Kellie Thompson

A CHANGE FOR SUCCESS!

WORDS BY: LYN HOFFMANN © 2023 ★ PHOTOS BY: ACE PHOTOGRAPHY

BEING BORN INTO A NON-HORSEY FAMILY NEVER STOPPED A YOUNG KELLIE THOMPSON FROM WANTING TO COMPETE ON HORSES. SHE LOVED TV SHOWS LIKE CISCO KID AND FURY, BUT HER 'HORSE' BACK THEN WAS A BROOM HER FATHER HAD ATTACHED REINS TO. SHE RODE THAT BROOM AS FAR AS HER IMAGINATION ALLOWED. WHEN HER AUNTY MARRIED HORSEMAN, KEVIN MCGREGOR, 5YO KELLIE TRADED HER BROOM FOR THE REAL THING.

Kellie's first horse, a mountain brumby colt, wasn't a perfect match, but eventually she had some amazing horses, for Pony Club and other events, and had access to beautiful country trails. Although her Uncle Kev suggested cattle and sporting events, the young Kellie wanted to be 'a pretty rider', riding beautiful hacks at shows, and was soon competing in English events. She says she rode and showed, right up until her marriage took her to Mackay, in Queensland.

'Years later, when my marriage ended, I returned home, a single Mum with three gorgeous girls. But eleven years ago, Yella Oak Q-61683, aka Kid, came along, and after 25 years, I was riding again, perhaps my greatest equine achievement! I jumped at the chance to purchase Kid, without realising how lucky I was. Some amazing new horsey friends helped & supported me to regain my knowledge and confidence to get back into the showring. Kid was highly trained in Halter and Western Performance, so I tried Western Pleasure, but we weren't bonding! With my limited understanding of Western, and no trainer for the transition, I almost sold Kid three times! Thankfully, I converted Kid to English, and he adapted easily. We became a team, attending agricultural and breed shows, competing in Hacks, Show Hunter and Rider classes. In twelve months, Kid successfully qualified for the Sydney Royal Show!'

However, in 2014, a Hack show Judge told Kellie; 'I can see your horse is well-educated, however, he's too much Quarter Horse for my liking and you should stick to Western shows'. That comment was a direction-changing moment for Kellie. Unperturbed, she put Agricultural Shows behind them to embrace Western competition, a move proving great success!

Living at Nulkaba, Hunter Valley, NSW, is great, Kellie says. The gateway to some of Australasia's top horse breeders, it's central to the Western shows that she now regularly attends. A member of various clubs, Kellie attends many shows, the furthest north, Gatton, Qld and south, Tatura, Vic. Employed within the NDIS, for YouMatta Support Services, Kellie loves her work, coordinating the required support of their clients and maintaining the daily rostering of staff. She's welcomed another lovely AQHA gelding into her life and talks about both horses with love and pride.

YELLA OAK aka Kid - Q-61683

'Yella Oak, with his arena presence, inspired me to show him at Halter. Quiet, loving and extremely smart, Kid gave me the courage to push myself, learn and gain confidence. We learned and now compete successfully in Show Hunter, Western Dressage, Dressage, Ranch Versatility and Ranch Riding. From our first Nationals and State shows, I was happy just to get a ribbon, but since becoming Australian, NPHA and Multi-State Champions, I realise we've come a long way, and I'm proud!'

Kid, a flashy bay roan gelding, has attracted a large following, but Kellie says that everything he does is on his terms.

'He's like a box of chocolates—really lovely, but you just don't know what you'll get on the day. On show day he'll decide if he wants to perform or not! He's my heart-horse, ticks all the boxes and has done incredibly well. I'm very proud of everything Kid's achieved and is yet to achieve. Highlights would have to be winning his first Open Show Hunter Champion, his first ever State Title and show garland in Victoria, Reserve Australian Champion Show Hunter, Australian Champion Halter Gelding, and Australian High Point Halter Horse. My plan was to retire him from Halter as an 8yo and finish on a high. But every season it's 'just one more year'. Another eight years have passed and he's still competing successfully and winning. Kid's achieved all the major awards he can in Halter, so now, concentrating on his ridden classes makes so much sense.'

UNDISPUTABLE SCORE aka Scorsey - Q-96424

Two years ago, the pretty palomino, Undisputable Score, was sitting in a paddock. Kellie's good friend told her she should buy him—so she did! Unshown, Scoresy had no real education until Kellie prepared and trained him for Halter. Scorsey quickly went from a paddock pony to a Champion Halter horse, achieving two ROMS, National Grand Champion, NSW State Grand Champion and Grand Champion/Supreme Champion of numerous club shows. A proud Kellie says she's excited for their future together.

'At the 2023 NSW Quarter Horse Championships, Scoresy won the State Champion Halter Gelding and then Reserve Champion Halter Gelding, and Kid took out State Champion Performance Gelding, and then Grand Champion Performance Gelding. We had an incredible show! Scoresey's only just begun his show journey—his second year in the Halter pen with amazing results. He's still maturing, so I believe he can only get better and continue to be competitive. I plan to introduce Scoresey to Trail, Western Riding, Western Horsemanship and Ranch Riding. Scoresey is a delight, with a wonderful temperament, and we have a strong bond.'

ROUTINE YOUR WAY TO ACHIEVEMENTS!

"To perfect our Halter presentation, I've learned from many dedicated competitors. My preparation is consistently routine, and it begins well before show day, with a balanced diet, dedicated work schedules, and time put in. Grooming, clipping, hoof care, and appropriate rugging are essential. I band the boys the night before any show, because nervousness hits on show day, and I don't want to miss classes. Early on show morning, Kid's always prepared first, with black and white leg make-up applied. Tails are put in, then face make-up and hoof paint are applied! Attention to detail is paramount. Once they're ready to go, I get myself ready, my presentation complimenting my horse. I fit the show halters correctly, and off we go! Being gracious and courteous to other competitors is crucial, no matter the outcome of classes."

Kellie says her major achievements were not only possible due to drive, hard work, dedication and hitting goals—behind her are many very special people, and they know who they are!

'John, the special person in my life, is wonderful, inspiring and at my side, every show. His love and support encourages me completely. My beautiful family do so much for me, and my dear friends support and encourage. I love them all dearly. Uncle Kev, an amazing horseman and my wonderful role model, was loved by many, but sadly passed from cancer in 2011. He holds a special place in my heart, and would have loved our achievements.'

Kellie says that the dedication, passion and love that goes into training, preparation and competition for any show, regardless whether it's Halter or Performance classes, results in true enjoyment.

'Halter is a great event and I think everyone should have a go at it. There's so much help and advice out there. A dear friend said to me—'Just roll the dice - you need to be in it!—I'm blessed to have Yella Oak and Undisputable Score, and look forward to showing them into the future.'

Performance Stallions Diets

QH stallions are exceptionally talented and athletic. How do we feed them?

We expect a lot from them and usually we get it. They are a versatile horse with brilliant temperaments making them relatively easy to work with compared to some other breeds.

Stallions show us such heart and true grit. There is nothing more magnificent to watch than a performance stallion out there doing his job well. So, what can we do to support and improve their performance?

The best place to start is with a good understanding of their nutritional requirements.

Stallions require the correct levels of roughage, energy, protein, fats, vitamins, and minerals daily to reproduce, compete and thrive.

Let's begin with fibre. All horses require a roughage-based diet. Stallions are no different. If we don't get the dietary fibre right in any diet, we will be limiting the horse's potential in performance and breeding success.

Many high-level performance horses travel often to compete, and are stabled for long periods of time. Stallions may be housed in over grazed pastures due to limited paddock options available for them on the property. These are both good reasons to check the roughage your stallion is getting and make sure it is adequate.

The roughage content of their diet will depend on the energy required in their workload, along with the nutrient content of the roughage. It is also seasonally dependent.

The volume of feed should be comprised of approximately 70% roughage and 30% - 35% in concentrates, depending on the workload.

WRITTEN BY MISHEL METCALF EQUINE NUTRITIONIST, PASTURE MANAGEMENT AND EQUINE VETERINARY NURSE, DIP. HERALISM FOR ANIMALS.
HIFORM © 2023

Let's look at energy. Is your horse receiving enough energy from the roughage?

He may be!

Like people, there are good doers and poor doers, some that can convert the smell of grass to energy and calories, and some that take a considered feeding plan to maintain good health and vitality. It really depends on your individual horse and the pasture or hay that you are feeding.

Understanding energy requirements of your individual performance stallion requires knowledge of the horse's size and function, the nutrient content of each feed supplied, along with the capacity of the horse for feed utilisation.

When we talk about individual capacity, this means volume of the different parts of the intestinal tract, the rate of passage of the digesta, efficiency of dietary enzymes, the energy demand of the horse and the energy density from the feed. It is not a one size fits all approach.

To unravel some of the terms and values around energy, maintenance energy requirement is the energy used for normal body functions including growth and heat production.

The gross energy (GE) of a feed is the heat evolved when it subjected to complete combustion in the atmosphere of O₂. The digestible energy (DE) is the gross energy less the energy content of the faeces attributable to it. Metabolizable energy (ME) is the energy left after subtracting the combustible waste gases and urine excreted. ME is the residue of feed energy that is available to the body for its various functioning of organs, processes of tissue repair and physical work of the muscles, growth, and reproduction.

Energy utilization by the stallion is affected by the type of energy (grain, fat, roughage) supplied. Meadow hay for example would have 30% loss of energy as waste heat whereas barley would only have a loss of 15% in the same conditions.

The work type such as endurance or speed, also effects how the energy is utilised.

The ground surface, rider weight, environmental temperature, and recovery from exercise can all play a part in feed conversion to energy.

Assessment of your stallion's performance and consideration of these factors will indicate if more energy is needed in his diet.

To add energy, feed a good quality fat, such as cold pressed flaxseed oil. This is higher in energy than grain per kg, supports reproductive success, assists with good gut health, reduces inflammation and provides more stamina and less bulk for your stallion.

Research has also shown that Omega 3s, contribute to improved sperm quality in stallions with poor fertility. Omega 3's play a role in increasing sperm motility.

Overall, flaxseed oil has added health benefits and is a great source of fat. If you prefer to feed grain, whole oats or steamed rolled barley are both good options, containing less starch than other grains Observe your stallion and note his condition. Does he need additional weight or muscle tone?

This is where protein becomes an important element to adjust in his diet. The protein in his roughage may be less than 10% and additional supplementation may be required.

There are many high protein feeds available on the market but be mindful of providing additional sugars and starch. Protein is probably the most misunderstood part of the horse's diet. Many owners make the mistake of thinking protein is an energy source.

The function of protein in the diet is a building block for growth, repair of bones, muscles and almost all the soft tissue in the body.

Protein is not used immediately by the horse's body and is broken down to nitrogen. Nitrogen is then bound up as ammonia and urea which are excreted in the urine. You will notice the smell in the urine when too much protein is in the diet.

Feeding too little protein can affect body tissue development, hoof growth, energy and skin and coat condition. A horse may eat his own manure in search of protein if the diet is really lacking.

Growing horses have a higher requirement for protein than mature horses. When looking for a protein source, search for a natural protein without fillers, preservatives, additives, mould inhibitors and the like.

Feeding a natural diet without additives, will improve overall health. Remember that over time, all the additives not recognized by the horse's body as feed, will be treated as pathogens. A natural response to pathogens in the body is an inflammatory response leading to poor performance, poor gut health, a perpetuation for ulcer formation, weakened immunity and athleticism and even soundness problems.

A very important part of a stallion's diet should be the vitamin and mineral content. A supplement should be given daily to provide a balanced diet.

Pasture is a living eco system of its own, that can change rapidly in its nutritional value. Climatic conditions will modify the quantity of vitamins and minerals in the pasture and can make them more or less available to the horse. Hays also deteriorate in nutritive value over time.

The best way to manage the variation in nutritive content of roughage is to provide a daily supplement that is formulated to suit breeding and performance stallions. Choose a supplement that is low dose, palatable, formulated by a nutritionist, has proven results, and is of high quality organic or human grade where possible.

Along with nutrition, understanding how to manage the wear and tear of performance horses is crucial. A performance horse will suffer some type of pain during its training and having a team of professionals that can assist you is a must. A breeding stallion has additional stresses placed on his body and keeping his muscles and joints in great shape is imperative. Supporting, preventative musculoskeletal supplements may be useful, especially as the stallion matures or breeding commitments or competition level increases.

on a mission...

WORDS BY: LYN HOFFMANN © 2023 ★ PHOTOS BY: EV LAGOON / ACE PHOTOGRAPHY

HE LEARNED TO RIDE ON THE FAMILY FARM WITH HIS SISTER, CHASING COWS AND JUMPING LOGS, BUT TAJ CARSON IS ON HIS WAY TO BECOMING ONE OF THE COUNTRY'S BEST YOUNG WESTERN PLEASURE TRAINERS.

'Man What A Diva Q-80663, shown by Taj Carson - NPHA 2021'

Since being introduced to the western industry by his Mum, Hayley Cove, 22yo Taj has been showing for seven years. While attending Summer Sizzler with his family, he met Kane and Holly Skopp. He looked up to them, and would help around their barn in return for a couple of dollars to buy ice-cream. He started showing, and it grew from there. At 15, Taj showed in 14 -18 Youth. With family horses in training with Kane and Holly throughout his Youth career, Taj got to ride young horses, and some of the more broke horses that were in training with the Skopps. It was a massive advantage to him, as he got to feel what the horses felt like in all different stages of their training. Taj soon began showing in Open Futurities and Aged events.

'As a Youth I showed Undoubtaball, an amazing all-round horse. He was 3yo in our first year showing, and we attained 149 points and 5 ROMS. I started showing Richelle Portelli's imported mare, Too Lazy To Invest, in Youth Western Pleasure and Futurities. We had great major show successes, winning at Goulburn Valley Summer Sizzler, AQHA Nationals and the NPHA. Our most amazing win was the 2017 Open Junior Horse Western Pleasure at the AQHA Nationals. I was 16 and that was my first

Open title. As part of the AQHA Youth Team, I then travelled to Texas, USA, for the 2018 AQHA Youth World Cup.'

High School done, Taj returned to America to work as assistant trainer and coach, at Reid Thomas Performance Horses, travelling America-wide, preparing show horses for Select Amateurs and Youth, at the major horse shows for 2 years. Returning home, Taj worked for Holly and Kane Skopp at HK Show Horses, as an assistant trainer. This season he took a leap of faith to go out on his own, with full support from Holly and Kane, who live just up the road.

'Kane and Holly are my biggest mentors, teaching me almost everything I know about training. From the way you connect with your hands and feet, to the energy you ride with, and all the different ways to break a horse's body loose to create softness and slow legs. They've guided me in my life growing up, which has set me up in a great position of knowledge and understanding, at a young age.'

While USA-based, Reid Thomas was also a great mentor, teaching Taj about the way a horse training business runs, many different coaching methods, activities and terminologies to use when coaching someone, and how to look after a client's needs and goals, as clients pay a lot for the service provided for their dream or hobby.

PLAYING FAVOURITES

'At 17, I first had the honour of showing Man What A Diva, one of my favourite horses to show. Daisy. Daisy's outstanding and has won countless buckles and Futurities in Open classes. I consider her to be ahead of her time. Her progeny, too, have been outstanding in Australia, and continue to raise the standard for our Western Pleasure horse into the future. One of those, Don't Doubt Daisy, is our 5 year old mare, by No Doubt Im Lazy. Tanzy's prettiness and consistent elegance, as she moves, sees her shine in her dam's hoofprints – a stand-out everywhere she shows. Tanzy has a very special place in my heart. From her early training stages, we've developed a great bond, so I know she'll always give 100%. Riding Don't Doubt Daisy to win the Junior Derby at Summer Sizzler 2022 is a great memory – my first feature Western Pleasure class on a horse

'The phenomenal Man What A Diva Q-80663 & Taj - NPHA 2021

'4 & 5yo WP Derby, Dont Doubt Daisy Q-93458, Taj Carson for Maco Park Pty Ltd'

I'd trained myself. It's A Pretty Thing and Don't Doubt Daisy not only lead the Maco Park showteam, they have outstanding babies on the ground, and coming next season. From my upcoming youngsters, my most exciting is CP Showstoppin, Heartstoppin X It's a Pretty Thing. We have a big future planned out for her.'

MACO PARK

Taj says that Maco Park is a beautiful facility. Located in Hatton Vale, in southeast Queensland, it was previously an established spelling facility, which the family converted to suit their breeding and training needs. Future plans include a covered arena, and a breeding and foaling barn.

'Our breeding program's based around Western Pleasure mares with outstanding temperaments that have successfully competed in Australia at an Open Futurity level — mares like Xtreme Dream, by HF Somethin Hot, No Doubt Im Dreamin, by No Doubt Im Lazy, Born For This, by Smoochin, Raisin My Investment, by Invitation Only, and Only If You Love Me, by VS Code Red.

TAJ ON TRAINING

Taj loves training Quarter Horses, trusting their temperament and trainability to be safe enough for a 5yo kid or a 75yo rider.

From the breaking process to showing – it's a massive transformation. With so many ups and downs along the way, he says there's always some new motivation.

Whether it's a first ride on a breaker and they go around soft and confidently, or chasing that feeling of perfection on a broke, finished show horse. It all brings a smile to Taj's face.

'I look for a horse that's out of a great mare. Mare power makes a big difference in prospect quality. Prospects must be well-balanced and square with a good hock set, and when they move, have an even stride, front and back, in both directions at the lope, with nice flat knees up front. A short, tight jog is a big bonus, as it's probably the hardest gait to train, if they're not a natural at it. Finally, I love a slow mind-set and slow legs. In training, I focus on consistency throughout a horse's entire training program – it's so important.

Ensuring they're broke enough, and I'm in full control of them, before showing, is vital. I want that horse to have the best possible experience in its first show season.

I'll put in extra work prior to showing, to make sure the horse is well-prepared mentally, before their first few shows. It gives them the best chance of success and creates the best outcome for their first few show experiences. I like to be certain a horse is most comfortable within itself. Even the mildest amount of pain can hold them back from peak performance, so I have a lameness vet examine my show horses regularly and prior to competition. Maintaining older horses for showing is definitely something I enjoy. While it's important to ride them as broke horses, remember that horses never stop learning. I make them do exercises that force them to work a bit harder some days. It helps keep a horse's mind interested in what you want.'

Taj says that anyone can learn new training techniques or tips – from watching someone work a horse in the work pen, or from a lesson or a clinic, with someone explaining what to do, or from watching a video. With so many talented US trainers, Taj is planning to head back to America this year, as it's important to him to keep learning and improving.

Ceein Radical Q-71616 & Tracey Atkins

Tracey Atkins SHOOTIN' FOR THE MOON

WORDS BY: LYN HOFFMANN © 2023 ★ PHOTOS BY: EV LAGOON / ACE PHOTOGRAPHY

TRACEY ATKIN'S FAMILY HAS LONG BEEN INVOLVED WITH HARNESS RACING. HER MOTHER TAUGHT THEM TO RIDE BAREBACK, BEFORE SADDLING UP, AND AFTERWARDS THEY RODE PONIES IN ENGLISH EVENTS AT LOCAL AGRICULTURAL SHOWS.

Tracey & 'Ceein Radical Q-71616 aka Bailee' love Ranch Riding

After moving to town for work, 16yo Tracey stopped riding and didn't start again until she was 46yo. Now, she's over the moon with the success found with her lovely Quarter horse gelding, Ceein Radical.

'I initially bought a lovely old Stock horse to trail ride around our farm, and later bought a Quarter horse to show at Western events. Unfortunately, he didn't have the best arena attitude toward other horses, so I only showed at the Improver level.'

Tracey first saw photos of 7yo Ceein Radical Q-71616, on Facebook. Bailee, sired by Tall Dark N Radical Q-41653, out of Winderadeen Isablue Lady q-43976, was owned and raised by Rhonda Hockley, and trained by her husband, Mick.

'Rhonda was at Sizzler with one of her horses, and I met her there to discuss Bailee. When she spoke of him, she teared up. If Rhonda handled and trained him, he'd be a gentle soul, so I knew I had to have him. Sight unseen, I said I'd take him, so I transferred payment, booked the transport, and prayed that he'd be perfect for me. When the dark bay Bailee walked off the truck, he was everything Rhonda said he'd be. He didn't know me, but walked up to me and let me give him a hug. His kind eye assured me that I was going to have a lot of fun with him.'

Since buying Bailee, Tracey's moved up through the levels. Bailee's the horse everyone wants their horse stabled next to at shows, as he's buddies with everyone and amusingly, occasionally licks other horse's faces, which they seem to love! Bailee is kept at the Atkin's farm in Pine Lodge, Victoria, where Tracey's husband, Chris, has built her some stables and a lovely training arena.

'Liz Keating from Lifestyle Performance Horses is my trainer, and I go to her property weekly for lessons, then go home and practice. Initially, with my English discipline background, I struggled with the western 'buttons' and had difficulty getting Bailee to do anything. So, I was happy to find Liz through social media. For my first lesson, she sat with me, asked what I wanted to achieve, addressed my concerns, then helped me to set a program for the best way to move forward. In just 20 minutes of riding, she'd worked Bailee out and we were off and running. Liz's motto is 'Do it until you love it', and she'll push me to do things that she knows I can achieve, even when I think I can't.'

Tracey likes to get Bailee out to new and different environments, so sometimes goes to the indoor arena to ride him. Originally buying Bailee for Western Pleasure she quickly became bored, until discovering the Ranch classes, and various other pattern classes.

'Bailee and I love the pattern classes, our favourites being Ranch, Trail and Showmanship. I think competing in the various pattern classes highlights the adaptability and focus a horse and rider needs, because it proves their individual versatility and connection. Bailee is evidently happy in Ranch classes, too. One of my stipulations before buying Bailee was that he must know how to pivot well, so I could compete in Showmanship. Bailee's ground presence and mannerism makes him a beautiful for this event. To the public it looks easy, you're just leading your horse, but it's very technical and is beautiful to watch when done correctly. We've also just begun Dressage, which I think we're both enjoying!'

Bailee's a pleasure to show, but Tracey says she often has to earn it by working hard for everything he gives her. But when they place in a class, the reward is satisfying.

'Although without any bling, Bailee's unusual season-changing coat colour makes him stand out, and when the show halter goes on, he gets that 'look at me' attitude. I try to work him at least 5 days a week. I cut back from working full time to 3 days a week to concentrate on Bailee and I becoming a better team, and having a great show year. As an all-round horse competing in a lot of different events, when it's training time, I pick one class and we only work on those manoeuvres. I try not to mix it up so as not to confuse him with what I want.'

Bailee & Tracey negotiating the cones

Tracey & 'Ceein Radical Q-71616 aka Bailee' State Champion Showmanship

Tracey loves competing at major shows like Sizzler, Sun N Surf, NPHA, VIC State show and the National Quarter horse show, and says that the amazing friendships she's formed have been phenomenal!

'We all have such a great time camping at the shows, with a lot of laughs. The Select Amateur competitors are so supportive, so the marshalling area is very pleasant. Competing at the 2020 and 2021 NPHA Shows in Sydney are among my most favourite memories, when I won the Novice Horse Ranch class—my first ever Ranch class win—and placed 6th in the Open Walk Trot from a class of nineteen. It was a tough class, and I'd only had Bailee a short while, so I was over the moon to place that high!'

The pair has been lucky enough to win State Champion in Showmanship, Ranch & Trail in various Victorian State Shows and at the 2022 Victorian State Show they competed in the Open Walk/Jog Trail to place third in a huge class of 43 horses, leaving Tracey ecstatic! However, her proudest moment came during the 2022 National Quarter Horse show—their first Nationals.

'We received Reserve National Champion in a Showmanship class of 21. We'd been training so hard, so it took quite a bit to hold back the tears when we were called out in 2nd place. I was so proud of Bailee. Sizzler 2023 was also a super show, where Bailee performed amazingly in all his events and we received great results. We were lucky enough to be awarded High Point Select Amateur, another very proud moment as Sizzler is considered one of the top shows in Australia.'

As one of the founders of the Shepparton Western Horse Club, an Improver club, Tracey still loves to volunteer her time there, as it's where she began. She states that everyone needs a chance to start competing somewhere and feel comfortable and safe. Big Valley Quarter Horse Club, Benalla and the Bendigo Regional Appaloosa Club both offer great shows and Tracey says she's also travelled to Sydney and Tamworth for the bigger shows.

'I'd really like to thank my Mum, Pat Mark, who always watches me every single time I ride, just in case anything happens. When I'm at work she'll check Bailee's rugs, and give him lots of grooming and pampering. I swear he loves her more than me. Thanks must also go to my husband, Chris, who stays home and looks after all my other animals, I can chase my dreams! Without him, I'd have to miss the bigger shows. My 2023 goals are to perform our best at every show we enter—but my ultimate goal is to win my first buckle! For me, that would be a dream come true!'

Courtney on JD

WORDS BY: LYN HOFFMANN © 2023 ★ PHOTOS BY: KENNETH SPRINGER/LEXI SMITH MEDIA/BRITTANY MCVICAR

RODEO IS COURTNEY HALLAM'S LIFE. BOTH HER PARENTS AND OLDER BROTHER, BLAKE, COMPETED. HER MUM, DIANNE, HER BIG INSPIRATION, WAS A SUCCESSFUL BARREL RACER, BREAKAWAY ROPER AND TEAM ROPER, AND HER FATHER DAVID WAS BOTH, AN AUSTRALIAN CHAMPION CALF & TEAM ROPER.

'Family, Friends & Faith' COURTNEY HALLAM

Originally from Tamworth, in NSW, Courtney now rides and trains horses daily in the USA—a little girl's dream realised. But along with her parents, she's also faced true heartbreak and grief. But the champion she's become, supported by her family, friends and faith, has helped her get through.

'My parents gave Blake and I the mentality that the sky was the limit. As long as we worked hard, anything was possible. My Dad's famous saying to us was; 'Hard Work Creates Opportunities'. That quote gives me the push to strive for my best, every day. From my first competition barrel race at around 2yo, I was Breakaway Roping at 13. Blake & I were encouraged to do other sports, but during High School, we chose Rodeo. Mum's barrel horse, JD, was my first competition horse, and through my Junior years, I gratefully borrowed Jessie Heinemann's horse, Buddy. I later made Junior Finals on Parkinson's great horse, Jet.'

When Courtney thinks back, she's thankful her parents never bought her a trained barrel horse, as she's learned there's no greater feeling than training one's own.

'They'd bought Wellsdale Electric Acres for my brother, Blake, to rope off. Blake called him 'Beaver' after World Champion Calf Roper, Joe Beaver. But when Blake and Beaver didn't gel, he became mine. At 14yo, I started training Beaver in Barrel Racing, ending up ABHA Reserve Futurity Champions behind legendary barrel racer, Adele Edwards.'

Beaver took Courtney to the Junior National Finals in Barrels and Breakaway Roping, winning Australian Barrel Racing and All Round titles. They made the open ABCRA Finals, before Dusty McPhee finally bought him. Training, competing and winning on Beaver fuelled this cowgirl's passion for America and Futurity horse ownership.

BLAKE, MY BROTHER . . .

To live in the USA and be involved in the world of Barrel Racing was a dream of Courtney's. In April, 2016, she initially went for two months, returning home in June. She loved America and was planning to return — but then — her world turned upside-down.

'On September 1st, my brother, Blake, passed away in a car crash. Up until then he'd amazingly won 13 Australian Titles — including Australian Champion All Round Cowboy, Team Roping Header, Team Roping Heeler, Steer Wrestling, Junior Breakaway and Junior Steer Rider. Blake truly was 'my person' growing up. Still today, at 28, I look up to him more than anyone, and if I could thank just one person, it would be Blake. I wouldn't be able to do what I'm doing now without the courage and confidence he gave, and still gives me. He pushed me to my limits, even when I thought he was being hard on me — but he wanted to see me do my best. So, the only way I can honour my brother's life, is to live mine to its fullest, exactly as he did. I stayed in Australia with my family, putting the USA on hold. I sold Beaver, and began roping off Blake's horse, Texaco.

I'm so fortunate, with long-term sponsors in Resistol Hats and Cactus Saddlery. Ricky Bolin and Dustin Noblitt visited Australia, back in 2012. After visiting my family then, we joined their sponsored team and they've continued long-term sponsorship of us. After Blake passed away, Resistol named one of their hats after him, called 'Blakeo'. They're very special sponsors and have continued their support of me throughout my USA journey.'

USA DESTINED . . .

In 2018, Courtney made the decision that it was time to head to the USA. Her long-time friend, Brittany McVicar, connected her with Brittany Pozzi-Tonozzi, and Courtney moved to America in October, 2018..

'I was lucky enough to live with 2 x World Champion, Brittany Pozzi-Tonozzi, her husband, Garrett Tonozzi, and their 6yo daughter Tinlee, of Lampasas, Texas. I rode horses with them most days, also team roping with Garrett, and travelled the rodeo circuit with them. I've roped my whole life and love it. Although not serious about it, I've also Team roped my whole life—it's my fun event, and I have made it to Junior Finals Breakaway and All-Round titles. Brittany and Garrett welcomed me into their family like their own and helped and guided me in the right direction in the USA, and I'm so thankful to them for everything they've taught me. Their work ethic is second to none. Watching them train, compete and win over the years, on horses they've bred, is inspiring. They also gifted me an embryo, from Brittany's great NFR mare, Babe On The Chase, aka Birdie. The result was a colt, now gelded — A Guy Downunder, aka Dundee. I'll break him and start riding him next year.'

Courtney's travelled USA-wide with Brittany, from Washington State to Calgary, Alberta, competing in Futurities throughout Texas, Oklahoma, Utah, Colorado and Wyoming. She says that going to weekly barrel races and watching the best in the world encourages her every day. Jordon Briggs, an inspirational friend, has also been supportive to Courtney, throughout her USA journey.

COMPETITION . . .

Courtney says that the USA competition is extremely tough! With local weekly jackpots, riders are up against NFR girls and horses, and in Futurities, greats like Kassie Mowry, Brittany Pozzi-Tonozzi, Jordon Briggs and Ashley Schafer compete. However, riding and competing with world champions and top trainers accelerates the drive in Courtney!

'2yo, Yeah Shebe Runnin' was my first USA futurity prospect, bought after I arrived there. With mentorship from Brittany and Garrett, I futurityed her in 2020, and sold her at the end of the year, to buy Steel Famous, out of Brittany's great NFR horse, Steel Magnolias, in 2022. My first ever competition on Steel was Barrel Futurities of America World Finals in November 2021, where we entered the Juvenile for maiden 3yo horses. With 380+ horses entered, Steel placed in the Juvenile Open Average, and won the 2021 Juvenile Amateur World Champion. We placed and won money at a majority of the futurities and barrel races throughout the year. He finished his futurity year back at the 2022 BFA World Finals, as a 4yo. With 400 entries, Steel placed in the first round, qualifying us back to the finals and placed 15th in the Open Futurity Average. The first horse in the USA that I won off, Steel will always hold a special place in my heart. The prize money is a lot bigger in the USA, the biggest futurity has 3.5 million dollars added prize money. After an offer on Steele, I sold him and purchased my 2024 futurity hopeful, Coats Goodbye Stoli.'

Courtney competing on 'Rudy'

Courtney - Junior Barrel Race Champions & All-Round Cowgirl Australian Champion

'Barrel Racing is my passion. The sacrifices I made to be USA-based opened up many opportunities for me to do it for a living. I ride daily, depending on what competitions I'm going to. I compete in weekly Jackpots, and Futurities during the year.'

USA Rodeo life is busy. After one Barrel Race, Courtney's preparing for the next. Her competition strategy is total preparation and she puts 100% into everything, prior to a Barrel Race so her competitive confidence grows. When futurity training, she may have a different strategy or goal for each run — so will focus on what she actually wants to achieve from that run. With her hopes and dreams coming to fruition, she has more goals set for the future.

'In December, 2022, I moved from Lampasas, after purchasing a property in Stephenville, Texas, the cowboy-capital of the world. My current goal is to build a barrel racing program of my own and train my next Futurity colt to be ready for 2024.

I'm trusting God's plan for my life. If I continue to work hard towards attaining my long and short term competition goals, I know God will lead me along the right path.'

WITH THANKS . . .

Each of them, good family friends, Australian Champion Barrel Racers, Tania and Vicki Shiller, Shona Tribe, Wendy Caban, Leanne Caban, Jo Fisher and Bridget Brandenburg have each inspired Courtney, who spent a lot of time going down to Tania Schiller's place in the school holidays. She's so thankful to Tania for all she taught her.

In the USA, Courtney's grateful for the start and mentorship that Brittany and Garrett Tonozzi have given her. Kellee Crumpler, who now lives in the US, lived with Courtney's family growing up and has been like a big sister to her and is an important part of her life. Jo and Eddie Fisher, daughter, Shea and her husband, Tyson Durfey, so supportive, she says, are definitely her second family. Her caring, supportive friend, Jordon Briggs, has been there for her with all her futurity horses over the years. Courtney can't thank each of them enough.

'Mostly, I want to thank my parents, as I could never have done any of this without them. Although I've missed special family events and made sacrifices to live in the USA, my entire family's continuing support is unwavering, and they mean everything to me.'

ARCHA NATIONAL FINALS OPEN FUTURITY WINNER

One Stylish Madam

Q-95820

'Madam & Adam wrapping it up!'

'It began with Madam Tassard'

Early research had Shiralee scanning the AQHA site for Tassa Lena progeny. She found Madam Tassard Q-80669. After calling Madam's breeder, Madeline Cannon at Geurie, NSW, she went to look at the filly at Yeoval Show, NSW.

'Madam was cool and calm at the Agricultural show, not worried about a thing. I watched Madeline show Madam at Halter and then asked her if she'd sell her to me. However, Madeline told me was entered in the 2014 Landmark Sale, at the NCHA Futurity. I went to that Sale to purposely buy Madam. I asked Scott Johnson to take her home to his place and picked her up from there. Scott and Michael Johnson broke her in, then I sent her to Trent Smith to train for the 2017 NCHA Futurity. Madeline, and my daughter Rachael, sat with me to watch Madam's run and with a score of 217.5, she went Reserve Champion!'

Shiralee says that Madam was a great mare, always digging deep and giving her all, even after they discovered she'd pulled a shoulder muscle, and had ulcers.

'With treatment she gave her all at the next three Futurities. After the 2017 Futurity, we almost lost her due to a leg infection — I was heading to the USA at the time — I said to my vet 'Please save this mare!' Thankfully, he did. If not, I wouldn't have Style!'

With Madam's winnings Shiralee bred three embryo-transfer foals, one of which was One Stylish Madam, by Pepto Stylish Oak. The other foals were a black colt, by Pepto Stylish Oak, and a filly by Moore Metal, the colt that Trent Smith won the 2016 NCHA Futurity on.

ONE STYLISH MADAM Q-95820

'Style was an easy to handle foal, and is now, so special! I believed in her dam, and I believed in Style. I headed to Phil Rodey's for some horsemanship tips and he helped so much with Style, from catching her, to under saddle. I'm thankful this mare didn't go to Nutrien Sales, as I'd entered her and had almost sent her.'

Later, Style went to Adam Wrobel. He worked to get Style moving forward freely, and said she could track and chase a cow, had a real good stop and was balanced from the start of her training. He taught her all 3 event phases and she took to it beautifully. Adam & Lisa loved the mare, and with her training, she'd become part of their family. Prior to the ARCHA Nationals, he'd showed her at a few events and said that she was just so strong.'

Madam & Adam ARCHA Open Futurity Champions

ARCHA NATIONAL FINALS OPEN FUTURITY

'My biggest inspiration to enter Style for the ARCHA Futurity was Madam. I'd had faith in Madam, and I had faith in Style! I compete in Reined Cow Horse events, so I said, 'Let's have a crack at this 3 phase event—a big ask—not just perfecting one phase, but being good at all three.'

At the time of the event, Shiralee became sick, so was disappointed to not be there. She watched via live-stream, riding every stop and turn, especially when the cows come out, her favourite part.

'When Style came out, I was riding her from my couch, yelling 'Come on, get up there, get around, a bit more push!' The cattle were very touchy and wanted to run. Style headed the cow, stopped and turned on the fence, then headed for the second turn. She was staying in position on a tough cow—she had to dig deep in her circles to get around the cow—sand was flying. It was a good run for the highest scores for both, the fence work and the reined work! I didn't see her cutting run, as I'd headed to town to pick up BJ from work, so wasn't sure where she sat in the placings. Lisa Wrobel video-called me with the announcements and I listened via Bluetooth. When they called out Whiskey A Go Go on 422.5, I pulled the car over, so BJ and I could watch the rest and when they called Style's score out, she'd won by just ½ a point for a 423!! I was very emotional!'

Style had won prize-money, a lovely buckle for the rider, a sash, a beautiful garland, shin-boots and bell-boots, yeti mugs, and a service fee to the reining stallion, Gunnabeagoodnight. Shiralee was overjoyed, saying that the AQHA Incentive was so awesome to win — and a first at the ARCHA Futurity!

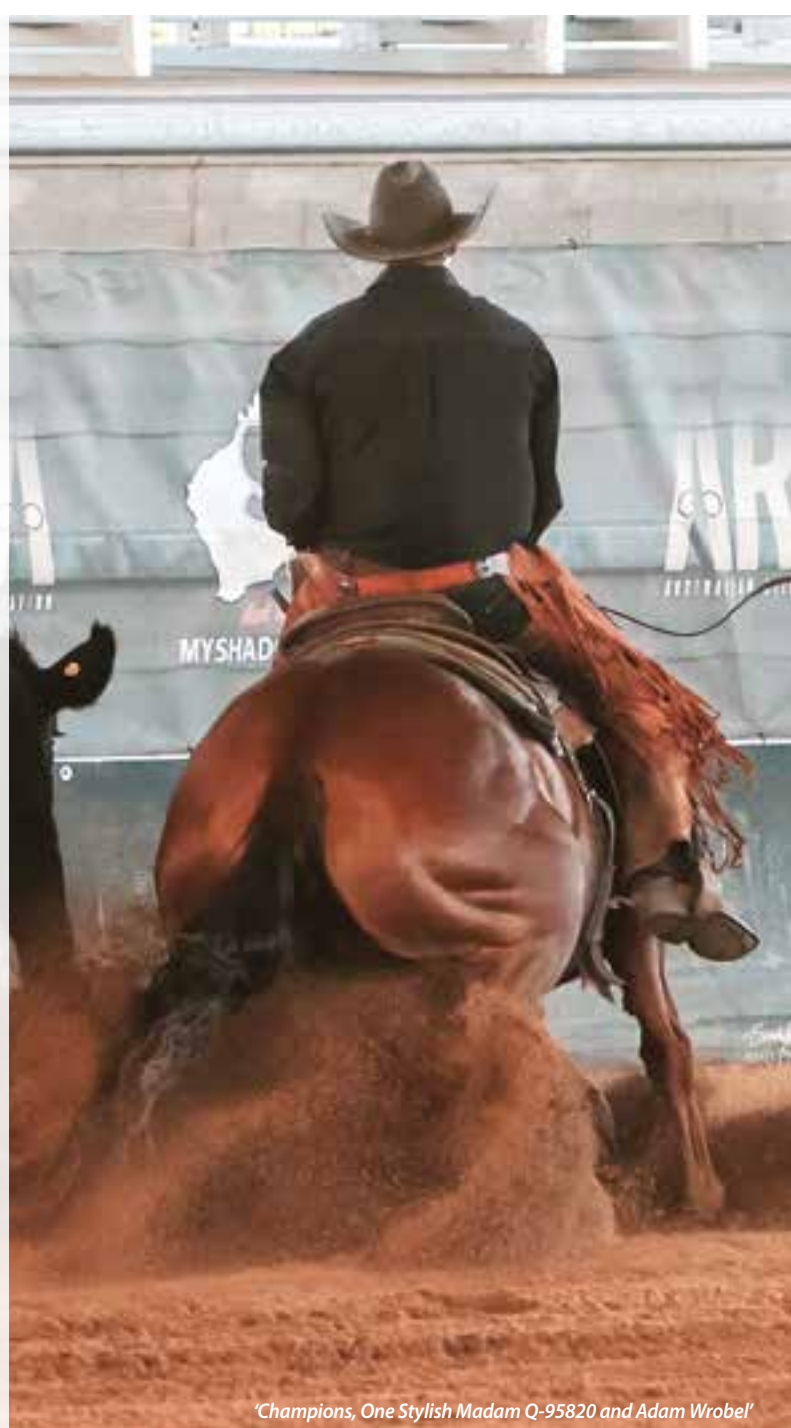

'To be recognised as the breeder and owner was outstanding, as it's a long, costly process, from breeding to under saddle competition! The award money was presented in two leather wallets, each with a brass plaque showing the award. I don't think anyone at home understood how much this meant to me, but I shared our success to everyone, and sent Madeline Cannon the video. I called Mark Buttsworth to ask if Style was the first progeny of One Stylish Pepto to win in Reined Cow Horse, and she was!'

Shiralee thanks Adam and Lisa Wrobel, who did an amazing job with Style, also Phil and Dot Rodey for all their support and knowledge passed on to me!

'Adam was brilliant and Phil Rodey is the best at what he does! What they can do with horses amazes me! David Searle of Central West Equine for my breeding endeavors and embryo transfer foals! I can't forget Phil Webb, Ronnie Mann and Lee Smith, who started me in horsemanship—to always think of the horse first—and I try to put that in my Cutting and Cowhorse events. I can't wait until I'm riding, showing and enjoying Style this year, because we're going back with our sights set on the Derby!!'

C BAR H CUTTING HORSES

WORDS BY: LYN HOFFMANN © 2023 ★ PHOTOS BY: TRUDY HOLDEN/LIZ SPEED PHOTOGRAPHY/SALLY H

EARLY ON IN THE C BAR H BREEDING PROGRAM, THERE WERE CERTAIN QUALITIES THAT COREY HOLDEN FOCUSED ON. HE KNEW WHAT HE WANTED AND NEEDED IN A PERFORMANCE HORSE AND ALWAYS SET THE BAR HIGH IN TERMS OF EVERYTHING HE EXPECTED FROM THEM. THE RESULT IS ONGOING GENERATIONAL SUCCESS.

Corey and foals

Blue Cash Q-99146

Corey Holden has always worked hard on his way to becoming one of Australia's most prominent cutting horse trainers. But it's the C Bar H breeding program that has stamped them as standout breeders in the performance and cutting horse industry.

For Corey and his wife, Trudy, of C Bar H Cutting Horses, every day starts early and runs pretty much non-stop until the end. The busy couple love living and working on their picturesque 40 acre property, which is perfectly situated along the Murray River, at Cobram, in northern Victoria. They've spent close to 22 years professionally training, showing and breeding Quarter Horses, and have worked extremely hard to ensure that C Bar H Cutting Horses has become a well-known name in the world of performance-bred Quarter Horses. With a more than passionate commitment to breeding top-quality Quarter horses for the Cutting, Campdraft and Performance horse industry, the couple has seen a lot of great success come their way.

The Holdens' have a serious and very professional attitude toward their breeding program, and it's one that will continue to be an ongoing process. With Corey Holden knowing early on what he wanted out of breeding Quarter horses, he set a plan in place from the very beginning, focused on it, never waiving once from it, proving total commitment for the generational success he desired.

A BELIEF IN MARE POWER

Corey, who began his cutting career at age 15, was mentored by Quarter Horse legend, Max McTaggart and gained a solid foundation from the master horseman. Elgrando Blue Garter was the first mare that Corey ever bought and trained, and he also bought the full sister Elgrando Blue Dove. They were both phenomenal mares. Elgrando Blue Dove became the 2002 NCHA Horse Hall Of Fame Inductee #8 and, in 1994, was presented with an AQHA Superior Performance Horse Award for Cutting, Elgrando Blue Garter ignited Corey's desire to begin breeding exceptional quality, all-purpose Quarter horses and he has never stopped.

He's such a huge believer in mare-power, and he's passionately loyal to the proven C Bar H broodmare lines and purposely remains very particular when choosing sires. Knowing what he wants in a horse and why, Corey takes his time prior to making any decisions on choosing a breeding cross or prospect. Corey and Trudy are proud of their broodmare band, a small herd of quality mares, each with proven performance that just keep producing the goods. Applying a patient and sensible thought process, he's never once been influenced to alter his selective breeding strategy, its success clearly evident in the generations of C Bar H progeny.

'We value smart, athletic and cowy horses, with soundness, balance, good muscle, correct conformation and an even temperament.

They should possess good bone, correct leg and foot conformation and should have smooth, flowing movement, with the stamina, responses and versatile ability to do anything asked of them. We've bred to a high standard from day one and that's resulted in the generational success of the horses we ride today.'

REYS YA GARTER...

When it comes to their stallion, Reys Ya Garter, Corey can easily say that he's one of the best horses he's ever had the privilege to train or show. As a young horse, Rey was always cowy and had so much try. He not only has all the qualities that the Holdens' look for in a horse, he also has a huge heart and a very willing mind. A couple of serious accidents early on affected Rey's cutting career, causing him to miss a lot of showing. But when he did show, he did it very well. He had his share of success and really lit up on a cow.

With a successful change in performance direction, Reys Ya Garter is now competing successfully in Campdrafting, and the stallion loves it! Rey's progeny are also proving their worth in both Campdrafting and Cutting, with some impressive results. Rey is campaigned by Hugh Miles Breeding & Performance Horses' facilities at Tamworth.

Corey and Trudy Holden are professionally committed to breeding winning performance horses, all with a clear focus on the result they constantly chase – ultimate success!

NRHA MILLION DOLLAR RIDER

WORDS BY: LYN HOFFMANN © 2023 ★ PHOTOS BY: MCKINNON LARCOMBE PHOTOGRAPHY / WATTENBERRY

DURING THE 2022 NATIONAL REINING HORSE ASSOCIATION FUTURITY, MARTIN LARCOMBE FINALLY SURPASSED $1 MILLION IN NRHA EARNINGS AFTER MARKING A 221.5 IN THE LEVEL 3 OPEN FUTURITY FINALS ABOARD VINCENT VAN WHOA, POCKETING $42,500 FOR A RESERVE CHAMPIONSHIP.

Martin Larcombe has been around the Reining industry, in Australia, Europe and the USA, for 35 years, and has been training reining horses for around 30 of those. He's been a past President of what we know today as Reining Australia, has served on the Board, and has also been a hard-working committee member.

But it was during the 2022 NRHA Futurity Level 3 Open Reining Futurity that Martin, riding Vincent Van Whoa (Spooks Gotta Gun X FM Master Tag Chex), passed that magic million-dollar mark in earnings! Martin, who co-owns the stallion with Andrea Costa, tied for the Reserve Champion Level 3, with NRHA $2 Million rider, Jordan Larson, who rode HA Tune of a Mobster, each marking a score of 221.5. Winner of the event was NRHA Million Dollar Rider, Matt Mills, on Walla Be A Bigstar. Martin and Vincent Van Whoa also finished second in the Open Prime Time & combined with his other entry, Strike Your Fancy (Inferno 66 X Designed To Shine) owned by Suzy Hutchins, left Oklahoma City with $58,816 added to his name.

JOURNEY OF A REINING MASTER

Always having horses growing up, Martin joined his father to begin his equine competition in Rodeos. At the same time, Quarter Horses were becoming very popular in Australia. Martin began showing as a Youth rider at Quarter Horse shows, and showed successfully in many Western Performance events. He showed Willomurra Mambo, sired by Jet Master, to many awards, and in 1979, at the age of 16, he rode the horse to demonstrate a Working Cowhorse pattern for a Channel 7 children's television show. After watching videos on Reining, it was the reining class that would eventually take precedence for Martin.

Martin found himself heading to the USA in 1987 to ride with the Colorado-based trainer, Steve Schwartzenberger, and Doug Milholland. When Martin returned to Australia he took up training reining horses, showing some good horses to great successes. Somewhere in 1988 to 1989, according to the recollections of Rick Tranter, he, Martin Larcombe, Paul Farrell and Phil & Dot Rodey, met at Tamworth Showgrounds, as part of a small group of people who became the founding members of the NRHA, in Australia.

In 1997, Rob Lawson, who was working in Italy at the time, called Martin to tell him of a training position going with Mario Erbetta. After conversations with Erbetta, Martin & wife Sam moved to Italy, and spent the next 8 years training in Europe. He won 4 Italian Open Futurities, & was twice the NRHA Open World Champion in 2004 & 2006 and managed the CS Ranch in Givrins, Switzerland, one of the largest private facilities of its kind in Switzerland. When the Larcombe family came back to Australia, Martin trained and showed a few horses and won the 2010 Reining Australia Futurity Level 4 Open Championship. He headed back to USA with his family in 2011, to work again as the head trainer for the CS Ranch, at their new facility in Gordonville, Texas.

Martin competing at the reining events

FEI WORLD EQUESTRIAN GAMES

In 2010, Martin, and his sister, Shauna Larcombe, were chosen to compete at the 2010 FEI World Equestrian Games, in Lexington, Kentucky, USA, as part of the first Australian Reining Team. The Australia team finished 11th, and Martin finished 19th individually, showing Top Prize Prince. He and Shauna continued on to also compete at the 2014 FEI World Equestrian Games in Normandy, France. Martin put in a strong performance at the WEG, showing Wimpys Cute Tune to achieve 14th position in the individual Reining final. Martin and Shauna also competed at the 2018 FEI World Equestrian Games, with Shauna finishing individually, in 19th place, while the Australian Team placed 8th overall.

In late 2016 Martin took up an associate trainer position at Tom McCutcheon Reining Horses, alongside Tom McCutcheon & Duane Latimer. Since 2018, Martin has worked under his own banner & his training operation is located at Lawrence Ranch, Gainesville, Texas.

Martin and Sam have two daughters, McKinnon and Ainsley, who have grown up in the business & enjoy showing & being part of the USA reining community. Sam has enjoyed her share of success in Reining and over the years has been a fantastic help to Martin.

MAYBE IT'S BECAUSE REINING IS HIS LIFE!

BEVERLY SERVI DIDN'T INTEND TO OWN A BREEDING STALLION WHEN SHE PURCHASED BET HESA BOON AS A YEARLING FROM GARTH AND AMANDA GARDINER IN 2014. AS THE HORSE HAS MATURED, THOUGH, DURANGO, COLORADO HORSEWOMAN COULDN'T DENY THE THAT THE ROAN WAS DESTINED TO BE MORE THAN A GREAT SHOW HORSE.

THE BOOM OF BET HESA BOON

(Q-96453) (IS)

WORDS BY: BET HESA BOON

"I watched him move in the round pen the day I first looked at him," Servi recalls. "I don't even know how to explain it, but there was something profound about him. He had a presence about him. Conformation-wise, he was the cream of the crop. He had so much mane and tail and his dark points were striking."

The dark roan, by Bet Hesa Cat and out of Flo N Blu Boon by Pretty Boy Boon, was more than simply easy on the eyes, though. When Servi asked National Reined Cow Horse Association $1 million rider Clayton Edsall to pilot Boon at the end of his 3-year-old year, Boon responded to every ask with enthusiasm. The duo quickly began amassing NRCHA and National Stock Horse Association wins and money. Boon has a $120,000 of career earnings to his credit, a number that that continues to grow as he keeps showing.

When Edsall had committed to showing a different horse in the 2023 World's Greatest Horseman, he and Servi handed the reins off to horseman Tyler Merrill. With its four-discipline format of cutting, reining, steer stopping and cow horse, the event is a big stage for an all-around cow horse.

"Boon is the type of horse that says 'yes' to everything you ask of him," Servi says. "He is sensitive and he's a pleaser. When he feels trust from his rider, there simply is no stopping him. The best example of that is when Tyler showed him at World's Greatest Horseman."

Despite only a few months of practice before the show, Merrill and Boon won the preliminary round reining with 224.5 and set an arena record of 231.5 to win the preliminary round steer stopping. A strong performance in the finals placed the duo third overall. Servi believes the World's Greatest Horseman exposure came at just the right time for the stallion.

"People had the opportunity to see him — I mean really see him," she says. "It made my heart so happy that people watched what I had seen and felt all along. I can't say enough about how Tyler let him shine and showed the world exactly what kind of horse he is."

Merrill attributes his success with Boon to the fact that the stallion is simply above average.

"He is an exceptional animal," Merrill says. "He goes to work in the show pen, he locks in, he genuinely loves his job. When he stops he buckles over, drops his hind end and works his front end so well. It's hard to explain how good it feels."

As Merrill and Boon were making headlines at World's Greatest, Servi's phone began ringing. Boon's time in the show pen spotlight was adding more mares to his breeding books at a fast pace. Standing now at Oswood Stallion Station in Weatherford, Texas, Boon's oldest babies are two years old.

"I am confident that he is passing his good qualities on to his babies," Servi says. For me, one of the most important parts of standing a stallion is the connection that you to make with mare owners and breeders and I enjoy the passion that they have for what they are doing. I realize the investment they are making to breed to my stallion, and I want to make sure they have a good experience. Because I stay connected to them, I get lots of feedback. We are hearing from trainers about what great minds Boon's babies have and how easy they are to train."

Breeders also like the fact that Boon is homozygous for roan, meaning they are guaranteed a roan of their own.

There is no denying the influence of Boon's $7 million sire Bet Hesa Cat, but it's maternal side that really excites Servi, so much so, she purchased the mare in 2018. Flo N Blu Boon herself won just under $70,000 in cutting, reining and cow horse and has amassed an impressive $350,000 produce record that continues to grow. The mare's ability to produce athletic and trainable babies is evidenced in big show pens across the country.

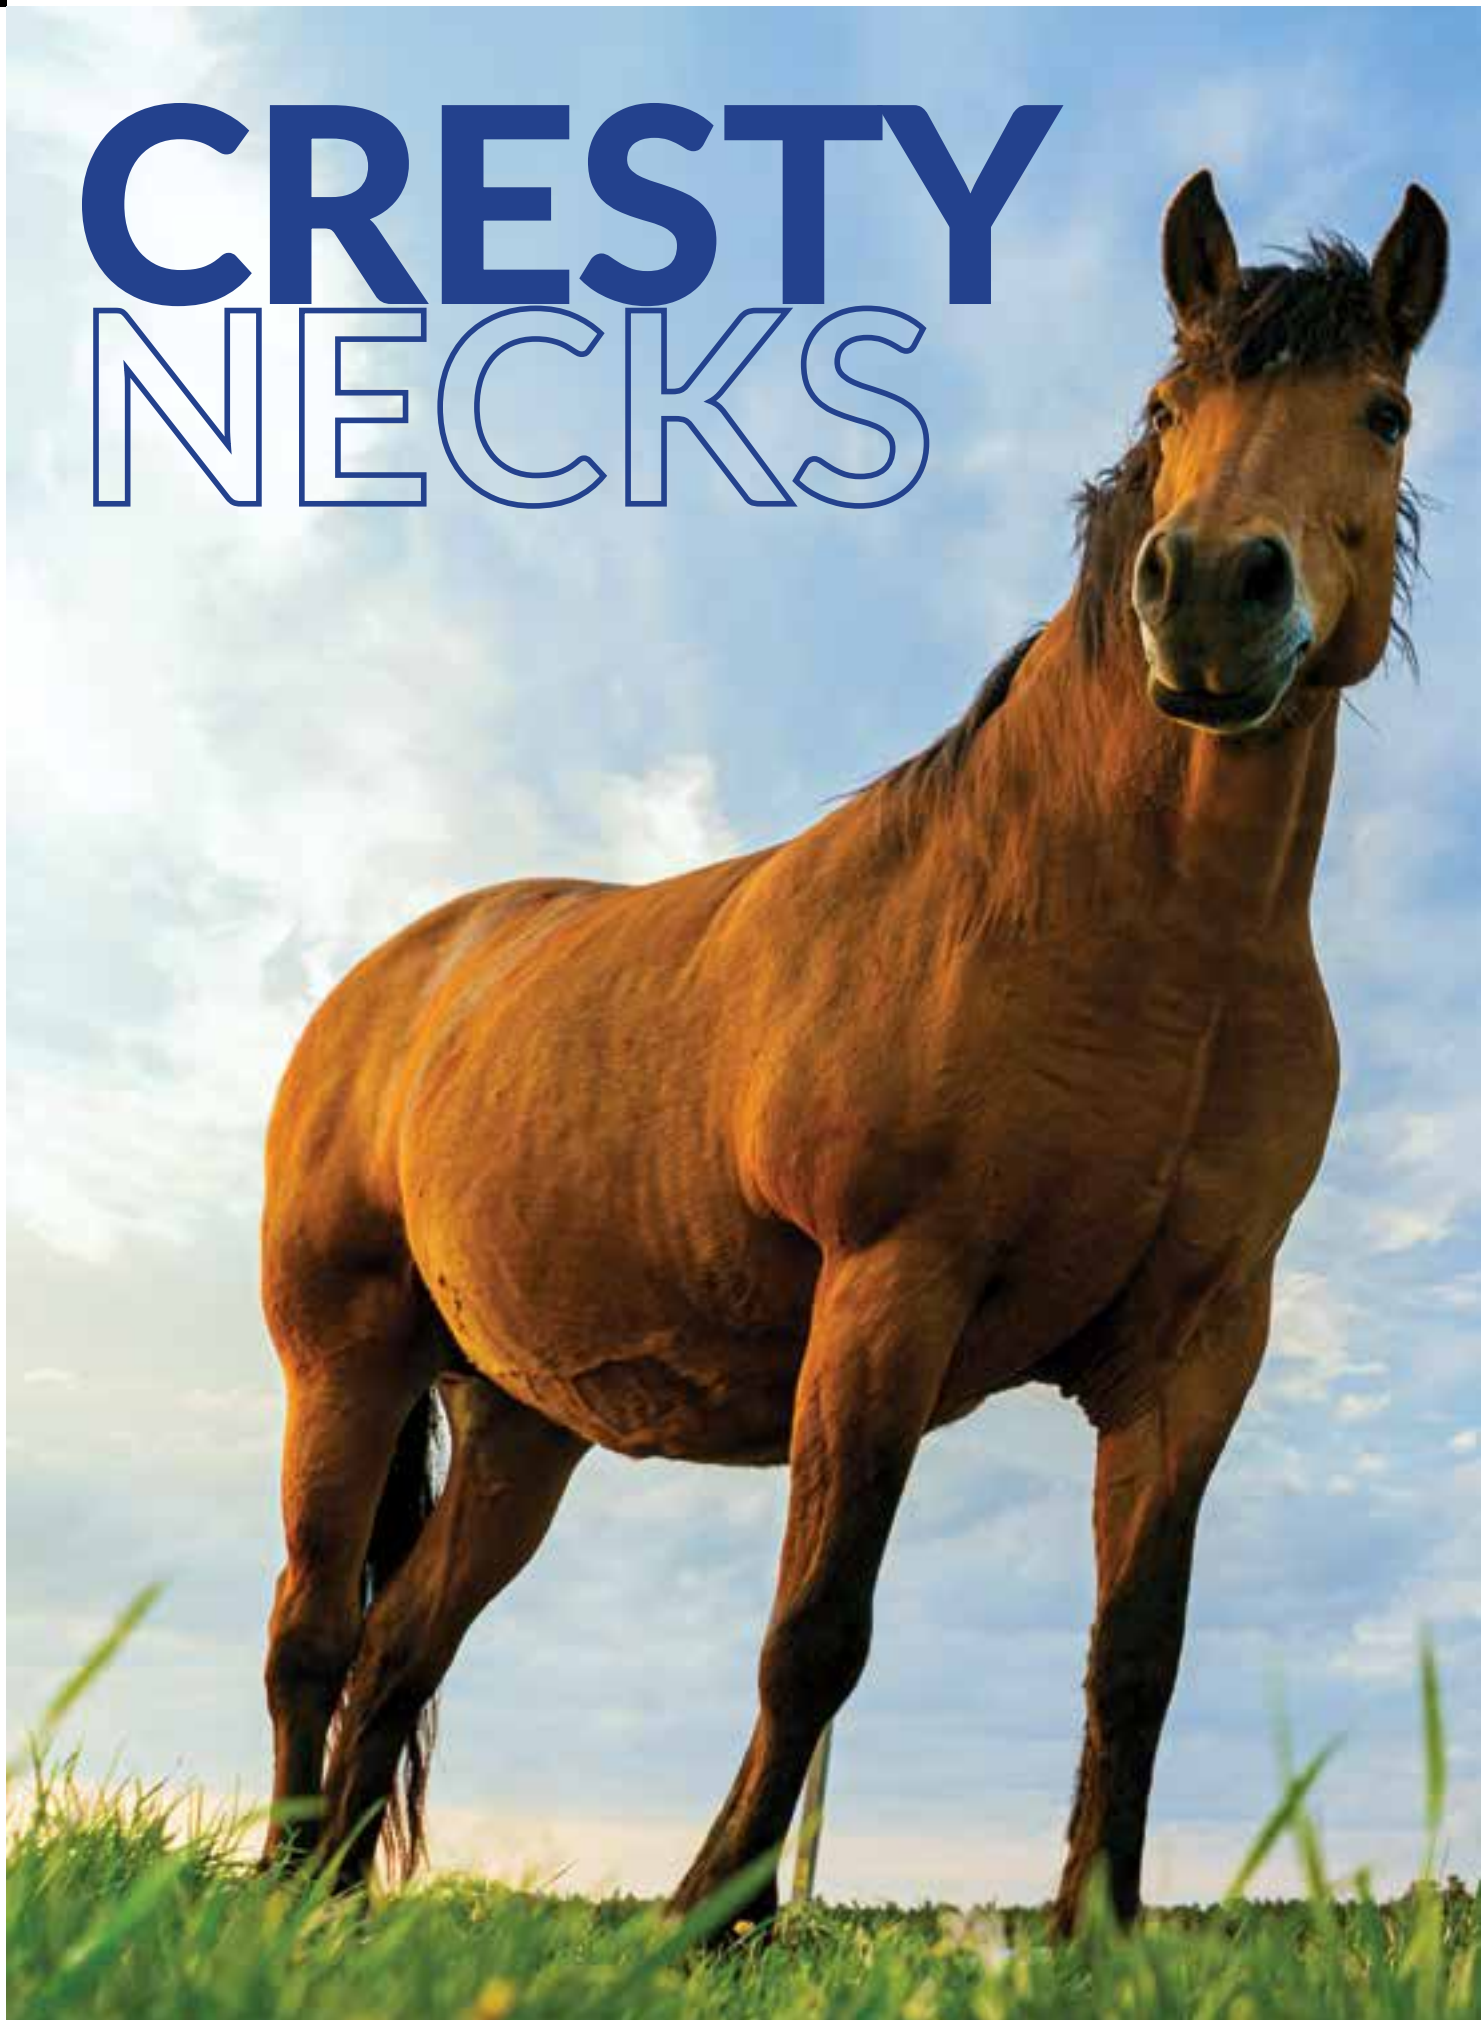

2018 stallion Varsity Blu, by Wimpy Chic, and National Reining Horse Association $2 million rider Cade McCutcheon was a NRHA Futurity Finalist and National Reining Breeders Classic Derby Finalist. In 2022, two of Boon's full brothers, Bet Hes Blu and Brother Blu made the NRCHA Snaffle Bit Finals with Clayton Edsall and Ben Baldus respectively.

"All these examples showcase how much talent is in the blood," says Servi. "I think we're just getting started seeing what kind of impact Boon will make in the performance horse industry."

CRESTY NECKS

WORDS BY: DR JENNIFER STEWART BVSC BSC PHD
EQUINE VETERINARIAN AND CONSULTANT NUTRITIONIST CEO JENQUINE

THE VOLUME OF INFORMATION ON THE SIGNIFICANCE OF A CRESTY NECK IN HORSES IS STEADILY INCREASING. HORSES AND PONIES WITH INCREASED FAT ALONG THE NECK (IE A CRESTY NECK!) ARE FIVE TIMES MORE LIKELY TO HAVE TROUBLE REGULATING THEIR BLOOD GLUCOSE AND THUS AT HIGHER RISK OF DEVELOPING LAMINITIS. RECOGNISING BODY TYPES THAT INDICATE A HIGHER RISK OF EQUINE METABOLIC SYNDROME CAN HELP PREVENT LAMINITIS.

Horses are not immune to the obesity epidemic, which is one of the most important welfare issues today. Surveys from around the world show that in certain equine populations, between 27 and 50% of horses are too 'forward', over-conditioned or obese. In Australia and New Zealand 30-60% of leisure horses and 22% of pony club horses are overweight – ie too fat! Picking up on early signs of insulin resistance ie a cresty neck, abnormal hoof growth rings – and as the laminae weaken, separation of the hoof wall from the white line and seedy toe – can help early recognition.

In humans, abdominal/gut/belly fat, measured as waist circumference, is more closely linked to risk of diabetes and cardiovascular disease than fat elsewhere in the body. Similarly, in horses, fat deposited along the crest of the neck ('cresty neck'), has been associated with altered metabolic states, including insulin resistance and an increased risk for laminitis. Insulin resistance = being unable to manage blood glucose levels. When blood glucose levels rise, insulin is released from the pancreas to 'carry' the glucose into the muscle and liver cells, where it is stored until it's needed. Insulin 'resistance' occurs when the cells don't respond to insulin. When this happens, glucose and insulin both remain high in the blood. High blood glucose and insulin can cause major health problems.

The metabolic syndrome of equids resembles the well-characterized syndrome in humans where excess body fat and insulin-resistance are linked. Together they cause 'metabolic syndrome' (EMS) which is a derangement of several normal body processes. It has a genetic basis and in horses (and humans) that are genetically susceptible, the combination of a high sugar diet + insufficient exercise is the path to metabolic syndrome.

Ingredients that flag caution
Barley	Average starch 60% sugar 3% = 63% NSC
Bran/pollard (wheat)	Average starch 23% sugar 7% = 30% NSC
Cereal by-products	include bran, pollard, wheat middlings and mill-run
Cereal co-products	generally corn or wheat meal, hominy feed, bran and starch
Corn	approximately 73% starch and 2% sugar
Milkmix	contains wheat pollard and bran
Millrun	contains bran and pollard
Molasses	Average 65% sugar
Wheat	Average starch = 70% sugar 3%
Rice bran (fibre, 4%)	Average starch = 43% sugar 4%

* Feedstuffs, Dairy One

In horses, EMS can be a consequence of giving starch/sugar-rich feed (Table 2.) or it may be seasonal and linked to the sugar/starch content of the pasture. Fatness is strongly linked to feeds with more than 15% NSC. Such feeds cause blood glucose to rise too high for too long. Some feed labels list the starch content, but not the sugar; others list sugar as WSC which = sugar and sugar by another name is just as sweet. The NSC level is the amount of starch PLUS sugar. Label claims of 'low glycaemic index' and 'low starch' can be misleading and potentially dangerous unless backed by laboratory analysis!

Throughout their 55 million-year evolution, horses have developed 'thrifty genes' which allowed them to survive times of feed scarcity. Genetically susceptible horses quickly become fat when food is abundant and excessively rich (with no intervening periods of famine or ice ages!!) and exercise is limited. Exercise in domestic horses compares poorly to wild and free-range horses. Free-range and feral horses exercise for around 16km/day; horses in a 40 acre paddock about 7km/day and stabled horses for 1km. Many athletic performance horses, such as racehorses, trotters, pacers, elite dressage horses, eventers and even long-distance endurance horses, spend the majority of time inside stables, small yards or paddocks.

LABELS ON FEED: BASIS - be fully informed before you purchase - if it doesn't list starch AND sugar or NSC<10% its probably not safe
INGREDIENTS or WHATS IN THE FEED - what the words actually mean
Grain-free	No official definition, generally means no whole grains but could still include grain-byproducts such as bran and pollard, millrun etc which are high in NSC
Hominy meal	Ground corn meal = 36-45% NSC
Low GI	Glycaemic index (GI) is determined by fasting the horse overnight then collecting blood samples before and again 1, 2 and 3 hours after feeding to measure ACTH, glucose and insulin. If this hasn't been done, the feed cannot be claimed to be 'low GI' - check with the manufacturer that the research has been done on their feed. https://www.ncsl.nsl.nh.gov/pmo/articles/IFH/C6889680.pdf/VIM-37-302.pdf https://web.archive.org/web/20190222211947id_/http://pdfs.semanticscholar.org/3d76/5697d47b0b4350d0eab669143877b1c5.pdf
Low sugar	It is the sugar + starch that is important so if the % starch or total NSC are not also given, it could be unsafe
Low starch	It is the starch + sugar that is important so if the % sugar or total NSC are not also given, it could be unsafe
Micronised	The feed is 'cooked' making it more digestible and dramatically increasing the availability of glucose - which can cause a profound increase in glucose and the glycaemic response.
Extruded	Extruded feeds may also not be a good choice for horses with metabolic syndrome. Extrusion increases starch digestibility making it easily converted to glucose and absorbed. Easy-keepers often gain too much weight on an extruded feed. Horses with metabolic issues may not be able to handle the starch and sugar content of extruded feeds. https://journal.com/extruded-horse-feeds-pros-cons/#:~:text=If%20a%20extrusion%20causes%20the%20feed%20to%20expand
Nutrition analysis	Needs to list sugar - which may be listed as WSC or ESC AND starch or else the total NSC <10% - or it may be unsafe
Cool feed	Cool feeds are described as formulated to avoid spikes of rapid energy - unless the blood glucose levels have been measured after feeding, this term is misleading - contact the manufacturer
Starch	Recommended feed analysis <10%

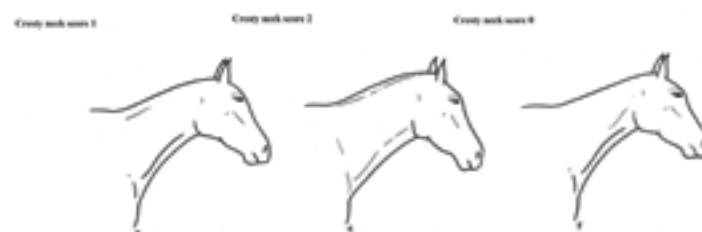

Arena-trained horses (such as working Quarterhorses and dressage horses) may only cover between 1 and 2.4 km in a hard 30- to 40-min training session - substantially lower than the daily movement of their free-roaming ancestors.

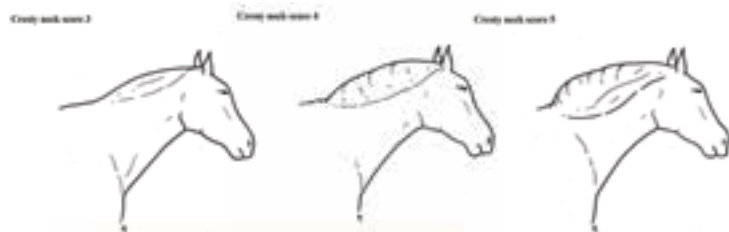

In addition, fat is no longer dismissed as a benign deposit of stored energy. Fat cells produce a range of hormones that affect insulin, blood vessels, the immune system, body mass and body composition. The fat cells in horses' necks (and humans' bellies) produce more hormones than fat cells elsewhere in the body and these hormones increase the risk of metabolic syndrome. The other thing that happens to fat cells is that when they are packed too full with fat they swell and squash off their blood vessels, reducing blood and oxygen supply and becoming 'sick' and toxic. Another source of toxicity in horses with cresty necks, is 'glucotoxicity' which is caused by high sugar in the blood and inside the cells. High blood sugar damages blood vessels and the hoof. In the hoof, glucotoxicity causes the blood vessels to constrict, reducing blood flow to the foot and laminae.

HOW TO ASSESS THE NECK CREST?

The cresty neck score (CNS) rates the accumulation of fat around along the neck on a scale of 0 to 5 (Figure 1).

Score	Description
0	No visual appearance of a crest (tissue apparent above the ligamentum nuchae). No palpable crest.
1	No visual appearance of a crest, but slight filling felt with palpation.
2	Noticeable appearance of a crest, but fat deposited fairly evenly from poll to withers. Crest easily cupped in one hand and bent from side to side.
3	Crest enlarged and thickened, so fat is deposited more heavily in middle of the neck than toward poll and withers (comma) giving a rounded appearance. Crest fills cupped hand and begins losing side to side flexibility.
4	Crest grossly enlarged and thickened, and can no longer be cupped in one hand or easily bent from side to side. Crest may have wrinkles/creases perpendicular to topline.
5	Crest is so large it permanently droops to one side.

Horses and ponies with a 'crested neck score' of 3 or higher are at greater risk of developing laminitis.

Figure 3. A pony with a crested neck. A crested neck is an enlarged fat deposit along the neck, identified by the black bar. This pony was assigned a crested neck score of 3.

Courtesy: Fitzgerald DM, Anderson ST, Sillence MN, de Laat MA (2019) The crested neck score is an independent predictor of insulin dysregulation in ponies. PLoS ONE 14(7): e0220203. <https://doi.org/10.1371/journal.pone.0220203>

SUGAR AND STARCH VS BLOOD GLUCOSE & INSULIN:

The most common causes of laminitis presented to vets are endocrine (ie hormonal - especially insulin) and metabolic disorders - both related to insulin and blood sugar. Early recognition of horses with insulin resistance means preventive measures can be taken earlier - before the disease progresses to laminitis. Excellent research from the University of Queensland confirmed that the amount of neck fat is a reliable sign of insulin dysregulation and a stronger identifier of impending laminitis, than BCS. Eliminating feeds that are over 12% starch and sugar (NSC) and replacement of sugar and starch-based feeds with low NSC feeds (Table 3.) underpins dietary management. The term 'pasture-associated laminitis' describes cases of laminitis that occur in seemingly healthy horses and ponies grazing pasture - between 45 and 60% of cases occur under these circumstances, and in addition to elimination of sugar/starch/NSC-rich feeds, preventing grazing may be necessary to prevent laminitis in EMS-prone horses and ponies.

Identification of healthy horses and ponies that are genetically predisposed to EMS before they become affected is the aim. But until genetic testing is readily available, owners should work with their veterinarians to monitor their horses' laminitis risk. Knowledge of what's going on with crested necks and monitoring blood insulin and glucose levels are the cornerstone. Some owners don't recognise that their horse is 'fat'. Picking up on early signs of insulin resistance ie a crested neck, abnormal hoof growth rings, separation of the hoof wall from the white line and seedy toe as the laminae weaken. Small areas of haemorrhage (caused by damage to the lamina blood vessels) in the seedy toe area might also be seen. So keep an eye on those necks and hooves as they likely to be the first sign of disease, and have your veterinarian check your horse's insulin levels.

How good are you at assessing how fat your horse is?

How to score your horse's neck using studies from Queensland University of Technology, Laminitis Survey:

https://cms.qut.edu.au/_data/assets/pdf_file/0009/329616/how-to-assign-a-crested-neck-score.pdf

Although ponies have a threefold higher prevalence of obesity than horses, Quarter Horses and mixed breed horses had a higher incidence of obesity than Thoroughbreds - and the incidence of 'misbehaviour' also increases with 'fatness'. The richness and diversity of the gut microorganisms, decreases as horses and ponies gain weight and removing high starch/sugar (NSC) feedstuffs from the diet results in a more stable biome, a reduced stress response and less gut discomfort.

Although there are breed and/or individual genetic variations in the risk of EMS and insulin resistance, Quarter horses and ponies are over-represented in laminitis statistics. A single genetic marker associated with laminitis and blood glucose, cholesterol and 'insulin-resistance' (IR) has recently been identified in Arabian horses. Several other groups of genes that have been 'preserved' through evolution and domestication means the potential to develop IR, obesity, EMS and laminitis susceptibility are shared across breeds.

A recent study of 300 Thoroughbreds, Quarter Horses, Warmbloods and mixed-breeds found over 22% of even normal, healthy horses are unable to regulate their blood glucose and insulin levels. Oft said and nearly always true, prevention is better than a cure so watch those crested necks and if you're concerned, speak with your equine veterinarian and monitor those blood insulin and glucose levels.

This lady was selected by our cattle judge Bomber Lancaster, with him stating "all her horses were soft and responsive showing that she truly does spend a lot of time working with her horses for events like this."

Our 2023 ARBC Lady Rider Award recipient is Leanne Anderson. Congratulations Leanne you certainly are a deserving winner of this special award, special thank you goes out to Toprail Equine, ARBC organisers and Kim McTaggart for sponsoring these special award gifts.

The Chris Parnell Sportsmanship and Encouragement Award, recognising the great sportsmanship of a competitor that perhaps didn't win anything but showed true sportsmanship towards competitors and her pony is now a perpetual award with the recipient selected by our judges. The winner of this special award this year was selected by our reining judges Jo McConnell, Darren Simpson, Susan Frost, Allan Kingdon & Steve Withers.

The 2023 Chris Parnell Award recipient is Julie Beveridge who travelled all the way from Townsville in North Queensland. Our reining judge Jo McConnell spoke into why Julie was selected and it certainly resonated the true spirit of both horsemanship and sportsmanship is a fundamental part of Julie.

The Chris Parnell award was kindly sponsored by Checkout Hollywood owner Kathleen Murphy and Equissage Qld Lucie. Thank you ladies for ensuring the memory of this special lady and all that meant so much to her continues at the ARBC Show.
