From City Hall June 2021

We are sad to see former City Clerk Sandra Meer leave, but wish her the best as she moves forward with her husband and their business, CW Outfitting. Best wishes to her. Jenn Hegna steps into her place and we welcome her to Holdingford as she, and our current Deputy Clerk, Julie Warren, team up to keep Holdingford running smoothly in City Hall.

Speaking of smooth, wow, and hallelujah! Main Street hasn't been this smooth and unpatched in many years. Yeah!

Holdingford, like many other cities, is moving back to a new normal. Events are back and doors are opening that have been locked and closed for too long. The pandemic has changed many lives and livelihoods. Stay safe.

The Council is in need of volunteers for a Planning and Zoning Committee, interested individuals please call City Hall at (320) 746-2966. Although the council approved repealing Ordinance 115 which adopted the Minnesota State Building Code, the city still wants to ensure new building structures are safe and constructed in compliance with the Minnesota State Building Code and our ordinances.

We would like to welcome to Main Street Husker Nutrition, and also the new photography shop that is in the process of getting settled; it is fantastic to see new additions and buildings being filled. All of our area community businesses are so important. Please be sure to stop in and buy locally.

The City will be making improvements to the Well house in the next upcoming weeks. It has been in need of some updates and as one project gets finished there seems to be another in the background needing attention.

Please note the newsletter for upcoming events.

Respectfully,
Sue Marstein, Holdingford Mayor
