Why do parents Choose Creative Concepts?

Whether your child is naturally reserved or outgoing, these classes give them tools that last a lifetime:

- For quieter children: build comfort speaking up in class and unfamiliar situations
- For confident children: hone delivery, learn restraint & empathy and how to truly listen.
- For all Children: Develop teamwork, leadership and presentation skills that serve them everywhere.

What we change:

With 25 years of experience, we meet every child where they are. Quiet students learn to find their voice. Confident speakers learn to command the room with skill and grace.

By the end of the year, parents typically see their child:

- Speak clearly in a well projected voice, making eye contact – whether in class or on stage
- Handle presentations and performances with poise and excitement instead of nerves
- Lead group activities and collaborate effectively with peers
- Take on roles that challenge them, from leading scenes to supporting ensemble work
- Carry themselves with noticeably greater self-assurance in all settings

What Parents tell us:

"My daughter went from hiding behind me at the school gate to comfortably mixing with peers and putting herself forward in class, it was just incredible."

"My son already had confidence, but the class helped him understand how to perform and his delivery went from amateur to polished."

"My daughter has widened her circle of friends through her new found confidence."

What we cover:

Building Confidence & Emotional Resilience:
Improvisation | Acting Skills | Breathing, Relaxation & Visualisation | Role Play | Puppetry

Developing Social Skills: Drama games fostering Leadership & Collaboration | Mime & Movement

Practical Life Skills: Public Speaking & Presentation Skills | Speech Work | Storytelling | Poetry
