Additional Case Information:

Site is harvesting stock.

Recent health surveillance (05/02/2025) showed no significant results and fish were feeding and behaving well, although some fish were observed to be lethargic.

SLICE treatments had been conducted in October 2023 and April 2024.

During site inspection the general population were observed to be shoaling well and were in good condition. Stock were swimming deep in the water column. Low number of fish were observed to have lesions but were healing well. 5 moribund fish and 2 runts were observed across site.

1 fish was sampled for VMD and was in good condition externally and internally

Mortality, Sea lice and treatment records, FMS were inspected remotely on 12/03/2025 by [REDACTED] whilst supervised by [REDACTED].

Site inspection and VHWP/ BMP, records of health surveillance and movement records were inspected on 17/03/2025 by [REDACTED] whilst supervised by [REDACTED]. VMD was sampled by [REDACTED] whilst supervised by [REDACTED].
