Use Case

Faisal is a humble guy who is trying to build his life in a proper way. He recently graduated from university and trying to start his company.
He has received an SMS message for his long-awaited shipment for his first prototype.
The content of the message contains fake website that asked to pay the cost of the shipment and provide the location.
However, Faisal with the soul of excitement have submit all of his information without knowing anything about the URL.
Therefore, unfortunately all Faisal's money was pooled and his location was leaked.
And for this small mistake his now spending two years to rebuild himself to expand his business.
