About the Project

Patrick is a conversational bot aimed at teaching the Yoruba language

→ Conversational

A persona that is helpful and approachable

→ Robust

Built on top of the Google AI Studio

→ Versatile

Accommodate both text and image conversation

Project Background : Finding a way to transmit multiple media into a language
conversationally

— Defining a Target

At the moment it has only one persona and is only capable of one language, more specifically Yoruba. We plan to expand the functionality of the bot in the upcoming versions by including more languages, adding more personas (even the possibility of customizing ones), improving the interface, as well as creating more ways of interacting with the bot.

Where We Are

With that said, we first plan to test out some basic features like different text format and different translation result, before attempting to serve any kind of customization.
