Hi! I'm the legal assistant for a class action lawsuit against Google's tracking policy. The case is currently collecting inputs from plaintiffs. You can freely interact with and ask me questions like the current status of the case. We'll start by assessing whether you're eligible to join the class action. Could you let me know how long you have been using Google services?

Hello, what do I do?

To join the class action lawsuit, we first need to determine your eligibility. The lawsuit concerns Google's tracking through its services such as Android, Google Docs/Slides/Sheets, and Gmail. Please provide information about your usage of these services, such as how long you have been using them and which of these services you have used. This will help us determine your eligibility for potential damages from Google on the grounds of the breach of GDPR.

Yeah I have been using it for five years!

Great, thank you for providing that information. Given that you have been using Google services for five years, you may be eligible to join the class action lawsuit and potentially receive damages on the grounds of the breach of GDPR. To proceed with joining the class action, kindly provide the following information: 1. Your full name 2. Email address 3. Phone number 4. A list of the Google services you actively use or have used in the past Please note that your personal data will be kept confidential and only be used for this class action lawsuit. After you provide this information, we will contact you with further instructions and guidance on the next steps to take in the class action process. We appreciate your willingness to participate in this action against Google's invasive tracking practices.
