Form 990 (2017)

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a:

INCOME Strong, financially stable families are the foundation of a vibrant community. Our goal is that all Anchorage residents are housed, financially stable and have the opportunity to increase their income and save for the future. When an individual or family becomes homeless, the consequences expand exponentially for the individual, the family and the community. By providing needed housing quickly and identifying the specific needs of each individual and/or family and tailoring supports, United Way of Anchorage and its partners work to make homelessness as rare and brief as possible. To help keep families from slipping into homelessness in the first place, efforts to prevent having to choose between basic needs and housing expenses included the distribution of 8.6 million pounds of food in FY18. Overcoming obstacles, such as a lack of job skills or money management skills that prevent hardworking families from getting ahead financially are key to long-term stability and independence. In FY18 over 2,700 individuals participated in financial management programs and over 4,400 participated in a variety of workplace skills development programs. The collaborative Tax Prep Services effort saved 4,437 Anchorage residents an estimated $887,400 in tax prep fees and delivered nearly $5 Million in refund dollars that make a difference in a family's ability to pay their bills and stay housed. Alaska 2-1-1. When Alaskans need help finding help, they turn to Alaska 2-1-1. Operated by United Way of Anchorage, Alaska 2-1-1 is the single, comprehensive statewide provider of health and human services information and referrals. By dialing the easy to remember telephone number 2-1-1, callers connect with trained specialists who can assess their needs and refer them to the appropriate resources in their area. During FY18, 24,223 people called 2-1-1 for assistance and referrals, saving both frustration and time for those already in stressful situations. Alaska 2-1-1 is a resource for collaborative efforts that address social service needs, working with local, state and federal government and tribal organizations. Examples include Alaska 2-1-1 acting as a central information resource for the collaborative work around Free Tax Preparation, for Health Insurance Marketplace assisters and for alcohol addiction and recovery information for Recover Alaska HEALTH. Healthy communities are strong communities which is why United Way of Anchorage focuses on expanding access to quality health care and encouraging all Anchorage residents in practicing healthy behaviors. For the nearly 14 percent of Anchorage residents who live without health insurance, even a small health issue can have big consequences. That's why making sure all Anchorage residents have access to health care is a priority for United Way of Anchorage and why together with its partners, more than 12,000 individuals were screened for health issues in FY18. In addition, more than 25,000 people received health education. Health care services were provided to 2,600 and logistical or financial assistance accessing health care was provided to more than 4,700 covering medical, dental, substance abuse, emergency, mental and women's health needs. Hundreds of uninsured and under-insured Alaskans also saved more than $442,000 on the cost of needed medications through our participation in the Familywise Discount Prescription Drug Card program. When people have access to good medical care, they are more likely to succeed in school and work and to have a better quality of life, resulting in a stronger community for everyone.
