About Us

FlyingKittens

We are students in computer science and film creation

Our Project

We created a text-based interactive role-playing detective novel game that allows users to uncover new clues and drive the plot development through input statements.

The method we used to create the game can be summarized as a game engine.

Our Project

We are planning to create an immersive and interactive novel gaming engine. With the engine, One can easily transform a role-playing Novel to a immersive novel. Then deploy the immersive novel to a chat-based interactive game.

How do we do it? Claude.

Narrator : Mission start

Tonight, as the Eastern Star is nearing the Atlantic port, while passengers are enjoying the fireworks, a bloody corpse is discovered in the warehouse. The deceased, Louis, is the ship's first mate, and there are five suspects.
You will play the role of a detective, investigating the truth and finding the murderer. You can question each suspect and search the rooms on the cruise ship for clues. At the same time, you should try to reveal as little information as possible to the suspects. In the end, you will submit your reasoning in the left column.

Victoria is the jazz singer in the bar of the Eastern Star cruise ship. According to Victoria's information:

- Victoria and Captain Lincoln are lovers in secret. Lincoln gifts Victoria a necklace.

- Victoria had an argument with the crew member Dylan on May 6th after Dylan nicknamed Victoria "Victoria Magnet".

- On the evening of the crime, Victoria returned to her room between 19:40 to 20:00. Her clothes were torn and she had a hairpin with bloodstains.
