

Curiosity Killed the Cat

AI-driven consultancy platform

Presented by Bart Nosalik

An AI-powered platform that automates the creation of work break down structure, enabling users to generate detailed project plans in minutes without the need for multiple specialists.

PROBLEMS

Expertise Gap

Today's projects often require multidisciplinary expertise due to increasing complexity.

Crafting a detailed project plan typically demands extensive time from managers and collaboration with multiple specialists.

High Costs of Knowledge

Managers invest 10% to 30% of their time on pre-project documentation.

Preparation can take from several days to weeks.

Costs range from $5,000 for smaller projects to $20,000 for larger ones.

AI Provide Low-Quality Responses

Existing AI solutions often fail to deliver high-quality, context-aware advice when consulted by users

└ SOLUTIONS

Expertise Advancement

Utilizes advanced AI technologies like dynamic multi-agent systems and dynamic agent generation.

AI agents driven planning

Leveraging intelligent AI agents to generate comprehensive plans through interactive dialogues with users.

Business context database

Ability for AI to learn from everyday interactions and document submissions to offer precise, contextual support as the company grows

└ The Value We Bring

Significant Time and Cost Savings: Reduce planning time from days to minutes at a fraction of the traditional cost.

Access to Expert Knowledge: Single users can generate expert-level project plans without external consultations.

Enhanced Efficiency: Allows managers to focus on execution rather than exhaustive planning.

Contextual Continuity: AI retains project context for future modifications or inquiries, improving ongoing support.

MARKET $224 BILLION

The consulting market is currently worth $224 billion and is projected to reach $322 billion by 2030. We aim to capture 1% of this market as there is no other product that covers the comprehensive subject matter of CKC. By offering a unique solution, we have the opportunity to generate significant revenue and tap into the market's substantial growth potential.
