Community-Based Services - (Expenses $1,854,509, Revenues $1,900,416) LFSVA is committed to helping families deal constructively with problems and crises so that they can remain together as healthy families. Community-based services include behavioral treatment services, in-home counseling, intensive in-home services, therapeutic support services, social groups and "Essential Pieces", vital education and supports for families with children on the autism spectrum. By providing research-based, community-centered services, we work to eliminate the need for out-of-home, out-of-community or out-of-state placements. During the year ended June 30, 2016, we provided these services to 111 individuals, supporting and strengthening families. Community-based services also include Therapeutic Day Treatment (TDT), which is a school-based program that provides services to help children overcome the mental health, emotional, behavioral and substance abuse issues that create barriers to learning. LFSVA staff members develop interventions that help children improve behavior, which allows them to participate more fully in the classroom. During the year ended June 30, 2016, we provided TDT services to 157 children. In addition, our Essential Pieces program provided education, support and fun to 154 children and family members.
