

Catchment Area

Edmund Rice College Phoenix Park

The catchment area of Edmund Rice College, Phoenix Park, is defined by the following boundaries:

- The Catchment Area commences at the boundary of the N3/Navan Road and Castleknock Road at the Ashtown (Halfway House) Roundabout.
- From the Ashtown Roundabout, the boundary follows the Navan Road in the direction of the M50 Roundabout. Ashtown is not included within the catchment area.
- The boundary then crosses the M50 in the vicinity of the Travelodge and continues towards Castleknock Road at Castleknock Railway Station. Woodpark, Roselawn, Delwood, Brompton, Talbot Downs and their surrounding areas are excluded from the catchment area.
- From Castleknock Railway Station, the boundary follows the Maynooth railway line westwards to Dr Troy Bridge (Diswellstown Road Bridge).
- From Dr Troy Bridge, the catchment boundary extends southwards to Porterstown Road. It then turns right onto Porterstown Road and left onto Rugged Lane, continuing along Rugged Lane to Lower Road and onwards to Somerton Road
- Following Somerton Road, the boundary reconnects with Porterstown Road and continues along Porterstown Road until it meets Carpenterstown Road.
- The boundary then follows Carpenterstown Road, crossing College Road and continuing onto Whites Road. From White's Road, it follows along the boundary of the Phoenix Park until it meets Castleknock Road.
- Finally, the catchment boundary follows Castleknock Road towards the Ashtown Gate continuing until it returns to the Ashtown (Halfway House) Roundabout, thereby completing the boundary of the catchment area.
