The students have access to the computer lab for completing homework that requires computer and Internet. Tutoring Group and individual tutoring is available. Tutoring is provided in Language Arts, reading, mathematics, spelling, phonics, science, geography, social studies and other subjects as request by students, teachers, and parent or by grades students receive Reading. Students receive assistance to enable them to read at their appropriate or above grade level by providing time after homework to read from a rich range of interesting books and other material. The literacy enrichment activity teaches reading, writing and mathematics through games and other exciting activities. The tutors and teachers assist students. Topics change weekly and are chosen by the project director to address students' problem areas and to reinforce concepts concurrently being taught in the regular classroom. Hands-on manipulative and one-on-one tutoring is used to reinforce techniques in punctuation, syllabication and synonyms and homonyms. Expanded academic enrichment opportunities are offered using teaching equipment and supplies, i.e., Leapfrog, and other learning games. These tools provide means of working with mathematics, science and geography. Students learn to master principals for testing in different academic topics in order to pass standardized or other tests they are required to take. Activities are age and grade appropriate. Most material comes from EdHelper, Teachers Created Resources and other educational resources organizations that we have a subscription with permission to print needed material. To advance higher order thinking skills, group problem-solving skills, communications skills and self-confidence, a fun and dynamic setting is used that result in amazing self-discoveries. Students learn team-building skills such as trust, cooperation, and support. The project director leads these activities. Mathematics Café each Friday students receive tutoring and mathematics skill building. This activity is designed to increase mathematic abilities and improve degraded. Technology Center Students have access to technology center for research and preparing class assignment. Transportation is provided from school to MTP site, and to home from MTP site as needed by participants.
