Part X, Line 2:	The Organization has adopted provisions of "Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes" which prescribes a recognition threshold and a measurement attribute for the financial statement recognition and measurement of tax positions taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. For those benefits to be recognized, a tax position must be more-likely-than-not to be sustained upon examination by taxing authorities. The amount recognized is measured as the amount of benefit that is greater than 50% likely of being realized upon ultimate settlement. The Organization recognizes interest and penalties accrued related to unrecognized tax uncertainties, if any, in income tax expense. As a result of the implementation of this standard, the Organization determined that there are no material uncertain tax positions.

Minutes of the meeting should be recorded and maintained by the agency in their files. 5. Board members regularly attend meetings and are actively involved in fulfilling their responsibilities to the agency. 6. The executive director of the agency answers to the board of directors and is subject to their authority. 7. The agency does not support partisan organizations, politicians or candidates for political office. 8. The organization will supply a list of board members to the United Way annually at the time of allocation meetings. II. Financial Management and Fiscal Responsibility 1. Agencies share the responsibility of being accountable to the community for the expenditure of voluntary dollars. Periodic and timely reporting of financial and program data to the United Way concerning operating costs, revenues, and service statistics will help to assure credibility with the contributing public. 2. Record keeping must be maintained in compliance with generally accepted accounting principles for non-profit organizations. 3. The organization must provide to the United Way copies of its annual financial statements prepared on the accrual basis or its annual IRS 990 form. 4. The organization's internal financial management policies and procedures must assure adequate control and security and must not be in the complete control of the executive director. III. Other matters 1. The organization must be fully licensed, certified, or accredited by the appropriate authorities and/or accrediting bodies. It must operate within federal, state, and local laws. 2. Both the geographical area and target population to be served by each agency's programs must be clearly defined. 3. Each agency must agree to support, cooperate and identify with the United Way. The partnership between member agencies and the United Way is a relationship of mutual support which revolves around cooperative efforts in fund raising, community initiatives, communications, and fund distribution. Each member agency agrees to identify itself as a recipient of United Way funds in every favorable and practicable manner. Agencies are to display the United Way logo on buildings, stationary, mass distribution pieces, TV spots, and any other positive media. 4. Member agencies agree to inform the United Way of major expansion or reduction in programs, services, facilities, or staff. 5. Member agencies agree to refrain from conducting fund raising activities during the annual community-wide United Way campaign which is normally conducted from September to early November. 6. Efforts by member agencies to develop sources of revenue should be carried out in a manner as to assure that the United Way giving base in the community will not be adversely affected. 7. Volunteers provided by member agencies are forbidden to encourage donors to designate to their agency under the United Way "donor choice" program. 8. Each agency actively seeks and maintains cooperative relationships and collaborates with other agencies when appropriate.
