About the Prix de l’Arc de Triomphe

After a $145 million facelift, ParisLongchamp Racecourse will host Europe’s richest race, the Prix de l’Arc de Triomphe again in 2019. The prestigious race has been held at leafy Longchamp since the days of Napoleon III more than 150 years ago, and after a two-year residency at Chantilly two years ago, it returns for its second year back at ParisLongchamp.

The winner of the "Arc", a one-and-a-half-mile test of speed and stamina for three-year-olds and above -- will earn five million euros, making it the richest race in Europe.

All Packages include

- Return Eurostar to Paris Gare du Nord (Flights also available)
- A range of 3/4/5 star hotels located near the racecourse
- Return transfers from your hotel to the racecourse on Sunday
- Tickets or hospitality to the Prix de l’Arc De Triomphe

Drinks Evening

Racing Breaks customers are invited to join our exclusive Preview Drinks evening on Saturday 5th October 2019.

This year the event was held at Le Meridien Etoile, a short distance from the Arc de Triomphe. We were lucky to be joined by up and coming jockey Oisin Murphy and retired racing legends, John Reid and, Michael Hills. The evening was hosted by racing presenter Mike Cattermole.

Guests can relax and enjoy a few drinks whilst listening to personal anecdotes, tips, and tricks for the Arc. There are also plenty of prizes to be won in a raffle including tickets to the Racing Breaks box at Ascot, signed books, breeches, goggles and boots to name a few.

Details for 2019 to be confirmed.
