

The Squadron's Courses and Activities

Development Courses, Activities and Courses for Companies

The Squadron is the only learning center of its kind in the world specializing in strengthening capabilities for personal, team and organizational excellence based on the methodologies and culture of the IAF. The Squadron's workshops provide tools and solutions, taken from the world of flight and adapted to the civilian domain, for dealing with complex and changing realities efficiently and effectively. Workshops and lessons are led by senior IAF combat pilots (res.) with consultation from field leading experts.

Activities and Events for the General Public

The Squadron offers a wide range of activities for individuals or groups at all different levels. Come for an unforgettable flight training session or join a training program that will teach you to fly at the highest levels. These courses promote hands on learning; giving you the tools to grow, improve, and overcome obstacles. Additionally, The Squadron is the perfect place to host your private event or celebration; Birthdays, Bar Mitzvahs, family events, conferences, or lectures. The Squadron team will ensure a meticulously planned and memorable event, adapted to satisfy your preferences. The Squadron workshops cover various topics at all levels, making a great gift.

⦿ The first and only F-16 and F-35 simulator squadron of its kind, for achieving individual and group excellence. The Squadron was founded to let everyone experience the thrill of flying an advanced combat simulator as well as to expose them to the world of the Israeli Air Force. Our professional staff of senior IAF combat pilots (res.) and former IAF simulator instructors will guide you through this unique experience, give you the tools and instruction needed to achieve excellence, and expose you to the culture of the IAF.

⦿ The Squadron is located in the Cinema City complex in Gllot. It was constructed to resemble a real air force squadron, including the F-16 and F-35 simulators.

The Squadron operates according to a typical air force squadron schedule. Put on a flight suit, receive flight instruction, brief your mission, fly it, then debrief your flight in accordance with The Squadron's research methodology.

⦿ A flight simulator is a device that simulates flying in a real aircraft. The advanced simulators at The Squadron consist of F-16 and F-35 replicas. All buttons, switches, and of course throttle and stick are as they should be with an advanced screen promoting an even greater sense of reality. The Squadron's simulators are programmed with proprietary Lockheed Martin (F-16 and F-35 manufacturer) technology, allowing for an experience closest to the real thing.

Using advanced technology developed by The Squadron, formation flight consisting of multiple Squadron simulators is possible, allowing for realistic team missions. Throughout our training sessions, various means of documentation will be employed, allowing for in depth analysis and research into your flight.

Youth Courses:

Flight combat courses for achieving personal excellence. A unique curriculum covering the basics of flight, familiarity with aircraft systems, debriefing methodologies, leadership development, decision making process, and developing self-confidence and personal excellence. Courses are conducted by senior IAF fighter pilots (res.), former combat simulator instructors, and are based on the methodologies of the IAF's cultural structure.

The Squadron Online:

The Squadron is now offering online combat simulator flight courses. Fascinating and enriching courses taken from the world of flight which focus on imparting flight skills, tools of excellence, and continuous improvement. These courses focus on providing participants with the personal skills and tools, that when applied to their daily life, will result in beneficial improvements. The Squadron uses advanced technology to ensure a seamless educational and experiential experience closest to the real thing.

Tourists

The Squadron activities are a fascinating and unique way to get to know the State of Israel. Meet with fighter pilots, expose yourself to this unique technology, learn about the current geopolitical situation of the Middle East, and see the landscapes and holy sites while flying an advanced fighter jet simulator.
