ABSTRACT

NABH stands for National Accreditation Board for Hospitals & Healthcare Providers, and NABL stands for National Accreditation Board for Testing and Calibration Laboratories. Both are accreditation bodies in India that are part of the Quality Council of India.

KEYWORDS: NABH, NABL, QCI, SHCO, MIS, EMR, ESI.

OVERVIEW

NABH stands for National Accreditation Board for Hospitals & Healthcare, and NABL stands for National Accreditation Board for Testing and Calibration Laboratories. Both are autonomous bodies under the Quality Council of India. NABH is not a government organization, but it is a constituent board of the Quality Council of India (QCI). The QCI is an autonomous organization under the Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade. NABH (National Accreditation Board for Hospitals and Healthcare Providers) and NABL (National Accreditation Board for Testing and Calibration Laboratories) are both accreditation bodies in India that ensure quality standards in healthcare. Both are related to the healthcare industry and provide regulatory standards in India. That makes people often confuse one with another. In simple words, NABL's scope of work is limited to laboratories, while NABH accredits quality of healthcare in hospitals, clinics, and other medical facilities. While NABL basically deals with sophisticated technical aspects related to the procedures proposed for laboratory tests, accreditation by NABH is supposed to cover the entire grey area relevant to facilities dealing with healthcare. NABL stands for National Accreditation Board for Testing and Calibration Laboratories, and NABH is an acronym for National Accreditation Board for Hospitals and Healthcare Providers. NABL is a constituent board of Quality Council of India which is an autonomous body setup under Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade (DPIIT), Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Government of India. NABH Objective is to operate accreditation and allied programs in collaboration with stakeholders focusing on patient safety and quality of healthcare. Dr. Atul Mohan Kochhar is the CEO of the National Accreditation Board for Hospitals & Healthcare Providers (NABH). Mr. N. Venkateswaran is the CEO of the National Accreditation Board for Testing and Calibration Laboratories (NABL). National Accreditation Board for Testing and Calibration Laboratories (NABL) is an accreditation body, with its accreditation system established in accordance with ISO/IEC 17011. National Accreditation Board for Hospitals & Healthcare Providers (NABH) is a constituent board of Quality Council of India (QCI), set up to establish and operate accreditation programme for healthcare organizations. QCI stands for Quality Council of India. It's a non-profit organization that assesses and certifies products, services, and processes. The National Accreditation Board for Hospitals (NABH) standards for hospitals focus on patient safety and quality of care. The standards are intended to help hospitals improve their quality culture and patient safety.

Colours of NABH: 1. Code Red signals a fire emergency in the hospital. In case of a fire, this code alerts the hospital staff to follow the fire safety protocol, which may include evacuation, fire suppression, or calling the fire department. 2. Code Pink is an emergency code used in hospitals to indicate a missing infant or child. It's used when a child is missing from where they should be, whether they are a patient or a visitor. 3. Code Blue is a medical emergency code used in hospitals to indicate cardiac arrest or respiratory failure. NABH, or the National Accreditation Board for Hospitals & Healthcare Providers, requires hospitals to have a standard response plan for Code Blue situations.

4. Code Black is the emergency code for a bomb threat. It indicates that the hospital needs to evacuate the area and ensure the safety of everyone on the premises. 5. Code Green is a program by the National Accreditation Board for Hospitals and Healthcare Providers (NABH) to promote sustainable healthcare practices and climate resilience. The program aims to help healthcare organizations reduce their environmental impact and adapt to climate change. 6. Code Brown is an emergency code that indicates an external disaster that affects the hospital's operations. This could include floods, earthquakes, or storms. 7. Code Purple/Violet is an emergency code that indicates a hostage situation or violent threat. The purpose of this code is to provide an appropriate response to situations involving an aggressive, hostile, combative, or potentially combative persons toward hospital employees. 8. Code Yellow is an emergency code that indicates a disaster or mass casualty event, such as an accident or natural calamity. In a hospital, a code orange is an emergency code that indicates a hazardous material spill. This could be a chemical, biological, or radioactive spill. 9. Code White is an emergency code used in hospitals when there is an incident of violence or aggression. This could include physical altercations, verbal abuse, or other forms of aggression. 10. Code Grey is a standardized hospital emergency code that indicates a combative or dangerous person in the hospital. It's used to alert hospital staff to take appropriate action. The purpose of the code is to provide an appropriate response to situations involving an aggressive/hostile/combative or potentially combative person. This is used to signify a stubborn or combative patient, alerting staff to potentially aggressive or hostile behavior from a patient, family member, or visitor; this is also the NABH code for such situations National Accreditation Board for Hospitals & Healthcare Providers, abbreviated as NABH, is a constituent board of Quality Council of India (QCI), set up to establish and operate accreditation programme for healthcare organizations. Formed in 2005, it is the principal accreditation for hospitals in India.

2. Certification: [Entry Level Hospitals, Entry Level SHCO, Entry Level AYUSH Centre, Entry Level AYUSH Hospital, Nursing Excellence, Medical Laboratory Programme, Emergency Department in Hospitals, Digital Health for hospitals, Digital Health for HIS {Hospital Information System}/EMR {Electronic Medical Records} products].

ABH Objective is to operate accreditation and allied programs in collaboration with stakeholders focusing on patient safety and quality of healthcare. The National Accreditation Board for Testing and Calibration Laboratories (NABL) ensures that laboratories in India meet international standards for quality and reliability. The accreditation of labs improves facilitation of accurate and rapid diagnostics, efficiency of treatment and reduction of errors in the laboratory process. NABH was established in 2006 by the Quality Council of India with the mission to improve healthcare quality and patient safety in India. Its primary goal is to set benchmarks for the healthcare industry by developing and implementing accreditation standards. The National Accreditation Board for Testing and Calibration Laboratories (NABL) was established in 1993. The Department of Science and Technology (DST) of India founded NABL.

NABH: [NABH-accredited hospitals use a variety of medical equipment, including hospital furniture, medical equipment, and ICU and OT equipment. They also use digital systems to manage patient records, laboratory tests, and radiology tests]

- ❖ Accredits healthcare facilities like hospitals, clinics, and other medical facilities
- ❖ Ensures high standards of patient care and safety
- ❖ Helps healthcare organizations demonstrate their commitment to quality care
- ❖ Helps healthcare organizations benchmark with the best
- ❖ Helps build community confidence in healthcare services
- ❖ Helps healthcare organizations market themselves competitively
- ❖ Helps insurance and other third parties empanel healthcare organizations

While NABL basically deals with sophisticated technical aspects related to the procedures proposed for laboratory tests, accreditation by NABH is supposed to cover the entire grey area relevant to facilities dealing with healthcare. The role of the accreditation also becomes very critical in order to assure that the diagnostic centre and hospitals maintain high standards concerning patients' care and safety and general operational efficiency. NABH accreditation will mean that at Doctors Diagnostics Centre, patient-centred care with regard to safety at the time of service provision remains ensured. The centre follows NABH protocols of stringent safety measures, staff training, and usage of high-quality equipment.

NABL: The National Accreditation Board for Testing and Calibration Laboratories (NABL) accredits instruments in many fields, including mechanical, thermal, electrical, and more. [Pressure and vacuum: Pressure gauges, vacuum gauges, pressure transmitters, and vacuum transmitters. Thermal: Glass thermometers, digital thermometers, and temperature recorders. Mass: Weighing balances, analytical weight boxes, and weight boxes

Volume: Pipettes, micro pipettes, burets, measuring cylinders, and beakers. Dimensional: Micrometers, including digital, point, spline, and blade micrometers. Force and torque: Hardness testers, durometers, and torque wrenches. Electrical: Volt meters, ampere meters, frequency meters, resistance meters, and multimeters. Analytical: Ovens, BOD incubators, and weighing balances]

- ❖ Accredits laboratories
- ❖ Ensures that laboratories meet national and international standards
- ❖ Recognizes the technical competence of a laboratory
- ❖ Helps laboratories maintain high standards of technical procedures

- ❖ Helps laboratories maintain high standards of operational efficiency

NABL stands for the National Accreditation Board for Testing and Calibration Laboratories. It is an autonomous body working under the Department of Science and Technology, Government of India, responsible for providing official accreditation to all testing and calibration laboratories throughout the country. On the other hand, in the garb of NABL accreditation, it's a mark of quality and reliability which assures diagnostic centre that they follow international standards with regard to technical competence and excellence in their operations.

Both NABH and NABL are autonomous bodies under the Quality Council of India.

Both these organisations ensure quality health care through the diagnostic centres that come under their accreditation. It is an organisation of such repute that the process of its accreditation could never be a one-time event but rather a continuous procedure wherein there is regular auditing of the laboratories at par with existing quality standards. This auditing is absolutely required for the continuity in conformity to set quality standards of these facilities. Here it basically means when we refer to why is an accredited centre a must:

Quality Assurance: The Doctors Diagnostic Centre always maintains the high parameters set by NABL and NABH to assure patients that nothing but the best in diagnostic services is offered. In addition, routine audits are done to keep the centre updated with the latest technological advances, as well as the best practices acknowledged internationally.

Test results that are correct and dependable: An accurate diagnosis is an important factor that gives the doctor and clinician information they need to make the appropriate decisions to care for their patients. NABL accreditation ensures that the Doctors Diagnostic centre abides by the delivery of accurate and reliable test results. This directly helps health care professionals with information to cater to their patients for optimum care.

Trust and Credibility: Amidst the teeming metropolis that is Delhi, the Doctors Diagnostic Centre has found itself a house among the very reliable and reputable diagnostic institutes.
