Chrysalis' offender treatment program provides services for individuals who have been charged with a misdemeanor or felony domestic abuse charge and are referred by probation department. We do accept self-referrals as well. This program strives to educate and support those involved in the criminal justice system so they may learn their unhealthy patterns of behavior and replace these patterns with healthier ones. In FY 2019-2020, our program served 433 people. Transitional housing provides up to two years of safe housing for individuals and families leaving abusive relationships and environments. It provides intensive case management for those who are working and/or attending an education program. The goal of this program is to help families obtain and maintain self-sufficiency. In FY 2019-2020, this program served 62 individuals including 43 children which totaled 12,629 bed nights.
