Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

Community and Facility-based Day Program: Adults with significant disabilities, ages ranging from ages 22 to over 70, are offered life enhancing goal directed day programming, supported employment and/or shelter work to meet the needs and desires of the individuals served. Programming varies from paid work, basic education, vocational and pre-vocational activities in stimulating facility-based or community settings geared to maintaining and increasing their intellectual and physical well-being and improving the participant's quality of life. Examples of the activities include, but are not limited to, creative expression with emphasis on visual arts, physical activities, visiting museums, parties, life-skill training and social activities in the community, as well as special programs for senior adults.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b:

Residential - Seagull provides residential services as a licensed ALF (Assisted Living Facility). Service includes medication management and oversight of health care to allow people with lifelong disabilities to live as independently as possible. In addition to room and board, these homes offer personal care and training that increases or maintains the level of independence of the residents and enhances their quality of life. Known as Seagull Place campus on Singer Island the group homes include family style living with 24-hour supervision, case coordination of health and wellness, activities, nutritious meals, and participation in social and community events. Transportation is provided to school, work, medical appointments or other day activities as well as evening and weekend activities.

Return Reference	Explanation
Part X, Line 2:	Seagull follows FASB ASC 740-10, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes. This pronouncement seeks to reduce the diversity in practice associated with certain aspects of measurement and recognition in accounting for income taxes. It prescribes a recognition threshold and measurement attribute for financial statement recognition and measurement of a tax position that an entity takes or expects to take in a tax return. An entity may only recognize or continue to recognize tax positions that meet a "more likely than not" threshold. Seagull assesses its income tax positions based on management's evaluation of the facts, circumstances, and information available at the reporting date. Seagull uses the prescribed "more likely than not" threshold when making its assessment. At adoption, Seagull did not record any cumulative effect adjustment, and Seagull did not accrue any interest expense or penalties related to tax positions. There are currently no open Federal or State tax years under audit.
