II. Discourse on the History of Archaeology

This space is usually reserved for an outstanding short article on some facet of research in the history of archaeology. However, with this first issue, we list the names and addresses of Associate Editors so that correspondence relating to the history of archaeology may be sent directly to Associate Editors representing various geographic... regions. Of course, correspondence may be sent at anytime to the General Editor. Communications may be sent to:

Dr. Susan J. Bender
Associate Editor, Northeastern USA
USA
Department of Sociology,
Anthropology and Social Work
Skidmore College
Saratoga Springs, New York 12866

Dr. Andrew L. Christenson
Associate Editor, Western
Department of Sociology,
Anthropology and Social Work
229 Creekside Circle
Prescott, Arizona 86303

Dr. Christopher Chippindale
Associate Editor, Old World
USA
85 Hills Road
Cambridge CB2 1PG
England

Dr. Christian E. Downum
Associate Editor, Southwestern
Department of Anthropology
Building 30
University of Arizona
Tucson, Arizona 85721

Dr. Don D. Fowler
Associate Editor-at-Large
Department of Anthropology
University of Nevada-Reno
Reno, Nevada 89557

Dr. Alice B. Kehoe
Associate Editor-Midwestern USA
(Marquette University)
3014 North Shepard
Milwaukee, Wisconsin 53211

Dr. Edwin A. Lyon
Associate Editor, Southeastern USA
and 3530 Houma Boulevard
Metairie, Louisiana 70006

Dr. Donald E. McVicker
Department of Sociology
Anthropology
Post Office Box 3063
North Central College
Naperville, Illinois 60566-7063

Dr. Daniel Schávelzon
Associate Editor, South America
Instituto de Investigaciones
Historicas
Facultad de Arquetectura y
Urbanismo
Universidad de Buenos Aires
Cuidad Universitaria
1428 Buenos Aires

Dr. George W. Stocking Jr.
Liasion, History of Anthropology
Newsletter
Department of Anthropology
University of Chicago
1126 East 59th Street
Chicago, Illinois 60637

Dr. William E. Taylor Jr.
Argentina

Associate Editor, Canada
III. Current Research

As part of the initial data gathering of the Society for American Archaeology's Committee on the History of Archaeology, Andrew Christenson has begun a database (dBase III+) of significant Americanist archaeologists. Included are the names, dates, nationalities, and location of archival materials for 584 archaeologists who work or worked in the New World. Most of these people are listed in Willey and Sabloff's A History of American Archaeology (2nd edition, 1980). The list provides a minimum sample of archaeologists whose work should be documented in archival collections. The database needs to be expanded to include a wider range of archaeologists, both professional and amateur, especially ones who are retired or near retirement and whose personal papers are not yet in public repositories. Copies of the database are available from the compiler, Dr. Andrew L. Christenson, 229 D Creekside Circle, Prescott, Arizona 86303.

The Baylor University Institute for Oral History (IOH), in conjunction with the historical committee of the American Anthropological Association, has begun interviews with pioneering Texas anthropologists. So far Jackie Jeffrey of the Institute and John W. Fox of the Department of Anthropology have interviewed E. Mott Davis and T.N. Campbell. Transcripts are currently being prepared. Information on this project may be obtained from Jeffrey at IOH, Baylor University, Box 7271, Waco, Texas 76798-7271.

Lawrence G. Straus (University of New Mexico) is currently involved in doing research on the influence of Abbé Henri Breuil on European archaeology. He delivered the Snead-Wertheim Lecture in Anthropology and History at the University of New Mexico. The title of his lecture was "The Abbé Henri Breuil: Pope of Paleolithic Prehistory". His talk outlined Breuil's many contributions and the