Monetisation

- One possible method is through advertising. The app could display targeted ads to users based on their demographics and interests.
- Another method could be a subscription model. Users could be charged a fee for access to premium features, such as the ability to generate quizzes from longer videos, access to analytics on their quiz performance.
- QuizTube could also be monetized through partnerships with educational institutions, language learning platforms, or other organizations that may find value in using the app as a tool for teaching and learning.
