Part I Summary

1 Briefly describe the organization's mission or most significant activities
 Starting Block Madison conducts a wide array of educational, training, and mentoring activities to support the creation of and growth of start-up companies. Educational programming will be available for Starting Block members as well as the general public. Programming will focus on issues facing start up companies, social entrepreneurship, helping women, people of color, and students to become successful entrepreneurs, and assisting city and state governmental agencies reach their economic development objectives. Starting Block Madison will provide some members with workspace for start-up development. Some of the workspace will be exclusive to each member company, but much of the space is designed to allow access to shared resources (such as a tech lab) and to foster creativity and collaboration among members. There was some limited programming activity in 2017 as the space is set to open in June 2018. Planning for the design of the space started in 2017.
