Instructions

The list below shows the components to each Fix It! Grammar weekly exercise.

Although in Levels 1–4 students could choose to either Mark It or Fix It first, in Levels 5 and 6, students must complete the passages in this order: Read It, Mark It, Fix It. After Week 4 students should number the sentence openers after the passage has been marked and fixed.

Students should discuss their work with the teacher after working through each daily passage. However, older students may work with their teacher on a weekly basis. Students should actively be involved in comparing their work with the Teacher's Manual. The repetition of finding and fixing their own mistakes allows them to recognize and avoid those mistakes in the future.

Fix It! Grammar should be treated as a game. Keep it fun!

Learn It! On the first day of the new Week, read through the Learn It section.

Each Learn It covers a concept that the student will practice in future passages. Instructions for marking and fixing passages are included in each Learn It.

Read It! Read the day's passage.

Look up the bolded vocabulary word in a dictionary and pick the definition that fits the context of the story. Maintain a list of vocabulary words and their definitions.

The vocabulary definitions are printed in the Teacher's Manual.

Mark It! Mark the passage using the guide at the top of the daily practice page.

Fix It! Correct the passage using the guide at the top of the daily practice page.

The Teacher's Manual includes detailed explanations for grammar concepts and punctuation in each daily passage.

Rewrite It! After marking, correcting, and discussing the passage with the teacher, copy the corrected passage on the lines provided or into a separate notebook.

- Copy the corrected story, not the editing marks.
- Indent and use capital letters properly.
- Copy the corrected punctuation.

Capitalization

Capitalize the first word of a sentence.

Capitalize proper nouns and proper adjectives.

Capitalize the personal pronoun I.

Capitalize a title when it is used with a person's name.

End Mark

Use a period at the end of a statement.

Use a question mark at the end of a question.

Use an exclamation mark at the end of a sentence that expresses strong emotion.

Indentation

An indentation shows the start of a new paragraph. In fiction (stories) there are four reasons to start a new paragraph: new speaker, new topic, new place, new time.

Fix It!

Place three short lines below letters that should be capitalized.

Draw a slanted line through letters that should be lowercase.

Place the correct end mark at the end of each sentence.

Add the ¶ symbol (known as a pilcrow) in front of each sentence that should start a new paragraph. When you rewrite the passage, indent. Start the sentence on the next line and write ½ inch from the left margin.

¶ Dorinda's new dress cost king morton an outrageous amount of money. The King was not pleased!

Subject and Verb

A verb shows action, links the subject to another word, or helps another verb. Every verb has a subject. The subject and verb (s v) belong together.

A subject is a noun or pronoun that performs a verb action. It tells who or what the clause is about.

Main Clause

A main clause contains a subject and a verb and expresses a complete thought, so it can stand alone as a sentence. Every sentence must have a main clause.

Find It! Read the sentence and look for the verb.

Ask, "Who or what ____ (verb)?"

Mark It! Write v above each verb and s above each subject.

Place square brackets around the main clause [MC].

King Morton ruled wisely].

Strong Verb

A strong verb dresses up writing because it creates a strong image or feeling. A strong verb is an action verb, never a linking or a helping verb. Look for strong verbs in this book and write them on the Strong Verb collection page, Appendix II.

Titles capitalized before a person's name include mister and missus as well as job titles like doctor, king, and president.

The king was King Morton.

Preposition

Definition: A preposition starts a phrase that shows the relationship between a noun or pronoun and another word in the sentence.

Phrase Overview: Appendix III

Prepositional Phrase

A prepositional phrase begins with a preposition and ends with a noun or pronoun, which is called the object of the preposition.

A preposition is the first word in a prepositional phrase. It shows the relationship between its object (a noun or pronoun) and another word in the sentence. Review the prepositions in Appendix III.

An object of the preposition is the last word in a prepositional phrase. It is always a noun or pronoun.

A prepositional phrase adds imagery or information to a sentence because the entire phrase functions as an adjective describing a noun or as an adverb modifying a verb or an adjective.

Formal gardens near a large conservatory featured exotic plants.

Near is the first word in the prepositional phrase. Near is a preposition. Conservatory is the noun at the end of the prepositional phrase. It is the object of the preposition. Near shows the relationship between conservatory (its object) and gardens (another word in the sentence). Near tells which gardens featured exotic plants. They are not the gardens behind, inside, or past a large conservatory. They are the gardens near a large conservatory.

The king's daughters often explored the gardens with him.

With is the first word in the prepositional phrase. With is a preposition. Him is the pronoun at the end of the prepositional phrase. It is the object of the preposition.

When a personal pronoun follows a preposition and functions as the object of the preposition, use an objective case pronoun. It is incorrect to write with I or with he because I and he are not objective case pronouns.

|        | 1st | us   |

If a prepositional opener has five words or more, follow it with a comma. If two or more prepositional phrases open a sentence, follow the last phrase with a comma.

Do not put a comma in front of a prepositional phrase.

Mark It! Underline each prepositional phrase.

Write prep above the preposition.

Write op above the object of the preposition.

Fix It! Insert or remove commas. Follow the comma rules.

In a charming ancient castle, [King Morton lived with his daughters].

Do not include the opener in the main clause square brackets.

Conjunction

A conjunction connects words, phrases, or clauses. A coordinating conjunction (cc) connects the same type of words, phrases, or clauses. The items must be grammatically the same: two or more adjectives, two or more prepositional phrases, two or more main clauses, and so forth. Use the acronym FANBOYS to remember the coordinating conjunctions.

The staff served King Morton, Princess Dorinda, and Princess Maribella.

And connects three nouns: King Morton, Princess Dorinda, and Princess Maribella.

Use commas to separate three or more items in a series. PATTERN a, b, and c

The king lived in the castle with his daughters and with the staff.

And connects two prepositional phrases: with his daughters and with the staff.

Do not use a comma before a cc when it connects two items in a series unless they are main clauses. PATTERN a and b

Dorinda raced through the gardens, and Maribella collected daisies.

And connects two main clauses. A subject and verb pair (Dorinda raced) comes before the coordinating conjunction, and a subject and verb pair (Maribella collected) comes after. When a subject and verb pair follows the coordinating conjunction, use a comma.

Use a comma before a cc when it connects two main clauses. PATTERN MC, cc MC

Compare the last sentence to this sentence:

Dorinda raced through the gardens and collected daisies.

And connects two verbs: raced and collected. A subject and verb (Dorinda raced) come before the coordinating conjunction, but only a verb (collected) comes after. The verbs have the same subject. This is the same pattern as a and b when a and b

Do not use a comma before a cc when it connects two verbs. PATTERN MC cc 2nd verb

Mark It! Write cc above each coordinating conjunction.

Fix It! Insert or remove commas. Follow the comma rules.

Dorinda ran through the gardens, smelled the roses, and picked daisies.

Dorinda was lovely, but spoiled.

Maribella sketched the flowers, and Dorinda bounced a ball.

The king groaned at Dorinda's mischief, yet loved her anyway.

Clause

A clause is a group of related words that contains both a subject and a verb.

Main Clause

Week 1 you learned that a main clause contains a subject and a verb and expresses a complete thought.

[Dorinda's dress was expensive].

Every sentence must have a main clause.

[Dorinda's dress was expensive], and [this frustrated her father].

Two main clauses can be placed in the same sentence if they are connected with a comma and a coordinating conjunction. MC, cc MC

Dependent Clause

A dependent clause contains a subject and a verb but does not express a complete thought. It cannot stand alone as a sentence but must have a main clause before or after it. In this book you will mark three types of dependent clauses.

Who/Which Clause

[Dorinda's dress, (which she purchased online), was expensive].

A who/which clause is a dependent clause that begins with who or which. It is an adjective clause because it follows the noun it describes. Use the pronoun who when referring to people, personified animals, and pets. Use the pronoun which when referring to things, animals, and places.

The subject of most who/which clauses is who or which, but sometimes the subject is another word in the clause.

When the first word of either a who or a which clause functions as an adjective, use whose. Whose is a possessive case pronoun, which functions as an adjective to show ownership.

Place commas around a who/which clause if it is nonessential.

Do not place commas around a who/which clause if it is essential (changes the meaning of the sentence).

Weeks 3-6 contain only nonessential who/which clauses. They require commas. Week 7 you will learn how to determine if a clause is essential or nonessential.

That Clause

that [It frustrated the king] (that Dorinda purchased the dress).

A that clause is a dependent clause that begins with the word that and contains a subject and a verb. Because that clauses are essential to the sentence, they do not take commas.

That clauses do not take commas.

An adverb clause is a dependent clause that begins with a www word (a subordinating conjunction) and contains a subject and a verb.

The acronym www.asia.b reminds you of the eight most common www words. However, these are not the only words that begin an adverb clause. Other words can function as www words too.

Mark It! and Fix It!

Recognizing the basic clause and phrase structures in a sentence will help you punctuate sentences properly. Label the subject-verb pairs to determine how many clauses are in each sentence. Focus on the word that begins the clause to determine if it is a dependent clause or a main clause. After you have identified each clause, check its placement in the sentence and follow the comma rules.

Mark It! Place parentheses around the dependent clause.

Write v above each verb and s above each subject.

Identify the dependent clause by looking at the first word of the clause.

Write w/w above the word who, which, or whose.

Write that above the word that.

Write AC above the www word.

Fix It! Insert or remove commas. Follow the comma rules.

[King Morton, (whose castle was vast), had lost his crown]. that s v [It frustrated the king], (that he had lost his crown). [The king was irritable], (since he had lost his crown).
