Form 990 (2016)

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

BoysGrow is a not-for-profit agency providing mentoring, entrepreneurship skills, and positive male role-models for inner-city boys ages 14-16. BoysGrow literally broke ground in the Spring of 2010 and is a year round farming and business program supporting the youth by providing valuable personal and business tools while cultivating and selling our products. The program is volunteer supported, staff guided, but youth driven. The Program strives, with staff guidance and direction, for the boys to take pride in their crops and products to ensure the success of the program. This will in return create self-pride, identity, and belonging, not only for the youth to the concept of the BoysGrow name but to himself and his fellow workers and the positive and successful environment they have created. The young men who work for Boys Grow do everything associated with running a farm and small business from planting seeds and growing produce to meeting with local restaurants to sell their products. Each Boys Grow class is required to create a product that will be sold in local grocery stores. The products will include farm grown ingredients and the youth create, market, distribute and sell their chosen product. The young men are compensated for their work on the farm. With their first job comes the expectation to come to work on time, in uniform and are held accountable for their work ethic. During 2016, Boys Grow continued to successfully provide an abundance of opportunities and experiences for 45 youth and engaged with over 176 volunteers who provided an estimate of 1,850 hours of service. The youth received classroom instruction and hands on activities around all aspects of running an organic farming operation from composting techniques and soil maintenance. Furthermore, the youth all received hands on lessons in product development, direct public sales, culinary skills, and personal mentorship from staff and volunteers.
