In-home family services is a 10-to 12-week, intensive, in-home program designed to prevent imminent out of home placement and keep families together. A Family Consultant spends on average up to 5 hours a week in a family's home and community to help parents provide a safe, healthy environment for their children. The Family Consultant focuses on family strengths, helping the family to become self-sufficient, and improve parenting techniques. The Family Consultant not only provides interventions in the family's own home and community, but also links the family to community resources needed to maintain stability. Family Consultants are on call 24 hours a day 7 days a week. Care Coordination Services provide intensive case-management services for families in or approaching situations. Trained Consultants help families build and maintain family stability, develop parenting skills to support youth independence, and access community resources. Care Coordination Services provide a lifeline to family members by ensuring they receive the right care at the right time.

4b (Code) (Expenses $ 913,530 including grants of $ 52,165) (Revenue $ 201,935)

Family Home Services include Family Homes for Adolescents, which is a family style, community-based residential program, which can serve six to eight males or females, usually ages 10-18. Married couples called Family Teachers are the primary treatment agents, along with a full-time Assistant Family Teacher. Family Teachers are responsible for structured supervision of youth in daily living and treatment activities. The couple and their assistant work on both treatment and skill building in the home, and with community and family resources in the child's life. The couple and their assistant work on skill building in the home with an overall goal of the child generalizing these new skills into the community and family settings. A major focus of this program is teaching older youth functional skills - often referred to as independent-living skills-that help them achieve success in school, with their families, and in work settings. Boys Town Nevada, Inc has five Treatment Family Homes located in northwest Las Vegas, just off Rainbow Boulevard north of Ann Road.
