

OPEN DOORS PROPERTY MANAGEMENT

Buddy Coppage

As a native of Lake Wales, Florida and spending much of my Childhood in the tobacco fields and peach orchards of steamy south Georgia, I found Tennessee to be a beautiful place where all the seasons of the year are equally enjoyed and so I settled right here in Chattanooga in 1985.

Some of my time in Tennessee has been spent in Jefferson City, home to Carson-Newman College where I had the privilege to study and earn my degree in Business Management and Accounting.

My strong interest in real estate investing peaked in 1993 when I purchased a duplex, my first rental property. My ownership of property expanded as I continued acquiring homes and apartment complexes here in Chattanooga in various phases of acquisition, rehabilitation, and then self management.

If your desires are for purchasing more property or management of existing properties, or even selling your existing properties, I can assist you with each and all of these.

I enjoy so much what God has given me the ability to do with my life and would appreciate the opportunity to now serve you.
