

Weiss, Porat & Co. is an internationally oriented law firm based in Israel with offices in Europe, U.S., Australia and the East Asia.

We have extensive experience in legally and commercially accompanying foreign and international companies and investors in their engagement with Israeli companies and in Israel and have successfully advised and represented many international companies in various cross border transactions and cases.

We have unique experience in Israel working with Asia and Asia companies, including Japan, Korea, China, Taiwan and others. Our clients include companies from various sectors including IT, electronics, communications, trading, software, investment & banking, food, energy and industry as well as Governmental agencies.

Attorney Zeev Weiss, senior partner of the firm, serves as the Chairman of the Israel-Japan Chamber of Commerce and Friendship Association.

We practice various fields of commercial, civil, domestic and international law, including cross border transactions, M&A's, energy law, corporate law, technology transfer agreements, licensing, joint ventures, trading and distribution agreements, international taxation, investments, dumping, trade levies, litigation and arbitration.

Offering creative, professional and custom-designed legal advice together with business understanding and international perspective, our team assists our clients in achieving their business objectives.

Members of our team speak English, Japanese, French, German, Flemish, Swedish, Arabic, Russian and Hebrew.