ARBOR VITAE

Embroidery, p.90
FRINGE LILY
Small side petals

The number of strands was omitted from the instruction to work the German knotted blanket stitch. The instruction should read:

Fill each half of each petal with German knotted blanket stitch using two strands of BN for the upper half and BE for the lower half.

Embroidery, p.91
FRINGE LILY
Large side petals

An incorrect thread was given to work the lower half of the large side petals. The instruction should read:

Leaving a small gap along the upper edge of the shape for the gilt check outline, fill the shape with herringbone stitch using CN. Lace the herringbone stitch using Z. Work a row of heavy chain along the lower edge of the petal, beginning at the base and using CN.

Embroidery, p.93
GUMNUTS
Leaves

Padding was inadvertently mentioned in the instructions for attaching the leather leaf shaping. The instructions should read:

Check the fit and trim if necessary. Using a waxed length of CV, attach the leather over the inner leaf design with stab stitch, working from the fabric into the leather and beginning with strategic points, then between the points at 2mm ( $\frac{1}{16}$ " ) intervals.

Liftout Pattern, sheet 2
Embroidery design

The sepals for the Sturt Desert Rose were omitted from the pattern sheet and the spacing of the beads for the Cornflower do not need to be transferred to the fabric.

See the page 5 for the updated embroidery design.

PERFECT MATCH

Preparing the fabric, p.161

The numbers indicated on diagram 1 were incorrectly labelled as threads.

The numbers represent tacking stitches: 128 tacking stitches (512 threads), 64 tacking stitches (256 threads).

PUT YOUR FEET UP

Embroidery, p.129

The incorrect stitch was given to work the waratah stem. The instruction should read:

Work the stem with three rows of chain stitch using AE.

In the index for the step-by-step stitches and stitch glossary on page 198, there was an error in the page numbers indicated for each stitch - each is two pages short of the actual page numbers.
