Analyzing CIFs Files with Granite Models

Granite's Language models can be used to analyze and process CIFs file content, extracting structural data and identifying key properties.

Granite can mine and summarize large datasets from CIFs files, providing a comprehensive overview of key insights.

Granite can identify patterns and critical insights within CIFs data, aiding in the discovery of new scientific findings.