Colori is a celebration of Nature, in both the display of the colours of the rainbow and the fact that the shape is dictated by the interpretation of the Fibonacci sequence. The outer shell is made of clear glass which is treated by dying it internally with non-toxic pigments, all done in order to give some translucence. In a second step, the glass parts are affixed to an interior skeleton made in steel: the entire structure rests on a base of polished steel. Made in Italy entirely by hand by craftsmen in the town of Modena.
