Supplemental Information

Return Reference	Explanation
Part X, Line 2	As a matter of law, the Chamber is subject to examination by federal taxing authorities. Although management believes that the amounts reflected in the Chamber's exempt tax returns substantially comply with the applicable federal tax regulations, the IRS can take positions contrary to the Chamber's position based on their interpretation of the law. A tax position that is challenged by a taxing authority could result in an adjustment to the financial statements. Generally, federal taxing authorities can include returns filed within the last three years for examination, and additional years can be added if a substantial error is identified. Generally, if a substantial error is identified, the federal taxing authorities will not go back more than the last six years. Any interest and penalties that resulted from such examinations will be expenses in the year they are assessed on statement of revenues, expenses paid and changes in net assets.
