Return Reference	Explanation
Part X FIN48 Footnote	"Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes" contained in FASC Topic 740 - Income Taxes requires the use of a two-step approach for recognizing and measuring tax benefits taken or expected to be taken in a tax return and disclosures regarding uncertainties in income tax positions. The first step is recognition - we determine whether it is more likely than not that a tax position will be sustained upon examination, including resolution of any related appeals or litigation processes, based on the technical merits of the position. In evaluating whether a tax position has met the more-likely-than-not recognition threshold, we presume that the position will be examined by the appropriate taxing authority that has full knowledge of all relevant information. The second step is measurement - a tax position that meets the more-likely-than-not recognition threshold is measured to determine the amount of benefit to recognize in the financial statements. The tax position is measured at the largest amount of benefit that is greater than 50 percent likely of being realized upon ultimate settlement. Differences between tax positions taken in a tax return and amounts recognized in the financial statements will generally result in one or more of the following: an increase in a liability for income taxes payable, a reduction of an income tax refund receivable, a reduction in a deferred tax asset, or an increase in a deferred tax liability. We have not identified any uncertain tax positions requiring adjustment or disclosure. We have not identified any uncertain tax positions requiring recognition in our financial statements and we believe that the positions taken would not require settlement at an amount less than full recognition. We file an information tax return in the U.S. federal jurisdiction. We generally are no longer subject to U.S. federal income tax examinations by tax authorities for years before 2012.
