt Coatney and color commentator Jeff Griesch team up for their 23rd season as the Husker broadcast team.

- The Huskers Radio Network will carry every game, home and away, around the world for free on Huskers.com, marking the 23rd year that all of Nebraska's women's basketball games have been free and available to fans. In addition to carrying every women's basketball game free on Huskers.com, the Huskers Radio Network flagship stations B107.3 FM-KBBK (Lincoln) and ESPN 590 AM-KXSP (Omaha) provide strong signals for Husker women's basketball. When a network conflict occurs in Omaha, the Huskers also can be heard on CD105.9 FM-KKCD. 880-AM-KRVN (Lexington) also provides a huge AM signal statewide in central Nebraska, while more than 20 stations carry the Huskers Radio Network's women's basketball coverage across the state and the Midwest.
