

We create profitable relationships between Financial Institutions and Banks

From the onboarding phase of multi currency accounts to the seamless execution of cross-border transactions, TenureX's solution unlocks new relationships and segregated accounts while maintaining the trust between you and your existing banking partners.

TenureX's platform enables FinTech providers and financial institutions (FIs) to connect and collaborate with a diverse network of banks and partners offering program management (custodian and customer segregated accounts) and corresponding banking services.

With the TenureX platform FI's are able to safeguard their customers' funds with top tier banks, gain trust from any corporate customers, provide more value to their existing corporate customers and attract new business.

Take your business to truly borderless.

Once TenureX builds your banking network with diversified and stable banking solutions, you'll harness the ability to scale and offer multi currency accounts as well as process B2B payments to recipients in multiple countries at scale, all via a simple API integration.

TenureX Solves Your Greatest Challenges

-  Connect to multiple banks and customer segregated accounts
-  One single on-boarding process allows you to open multiple accounts with multiple banks
-  Lower existing maintenance and monitoring costs while mitigating risks to enable scaling without any added resources

-  Access multiple correspondent banks and new corridors
-  Control your exposure and know what transactions need processing before they hit your banking partners
