FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

First Medway Art Week Begins April 26

MEDWAY, MA- Would you like to learn how to make Gelli-plate prints or try drumming? How about making your own ice cream? Do you know what a Glamelia or Zentangle or Tessellation is? This and much more is happening during art week hosted by the Medway Cultural Council from Friday, April 26th to Saturday, , May 4th.

A statewide celebration, Arts week is filled with fun and interactive activities for the whole family to enjoy. Now celebrated annually each spring, ArtWeek is affordable fun for anyone with a creative sense of adventure. This award-winning festival features unique and unexpected experiences that are participatory, interactive, or offer behind-the-scenes access to artists or the creative process, each ArtWeek event is a one-of-a-kind celebration that people won't want to miss.

“We are thrilled that Medway will join other cities and towns in offering fun, arts-related activities for all ages during Art Week. Come and support our local talent and businesses at the Thayer House and Library, by trying something new and show that the arts matter to you.” stated Carla C. Cataldo, Chairwoman of the Medway Cultural Council.

Since fall 2013, ArtWeek has featured nearly 1000 unique events involving more than 900 partners and the number keeps growing. Events will take place at the Medway Public Library and Thayer House.

Some of the many local artists participating in art week include: Tim Rice Photography, Medway Dance Authority, Judith Moffatt and Jane Curran. There will also be instrument making for children and live animation by the Kendall family in the Makerspace at the Medway Public Library.
