SCOUTING THE WASHINGTON HUSKIES

Washington makes its first-ever trip to Pinnacle Bank Arena today to take on the Huskers. The Huskies bring a 15-12 overall record and a 6-9 Big Ten mark to Lincoln following an 83-65 win over Rutgers on Thursday night in Seattle. Fourth-year coach Tina Langley continues to improve the UW roster and record. Last season, the Huskies finished 16-15 and advanced to the first round of the WBIT after going 6-12 in the Pac-12. Washington's conference wins have primarily come against the bottom of the Big Ten, but the Huskies own an impressive 84-75 road win at Illinois (Dec. 31). They also fell just short of knocking off USC, losing 69-64 in Seattle last Sunday. The previous game, the Huskies lost 68-67 at Oregon - a team Nebraska narrowly defeated in overtime in Lincoln on Wednesday evening. Junior guard Elle Ladine leads a potent lineup of scorers for UW. The 5-11 junior guard is averaging 16.3 points and 4.7 rebounds while connecting on 61 three-pointers (.384). Sayvia Sellers, a 5-7 sophomore, has added 15.9 points and team bests of 3.9 assists and 1.9 steals while hitting 40.6 percent of her threes (58 3FGM). Ladine and Sellers drive to the hoop more than twice as often as they shoot the three, and both hit better than 80 percent of their free throws. Hannah Stines, a 5-11 junior guard, has joined Sellers and Ladine in the starting backcourt for all 27 games, averaging 10.1 points and 4.1 rebounds while adding 2.6 assists. Stines has hit 35.3 percent (42-119) of her threes. Dalayah Daniels is the focus inside for the Huskies. The 6-4 graduate forward is averaging 11.9 points and a team-best 6.8 rebounds while shooting 56.4 percent from the field. Daniels also leads UW with 1.6 blocks per game. Chloe Briggs, another 5-11 guard, has joined the starting lineup for seven games. She brings a strong defensive presence while adding another capable three-point shooter (.350) around Daniels. Briggs is averaging 3.6 points per game. Two-time transfer (Long Island, Eastern Michigan) Tayra Eke has started 20 games for UW. The 6-3 senior forward from Spain has averaged 5.2 points and 4.9 rebounds but has not attempted a three-pointer this season.

HUSKERS FACE HUSKIES ON SENIOR DAY

Big Ten newcomer Washington makes its first visit to Lincoln since 1999, when Nebraska welcomes the Huskies to Pinnacle Bank Arena on Senior Day in Lincoln. The Nebraska women's basketball program will honor nine Husker players and support staff students in postgame festivities on the court. Senior Alexis Markowski will lead the list of honorees. The 6-3 center is coming off the best performance of her career with 35 points and a season-high 15 rebounds to will Nebraska to a 94-90 overtime win over Oregon on Wednesday night at PBA. The three-time All-Big Ten center drained a career-high-tying six three-pointers to help the Big Red rally from a 14-point third-quarter deficit against the Ducks. She scored 16 points in the fourth quarter alone, including the game-tying three-pointer with 30 seconds left to send it to overtime. Senior Alberte Rimdal added an outstanding game of her own against the Ducks with 15 points off the bench. Over the past four games, the 5-9 guard from Koge, Denmark has averaged 14.3 points and 2.5 assists, while hitting 56.3 percent of her shots from the field including 5-of-11 three-pointers. She is also a perfect 16-for-16 from the line during that stretch.

Seniors Kendall Moriarty and Kendall Coley have continued to be consistent and reliable leaders for the Big Red. Moriarty, a 6-0 guard from Wheaton, Ill., has played in 103 consecutive games for the Big Red, including a start in the win over Oregon. Coley, a 6-2 graduate student from Minneapolis, ranks among the top five players in Husker history with 132 games played in her career.

The four Huskers will be joined on the court by graduate manager Taylor Edwards, scout team players and managers Isaac Heimes and Darrin Pokorny and student managers Kayla Benson and Nevaeh Stauffer.

Before the postgame recognition takes place, the Huskers will be be focused on taming the Huskies.

Nebraska's dramatic win over Oregon moved the Big Red to 18-9 on the season and 9-7 in the Big Ten. A win for the Huskers would guarantee a winning conference season for the third time in the last four years while putting NU just one win away from its third 20-win campaign in the last four seasons.

Junior Callin Hake and sophomore Logan Nissley hope to help the seniors celebrate a win today. Hake is coming off one of her best games as a Husker with career highs of 17 points and seven assists against Oregon. Hake drained back-to-back three-pointers in overtime to help shoot the Huskers to victory.

Nissley added season highs of 16 points and five assists against the Ducks. She also sank a career-high five three-pointers, as the Big Red connected on 15-of-29 threes on the night against Oregon.

The Husker win over the Ducks was made more impressive because it came without starting point guard Britt Prince. The freshman from Elkhorn missed the game after suffering a lower leg injury in the closing minutes at Illinois. Prince is listed as day-to-day, but the Huskers are optimistic for a speedy return to the court.

NEBRASKA VS. WASHINGTON SERIES

- The all-time series between Nebraska and Washington is tied, 2-2, with the last meeting coming in Seattle on Dec. 6, 2000. The Huskies held off the Huskers, 69-57.
- In the most recent confrontation in Lincoln, Nebraska outlasted Washington, 89-86, on Dec. 6, 1999, at the Bob Devaney Sports Center.
- The Huskers and Huskies met for the first time at the Devaney Center on Dec. 4, 1982, with Nebraska rolling to a 98-81 victory.

THREE THINGS TO WATCH

1 Alexis Markowski enters today's game at No. 10 in Husker history with 1,802 points. She needs 56 points to catch first-round WNBA Draft pick Nicole Kubik at No. 9 with 1,867. Markowski has scored 1,018 points in regular-season Big Ten games. Jordan Hooper (1,088), Kelsey Griffin (1,052) and Kiera Hardy (1,001) are the only Huskers since Wade Trophy winner Karen Jennings (1990-93) to score more than 1,000 points in conference games-only.

2 Markowski enters today's game with 50 career double-doubles, which ranks fourth among active NCAA Division I women's basketball players. She also ranks sixth among active NCAA Division I players in career rebounds with 1,172. Only one player in Husker history - Janet Smith (1,280) - has ever reached 1,200 career rebounds.

3 Nebraska has hit 10 or more threes 48 times in the last 135 games, including a school-record 20 in a win over South Dakota in Sioux Falls. The Big Red also hit a PBA-record-tying 16 threes in a win over Wisconsin (Jan. 20), 15 in a win over Oregon (Feb. 19), 14 in a win over Southeastern Louisiana (Nov. 9), 13 in a win at Iowa (Jan. 16), and 12 in wins over No. 17 Maryland (Feb. 13), Minnesota (Dec. 8) and Kansas City (Nov. 26).

- Washington returned the favor two years later, cruising to a 101-70 victory at the Michigan Domino Classic in Ann Arbor on Dec. 30, 1984.

FACTS & FIGURES

- Over the last five games, Alexis Markowski is averaging 24.8 points and 9.8 rebounds per game, while hitting 10-of-16 three-pointers (.625). Through the first 22 games this season, Markowski was just 7-of-41 (.171) from long range.
- Kendall Coley is set to play in the 133rd game of her career, which will put her in sole possession of fourth place on Nebraska's all-time list. Sam Haiby owns the school record with 139 games played.
- The Huskers have hit at least one three-pointer in 526 straight regular-season games dating back to a loss at UTEP on Dec. 20, 2009. Nebraska has hit at least two three-pointers in 405 consecutive games.
