

APVMA – Registration

Legislative changes came into force on 5 March 2015 that have excluded certain animal feeds and additives for both stock and companion animals, from the scope of the APVMA's regulation. These products, are referred to as 'excluded nutritional or digestive products' or 'END products' and do not require registration under the Agricultural and Veterinary Chemicals Code.

Our zeolite fits under the definition of 'END products' and as the APVMA won't allow the registration of 'END products' we have not continued our registration which was previously under the following:
