THE VILLAGE KEEPER

A Community Newsletter Serving Amherst Exclusively

February 2016

Dear Folks,

This is the 2015 real estate summary issue of The Village Keeper. Needless to say, Denver had a very wild 2015 regarding real estate. Record home inventory shortages, record home sale prices, competing offers on most homes, etc...

For the past 3 years I've had a good sense on where the market was heading, and was proven pretty accurate by year's end. I don't have that same sense this year, and it seems like I'm not alone. While many are anticipating a slow down from our frenzied 2015 pace, and a more sustainable level of appreciation, some experts are saying that Denver will be the hottest market in the nation for a 2nd straight year.

My concern is that if we did maintain 2015's pace through 2016 that our market would be substantially overpriced by the end of the year and ready for a "correction" (aka price drop). We are approaching the price level of many desirable coastal markets, and as awesome as the front range is, it should not be priced that high. Inside you'll find all the stats for the year as well as additional commentary.

PS: Easter is coming early this year. The Annual Easter Egg Hunt will be Sat., March 26th, 10am @ Bronco Park.

*Best Regards,
Lisa*

of Homes sold for 2015	46	In order to best serve you, Tri-County Associates
Average Sales Price	$308,663	has specialized in selling homes in Amherst since
Average # of Days on Market	6	its inception in 1995. Thanks you for your loyalty
Fixed Rate Mortgage (1/18/16)	3.88%	and continued support throughout the years!

In 2014 the average home price in Amherst went up 12% and it was a great year. In 2015 the average home price in Amherst went up 11%. You have to go back to 1999-2000 to see the last time we had increases that big.

In 2013 it took an average of 21 days for an Amherst home to sell. In 2014 that number was down to 11 days, and in 2015 it dropped even further to 6 days. Never in Amherst history have homes sold that quickly over the course of a year and I have never seen anything like it in my 21 years in the business.

If you're a homeowner, rejoice! Your home is worth at least $30k more than it was last year, and upwards of $50k more than it was 2 years ago. If you're currently renting, you'll likely continue to see rents rise, and vacancies be few and far between.

WHAT WILL 2016 LOOK LIKE?

What I hope to see is a slightly larger inventory of homes for sale, price increases at a more sustainable 4-5%, and we'll have to keep our fingers crossed that the Federal Reserve doesn't hike interest rates up too far this year.

Regardless of whether we have ~5% appreciation this year or another 10%+ year, we are certainly approaching a soft ceiling. Several types of moves still make sense in this market. If you're considering a move, call or email me and we can evaluate your situation and see if it's the right time for you.
