The approximate cost for planting of trees is the cost of the tree. So, if the approximate cost of the tree is $80, plan on the planting to be approximately $80. It's the best estimate I use for a planting price and it is usually spot on if not less. Usually price deviations are dependent on soil amendments needed, mulching, or fertilizers used. We will usually include fertilizer with the tree but will leave the possible mulching up to the customer.

According to city ordinance, the City will pay for half of the cost of purchasing and planting the tree, so the cost to the homeowner is the price listed above.
