AUSTRALIAN Quarter Horse ASSOCIATION

PRESIDENTS REPORT ~ CAROL RICKETTS

HI TO OUR MEMBERS,

The last 12 months has produced a very frustrating time for our members that show their quarter horses in all disciplines. Shows have been scheduled, then cancelled, and then rescheduled.

Lack of cattle affected the Cutting and Campdraft section of our industry in the latter part of 2020.

Some of the major shows are getting back on track and the AQHA finally held a National Championship Show in April 2021. I take this opportunity to thank all the Sponsors, and members, that came forward to support Q21.

Our Affiliates are being pro-active and are pushing forward with their plans for the 2021/2022 Show season, we wish them all the best and we appreciate the assistance that they give to the AQHA members and the AQHA.

We know that our breeders are thankful that the Covid lockdowns did not greatly affect the breeding season, even though Covid did affect sales late last year, we can see from the Nutrient Sale 2021 in Tamworth, sale of quarter horses is on the rise.

Your Association is there for you, the quarter horse enthusiasts, any queries you may have, please do not hesitate to contact the AQHA Office or a Director.

Stay positive, stay safe and enjoy you quarter horses.

CUTTABAR CUTTING HORSES

'Our children & grandchildren are our greatest achievements'

FRED and Kim Johnson have dedicated the best part of their lives to breeding, training and competing Quarter Horses. The couple have been breeding Quarter Horses for more than 40 years; Johnson Equine was established in 2006 to offer their expertise of breeding mares.

The property is set at the foot of MT Tenerife offering a world class facility with a personal touch, individual care and 24hr foal monitoring. Specialising in international stallion management, the facility is set up for frozen, chilled and natural service. The conception and embryo rate is high with their specialist Vet Stacey McGregor from Seven Creek Equine Veterinary.

Fred has been involved in the horse industry all his life. Born and raised in Weatherford, Texas, Fred says his love of Quarter Horses and Cutting was 'indoctrinated' into him by his father; Minor Johnson, a World Champion Cutting Horse trainer and USA NCHA Open Riders Hall of Fame inductee.

FRED'S TRAINING PHILOSOPHY:

*Start with the best horse
you can, be consistent and work hard.*

Facilities at Johnson Equine

In 1974 David Farquhar approached Fred with the proposal of conducting some training schools in Australia. During his stay other people approached Fred to ride and school their horses, as his customer base grew his short stay turned into a permanent one.

Kim has been in the horse industry 40 years, a horse crazy little girl from Euroa, who pestered her father for several years before he finally softened and purchased her first horse, her persistence had paid off. Competing in Dressage, Hacking and jumping over the years, Kim rode her first Quarter horse through a trail class and couldn't believe the temperament and ability of the breed.

Kim purchased her first Quarter Horse from Millbrook Stud and has been hooked on the breed since, competing in Pleasure, trail, Hunter under saddle and halter, then into Cutting. Kim has won several State and National Titles.

The couple are extremely proud of their three children and their achievements. Brad and his wife Katie are based in Tasmania with their three children. Brad has had a successful career in Cricket, playing in England and winning the Presidents medal. Holly and Kane both compete in Western Pleasure and Hunter classes and Holly is now coming back into Cutting. Holly purchased a Hunter mare in the USA as a weanling; the horse remained there and was trained to become a World Champion Hunter Under Saddle, with her progeny in the USA also becoming World Champions. The mare was brought back to Australia and with her progeny being sold back to the USA. Nikki Morgan and her husband Guy have been very successful in the Cutting pen over the years. Guy has trained a number of champions, one of them was 'This Cats Destiny'. Nikki was also inducted into the Non Pro Hall of Fame. "our children and our grandchildren are our greatest joy and achievement." says Kim.

Classic Challenge Champion

Johnsons Equine offers two Stallions at their facility NRR Cat King Cole (imp) Q-90230 - World Champion Stallion with earnings of $230,000 plus. This Cats Destiny Q-68048 bred by Fred & Kim and owned by Nikki & Guy Morgan, the Stallion is out of the great mare Colonels Destiny Q-24898. He is a Multi Champion sire and in 2020 he was listed in the Stallion Equistat World top 20 Junior Sires list. He is producing Derby, Futurity and Classic Champions. Curly as he is affectionately known holds an AQHA Register of Merit in Cutting and AQHA Register of Merit in Non Pro Cutting. Out of 13 aged events he has finalled in 9 and won 3. 2012 Vic NCHA Non Pro Derby Champion, 2011 NCHA Non Pro Futurity Champion and NCHA Non Pro Limited Futurity Champion with highest scoring lady of the show.

The breeding side is very important; the strengths of bloodlines in undeniable, having a great mare and seeing her progeny perform, along with their grandsons and granddaughters. Fred loves the training side of their journey, having the right one from the start with good confirmation, athleticism, their trainability to 'want that cow' a special inherent quality. The couple breed 3-5 of their own mares each season, possibly selling 1-2 of those progeny.

Their broodmare quality is top shelf, one special mare that is the matriarch of their breeding is a great one. No other than 2019 Heritage Hall of Fame inductee 'Colonels Destiny Q-24898'. By 'Cuttabars Colonel IMP' out of the great imported mare 'Bit of Pep (IMP)'. Both her parents are champions themselves and have gone on to produce. 'Colonels Destiny Q-24898' has achieved many accolades, winning Futurities, Derbies, and the Australian Quarter Horse Association (AQHA) Championships, to name a few, she holds a special place in their hearts as being that 'special' one. Her progeny are impressive; to date 'Colonels Destiny Q-24898' has produced 18 foals of which 14 are NCHA money earners of more than $200,000.

Some of these quality progeny include 'Lethal Lotus', 'Angel Spin', 'Colonel Johnson', 'A Little Red Colonel', 'Colonel Reylated', 'Stylish Deseray', 'This Cats Destiny', 'Uno Pepto Tempo', 'High Destinction', and 'Cuttabar Designer Cat' which is owned by Tri-Star QHS, she is the highest money earner of Destiny and was 2019 NCHA High Point mare. 'Driving Me Crazy' was finalled by Fred in the Open Futurity and she was sold to long time friends Graham & Trish Lamey. 'Looks Like Cat' has produced two NCHA Futurity Finalists, 'This Ones Timeless' was sold at the 2021 Nutrien Equine Sale for $85,000. Angel Spin (Docs Spinifex X Colonels Destiny Q-24898) is Curly's sister. 'Always gave her all.'

Angel has produced nine progeny, one of which is the gelding This Catifex (WR This Cats Smart). Bred by Fred & Kim the gelding was gifted to Nikki as a Christmas present, she nicknamed him 'Sue' after the Johnny Cash song. Nikki and Guy trained him and finalled in the NCHA Non Pro Futurity before selling him to Dean and Julie Jones who went on to win the Goondiwindi and Victorian Non Pro Futurity in 2015. Sarah Crawford also rode him to victory in the Ladies Pink Cutting in 2017.

At the end of his aged events they sold him on to Mark and Shelly Ruff, who had since purchased his mother Angel Spin and sister Angel Reys. Sue commenced his Campdrafting career and headed off to Paradise Lagoons in 2019, he finalled in the Mort & Co Open having run a 91 and 90, and an 88 in the final round saw him share top spot with Peter O'Neill. They went in for a run off where he placed 2nd. In 2020 with Pete O'Neill holding the reins 'Sue' took home the Condamine Bell.

Fred has had some great achievements over the years, winning Futurities, Derby's and Championships; he was inducted into the NCHA Riders Hall of Fame in 1997 and recently won the Tri Star 5/6/7 year old Open with 'High Destinction'. Kim has won National Titles in Trail Riding and Hunter under Saddle, but they both agree there's nothing more satisfying than seeing their home bred horses go on and perform with success.

Their family are an important part of their lives, as are their lifelong friendships they have made along the way. Graham & Trish Lamey, Bernie & Murray Pullin, Martin and Leanne Moran along with many others who have supported them along the way.

Fred believes Graham Amos is one of the greatest horsemen in the Cutting Industry. He also admires fellow trainers who have spent time with him that have gone on to be world known trainers such as John Mitchell and Sean Flynn. Fred also spent time with Matlock Rose, Buster Welch and Shorty Freeman all whom he admired greatly and has incorporated their training methods into his.

Kim has a great deal of respect for horse trainers such as Ian Francis, Pauline Stewart - Fox and Nancy Cahill whom all possess tremendous horsemanship skills. Nancy was the coach of the USA team for the Youth World Cup and Kim was the Manager for the Australian team when their paths crossed many times. "Her clinics are amazing," says Kim.

Fred's training philosophy: Start with the best horse you can, be consistent and work hard.

The couple have supported the industry over many years and love giving back and enjoy seeing the Youth come through. Fred was a past President of the NCHA and was on the Board of Directors for a sum of nine years. Kim has been an AQHA director for the past 16 years and past President and Fred was also a past Director. The couple are heavily involved in the Victorian Cutting Horse Futurity as committee members.

Their success includes the very best genetics from a mare line that just keeps producing. "In a horseman's lifetime if you're lucky to have one great one, you're fortunate. We've been lucky to breed and train several and consider ourselves very blessed. We're excited about the future of the NCHA, AQHA and our family," says Fred and Kim.

"If you enjoy the journey, it makes the destination even better," Kim Johnson. 🌟

CONGRATULATIONS, Gordon Nash!

50 Years an AQHA Judge

ARTICLE BY: LYN HOFFMANN © 2021

GORDON Nash, lives in Forbes, Victoria, and remembers well when, in 1972, he attended Australia's first AQHA Judging Convention. The seminar was excellent and was run by Leon Harrel & Clive Robinson, and was well attended. People in the industry today would recognise the names of some of the people who went along, people like Greg & Lori Lougher, Robert Baldwin & Max McTaggart, just to name a few.

Back in those days,' Gordon begins. 'You couldn't just decide to become a Judge, you had to be nominated for the position of an AQHA Judge. I ended up being nominated by Robert Baldwin. I'd enjoyed competing and showing in many different disciplines & events and had successfully shown my first Quarter Horse, a Vaquero gelding called Red Adair, from 1969, and also bred quite a few good horses at our property, Quamby Horse Stud. So, I was happy to become an AQHA Judge, as I felt I knew my events well.'

Gordon also remembers, as one of the many of the earlier AQHA Judges, regularly driving many hours to judge various events, and often flying out to many different locations all across Australia to judge Quarter Horse shows and numerous events.

'I flew on the TAA Airlines way back then and always felt very comfortable flying with them, because, back then the air hostesses all wore the western-style Akubra Hats, and were all pretty good sorts, too.'

Gordon says he met some wonderful people on his travels, judged many great horses and witnessed some outstanding runs. He has some great memories of his early Judging days, but one show that always stuck in his mind was in 1973, his first big show, held at Whittlesea, in Victoria.

'There were three of us officiating as the show's Judges,' Gordon says. 'Myself, Wally Woods, who was a great rodeo event competitor and Cutting horse trainer, and Les McCallum, stud master at Alexandra for Millbrook Quarter Horses. It was an important show being the first ever Working Cowhorse Futurity and I must say, there were some brilliant horses there, and we really did enjoy that show and so did all the competitors. By the way, Working Cowhorse is still my favourite event.'

Gordon has judged at many shows of all sizes over the years, and also enjoyed heading over to New Zealand to officiate at quite a few really big shows there.

'I remember one big New Zealand show on the North Island,' Gordon says. 'It was at Golden Beach, the New Zealand Quarter Horse Championships. It went for three days and surprised me at the amount of people and horses in attendance, good horses and riders and very nice people to deal with.'

Also, as a note of interest, one time they had a Cyclone go over New Zealand. Gordon was judging for two days and was set to run a Clinic on the third day.

'You know, they never stopped that show,' Gordon remarked. 'They just kept on going. The first day wasn't too bad, it was windy, but the second day it had picked up even more and the rain was starting to come down. But the third day, the day of the Clinic, that wind and rain really came in. The water was coming out of the tops of my boots, so I asked them whether they wanted to quit yet, but they answered 'No, No, we're happy to just keep going, we're fine.' No prima donnas there, they were having too much fun, so we kept on going and got the job done! At the end of the day, everyone went home happy!'

Gordon says that some things that competitors should never forget is to always show courtesy to the Judges, no matter what, as their decision on the day is final. Competitors should also be certain to learn their patterns for each class well, as there is nothing like being a competent competitor.

'I also feel that anyone who's thinking about becoming an AQHA Judge, need to make sure they've competed in the classes they'll be judging, as I feel that's a very important requirement.' ★

OVERALL, GORDON NASH HAS CONTRIBUTED SIGNIFICANTLY TO THE AQHA AND HIS YEARS OF JUDGING & EXPERTISE HAVE BEEN GREATLY APPRECIATED BY SO MANY. A GREAT MILESTONE FOR GORDON & ONE THAT DESERVES RECOGNITION AND THANKS!

CHERYL Carter-Pintoy recalls the day Rarni was given to her by Michelle Gross. Rarni was 'a gift horse,' coming into Cheryl's life just before the tragedy of losing her champion Carlito in a paddock accident in 2011.

The filly was 'small and underdeveloped but with a kind eye,' as Cheryl described in a feature story published in 2012 Australian Quarter Horse. She was uncertain whether she would take her. Back then she had no idea just how special Rarni would become, and how much she would need her after losing Carlito.

Since her success as a two-year-old, Rarni has blossomed into a consistent and talented Performance Quarter Horse with Superior Register Of Merit in Western Riding and Reining. ROMs in Ranch, Trail, Hunter Under Saddle and Western Pleasure, and 15 buckles to her credit in various events and High Points.

On the 5th February at WDQHA Multi Judged Show in Werribee Equestrian Centre Rarni placed first out of 9 in Ranch Riding with Craig Rath judging, and just last weekend Southern Quarter Horse Show at Kooweerup Indoor we took out Senior High Point winning a Woollen Rug, Garland and Konke Voucher.

Cheryl describes Rarni as very forward, sensitive and extremely athletic mare who is always willing to perform as her results show: She was green broken by Railene Gilboy. Cheryl would like to also give thanks to her 'hero' David Norbury who she says had given her 'loads of help' over the years. But in recent times, Cheryl has been training Rarni by herself – a part of life as a competition rider with a tight budget.

Ranch Riding has become one of Cheryl's favourite events, which she is extremely grateful to the AQHA for running. Looking back over the 9 years of owning and training Rarni, Cheryl says, "Rarni is a blessing in my life. After each show I look forward to seeing my scores and working out a way to improve. Recently I've been working on my walk in the Ranch Event and was delighted to see some +scores filtering through. Western riding is a little harder and I'm pleased with a Zero but the +score is such a delight. My tip for up-and-coming riders is to look at how you can improve your scores."

Rarni is agisted at a lovely property owned by Mick Goreham (a retired Prominent Jockey) with post and rail fence and a loose box. Cheryl works from her float as there are no other facilities there just a few poles I put down the driveway. She travels out at least once or twice a week to Five Star Arena to Train. Cheryl hopes her success gives other riders who are doing it on their own the motivation to keep going.

A woman of many talents, Cheryl is a Singer Entertainer with the PURRFECT SHOW BAND who entertained the AQHA High Point Nights 2013 At the Rendezvous Hotel Melbourne and 2014 in the Sydney Mecure Hotel. Cheryl also has a small business called "THE CHAP MAGNET" specializing in Custom Chaps and Chinks outfitting most of the prominent Riders in Australia. Rarni is always dressed to impress as Cheryl is known for her outfits that feature leopard or zebra skin. At the local shows Cheryl loves cooking brings some sweetness with her famous Rocky Road or Custom Cakes. Look out for Cheryl in the Re- runs of "Come Dine With Me Australia" Season 3 Foxtel.

Rarni, a star in her own right, is currently placed at number one in the Victorian Top Ten Sate Highpoint horses for April 2021. ★

PERFORMANCE HORSES

YOORA

Having a Great Time!

THE Morgan family, who live outside Grafton, NSW, are having a great time with their horses. Karen and Allan Morgan, with their children, Jessica, Erin, Kimberley & Tom run Yoorana Performance Horses from their beef cattle property and stand two resident AQHA sires, Yoorana Copper Acres and Braunstone Oak. They not only breed AQHA and ASH horses that are used for work on the property, but compete successfully in Campdrafts, Challenges and Cattle events.

Jess & Erin Morgan began like most young country kids-riding horses at home and then attending the local pony club. Competing on good horses, they had great success, and younger siblings, Kim and Tom eventually followed in their footsteps. By the time the girls were in High School the Morgans had become interested in Campdrafting, Barrel Racing and Stock Horse events, making the annual pilgrimage to the Junior Rodeos, in Gloucester, Wingham and Nahiack, and also attended many of the local Campdrafts, Stock Horse and Agricultural shows.

Karen had always liked the idea of breeding their own horses, with the kids training and competing on something they'd worked themselves, so the family began buying a broodmare here and there.

'With our help,' Karen begins. 'The plan was for the girls to handle and break in the resulting progeny, and then compete on them or sell them.

Yoorana horses at work

Temperament means everything and we pride ourselves on how quiet and accepting our horses are...

The competitive Braunstone Oak

With the two girls doing all the handling, we were grateful that all of our youngsters had such incredible temperaments. Initially, it was tough competing on young, green horses, and although many other kids were mounted on trained horses, or ones that their parents also rode, it taught them early on, you only get out what you put in! They also had some help from some very accomplished riders and coaches, for example, Maxine Brooks has been a massive influence and role model for them.'

Started as a 3yo, by Erin, Yoorana Meika was a mare she had a lot of success on in 2003/2004. Very successful in led and ridden classes when she was on form, there wasn't much the mare couldn't win.

'She had a volatile nature, though,' Karen recalls. 'She was the perfect example of 'the crazy chestnut mare'. However, she did teach Erin to have lots of patience, and how to handle it when things weren't going to plan.'

In 2002, Yoorana Stud purchased a broodmare, Rodvale Cowgirl (A1-6570). Sired by ASH, Holmrose Lawmaker out of Alchera Lady (Q-37005), she had a filly foal on her by the sprint-bred AQHA sire, Black Denim (Q-35099). The filly, Yoorana Calamity Jane (A2-1189) was beautiful. The Morgans liked the cross so much they bred Cowgirl back to Black Denim twice over, the resulting foals broken in and sold as 3yos. Yoorana Bandit (A2-1334), became a successful showjumper for Miles and Louise Light, of Grafton, and Yoorana Rebel (A2-1479), became a competitive Barrel racer. Son, Tom, also owns a gelding, out of Cowgirl, by Conductor. Karen says they wouldn't have half of what they do, if it weren't for Rodvale Cowgirl.

'She's one of our most significant broodmares,' Karen reveals. 'We're very pleased with what she's produced and what we've achieved with them. Dam of Yoorana Calamity Jane and grand-dam of Yoorana Copper Acres, Cowgirl is now retired and living out her days as Yoorana Stud's nanny. One of Cowgirl's game-changing progeny, Calamity was initially broken in by Jess, and continued on with by Erin, due to Jess' school commitments. At 2yo Calamity showed great potential, being easily trainable, quick on her feet, with that soft temperament we loved. Calamity was started in ASH futurities and shows and we were away most weekends for QLD and NSW competitions.'

2005 saw Calamity and Erin clean up the annual ASHLA point score winning the ASHLA,

Filly just broken in and heading out for some work - Yoorana Copper Acre

Performance, Junior High Point and Overall High Point categories. Calamity was 4yo, Erin was 17, a very impressive effort. The pretty black mare with the big baldy face turned heads everywhere she went. In 2006 at Sydney Royal, Calamity won the Most Versatile ASH ridden by a Youth. The Morgans were enjoying Calamity's impressive show career, when, in early 2007, she tragically had a crippling accident, never to compete again.

'We were devastated. She had so much talent & competition life left. Calamity gave us so much joy and was very versatile. She could win a working class, go chase a cow, then win a Dressage test. That's the versatility we were chasing in our breed! A very special horse, that we knew we'd have to breed from.'

BRAUNSTONE OAK (Q-54061)

IN 2003, through a syndicate with friends, a 14 month old Bronze Oak (Q-20090) Roman Four Holly Day (R2-8060) AQHA colt was purchased from John Manwarring.

'Braunstone Oak, aka MB, was dual registered AQHA/ASH,' Karen says. 'Friends of ours owned a full sister that was a very competitive Campdrafter. We really liked Bronze Oak after seeing him successfully drafted by Heath Sinclair, so we were confident. We sent the colt to a Cutting trainer for the Futurity. A fun venture with no big expectations. Following the Futurity, MB had a well-earned spell.'

Erin began competing MB in Snaffle Bit Cutting & ASH futurity events, and then Campdrafting. MB has Novice and Ladies wins, countless placings in Open Drafts, and has won Open and Rookie Challenges. He placed in the Charlie Maher Memorial Young Guns Campdraft at Nutrien Classic, Tamworth 2020.

'Though he's been the bridesmaid so many times we've lost count, there aren't many events he doesn't final & place in. MB is a gentle boy, who's been a fun family horse. Anyone can ride him and he's a great confidence builder, with all who've ridden him being successful. At 18 years, he still loves his job.'

Karen says MB has bred some lovely foals, and his progeny have incredible natures, and love being around people.

'Early on, we sold most of them young. We wanted MB's progeny competing. Yoorana Gunsmoke, out of Calamity, is one of the first young horses Tom started. A half-brother to Yoorana Copper Acres, Tom owns Smokey and successfully Campdrafts and competes in Challenges with him.'

Yoorana Diva, one of MB's eldest progeny, out of a TB mare, has proven to be a nice cross with Yoorana Copper Acres. Karen says that people continue to breed to MB because of the temperament, strength, consistency and heart he passes on.

Yoorana Copper Acres gelding at 2yo, now a competitive Working Cowhorse

Braunstone Oak and Dean Jones

YOORANA COPPER ACRES (A3-563)

'AFTER Yoorana Calamity Jane's injury, we were unsure if she'd carry a foal. We flushed an embryo by Acres Destiny (Q-38061), with the result, Yoorana Copper Acres (A3-563). We eventually bred her to MB, to carry a foal herself. All went well and she foaled Yoorana Gunsmoke. Unfortunately we were unable to continue breeding Calamity.'

After breeding Yoorana Copper Acres, the Morgans faced a dilemma. As they already had their stallion, MB, and as much as they loved Calamity, they really wanted to keep those bloodlines, but weren't sure they could handle having two stallions. So, Yoorana Copper Acres, aka Ace, was entered in Landmark Toowoomba's sale. 'As fate would have it,' Karen says. 'He didn't meet the reserve and we took him home. Today, we are so thankful he didn't sell!'

Ace was broken in by Adam Wallen, with Erin continuing his education. She thought the world of him and could see much of his dam shining through. Winning all his 2yo classes at his first show, the Nationals at Lismore, he then placed 2nd in a Challenge and 2nd in a 2yo Futurity. As a 2 & 3yo, he was only lightly competed. Erin wanted him 100% ready, before she more seriously competed on him. He was brought slowly along at home, taken to work and given time to mature. The Morgans wanted Ace around for a long time, so there was no need to rush him.

'The focus turned to Campdrafts and Challenges,' Karen explains. 'We decided to seriously campaign him as a 4 & 5yo. He won his first Campdraft start, just missing his first ASCA Classic Challenge

Final at Monto. The slow, steady work was paying off. By 6yo, he was an Open Campdraft horse. Our friend Jay Charnock campaigned Ace when Erin couldn't, due to work commitments.'

Jay had success at the 2017 Warwick Gold Cup Campdraft, placing 6th in the Stallion Draft, and had an outstanding campaign at Sydney Royal Easter Show 2017, achieving runner-up most Versatile ASH. At the 2017 ASH Nationals at Tamworth, he placed 6th in the Open Challenge. Ace & Erin then won an ASCA Rookie Challenge at Toowoomba and an Open Challenge in Grafton in 2017. He was Runner-up ABCRA Novice Campdraft Horse 2018 and placed 2nd in the Stallion Draft at the 2019 ASH Nationals at Tamworth. He has to date (along with what's already listed above) won two Novice, three Ladies and two Open Campdrafts, four Open Challenges, and a Rookie Challenge, plus many placings.

'At 10yo, we hope for a long, successful career for Ace,' Karen says. 'He's a gentle soul and a lot of fun to have around. He's soft and responsive and that makes training him a breeze. He's such a sensitive horse you only have to raise your voice for him to know he's in trouble, but loves to be loved on. He's achieving lovely progeny, the oldest being 5yo. We bought two AQHA broodmares from Jim Page and they're producing great foals. We've retained, Barbie, a lovely Yoorana Copper Acres 2yo Palomino filly out of an Obviously Okie mare. The cross between the MB broodmares and Ace is working really well. We've bred Yoorana Diva to Ace the last few years, resulting in quality foals. The eldest, Bohrenna Dvine Acres has only been shown in 5 Challenges, due to the limited events the last two years with two wins and three placings.'

Yoorana Copper Acres (A3-563) and Erin Morgan

With three full younger siblings coming along, Tom with a lovely filly foal by Ace out of a mare by MB we look forward to the results.'

Yoorana Performance Horses have built up a quality broodmare band over the years, a mixture of various lines of QH, ASH and TB—with bloodlines of Braunstone Oak, Obviously Okie (Q-20218), Playin To Style (Q-39311), Hollywood Return (Q-186), Peppy Doc Bar, Peppys Matlock and ASH sires, Silver Minstrel, Betterview Gunfire, Nabinabah Easy Sun, and Stanton Stud Featherson. The family have worked out what lines cross best with their stallions to produce the traits they desire, and with both stallions being dual registered, this has proven to be a great success for them.

To keep new blood coming through, Karen says that they also outcross to outside stallions, using mares sired by their own stallions, and when choosing a potential outside sire, she believes they're spoilt for choices, considering the many talented sires on offer.

'During the big dry, we sold some lovely young progeny to great homes, and quite a few of them, geldings. We hope to see them competing soon. We haven't bred a massive amount of foals ourselves, but we've bred some exceptionally nice ones. We have more broodmare power now, so will work on building those numbers over the next few seasons.'

With an aim to always produce quality, trainable and competitive horses, that can also do a day's work, the Morgans won't stand for horses with bad attitudes. With the Yoorana horses not only working in the Morgan's beef cattle operation, they're crucial for the busy Contracting work that Tom and Erin and their partners do.

'Temperament means everything and we pride ourselves on how quiet and accepting our horses are,' Karen says. 'With Erin and myself mostly handling the stallions, especially in breeding season, we can't accept less. With a high content of QH bloodlines, the QH x ASH cross is working really well, that kind temperament shines through. But they're cowy, smart, athletic, trainable and cool-minded, too. We want our horses to be versatile, and I think we can say what we've produced to date have been. We're trying to breed horses that are talented and competitive in many disciplines, but also want to breed horses that are fun—those horses that you enjoy riding every day—the ones you leave until last to work because of the buzz they give you.'

The Morgans continue to enjoy competing in Challenges, Campdrafts and Snaffle Bit Cutting events, and are looking forward to watching Tom and his team of horses compete, which includes aiming for Warwick Gold Cup in October with none other than MB himself! Erin too, has a big competition in Victoria in October, where she'll partner with Ace in 'Australia's Greatest Horsewoman Competition', the event, a first in the equine industry. Erin is also keen to get into Working Cowhorse more, as the Yoorana Performance Horses should be well suited to that event. YES - the Morgans are having a great time! ★

BORN in 1965, Beggar Bingo was by the Leo bred stallion “Leo Bingo” (AAA, NCHA money earner, AQHA Champion, AQHA Supreme Halter Horse). He was out of “Jubalon”.

He was bred by Art Shahan of Pleasanton, Texas and was owned and campaigned by him until his sale to Winderadeen. He achieved his AQHA Champion status in America, earning his points in Cutting and Western Pleasure.

Beggar Bingo was imported to Australia by Winderadeen, arriving in 1970 to become the foundation sire of this well-known stud. He was probably one of the first horses to arrive in this country with such performance accreditation to his name.

Beggar Bingo was campaigned at halter where he achieved many awards including Champion Stallion at Sydney Royal Show in 1973 and 1974. In the mid 1970's he was shown in Cutting events where he was awarded many placings and wins, earning NCHA Certificates of Merit, Achievement and Ability as well as an AQHA Register of Merit for Cutting.

MOONDYNE Cutting Horses is located just north of Albury at Table Top NSW, where owners Scott and Kim Campbell operate a professional Cutting Horse Training Facility. They train and breed quality, competitive cutting horses that excel in all cow horse disciplines. Moondyne Cutting Horses is also the property where A Little Turpulence Q-67552 was born and bred.

Scott started competing with cutting horses at the age of about 19. After constantly being fascinated and interested in the idea of these cutting horses, working a cow on their own with what appeared to be very little assistance from their rider. Both Scott and his father Bruce shared this passion. At the age of about 17, Scott attended a Max McTaggart Clinic held at 'Grandview Park', Table Top, where he had the opportunity to ride on a cutter, he was hooked! Interestingly 'Grandview Park' came on the market in 2005. Scott and Kim purchased the property and established their training facility; this is where they live and train from today.

Kim started showing cutting horses as a youth from age nine; her step-father Leon Ford was involved with the cutting industry in the 70s and 80s. Competing in other Western Performance events such as Western Pleasure and Trail, Reining, Cowhorse and Cutting. Also representing Australia in the Youth World Cup team at the ages of 15 and 17. Together Kim and Scott have 35 + years in the industry, and they both believe cutting horses are the best equine athletes in the world.

Scott trained and competed on the great mare 'Turpentine Acres', an incredible athlete with outstanding cow sense. She had a brilliant career in the cutting pen with multitudes of titles and lifetime earnings of $71,271 plus has progeny earnings.

Much thought went into whom to breed the mare to when given the opportunity to get an embryo out of the great mare. Both Scott and Kim are big believers in mare power, so they chose to put the mare in foal to 'One Stylish Pepto', who is out of the great 'One Moore Spin'. Dams of champions, there's Mare power on the top and bottom side, the resulting progeny 'A Little Turpulence'.

A Little Turpulence was trained by Scott and competed as a cutter until he was about 8 years old. He was an NCHA Futurity, Derby and Classic finalist and both Scott and Kim competed on him. He marked plenty of big scores in the cutting pen. He was the NCHA Open Classic winner in 2015, NCHA 2015 Breeders Incentive Open Classic – 5th. He then had a couple of years just sitting in the paddock before Scott approached Dave Thorn about Campdrafting him.

The 12yo Bay Roan Stallion began his Campdrafting career in 2017 with Dave Thorn from Wallendbeen in Southern NSW.

A Cattle buyer by trade, his family, operates a 9,000 acre mixed farming enterprise of cropping for stock feed, sheep, lamb and wool and trade cattle. A small custom fed cattle feedlot for a meatworks in Victoria and a cow block in the Bylong Valley.

"As a kid, the Thorns were mainly Rodeo based, and we used the horses for stock work and competing in Rodeo. Mum showed horses, and Dad always went to horse sales around the state. About 13 years ago, once our place was a bit set up and with two small children at the time, I got back into Campdrafting. I love the comradery of the horse industry – we have made some of our best friends and business contacts through horses," recalls Dave.

Dave went back to basics with the Stallion in preparation for Campdrafting, riding him around the property doing stock work and teaching him to be a horse firstly for 12 months. "Then I got him rating and lapping a cow in the paddock. His first start was at Orange in November 2017. He won the maiden from 270 entries and came 2nd in the big novice on his first outing," Dave said.

As a horse, he is one of the most athletic, smooth and balanced, intelligent and fast horses you could ever ride.

Scott Campbell and A Little Turpulence Q-67552

SINCE THEN, THE STALLION HAS HAD SOME IMPRESSIVE ACHIEVEMENTS:-

- 2021 Dalgety Stallion Shootout Round 2 Winner: Tied three ways with 91 points and finished equal 2nd overall
- 2020 Koobah Performance Horses Tamworth Golden Guitar Campdraft Champion $35,000
- 2018 - Landmark Classic Open, with David Thorn – 3rd overall (85 92 89).
- Central West Open Cowhorse Spectacular Champion – winner of all 3 shows of the series

His progeny are already speaking for themselves and setting benchmarks 4-year-old mare 'Whos A Little Fancy' (A Little Turpulence X Whos Fancy Cat) on account of Kandee & David Thorn, fetched $90,000 at the recent 2021 Nutrien Classic Equine Sale.

Dave would like to thank his family and their staff. "It's hard to go to a draft if everything isn't ok at home," says Dave. A future goal for A Little Turpulence's career is to win The Warwick Gold Cup.

"As a horse, he is one of the most athletic, smooth and balanced, intelligent and fast horses you could ever ride. Even at a gallop, he is like silk to ride. His progeny so far have all been a lot like their Sire and always really sensible. We believe he has a massive future as a Sire that really has only just been tapped into."

"We look forward to watching him compete at major Campdrafts under the guidance of Dave and Kandee Thorn, who look after him as one of their own," says Scott and Kim.

He will stand this year in Tamworth at Hawkins Equine Breeding Centre under the care of Chris and Donna Murphy. Ph: 0418667202. For a breeding contract, please contact Kim Campbell Ph: 0429 192275 or email moondyne.kimcampbell@yahoo.com.au 📧

CALMITIVES for HORSES

REACTIVITY and restlessness are common behavioural problems in horses. Among the many causes are a flaw in the horse's temperament, subclinical pain, a medical condition, allergy and high starch diets. Other causes include sensitive skin, vitamin and mineral imbalances, vision problems and hormonal swings. Subclinical pain can increase tension and spookiness and a veterinary examination is important.

Hot behaviour and anxiety are also common in horses and the possibility that natural oral supplements might be useful, is very attractive. Let's have a look at the recent research. Certainly, anecdotal reports on the benefits of oral magnesium (Mg) are numerous - with many owners and vets describing reduced skin sensitivity, 'hot' behaviour, tying-up, irritability, muscular cramping, weakness, insulin-resistance, cresty necks and stiffness - when horses receive a Mg supplement. Recently some great research has confirmed the anecdotes and observations.

Conducted in Australia, a recently published study compared the effect of Mg to the sedative acetylpromazine (ACE) in horses undertaking a reaction speed test. This test measures the time taken for a horse to cover 2 m after being startled. Before the test, the horses travelled at 5.3m/sec, after receiving ACE they reduced their speed to 3.5m/sec and when they received 10g of Mg per day for 7 days, their speed reduced

even more, to 3.1m/sec – i.e., they were less reactive than the ACE-sedated horses! This is the first time an objective measurement of behavioural change due to oral Mg supplementation has been reported in the horse.

Another study from the University of Guelph and published in 2017, looked at the amount of stress horses experienced (in terms of heart rates and cortisol levels) performing a set task. They received either ACE or a Mg-thiamine supplement. The horses were loaded onto a weighbridge for 3 seconds. Heart rate was significantly lower when the horses received ACE or Mg, compared to when they were unsupplemented. When given 30 minutes before the onset of a stress, Mg-thiamine is as effective as ACE in blunting stress-induced increases in heart rate. Mg is also thought to help soothe nervous horses by working in concert with calcium on muscle contractions. Calcium stimulates contraction, Mg facilitates relaxation. If Mg levels are low, muscles can spasm due to an inability to achieve full relaxation. Some forms of chronic tying-up and PSSM also respond to Mg supplementation.

International Olympic veterinarians found Mg reduced muscle tiredness and increased work tolerance in show jumping, 3-day event, dressage and 4-in-hand horses. They also reported a decrease in skin sensitivity, 'hot' behaviour, unexplained hindleg lameness (muscular in origin), irritability, muscular cramping, weakness and stiffness, particularly of the hindlimbs.

More recent studies examined the effect of daily Mg on muscle function in horses – specifically tying up (PSSM, exertional rhabdomyolysis). Enzymes released during exercise indicate the amount of muscle damage. These are measured by your veterinarian when they test for AST, LDH, CK and ALP. Horses on a daily Mg supplement had lower enzyme levels after exercise, and also lower heart rates. In addition to allowing the proper relaxation of muscle fibres, Mg is a catalyst for generating energy (ATP – the basic currency of energy), and it facilitates oxygen delivery and uptake in working muscles.

VISION: Some horses never shy at anything when it is overcast or cloudy, yet on bright sunny days it's a totally different story! Apprehension and anxiety can occur because of a vision problem and this needs a veterinary examination. If you have a horse that shies more on bright days, one thing you can look for yourself is the size of the pigment 'blobs' that are attached to the pupil. In some horses these can be quite large and when the pupil contracts quickly – as occurs when going into areas with brighter light - they can partially obscure vision, so the horse is temporarily "blinded" until the eyes adjust to the light.

TIREDDNESS: Sleep deprivation due to travelling and competition can be a cause of bad behaviour if horses are unable to lie down. Behavioural problems can also occur when an exercise must be repeated many times. The muscles used for that exercise get tired and the horse simply cannot perform the exercise correctly. When asked again for that movement, the horse has two choices: start protesting or avoid maximal effort. Varying the work routine, ensuring adequate time is allowed for muscle adaptation, using a graded exercise program and strategic feeding of essential amino acids and antioxidants hasten muscle recovery and support the development of fitness. Muscle must be repaired rapidly to alleviate muscular stiffness and delayed muscle soreness, support rapid recovery, allow training to continue and to prepare for the next work session - in fact, preparation for the next training session or competition begins as soon as the last one is finished.

It is before and after work that we have the best window of opportunity to support the muscles. Muscles consume vast amounts of antioxidants and essential amino acids during work. At the microscopic level, small strains, rips and tears occur. Correct composition and timing of feeding can take advantage of the window of opportunity created by the raised hormone levels and increased blood supply that accompany exercise. To be effective and hasten muscle recovery, the concentrate must provide antioxidants, amino acids and be consumed within 2 hours before and again 1 hour after work.

SUGAR AND STARCH OR OILS FOR FUEL?

The effect of sugar/starch-based diets compared to high oil and fibre diets have been studied in all breeds and disciplines. Dietary source of energy has a significant effect on the behaviour of young horses detectable during specific temperament tests or during periods of stress. Temperament and tractability in horses of all ages showed that they were calmer and more inquisitive on an oil-enriched, fibre-based, low starch-sugar. They also showed less 'flightiness' (tendency to run away

Jenquine

BRINGING SCIENCE TO YOUR FEED BIN

and speed of movement) and 'sensitivity' (extent to which behaviour is affected by environmental disturbances) and more willingness to perform. Young horses were less distressed immediately after weaning, were less flighty and more attentive than weanlings on starch-sugar feeds.

Gut pain from grain and starchy feeds has been linked to behavioural problems. Gut pain occurs less frequently in horses on fibre, oil-enriched feeds and this is likely related to stomach and gut acid levels. The chewing process stimulates the flow of saliva, which in turn lowers stomach acid levels and the horse feels more comfortable – a bit like humans chewing an antacid tablet. One kilogram of hay requires over 3000 chewing movements and results in the production of over 4 litres of saliva. One kilogram of grain requires only 1/3 as much chewing and yields only 2 litres of saliva.

GUT HEALTH: the gut-brain axis and the biome:

The two-way communication system linking the gut and brain is called the gut-brain axis. There is a clear link between diet, the types of bugs in the gut flora (biome) and behaviour. The gastrointestinal tract releases over 20 different hormones and neurotransmitters. Disruption of these has a wider influence on behaviour. Diet plays a key role in affecting the composition of gut microbiota. The horse's gut has over 1,000,000,000 different types of bacteria and over 10,000,000,000 bacteria per gram of contents. Changes in the gut biome on high starch/sugar feeds is associated with increased alertness, reactivity and more unpredictable behaviour. Conversely when the same horses were fed high fibre diets they were more settled and their biome was healthier. Resting heart rates are significantly higher when horses are fed a high-starch diet compared to a high-fibre diet.

BEDDING: The type of bedding material can exacerbate aggressiveness. Horses on straw have reduced aggressiveness because it facilitates time spent lying down, exploration and fibre intake from nibbling straw – all of which affect the gut-brain axis.

MARES AND FILLIES: Blood magnesium levels fall when estrogen rises, as occurs when mares are in season and this may in part explain why they are more prone to tying up, nervousness and muscular soreness at this time. Other symptoms include high sensitivity to touch and sound, abnormally high muscle tone and muscular twitching. Demand for B vitamins from stress and training can also exceed the intestinal production, especially if the diet is high in raw grains as the associated increase in gut acid, wipes out the beneficial bacteria that help horses synthesize their own B-vitamins. Another sign of this is a proneness to lose manure/diarrhea with excitement, transport, etc. Most diets are moderately to severely magnesium and B-vitamin deficient.

Drug therapy for mare cycling problems includes progesterones and although these suppress strong signs of oestrus, they can have a negative effect on attitude. Mares often become dull and sulky when left alone but just as aggressive and touchy in work, and if used for fillies that are "mean", it often makes them even "meaner" - although they won't show signs of heat anymore. For this reason, they should be used selectively and only at strategic times during the cycle. The best way to determine if progesterones might help is to monitor behaviour over several cycles, noting when she works best using solid measurements of performance, not necessarily how easy she is to work with or how much urinating she does.

Reserpine is marketed as an aid in calming horses and seems to work very well in some horses but not very well in others. It acts by depleting neurotransmitters in the brain, particularly serotonin, apparently resulting in 'subtle changes in behaviour that may only be observed by those very familiar with the horse's normal behaviour'. Obviously, the drug cannot be used in horses which are competing as it is a prohibited substance. However some people find it a useful training aid, although there are reports that it produces "sedation to overt depression," and some concern about these effects in horses that are being ridden.

NUTRITIONAL DEFICIENCIES: can contribute as well. Always go back to the basics for mares and fillies that are nervous or won't relax, because whilst pharmaceutical intervention can block the signs of oestrus, if the issue is behavioural, magnesium and B6 may get the job done just as well, if not better.

Changes in blood concentrations of calcium and magnesium can affect blood vessels, nerve transmission and muscular contraction.

Most equine diets are too low in magnesium and horses with responsive behaviour problems (sensitive to touch/sound, "jumpiness" in general) are sensitive to the low intake. Magnesium and vitamin B6 (10g and 600 to 800 mg/day respectively) work well for fillies with negative mood swings - sulky, aggressive or just want to be left alone. Vitamin B6 influences hormone levels. For mares and fillies in work, the demand for B vitamins increases due to stress and training and can exceed intestinal production. This should be suspected if a mare has loose manure/diarrhoea when excited. Ensuring vitamin B6 and thiamine intake are adequate is especially helpful with nervousness. Mg plays an important role in excitable tissues - and nerve and muscle function. Adding supplementary Mg to the daily diet at recommended levels is intended to address subclinical deficiencies, diagnosis of which is difficult - but the clinical signs (behaviour problems, muscle conditions, excitability and sensitivity) are common.

Nervousness may also be a sign of a horse that just doesn't quite understand what is being asked, or that has been moved along a bit too quickly in its training. Always first check that the diet is balanced and matches their individual requirements. Second, going back to training basics is often more effective than turning to different bits, restraints or drugs. Combining a sound basic diet with behavioural research findings will help us grow and best use our horsemanship skills to increase our understanding of the important relationships that affect behaviour. 🌟

CHECK LIST FOR BEHAVIOURAL PROBLEMS

- 1 Fibre intake and access
- 2 Oil-enriched diet
- 3 Diet balanced for magnesium and B vitamins
- 4 Oestrus cycle
- 5 Vision check
- 6 Adequate rest periods between work sessions
- 7 Able to lie down to sleep
- 8 Amino acid intake adequate for muscle building and repair
- 9 Social connections with other horses
- 10 Subclinical pain or lameness
- 11 Adequate vitamin E and selenium to reduce muscle pain

BRIANNA hails from Kootingal, on the outskirts of Tamworth and grew up competing on the Rodeo circuit, watching her parents and finding her love for Barrel Racing that continues to this day.

This is the second time Brianna and 'Smokin' have taken home the Open division Barrel Race buckle for the fastest registered Quarter Horse at the AQHA Nationals. The pair is an impressive team to watch; not only is the gelding polished in appearance, but he is aptly named.

Having grown up around horses, her love of them is something developed from her mother, Jacquelyn, a huge inspiration in her life. "We both have a deep appreciation for old bloodlines such as Morn Deck and Traditional Rock, who we have been lucky enough to own some great horses out of. I am very excited about the next generation we are getting going with bloodlines out of great horses such as Seconds Ta Fame and Flashy Pepto," says Brianna.

Brianna has had some achievements over the years:-

- Qualifying for her first Junior ABCRA NFR at age 9, qualifying nine times overall and winning the 2006 U11 Australian title and 2 Average titles.
- Qualifying for her first senior ABCRA NFR in 2012 at 17 and has since qualified 5 times.
- ABCRA Rookie Barrel Racing title on Cowboy Roc in 2014.
- Moonbi Magic end of year high point champion in both 2012/13 Cowboy Roc
- Moonbi Magic 1D Finals champion in 2012 & 2014 Cowboy Roc 2018 & 2019 Smokin
- At his first NFR in 2019, Smokin won the NFR Average title and the fastest time.
- 2018 and 2021 Quarter Horse Nationals Champion and 2016 Reserve Champion.
- Competed at the Sydney Royal Easter Show in 2013 & 2015 Cowboy Roc, 2016 Smokin

But the true highlight for Brianna is the horses that she has both owned and competed on. "They are a huge part of what makes all this so special and what makes me passionate about the sport," Brianna says.

Another instrumental part of her current success is the now 12-year-old Palomino Gelding Peptos Smokin Morn (Flashy Pepto x Morns Impression), purchased from Mathea Usher - Santa Rio Quarter Horse Stud in October 2009 as a weanling. Trained by Brianna, who admits she didn't have a lot of experience in training before Smokin, so they spent a lot of time figuring things out together. The gelding has such a laid back personality and is quick to pick something up. Smokin broke open at Mendooran Rodeo on 14/10/17.

"There are so many great Barrel Racers all over the world that have achieved tremendous things, but the one I grew up admiring the most would be Lisa Lockhart. The consistency she would have with Louie year after year at the NFR both inspires me and shows she is the best."

"I think your mental state has a huge influence over how you compete, and it's something I try to focus on and perfect constantly," says Brianna of her success.

Q21 YOUTH BARREL RACE WINNER

WAYLONS HOLLYWOOD CINCH

Q-75275

MEET the Coolah Cowgirl who knew a barrel racing pattern before she could write her name. She has become one of the Rodeos most immense junior talents and proven she's one to watch. It hasn't been a smooth road to success, but the 15-year-old has learnt some valuable lessons along the way and earned some lifelong friends.

Her family is the reason Skyla loves the sport of Rodeo, in particular Barrel Racing. I guess you could say she was born and bred into a horse family. Her parents have a love for horses and have been involved with horses for a long time. Her Dad rode Bulls and competed in Steer Wrestling.

Skyla's grandparents also had horses and owned Long Hill Quarter Horse Stud. They owned 'Jackaroo' (Hired Hand x Tetera), one of the first four Quarter Horses imported into Australia.

He was the first American Quarter Horse to be auctioned in Australia in 1961 at the annual King Ranch Sale, setting an Australian record price at 3,000 Guineas ($6,300). He was purchased by Sam Hordern Jnr and Jack Reilly from NSW. Robert Baldwin then purchased him for $5000 in 1967. "He was then sold to my Pop in 1972 and was awarded his AQHA Award of Honour in recognition to the Quarter Horse Breed," said Skyla.

SKYLA WICKS

In 1999-2000 Skyla's eldest sister Ashleigh travelled all over Australia to pursue an ABCRA Jnr Barrel racing Title on a great little mare named Tara, which she successfully achieved. Ashleigh also won the NSW State Championships and was the youngest to compete at the Sydney Royal Easter Show in the under 17year age group at just 10.

"It was a sport my family had a lot of interest in. So when I came along, we got back into it. I barrel raced every single day on my stick horses around three cups in the loungeroom from around the age of 2, mum tells me. I always knew the pattern; I knew the barrel pattern before I could write my name. Dad always tells me I would even ask him if I was on the right lead. So I guess you can say I was born to Barrel Race," Skyla recalls.

Skyla's dream horse would be a dark grey Gelding 'Waylons Hollywood Cinch' (Waylon Return x Boom Boom Baby) bred by the Mobberley family from Merriwa. 'Cinch' caught her Mum, Erin's eye at a pony club day in Merriwa, and she had wanted him ever since, but the horse was not for sale. "In 2016, Cinch's full brother came on the market, and we purchased him as an unbroken colt and figured that was as close as we were going to get." After two years of hassling, the Mobberley family phoned to say 'Cinch' was going on the market!

Initially purchased for Erin, the pair didn't always get along. "At this stage, I was riding one of my Dads Campdraft mares, but she was too slow for Barrel Racing, so I thought I would give Cinch a go. In the beginning, we knew he was fast, but he did need a fair bit of fine-tuning. He had only done a bit of barrel racing at pony club," Skyla recalls.

When the duo started barrel racing, they would often place if he didn't break the pattern, but he was soon renowned around the Rodeos for ducking inside the drums. It didn't matter which drum either and sometimes not even running the barrel pattern. This ducking inside became a regular thing.

"In June 2019 at Coonamble Rodeo, he let me down, and I told Mum and Dad I would never ride him again. I was so upset. Mum was beside herself, wondering how we could fix it. Jodie and Kane Mobberley were disappointed that Cinch wasn't working out either, but they knew they had sold us a good horse. I just had to work it all out."

"I had a little spell from Cinch and went back to Dads mare. Mum then spoke to Wendy Caban, and everything changed from there. Cinch went on a holiday to Wendy's home at Moree for a month. Wendy told Mum straight away that he needed lots of work, but he had the makings of a Champion. When a Barrel Racing Champion says that about your horse, you don't give up."

"I was blessed to be welcomed into Wendy and Troy's home, where I also had lessons with Cinch. Cinch and I loved it, and both learnt so much! Wendy calls a spade a spade, and my skin had to become thick very quick, but when I walked into her lounge room and lost count of the buckles in there, I knew I was in the right spot!"

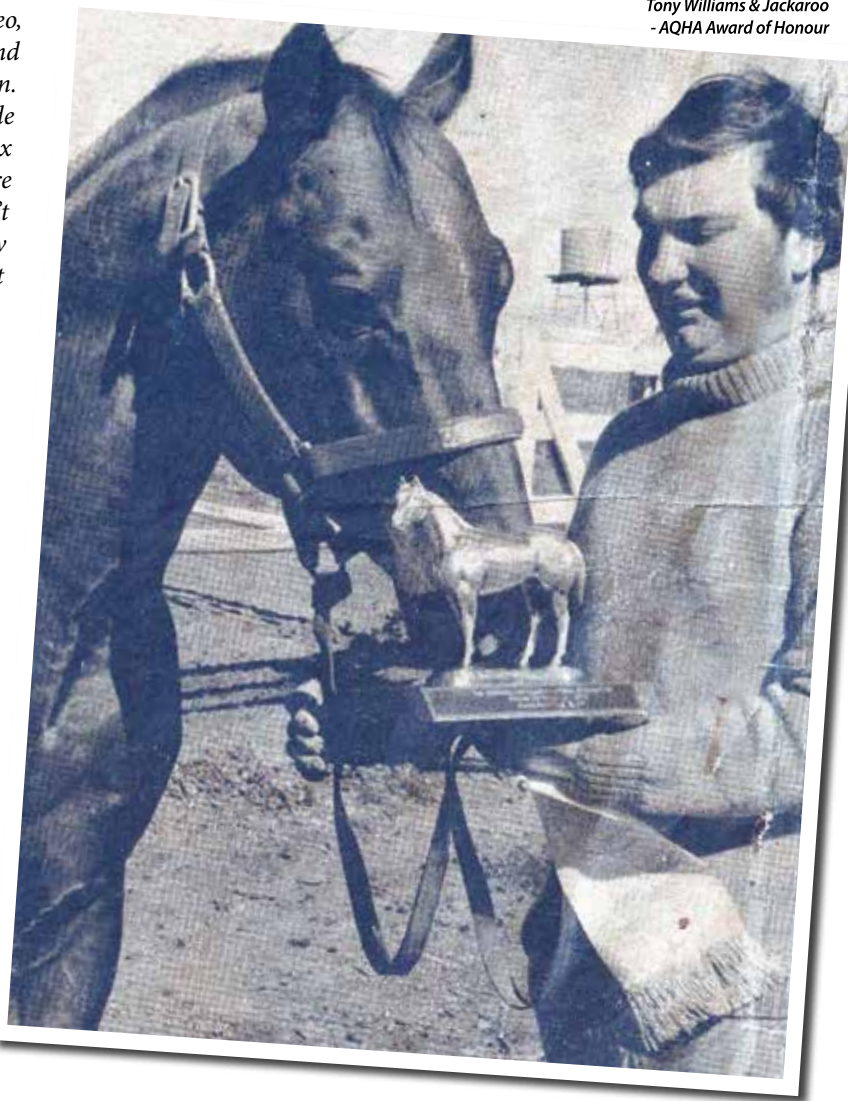

"In August, we took him to Weengallon Rodeo QLD, we placed 4th, from there we went on to place in 13 Rodeos in a row and qualify for my first National Finals. Just before the Finals in Tamworth, making sure he kept me on my toes, he started to duck inside those drums again, so Moree bound he was. I remember Mum and Dad dropping him at Wendy's at 10 pm one night."

"One thing I will never forget Wendy doing for me was at Mclean Rodeo he ducked inside a drum on me in the Jnr Barrel race, I wasn't even out of the arena, and Wendy said I'm riding that horse in the Ladies tie him to my truck. When she has such a good string of horses at a $1000.00 Barrel Race and offers to ride my horse, I know I have someone exceptional in my corner. He placed 6th."

Wendy always said, "Cinch has it; you just have to get it out of him."

The first round of the finals didn't go to plan; Michelle and Chase Russell generously offering their horse Matey for the second round. "From this day on, I felt what it was like to ride a seasoned Barrel horse, and everything changed. Cinch and I clicked, and we have been going great ever since," Skyla recalls.

Tony Williams & Jackaroo
- AQHA Award of Honour

In late 2019 the duo won their first Jnr Rodeo at Rockley and then won at Upper Horton in February 2020. "I won the Novice Barrel Race at Quirindi Championship Rodeo out of 66 riders and took home my first buckle. It was a great day!"

The exceptional team won the Novice Barrel race at Cobar in October 2020, which meant that Cinch had broken Open with 12 months of consistency.

"That was a pretty exciting moment for me, and we won another beautiful buckle."

They were adding to their success and buckle collection, winning the Maturity Barrel race at the ABHA NSW State Championships and recently the Youth AQHA Buckle at Q21.

"My Pop passed away in December 2017, and the statue that the AQHA awarded sat above my Pops coffin along with the leather headcollar Jackaroo wore out on the boat to Australia. These two special items still sit in my Nan's Lounge room today! I know when I won that AQHA buckle, my Pop would have been smiling from ear to ear."

He loved the Quarter Horse Breed and bred some good horses, and I know the roots of my riding come from him," Skylia said.

"Cinch has now become one of the most consistent horses there is, believe it or not. He tries so hard nowadays and loves to Barrel race. He has the funkiest personality; he is a sweet horse with a touch of arrogance to go with it. He loves a scratch and doesn't use too much energy if he doesn't have to! His runs always look effortless, and I have lots of comments after his times are announced, like wow, that didn't look that fast, but he makes his time up around his tight turns."

"I won the Juvenile Barrel at Quirindi Rodeo a few weeks back, and Wendy said, 'I held my breath the whole way I don't think you could have fit a cigarette butt between your leg and those drums.' We have had so much fun together, and he is the reason I have made some awesome forever friends and memories. I still text all my runs to Wendy, and if she is where I am at a Rodeo, she never misses to watch me. I am blessed to not only have Wendy around me but my family also and the most amazing supportive Rodeo friends and their parents who have watched and encouraged me in this crazy Barrel Racing journey I have had!"

"Wendy Caban is who I will always admire in the Barrel Racing world. She is inspirational. Spending time at her home made me see exactly what you need to do to be the best of the best. The best advice Wendy gave me was 'it doesn't happen overnight; you've just got to Cowgirl up and keep going'.

Skylia is inspired by and admires Wendy Caban and 'Jaylo', Katina Matthews and 'Filthy Rich n Famous.' "One day, my dream is to barrel race my own horse by this amazing stallion. I also like to watch Brittany McVicar ride," says Skylia.

Skylia believes the key to her success is never giving up on a horse she 'knew had the ability but was challenging and heartbreaking at the same time.' Riding every single day, rain, hail or shine. Keeping Cinch fit and feeling the best he can. Don't be scared to try something different.

SKYLA WOULD LIKE TO THANK:-

- The Mobberley Family, Jodie, Kane, Jack and Makayla for allowing us to buy him.
- Wendy and Troy Caban for welcoming me into their home and teaching me the fine points of Barrel Racing.

Skylia Wicks

- Michelle and Chase Russell for lending me a horse at the ABCRA Finals. I believe this was when I experienced what a barrel horse should feel like, and from that day on, I went forward.
- My Nan for being my best friend and always being there to pick me up from the bus to work my horses and helping me feed and rug every afternoon.
- My Mum and Dad for shoeing my horses and carting me everywhere I need to go.
- Ben Maytom for keeping Cinch feeling 100%

"I would like to qualify for my 2nd ABCRA National Finals, and to win a title or the average would be a little extra goal if it were to happen. My dream is to become a Jockey, which may slow my Barrel racing down, but it's something I have always wanted to do. Mum and Dad are not keen for me to enter that career, but I can't wait," says Skylia of her future dreams.

We look forward to what the future holds for this magical combination. 🍀

Our gateman John Wylie and announcer Julian Kingsford ensured the show ran on time and kept all competitors informed on the schedule for the events. This year we invited a strong team of 5 reining judges to officiate the reining events, Darren Simpson, Donnie McLaughlin, Errol Thomas, Jason Wordsworth and Glenn Wyse and were assisted with a full team of pencilers, Sharon Simpson, Devin Lowe, Kerry Hoffmann, Skye and Tony Bryers. The Challenge, Australia's Greatest Horseman judging team consisted of Darren Simpson, Errol Thomas, Glenn Wyse, Ken Cullen and Bomber Lancaster, with all our judges and support teams being cared for by Lorraine Wylie, our ARBC hostess for all officials. The One Roan Peptos Western Dressage Championships also had a strong support team with Lisa Berg officiating as our show secretary with the assistance of Laurel Davis and we thank them for their amazing passion for the sport. The WD Judge Steve Thake excelled at judging over 70 tests for the day with the assistance of a scribe team consisting of his wife Anne and Laurel Davis. The arena surface saw not one but two Thomas Arena Drags used simultaneously by Alan Cooper and Errol Thomas, a sight to behold and cutting arena maintenance and drag times in half and ensuring it was just right for each of the disciplines utilising it. To keep the entire grounds and facilities in tip top shape and helping the show to go on under the tight covid directives, we also had Shane and Daralyn Davies along with their team keeping the entire space immaculately clean, we all sure appreciated it and without their amazing attention to detail, the show may not have proceeded. As the ARBC Show has grown it does mean there are so many that contribute to its success and as such we thank everyone involved with assisting with the ARBC Show in a small or more involved way, the "Can Do" Attitude from everyone involved is what keeps this great show not only running yet a place that is a must do on the show calendar each year.

In the opening ceremony for the ARBC Show and this feature event, organiser Errol Thomas thanked all that had supported the ARBC Show; sponsors, judges, competitors, helpers and spectators. With an event of this size and inclusion of this new feature event he thanked the major sponsors of this prestigious event, Circle L Western Products, Xtreme Genes, Thomas Arena Products and Total Steel Australia, it is the support of great sponsors that make the ARBC grow in numbers each year.

This year the ARBC remembered a great bloke, friend and an amazing horseman "Ronnie Wall" with a few words spoken from Jim Ryan, followed by a minute's silence in his memory, while Leah Read loped one of Ronnie's favourite mares, Marnie's Destiny around the arena. There wasn't a dry eye in attendance as we all paid tribute and remembered the great Ronnie Wall.

The Dalby Major declared the show open to a crowd of enthusiastic spectators and there were also over 15,000 from across the globe tuning in via the live streaming of this epic event. As The National Anthem was sung by one of our own Grace Christoffel riding the ever-wonderful Mr Bombastic, it certainly was a night to remember. With all competitors and their horses introduced to the crowd it was showtime in the spectacularly dressed arena and an atmosphere that was befitting to the prestige of this feature event.

The first horse "Do Me A Favour ridden by Leah Read" being first to run into the pen to the roar of the crowd signalled the start of the Australia's Greatest Horseman Finals, the judges for this $40,000 event being Darren Simpson and Glenn Wyse.

All 15 finalists certainly showcased the talent of the horse and rider combinations in the Drywork & Down the Fence section in front of an excited crowd.

The Championship Title holder was crowned in front of a great crowd of excited spectators. "Rob Leach riding Shirley Shiney", owned by Peter & Marie Rogan.

The culmination of all events at the ARBC is the VIP Dinner where we Celebrate our Champions and Thank all our Wonderful Sponsors, this year we extended our guest list to accommodate 200 seated guests and it sold out weeks before the ARBC Show began. We would like to thank our local restaurateur and caterer Col from the Windsor Hotel, yet again delivering on a delicious meal to help us all catchup and celebrate the ARBC Show. With the restrictions being worked under you and your team did an amazing job.

There were some special mentions at our VIP Dinner this year as part of the formal proceedings of the evening.

The Chris Parnell Sportsmanship and Encouragement Award, recognising the great sportsmanship of a competitor that perhaps didn't win anything but showed true sportsmanship towards competitors and her pony is now a perpetual award with the recipient selected by our judges. The winner of this special award this year was presented by our reining judges Darren Simpson to Cooper Downie. Congratulations Cooper you have a great way with your horse and showed amazing sportsmanship and we do hope winning this award encourages you to continue on your path in reining.

The ARBC WildSpark Lady rider is a new addition to our Awards of Recognition. Edwina Pilch co founder of WildSpark, an organisation that unites and encourages rural women across the country approached us about having an award at the ARBC Show to recognise our Cattle Event Lady Competitors and so the WildSpark Lady Rider Award was born.

This year our cattle event judges selected this special lady Hayley Ahern from a large selection of ladies competing in these events. Hayley is a mum, wife and hard working lady that finds the time to not only rider her horses, yet compete on them as well.

Hayley met Edwina earlier in the week and after a few chats at the ARBC Saloon it was clear in Edwina's mind that Hayley was the lady to be recognised with this award.

Hayley congratulations on this recognition, such a deserved winner of this the "Wild Spark Lady Rider". Hayley received a stunning WildSpark Lady Rider Buckle complete with Rose Quarts stones, a pink edged wool rug, a Pink Yetti for her chilled Passion Pop and a beautiful bunch of flowers.

This year we celebrated our Champions handing out 8 big cheques to the deserved champions of the ARBC for 2020.

As the Classic Challenge and ARBC OPEN Derby are the events that this show was originally built on we presented the champions of each event with a customised ARBC Denim Jacket. Also recognising the Inaugural Australia's Greatest Horseman Champion, OPEN Stockmans Challenge Champion and NON Pro Derby Champions with a customised ARBC Jacket.

The proceedings moved into a Stallion Service Auction chaired by the golden Microphone Jim Ryan, where we auctioned off stallion services kindly sponsored by their owners, the legendary Gunners Special Nite owned by Turnabout Farms, Lil Joe Cash owned by Russell Giles, NPH Gunner Be A Goodnite owned by Trinity Ranch, Beniah and Tassa N Smart owned by Nathan Wilson and Brydie Hughes along with World Champion stallion Shiney Outlaw owned by Michelle Cannon USA.

Thank you to these great people for putting forward these services to amazing stallions. Thank you to our wonderful ARBC Official Photographer Ken Anderson Photography for these amazing photos.

In true ARBC Style we adjourned to the ARBC Saloon for some well deserved drinks and catch ups with both new and old friends, while Kerry Kennedy and Double Barrell Band helped us all kick on to celebrate the success of yet another great ARBC Show.

We thank everyone that supported, competed or just came to watch the action, we are looking forward to a great year ahead in preparing for our 2022 ARBC Show where we will be releasing news shortly of some new inclusions to our already colourful and action packed program. Our dates for the 2022 ARBC Show will be 23rd to 30th April, Errol and Gita look forward to welcoming you all along again next year. 🍷
