Conflict of Interest Policy

The organization's executive director ensures that each member of the Board of Directors annually completes the form which is required by the organization's conflict of interest policy. Each Director is primarily responsible for identifying any conflict or potential conflict of interest and addressing the same to the Board as a whole. The organization does not undertake any separate audit to determine compliance; however, the areas served by the organization are relatively small and close-knit, and Directors are generally able to identify conflicts and potential conflicts on the parts of other Directors.

Compensation

The Organization has an Executive Director, but no CEO or other management officials. In 2007, the Board of Directors performed an investigation within the community to determine the rate of compensation for other similarly-situated non-profit entities, for the purpose of ensuring that the Executive Director's compensation was appropriate. The results of such investigation were provided to all Directors who then voted to set the Executive Director's compensation. No further investigation or review has been done since that time. Increases to the Executive Director's compensation have been commensurate with adjustments to cost of living.
