New WIS 57 bridge over Hibbard Creek opens in Door County

Crews reopen bridge on Thursday, November 13.

(Jacksonport) The Wisconsin Department of Transportation (WisDOT) Northeast Region announces the new WIS 57 bridge over Hibbard Creek in Jacksonport, Door County, is now OPEN to travel. Construction of the new structure finished Thursday, November 13, 2025. Work to replace the old culvert pipes at Hibbard Creek with a new at-grade, slab span bridge began September 3, 2025.

This was a multi-year, multi-bridge construction project that began in 2024 with the completion of two structure replacements at Lily Bay Creek and Geisel Creek in the town of Sevastopol. Earlier this year, the existing culvert pipes at Logan Creek were replaced with a new at-grade slab span bridge. This Hibbard Creek structure is the last structure replacement as part of this multi-year construction project. This project is now concluded.

Project benefits

Replacement of the existing deteriorated culverts with new drainage structures will reduce the regular maintenance and intermittent traffic disruptions at these locations. The new drainage structures will also improve drainage under the highway at these locations, reducing saturation and improving longevity of the road core. Flattening of roadside slopes and removal of guardrail at the Lily Bay Creek crossing and upgrades to guardrail to current standards at the other three crossings will improve safety.
