LangBox: Cutomizable Grammar & Text Improvement Engine
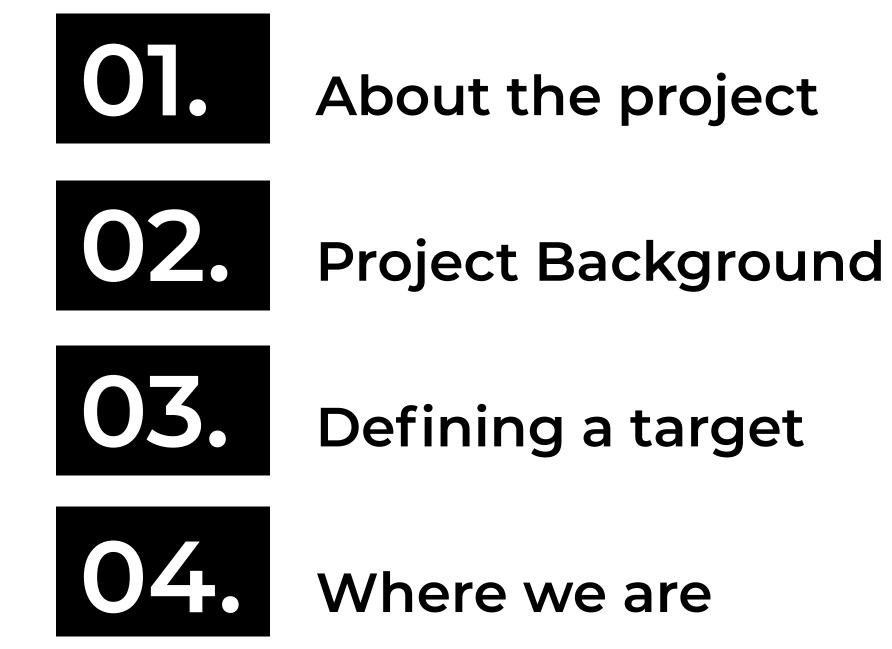

Introduction

About the project

LangBox aims to empower people to build their own ideal writing assistant in the form of chaining together multiple grammar and text improvement techniques via prompting.

Project background

There are many writing co-pilot, grammar checker, and sentence parser on the market. LangBox strives to make all of them accessible under a single environment.

Defining a target

We plan to include more languages other than English as well as more ways to interact with the platform plus an interactive means to build your own engine.

How it is now   Where we are

With that said, we first plan to test out some basic features like different text format and different parsing method, before attempting to serve any kind of customization.

Thank you!

Do you have any questions?