About the project

PocketLingo aims to empower people to learn on-the-go about the history, linguistics, and culture of any language they're interested in.

How it starts

Project background

There are many language learning app and conversational chatbot on the market. PocketLingo strives to make all of them accessible under a single environment.

Where it leads to

Defining a target

We plan to include more languages other than Old English as well as more ways to interact with the platform plus additional models to deal with specific subject matter like history or culture.

How it is now Where we are

With that said, we first plan to test out some basic features like different text format and different translation result, before attempting to serve any kind of customization.

Thank you!
