

COPPERWOOD STUD #168783

COPPERWOOD STUD is an iconic figure in Australia's Quarter Horse industry. One of only a few remaining historic top breeders, COPPERWOOD has an unmistakable record and still continues to grow, invest and win in Australia's Quarter Horse industry.

49'er Doc (IMP) is the ultimate Cutting Horse Cross... Doc Bar and Gunsmoke! 49'er Doc is by Mr 49'er (by Mr Gunsmoke) out of an own daughter of Doc Bar. 49'er Doc has the breeding and the performance. He is * AQHA Novice Cutting Champion 1983/4 * AQHA Open Cutting Reserve Champion 1984 * Reserve Champion and High Scoring Aggregate Horse of the 1983 Pacific Coast Class * High Scoring Run - 1983 NCHA Finals. 49'er Doc's first foals are on the ground, and they look great!

Cactus Delta (IMP) is the sire for the serious breeder of Cutting horses. The breeder who knows the bloodlines and the depth of breeding this unique individual has to offer. Cactus Delta is by Delta Leo and out of My Kings Glory, an own daughter of King P234, who is out of Cactus Maid by Cactus King by King P234.

Delta Leo (IMP) is the only son of the legendary Leo in Australia. (Leo is still the all-time leading Maternal Grand sire of AQHA Champions in the United States) Delta Leo is out of an own daughter of the immortal Sugar Bars. Delta Leo is himself a Race-winner and a Champion at Halter... and a proven sire of performance horses. Last season, Delta Leo was the only sire to put more than one horse into the Final of the Supersires. Delta Leo was the sire of Moonbi Futurity Champion and Champion Stallion at the Supersires, Delta Distinction and Futurity finalist, Apple Jack. In the United States, Delta Leo is the sire of NCHA Maturity Champion, Delta Decoy.

During the eighties and early nineties, COPPERWOOD STUD was producing vast numbers of cow horses and performance horses. While horses like FORTYNINER DOC Q-10215 and ACCIDENTAL DOC Q-9488 were winning NCHA age events, horses such as REEBOK DOC Q-17372 were showcasing the stud's diversity. REEBOK DOC Q-17372 was the 1990 Moonbi Reining Futurity champion and placed third in the NRHA Futurity that same year. PEPPYS ROSETTE Q-10195 was an NCHA Open Futurity placegetter and also an Australian Reined Cow Horse Association Snaffle-bit Futurity winner. COPPERWOOD has bred three NCHA Open Futurity Champions and by 1993, had progeny earnings in the Quarter Horse industry, over $400,000.

While COPPERWOOD'S list of performers up until the end of the nineties was industry leading, the trend continued well beyond this time. TREY Q-65911 was an NCHA Open futurity finalist in 2012, while CD ROANIE OAK Q-65074 was the Limited Non pro Derby champion. COREYGOUS Q-65912 was a finalist in both the DDCC and Comet Open futurities last year.

LEO SAN O'LENA

Campdrafting is the newest frontier for COPPERWOOD STUD. FORTYNINER DOC Q-10215, the Stud's dynamic deceased stallion, was a sought-after bloodline at the top end of the industry. Horses, such as ACCIDENTAL DIAMONTINA Q-53842 and QP DOUBLE DOC Q-33651 are winning drafts.

COPPERWOOD STUD has, for nearly half a century, excelled in promoting the Quarter Horse and the Quarter Horse industry in Australia and abroad. Doug Kefford bred in excess of 40 open and non-pro aged-event finalist cutting horses prior to the end of the nineties. Many of these were dual finalists and champions. Doug Kefford's contribution to the industry and entrepreneurial business offerings made his stud well ahead of its time. Doug Kefford and COPPERWOOD STUD were offering rich incentive schemes for breeders as far back as the eighties. In 1986 the Solid Gold Breeding Incentive offered well over $40,000 worth of prizes to Copperwood breeders, including $15,000 and $7,500 to the highest advancing Open and Non Pro riders at the 1991 NCHA Futurity, along with a brand new Toyota Hilux and a horse trailer. COPPERWOOD STUD paid out some $300,000 in incentives over four years beginning in the late eighties. Subsequently, during this period the numbers at the NCHA Futurity increased from a steadily improving 50 or so, to a record 78 in 1991.

The Copperwood Breeding Bonus will pay...

Doug Kefford held office as an AQHA Director in the late seventies, while Craig Kefford was the Deputy President of the AQHA in the late eighties.

Craig Kefford was a top professional cutter throughout the eighties and nineties. He won just under $50,000 in NCHA earnings in only a handful of years. Balancing his work commitments with his sporting profession, Craig dominated the Moonbi Futurity in the mid-eighties aboard COPPERWOOD STUD horses. In 1984 Craig won the Moonbi Futurity aboard DELTA DISTINCTION R2-8258, returning 12 months later to win the Maturity (Derby) and the Futurity once more atop ACCIDENTAL DOC Q-9488. He was a Super Sires winner and a Derby champion while he guided FORTYNINER DOC to an NCHA Open title against strong competition.

Craig Kefford grew up as an AQHA youth rider, representing Australia in the 1979 Youth World Cup team. He showed halter horses in his teens and won the ARCHA Youth working cow horse at the Snaffle-bit Futurity in Melbourne in 1979.
